Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY
1898 Complete

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1898. NUMBER 15.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING. ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 21 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for town. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
Junior League..... 3:00 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARMER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. YOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZAYNER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Sabbath, at 10:30 a. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 P. M. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30.
REV. T. DAVIES.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAYS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President { JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen, { NICK FRANK. HENRY BOCK. ADAM HORSCH.
Recorder, { L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, In the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, { W. H. FRAZEE. L. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health, { T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary. J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables { JOSEPH MERRIMAN. GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. BORSCH.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONSET, and A. W. WITZMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive

—of—

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS
RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE
Gen'l Pass. Agent,
CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, DePt. T Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 12.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN,
Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter, at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

Dispatch is Afraid of Canty.

In regard to our suggestion that Judge Canty must now have friends enough to send him to the U. S. Senate, in the place to be vacated by C. K. Davis soon, the St. Paul Dispatch says: "Better not try that unless you want Judge Canty to retire permanently to private life."

Judge Canty is not the style of man that is easily retired to private life. He has demonstrated his ability to interpret law; and there is no reason why he would not prove more useful as one of the Nation's law makers than he would tied down to the Supreme Bench of the State of Minnesota. The people are not yet through with his public services. If the Dispatch thinks they are, just let it undertake to cross the track of the popular wave of public approval, on which Judge Canty serenely rides to the position now occupied by Cushman K. Davis.

Gold or Free Silver.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The Times, in its financial article, urges placing the Indian currency upon a gold basis as soon as possible, for otherwise the mints must be reopened.

This advice is a brief comment based upon a letter signed by L. C. Probin, pointing out that during 1897 the margin between the melting and the exchange values of the rupee was higher than it had ever been since the closing of the Indian mints, amounting to a difference of seven pence in September.

The letter adds: "This shows how entirely independent the value of the rupee is of the silver whereof it is composed and emphasizes the necessity for an early announcement of some definite scheme for putting Indian money on an effective gold basis."—Pioneer Press.

Cannon for the Banks.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commander of the U. S. army, recently suggested that the government treasure houses should be protected by cannon. This would be Napoleonic a long time after Waterloo and is both un American and unnecessary. When a free government is forced to save itself from its own people with cannon, it ought at once to resolve itself into a monarchy. For where such safeguards are demanded the people are unfit for self government and should be relieved of the responsibility. And if the government set the example, every private financial institution would demand similiar protection, so that our finances would soon rest on a powder basis. We are opposed to the free coinage of lead, and whenever the government gets afraid of itself it can set the time lock and go home. We fear the general's European tour made him color blind. Things are not so gory as they seem Budgets are better than bullets, and now is the time to subscribe.—Bede's Budget.

Man Kills Another Over Bottle of Whiskey.

MARION, O., Dec. 30.—Two farmers named William Sorden and Daniel Patchet of Decliffe, this county, quarreled last night over a bottle of whisky that Sorden accused Patchet of having stolen. Blows followed and Patchet struck Sorden on the head with a heavy stake, fracturing his skull, from the effects of which he died this morning.

Byron Sorden, son of the murdered man, went to Patchet's home and beat him almost to death. The murderer was brought here by the sheriff, as a lynching was freely talked of.—Duluth News Tribune.

Cheap Good Things.

Bob Burdette is said to be the author of this. "The good things in this world are always the cheapest: spring water costs less than corn whiskey; a box of cigars will buy two or three bibles; a gallon of old brandy costs more than a barrel of flour: a full hand at poker often costs a man more in twenty seconds than his church subscription amounts to in three years. A town election costs more than a revival of religion, people sleep for an hour in church free, but a nap on a Pullman car costs $1.50 to $2.00. —Minneota Mascot.

—Subscribe for the GAZETTE. Three months, 25 cents. Take it now.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

Cold Snap. Fruit Injured Tournament of Roses. Prospecting and Mining. Pilgrimages.

BY HON. B. F. CHRISTIED.

My felicitations on basking in the California sunshine given in the closing remarks of my last letter have since received a damper in the recent unfavorable and unusual weather under which we continue to have the sunshine without the basking temperature. December 1st, came in with a cloudy morning which partially disappeared and intervals of sunshine followed, continuing thus till about noon when a brisk rain shower set in accompanied by hail at this place, Monrovia, and soon the streets were rivers and in undisturbed spots the hailstones accumulated to a depth of an inch, and at the end of 30 minutes the storm ceased, and boys were seen pelting each other with balls made from the hail stones. It soon cleared up and a clear sky and bright sunshine followed accompanied with a much colder temperature which continued for several days, ranging from about 37 to 60 degrees accompanied by light frosts occassionally. The hail storm was local being confined within the few miles limit surrounding Monrovia and it was unaccompanied by wind and the hail stones were small in size. After an interval of a few warm days this cold period was followed by another, the coldest in several years and continued during seven days. The temperature ran as low as 28 degrees above zero, accompanied by frosts, freezing ice one fourth of an inch in thickness, and it is generally conceded that the lemon and orange crops have received some damage; what percentage is not exactly known, likely 20 per cent. The last few days, however, and today, Christmas, have been favorable to basking in the sunshine for invalids.

This is the coldest December of my California experience in four Decembers that I have spent here. The previous ones being warm mostly and much like June weather in Minnesota. These last cold periods here occurred simultaneously to the approach of the recent cold waves to the Rocky mountain states which later extended themselves across the continent. Southern California recei es a slight margin of those waves, a foretaste of the rigors our Eastern friends are experiencing, which seems to go but little below the frost line here. We are however at the most unpleasant season and expect rains in the valleys and snow in the mountains accompanied by the usual cool temperature. It is the time however for raising grain crops and the greenest season of the year is now approaching, and flowers will continue to bloom in spite of the cooler weather, and the city of Pasadena is preparing to have its Tournament of Roses on New Years Day, 1898.

Prospecting and mining operations in Southern California are conducted to a considerable extent; the most prominent of which are the Randsburg and Johannesburg mining region lying within 150 miles, and North of Los Angeles, and which has recently been connected with that city and the rest of the world by rail. There are other localities having mining plants with stamp mills and other paraphanalia in operation some of which are carried on with fair success paying expenses and a little more, amounting sometimes to a considerable margin, in the matter of mining gold and silver, other enterprises are operated as a matter of speculation and in either case the tenderfoot in his first experience about Los Angeles soon meets with plausible appearing gentlemen calling his attention to mining schemes with "millions in them," and the suggestion accompanying each scheme is that it needs but the investment of a few hundred dollars more to add some machinery to put the plant in complete operation of which sum the present owners are not possessed, and a proposition is made to the tenderfoot that if he will furnish such a sum to the enterprise he will be let in on the ground floor; given equal share with the other owners and so on, and great success will follow. Frequently the party offering these inducements is an enthusiast having great faith in the scheme himself. A prospector must be imbued to a greater or less degree with enthusiasm to be a success and there is much here to justify such a feeling in prospectors, investers and even tenderfeet, for in these mountains, canyons, washes and in other locations, mineral bearing rocks, sands and other formations are often found, but not always in paying quantities, or the locations may be against them, perhaps for lack of water or inaccessible to the conveyance of machinery to them, and with all of the prospecting that has been done during all these years, there is a probability that much mineral in paying quantities lies undisturbed and undiscovered in localities that show no indications of minerals on the surface.

Many tourists, health seekers and climate refugees are now making pilgrimages to this famed Utopian region. Some are enthusiastic and others are disappointed but likely most of them enjoy themselves.

Buffalo Gazette, and Cosmopolitan one of the best monthly magazines, for one year, for $1.80

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 31, 1897.

Secretary Gage is the financial boss of the whole administration outfit. He made a bluff at resigning, if Mr. McKinley was dissatisfied with his advocacy of legislation to clinch the gold standard upon our financial system, and Mr. McKinley at once dropped to the gold side of the financial fence, and informed his wily Secretary of the Treasury that he didn't want his resignation and was perfectly satisfied with what he had done and what he was doing. If that doesn't convince the silver republicans in Congress that Mr. McKinley has left them in the lurch and surrendered, bag and baggage, to the gold standard crowd, it will be plain as the nose on your face that they don't want to be convinced. Although the democrats were not at all surprised at Mr. McKinley's action, they are much pleased with it. Delighted, in fact. It's worth many thousand democratic votes.

Hon. Richard Park Bland, of Mo., whose nickname of "Silver Dick" has always been considered by him and his admirers as one of the greatest honors he has won in his long career in the House, is jubilant over the democratic outlook. He says the democrats will sweep the country next year, and that in 1900 free silver will be irresistible. He concluded his reasons for this belief into the following: "The gold standard is too narrow for this magnificent country." Speaking of the Republican party, Mr. Bland said: "The Gage bill is strictly in line with the republican policy and with Maj. McKinley's administration. They ought to enact the bill into law."

Senator Bate, of Tenn., was red hot for a few minutes, one day this week, because of what he properly considered discourteous treatment of himself by officials of the Post Office Department, and the matter may be heard from on the floor of the Senate. Senator Bate went to the department and asked to see the papers in the case of Peter Clarke, who was recently nominated for postmaster at Pulaski, Tenn., and against whom charges have been made. Much to his surprise he was told that he could not see them because he was not a member of the Senate Post Office committee. Representative Cox, who represents the district in which Pulaski is located, was also refused a look at the papers in the case. If there is any law for these refusals it should be brought to the notice of Senators and Representatives who do not enjoy being snubbed by department officials; if there is no law, the official by whose order access was refused to these papers should be made to smart for it in some way.

With a continuation of the Cleveland and McKinley financial policy the bonds of the United States would practically be gold bonds, just as they are now. Isn't it strange then, that the large bondholders should be in favor of Secretary Gage's scheme to refund the bonded indebtedness of the country with 2½ per cent gold bonds, knowing that it would reduce the amount of interest paid by the government to the extent of ten or twelve millions a year? The fact that these bondholders are willing to give up that much money to get the word "gold" put upon U. S. bonds is significant. It indicates the price the bondholders would pay for the perpetuating of the gold standard; also, that they believe, in common with most democrats, that existing laws do not justify the policy of the Treasury Department in deciding that U. S. bonds are payable in gold whenever their holders so desire. Gold bonds will not be authorized by Congress, but the effort to get such legislation may result in good by opening the eyes of many who have heretofore been unable to see the drift of the gold movement.

Of course everybody expects the Spanish minister to try to earn his salary by making things appear as favorable as possible for his country, but he overdid his part in a statement concerning the contributions for suffering humanity in Cuba, which have been officially asked for from our people by the President of the U. S., which he made public this week. If Spain had not acknowledged its inability to deal with the situation, Americans would not have been asked to contribute. yet Senator Depuy de Lome begins by saying: "It is not true that the Spanish authorities in Cuba are not equal to the situation." In his anxiety to make a good showing for Spain he dashes would-be contributors with ice water by saying that many of the sufferers are such only because of their willingness to work. But the gallest sentence in the statement is this: "It should be born in mind, also, that the Spanish government has remitted all duties on relief supplies sent to Cuba, so that for every dollar of supplies, entering Cuba, Spain adds a considerable percentage, the remitted duties running from 40 per cent down." The rule of arithmetic by which the remittance of duty on charity donations can figure as additions to the donations may be common in Spain, but it has never been known in American schools.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

T. Appleton, St. Paul, coaling station. J. Blankart, St. Paul, car door lock. F. W. Britton, Brainerd, expansion routerbit. F. D. Dibble, Minneapolis, acetylene gas generator. A. Helwig, St. Paul, bolt or rivet cutter. W. Mitchell, St. Paul, stump puller. L. H. Naylor, Minneapolis, coat hanger. G. Young Hallock, extensible vehicle pole.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

Acetylene Gas.

Peter Berens has put in an acetylene gas plant at his store. This new illuminant furnishes a most brilliant light, and its promoters claim that half a cent per hour for each light is the running expense after being put in. The generators cost quite a little sum, the one being put in by Mr Berens being priced at $70. The gas is made from calcuim carbide, a production of lime and carbon. It comes in dry form, and is prepared for use by putting in the generator and adding water. A pound of the carbide costs 5 cents at the present retail price, and a pound is claimed to be sufficient to run one light ten hours. This new light is being adopted extensively all over the country. It does not appear to be any more dangerous than ordinary coal gas.—Litchfield Independent.

Items and Politics.

INDEPENDENCE, Minn., Jan. 5, 1898.

BUFFALO GAZETTE: Happy New Year! to Ye Editor, and staff. Hope the coming year may prove to be a prosperous and happy one to you. The old year went out light hearted in most places with music, song and mirth, but no doubt with some there was a solemnity about it. With some the New Year brought gladness, with others it brought sorrow. We are only pilgrims and strangers on life's uneven journey and know not to where we are drifting.

There seems to be no change in the condition of things financially, spiritually or otherwise, since the new year come in. People are hopeing and waiting for something to turn up that will bring new life and activity to a forlorn race of people.

There is but little for a country scribe to chronicle, just now, for since the holidays every body is in rather a quiet mood.

The roads are rather bad for teaming or pleasure and horses must be sharp shod.

The Odd Fellows hall at Maple Plain will soon be finished if they keep on pushing the work, and when finished will be quite a respectable building for a little country town. It is built on the South side of Jim Hill's trans continental R. R. line and makes a good showing from the depot.

The cooperative creamery association has not started up its plant yet, but it is hoped it will soon let on the steam and help give rise to prosperity and activity. There is a good country around Maple Plain to back up a creamery. The country is much in need of a refreshing shower of prosperity to the people along the rough journey of life.

Mrs. Jane McNeal is very sick, and is not expected to live. Many others are on the sick list with colds and rheumatism.

John Arup, of Delano, was doing business in our town yesterday and called on your correspondent. We acknowledge a pleasant call; hope he will come again.

They had a New Years party at Armstrong Friday evening Dec. 31st 1897. It is said a good time was had.

A good many are wishing for snow. They say they need it in their business but the Egyptians had no sleighing when they carried straw to make brick. Yes Pharo was a hard task master and we have some now days that are almost as severe.

The G. A. R. post at Maple Plain will have installation of officers next Saturday afternoon.

We see by some of the papers there is being a good deal of fault found of the old vets. Say they are squeezing lots of money out of the government by getting fraudulent pensions. In part, no doubt, this may be true, but the old vets only take money from the government through the spigot. But trusts, combines and corporations take it out at the bung hole.

During the Rebellion the meneyed men said now is the time to show your patriotism and love of country. This is a glorious cause. You go and fight the battles and we will pay the freight. Some of them are beginning to kick, and say they did not agree to pay the freight on such a long haul. But most any thing is honorable in war. So if there is any steal in the business the old vet is entitled to his share. But when we get Cuba, that rich country, and the Hawaiian Islands for a smoke stack to the United States, and a navy that will reach from the Lakes of the North to the Rio Grande, then every old vet will get a pension or stipend from the government that will make him rejoice and bud as the rose.

Mr. Editor you will please excuse this poorly written and composed epistle because I am in sack cloth and ashes for my country.

Our ship of state has got on lots of steam but is not being manned just as she should be. The officers and crew are on full rations but on duty only half of the time.

More brains and less pay; more work and less pleasure, would be a good thing at the hub of our government.

A VOTER FOR THIRTY YEARS.

Burlington Hawkeye: If the sound money democrats have been at all in doubt as to whether they ought to continue their independent organization or not, a recent utterance of Mrs. W. J. Bryan ought to determine their course. That lady, who is known to be in full confidence of her husband, is reported to have made the positive statement that Mr. Bryan would be a candidate for president again in 1900; that he would stand on the platform of 1896, and that she had no doubt of his election. If we are so thus informed, to have the same aggressive movement three years from now that we had last year, it ought to be resisted with might and main by all the forces which opposed it last year, and if the good money democrats are sincere in their opposition to the silver craze, they ought not to relax their efforts to down it.—Ida Grove Era. (Iowa).

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentleman or ladies to travel for responsible established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, The Dominion Company, Dept. T Chicago.

Structure of Society No. 2.

It has been said as one way out: That the poor are God's chosen ones, because there are so many of them." But we may rest assured that "God" never said so. We may rest assured that the Central Soul never materialized himself; never projected his own image, and attributed into individualized man without providing amply for his physical, mental, moral social wants which culminating in their full and God like calculations will result in our spiritual unfoldment in the spheres of eternity. But some men using their will, and developing selfish greed, at the expense of wisdom, saw life that it was good, and becoming more and more selfish and blunted in their sympathies, feel a fiendish desire to grasp and controll the results of man's labors, and today we see and understand the meaning of words written by the spirits materialized hand on the wall of Belshazzar's banquet room: "Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting." and so today we are living among social and political discord and are vainly striving to solve the problem of life, by blindly following in the old fossilized tracts of popular government which has come down the centuries leaving the wrecks of nations and the despair of humanity all along the ages. But this beautiful picture flows in upon our mind to day, and while we know we are the slaves of greed, lust, immorality, and all that is baneful, we still know our remedy out of this psychological horror that has for centuries held us spell bound in our devotions to man and his condition. Human happiness is impersonal; can be realized and enjoyed by every son of man. Therefore the remedy will come to us when mankind is tired of this farce of life; one third or less of the race growing fat and lazy at their brother's expense and poverty. Never will there be equality until "Destributive justice pervades the social world. Then virtue and morality will bloom with an immortal beauty. The sun of righteousness will arise in the horizon of universal industry and shed its genial rays over all the fields of peace, pleanty and human happiness will be the supreme consideration of man.

The wealthy are those who are situated amid superior circumstances; and being thus situated from birth to death, they become the mediatorial classes, learned in every department of art and agriculture They are the direct employers and governors of the lower classes. They exert a continual influence on those in their employ, and press them to labor not agreeable to the constitution of man, and for this unnual labor gives them little reward. The second class thus enslave and oppress those beneath them. They are compelled to do this by an interest which actuates all their movements, and they are thus afflicting those striving for a substance, because their welfare and all their interest consists in a vast amount of labor and in little reward. They are exceedingly oppressive, because society is so constituted that the interest of every man is in direct opposition to the interests of others; and thus what is one man's interest results in another's misfortune. Again, the higher classes are the wealthy and powerful, holding in their grasps the productions of those beneath them and distributing happiness only as it is extracted from them by the unceasing calls of those who are unfortunate and oppressed. They are the Capitalists; for the wealth that the poor create is accumulated by them and held within their iron grasp, wealth that justly belongs to those who create it, is thus given to those who earned it not and hence have no natural title to it.

The higher classes are those who rest upon the toil and labor of the mass of mankind. They are both enslaving and oppressing, because of their dependence, and yet their controlling influence is both unjust and destructive to the peace and happiness that otherwise would be enjoyed by the lower classes of the community. The truly great and wealthy are the enlightened; for being situated amid superior circumstances, they have the advantage of all superior attainments and superficial accomplishments existing; and mind you, this intelligence is the only pledge for the worlds' ultimate redemption from vice, misery and human degradation. But this intelligence is at present improperly directed, and instead of illuminating the mass of mankind, it is shrouding the whole race with bigotry, superstition and prejudice. It is making more ignorant those classes which are ignorant, and compelling them to remain in their unfortunate situation. Meanwhile, this monster of wealth and cast, is dividing the human family into sects, and exclusive classes, and creating all species of disunity, dissatisfaction etc., and will finally lead up to a dark and dismal point in the history of man, that in comparison the horrors of the past ages will be a beautiful picture compared to it. It will be the culminating age, when human folly, the one man, "Nero" power, has damned the race long enough, mankind in its coming intelligence will arise and th ow it off forever. MARKVILLE FARMER.

Latest News

BRYAN to be There! at Minneapolis, Jan. 11

It looks as if Mark Hanna might not be elected to his coveted seat in the U. S. Senate.

William Jennings Bryan and Chairman Jones are expected to be present at the Democratic conference next Tuesday in Minneapolis.

William Dawson, Jr., on the charge of embezzlement of $39,230.27 from the Bank of Minnesota, was acquitted in Judge Willis' court yesterday.

It is now claimed that Spaine is considering the plan to ask the United States to take a hand in ending the war in Cuba, as they give it up as a bad job.

Claus Blixt is to testify in the case of Julia Ging vs. The Traveller's Insurance company today in Minneapolis. The whole story of the murder of Catherine Ging is to be gone over. Why should it be? Does the Sawdust City wish to keep up with the red headed woman murder the Capital City has been entertaining its sensational readerf with a month past?

Frank Larabee was acquitted of contempt of court by Judge Simpson in the case brought by the G. N. Railway Co..

Ignatius Donnelly, aged 66 years, is to wed soon, Miss Marian Olive Hanson, aged 20 years, a resident of Minneapolis and secretary of the Sage.

Litchfield Independent: Has Bro. Wharton of the Delano Eagle taken a contract to re-elect Bob Dunn next fall? He is pounding away on the subject every week.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees. Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington. Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

THE
New York World
Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., MINN.

JANUARY—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	....	....	....	....	1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31	....	....	....	....	....

There were 13 persons in Nanson's polar party, and it has gone into history as the luckiest of all arctic expeditions.

Dawson City, unheard of a year ago, is now celebrated the world over for its golden prospects and unrivaled cold storage plant.

Solomon's temple was 107 feet long, 36 feet broad and 54 feet high. Though deemed a wonder of the world, it was not larger than many private houses of the present time.

A codfish four feet long has been caught on the New England coast. This does not, however, settle the mooted question whether codfish salt the ocean or the ocean salts the codfish.

Convict labor in road-making in New York state has proved a success. The prisoners prefer labor in the open air, there is no intrusion on the part of the public and the work of the guards is reduced to a safe system.

Secretary Wilson has information of the establishment of 20 new manufactories of beet-root sugar in the United States, which are the direct result of the efforts of the department of agriculture to encourage this industry. These new factories will represent an investment of not less than $10,000,000.

It is rather surprising to discover from the internal revenue statistics that the south has fewer saloons in proportion to its population than have the northern states. Arkansas, for example, has but 649 and Mississippi only 326. Two or three wards in New York or Chicago would probably exceed either figure.

A traveled member of parliament recently assured an interviewer that the Klondike temperature is so low that "the breath is frozen into crystals, and you must move about to avoid being hedged in by the result of your own respiration." That M. P. during his journey laid in a considerable supply of the frozen truth.

Gov. Desha, of Kentucky, more than a half a century ago had a wild son who was convicted of murder in that state. The governor promptly pardoned his son and he disappeared. That son is now the most eloquent preacher in the Hawaiian islands. He knows the language perfectly, and his greatest sermons are preached in it.

Young Mr. Ruddy, of Woodbridge, N. J., is a misanthrope. That is the only explanation of his conduct. The son of wealthy parents, husband of a beautiful wife, master of five languages, young, handsome, accomplished, Ruddy turns his back on all his advantages and insists upon driving a sprinkling cart. His family have cast him off, and his wife has got a divorce.

Commissioner Powderly finds that during the year 1896 80,019 immigrants arriving in the United States were illiterate, and 90 per cent. of them came from Italy, Austria, Hungary, Russia and Poland, six per cent. came from France, Norway, Sweden, Germany and the United Kingdom. In 1897 42,154 illiterates arrived, of which 90.23 per cent. came from the group of countries first named, and 6.55 per cent. from the group last named.

Byron Gilbert, the seven-year-old son of Judge W. D. Gilbert, of Atchinson, has been granted a conditional license to practice law before the supreme court of Kansas. The license is to take effect when the lad shall become 21 years of age. This boy is a wonder. He is well versed on all law points, and the examination which he passed would have been a creditable one to any applicant. He is the youngest practitioner ever admitted in the history of jurisprudence.

The name of Amos F. Eno, of New York, ought to be emblazoned upon the pages of history as an inspiring example to future generations. He was the head of a firm of merchants who failed for nearly $1,000,000 at the beginning of the civil war. Every debt of the firm was outlawed years ago, and yet he is to-day paying the children of its creditors 50 cents on the dollar, and many of these lucky individuals did not even know that the defunct firm ever existed. More than all this, the modest Mr. Eno refuses positively to be interviewed by the newspapers.

If orders for locomotives keep pouring in upon the factories of the United States as they have been doing lately, it will not be long before the American railway engine will be puffing in every quarter of the globe. The latest large order amounts to 56 locomotives, and includes 21 for the government railway in Finland 24 heavy broad gauge locomotives for Brazil, and ten for the Grand Trunk railway of Canada. This, in connection with recent large orders from foreign countries for American steel rails, indicates the superiority of American methods in manufacturing.

A Kansas editor will try to secure legislation to prevent passengers from snoring in sleeping cars. His proposed method is not to plug the nasal passages of every passenger who will not make affidavit that he or she does not snore, but to have the porter wake every snorer and start him over again, and repeat the process until the individual either shuts off the power entirely or closes the swell and the open diapason and proceeds under the soft stops. It is said the editor never snores, having the columns of the paper in which to blow in his surplus wind.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FROM WASHINGTON.

The president has approved the bill "prohibiting the killing of fur seals in the waters of the North Pacific ocean."

Reports on file in Washington show that 600,000 Cubans are to-day in the direst distress and that 600,000 reconcentrados have died since January, 1897.

In a letter to Secretary Gage Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, says the federation opposes the secretary's plan for currency reform because it "provides for the abdication of the sovereign powers of the government to the banks."

In England the engineers' strike has cost the labor societies $4,000,000 and is still unsettled.

The president has accepted the invitation of the National Manufacturers' association to attend its banquet in New York on January 27.

As nearly as can be estimated 2,426 lives were lost upon the ocean in 1897, 65 upon inland waters, 2,761 by railroad accidents, 48,353 by disasters abroad, 9,115 by disasters in this country, 222,902 by epidemics and famine and 103,451 by war or massacre, making a total of 387,077, against 246,546 in 1896.

For 1896 the gold product of the United States was $53,100,000; for 1897 it will approximate $61,500,000, an increase of $8,400,000.

THE EAST.

In Southold, L. I., Nicholas McQuillan celebrated his one hundredth birthday and at a party in the evening danced with his sister, aged 91 years.

A new anaesthetic, consisting of chloroform, sulphuric ether and petrolic ether, has been discovered by Dr. Wiley Meyer, of New York.

A receiver took charge of the Pennsylvania Building and Loan association of Altoona.

In New York Stephen V. White, who failed in the financial panic of 1893, has been reinstated to full membership in the stock exchange.

In the United States there were 395 business failures in the seven days ended on the 1st, against 292 the week previous and 439 in the corresponding period of 1897.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 1st aggregated $1,188,351,046, against $1,331,263,881 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 42.4.

Losses by fire in the United States in 1897 aggregated $129,001,797, against $111,856,067 in 1896.

Adolph Reich and his wife and four children were cremated in a fire in Jersey City, N. J.

In New York the Red Cross society has opened headquarters for the reception and forwarding to Havana of contributions for the benefit of suffering Cubans.

In the United States the record of embezzling, forgery, defaulting and bank wrecking for 1897 was $11,248,084, against $9,465,921 in 1896.

At Exeter, N. H., and vicinity severe earthquake shocks were felt.

R. A. Van Wyck was inaugurated mayor of Greater New York.

WEST AND SOUTH.

Corbett has challeged Fitzsimmons to fight for a purse of $20,000 and the world's championship.

Unknown persons murdered James Kirkley, treasurer of Benton county, in his office at Fowler, Ind.

In Colorado the output of gold this year is $22,000,000 against $16,500,000 in the year 1896.

It is said that O. H. Maybr, agent for the Southern Express company at Brunswick, Ga., has decamped with $14,000 belonging to the company.

The Tennessee legislature will meet in extra session January 17. A United States senator will be elected.

The death of Thomas W. Seymour, founder of the Benevolent Order of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, occurred in St. Louis, aged 67 years.

The doors of the Merchants' and Traders' bank at Brunswick, Ga., were closed.

In Pleasant Ridge, Ia., Abe Balm, a farmer, was mortally wounded by a masked band of farmers because he ill treated his father.

Dispatches from Tacoma, Wash., say that floods have caused damage estimated at $1,000,000 in the northwest and several persons have been drowned.

In Kentucky and Tennessee the coal miners' strike, which began last May over a reduction of wages, has been declared off.

At Oskaloosa, Ia., the Farmers' and Traders' state bank has gone into voluntary liquidation.

Since 1887 no year has shown so few railroads confessing insolvency as that of 1897.

Joseph Browneller and Henry Behner were asphyxiated at the former's home in Findlay, O.

Fire wiped out the business portion of Muchakinock, Ia., a mining town.

At Manti, Utah, Actor Stultz, of the Stultz Theater company, and his wife were fatally burned while preparing fireworks to be used in their play.

It is said that the long-distance telephone is responsible for the decrease in railway passenger earnings.

In 1897 there were 166 persons lynched in the United States, against 131 in 1896, and 6,600 persons committed suicide, against 6,520 in 1896.

At the age of 68 years Rev. William M. Haigh, for 20 years superintendent of the Chicago headquarters of the American Baptist society, died suddenly at his home.

In this country the loss of life by railroad disasters of various kinds was 2,764 in 1897, against 3,076 in 1896.

The agent of the Southern Express company at Brunswick, Ga., P. H. Mabry, who embezzled more than $15,000, was captured with the money.

A mob lynched an aged negro near Sherrill, Ark., for stealing a hog.

In 1897 the total number of murders committed in the United States was 9,520, against 10,652 in 1896.

Clyde Manwell had his back broken in a football game at Marysville, Cal.

In Richmond J. Hoge Tyler was inaugurated governor of Virginia.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Another revolution is threatened in Salvador.

The recent famine in India cost the treasury $20,000,000.

Gen. Weyler was arrested in Madrid for assailing President McKinley in connection with his message to congress.

The United States and Canada will work together in giving aid to the needy in Alaska.

Arrangements were being forwarded by Russia for guaranteeing the new Chinese loan and thus obtaining control of China.

Members of the new cabinet of the provisional government in Cuba were inaugurated in Havana and swore loyalty to Spain.

In Rome the sixtieth anniversary of the pope's first celebration of mass was observed at the vatican.

The Spanish government has refused to send more troops to Cuba, and this is considered as the first step toward the Spanish evacuation of the island.

Fire destroyed a considerable portion of the main street in the business part of Dawson City, Alaska, the loss being $200,000.

Water flooded the San Puerta coal mine near Guana Juta, Mexico, and 35 miners were drowned.

It has been decided by the Spanish cabinet that the trial of Gen. Weyler, late captain general of Cuba, by court-martial is imperative.

LATER NEWS.

China is trying to negotiate a loan in London.

John D. Rockefeller has given $200,000 more to the Chicago University.

Chas. H. Byrne, president of the Brooklyn base ball club, is dead.

The Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf train was robbed inside the city limits of Kansas City, Mo. Two men, whom no one but the express messenger seems to have seen, climbed into the express car as the train left the depot. They overpowered the messenger, bound and gagged him, and rifled the car before the train came to a stop. When the train slowed up at the railroad crossing known as Air Line Junction, near the southeastern limits of the city, they climbed out of the car and disappeared. Nothing was known of the robbery until a negro train porter entered the car and found the helpless express messenger.

The St. Louis base ball team has been sold to John T. Brash, of Indianapolis.

The U. S. treasury the 4th had a gold reserve of $161,005,160.

Mrs. Adeline M. Fassett, an artist of national reputation, dropped dead on the streets of Washington, D. C.

Julius Tunnis was given a sentence of 80 years in prison by the courts of Chicago for burglary. There were 21 indictments against him.

Robert Evans and George Duncan, each aged 17 years, became involved in a quarrel at school, when Evans stabbed Duncan in the heart with a pocket knife. Duncan died instantly.

Fire in the Never Sweat mine of the Anaconda company at Butte, Mont., suffocated Michael C. Thorrity and John F. Sullivan.

The employes of the ten-inch mill at the Homestead, (Pa.,) mill of Carnegie's refused to accept the new scale of wages and the mill has been closed down indefinately. All other departments are in full operation.

Greatly to the surprise of administration officials, the award of the arbiter in the matter of the claims of Charles Oberlander and Barbara M. Messenger, citizens of the United States, against the government of Mexico, is against the claimants.

The French papers claim that Clipperton Islands, over which the Mexicans flag is reported to have been hoisted by a party of marines from the gunboat Democrate, after the stars and stripes had been hauled down, in spite of the protest of the Americans there, belongs to France.

The Ohio legislature convened the 3d, and the opponents of Senator Hanna organized both branches by electing Senator Cromley president pro tem of the senate and J. P. Griffith speaker pro tem of the house. Cromley is a democrat and Griffith a republican.

By the collapse of the floor of the city hall at London, Ontario, thirty persons were killed and an unknown number injured. The hall was filled to its utmost awaiting election returns when the collapse occurred.

Girard college, at Philadelphia, celebrated its 50th anniversary the 3d. The event of the celebration was the oration delivered by Speaker Thomas B. Reed.

James Cadieer, 14 years old, leaned too far over the balcony railing of a Chicago theater and fell into the parquet. Strangely, he missed falling on anyone, but went between two rows of seats. His injuries were slight.

Lee Mills, a murderer, attempted to escape from the jail at Clinton, Mo., and was shot and fatally wounded by one of the guards.

Charles G. Dawes of Illinois the 3d took charge of his office as controller of the currency and N. B. Scott of West Virginia, assumed his new duties of commissioner of internal revenue.

One of the most dangerous conterfeits ever discovered has made its appearance. Mr. John Cramp, of the sub-treasury at Philadelphia brought to the secret service five one-hundred dollar counterfeit silver certificate, head of President Monroe.

At Monroeville, Ind., the dead bodies of Miss Viola Marquard, daughter of a wealthy farmer, and Michael Miller, a soloonkeeper, were found lying in a room in the rear of Miller's saloon Evidences indicate suicide.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Jan. 4.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 90 to 90½c; No. 2 northern, 86½ to 87c; May, 89c.

Corn—No. 3, 26c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 22 to 23c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.75; cows, $2.60.

Hogs—$3.00 to 3.25.

Sheep—Mutton, $3.10 to 4.50; lambs, $4.25.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 21 to 22c; creamery, firsts, 20 to 21c; dairy, fancy, 19 to 20c; dairy, choice, 15 to 16c.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8; spring chickens, 7 to 8.

NEW MONETARY SCHEME.

Plan Proposed by the Monetary Commission Briefly Outlined.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The report of the monetary commission appointed under authority of the convention of business men held in Indianapolis last January has just been made public. Following is a synopsis of the document:

It retains practically unchanged the existing metallic money. The existing gold standard on which business has been done since 1879 is maintained, on the ground that the industrial interests demand certainty as to what the standard shall be. To this end, it is urged that the United States shall remove all uncertainty as to the meaning of "coin" in its obligations, thereby saving the taxpayers by the ability to borrow at a low rate of interest. No attempt is made to remove the existing silver dollars, nor to change their legal-tender quality; on the contrary, a place is provided for them in the circulation by forbidding the issue of any paper money other than silver certificates in denominations below ten dollars.

The demand obligations of the United States were not a money based on property; they were only a debt. On the other hand, a bank note is never issued (fraud, of course, excluded) except for a consideration in negotiable property of equal or greater value. The bank note comes forth as the sequel to a business transaction, and is based on the active property of the country which is passing between producers and consumers. This property is always negotiable and always equal to the duty of meeting the note liability. Bank notes are as sound as the business transactions of the country. The currency of the country, moreover, should increase as the transactions of the country increase; hence the rigid unchanging issues of the government make them an inelastic part of the circulation, while by the very process of their issue bank notes alone can be automatically adjusted to the changing transactions of the business community.

While providing for a partial use of bonds for securing notes (25 per cent. of the capital) the commission proposed that notes beyond this should be issued on all, instead of a part of, the resources of a bank; and within a few years that no special bond security should be required. Banks may issue notes up to 60 per cent. of their capital without restraint; for issue beyond 60 per cent. and up to 80 per cent. they pay a tax of two per cent; for those beyond 80 per cent. and up to 100 per cent. they pay a tax of six per cent. These notes would be a prior lien upon all the resources of the bank, and, in addition, upon the stockholders' liability. Moreover, all banks issuing notes contribute five per cent. of their circulation as a permanent guaranty fund. For daily redemptions, banks should keep a five per cent. redemption fund in the hands of the comptroller of the currency. Banks of $25,000 capital may be established in places of 4,000 inhabitants; and branches of banks are also permitted.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

A Terrible Disaster in London, Ont.—Twenty-Four Killed.

London, Ont., Jan. 4.—Twenty-four persons are known to have been killed and many injured by the collapse of a floor in the city hall Monday night. Monday night closed the municipal campaign and the hall was crowded to hear the addresses of the successful candidates.

At the close of the polls a crowd gathered in the city hall, where it has been the custom for years past for the successful candidates to address the electors. The building was crowded to the very doors, probably 2,000 people being jammed in its narrow space. There was a lull in the proceedings when the audience called for several of the newly elected aldermen at once, and there was some delay in securing a speaker to address them. Alderman Carrothers joined the mayor in an effort to secure quiet. In response to numerous calls R. M. Toothe was pushed forward to the platform on which the speaker stood. As he reached it there was an ominous crackling and the raised platform on which the mayor and newly elected aldermen were seated seemed to pitch forward to the floor.

There was a sagging of timbers, and the next moment 150 people were hurled 20 feet to the floor below. A beam running 20 feet along the center of the hall had given way, and the crowded mass standing above that section of the floor was thrown in a heap to the bottom. A large safe stood in one corner of the hall, and with a huge steam coil, weighing half a ton, came crashing down on the heads of the victims.

Following the crash there was a wild rush for the door. At the south door, where a majority of the crowd had entered, there was a terrible panic. Those in front were thrown down by the oncoming rush, shrieking and fighting for the door and safety. Only one-half of the rear door, a space of probably three feet, was open, and in the mad rush no one thought to open the door in its entirety, and 500 people struggled through the narrow space, the strong bearing down the weaker.

Our Finances.

Washington, Jan. 1.—The preliminary figures of the government receipts and expenditures show that the total receipts for the month of December amounted to $59,646,698, and the expenditures, $27,095,000, which leaves a surplus for the month of $32,551,698. These figures, however, include the receipts and payments on account of the Union Pacific transfer. Independent of the Union Pacific account the surplus this month is $1,736,494. For the six months of the present fiscal year, exclusive of the Union Pacific payments, there is a deficit of $44,365,000, but including the Pacific payments there is a surplus of $95,454. The receipts from customs amount to $11,660,788, against $9,930,385 for December, 1896. The gain over November is $1,830,763. The December receipts from internal revenue amounted to $14,342,928 as compared with $13,104,828 for December, 1896. The gain in the internal revenue receipts over November is $812,279.

A Fire's Deadly Work.

New York, Jan. 3.—Six members of one family were killed by flames and smoke in a fire that occurred early Sunday morning in Jersey City. The dead are: Adolph Reich, 42 years old, the father; Emma Reich, 42 years old, mother; Tillie Reich, 22 years old; Ida Reich, 15 years old; Albert Reich, 14 years; Gustav Reich, eight years. Several others were injured, and it may be that another member of the ill-fated family will die. He is the 19-year-old son, and his body is covered with burns. John Conway, chief of the Jersey City fire department, was very badly burned. He fell through a burning floor, and was rescued with difficulty. Henry A. Reich, 17 years old, managed to make his escape from the house with bad burns on his neck, face and hands, but he is not seriously injured.

Is Fifty Years Old.

Philadelphia, Jan. 4.—Girard college celebrated its fiftieth anniversary Monday with an elaborate programme of exercises. The event of the celebration was the oration delivered at night by Speaker Thomas B. Reed.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS.

A Comprehensive Trade Review for the Past Year.

New York, Jan. 1.—Bradstreet's says: "Holiday quiet and stock taking close a year which, while not fully realizing the most sanguine expectations, certainly contained much that was gratifying and more that is full of promise for the year 1898. Following a series of years of alternate panic, stagnation and slow and even painful revival, 1897 presented a large volume of business done, as a whole, at prices which, while not altogether satisfactory, resulted in a total of trade larger than in any previous year since 1892. Tariff changes restricted demand but encouraged speculation and heavy imports in the first part of 1897, while the enlarged foreign demand for American breadstuffs and for some varieties of manufactured articles bettered the condition of the American farmer, and, therefore, business men, quite materially, in the latter part of the year.

"Price conditions have not favored the southern producer of cotton nor the northern manufacturer of cotton goods. The best reports come from the west, northwest and the Pacific coast. Prices at the close are as a whole on a higher range than at the opening, advances being most numerous in food products, raw silk and wool, while decreases are reported in raw cotton and cotton goods, nearly all metals, anthracite coal and petroleum. Railroad interests share in the revival of prosperity, with gross and net earnings larger than any year since 1893, and the year 1898 opens with the business community, with the few exceptions noted, in a very cheerful frame of mind.

"A heavy falling off in number and in liabilities of individuals, firms or corporations failing was shown in 1897 from 1896 and the four preceding years. A partial return to more or less normal conditions is further indicated by a drop in the percentage of assets to liabilities and by a reduction in the commercial death rate as compared with every year since and including 1892. The total number of failures reported to Bradstreet's for the year just closed was 13,099, a decrease of 2,000 failures and over 13 per cent. from 1896; a falling off of 15 per cent. from the panic year of 1893 and a decrease of more than two per cent. from 1891, a year of prosperous business but of numerous business embarrassments. Compared with 1895 there was a gain in the number of failures shown of about half of one per cent., while compared with 1892 there was an increase of 27 per cent. Liabilities of those failing constituted one of the smallest totals of recent years, amounting to only $156,166,000, a decrease of 37 per cent. from 1896, of 60 per cent. from 1892 and of 19 per cent. from 1891, but a gain of 47 per cent. over 1892.

"The least favorable showing is made by the eastern states, which report increases in number and liabilities over 1896. In spite of depression in cotton prices, southern failures and liabilities are smaller than a year ago, while the greatest falling off is reported in the west and the northwest. The percentage of assets to liabilities of those failing in 1897 was 54.4 per cent., the smallest percentage since 1893, and only slightly above the normal. The commercial death rate—that is, the percentage of those in business failing—in 1897 was 1.20, as compared with 1.40 in 1896 and 1.50 in 1892.

"Those reliable indices of the business situation—bank clearings—point to the year 1897 as witnessing the heaviest business, both speculative and commercial, done since the record year, 1892, just preceding the panic. The total clearings at 58 cities for the year, one week estimated, aggregated at least $56,926,000,000, a sum larger by 12 per cent. than the total of 1896, a year of silver agitation and an exciting presidential election; eight per cent. larger than 1895, the disappointing year, when a boom in iron and kindred products led to false hopes of business improvements; 25 per cent. over the year 1894, when the depth of depression following the panic may be said to have been reached; five per cent. over 1893, the year of widespread disaster in financial and commercial circles, and only seven per cent. smaller than the total of 1892, when the boom following the large foreign demand for American breadstuffs and other products reached its height. Practically the entire gain in clearings in 1897 was concentrated in the last six months, and it is a significant fact that the heaviest monthly total reported for five years past was reported in the month of December. Gains were heaviest in the northwest, the middle and New England states, and smallest in the south and northwest, at the latter of which the trade improvement was rather later in arriving."

Dawson City Fire Swept.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 3.—A very large party of miners returning from the frozen Klondike reached Victoria Sunday afternoon on the steamer Corona. There were in all 40 men in the party. The largest contingent, J. Williams, G. Humber and others, of Seattle, bring the startling news of a large conflagration in Dawson City early on the morning of November 25. They say a considerable portion of the main street in the business part of the city has been destroyed. How the fire started is a mystery. It destroyed the Dominion saloon and hotel, the Klondike opera house, which is also practically a hotel, two boarding houses, a meat shop and several stores. Fortunately, however, but a small quantity of provisions was lost, the main loss being in whisky, liquors, saloon fixtures and personal property of men lodging there. As a result of the fire many miners are destitute. Those coming out estimate the loss at over $200,000. As far as can be learned, no lives were lost.

China Yields to Germany Again.

Peking, Jan. 3.—The German missionaries at Tsoa-Chau, province of Shan-Tung, having reported to Baron Heyking, the German ambassador at Peking, that the commandant of the Chinese garrison of the towns had used threatening language to or of them, Baron Heyking at once commanded that the commandant be dismissed.

Berlin, Jan. 3.—It is announced that China has yielded to the demand of Baron Heyking, the German ambassador at Peking, for the dismissal of the commandant of the Chinese garrison at Tsao-Chau, province of Shan-Tung, because of the use of threatening language to the German missionaries there. The Chinese government has telegraphed a dismissal of the commandant.

Returns Thanks.

Bombay, Dec. 31.—The Indian national congress came to a conclusion Thursday amid much enthusiasm and cheers for the queen empress. Resolutions were adopted thanking the people of the United Kingdom, the British colonies and the United States for generous aid during the famine. It was decided to erect at the cost of £1,000 ($5,000) a memorial of gratitude in London.

College President Shot.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 3.—Word was received from the Alcorn Agricultural and Mechanical College for Colored People, near Rodney, Miss., that the president of the college, E. H. Triplett, was shot and fatally wounded Sunday evening by an unknown assassin while on his way to church. For several years there has been a great deal of discord in the college faculty.

The Public Debt.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business December 31, 1897, the debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $999,111,567, a decrease for the month of $10,114,899. This decrease in the debt is due principally to an increase in the cash, which is accounted for by the sale of the Union Pacific railroad.

CURRENT TOPICS.

THE number of suicides in Europe averages 60,000 a year.

A WHIPPING-POST bill has been introduced in the Virginia senate.

MISSOURI has an annual output of timber raised at about $7,000,000.

A CALIFORNIA judge has decreed that a wife can be compelled to support her husband.

THE ants of South America have been known to construct a tunnel three miles in length.

IT is said that there are more Methodists in Philadelphia than in any other city in the world.

THE customs authorities have decided that the Chinese tom-tom is a musical instrument.

THERE are 22 allusions in the Bible to the east wind, 19 of them being of a disparaging character.

A SQUEEZE of lemon improves scrambled eggs, and should be added while they are cooking.

THE largest known moth is the Giant Atlas, a native of China, whose wings measure nine inches across.

THE Orinoco river in South America is said to possess more tributaries than any other river in the world.

NO WOMAN has ever actually sat in the English parliament, though several have been returned as members.

CAKES of tea in India, pieces of silk in China, salt in Abyssinia and codfish in Iceland have all been used as money.

THE planet Neptune takes 60,000 of our days to journey round the sun. In other words, its year equals 165 of our years.

ALTHOUGH the flap of skin which covers an elephant's ear is of considerable size, the ear itself is very small in proportion.

THE Spaniards are too lazy to cut their own corn. At harvest time crowds of Portuguese cross the border and do all the harvesting.

THE Coudersport (Pa.) clothes pin factory has received an order for 16 car loads of clothes pins. This will take 80,000 feet of beech logs.

A SPECIAL commissioner of the department of agriculture has gone to Europe to work up a demand for American horses for cavalry purposes.

SEVERAL Boston national banks contemplate a reduction of capital stock, and a movement is on foot to consolidate five or six of them in one institution.

FRENCH GUIANA is said to have the most violent thunderstorms in the world. The thunder is almost deafening and the peals come in quick succession.

ALPHONSE DAUDET had been an invalid for 10 years before his death, and the late Dr. Charcot, the Paris specialist, predicted his death a number of years ago.

THE duchess of Marlborough buys nearly all of her dresses in New York. She buys perfume in bulk, and it is forwarded to the manor of Woodstock in gallon jars.

BRICKS made of plaster of paris and cork are now used in the construction of powder mills. In case of explosion they offer slight resistance, and are broken to atoms.

IT has recently been claimed that iron ships fitted with electric plants suffer rapid deterioration of their pipes having direct connection with the sea, due to electrolytic action.

PARADOXICAL as it may sound, there are several varieties of fish that can not swim. In every instance they are deep-sea dwellers, and crawl about the rocks, using their tails and fins as legs.

THE largest congregation in America is that of St. Stanislaus Kostka, in Chicago, which has 30,000 communicants. The number of attendants at the several Sunday services frequently exceed 15,000.

THE finest complexions in the world are said to be in the Bermudas. This is accounted for by the fact that the inhabitants live chiefly on onions, of which they export over 17,000,000 pounds annually.

RESIDENTS of Lovilla, near Ottumwa, Ia., have formed an organization for the extermination of rats, and the members are to devote one day a week to the work of ridding the neighborhood of the vermin.

A SCIENTIFIC farmer has, after a good deal of experimenting, made the discovery that a pig's squeal is keyed higher in cold weather than when the temperature is mild. Wonderful what science is doing for mankind.

THERE is a tree in India and Africa from which butter is made. The fruit grows to the size of a pigeon's egg. Inside the fruit are seeds, which are pressed, and from the oily substance a very good butter is manufactured.

Accounted For.—"What's all this Austrian trouble about, anyway?" "It's all over a question of national language." "Oh, I see, that accounts for the war of words."—Philadelphia North American.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Absolutely cures scrofula,
Salt rheum,
Dyspepsia, rheumatism,
Catarrh and all diseases
Originating in or promoted
By impure blood. It is
The great nerve tonic,
Stomach regulator and Strength builder.

WHAT HE WANTED.

Something Was Needed to Supplement His Wife's Present.

"You have scarcely spoken to me at all this evening," she said, in tones of reproach.

"I—I beg your pardon," her husband returned, apologetically. "I was just trying to think of something to say."

"Is there anything on your mind?"

"Yes, to tell you the truth, there is."

"Can't I help you in some way?"

"You might, if I could suggest it without your becoming angry."

"Tell me all about it. It is my duty to sympathize with you, you know."

"On my birthday anniversary you gave me a fountain pen."

"Yes. And now you are going to say that it makes a horrid muss and that you don't want to write with it."

"I'm not going to say anything of the kind," he replied, stoutly. "I am going to write with that pen every day of my life. But there is one little favor that I would like to ask."

"What is it?"

"Please make me a suit of overalls to go with it."—Washington Star.

Ironical Ifs.

If a man has no dust, his name is usually mud.

If a man has horse sense he should know when to say neigh.

If the cat scratches you it is always the sign of the Maltese cross.

If a man would follow the advice he gives to others he would soon be perfect.

If the mercury goes higher than usual next summer blame it on the Dingley bill.

If women were as fond of appearing in print as in silk there would be more lady writers.

If canes were to go out of fashion, some young men would have no visible means of support.—Chicago News.

One Better.

"I won't submit to being turned away," said the disappointed arrival at the hotel. "See here, I'm flush," and he displayed a roll of bills.

"I know," responded the clerk; "but I've got a full house."—Philadelphia North American.

A perfect type of the highest order of excellence.

TRADE-MARK

Walter Baker & Co.'s
Breakfast
Cocoa
ABSOLUTELY PURE.
Delicious--Nutritious.
COSTS LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.
Be sure you get the genuine article made at Dorchester, Mass., by
WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.
ESTABLISHED 1780.

WINCHESTER GUN
CATALOGUE FREE
SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

Seattle Klondike Alaska
FREE INFORMATION BY SEATTLE, WASH., CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUREAU.
Seattle, Klondike, Alaska, Washington State. Seattle, 65,000 population; Railroad, Commercial, Mining and Agricultural Centre; BEST OUTFITS; LOWEST PRICES; Longest Experience; Largest City; Safest Routes. Address SECRETARY.

HARTSHORN'S SELF-ACTING SHADE ROLLERS
NOTICE NAME THIS Stewart Hartshorn ON LABEL AND GET THE GENUINE HARTSHORN

FITS STOPPED FREE, PERMANENTLY CURED
Insanity Prevented by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER
Positive cure for all Nervous Diseases, Fits, Epilepsy, Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance. No Fits or Nervousness after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges only when received. Send to DR. KLINE, Ltd., Kelleyne Institute of Medicine, 933 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Weeks Scale Works,
HAY, COAL, STOCK, GRAIN, AND COTTON SCALES. BUFFALO, N. Y.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habit cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

PUMPS For any depth wells; wholesale prices to consumers. Write for catalog. NORTH STAR PUMP CO., 315 3d av. N., Minneapolis, Minn.

PATENTS Send for Inventors' Guide, free. EDGAR TATE & CO. Patent Solicitors, 245 B'dw'y, New York.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

A. N. K.—G 1690

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

DREAMS—THAT'S ALL.

A day-spring dream,
A wail on the wind, a baby's call,
A bundle of life in a wondrous shawl,
Chubby and red and dimpled and small—
A petit king.
This tiny thing,
For his tiny kingdom to install—
A dream—that's all.

A morning dream,
Of roseate, ravishing hope and light,
And bouyant life and promise bright,
Of youthful joy and keen delight,
Of ardent love,
And smiles above,
And a heart for Cupid to enthrall—
A dream—that's all.

A mid-day dream,
Ambition's blazing, zenith sun,
Laurels and palms and honors won,
And the road to riches well begun,
A noble name,
A fitful Fame
And Fortune, slaves at beck and call—
A dream—that's all.

A twilight dream,
Shadows and silence and fading light,
And dying day and falling night,
A hush, and an ending, and failing sight,
A creeping chill,
Then all is still,
And the dark comes down like a solemn pall—
A dream—that's all.

A midnight dream,
Dust and ashes, a shattered vase,
A crumbling flower, a pale, sad face,
A wild, weird silence o'er the place,
A stifled breath,
Then darkness, death,
And a long, black wait for the judgment call—
A dream—that's all.
—D. G. Bickers, in Atlanta Constitution.

SADIE'S VISIT TO THE GOVERNOR.

BY HARRIET CARYL COX.

THE governor was returning from luncheon in good humor, albeit in something of a hurry.

He had lingered longer than he intended, listening to the anecdotes of his companions; so now he passed rapidly down the corridors of the statehouse, exchanging greetings with those he met, and entered his own office.

His quick eyes noted the one clerk busily at work, and he nodded as he passed on to the inner office.

His hand was on the doorknob when a child's voice remonstrated: "The governor ain't in there; he's gone to dinner. You'll have to wait."

The clerk turned his head as if to speak; but the governor silenced him with a motion as he turned toward the speaker. His kindly eyes took in with a glance the small girl figure resting back in the big chair. Her feet did not reach to the floor; her coat was flung over the back of another chair, and her hat hung on to the doorknob of the governor's private office. She certainly was very much at home.

She looked up and smiled.

"Have some?" she said, holding up a doughnut. "There are plenty more," looking down at the paper bag in her lap. "I brought my lunch along, 'cause I was afraid I'd get hungry; and if you've got to wait you might as well eat something too."

The governor smiled in answer.

"I've been here 'most forever," she continued, confidingly, "and there've been just piles of folks in; but that man over there"—pointing to the listening clerk—"he said the governor couldn't see anyone before three o'clock. He's a real nice man, though, even if he did send them off. He must be some particular friend of the governor, I guess, seeing he stays here all the time and looks out for things. He's been real polite to me, and you'd like him, I know," nodding gravely into the governor's amused face.

"Suppose we go in here and wait," suggested the governor, opening the door of his inner office.

"Oh, I daren't!" The child's voice was full of awe. "It's the governor's, you know, and he mightn't like it."

Her voice was scarce above a whisper as she slipped noiselessly from her chair and stood by the governor, gazing into the room with wide-open eyes.

"We might go in, don't you think?" queried the governor, a break in his voice, turning to the clerk.

"Oh, yes, certainly," replied the clerk, with an answering smile.

"There! didn't I tell you?" cried the child, as she danced into the room. "He's a kind man, just as I said."

"You sit there," indicating the revolving chair at the desk, "and we'll make believe you're the governor. I wish you were," wistfully.

"Why?" queried the governor. "You aren't afraid of him, are you?"

"No," hesitatingly. "That is, not much. I guess I almost ain't. But he's the governor, you know, and has to do very important things, and he might not like to be bothered with a little girl. But I wouldn't be afraid of you, 'cause you've got such kind eyes. You'd listen to me, but he might tell me to get out. Do you suppose he would?"

"No," the governor reassured her. "He might be very busy, you know, but I guess he'd listen to you; that is, if you should tell your story well and plainly. You might tell it to me as a sort of practice, then I can tell better if the governor will listen to you."

"All right," she began, settling back in her chair and rubbing its shiny arms.

"It's about a fair, you see," looking up into the kind eyes. "We want to have one out where I live, one to help the grand army, you know, 'cause they were soldiers, and their houses got burned down, and they don't have any place to meet. But nobody won't go to fairs, 'cause they're tired of them, and some one said if they could only get the governor to come down and be there and say something, and to shake hands with the people, why, they could get a big crowd out.

"Folks would come from all around, same's they do to a cattle show, 'cause they're awfully fond of the governor. He's the best one we ever had, you know. That's what they say, but I guess it's partly 'cause some of the men was in the same company with him in the war; and seeing he's governor and they know him, it makes 'em feel pretty big.

"Anyway, I heard a man say so; but then, he's always saying something that ain't nice. He said the governor wouldn't come when the committee wrote to him about it; and when the answer came that he had too many engagements he just smiled and said: 'I told you so.'

"And they felt awful discouraged, and papa felt so bad I just thought I'd come and see about it. I thought if I could see the governor and tell him about it, perhaps he'd come after all. I don't suppose he will, though, seeing I'm only a little girl."

"He might," the governor suggested, looking beyond her out of the window. "He might not have understood, you know; for he gets a good many invitations to go to places, and probably he didn't realize how much you wanted him."

The child's face brightened. "Oh, we do want him awfully," she cried; "and we'd make lots of money, I know. And I thought perhaps he'd bring his little girl along with him, and we'd show her round. We're going to have ice cream, you know. Don't you s'pose she'd like to come?"

A murmur of voices in the outer office, and a gruff voice calling: "Sadie!" precluded any answer to this query.

"It's Sam," said the child, slipping out of her chair, "and he's come for me, and I shan't see the governor. Now, ain't that just too bad!" Big tears rolled down her cheeks. "And—I'm—so—disappointed," she sobbed.

"I might tell him for you," the governor said, drawing her toward him. "You've told me all about it, so that I understand perfectly, and I'll see that he knows all about it, and I'll send you word to-morrow."

"Will you, really?" The child's voice trembled with eagerness. "You aren't teasing, are you, seeing I'm a little girl?"

"No," he assured her, gravely. "Honest Injun! That's what you say when you mean it, isn't it? I thought so," as the child nodded. "That's what my little girl makes me say sometimes. Well, now you run along with Sam, and be sure to go to the post office to-morrow, so as to know whether the governor will come. I'm pretty sure he will," he added, as she vanished into the outer office.

The town of Mayfair was in a state of great excitement. The grand army was to hold a big fair, and the governor was to be present. He was actually coming, despite his former refusal.

A big official-looking document had come to the chairman of the committee, saying that on further consideration, the governor had decided to give himself the pleasure of opening the fair, and, furthermore, he should bring two members of his staff with him.

Sadie had heard of it with great joy; but it was no news to her, for she had received a note from her casual friend at the state house; and this she treasured, and slept with it under her pillow every night.

At last the night of the fair came, and the hall was crowded so there was scarce space left for the entrance of the governor and his escort when he should come. Sadie's father was one of them. They had gone to the station to meet him.

There was a thrill of expectancy all through the crowd, and eyes were kept anxiously at the door.

Sadie edged to the center of the hall, and clasped and unclasped her hands nervously. Her cheeks were flushed and her eyes shone.

The people about the door were crowding back. Two men in uniform, with gold lace, appeared in the doorway. The governor would come next.

A burst of music from the band. The people were moving excitedly. But where was the governor? She looked in vain for more gold lace. Perhaps he would wear a purple robe, such as kings wore.

Why, there was the man she had talked to at the state house. She gave a happy laugh. How nice! He had come too.

She started forward to meet him, and he turned toward the eager child, a bright smile illuminating his handsome face. But the crowd held her back. "Wait till the governor has passed," some one said.

"The governor!" She drew a quick breath. Could he be the governor? Why, she had talked to him the same as if he were any common man. What must he think of her? He couldn't be angry, surely, because he had come. Yes, he really had come, for all the people were pointing toward him and whispering.

He seemed to be looking toward her. She shrank back shyly; but his kindly eyes had caught sight of the little figure, and he smiled and held out his hand.

So, unconscious of the throng of amazed onlookers, and seeing only his kindly face, she slipped from her place and ran to him; and together up the hall, through the cheering crowd, they passed—Sadie and the governor of the state, hand in hand.—N. Y. Independent.

FOR A GIRL.

Odd Features of a Boudoir for "Sweet Sixteen."

A charming room fitted up recently by a clever mother for her 16-year-old daughter has several odd features. One of these is an alcove where a big bath tub, a regiment of sponges, crash towels and brushes are drawn up in battle array. In one corner is a gymnastic apparatus and on the floor stand a pair of Indian clubs. This is the "health corner." In a narrow gold frame, hung near the dainty dressing table, are the following "Rules for Beauty" in fancifully illuminated text:

"Beauty is only skin deep. Don't use patent creams and washes.

"Never sleep on a high pillow unless you admire a double chin.

"Breathe from the diaphragm, inhale deeply, keep the mouth closed and hold the chest well up, if you would secure a high chest, broad shoulders and a slim waist.

"Walk from the hips, and bear in mind that the American woman's greatest sins are a wobbling walk and a shrill voice.

"Beauty does not come in a day.

"The secret of beauty is good blood, excellent digestion and a clear conscience."

These wise and quaint precepts were laid down by the family physician, who knows a good deal about the soda-water-loving and caramel-eating age of 16.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

Not Yet at the Angelic Stage.

She—Now that we have been married two years, do you think I am an angel yet?

He (sighing)—No, not yet.—Boston Post.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

Failed to Report.

Factory Inspector E. B. Mayo had F. E. McCusick, of McCusick, Copelin & Riddell, and Charles N. Robinson, of Bardwell, Robinson & Co., arraigned in the police court at Minneapolis under the statute which makes it a misdemeanor to fail to report to the labor department accidents taking place in factories. Both defendants pleaded not guilty and will have an examination later.

The charge against Mr. McCusick is that he failed to report the accident that befel Alfred Balcome on Nov. 15. He had his left hand so badly crushed that he will be unable to use it perhaps for life. The case against the other defendant is that of the Joe Theiler accident which happened on Oct. 12 when he had his right hand caught in some of the machinery.

These are the first cases brought under this law and it is probable that a test will be made. The inspector says that he intends to see that the law is enforced while it is on the statute books.

Ice Yacht Regatta.

There was an interesting ice yachting regatta at Lake City, four boats scudding over the course in very fast time. The Alaska, owned by Charles Nordeau, won the race, covering the distance of 50 miles over a triangular course in 48 minutes and 38 seconds. The yachts competing were the Alaska; the Marion, owned by Dr. Harris, of Lake City; the Comet, owned by Milt Newcomb, of Pepin, and the Bartron, owned by John Bartron, of Lake City. The race was for the Lake City medal, given by the city as a trophy, which is to be won three times in succession, to become the property of the winner. The result of the race was: Alaska, first; Marion, second; Comet, third; Bartron, fourth.

Probably a Murder.

Another murder mystery furnishes work for the county and city officials at Mankato. The body of a girl baby weighing about eight pounds, was found in a pile of rubbish between the city hall and the Saulpaugh hotel. Around its neck was twisted the hem of a linen table cloth, which had done its murderous work. Its neck and head were bruised and showed that fiendish hands had been there. Dr. Edwin Steel was summoned and believed the child was born alive else there would have been no cause for strangulation.

A Midnight Scare.

The steel tower and tank of the Marshall water works collapsed one night and the entire structure, 110 feet high, fell in one heap. The collapse was due, no doubt, to the formation of ice from water trickling through a hole caused by the tank being pierced by a rifle ball. Three people, sleeping close by, narrowly escaped, the head of one being bruised by falling ice. The crash was attended by considerable noise, and many people awoke, thinking an explosion had occurred.

Naval Veterans.

At the annual reunion of the Minnesota Naval Veterans' association in St. Paul, a gavel, made from the old ship Hartford, was presented to the association. Judge Ell Torrance of Minneapolis and Mayor Doran of St. Paul, both very prominent in G. A. R. circles, were made honorary members. Captain Foss, master of ceremonies, was in command of the Hartford at one time, and the fact added some significance to the presentation of the memento to the association.

Tried to Escape.

John Moshik, the murderer of John Lemke, made a desperate attempt to escape from the county jail at Minneapolis. In so doing he made a murderous assault upon Special Watchman Peterson and came near adding another murder to his crimes. He got as far as the elevator, where he was recognized and held in the jail corridor until Jailer Duffield, assisted by deputy sheriffs, overpowered him and took him back to the cell.

Three Tons of Twine Daily.

The state prison binder twine factory is now turning out 6,000 pounds of twine per day. On a ten-hour run the factory has a capacity of 18,000 pounds of pure manilla and 24,000 pounds of sisal. A great deal of raw material has been purchased and the factory will remain in steady operation. Many orders for twine for next season's delivery have already been booked.

State Editors.

The members of the Minnesota State Editorial association are to be well entertained when they visit Minneapolis in February. The annual convention of the association will be held in that city Thursday and Friday, Feb. 17 and 18, and the Minneapolis Press club has in charge all arrangements for the reception of the city's guests.

News in Brief.

During the last term of the district court at Marshall, 120 second papers were issued.

The people of Hennepin county are asked to pay $4,110,773.28 into the county treasury, for expenses of 1898, according to the schedules just completed by County Auditor Minor.

The Duluth street railway company has issued an order that firemen must hereafter pay their fares if they ride.

Weeks Brothers, of Grand Meadow, have made an assignment to Philip Sleigher.

The telephone companies in Minnesota will pay a 3 per cent gross earnings tax on their business in the state alone. The attempt to enforce the collection of the tax on the proportionate part of their interstate business has been given up by the state authorities.

A peculiar suit was tried at Winona. M. Murphy some time since bought Josie Connors, his sweetheart, an organ, and when she went back on him he attempted to get possession of the instrument. The jury held it belonged to Miss Connors.

Dodge Center is to have a new $15,000 school house.

Prof. James S. Gaylord, now completing a post graduate course at Harvard, has been selected to succeed Prof. Kirkpatrick at the normal school at Winona in the chair of physiology, philosophy and pedagogy.

Three persons were badly hurt, and Harald Wahlstrom probably fatally injured in a coasting accident at Duluth.

The Bank of Adams, with I. G. Schmidt president, has opened its doors for business.

Fred Peterson was arrested in Minneapolis for stealing a watch from H. D. Warner of North Dakota.

GREATER NEW YORK.

Enthusiastic Crowds Celebrate Its Inauguration—Brilliant Scenes.

New York, Jan. 1.—The exit of the old year and the inauguration of Greater New York was celebrated fittingly Friday night. One of the events that marked the occasion was a grand parade, conducted under the auspices of the New York Journal and Advertiser. The scene in City Hall park previous to the arrival there of the procession was spectacular and brilliant. Although the head of the parade was not expected to reach that point much before midnight the park was crowded as early as eight o'clock, and the crowd struggled and jostled for an hour or more when, on the arrival of Police Captain Cross in command of the small army of officers, the park invaders were driven to the street line, where they were held in check by a cordon of police. Only those entitled by passes were allowed within the park limits.

The passing of Brooklyn as a municipality into that of the Greater New York was observed with elaborate ceremony at the Brooklyn city hall. Within the building was handsomely decorated. The exercises began with a reception in the mayor's office. Later Mayor Wurster presided at a meeting held in the common council chamber. St. Clair McKelway delivered an oration, "From Greater to Greater." This was followed by the reading of a poem "The Passing of Brooklyn," by Will Carlton. Rev. J. M. Farrar then delivered an address on "Commerce and Church," after which Rev. Father Sylvester Malone pronounced the benediction. During the night about 10,000 people attended the reception at the city hall, where at midnight the bell in the tower rang in the new year and the new city.

Greater New York is now the second city of the world and her citizens have entered upon what is believed to be the greatest problem of municipal government ever presented. With the last stroke of the clock at midnight announcing the advent of the new year there was born a city such as the emperors and kings of history would have deemed great for an empire. For six months, until the machinery of the new municipality gets into motion, the mayor of Greater New York has the power of an autocrat. He may appoint officials with salaries running into the thousands with as lavish a hand as ever emperor treated his favorites. The mayor will appoint every department head in the city except the comptroller, who is elected for four years. He will appoint all commissioners, all justices of interior criminal courts, all the members of the school boards, with the exception of the commissioner of education, the justices of special sessions and the police magistrates, and is given the power to remove any official in New York and appoint his successor. There are five boroughs in Greater New York, namely: Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx, Queens and Richmond. The municipal legislature consists of the council, with 28 members, and a board of aldermen of 60 members. The president of the council was elected by the people. The president of the board of aldermen will be chosen by the members of that body. Mayor Van Wyck is given power to veto any ordinance or resolution of either body of the municipal assembly unless five-sixths of the members of both houses declare otherwise. Each of the five boroughs has a borough president, but his principal duty is to preside over the various local bodies in his borough.

OHIO POLITICS.

Anti-Hanna Men Combine in Organization of Legislature.

Columbus, O., Jan. 4.—The Ohio legislature convened at ten a. m. Monday. Owing to the senatorial contest unusual interest was taken in the organization of both houses, and there was an unusually large attendance about the statehouse at an early hour.

All were present in the senate chamber except Senator Burke, of Cleveland, the republican who is opposed to Hanna, and Senator Voight, the fusionist from Cincinnati, but even then the vote stood 18 to 17 in favor of the democrats, who elected all officers.

In the hall of the house the wildest scenes were witnessed during the first hour of the session. All of the 109 members were in their seats. After the name of Boxwell had been presented as the regular republican candidate for speaker the name of Representative Mason, republican, was presented by Representative Jones, republican, and seconded by two other republicans. The democrats did not participate in the speaking.

The first ballot resulted: Mason, 56; Boxwell, 53, as had been claimed since Saturday night by the combined opposition to Senator Hanna. The combine then completed the organization of the house.

The combined slate went through for all the minor places by the same vote of 56 to 53, and after the election of Gerrish the proceedings were very quiet, many retiring from the crowded lobbies and galleries.

Big Republic in Central America.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The complete consolidation of Nicaragua, Salvador and Honduras into a sovereign republic is progressing steadily, according to advices received from Senor Correa, charge d'affaires of the greater republic of Central America. Mr. Correa is advised that the diet has completed a constitution for the greater republic, with full legislative powers, and that notice has been sent to the presidents of the three countries forming the union that the constitution is ready to be passed upon. The next step will be to convene a constitutional asembly, with 20 delegates from each of the three countries to pass upon the constitution. The assembly is expected to be held during the coming spring.

Cuban Cabinet is Named.

Havana, Jan. 1.—Capt. Gen. Blanco has signed the appointments of the president of the council and the five secretaries. The name of Eduardo Dolz was substituted for that of Senor Amblard as minister of commerce.

The following compose the first colonial cabinet of Cuba, under the recently instituted scheme of autonomy, which went into effect Saturday:

President of the Cabinet—Senor Jose Maria Galvez.
Minister of Finance—Senor Rafael Montoro, marquis of Montoro.
Minister of the Interior—Senor Antonio Govin.
Minister of Education—Senor Francisco Seayas.
Minister of Commerce—Eduardo Dolz.
Minister of Posts and Telegraphs—Senor Laureaus Rodriguez.

White House Closed.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The white house was closed Saturday for the first time upon the New Year day for many years. The president and Mrs. McKinley went out for a drive in the forenoon and then spent the remainder of the day in retirement. Vice President Hobart and members of the cabinet omitted their receptions as a mark of sympathy for the president, and, their example being generally followed, the day was very quiet in Washington.

FROM THE KLONDIKE.

The Man from the Gold Mines Tells About the Weather.

He had just returned from the top of the Chilkat pass and was apparently glad of it.

"How was the weather when you left?" inquired a friend. "Cold?"

"Yes, but not so bad as it will be along in January, after the mosquitoes get out of the air and let the wind have a chance. Then it gets good and cold. A man told me who had wintered up there seven years that it was so cold in January that they froze the flames of their candles and sold them for strawberries. He said they kept their fires over night by putting them out in the air and letting them freeze and then thawed them out in the morning. He said he had seen four men die of colic from eating whisky that was frozen so hard it wouldn't thaw inside of them. He said the cows all gave ice cream till they froze to death. He said he knew a clerk in a hotel on the Yukon that got rich selling the diamonds he wore, said diamonds being nothing on earth but ice crystals that didn't thaw till after the clerk had got out of the country. He said he had seen a man fall off the roof a barn and freeze so stiff before he lit that he broke in two when he hit the ground. He said he had seen smoke freeze in a chimney till the fire wouldn't draw, and he knew of one case where the smoke froze after it got 100 feet up and fell back on the house, knocking a hole in the roof big enough to drive a yoke of steers through. He said the reason the nights were so long in that country was that the dark got froze so hard the daylight couldn't thaw its way through in less than six months. He said—"

"Excuse me," interrupted the friend, "did this party have affidavits with these statements?"

"He said he had, but I guess he must have froze to death hunting for them, because he never came back when I asked him to go after them for me," and the returned Chilkater smiled a smile that was childlike and bland.—Washington Star.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

Yet He Did Not Resort to Falsehood.

A benevolent looking old lady had her attention called to a small street urchin who was crying as if his heart would break.

"Come, come, my little fellow, don't cry. Has some one hurt you or are you afraid of something?"

"Nome, but I'll get licked when I git home."

"What have you been doing that you'll be punished for?"

"I lost a dime, an' pap'll whip me when I go home."

"Oh, we will fix that for you. Wipe your face, and I will give you another dime, so there will be no trouble on that account."

When he got the dime his face brightened like the sky after a shower. He was not the same boy. In fact, in his tones and look and talk there was a change that was almost marvelous.

"Now," said the good woman, "run along and be a good boy. But before you go you must tell me what your father gave you the dime for."

"Yesum. He gave it to me to git him some beer, but I left the bucket around the corner."

"That's too bad. I'm sorry your father drinks. I hope when you grow up you will never drink a drop."

"Nome, I won't."

"Maybe if you look right carefully you can find the dime you lost. Where was it you dropped it?"

"I didn't drop it, I lost it; jist lost it."

"But where did you lose it?"

"Right aroun' ther' in the alley."

"But how did it happen that you lost it?"

"I was pitchin' pennies with the fellers an' they got it all."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Farmer's Handy Feed Cooker.

We desire to call our readers' attention to the Farmers' Handy Feed Cooker, which is sold at the low price of $12.50 for 50 gallon capacity.

By feeding poultry and stock with cooked food during the winter months, at least one-third of the food is saved; also having stock in a healthy condition, preventing hog cholera among your hogs, and insuring the hens laying freely during the winter months when eggs are always wanted at high prices. This Cooker will pay for itself in one week's time and is without doubt the best and cheapest on the market—just what its name implies, a Farmer's Handy Feed Cooker. Upon application to the Empire Manufacturing Co., 613 H St., Quincy, Ill., a catalogue, giving a full description, may be obtained. They are made in all sizes.

The Motorman's Pie.

Here is a melancholy story of a motorman and his luncheon: The car was nearly ready to start at the beginning of the route, when a woman got on and took her place on the front seat along with the driver, a "stern, married-looking man," who had a basket beside him, and was somewhat hurriedly eating his luncheon. The woman began asking questions, and the man, as she left him opportunity, continued to snatch now and then a bite. By and by at the ring of the bell he let on the power and the car started, while he held in one hand a "great slab of cherry pie." A few blocks down the street an impish child danced across the track suddenly so near the car that the gripman put on the brakes, and the woman with the inquiring mind rose to her feet in alarm. The danger passed, she sat down again heavily. The stern-faced gripman had ceased to eat his pie. "You don't have much time for meals, do you?" asked the woman with the inquiring mind. "No'm," replied the gripman, sadly. "Where's your pie?" went on the woman with the inquiring mind "You're sitting on it," he said.—Washington Post.

A Man of His Word.

"Do you take this woman for your lawfully wedded wife?" asked the minister, or words to that effect. The young man, who had eloped by tandem 20 miles over a dirt road with the object of his heart's desire, looked at the perspiring, dusty, red-faced, limp-haired object that stood alongside him, set his teeth firmly, clenched his hands and answered, in the voice of a martyr: "I do."—Indianapolis Journal.

Destructive Storms Along the Coast.

Reports of maritime disasters along the coast come in thick and fast. People who "go down to the sea in ships" should bear in mind one thing in particular, namely, that it is highly desirable to take along a supply of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for sea sickness. Nausea, dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, malaria, nervousness and kidney trouble, all succumb to its beneficent and speedy action.

What It Means.—Bobbie—"Poppa, what does it mean by saying: 'Wisdom crieth without?'" Father — "Without being heard, my son."—Brooklyn Life.

Intuition—What some people claim to have when they succeed in making a good guess.—Chicago News.

A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM

About the Cause of Anemia.

Everybody comes into this world with a predisposition to disease of some particular tissue; in other words, everybody has a weak spot.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the weak spot in women is somewhere in the uterine system. The uterine organs have less resistance to disease than the vital organs; that's why they give out the soonest.

Not more than one woman in a hundred—nay, in five hundred—has perfectly healthy organs of generation. This points to the stern necessity of helping one's self just as soon as the life powers seem to be on the wane.

Excessive menstruation is a sign of physical weakness and want of tone in the uterine organs. It saps the strength away and produces anemia (blood turns to water).

If you become anemic, there is no knowing what will happen. If your gums and the inside of your lips and inside your eyelids look pale in color, you are in a dangerous way and must stop that drain on your powers. Why not build up on a generous, uplifting tonic, like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Mrs. Edwin Ehrig, 413 Church St., Bethlehem, Pa., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you that I am better than I have been for four years. I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one package of Sanative Wash, one box of Liver Pills, and can say that I am perfectly cured.

"Doctors did not help me any. I should have been in my grave by this time if it had not been for your medicine. It was a godsend to me. I was troubled with excessive menstruation, which caused womb trouble, and I was obliged to remain in bed for six weeks. Mrs. Pinkham's medicine was recommended to me, and, after using it a short time, was troubled no more with flooding. I also had severe pain in my kidneys. This, also, I have no more. I shall always recommend the Compound, for it has cured me, and it will cure others. I would like to have you publish this letter." (In such cases the dry form of Compound should be used.)

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is often ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Sufficiently Stuffed Already.

"Did you say," inquired the cannibal chieftain, "that the captive had just been graduated from college?"

"He so stated, I believe," replied the head chef, deferentially.

"If that is the case," continued the dusky potentate, "I think you may dispense with the stuffing."—N. Y. Press.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

The Difference.

"Pa, what is the difference between a violinist and a fiddler?"

Pa—Anywhere from one to five thousand a year.—Boston Transcript.

He—"Don't you think it rather risky to come so far alone on your wheel?" She—"Hadn't thought of it—but if you feel timid I'll see you home."—Yellow Book.

A divorce suit should be included in the wardrobe of the actress who hopes to be well advertised.—Chicago News.

Sudden weather changes bring rheumatism. St. Jacobs Oil makes prompt cure.

When a man begins to move others, he is generally called a "crank."—Ram's Horn.

Put a pain to sleep? St. Jacobs Oil does This with Sciatica. Torment cured.

Missionary Training School.

The Chicago Medical Missionary Training School, 1926 Wabash avenue, has been established for the purpose of preparing Christian young men and women to labor in city missionary and rescue work. Consecrated young people of both sexes are received as students without regard to creed, provided they are prepared to devote their lives to Gospel philanthropic work. The instructors are physicians, trained medical nurses and philanthropic workers who give their services free; and students are furnished with room and tuition free of charge and boarded on the European plan at a cost of from $1 to $1.25 per week for meals. The superintendent of the school, who may be addressed at 1926 Wabash ave., Chicago, will give all the information needed regarding this purely non-sectarian, benevolent establishment, its aims and work.

Van Noodle—"D'yer know, Miss Tungbit, that old duffer, Chapwith, called me a mutt the other night." Miss Tungbit—"Indeed! Why, I think you more closely resemble a boa."—Harlem Life.

Everyone's favorite adjective, which he secretly enjoys when applied to himself, is "prominent."—Atchison Globe.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Of course the cold cash we hear so much about comes from the Klondike.—Atchison Globe.

I cannot speak too highly of Piso's Cure for Consumption.—Mrs. Frank Mobbs, 215 W. 22d St., New York, Oct. 29, 1894.

It is always hard on a man when love or the measles attacks him late in life.—Chicago News.

Feeble nerves—severe weather—neuralgia. Soothing cure. St. Jacobs Oil.

No man ever had as many suspenders as he wanted.—Washington Democrat.

While asleep, cured soreness, stiffness? All right, St. Jacobs Oil did it.

Unbidden guests give pleasure—when they go.—Ram's Horn.

All kinds, little or big. St. Jacobs Oil Surely cures aches and pains.

Love is thin when faults are thick.—Farm Journal.

Blacker the spot, surer the cure. Use St. Jacobs Oil for bruises.

SKILL OF DOCTORS TESTED.

Fifteen Years of Suffering.

"I thought I should surely die."

When the stomach begins to fail in its duties, other organs speedily become affected in sympathy, and life is simply a burden almost unbearable. Indigestion and dyspepsia are so common that only the sufferer from these diseases knows the possibilities of misery that inhere in them. A typical example of the sufferings of the victim of indigestion is furnished in the case of John C. Pritchard. He went on for fifteen years, from bad to worse. In spite of doctors he grew constantly weaker, and thought he would die. He got well, however, and thus relates his experience:

"For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from indigestion in its worst forms. I tested the skill of many doctors, but grew worse and worse, until I became so weak I could not walk fifty yards without having to sit down and rest. My stomach, liver, and heart became affected, and I thought I would surely die. I tried Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills and they helped me right away. I continued their use and am now entirely well. I don't know of anything that will so quickly relieve and cure the terrible sufferings of dyspepsia as Dr. Ayer's Pills."—John C. Pritchard, Brodie, Warren Co., N. C.

This case is not extraordinary, either in the severity of the disease or the prompt and perfect cure performed by Dr. Ayer's Pills. Similar results occur in every case where Dr. Ayer's Pills are used. "They helped me right away" is the common expression of those who have used them. Here is another testimony to the truth of this statement:

"I formerly suffered from indigestion and weakness of the stomach, but since I began the use of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills, I have the appetite of the farmer's boy. I am 46 years of age, and recommend all who wish to be free from dyspepsia to take one of Dr. Ayer's Pills after dinner, till their digestive organs are in good order."—Wm. Steinke, Grant, Neb.

Dr. Ayer's Pills offer the surest and swiftest relief from constipation and all its attendant ills. They cure dizziness, nausea, heartburn, palpitation, bad breath, coated tongue, nervousness, sleeplessness, biliousness, and a score of other affections that are, after all, only the signs of a more deep rooted disease. You can find more information about Dr. Ayer's Pills, and the diseases they have cured, in Ayer's Curebook, a story of cures told by the cured. This book of 100 pages is sent free, on request, by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
CURE CONSTIPATION
REGULATE THE LIVER
10c 25c 50c
ALL DRUGGISTS

"A FAIR FACE CANNOT ATONE FOR AN UNTIDY HOUSE."
USE
SAPOLIO

ESTABLISHED 1879.
MINNEAPOLIS. WOODWARD & CO. DULUTH.
GRAIN COMMISSION.
LOW RATES OF GRAIN STORAGE MADE IN MINNEAPOLIS AND DULUTH; WRITE US.
ORDERS FOR FUTURE DELIVERY EXECUTED IN ALL MARKETS.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, JAN., 7, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

—Delano Fair January Saturday, 8.

—E. C. Austin has written us to change his address from Amedo Cal. to Reno, Col.

—Barber John kept right on doing business just the same if a team did knock his sign over.

—Blacksmiths seem to be reaping most of the prosperity in this part of the country, at present.

—Jones' new livery barn is being pushed to completion. The horses have already moved into the basement.

—Drayman McRoberts seems to be having misfortunes one after another. This week a barrel of cider got too heavy for him and hurt his foot so he has to hobble about.

—Skating on the river has been good for some time past, and at all hours of the day and far into the night, the merry skaters can be heard on the ice between the bridges.

—January 8 is the anniversary of General Jackson's notable victory over the British at the battle of New Orleans. Tomorrow will be the day, and its Delano Fair Day too.

—When the Catholic church bell rings, and the different whistles in town announce the hours to go to work or stop again, there is considerable of a city sound in the air.

—The watch sociable at the M. E. manse, New Year's Eve was well attended, and the crowd enjoyed itself immensely, as did Brother Jones the sandwiches and coffee. They were good, too.

—Prof. Greer, of Kentucky, squared up with the preacher promptly at the close of the old year. He says he considers the debts to the preacher as much debts of honor as any other, and he acts accordingly.

—The funeral of Mrs. Bokoske was held this morning from the Catholic church. Her sister from Le Sueur Center came in answer to a telegram, arriving at the house about ten minutes after Mrs. B. died.

—Schools will open up for business next Monday morning. The scholars have enjoyed the fine weather and excellent skating during holidays, very much and are now prepared to learn their lessons better than ever.

—The Klondike fever don't seem to take hold on Delanoites very much. If a man will exert himself and suffer the deprivations he would on a trip to Alaska, at most any bussness here at home he would soon become well off, financially.

—To-morrow will be Delano Fair Day. Our village has become known for its big monthly fairs. Many people come from near by and from long distances to buy or sell stock of various kinds. Most live live stock brings fair prices now.

—Many Delano friends of Capt. Cheney, who remember with pleasure the nice trips they had on Lake Minnetonka in his boat, before it was burned, will be pleased to learn that he is to have a larger and finer boat this season. The Captain is quite popular among Delanoites.

—Some of the farmers are not satisfied because there is no good sleighing. Roads are about as good as asphalt pavements most any where, where much traveled; big loads can be easily hauled. We don't know just why farmers are so anxious to shovel snow every morning. For our part we would very much prefer the present weather to winds and snow drifts. Some people seem never to be satisfied with any kind of weather

—As Louey Meccha was doing a little business at the mill the mill this morning, his team, a fine span of grays, took fright and dashed up town at a lively rate, nearly running into several teams, demolishing two electric light poles, one at the Brugeman corner and the other on Third street near the broom factory, where they were finally caught. Had they collided with the telephone poles they would not have torn them down. Teams should be carfully hitched when left about town where they are unacquainted.

Letter From Rev. Fairbanks.

Rev. Fairbanks, well and favorably known here writes:

STEWART, Minn., Jan. 1, 1898.

Dear Bro.: We have removed from Cedar Mills, to Stewart, McLeod Co., and have begun work in our new field of labor. We find plenty of opportunity for service here, and hope to see great results. Shall hold the week of prayer next week, and may go on with the special services. I hope the work is moving well with you at Delano. * * *

REV. F. E. FAIRBANKS

Court News.

Mary A Rossett vs. Perry Nelson. Jury verdict for plaintiff $50. Stay 30 days.

E. N. Branden vs. John Vican. Jury verdict for plaintiff $5.55.

State vs. George H. Allen, continued till next term.

George Hayes vs. Mary Hayes and Ada Domes and Ed Domes continued till Feby. 8 at 1 p. m.

Special terms of court to hear all cases but jury trials was ordered for the first Monday of each month except Jany., June, July and December.

Special term will be held at Howard Lake, Feb. 2, at 10 a. m.

Bank of Minneapolis vs. Swinburn Printing Co. Stricken from calendar.

Charles A. Ebert vs. Christ Westphal. Continued.

Bradec vs. Cech continued to Feb. 7 at 10 a. m.

Court adjourned till Feb. 7.

County Cullings.

Sherburne County Star News: The Van Sant boom appears to have caught cold during the week.

Charley Warner is reported to have purchased the Aitkin Age, and is to turn it into the Republican fold.

If the Republican leaders are no better than their papers in this county make them out, we would advise all our readers to vote the Democratic ticket.

Sheriff Nugent has caught the man who drove Frank Pitt's team away and who passed a forged check on Johnson Bros., Rockford. He will have to board at the county's expense in Hennepin jail till next June.

Mrs. Selah Markham of Clearwater entertained thirty-six of her children and grandchildren at her home in that town on Christmas day. Russel and Homer Markham, and George Ring, with their families were present from Clear Lake—Sherburne County Times.

Brother Tanner was so sure of the issue of the next campaign being free silver and tariff is a tax, let him read from the Standard: "In nominating candidates for the legislature it might be well for Republicans to bear in mind that the next legislature will elect a U. S. senator to succeed C. K. Davis

The Litchfield News Ledger concerning Republican nominees for governor gives it up as follows: "The man with the best staying qualities is hard to guess at the present time."

It is a shame on Wright County journalism the way some of our editors are telling stories on each other. If they are half as bad as they say each other is, the whole lot should be fired. Where there is so much smoke there must be some fire.

The tactics adopted by some newspaper men remind one most forcibly of a skunk. Lacking the manhood to engage in fair and open combat, they attempt to shield themselves by emitting offensive odors.—County Line.

Or the ink fish might be taken for a simile. In order that it may hide, it blackens the waters, until it is hard finding the whereabouts of its neighbors, or itself.

Rockford Rumblings.

While in town a few minutes Monday Ye Editor found things moving about as usual. D. R. Farnham was the first man we met; he said the new road was the principal talk in town now. At D. R. Thompson's, the board of Supervisors, George Crandall, C. C. Hohl, and O. W. Crawford were holding a meeting and preparing notices concerning the new road. Mr. Thompson seemed happy that things seemed moving rightly. Several clerks were busy assisting the proprietor in waiting on customers.

Jeff Benner was as smiling as ever as he measured out goods to numerous people who patronize him. Mr. B., although running a woollen mill and believing in tariff, is willing to admit that in the lumber business "Tariff is a Tax" and that the lumbermen raised the price on account of the $2 tariff and the people have to pay it while the Canadian can bring his lumber in and pay the $2 tariff and make the same profit he did under free trade.

The public road from Rockford Village to Rockford Station has finally been ordered. D. R. Thompson has worked faithfully to this end. He says it is the only road of the kind laid out in the manner it has been; Judge Tarbox ordering it. The Village and Town boards of Rockford met Monday and resolved to let bids for extracting stumps and grading. It is proposed to go right to work and make a good road The county of Hennepin and Town of Greenwood will have something to say about the bridge. It is hoped that no trouble will be met with in this line and that a good substantial bridge and well graded road will shorten the distance from Delano to Rockford soon. Some work should be done between Delano and Rockford Station to make the road more level.

The woolen mills were running under the guiding eye of F. J. Benner. They have been obliged to rest awhile on account of a broken wheel and other misfortunes. (A good foundry in this country might avert many delays of this kind not only in Rockford but in other places and other kinds of business near by.) They expect to rest during the coldest weather when it comes, and then start up bigger than ever. They make good goods.

George Florida one of the jolliest millers in the country had just concluded a clinical lecture on Temperance to his men who were shut up in the mill with him at work. The subject of the lecture was not present but was so well known, as were his idiosyncracies, that the mere allusion to him by the talker brought him clearly into mind. There was some repairing on the dam, and other much needed work, which the keeper of Blue Monday was expected to do, hence the eloquence of the manufacturer of "Pride of the Pantry."

We didn't meet many on account of the shortness of our stay, but what we heard express themselves believed that the gold standard would not do for the Republican party to hoist. Some good life long Abe Lincoln, and James G. Blaine and William Windom Republicans seem to hold to the "traditions and interests of the party" as expressed by C. A. Towne in the platform on which he was elected to Congress, and to which he still devoutely clings.

Amos Kinney was running a solitary saw at the post office.

SUBSCRIBE

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat, No. 1 per bu.,	$ .81
" " No. 2 " "	$ .78
" " No. 3 " "	$ .74
Rye	$ .37
Potatoes, per bu.,	.40
Butter	.13 .18
Eggs,	.15
Hay, per ton,	4.00 5.00
Pork	3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,	.05 .06
Turkeys, dressed,	.08 .10

DIED.

BOKOSKI.—In Independence, on Wednesday, January 5, Mrs. Matilda, wife of John Bokoske, aged 33 years.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print it.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone, 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal And the Buffalo Gazette Both one year For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the Buffalo Gazette, Delano, Minn.

Late Literary News.

What would you do if war should be declared to-morrow with a European power? How would it change your home life, the lives of your brother and other relatives? How would it affect your business connections and business? What changes would it make in financial, city, state and national affairs? It is these interesting problems which a writer in the December Cosmopolitan has undertaken to sketch under the heading of "A Brief History of Our Late War With Spain," at the same time vividly describing the exciting scenes which would attend the opening of hostilities. This same number of the Cosmopolitan has an article on "The Well Dressed Woman" by Elsie de Wolfe, a contrast of the characters of Henry George and Charles A. Dana by John Brisben Walker, in another place "The Loves of Goethe," while Wells' story, "The War of the Worlds," which has been so widely read, reaches its conclusion in an unexpected way.

Better Than Ever.

Farm, Stock & Home, Minneapolis, Minn., begins its fourteenth volume November 15th, and starting with that issue will hereafter appear with enlarged pages, having a fourteen inch column instead of a thirteen as heretofore.

Farm, Stock & Home, by the use of minion type, has always given more reading matter for the money than any other Minnesota Agricultural paper and this move will place it still further to the fore. While an inch on a column does not seem a great deal, a little figuring will quickly prove that it is nearly equal to giving twentysix papers of the old size in a year, instead of twentyfour. The subscription price and frequency of issue will remain the same, viz. 1st and 15th of each month and 50 cents per year. The BUFFALO GAZETTE has an arrangement with the publishers by which Farm, Stock, & Home can be had in connection with the BUFFALO GAZETTE for $1.30 for the two papers.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Advertise in the GAZETTE for trade.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything.—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely Illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE and LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising: its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE, Delano, Minn.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $2.00

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

If your add was here somebody would read it, and might call on you.

Advertise IN THE GAZETTE.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE GAZETTE.

DELANO FURNITURE CO.

(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)

GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING

PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING, REPAIRING AND GENERAL CARPENTERING.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

GIVE US A CALL.

W. H. COCHRANE, & CO., Abstractors,

BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.

Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

-AdvertisE- GAZETTE. ONE YEAR $1.00 in the GAZETTE.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine SEE THE BEST. DEMORESTS'

An Unparalleled Offer.

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO. 110 Fifth Ave., New York.

A Liberal Offer, Only $1.75 for BUFFALO GAZETTE and DEMORIST'S MAGAZINE. for One Year. Send your Subscriptions to this Office, Delano, Minn.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE popular NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very resPectfully yours,
GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO., CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees. Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.

All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.

Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.

29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN, WAVERLY

Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County

D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR FINE JOB PRINTING,

IN THE LINE OF

Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line of Printing,

CALL AT THE Gazette Office.

CHOICE GARDEN AND FLOWER SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1898. NUMBER 16.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. ANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis, Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday.... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
Junior League..... 3:00 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARRAR Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. FORSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZOYKER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Sabbath, at 10:30 a. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 P. M. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30.
REV. T. DAVIES.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m
Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President — JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen — NICK FRANK, HENRY BUCK, ADAM BORSCH.
Recorder — I. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace — W. H. FRAZER, R. N. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health — T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary, J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables — JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY,
Secretary, I. M. MAXFIELD,
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZER, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WAYMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

—THE SOUTH—

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK on PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance,..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance,..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance,..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year,..... $100.00
One-half column, one year 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

FROM the tone of some of the gold organs one would suspect they would like to have an injunction served on Mr. Bryan's mouth.

EVERY mention of the name of Hon. John Lind and Hon. C. A. Towne, at the Democratic meeting Tuesday, in Minneapolis brought forth cheers and loud applause. They are surely the choice of the United forces.

JUDGE DONOHUE, the original Bryan man, presided at the Exposition meeting. Judge Willis, of St. Paul, and Hon. T. J. Caton, of Minneapolis, addressed the audience before the arrival of W. J. Bryan. On behalf of the Ladies' Bryan Club, Hon. T. J. Caton, after the distinguished orator of the evening was through, presented Mr. Bryan with a very large and handsome boquet, which was smilingly received with his politest bow.

WILLIAM HENRY EUSTIS is frequently announced as visiting some country lodge of the many secret societies of the land and of nursing his ambition to be Governor. Secret societies are sometimes good things. Ambition is a laudable attribute of man. A good Governor is the pride of everybody. But a man should be made Governor because he is pre-eminently fitted for the position, and we don't believe W. H. E. is.

THE Democratic gathering in Minneapolis, Tuesday, so far as we were able to learn, was one of the most harmonious and democratic meetings, and the largest gathering of the kind we ever attended, and we have been to a good many. The speakers agreed that a thorough organization should be effected, and that everybody should have an equal right to express his views. Democrats, though they may not say a word for years, want to be sure they have the privilege whenever occasion presents itself. Even though they reside in the smaller precincts of the country by thorough organization their wishes may easily be made known to the State Central Committee and things can move smoothly on to a harmonious and triumphant conquest by Democratic principles.

WHILE the leaders of the gold theory are engaged in a conspiracy to knock William Jennings Bryan out of the race for President, by trying to poke fun at his theories; lying about historical facts presented to his audiences; and accusing him of making his fight on 16 to 1 alone, their deluded followers of '66, heartily tired of waiting and ashamed that the party promises have not been fulfilled; as much disgusted as were democrats when their leader, Grover Cleveland, went over to the Aristocracy, are assisting in breaking down the doors and windows, of the largest buildings that can be found in Minnesota to gather a few crumbs of comfort from the man who is being lied about; and they find a full meal. Mr. Bryan leaves no one to doubt his broad and liberal views of the people's rights.

C. A. MCDONALD, of The Saint Cloud Times, was chosen as Chairman of the meeting of the Democratic organization, which met at the Century Hall, Tuesday. Chairman Rosing, of the State Central Committee read his report of the work of the committee. He showed that very little money had been handled by them and he had himself advanced $100 to help carry out the work necessary. A shower of silver dollars nearly drove the occupants of the stage away for a time. Before the meeting was over it was announced that all claims had been met and a dollar still remained in the Treasury. Chairman Rosing is an earnest and intelligent worker. He expects that the Democrats will by the help of Populists and Free Silver Republicans carry the next election in this state.

THE Minneapolis Tribune takes upon itself the honor of having a representative of that paper meet Hon. W. J. Bryan on the train before arriving at St. Paul, and of escorting him into the West Hotel before the reception committee found out the distinguished man was in this vicinity. Let them have all the honor they claim. If the reception committees were misled as to the time of his arrival in the city the people found out he was there before the hour to speak in the Exposition building came round, and long before the time the house was filled to overflowing with one of the most attentive and enthusiastic audiences ever addressed in the city. If Mr. B. had a shadow of disappointment on his arrival, the silver lining was quite discernable before he got away from Minneapolis.

Ging Insurance Void.

"The Travelers' Insurance company will not be compelled to pay the Ging insurance. Yesterday Judge McGee instructed a verdict for the defendant in the case brought by Miss Julia Ging as administratrix of her sister's estate against the company, on the grounds that there was a clause in the policy distinctly stating that the company would not hold itself liable for injuries inflicted by another wilfully unless such injuries were sustained while the holder of the policy was defending himself or property from the assaults of burglars, robbers or thieves."

If the insurance in a case like that on Miss Kate Ging's life does not have to be paid, of what particular benefit is a policy? Was Miss Ging in any way responsible for her death? How could she defend herself under the circumstances? Was not the killing done to rob someone of the money for her insurance? Under this ruling, all the insurance companies having such a clause will have to do to get rich, will be to hire a gang of ruffians to go around and murder their policy holders while they are not looking and can not make any defence for their lives.

Bryan Excites Enthusiasm.

On Tuesday, William Jennings Bryan was in Minneapolis. After speeches made at the University and at the Central High School, at 2 p. m. he reached Century Hall where the democratic organization was in session. The Hall was filled with Democrats anxious to hear their illustrious leader of '96 and it was quite an easy thing to see that he was the choice for 1900. On entering the hall a storm of applause greeted him. He spoke to them of the necessity of working together with all parties who are opposed to the gold standard to secure what the people desire, bimetallism. He advocated nominating good clean men for offices, and working in harmony for their election.

He was announced to be at the Exposition in the evening, doors to open at 6, other speakers to speak first then Mr. Bryan. At 7 o'clock the Exposition building was packed and hundreds standing in the street, many of whom were obliged to go away without gaining entrance to the building.

Mr. Bryan was cheered on his appearance before the vast sea of faces. The crowd was with him from the beginning and he knew it. He didn't expect to make converts in public meetings but arm his audience with irrefutable arguments with which they, by continual work in their daily walks would convince men of the correctness of the bimetallic idea. He said: "For eighty one years we had bimetallism and nobody complained. Since '73 we had not had it and many were complaining. Bimetallism is no new theory. It is a tried experiment. We are not the ones who are experimenting. The gold standard is the experiment. No party ever came out and advocated a gold standard until the "National Democrats" put it in their platform, and they didn't vote for it. Men made speeches for that ticket who had no notion of voting it themselves. The speech was a masterful effort and furnished everybody plenty to think about and talk about for days and weeks to come, until they win their case in 1900 in fact.

After the lecture, Mr. Bryan drove to the West Hotel where he was banqueted by the Young Men's Democratic club, and their guests 600 people packed about the banquet boards. After the feast and the speeches of others, Mr. B. again broke forth in oratory, and such a speech. Every body was held spell bound until he began to speak of closing his address as it was near time for the last trains which were to be held till 1:30 a. m. when cries of "Go on," "Go on," were heard. He certainly is not dead not his cause slumbering.

The Aitkin Age has "gone Republican"—by purchase. Well, come to think of it, that is what caused the last election to go the same way.—St. Cloud times.

Wabasha Democrat: The Maryland republicans are having a little fun on their own account at present, trying to elect a United States senator to succeed Gorman. They might compromise on Gorman. He has always been a good assistant republican.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the GAZETTE for trade.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan 7, 1897.

Mr. McKinley's attempt to bluff the anti-civil service republicans in the House into keeping quiet, by promising that he would modify the civil service rules as soon as the agitation ceased was a flat failure. The fight on civil service began as soon as Congress reassembled. Gen. Grosvenor even left his friend Ross Hanna, who is fighting for his life at Columbus, in order to be in Washington to lead the assault on the civil service fort. And the antis are not confining themselves to talk. They have introduced a bill in the House providing that only those government employes with salaries from $900 to $1300, inclusive, and in places where there are twenty-five or more Federal employes shall be under the civil service law. The answers of three members of the Cabinet,—Sherman, Gage and Wilson—to a Senate resolution are all in the nature of a fusilade into Mr. McKinley's rear, as they each say the rules ought to be so modified as to exclude a number of places in each of their departments.

The silver men in the Senate are showing signs of an intention to take the aggressive. In line with that intention was a resolution offered by Senator Teller, declaring that all U. S. bonds are payable in silver dollars, at the option of the government. This is not a new idea. The resolution offered by Mr. Teller is identically the same that was offered in the Senate nearly twenty years ago by the late Stanley Matthews, of Ohio, and at that time adopted. The Finance Committee, to which this resolution was referred will be sure to report it back, as a majority of the committee are silver men.

The administration having succeeded in whipping all the republican Senators into the support of annexation, Senator Davis has given notice that the Hawaiian treaty would be taken up next week.

Representative Benton, of Mo., thus gives his opinion of that alleged Monetary commission and its report: "Speaking after the fashion of our plain western people, I think the commission and its report combine a stupendous exhibition of gall. Who made the commission? The Indianapolis monetary convention. And by what authority? What act passed by any law making body gave life to this convention or its progeny, the commission? For whom do they speak? Of whom is this commission composed? Is there a practical cotton-planter on it? No; yet we raised in '96 $275,000,000 worth of cotton at the lowest prices for many years. What representative wheat-raiser is on the commission to represent the makers of 530,000,000 bushels of wheat? Is there to be found a representative cattle and hog raiser on this commission? Is there a practical miner of coal, iron, lead or zinc on it? No. Who on this commission represents the carpenter, mason an other mechanics? Nobody. Well, if this vast army of people representing more than a thousand million dollars of production annually and sixty millions of people have no member to speak for them by authority, who do these eminently able and respectable gentlemen represent? Simply money, stocks and bonds, owned and controlled by a few thousand persons, who have by aid of legislation cornered four-fifths of our national wealth, and insist on future legislation being enacted to suit their condition." Mr. Benton says further that the legislation recommended by the commission is for the purpose of making money scarce; turning over the paper money to the keeping of those they represent, and enabling them to control markets and buy produce at their own prices, adding in conclusion: "In my view, the whole report of this commission, when boiled down, means: 'We want the law so changed that every bond, every dollar of silver and paper must be redeemed in gold, and that national banks shall alone be empowered to emit paper, and more, to have the restrictions now on the Statute books removed so that the banks will be responsible to no one by law'".

Some of the shrewdest political observers in Washington, members of all parties, agree that Gov. Bushnell and the anti-Hanna republicans of the Ohio legislature have made it certain that neither Mr. McKinley nor any other Ohio man will head the republican ticket in 1900, and that the State will be in the democratic column for some years to come. Czar Reed's friends are keeping quiet, but they regard his chances for the republican nomination in 1900 as having been greatly improved by the Ohio republicans. There are reasons for believing that Mr. McKinley also holds this opinion.

The ordinary counterfeit is so easily distinguishable from the genuine note that only those not accustomed to handling money are deceived by it, but a number of counterfit $100 silver certificates have been discovered which fool bank experts, and there is in consequence alarm and consternation in the Treasury Department. The Secretary has ordered that the entire issue of these silver certificates be called in—$25,0.0,000—and the full extent of the counterfeiting will not be known until the notes are all in. Meanwhile any body had better refuse $100 silver certificates, unless tendered by responsible parties.

Cannon for the Banks.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commander of the U. S. army, recently suggested that the government treasure houses should be protected by cannon. This would be Napoleonic a long time after Waterloo and is both un American and unnecessary. When a free government is forced to save itself from its own people with cannon, it ought at once to resolve itself into a monarchy. For where such safeguards are demanded the people are unfit for self government and should be relieved of the responsibility. And if the government set the example, every private financial institution would demand similar protection, so that our finances would soon rest on a powder basis. We are opposed to the free coinage of lead, and whenever the government gets afraid of itself it can set the time lock and go home. We fear the general's European tour made him color blind. Things are not so gory as they seem. Budgets are better than bullets, and now is the time to subscribe.—Bede's Budget.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

A. A. Hanna, St. Paul, car coupling. A. D. Hill, Stanton, apparatus for cooling cream, &c. R. V. Hill, Moose Lake, Umbrella. J. A. Markoe, White Bear Lake, voting machine. M. D. Pendergast, Hutchinson, wire fence. W. C. Porter, Arlington, counting machine. A. E. Veon, Brainerd, vapor lamp. A. J. Waller, Dassel, sack-tie.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

FROM THE EVERGREEN STATE.

From Minnesota to Washington. Apples Rotting on the Ground. Prosperity. People. Climate

(BY EARL HOISINGTON)

DAYTON, Washington, Jan. 3rd.

Mr. EDITOR GAZETTE,

Dear Sir:—If I remember aright I promised to write to you a letter on my arrival at this place. I will now try to fulfill my promise.

I started on my journey to this place on Sunday evening from Minneapolis, and arrived here on Thursday morning at 4 o'clock and found Mr. Bradford and family all asleep. I rung the door bell and pounded the door and aroused the sleepers and they came to the door with their arms extended and from appearance I thought they were trying to demolish burglars. I hallowed at the top of my voice, don't shoot, and then I heard one say "Oh dear, it is Pa and Ma" and then such a squabble, a regular kissing match in the hall. Well, that being over, peace was concluded and all has went since as merry as a marriage bell. On our journey here we were delayed a half day at Columbus, Nebraska, where we changed cars for this place, which is surrounded with hills except the little valleys through which the R. R. enters this place. The country through which we passed, in many places appeared like a desolate waste. And what such a country was made for, I am as yet unable to determine. But since coming here and seeing how people live and farm these hills I have almost concluded at some time this country may be made to blossom as the rose by the aid of science and invention, and the gift of continuance, perseverance and plenty of sweet oil. The people here are a mixture of all classes and countries with a large percentage from the southern states, mostly soldiers in the late war, and there is a G. A. R. post here of seventy members. The people here appear to be very friendly and sociable as well as intelligent. In fact I do not think I have ever been in any place where I have seen as much good sound common sense manifested among all classes.

There seems to be everything here for people's wants, and every body seems to think they are entering in the constellation of material prosperity. The big crop of wheat with the price they get has lifted many mortgages and hence the smile we see manifested.

The lands here are of a curious formation with a large amount of alkali, yet the soil is very prolific. Water is all that is lacking in many places but that article appears to be on the increase as the country settles up. Fruit is at this time lying on the ground under the apple trees by the bushel, large nice fruit at that, which looks strange to a man who has lived over forty years in Minnesota. The weather since I have been here has been quite moderate, just cold enough the most of the time to make the roads hard and dry. There is a good deal of foggy weather here and I do not think it is good for weak lungs. I am troubled with my throat here on account of dampness but my lungs enable me, as formerly they did in Delano to converse with a person a half mile off. Well Dear Editor I think I had better bring this ebolution to a close for fear you will fall asleep ere you can get through its perusal, but will say further, please receive our best wishes for self and youts, hoping you had a merry Christmas and happy New Year. Please give my best wishes to all my old time friends in and about Delano and believe me ever etc. EARL HOISINGTON.

Late Literary News.

What would you do if war should be declared to-morrow with a European power? How would it change your home life, the lives of your brother and other relatives? How would it affect your business connections and business? What changes would it make in financial, city, state and national affairs? It is these interesting problems which a writer in the December Cosmopolitan has undertaken to sketch under the heading of "A Brief History of Our Late War With Spain," at the same time vividly describing the exciting scenes which would attend the opening of hostilities. This same number of the Cosmopolitan has an article on "The Well Dressed Woman" by Elsie de Wolfe, a contrast of the characters of Henry George and Charles A. Dana by John Brisben Walker, in another place "The Loves of Goethe," while Wells' story, "The War of the Worlds," which has been so widely read, reaches its conclusion in an unexpected way.

Buffalo Gazette, and Cosmopolitan one of the best monthly magazines, for one year, for $1.80

Independence Incidents.

MR. EDITOR: Have we got tropical weather? It seems Minnesota has been set several degrees farther south. Old settlers say we never had such mild winter weather. Well it will help shorten up the winter.

The stock holders of the Maple Plain creamery have made no permanent arrangements for starting up their plant yet.

Died, in Independence, on January 5th, of complicated disease, Mrs. Jane McNeal, ago 54 years. Deceased was a daughter of Daniel S. Syner, one of the early settlers of the town of Independence, coming here in 1856. Mrs. Mc Neal leaves two sons, a mother, two brothers, two sisters, and many friends to mourn her loss. Funeral at Armstrong A. C. church on afternoon of 6th, conducted by Rev. M. Hamilton, of Rockford. She was laid at rest in Lewis cemetery.

I was much interested in reading in last weeks GAZETTE a letter from California, written by an old friend, that dates way back in the fifties, and also another letter over the name of Marksville farmer. Both were good. Hope you will come again.

I was much amused in reading in some of the papers, General Nelson Miles, recommendation that mounted cannon be placed at the government treasury to protect it, to keep it from being looted we suppose. Have we come to this that a Republican form of government must place a battery and a troop of soldiers to guard her hoarded treasure? Nonsense! Too superflous for a country that for a century and a quarter has boasted of liberty, freedom, and Independence. General Miles must have got great notions while off on his European trip. Perhaps he would like to establish a military post at every cross roads, and have a navy on every spring brook. There is no need that this country be made nothing but a military post, and every vacant lot a parade ground. We are not wishing for war. He seems to think we have a class of people that is ready to loot our treasury and cary our golden vessels off to Babylon.

What has become of the 55th Congress? Perhaps they are like the God of Baal, asleep or gone off on a journey, for they do not seem to be doing much. It is about time for them to deliver the goods. I think if they would pass another high protective tariff bill, and the courts serve an injunction upon the toiling masses, the country would be safe and General Miles would have no need of a half dozen siege guns 24 feet long, throwing a projectile of a ton's weight, to protect the treasury.

"And they numbered the people and there was six hundred and three thousand five hundred and fifty men of war". I suppose the United States with a population of over 70,000,000 people could furnish more that ten times that many men, but we are opposed to war only when it is forced upon us without cause or provication. What the majority of the people of this country want is honest pay as a reward of industry, plenty of money in circulation that is worth a hundred cents on the dollar and is current money among rich and poor alike and General Miles can spike his cannon, and turn his parade ground into a vegetable garden, and let the artillerymen go home to their families. Don't see as we need cannon to protect our treasure. It belongs to the people.

FARMER.

Better Than Ever.

Farm, Stock & Home, Minneapolis, Minn., begins its fourteenth volume November 15th, and starting with that issue will hereafter appear with enlarged pages, having a fourteen inch column instead of a thirteen as heretofore.

Farm, Stock & Home, by the use of minion type, has always given more reading matter for the money than any other Minnesota Agricultural paper and this move will place it still further to the fore. While an inch on a column does not seem a great deal, a little figuring will quickly prove that it is nearly equal to giving twentysix papers of the old size in a year, instead of twentyfour. The subscription price and frequency of issue will remain the same, viz. 1st and 15th of each month and 50 cents per year. The BUFFALO GAZETTE has an arrangement with the publishers by which Farm, Stock, & Home can be had in connection with the BUFFALO GAZETTE for $1 30 for the two papers

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 353,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Advertise in the GAZETTE.

Latest News

BRYAN was There! at Minneapolis, Jan. 11

M. Zola, the French author, is to be prosecuted for his letter to Pres. Faure.

Pres. Dole, of Hawaii, is on his way to Washington to meet the Administration on the annexation negotiations.

Bryan stopped off at Mankato last night, on his way to Omaha, and spoke to an enthusiastic crowd of 3,000 citizens.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patents in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

THE

New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR.

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New. Abreast of the Times. A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged."

Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often general information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority.

Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the perfection of dictionaries. I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

Recommended by Every State Superintendent of Schools Now in Office.

A saving of three cents per day for a year will provide more than enough money to purchase a copy of the International. Can you afford to be without it?

Have your Bookseller show it to you.

G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

Do not buy cheap photographic reprints of ancient editions.

Send for free prospectus containing specimen pages, illustrations, etc.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

The Cramps, the leading firm of American shipbuilders, propose to spend several millions on a shipbuilding plant at Seattle. A new era for the Pacific opens rapidly.

Samuel Jason, of New York, taunted his wife about "mother's cooking," and now he is in a hospital. He thinks that mother's cooking is not now to be mentioned with wife's basting.

Now that it has been discovered that the stomach is not a necessity it must not be inferred that it will go out of fashion altogether. Some people may insist on retaining it as a luxury.

A writer on Indian songs says they contain "explosive sounds for warlike sentiments." They have faded out from the ancestral vales and hills where once they echoed, but the college yell is a fair substitute.

Don Eugenio de Faria y Goncoles de Tiexerra has just received a divorce from a North Dakota court. One would think that it would take more than one divorce to loosen anyone who got tangled up in that name.

Kilgoorlie is the name of the new placer gold mining district in West Australia. The gold is found on the bedrock underneath 25 to 75 feet of soil. But in spite of the extreme hardships Americans will prefer Alaska.

The resumption of work by the big window glass factories of the country at an advance of wages for the workers is an industrial event of great importance. The long lockout in this great interest, due to the disagreement in regard to wages, was expensive to both sides.

The latest news from Andree was received from the third pigeon sent out, two days after the balloon cut loose. At that time the balloon was sailing eastward instead of north. The date of the dispatch is July 13. If Andree is still alive he is probably wintering in some remote arctic waste.

Col. John Jameson, who died in Brooklyn, N. Y., the other day was present at Ford's theater the night that Booth shot Lincoln, and was in the Baltimore & Potomac station when Guiteau shot Garfield. Col. Jameson was formerly superintendent of the railway mail service. He was but 56 years old at the time of his death.

Secretary Long writes that "the navy is by no means a mere war function of government. It is really one of the great functions of the affairs of state." The fact is well stated. A navy is a civilizing force, an adjunct of commerce, exploration, navigation and science, bringing nations and races closer together in times of peace.

It is a close season again in Maine, and the good people are taking stock. We have seen no estimate of the moose and deer scalps taken, but 14 citizens and hunters were "killed by mistake" and a large number of others wounded. With the modern gun that kills a mile away there is no security for human life in the woods in favorite hunting grounds.

The embezzlements in the United States increased from $9,465,921 to $11,248,084 in 1897, while the donations to educational and charitable purposes remained nearly stationary. The aggregate of the latter for the year was $33,612,814, of which $10,203,450 was for colleges, $14,785,626 for charities, $5,023,738 for churches, and $1,218,000 for museums and public galleries.

France, Germany and Russia have no trade with China worth mentioning, and they propose to force themselves into it. The foreign trade of China amounts to about $258,000,000 annually. Great Britain controls $172,000,000, Japan $25,000,000, and the United States $16,000,000. This leaves $25,000,000 trade to be distributed among all other nations. It is easy to see where the shoe pinches.

In the United States court at Pawnee the other day four Pawnee chiefs were granted divorces from their wives on the ground of neglect. Pipe Chief testified that his wife wanted to spend all his money on fine dresses and that she sought to ignore all of the Indian customs. The final straw was laid when she refused to attend the sun dance on the ground that she wouldn't associate with squaws who were dirty. Evidently the new woman has appeared among the red men.

Miners returning from Dawson City report that while provisions are scarce a really worse problem that the goldseekers have to face is the scarcity of light, oil selling at $45 a gallon and candles at a proportionately high rate. Alaska has been represented as a country rich in all minerals and producing petroleum in abundance. If necessity is the mother of invention, it is a wonder that some enterprising Klondiker does not bore for oil. A successful strike would be worth more than all the gold claims on Bonanza creek or anywhere else.

The combining of municipalities under the name of the city of New York is an event of much importance in the history of the country. The enlarged city is composed of the five boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, with a population of 3,350,000, which is 850,000 more than that of Paris and double that of Berlin. The world's second city has a much larger population than that of Denmark, Switzerland, Greece or Venezuela and contains nearly as many inhabitants as made up the 13 colonies when they won their independence.

During 1898 eight rear admirals of the navy and five brigadier generals will be retired on age: Rear Admirals L. A. Beardslee, February 1; T. O. Selfridge, February 6; W. A. Kirkland, July 3; C. S. Norton, August 10; M. Sicard, September 30; E. O. Matthews, October 24; J. N. Miller, November 22, and F. M. Bunce, December 25, and Brig. Gens. W. H. Bell, commissary genergal of subsistence, on January 28; G. H. Weeks, quartermaster general, February 3; Sam Breck, Adjutant general, February 25; W. H. Graham, September 28, and J. J. Coppinger, October 11.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

A favorable report on the bill increasing the military force of this country to the extent of two regiments of artillery was made in the United States senate on the 6th. In the house bills were introduced to amend the patent laws of the United States; to attach the Indian territory to the territory of Oklahoma and make the two territories into one, and a bill for carrying out the plan of the monetary commission for the reform of the currency. A joint resolution providing for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people was favorably reported. Mr. Grosvenor (O.) spoke in favor of a modification of the civil service law and Mr. Johnson (Ind.) replied in defense of the law.

In the United States senate on the 7th a joint resolution was offered for an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of the federal judiciary by the people. Senator Allen introduced a resolution declaring that the United States should begin the free coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one. In the house the civil service debate occupied the time.

The United States senate was not in session on the 8th. In the house bills were introduced to protect war veterans in the government service, and to increase and make flexible the national bank currency. A favorable report was made on the bill appropriating $50,000 for a statue to Abraham Lincoln on the Gettbsburg battlefield. The civil service debate occupied two hours.

FROM WASHINGTON.

An appeal has been issued by the central Cuban relief committee appointed by President McKinley for contributions in aid of the suffering people of Cuba, of whom there are estimated to be 200,000 in actual danger of death from starvation.

Counterfeit $10 gold pieces of excellent workmanship were discovered in Washington.

The postmaster-general is taking great interest in the matter of the extension of free mail delivery in the rural districts.

Leading Methodists met in Washington to try and effect a union between the northern and southern branches of the church.

In the United States the value of the total mineral and metal production for 1897 amounted to $762,061,106, an increase of $18,290,228 over 1896.

During the 11 months ended November 30, 1896, the exports from the United States amounted to $956,675,874, a gain of nearly $86,000,000 over the same time in 1896.

THE EAST.

In the United States there were 322 business failures in the seven days ended on the 7th, against 395 the week previous and 471 in the corresponding period of 1897.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 7th aggregated $1,418,589,759, against $1,188,351,046 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 23.6.

At Malone, N. Y., a severe earthquake shock was felt. Buildings trembled so that the occupants were startled.

The New York electrician, Nicola Tesla, claims to have perfected vacuum tubes that can produce light as bright as the sun.

The resignation is announced of Rev. Dr. John Hall, for 30 years pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in New York.

Near Glenfield, Pa., the boiler of the towboat Percy Kelsey exploded and five of the crew were killed and four others were injured.

WEST AND SOUTH.

A sentence of 20 years imposed on ex-State Treasurer Bartley, of Nebraska, for embezzlement, has been confirmed by the supreme court.

Murderers were hanged as follows: At Greenfield, Mass., John O'Neill, Jr.; at Atlanta, Ga., Thomas Cyrus; at Bainbridge, Ga., Simon Hopkins; at Hahnville, La., Louis Richards, George Washington and Foxli Morris.

Sam Cole and Jim Watts (colored) were lynched in Pea Ridge, Miss., for insulting women.

Robbers stole $100,000 in negotiable mining stock from the sleeping apartment of W. W. Jacobs, a Chicago real estate and insurance agent.

Shep Rogers, a prominent physician in Memphis, Tenn., was fatally shot by Mrs. Sanbrink, who sent a bullet through her brain, dying instantly.

In Mankato, Minn., George E. Brett, dry goods dealer, failed for $200,000. Unprofitable speculation was the cause.

Near Toledo, O., an explosion of nitroglycerin blew to atoms Stephen Wilson and a team of horses.

J. N. Scott, special agent of the interior department on Indian depredation claims, died in Las Vegas, N. M.

In a box in the express office at Charitan, Ia., a corpse cut into small pieces was found.

A cyclone at Morganfield, Ky., wrecked a church and several other buildings and killed Harvey Sellers, the city marshal.

Albert G. Boynton, for 25 years political editor of the Detroit Free Press, died at the Alma (Mich.) sanitarium of kidney troubles, aged 61 years.

Near Atchison, Kan., Jennings Judah and his two daughters, aged 18 and 14 years, were run down and killed by a train.

Flames destroyed the tobacco warehouse of Christian Pepers in St. Louis, the loss being over $100,000.

Moses P. Handy, of Chicago, special United States commissioner to the Paris exposition, and chief of the editorial staff of the Times-Herald, died at the Bon Air hotel, a winter resort near Augusta, Ga., aged 54 years.

William J. Bryan was the principal speaker at the Jackson day banquet in Chicago.

In a runaway while going to church Mrs. John Ripke was instantly killed in Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Mrs. Christine Eichert died in her pew in church in Eau Claire, Wis.

A mob lynched Marshal Chadwick, an alleged murderer, at Colfax, Wash.

In Bedford, Ia., John R. McCoun, a lawyer, whose wife had secured a divorce from him shot and killed her and then fatally shot himself.

Markus McGeisey and Palmer Simpson, Seminole Indians, were burned at the stake by a mob. They were charged with having outraged and murdered Mrs. Jane Simmons, wife of a farmer in Oklahoma, near Wewoka.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Dispatches from Peking say that Germany has taken a lease of Kiao-Chau bay for 50 years.

Great Britain in the event of guaranteeing the new Chinese loan will require that concessions be made for opening new treaty ports to all nations alike.

On account of ill health Lady Henry Somerset has resigned the presidency of the British Women's Temperance association.

In a fire in chemical works at Glasgow, Scotland, four firemen were killed and property worth $250,000 destroyed.

In efforts to compel Russia to respect their interests in China, Japan has joined Great Britain.

Seth Burrows, a cowboy, shot and killed four men and was killed himself in a fight in Juarez, Mexico.

While at sea the British steamer Clarissa Radcliffe was wrecked and 15 of the crew perished.

Off the coast of Bauduc, France, the French steamer Louis was wrecked and 15 of the crew were lost.

LATER NEWS.

Gov. Bushnell, of Ohio, was inaugurated into his second term the 10th. A tremendous crowd was in attendance.

William Putnam and Parrish Johnson, who left Coulee City, Wash., on Dec. 20, for their place 30 miles northwest of Waterville, were found frozen to death by a soldier party. They had lost their way and wandered in a circle for nearly 100 miles.

Mrs. Augusta Nack, jointly charged with Martin Thorne with the murder of William Guldensuppe, a bath house rubber at Woodside, L. I., last June, was sentenced to 15 years in prison at Auburn.

J. P. Switzer, prominent in populist political circles at Madison, Wis., committed suicide by hanging.

Two men attempted to rob a Blue Island cable car in Chicago, but were driven off by Miss Sadie Williams, who used her hat pin as a weapon. When it was all over she fainted. In the meantime the passengers had fled.

Bill Adler, a town tough at Kansas City, Mo., was convicted of the murder of Wm. Johnson, a negro. Adler is the first man ever convicted in Jackson county for killing a negro and the verdict was a surprise.

The Spinners' Union, at New Bedford, Mass., by an almost unanimous vote, decided to strike.

Torpedo boat No. 15 was launched at Bristol, R. I. She is 100 feet long at the water's edge.

The Cuban insurgents have beseiged and attacked the port province of Santiago De Cuba. Troops have left Gibara, the northern portion of the same province, to relieve the garrison of Mayari.

In a row over a game of pool at Sleepy Eve, Minn., Wallace Green was shot and killed by Wm. Eich.

The safe in the railroad ticket office in the Palmer House at Chicago was robbed by burglars while scores of people were present.

A band of Seminole Indians in the Indian Territory have gone on the warpath for revenge and have already killed 25 whites.

HANNA WINS.

Mayor McKisson Put in Oppostion on the Chicago Platform.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—A victory for Mark A. Hanna was the dramatic culmination to-day of one of the most remarkable contests in the history of American politics. Both houses of the legislature will have to meet in joint session to-morrow to complete their work, and a while changes on the joint ballot then are possible, they are not probable.

Mr. Hanna to-day had 73 votes and the opposition 68, with three scattering and one absent.

The total combined vote stood: Hanna, 73; McKisson, 68; scattering, 3; absent 1.

After being in conference all night, the democratic caucus agreed on Mayor Robert McKisson of Cleveland as the only republican proposed whom they would support for senator.

The crowd's cheering continued unabated during the afternoon. The feeling of relief among the republicans was indescribable. They gave way to extravagant expressions of pleasure. The whole city was wild with excitement.

At the Great Southern Hotel there were many complaints against members on the democratic side as well as on the republican side of the house. Some charged that Mr. Kurtz sacrificed McKisson. The democratic members were holding conferences with a view to bringing out a straight democratic candidate for senator, and for that honor John R. McLean was the favorite. In that event it was thought Hanna might secure the entire republican vote tomorrow.

Both Branches of the legislature met at 10 a. m. and many regretted that admission by ticket had not been adopted. The crowd pressed in on the floors of both bodies and as the visitors were prominent constituents they were not out.

A remarkable scene took place in the senate chamber when the vote from the house was announced. The republican senators, inspired by the encouragement, stood in their chairs and upon the floor and shouted themselves hoarse with calls for Hanna and victory. Nothing like it was ever seen in any Ohio senate chamber.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Jan. 11.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 91¼ to 92c. No. 2 northern, 87½ to 88c; May, 89½c.

Corn—No. 3, 26c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 22 to 23c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.75; cows, $2.50.

Hogs—$3.00 to 3.25.

Sheep—Mutton, $3.10 to 4.50; lambs $4.25.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 21 to 22c; creamery, firsts, 20 to 21c; dairy, fancy, 19 to 20c; dairy, choice, 15 to 16c.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c; spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Two Seminole Indians Fall Into Hands of a Mob.

Were Authors of a Fiendish Crime—Suspected Murderer Lynched at Colfax, Wash.—Four Colored Men Swing in Arkansas.

Fort Smith, Ark., Jan. 10.—A mob captured J. Marcus McGeisey and Palmer Simpson, Seminole Indians, and burned them at the stake. They were charged with having outraged and murdered Mrs. James Simmons, wife of a farmer in Oklahoma near Wewoka. The men were followed to McGeisey's home near Maud and arrested. McGeisey's house and barn were burned and the prisoners were taken back to the scene of their crime. The two men were securely bound to stakes and fire was piled around them. They were slowly burned to death. The mob then dispersed.

Lynch a Suspected Murderer.

Colfax, Wash., Jan. 10. — Marshal Chadwick, the suspected murderer of young Heyden near Farmington, the night of October 12, was taken from jail by a mob Saturday morning and hanged to the west wall of the courthouse. A rope was fastened around his neck and he was dragged out of the jail and up the narrow street to the superior courtroom, to a double window, where the rope was tied around a standard between the windows. Chadwick's body was then pitched out head foremost and left dangling at the end of an eight-foot rope against the courthouse wall, in plain view of the people on Main street.

Arkansas Negroes Swing.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 10.—Four colored men have been lynched in the vicinity of Bearden, Ark., within the last two days. Two were charged with assault and two were murderers. The former—Devoe and Huntley — were swung up near Harlem Mill ranch, about three miles north of Bearden, while the murderers met their fate near the town of Little Bay, a few miles south of Bearden. The work was done by two separate mobs, and according to reports from Fordyce, near the scene, the quadruple lynching created little excitement.

LABOR'S APPEAL.

Committee of the American Federation Issues an Address.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The legislative committee of the Federation of Labor, by direction of the seventeenth annual convention of the federation, held in Nashville in December last, has issued an address to the members of the Fifty-fifth congress. After calling attention to the introduction of modern machinery and new business methods and the competition of convict labor, by which wage-workers are forced into idleness and want, the committee says they feel that they have a right to bring their grievances to the attention of the law-making power. The address says:

"We therefore urge your earnest consideration of and your best efforts in enacting into law the following measures:

"1. An eight-hour workday on all public works. Such law to provide that all contracts or sub-contracts for materials furnished or work done must contain a proviso that eight hours shall be the maximum labor of any one individual in any one calendar day. Further, that it shall be the duty of officials vested with the power of signing such contract to withhold their signatures until such proviso is inserted therein.

"2. In order to stop the indiscriminate and dangerous use of the writ of injunction, we urge the adoption of senate bill 35.

"3. In order in some degree to lessen the competition of convict labor, we urge the adoption of a law to prohibit the transportation of prison-made goods from one state into any other state or territory.

"4. We urge the adoption of a reasonable law to restrict undesirable immigration, such law to be based upon an educational qualification."

RUSSIA WANTS A LEASE.

Demands from China Similar Treatment to That Accorded Germany.

London, Jan. 7.—According to a special dispatch from Shanghai Russia is endeavoring to obtain terms similar to Germany's for the occupation of Port Arthur and the Kiao-Tong peninsulas from a point considerably north of Talien-Wan.

The Hong-Kong correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says: The Russian occupation of Port Arthur completely blocks the entrance to Peking, and it is imperative that the court should be transferred to Nankin, the southern capital.

The Times says that it understands the terms of Germany's lease of Kiao-Chou to be 90 instead of 50 years. A dispatch to the Times from Peking, dated Thursday, says: Under the agreement between Baron Heyking, German ambassador to China, and Prince Kung, president of the tsung-li-yamen, Germany will pay a nominal annual rental for Kiao-Chou. She acquires the right to begin forthwith the construction of a dock and a fortified coaling station.

Long Distance Telephone.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 7.—A practical test of the wonders of the long-distance telephone was made Thursday between the Minneapolis office and Lowell, Mass. Charles J. Glidden, president of the Traders' national bank of Lowell, was in Minneapolis and presided over the regular meeting of the bank directors in Lowell. The directors assembled at four o'clock, eastern time, and Mr. Glidden called the meeting to order and the business was transacted in the usual manner. Mr. Glidden readily recognized the voice of each director as they spoke into the long-distance instrument. The line was made up of eight copper metallic circuits, and was over 1,500 miles in length. This is believed to be the first business meeting ever held by use of the telephone over so great a distance.

Convicted of Killing a Negro.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 11.—Bill Adler, a town tough, charged with the murder of William Johnson (colored) was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. The verdict was a surprise, not only because it was believed Adler had made a case of self defense, but he is the first white man in Jackson county convicted of the murder of a negro.

Light Sentence for Mrs. Nack.

New York, Jan. 11. — Mrs. Augusta Nack, jointly charged with Martin Thorn with the murder of William Guldensuppe, a bath rubber at Woodside, L. I., in June of last year, was sentenced to 15 years in the state prison at Auburn. The good time allowance attainable would reduce the term to ten years and five months.

HIS SECOND TERM.

Gov. Bushnell Inaugurated—Demonstration by Hanna Republicans.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—Monday was the most exciting inauguration day ever known in Columbus. Long before noon the streets were thronged with excursionists from the counties. They poured in from every direction. At noon the railways estimated that there had been 15,000 arrivals during the night and the day, on the 30 excursion trains reported in. The Bushnell badges were in the majority, as the Hanna excursionists were not booked to arrive till after noon, in time for the mass convention. During the forenoon the state house was surrounded by crowds yelling for Bushnell. As it was impossible for the crowds to get inside the capitol building, the governor was called out into the grounds, where he addressed the multitude and received in review one delegation after another. These demonstrations continued till noon, when Gov. Bushnell was escorted to the rotunda of the state house, where the decorations in floral designs and bunting were more elaborate than ever before. The members of the supreme court, legislature and all other state officers were provided with reserved seats and the crowds occupied all the space in windows, galleries and everywhere, while the streets and state house grounds were crowded with shouters. A very small percentage could gain admission to the state house, but when cheers were heard inside, the echo was taken up on the outside, and the air was filled with loud responses.

The inaugural address of Gov. Bushnell was short, and contained no reference to the contest for senatorship.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—The mass republican convention at the Auditorium in this city Monday afternoon was the largest assemblage ever known in the history of the city. The capacity of the Auditorium is 5,000. All the standing room was taken and many thousands were unable to gain admittance. The meeting lasted from three to six p. m. with unbroken enthusiasm and intense indignation throughout its proceedings. There were repeated scenes of hissing when the name of Gov. Bushnell, Mr. Kurtz and others were mentioned. The terms "traitors," "Judas" and the like were frequently used in responses from the audience. Several of the speakers referred to Senator Forakr in connection with the revolution in the party. The audience was in close and deep sympathy with the intense and bitter utterances of most of the speakers. The Columbus Glee club, which refused to participate in the inaugural ceremonies, contributed largely to the enthusiasm of the occasion by its singing.

Resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote, amid the most enthusiastic demonstrations of approval. They were preceded by a lengthy preamble, and condemn the action of republican representatives who have combined to defeat Senator Hanna as an unholy conspiracy and protest against its further progress; call upon every republican member to be present in his seat, and by voice, act and vote carry into effect the fulfillment of the obligation assumed by him when elected to support the candidacy of Senator Hanna.

RIOT IN COURT.

Shooting Affray in Kentucky—Several Persons Wounded.

Cincinnati, Jan. 11. — A special to the Commercial-Tribune from Mount Vernon, Ky., says: At the examining trial of William Hundley for killing John Lawrence Judge Williams on Monday ordered the court room cleared so that all who desired to return might be examined by an officer for weapons and disarmed. Five minutes afterwards Winchester rifles in front of the courthouse, in the hands of Pat and Eliza Langford, were firing at ex-Jailer William Mullins and his friends. Several revolvers replied from various quarters. Those injured by the Langfords were C. L. King, who received two bullets through the thigh, considered dangerous; William Mullins, shot through both hands.

The trouble originated during the last campaign, when a number of leading republicans bolted the ticket as nominated, among them being Sheriff Mullins, Mr. King and many others. At Crooked Creek precinct at the November elections Sheriff Mullins attempted to arrest some parties. A fight came up, when one of the Langford boys was killed and two others wounded, including Joseph Lawrence, who was killed a few days ago by William Hundley.

A Rich Gold Strike.

Dawson, N. W. T., Dec. 9, via Seattle, Wash., Jan. 11.—In the last four or five days a quartz lode extending from a tall mountain called "The Dome" to a range of mountains on the north side of the Klondike and east of the Yukon river has been discovered. The ledge is about 14 inches wide, 12 miles long and is fully 30 feet below the surface and is covered with an accumulation of drift and soft conglomerate. Frank P. Slavin, the well-known pugilist, and Capt. Tipple, formerly one of the commanders of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Steamship company, and who also commanded a transport during the Chinese war, were the first to locate the ledge near "The Dome." A charge of black powder was put in the ledge where it crossed Eldorado creek and at Skookum gulch, which upheaved a few pounds of rock. The quartz is immensely rich, carrying leaf gold. Mining men say it will assay anywhere from $100,000 to $250,000 to the ton. If it were only possible to obtain the proper explosives the ledge would be thoroughly developed before next spring.

Moses P. Handy Dead.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 10.—Maj. Moses P. Handy died at noon Saturday. Maj. Handy has been an invalid for the past two months. He was taken ill in Paris, whither he had gone as the special commissioner of the United States to the French exposition of 1900. He recovered sufficiently to make the journey to America, and came at once to Augusta.

Accepts a New Position.

Montpelier, Vt., Jan. 11.—Dr. E. M. Smith has tendered his resignation to the trustees of Montpelier seminary and announces his acceptance of the presidency of the Illinois Wesleyan university at Bloomington. He will go to Chicago on June 1.

Invented Shoe-Making Machinery.

Lynn, Mass., Jan. 11.—Seth D. Tripp whose inventions revolutionized shoe manufacturing, is dead in this city, aged 72 years.

MAKES ANOTHER APPEAL.

Secretary Sherman Again Requests Donations for Suffering Cubans.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The following proclamation was issued Saturday:

"Department of State, Washington, Jan. 8, 1898.—To the Public: The undersigned, secretary of state of the United States, had the honor on the 24th of December to make known to all charitably disposed people in this country the appeal of the president for aid in the form of money or supplies toward the speedy relief of the distressing destitution and suffering which exists among the people in Cuba.

"The gratifying interest which his countrymen have shown in all parts of our land in that humane appeal has led the president to recognize the need of orderly and concerted effort, under well-directed control, if timely assistance is to be given by the public to the sick and needy of Cuba. He has, therefore, appointed, with the cooperation of the American Red Cross, the New York chamber of commerce and one of the leading representatives of the religious community, a central Cuban relief committee with headquarters in New York city, composed of the following members: Stephen E. Barton, chairman, second vice president of the American National Red Cross; Charles A. Schieren, treasurer, a member of the New York chamber of commerce, and Louis Klopsch, proprietor of the Christian Herald.

"It will be the office of the committee organized not only to receive and forward to the United States consul-general at Havana such money and necessary supplies as may be contributed by the people of the United States, but to invoke its own name and through the three great interests it fitly represents the concurrent effort of local relief boards throughout the United States and to invite the kindly aid of the transportation agencies of the country for the prompt conveyance of contributed supplies to the seaboard and their shipment thence to Cuba.

"The consul-general at Havana is in turn assured of the effective cooperation of every available agency in the island of Cuba, in order that life may be saved and suffering spared. The Spanish government, welcoming the aid thus tendered, will facilitate the work, and to that end will admit to Cuba free of duties and charges all articles otherwise liable to tax, when duly consigned to the consul-general.

"By direction of the president, the undersigned appeals to the people in every city and town, to municipal authorities thereof, to the local boards of trade and transportation, to corporations and others producing the necessaries of life, and to all whose hearts are open to the cry of distress and affliction, to second the generous effort now being made, and by well-directed endeavor make its success truly responsive to the sentiments of charity that have ever characterized the American people.

"JOHN SHERMAN,
"Secretary of State."

PAYS THE LAW'S PENALTY.

Durrant Hangs for the Murder of Blanche Lamont.

San Quentin, Cal., Jan. 8.—When William Henry Theodore Durrant died on the gallows Friday morning for the murder of Blanche Lamont he gave such an exhibition of coolness and nerve as has seldom been seen under similar circumstances. Hopeful almost to the very last minute that something or some one would intervene to save him he walked to the scaffold and made his speech protesting his innocence as calmly and with as distinct enunciation as if he had been addressing an assemblage of friends upon some ordinary topic of the day. His face was pale, his eyes were red, but his voice was firm and he stood as solidly as a rock while he proclaimed his innocence and professed forgiveness to those who, he said, had hounded him to death. There was not a hitch or accident to mar the plans of Warden Hale in carrying out the sentence of the law. The noose was adjusted, the trap sprung, the stout rope held and Durrant's dead body dangled at the end. The neck was broken by the fall of five feet, and 15 minutes later the murderer's body was cut down and placed in the coffin.

Consistent to the last, Durrant died professing religion. But he died, accepting at the last moment, the comforts of the Catholic church instead of those of the Baptist faith in which he was reared. Rev. Rader, a Protestant minister, had arranged to ascend the scaffold with Durrant, but the minister would not say that he thought Durrant innocent, and the condemned man declined to accept his services unless Rader professed belief in his innocence. Then it was that the once ardent Baptist turned to the Catholic church for consolation, and called upon Father Lagan, a priest who had frequently visited him in prison, to attend him.

Jackson Day in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 10. — A host of democrats, quite a number of them from Iowa, Indiana and Wisconsin, celebrated Jackson day by a banquet at the Tremont house Saturday evening. Hon. William J. Bryan was the principal guest. He reached Chicago from Lincoln Saturday morning, being met at the depot by National Committeeman Gahan and others selected to welcome him. For an hour or so prior to the feast Mr. Bryan held a reception in the hotel parlors and shook hands with a large number of callers. Nearly 500 were seated at the banquet. Mayor Harrison presided and acted as toastmaker. Mr. Bryan was received with cheers when introduced and spoke at some length. Speeches were also made by Senator Stewart, of Nevada; Samuel E. Morss, of the Indianapolis Sentinel; Hon. James H. Lewis, of Washington; T. R. R. Cobb, of Atlanta; D. J. Campau, of Detroit; Mayor Taggart, of Indianapolis, and others.

Proceedings Against Weyler.

Madrid, Jan. 10. — The captain general of Madrid has named General of Division Pacheco the military judge to institute proceedings against Gen. Weyler. Gen. Weyler has been ordered to return to Madrid forthwith. He will be placed on trial as soon as proceedings can be arranged. The captain general of Madrid has already received all the documents necessary for proceeding against Gen. Weyler. Friday last the cabinet council decided to submit to inquiry Gen. Weyler's conduct with reference to the protest against President McKinley's message and other matters.

Family Found Murdered.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 11.—Francis D. Newton, a prosperous farmer of Brookfield, his wife Sarah and their ten-year-old adopted daughter Ethel were found murdered in their beds. The crime was discovered by neighbors whose curiosity was aroused by the lowing of the unfed cattle. The three had been killed with an ax. A hired man who had been employed by Newton is missing and the authorities are making a search for him.

Six Men Killed.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10.—The boiler of the towboat Percy Kelsey exploded Saturday morning and only three of the 16 persons on board escaped uninjured. The explosion occurred near Glenfield, Pa., while the boat was towing nine coal barges down the Ohio river. Four persons were instantly killed, two others are missing and probably dead and seven more were injured, four fatally.

ON THE WAITER.

Why His Customer Couldn't Eat the Soup.

A certain literary German whose manner of speaking was extremely deliberate, and who disapproved of impetuosity of any sort and under any circumstances, had an amusing experience in a restaurant one day.

He was a well-known figure among the patrons of this particular establishment, as he seldom dined anywhere else, and he was generally served by a waiter who had become used to his way of speaking; but one day a new waiter took his order and brought his soup.

"I cannot eat this soup," said the gentleman, slowly, not looking up from his plate.

The man seized the soup plate before the customer could finish the sentence, and vanished with it.

He reappeared in a moment with another supply of the same soup, which he placed before the gentleman, and then stood regarding him with an anxious face, wondering what could be the reason for the soup remaining untouched.

"I cannot eat this soup," again slowly remarked the literary man.

"Why not, sir? What is the matter?" stammered the unhappy waiter, who had been told he was serving an important person.

"I cannot eat this soup," said the literary genius, calmly, for the third time, "because I have not as yet been provided with a spoon!" — Northwestern Christian Advocate.

The Bid Was Undersize.

A bright little boy—one of the pages of the senate—sat at one of the senate entrances the other day, when a lady approached him with a visiting card in her hand.

"Will you hand this to Senator Blank?" she said.

"I cannot," replied the boy, "for all cards must be taken to the east lobby."

The woman was inclined to be angry and went away muttering. Then a thought struck her, and taking out her pocketbook she found a 25-cent piece. With it in her hand she went back to the boy.

"Here, my lad," she said, in a coaxing tone, "here is a quarter to take my card in."

"Madam," said the boy, without a moment's hesitation, "I am paid a larger salary than that to keep cards out."—Washington Post.

The Cuban Scare.

Although the diplomatic entanglement with Spain over Cuba to some extent influencing the stock market, Wall street expects no serious complications. Nevertheless serious complication with other maladies may be expected to follow an attack of biliousness which is not checked at the outset. The most effectual means to this end is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an admirable remedy, moreover, for dyspepsia, malaria, kidney trouble, constipation and nervousness.

A Valid Objection.

A man who had been convicted of burglary in St. Louis was asked the usual question:

"Prisoner, do you know of any reason why sentence should not be pronounced on you according to law?"

"Why, your honor, of course I do. If I am to be cooped up in Jefferson City it will break up my business here."—N. Y. World.

The Modern Way

Commends itself to the well-informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches, and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. Made by California Fig Syrup Co.

Characteristic.—"Your clam chowder," remarked the diner to the restaurant cashier, as he paid the amount of his check and stowed away a pint of toothpicks in his vest pocket, "is distinguishable above all the other clam chowders I ever ate." "In what way?" asked the cashier, who did not know whether to be pleased or not. "By its clamlessness."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Some people are not satisfied with the milk of human kindness—they want the cream.—Chicago Daily News.

The man in the honeymoon is not a myth. —Chicago Daily News.

Look out for colds
At this season. Keep
Your blood pure and Rich and your system
Toned up by taking
Hood's Sarsaparilla. Then
You will be able to Resist exposure to which
A debilitated system
Would quickly yield.

THERE'S ONLY ONE RAILROAD

That operates its trains on the famous block system between the Twin Cities, Milwaukee and Chicago;
That lights its trains by electricity throughout;
That uses the celebrated electric berth reading lamp;
That runs four splendidly equipped passenger trains every day from St. Paul and Minneapolis through to Chicago, via Milwaukee;
And THAT road is the

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL.

It also operates steam-heated vestibuled trains, carrying the latest private compartment cars, library buffet smoking cars, and palace drawing-room sleepers.
Parlor cars, free reclining chair cars and the very best dining car service.
For lowest rates to any point in the United States, Canada or Mexico, apply to ticket agents, or address

J. T. CONLEY,
Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agt.,
St. Paul, Minn.

NOTE.—Elegantly equipped trains from St. Paul and Minneapolis through to Peoria, St. Louis and Kansas City daily.

Bend Colony,
...CALIFORNIA...

Winterless Climate, Mountain Scenery, Prolific Soil, Abundance of Water, Cheap Fuel; Health, Comfort and Happiness; Located in the center of the most beautiful semi-tropic valleys in the world. Five miles from county seat and railroad. Many families already settled prosperous and contented. For full particulars, prices and terms address McCOLLOUGH & BROKAW, Owners, RED BLUFF, CALIFORNIA.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE—
SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

A. N. K.—G 1691

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

25 CTS PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

THE OLD SPINNING WHEEL.

It used to stand in the kitchen, in a corner
cheery and bright,
Where the burning log in the fireplace shot up glowing fountains of light,
And the crackling flames played hide and seek with the shadows hid away
In the yawning mouth of the chimney, so awfully huge and gray,
Or leaped out on the red brick hearth and danced with the shadows there,
While the old wheel kept the best of time, in the firelight's fitful glare,
Spinning and singing,
Singing and spinning;
Now faster and faster it turns
And the flames leap high
And the shadows dance by;
The while the old wheel spins.

The wool on the old brown spindle was white as the snowdrifts outside,
Ah! How we watched it whirling around, like a snowball taking a ride.
Then winding the yarn in a big, round ball
so firm and soft and white,
We were almost afraid it would really melt
in the heat of the bright firelight.
But we tossed it about and watched it grow,
as the wheel kept buzzing 'round,
And laughed and romped in the ruddy glow and thought it the sweetest sound.
Spinning and singing,
Singing and spinning;
Now faster and faster it turns
And the flames leap high
And the shadows dance by;
The while the old wheel spins.
—Walter S. Stranahan, in Chicago News.

One Night as an Actor.

BLANK LIVED TO REGRET THE DECEPTION VERY MUCH.

"CIRCUMSTANCES have forced me on several occasions to appear under false pretenses, and for each such occasion I have paid an exorbitant penalty," said a guest at the Lamb's club one night. "Being here has recalled very vividly one of these experiences that was exceedingly amusing at the time, and just as annoying in its consequences. Robert Write, that is near enough to his name, and his company played a week's engagement in Williamsburg seven years ago, and as I knew Write and George Frederick Oakes, of his company, I went over on the opening night to shake hands with them. We had a little supper after the play, and Write said that the Consolidated club had bought up nearly the whole theater for his Saturday night performance, and it had tendered a reception to the entire company at the clubhouse after the theater. The club is eminently respectable, and after the fashion of many of the German clubs in this city, its privileges are enjoyed on special occasions by the wives of the members.

"Now, Write is a good fellow, and he is really funny on the stage, but his social opportunities have been limited, and I had a suspicion that he would be even more amusing at the club reception. I was anxious to go, but there seemed to be no way in which I could get urged. One of the members of Write's company, Piper by name, was smoothly shaven and about my size. In a very vague fashion we resembled each other. I am in no way connected with the stage, as you know, but I have had some good friends who were, and I knew something of Piper's characteristics. Write had duly impressed upon the members of his company, his appreciation of the social distinction that the Consolidated club conferred on him by inviting his entire company to its clubhouse, and he announced that every member, men as well as women, must be in evening dress. Piper played a character part that didn't call for evening dress, and I tipped my friend Oakes off on a little scheme that I thought would work. It was a success. At six o'clock on Saturday evening I received a telegram which read:

"Piper can't beg, borrow, or hire dress suit. Write invites you to be his understudy. Be at theater 10:30 sharp."

"I turned up on time in evening clothes, and Write told me that I was to go to the Consolidated club as Mr. Piper of his company, and that if I gave myself away I would ruin him. As I remember the clubhouse it was large and well appointed, and when Mr. Write's refined comedy company filed in, the halls and stairs were filled with men and women anxious to see what real actor people looked like off the stage. I was a bit nervous because I suspected that in a crowd of that size there might be some one who knew me. There wasn't. As we filed through and up to the dressing-rooms there were whispered comments of:

"'That's Mr. Write. Oh, I'd know him anywhere. Yes, that's Clara Goodeyes, his leading lady, and she is pretty. Here is Oakes and that's Piper with him!'

"I felt relieved, and sailed in with Oakes to enjoy the evening. As soon as we had taken off our wraps a very dignified elderly member of the club asked us to go up to the ballrooom and receive the club's members and guests. We were lined up in a row and Write put on his finest Williamsburg manners for the occasion. It was lovely to hear him discuss the drama with a big D. The elderly man who had acted as master of ceremonies took Oakes and me in tow, and introduced us to his wife and two daughters with an injunction to them to take care of us. It wasn't until then that I began to feel uncomfortable at all. Mrs. Brown and her daughters were very nice people, and as this was the first time in their lives that they had met stage people they proposed to make the best of it, and find out a lot of things. Oakes told them that I had begun my stage career with Booth, and that I was one of the most promising young men in the profession.

"'Do tell us all about Mr. Booth,' said Mrs. Brown.

"'Yes,' added Oakes, 'tell the ladies about the night that Booth was taken ill in Three Rivers, Mich., and you had to play his part.'

"'Did you, really?' asked the Misses Brown in chorus.

"I stepped heavily on Oakes' toe, stammered a bit, and then, seeing that I was in for it, I started a string of reminiscences of Booth that never had been heard of before. It wasn't a nice thing to do, but Oakes had let me in for it, and unless I confessed that I wasn't Piper I had to proceed. After I had started the fertility of my imagination pleased me, and I kept on. We sat in a corner with Mamma Brown and her two daughters, and what we failed to tell them about the stage wasn't worth telling. They were so much interested in my reminiscences that they invited me to call, and Mrs. Brown said to me:

"'Why, Mr. Piper, I didn't know that actors were so interesting off the stage.' I gave Oakes a nudge in the ribs and said: 'They are not, as a rule, Mrs. Brown. Now, Oakes, here, has spent all his time in negro minstrels until this season. He will be an interesting fellow, though, in two or three years, if we keep him with us.'

"The Consolidated club did the affair up in good shape, and when supper was announced the Write company had a table by themselves. The stairway leading to the dining-room was packed with people, who stood there and watched us eat. That was embarrassing.

"I never expected to hear anything more from this experience. That was because I was foolish. Just about a year later an old friend invited me to go to a reception given in Brooklyn by some people whom I was anxious to meet. He had received permission to introduce me, and for good and sufficient reasons I was anxious to make a good impression.

"'The Misses Brown, two very pretty girls, are going to receive with the hostess,' said my friend, as we entered the house. I couldn't place the Misses Brown, though I vaguely remembered having met two pretty girls of that name somewhere. We entered the drawing-room and I was presented to the hostess and had begun a neat little speech when some one beside her said:

"'Why, there is Mr. Piper, of Write's company. Don't you remember the interesting things he told us?'

"'Sure enough,' said the young woman addressed, and then coming forward she disclosed herself as one of the Brown girls and held out her hand frankly with the greeting:

"'Why, how do you do, Mr. Piper? I am delighted to see you, and I have just been telling your hostess how you entertained us last year. She never said that she knew you.'

"'I understood that you were Mr. Blank,' said my hostess.

"'And so he is,' said my friend, very much bewildered.

"'And so I am,' I added.

"'But didn't I meet you as a Mr. Piper, an actor, last year?' said Miss Brown.

"'Y-y-yes, and I'm—'

"'Are you Mr. Piper?'

"'N-n-no, but—'

"'And you never played with Booth?'

"'Never,' I said, hoping that the ceiling might fall, 'but I wish to explain. It was this way—' but the Misses

THE HOSTESS LOOKED AT ME COLDLY.

Brown had swished away, the hostess looked at me coldly and my friend said:

"'See here, Blank, I don't understand this thing at all, but the icicles are beginning to form on the chandeliers, and I think we had better get into our overcoats.'

"There was nothing else to be done. I explained the situation to my friend, and he explained to our hostess, and presumably she explained to the Misses Brown. It bores me even to this day to think of that experience. It was my first and last appearance as an actor, and I shall always shun Williamsburg. I paid the penalty and I am willing to admit that I deserved part of it."—N. Y. Sun.

The Quest of Happiness.

The doubt has often been expressed whether it is of any use to concern ourselves about happiness at all. The less we think about it, the less we conscientiously aim at it, the more probable it is, according to this view, that we shall attain enough of it for our needs. If this is really the case, happiness must be strangely different from all other objects of human desire. Suppose that the object in view is wealth or learning or reputation—does it seem probable, in the nature of things, that a fortune will be made the most surely by the man who never calculates, that scholarship will be attained by an idler who never reads, or that fame will be the reward of the infertile and unproductive intellect? The truth is that those who affirm the uselessness of the pursuit of happiness are generally engaged in following it themselves, but indirectly, and I may be permitted to observe that the directness or indirectness of the road that is taken does not alter the nature of the end.—Hamerton's Quest of Happiness.

Hindoo First Steps in English.

A native has been caught at Calcutta scaling the wall of the premises into the compound of No. 3 Chowringhi, dressed in a complete suit of European clothes. The man had, on the previous evening, concealed himself inside a shop, and had employed his time till morning in fitting himself with a complete suit of clothes, including a white shirt, with studs and links, and a red tie, carefully put on, black socks, a pair of boots, a watch and chain, handkerchief and even a pocket knife, with a straw hat and stick. He even went the length of writing his name inside the hat. On being caught he said that he wanted to learn English, and as a preliminary step thought it best to dress himself in sahib's clothes.—Bombay Advocate of India.

A Matter of Pride.

Mrs. Greener—Mercy! What are you doing? Putting a ten-cent stamp on the letter, when a two-cent stamp will carry it?

Mrs. Pnuemoney—I know, but it is well enough to give people to understand that we are possessed of ample means.—Boston Transcript.

As to Vegetarianism.

"What do you think of vegetarianism?" she asked.

"Well," he replied cautiously, "I should regard it much more highly if I were either a turkey or a cow."—Chicago Post.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

She Killed the Wolf.

Wolves are plenty in eastern Polk county, and are not only killing many deer, but are chasing settlers and playing havoc among the cattle in some instances. A short time ago, while Ralph Green was away hunting, a deer came bounding into his clearing, followed by a huge timber wolf that succeeded in bringing it down almost at Green's door. One stroke of the animal's teeth ripped open the throat of the deer, and at this juncture Mrs. Green appeared on the scene. One shot with the rifle which every settler's cabin is provided with, and the wolf ceased to take any interest in passing events. Mrs. Green dressed the deer, finishing the task just as her husband returned, empty-handed, from a fruitless all-days hunt.

Ging Insurance Void.

The Travelers' Insurance company will not be compelled to pay the Ging insurance. Judge McGee, of Minneapolis, instructed a verdict for the defendant in the case brought by Miss Julia Ging, as administratrix of her sister's estate, against the company, on the grounds that there was a clause in the policy distinctly stating that the company would not hold itself liable for injuries inflicted by another willfully, unless such injuries were sustained while the holder of the policy was defending himself or property from the assault of burglars, robbers or thieves.

A Woman Brakeman.

The new woman is now twisting brakes on the top of freight cars. Her name is Mrs. Jessie Mulligan, the widow of James Mulligan, railroad conductor, who was killed on the Yellowstone division of the Northern Pacific six months ago. Mrs. Mulligan is now employed by the Northern Pacific company in the capacity of freight train brakeman, and has been so employed for the past three months. She sets brakes, couples cars, turns switches and performs the various other duties that are required of a brakeman.

Beet Seed.

There remains at the disposal of State Treasurer Koerner a considerable quantity of the beet seed purchased by the last legislature for the benefit of farmers who were anxious to attempt sugar beet culture in this state. In a few days the governor, Mr. Koerner and Auditor Dunn will hold a conference over the matter. Of the 5,000 pounds, less than half has been used. This would seem to indicate that the farmers will not take up beet sugar raising until they can at least be sure of a home factory at which to sell their product.

New State Missionary Organization.

A new missionary society has recently been organized, to be known as the Minnesota Advent Christian Missionary society, of which Rev. O. R. Jenks, pastor of Advent Christian church of Minneapolis, is president, and W. G. Thompson secretary. The object of the society is announced to be to "help sustain our weak churches, to hold tent and revival meetings in new fields, and to spread in every wise way the glad tidings of the second coming of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Serious End of a Spree.

One of the Chippewa pine land examiners, named Henderson, who was acting secretary to the superintendent of dead and down timber at the agency, drove into Richmond from Detroit, full of fight and booze. He got into a row with the landlord, who handled him tenderly and headed him towards the agency. Shortly after leaving, his horse became unmanageable and ran away, upsetting the cart and pitching the occupant headforemost on the hard, frozen ground, breaking an arm and lacerating his scalp in a terrible manner.

News in Brief.

D. C. Martin, oil inspector for Winona county, reports the oil inspected in his district during 1897 to amount to 6,122 barrels, against 4,745 barrels the previous year.

During the year just past the Minnesota State Historical society lost ten members by death.

A fire at Ruthton destroyed three stores with all their contents.

The Northwestern Poultry association will hold its annual exhibit under the direction of the Hennepin County Agricultural society, at Minneapolis, Jan. 31 to Feb. 5 inclusive.

Gold is said to have been discovered on Bob Huston's farm 3½ miles southeast of Pipestone.

An electric light plant has been put in at Dawson.

The total number of deaths in Minneapolis for the past year were 1,837.

At a meeting of the university faculty, E. L. Curtis was made assistant professor of psychology, and E. M. Freeman was voted a scholarship in botany.

The United States Indian office is now preparing plans for new school buildings to be erected at Pipestone.

Gov. Clough has named Rev. S. G. Smith of St. Paul a regent of the state university, to succeed C. K. Davis. Greenleaf Clark of St. Paul was named to succeed himself on the same body.

Henry Lang was arrested at Mankato for burglarizing the store of A. Hillisheim at Madelia. He stole six watches, eleven watch chains and many charms, scarf pins and a suit of clothes.

Georgiana J. Sturgeon has been commissioned postmaster at Canton.

The board of pardons, at a special meeting, granted a pardon to Agnes Gordon, of Minneapolis, who was sentenced to 80 days in the Minneapolis workhouse for selling liquor without a license. She had served about 10 days and it was claimed that the wrong party was arrested.

Sarah C. Purvis, sent to Stillwater for murder in the second degree, has been pardoned. She was out on parole and her term of sentence had almost expired. Her relatives intend moving to Missouri, and she asked the pardon that she might go with them.

In the trial of William Dawson, Jr., at St. Paul, a directed verdict of acquittal was rendered. He was charged with embezzling $29,000 of the Bank of Minnesota's funds.

The Moorhead relief commission which was appointed by the governor of Minnesota last spring to place the $5,000 appropriated for flood sufferers, drew checks for the unexpended balance the day before Christmas for poor relief and has closed its affairs.

Mayor Lewis, of Moorhead, refuses to sign warrants in payment of witness fees in gambling cases which the city council voted to pay.

THE HOTEL WOMAN.

She Leads a Lonely, Aimless, Wretched Existence.

A writer who knows more about the ways of women apparently than Balzac and de Maupassant combined has been giving them some advice on the subject of home life. He is nothing if not sympathetic, and grows quite pathetic over the misguided female who prefers to live in a hotel where "no duties call her" and where there is nothing "to exercise her ingenuity or develop her womanly talents," to keeping house in "some corner in this big world which they can call their own, their very own." This is heartrending, but nothing compared to the state of mind of the hotel wife when her husband leaves her in the morning. According to this same writer "she turns back into the room and wonders what she can do during the day, how she will employ herself, where she will go. There is nothing in her room to appeal to her to stay there. No home duties confront her. There is nothing in her life; two-thirds of herself lies dormant." In fact, so desperate is her loneliness that she is actually "glad when the time comes for her husband to come home; glad to feel that she has some one to whom she can talk."

What a remarkable young woman! But the young husband is as badly off almost as his wife. To him material considerations appeal. He grieves because "the furniture around them is not their own; nothing around him is his; everything is by lease, his for a time for so much money; and after he is through paying for it he leaves it behind"—which is at least comforting news for the hotel proprietor. When the writer speaks of "the germ of evolution which springs from the hearthstone" we take it as a direct aspersion upon the hotel radiator, but when he declares that "people who stop and stagnate are never happy," we would like to ask what about the persons who stagnate and go on. There are more epigrams, but the following should be framed and flaunted by flat owners and suburban cottage builders the world over: "The humblest cottage is a million times better than the most luxurious hotel ever planned by the hands of man!" Think of that, little Mrs. Lonesomehurst, and never again envy your millionaire friend who lives at the Waldorf-Astoria.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

BRIGHT TARTANS.

A Perfect Craze Over Brilliant Plaids in Silk and Wool.

There is a perfect craze over brilliant plaid things. Tartan silks, tartan wools, tartan ribbons and even tartan mousseline de soie, which is beautiful and novel. The colors in these plaid things are the most vivid and brilliant that can be imagined, and the more colors the better liked. Tartan velvets are lovely, and whole blouses are made of them, fitted in with black satin ceintures and finished off with a ruche of black mousseline de soie above the stock, which is of tartan velvet.

Whole gowns are made of the tartan wools, and are very bright and attractive when worn by young women, but the middle-aged and elderly should beware, as they make anyone but the really youthful look ridiculous, writes an American woman from Hamburg. Plaid silks have long been worn, yet they do not lose in favor, and some of the crisp, plaid taffetas are stunning when made up with plain-colored ceintures and stocks.

Plaid felt hats are the very latest extreme of fashion. They are trimmed with perfectly plain colors, many ostrich plumes, wings and paradise plumes. They should never be worn together with tartan gowns, for that makes too much plaid and too much chopped up coloring.

Plaid stockings have long been displayed in fashionable shop windows, and are worn by men as well as women. The plaid bicycle hose and those for golf are very pretty in Scotch wool. They are worn man fashion, turned over at the top, and with the short golf or bicycle skirt are very fetching. They are worn a great deal here by the enthusiasts of each sport.

There are also plaid kilt skirts for golf in bright colors, and with these either red blouses or red coats are worn, for the red coat is the badge of golf the world over, and to be really Scotch when playing one must have something tartan and something red. Tam o' Shanters are another characteristic for the golf maidens. They are sometimes in plain color and sometimes in plaid, according to what the rest of the costume is composed of. Red Tams usually go with red coats and blouses. —Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A Novel Theft.

"Something funny?" And the advance agent looked at the ceiling for a moment. "The funniest thing I've run against in some time happened right here in your own state in a town not far from here. We played there before coming to Nashville. I had been in town a couple of hours and went up to see the 'opera house,' as the little hall is designated by the residents. It was a miserable little hole, and when you stood on the stage and talked, you might as well have had a ten-inch blanket hung in front of you. 'Why, you have no acoustics at all!' I exclaimed to the manager, who was showing me through. 'Well,' he replied, 'we had 'em. We used to have plenty of 'em; but a durned minstrel company showed here last week, and they stole nearly everything in the house. Guess they must a took them akoosties along, too.'"—Nashville Banner.

To Render Down Goose Fat.

Take all the fat that was removed from the inside of the bird when drawing it, or any other superfluous pieces. Put all into cold water and leave one day. Change the water once or twice. Then drain off the water and cut the fat into small pieces. Put in a clean stewpan and slowly melt it till nothing but skinny pieces remain and liquid fat. Strain it into a jar through a piece of unbleached calico or fine muslin. When cold cover tightly and keep in a cool place. Some people put two sliced and peeled apples into the pan while the fat is melting.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Scrappy Soup.

Excellent soup can be made from scraps of meat, which should be boiled all day over a slow fire. An hour before serving add a cabbage leaf chopped very fine, a turnip sliced, several potatoes and any other vegetables that are on hand. A few spoonfuls of stewed corn or peas will improve a vegetable soup. —Leisure Hours.

CURRENT TOPICS.

IN Greenland potatoes never get larger than marbles.

OVER on the other continent there are seven volcanoes in operation.

A PHILADELPHIA Chinaman glories in a pigtail 5 feet 11 inches in length.

J. HODGE TYLER was the other day inaugurated governor of Virginia.

SOLDIERS in the Italian army are permitted to sleep a couple of hours at midday.

MANY women are employed as car conductors in Chile and the Argentine republic.

SILVER coin loses one per cent. of its weight in 20 years, gold one per cent. in 50 years.

BRANDY was first used medicinally, and miraculous cures were ascribed to its employment.

THE hardest known wood is cocus wood. It turns the edge of any ax, however well tempered.

THE work of the arbitration court in the British-Venezuela case is expected to begin about the middle of February.

KNOXVILLE and West and North Knoxville, Tenn., have been consolidated, giving the town a population of 50,000.

THE latest edition of a Berlin comic paper has been confiscated for publishing a cartoon which offends the emperor.

UNDER the new charter of Greater New York no municipal franchise can be granted for a longer period than 25 years.

THE elephant can neither trot, canter nor gallop. Its only pace is a walk, capable of being hastened to a fast shuffle.

THE largest collection of coins in the world is in Vienna. They are placed in the public cabinet of antiquities, and number over 125,000.

TALKING is pronounced by doctors to be a healthful occupation—good for heart disease, and to some extent a substitute for bodily exercise.

Bad Digestion, Bad Heart.

Poor digestion often causes irregularity of the heart's action. This irregularity may be mistaken for real, organic heart disease. The symptoms are much the same. There is, however, a vast difference between the two: organic heart disease is often incurable; apparent heart disease is curable if good digestion be restored.

A case in point is quoted from the New Era, of Greensburg, Ind. Mrs. Ellen Colsom, Newpoint, Ind., a woman forty-three years old, had suffered for four years with distressing stomach trouble. The gases generated by the indigestion pressed on the heart, and caused an irregularity of its action. She had much pain in her stomach and heart, and was subject to frequent and severe choking spells which were most severe at night. Doctors were tried in vain; the patient became worse, despondent, and feared impending death.

A CASE OF HEART FAILURE.

She was much frightened but noticed that in intervals in which her stomach did not annoy her, her heart's action became normal. Reasoning correctly that her digestion was alone at fault she procured the proper medicine to treat that trouble and with immediate good results. Her appetite came back, the choking spells became less frequent and finally ceased. Her weight, which had been greatly reduced was restored and she now weighs more than for years. Her blood soon became pure and her cheeks rosy.

The case is of general interest because the disease is a very common one. That others may know the means of cure we give the name of the medicine used—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves.

SINGLENESS OF PURPOSE.

Why It Is Necessary to Success in Anything.

A young man, anxious to become a lawyer, made application for a position in the office of a barrister, whereupon the following unconventional dialogue ensued:

"Well, young man, and so you'd like to be a lawyer?"

"Yes, sir; I think I would like to be one."

"Where's your gun, my boy? I want to see your gun, my young gentleman. Fond of sporting, eh?"

"I have no gun, sir; don't know whether I'd like gunning."

"No gun. Well, you keep a boat, then? Like boating?"

"I do not own a boat, sir; do not know how to use one."

"You wear a watch, or keep a dog?"

"I am too poor to wear a watch, and I have no dog."

"You'll do, my lad, if you persevere in the course you have begun. The law is a jealous mistress, and cannot be won except by undivided attention. Remember this, my lad, and I will insure your success. You may rely on any assistance I can render you."

The young man entered the office, and in time became a famous lawyer.—N. O. Picayune.

THE HOSTETTER CO. WINS ANOTHER CASE.

Infringements on Their Bitters Not Tolerated by United States Court.

The United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York, Judge Townsend presiding, handed down an opinion December 23d, 1897, granting injunction and accounting, in the suit of The Hostetter Company against Isaac Sommers and Louis Joseph, for infringement of its Trade Mark. The jurist states, in bold and clear language, the rights accruing to the Hostetter Company, and the liability incurred by all who would rob them, by fraud or misrepresentation, of the well-earned reputation and profits of a business built up by the efforts of half a century. The judge says, in part:

"The complainant is entitled to protection against the appropriation of its trade mark, by any and all unfair and dishonorable means, and a court of equity has power to grant such protection whenever it is satisfied that an attempt has been made by ingenious subterfuges, to invade the rights of an owner of a trade mark. * * In the sharp contest between the individual manufacturer, who strives to acquire and retain the fruits of industry and honesty, and the field of keen rivals, seeking to wrest from him the prize of the public goodwill, the inventive ingenuity of the infringer has conceived a great variety of devices for evading the established rules of fair dealing. * * Courts of equity finding that their ultimate object and effect were to enable and induce the retail seller of a fraudulent imitation to palm it off on an unsuspecting public for the genuine article, and thus to contribute to the infringement upon the rights of the original owner, have not hesitated to apply the remedy."

WHAT MAN DOES NOT LOVE BEAUTY?

Mrs. Pinkham Counsels Young Wives to Keeep Their Attractiveness. A Letter From a Young Wife.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes.

What a disappointment then to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head!

I feel as if I would like to say to every young woman who is about to be married—"Strengthen yourself in advance, so that you will not break down under the new strain on your powers." Keep your beauty, it is a precious possession! Your husband loves your beauty, he is proud to be seen in public with you; try to keep it for his sake, and your own.

The pale cheeks, the dark shadows under the eyes, the general drooping of the young wife's form, what do they mean? They mean that her nerves are failing, that her strength is going and that something must be done to help her through the coming trials of maternity.

Build her up at once by a course of some tonic with specific powers. Such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You can get it at any druggist's.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife—of her own accord she addresses it to her "suffering sisters," and while from modesty she asks to withhold her name, she gives her initials and street number in Chambersburg, Pa., so she can easily be found personally or by letter:

To my Suffering Sisters:—Let me write this for your benefit, telling you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I am but nineteen and suffered with painful menstruation, leucorrhœa, dizziness, burning sensation back of ears and on top of my head, nervousness, pain and soreness of muscles, bearing-down pains, could not sleep well, was unable to stand without pain, and oh! how I longed to be well!

One day I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham telling her all, knowing I could do so in perfect confidence.

She wrote me a lovely letter in reply, telling me exactly what to do. After taking nine bottles of the Compound, one box of Liver pills, and using one-half package of Sanative wash, I can say I am cured. I am so happy, and owe my happiness to none other than Mrs. Pinkham.

Why will women suffer when help is near? Let me, as one who has had some experience, urge all suffering women, especially young wives, to seek Mrs. Pinkham's advice.—Mrs. R. S. R., 113 E. Catherine St., Chambersburg, Pa.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

It Is to Be Hoped So.

Hogan—Oi wonder who will be th' last man on airth?

Grogan—Oi dunno anny more than you. But it is hoped that he'll be an oondertaker, so he will know how to bury himself dacently.—Indianapolis Journal.

How to Work It.

Cholly—What do you do when your father won't let you have any more new clothes?

Chappie—I get a new tailor.—N. Y. World.

"Love never dieth." We learn this as a promise. We get, after such suffering as involves as it were a new birth and other faculties, to know it as experience.—George S. Merriam.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Justice may be blind, but there is no question as to the blindness of the man who goes to law feeling certain that he will get justice.—Chicago Daily News.

Like Oil Upon Troubled Waters is Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar upon a cold. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

The mother-in-law often proves too much for the newly-wedded lawyer. — Chicago Daily News.

A crutch is used for sprains. Use St. Jacobs Oil instead; it cures.

He who wrongs the child commits a crime against the state.

All sorts of aches and pains—nothing Better than St. Jacobs Oil. It cures.

The more the boy is like his father the less the two get along.

Backache, toothache, frost-bites too, St. Jacobs Oil will cure—that's true.

A New Branch Opened.

St. Paul, Minn, Jan. 3.—The Great Northern opened a new branch today, known as the Park Rapids and Leech Lake Railway, 18 miles from Park Rapids to Akeley, with two intervening stations, Dorset and Nevia. The Great Northern has over 2,000 men at work on its Eastern Minnesota line, 209 miles between Duluth and Fosston, which will open up a fine lumbering and agricultural section. This is the largest railway building venture now in progress in the country.

"I'd like your candid opinion of this new novel," she said to the young man who talks literature a great deal. "Are you sure you want my candid opinion?" "Yes. I wish to know exactly what you think of it without prevarication or concealment." "Well, to be downright honest with you, I think it is one of the greatest books whose advertisements I have ever read."—Washington Star.

"Self-Control, or Life Without a Master."

A short treatise on The Rights and Wrongs of Men, by J. Wilson, Ph. D. This work contains the advanced thought of the century on Religion, Laws, Government and Civilization. It is written in a plain and easy style, and any intelligent person can appreciate the book who will read it. Price, cloth, $1.50; paper, $1.00. Address Courier Pub. House, Newark, N. Y.

It is always safe to take it for granted that, as yourself, so others are trying to do their best. Shortcoming is no sign of shortwilling. Sweetness is never whipped in.—J. F. W. Ware.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

Dry books cannot always be depended upon to satisfy one's thirst for knowledge. —Chicago Daily News.

For Whooping Cough Piso's Cure is a successful remedy.—M. P. Dieter, 67 Throop Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 14, '94.

The colder the weather the faster the coal in the cellar seems to melt.—Chicago Daily News.

Doubled up and bent with pain—Lumbago. Use St. Jacobs Oil and straighten up.

A wonderful talisman is the relic of a good mother.

Be sure; neuralgia will cease. St. Jacobs Oil the cure. Get ease.

Nearly all women are good, but few are great.

The same—old or new rheumatic pains St. Jacobs Oil will cure.

"THAT TERROR of MOTHERS."

How it was overcome by a Nova Scotian mother

Who is well known as an author.

Of all the evils that attack children scarcely any other is more dreaded than croup. It so often comes in the night. The danger is so great. The climax is so sudden. It is no wonder that Mrs. W. J. Dickson (better known under her pen name of "Stanford Eveleth,") calls it "the terror of mothers." Nor is it any wonder that she writes in terms of praise and gratitude for the relief which she has found both from her own anxieties, and for her children's ailments, in Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It would be impossible to better state the value of this remedy than is done in Mrs. Dickson's letter, which is as follows:

"Memory does not recall the time when Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was not used in our family, for throat and lung troubles, and the number of empty Cherry Pectoral bottles collected during the season, told where relief had been sought. This medicine was in such constant use in my father's family, that when I had a home of my own, and had childish ailments to attend to, it still proved efficacious. That terror of mothers—the startling, croupy cough—never alarmed me, so long as I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house to supplement the hot-water bath. When suffering with whooping cough, in its worst form, and articulation was impossible on account of the choking, my children would point and gesticulate toward the bottle; for experience had taught them that relief was in its contents."—Mrs. W. J. Dickson ("Stanford Eveleth"), author of "Romance of the Provinces," Truro, N. S.

To show the prompt action of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in severe cases, we print a letter from C. J. Wooldridge, Wortham, Tex., who writes:

"One of my children had croup. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Having a part of a bottle of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given the child's breathing grew easier, and in a short time it was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved its life."—C. J. Wooldridge, Wortham, Tex.

These statements make argument in favor of this remedy unnecessary. It is a family medicine that no home should be without. It is just as efficacious in bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, and all other varieties of coughs, as it is in croup. To put it within everyone's reach, Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is now put up in half size bottles, at half price—50 cents. Send for Ayer's Curebook (free) and read of other cures effected by Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Address the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

"A FAIR FACE MAY PROVE A FOUL BARGAIN." MARRY A PLAIN GIRL IF SHE USES

SAPOLIO

ESTABLISHED 1879.

MINNEAPOLIS. WOODWARD & CO. DULUTH.

GRAIN COMMISSION.

LOW RATES OF GRAIN STORAGE MADE IN MINNEAPOLIS AND DULUTH; WRITE US.

ORDERS FOR FUTURE DELIVERY EXECUTED IN ALL MARKETS.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, JAN., 14, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

—Subscribe for the GAZETTE. Three months, 25 cents. Take it now.

—A dance was given in the City Hall Friday evening under the management of Will Hellman.

—Blacksmith's are still harvesting their share of the farmers loose change. Shoeing is fine now.

—Liveryman Jones' new barn seems to have a livening effect on his teams. One of them ran away with Oscar Ball and a traveling man, the other day.

—January Fair Day was hardly up to December for number of people and amount of business done. Still it was a big day for our merchants and others.

—John Sutton, of Glasgow, Mont., who is home for a visit, on account of his brother James' funeral, says the fine weather we are having is just about the regular Montana winter weather.

—Riley Sturman was in town fair day. He has a bran, span new overcoat with hair on, and seems prepared to weather out the Minnesota winter especially if it continues as pleasant as it has been.

--Prof Shaw entertained a small but very select audience with "The Arkansaw Traveler" Monday evening for a brief period.

—Charley Brandes has about completed several wells in Otsego and expects soon to commence on one for John Marth. Deep wells seem to be about all the go now for supplying water on the farm.

--Conrad Stein had a family reunion and party of friends at his farm residence last Sunday. Professors R. M. Bohn, John Brandser and Ole Swedeback furnished the music. An enjoyable time was had.

—Paul Plotnik received last week for L. Bartlett a fine ice plow and other ice cutting tools. We understand Mr. B. intends putting up ice enough to last the village people through next summer so they will not have to import it from Minneapolis.

--On Monday evening we had quite a pleasant visit with Mr. M. E. Muckey, Delano's electrician, at the power house. Everything about the place, even to Mr. M. himself looks slick and nice. With the aid of Mr. M. we learned that an ampere runs two lights; that they are run at a voltage of 110; that we have two dynamoes, of 200 light power each; that we have more than 500 lights in town and are daily putting in more; that another dynamo will soon be needed.

--On Monday, while cooking some feed for hogs, over a fire in the yard, Mrs. Fred Addicks' dress caught fire, burning her clothes almost all off of her. Her cries were heard by Fred Adicks, Sen., who was about the barn, and he came to her assistance. She was terribly burned, the skin peeling off from about one third the body and limbs. Drs. Shrader and Catlin were called and did what they could to make the sufferer comfortable. Her recovery is considered very doubtful.

—On Saturday evening at about 7 o'clock Miss Lena Steffes who was with others near George P. Schaffer's store observed a man about the ware house on the rear end of the lot acting queerly. She spoke to John Lohmiller about it saying: "There he is now with a sack on his back." John determined to satisfy his curiosity by finding out who he was and started toward him. The man started to run, so did John, and a lively race up to the rear of Conzets harness shop was the consequence. There the man ran over the bank with John so near that the sack was dropped and the man disappeared. John brought his plunder back with him to the store and found several pairs of rubber boots, some soap, coffee essence, cod fish, etc. It was a narrow escape for the fellow.

—Rev. J. L. Farber preached on Sunday evening to a fair sized audience. His text was Eph. V. 16. "Redeeming the time, because the days are evil." He said too much time was wasted, idled away on the sports of the world or in doing nothing. Days were spent in playing base ball and foot ball, and in talking about them before and after match games. So bad had this become that employers had been obliged to forbid employes from engaging in these games. While not speaking of the other evils of card playing, valuable time, evening after evening was fooled away at card tables, learning no one any good; which might be used in reading some scientific or other good book. Night after night was spent in dancing. Some men go to lodge nearly every night in the week, robbing their families of the pleasure of their company. While not an enemy to lodges, I submit that too much time is spent on them. Their teachings may be all right but no one preaches there. One good sermon will furnish more good than all you get at a lodge in a year. The preacher advised everybody to read the New Testament through. It don't require long. Take the moments and the hours wasted and prepare for the next world. After counting the ten years of childhood, one third the time spent in sleep, and taking the average of human life a person has but about twenty years to prepare for eternity and the most should be made of the time. Time is more valuable than money.

—Ed Kelsey sold a cow and calf, fairday, for $45.

—There may be two creameries in Delano, soon. Competition is the life of trade.

--John Coolen and Dr. Catlin represented Delano Democracy at the Bryan banquet, at Minneapolis, Tuesday evening.

—Read in the next column about the entertainment to be given at the City Hall, next Wednesday, by Miss Ada Marie Crow.

—Read Earl Hoisington's letter from the Evergreen State this week and look out for one from Rolla Baker, from Oregon, next week.

—A partial eclipse of the moon, on Friday evening last, was observed by some of our citizens. The night was a bright one and the eclipse was plain to be seen.

—The K. P's. will have a public installation at the City Hall next Monday night followed by a banquet. A programme has been arranged and a big time is expected.

—The High School Literary Society, at their meeting last night, elected officers as follows: President, Josephine Plattner: Vice Pres., Veronica Steffes; Secretary, Merrel Jones; Treasurer, Leonard Dedrick.

--The many friends, in this place and Watertown, of Policeman Charles Metzger, of Minneapolis, will be sorry to learn that he has lately had his toe cut off and on account of gangrene, afterward had his leg amputated.

—Judge Woolley and Drs. J. S. Shrader and T. J. Catlin, as a commission in lunacy, examined into the case of Raynold Noren, Thursday, his brother making the complaint. Dr. E. E. Shrader also gave testimony. The patient was found insane and Sheriff Nugent went with him to Fergus Falls.

--There is a rumor about town that a couple of Delano boys held up a man on the West side a few evenings since. If it is true the couple of lads should be sent at once to the reform school. Officers should investigate, or those cognizant of the facts in the matter should take steps to that end. It would result in benefit to the boys themselves and to the community in general.

—The Delano Board of Education met Saturday evening and received some bids for furnishing wood, and transacted other business. A. W. Wittman said that some score of persons had suggested the need of some kind of a fire escape at the school house. The other members of the board undertook to argue him out of the notion, by claiming that there was no need of such a thing as it was an impossibility for a fire to occur. When the druggist suggested that the laboratory had some phosphorous which might accidently start a flame, the board ordered the blamed stuff out of the building, thereby crippling the efficiency of the laboratory.

Among reasons advanced by President Lindsley for not having fire escapes are:

They are not needed.

The expense.

The danger to children, who could not be kept off from them.

There is no possibility of a fire occurring.

The City Hall is as dangerous.

If a two story brick veneered six roomed school house with halls, laboratory, basement and attic, heated by a furnace don't need but one door for the children to escape at, in case of fire what building does? If there is no risk whatever from fire, why carry thousands of dollars insurance on the building and contents? What a foolish expenditure!

As for the expense of building a back stairs, or other means of escape from fire for the children and teachers in the upper rooms in case it is ever needed. It need not cost much. What would even a hundred or two dollars weigh, in the balance against the broken limb or may be the life of your child?

There can certainly be some way found for keeping the children off of the escapes, or stairs or whatever is provided. If not, it shows a wonderful lack of control of pupils. Such disobedience ought not to be allowed.

As for there being no possibility of a fire occurring, every body knows better. The fire in the furnace may be tampered with by some of the children who could not be kept off of the fire escapes. The janitor, who has the reputation of being a careful man, might accidently, or some one who might be in his place a day, might drop coals from the ashes. The chemicals in the laboratory, as pointed out by Mr. Wittman might cause a fire. A large number of boys carry matches in their pockets. These hung in a cloak room might start a conflagration. There are many other ways in which fires are started.

The city hall is as bad is no excuse. It is over the fire engine room. The hook and ladder apparatus is kept in the same building and could be got at very quickly. Nevertheless, it too could be better arranged much to the safety of the crowd should a fire occur there when it is full of people.

The school house needs fire escapes or stairs of some kind. The expense is nothing compared with possible injuries in case of a fire. They can be made so the children will not bother them. There is a possibility that they will be needed. The school house is a worse fire trap than the city hall.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses Position steady. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 5tf

SUBSCRIBE

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .83
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .79
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .75
Rye		$ .36
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		.12, .18
Eggs,		.15
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .06
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

—On Tuesday, while attending the Democratic meeting in Minneapolis, we took dinner with our father-in-law, John Cunningham. He said he wanted to hear Bryan speak and had heard the Exposition doors would be open at 7 p. m., but to make sure he would be there at 6, so as to get a good seat. Since arriving at home we have heard that the crowd was so big about the Exposition doors at six, that the doors were broken in before the authorities were ready to open them. We suspect John grew more and more anxious to hear Bryan and couldn't longer risk getting within ear shot of the free silver advocate.

To Klondyke, at the City Hall.

Next Wednesday eve., in City Hall, Miss Ada Marie Crow a noted platform speaker from the East, will give one of her superbly illustrated Travel Talks on Ireland, England, Scotland, France, Belgium, Norway and Sweden. A "Picture Tour" over the "Klondyke Country will also be taken. Over 100 paintings 15ft. square will be shown and the program interspersed with Scotch Ballads and Irish Songs accompained by the Autoharp. The entertainment will be given under the auspices of the public schools and no student or parent can afford to miss this unique and pleasing imaginary tour to Europe and the Klondike Country.

General Admision only 25 cts Special rate to all students 15.

Personal.

C. J. Buckley visited St. Paul on important business, Monday.

Fred Brandes, of Loudeman, was a Delano visitor Wednesday.

P. H. Greer, the Kentucky Colonel, went to Annandale on business Monday.

William D. Douglass and William Stacy, of Montrose, were Delano visitors fair day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brothers were up on a foraging expedition today, from Wayzata.

Rev. Savs returned home yesterday from a business trip to the southern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Benner and Charles Bugbee, of Rockford, were attending fair, Saturday.

Henry Imrie, of Hanover, drove up and shook hands with a number of Delano friends fair day.

Chris Coolen, of Buffalo, was in town calling on his brother John and other friends and relatives, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aydt, of St. Michaels, were over on business and for a visit with their neice Mrs. Frank Yantos one day last week.

County Cullings.

The Standard claims Joe Reems is after a nomination for Sheriff and Charles Bugbee for Legislature. They are about the best nominations the Standard has made so far.

Among Wright county Democrats in Minneapolis Tuesday to hear Bryan speak, and to attend the meeting of the Democratic organization, were Joe Ferrel, Levi Cochran, of Smith Lake; E. E. Riche, of Howard Lake; John McDonnell and T. F. Kelly, of Waverly; William Ziebarth, M. A. O'Hair, Frank A. Cramer, William Steffes, John Coolen, and T. J. Catlin, of Delano; Charles Bugbee and George Crandall, of Rockford; John O'Leary, John Nugent and M. Sektman, of Buffalo; Martin O'Laughlin and James Madigan, of Maple Lake, and there may have been others that escaped the attention of ye editor.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal
And the
Buffalo Gazette
Both one year
For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the
Buffalo Gazette,
Delano,
Minn.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything.—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most Complete and Most Profusely Illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE

and

LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising: its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $2.00

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

If your add was here somebody would read it, and might call on you.

Advertise
IN THE
GAZETTE.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE
GAZETTE.

Advertise
in the
GAZETTE.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine
SEE THE BEST.
DEMORESTS'
An Unparalleled Offer.
DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO.
110 Fifth Ave., New York.
A Liberal Offer, Only $1.75 for BUFFALO GAZETTE and DEMORIST'S MAGAZINE. for One Year. Send your Subscriptions to this Office, Delano, Minn.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING,
REPAIRING AND GENERAL
CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

GIVE US A CALL.
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
32tf. Edison Park, Ill.

-AdvertisE-
GAZETTE.
ONE YEAR
$1.00

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE Popular
NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very resPectfully yours,
GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

C. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES
Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.
All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.
Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR
FINE JOB PRINTING,
IN THE LINE OF
Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads
Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand
Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line
of Printing,
CALL AT THE
Gazette Office.

CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 21, 1898. NUMBER 17.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street.

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
Junior League..... 3:00 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:40 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... .....
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Sabbath, at 10:30 a. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 P. M. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30.
REV. T. DAVIES.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m
Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President, JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen, NICK FRANK, HENRY BOCK, ADAM HORSCH.
Recorder, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, W. H. FRAZEE, R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health, T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary, J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables, JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY,
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD,
Treasurer, JOHN E. BORSCH.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive

—of—

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE

CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE
Gen'l Pass. Agent,
CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $45.0 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, DePt. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN,
Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

THE CAMEL'S NOSE.

[From the Midland Christian Advocate.]

(The Arabs have this proverb to warn against letting bad habits begin: "Beware of a camel's nose." Mrs. Sigourney has explained the proverb in the following lines:)

Once in a shop a workman wrought
With languid hand and listless thought,
When, through the open window space,
Behold, a camel thrust his face!
"My nose is cold," he meekly cried;
"O, let me warm it by thy side!"
Since no denial word was said
In came the nose, in came the head;
As sure as sermon followed text
The long and shaggy neck came next;
And then, as falls the threatening storm,
In leaped the whole ungainly form.

Aghast, the owner gazed around,
And on the rude invader frowned,
Convinced, as closer still he pressed,
There was no room for such a guest;
Yet, more astonished, heard him say,
"If thou art troubled, go thy way;
For in this place I choose to stay."

O, youthful hearts, to gladness born,
Treat not this Arab lore with scorn!
To evil habit's earliest wile
Lend neither ear nor glance nor smile!
Choke the dark fountain ere it flows,
Nor o'en a limit the camel's nose.

WE are in receipt of Vol. 1. No. 1 of Caxton's Caveat, published at Chicago. It is a business publication for printers.

DEATH has claimed as its own this week two prominent men, Benjamin Butterworth, Commissioner of patents, and Logan Carlisle, chief of the Treasury depart under the last administration.

THAT letter by McEwen, or some such name, not much known hereabouts, in the New York Journal, under correspondence, that evidently was written in the interest of some New York, or money clique, and which endeavored to knock Bryan out of the race for President, only strengthened his friends who chanced to read it.

A PARTY of 16 left Minneapolis yesterday for Alaskan gold fields. As spring draws nigh the fever seems to grow more epidemic. If all the fellows that can, go to Alaska, it will open the door for opportunities at home, to those that are left behind. But if the enterprising part of our population is gone there is not likely to be much for those left at home to do.

NOT to be outdone by Swiss surgeons, Dr. A. C. Bernays, of St. Louis, removed a cancerous stomach from a man. The entire organ from the oesophagus to within an inch of the pylarus were taken out and the two separated ends stitched together. The patient is being kept alive by nourishment administered by enema. He has survived the operation, recovering from the shock, and it is thought possibly may recover his health.

NEW YORK politicians, with the aid of others, appear to be making a desperate effort to foist a New York politician upon the people for President, in 1900. It is of no use. Enough New York Presidential candidates have been put forward before to do for awhile. The people are bound to have a man not wrapped up in Wall street, for President. And they think they know a good man when they have found him, and are determined for this once, at least, to vote as they believe; and not as party politicians ask and insist upon their doing.

IT is now claimed that the Northern Pacific, 5,000; Union Pacific, 4,500; and the Great Northern 4,500 miles of railroad are to all be run practically under one management; that the freight and passenger traffic will be under the control of one set of officials; that the employing or discharging of hands will be practically under one control. This means much to travelers, to shippers of freight, and to the railroad men who work for their daily bread. Such gigantic monopolies of different kinds of business is what is fast driving the people into the belief that the government must own and control its own railroads. But would it be any better for the government to own a monopoly of the business than for corporations, syndicates, etc. etc., to own and run the various kinds of money making schemes throughout the country? Think on these things.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Democracy Not Changed.

Democracy is the same today as ever it was on the questions before it. Democrats always were for free and equal rights for all, and special privileges to none. They never did, and do not now believe in a protective tariff, on goods manufactured by a few individuals, enabling them to have a monopoly of the trade, to the advantage of themselves and at the expense of the people needing the goods they sell.

Democrats ever favored gold and silver both as the money of our country. They always did, and do now believe in the double standard; in the money of the constitution. If you have never read the constitution on the question, get your boy or girl to bring their history home from school and read to you the article, how Congress has power to make gold and silver coin and fix the value thereof.

Democrats want the poorest hard working man to have equal privileges in the eyes of the law with the wealthiest and most idle man in the land. They do not want the poor man to pay two prices for his goods to keep him poor, in order that the rich man may add to his wealth year by year. They want things sold for what they are worth; for what God in His wisdom sees fit to furnish them for without a protective tariff.

Democrats don't believe in licensing a man for $500 or $1,000, to have control of the saloon business in villages and towns, to under cover of this blind, run wide open, regardless of law, and in direct opposition to it, while as good men, and men who would be more law abiding, possibly, because they are too poor to pay license must hunt for other work. If the business is profitable and honorable all should have the privilege of engaging in it. If it is not honorable, licensing it don't make it more so. It simply gives an excuse for disregarding restrictions in order to make money to help run the town. Democrats believe at least that all should have the same rights without having to buy them, as special privileges. Is there any reason why one business more than another should be run under a license system?

Democrats believe in a ballot for every man. They believe in every man casting his own ballot without fear of favor from any one. They don't believe in the threats that "unless you vote our way you will loose your job." This has been tried; and the wages have been reduced; and the job lost although men did follow that advice.

Democrats believe promises should be fulfilled. Democrats believe in an honest government by honest men. They believe in the majority rule; in the greatest good to the greatest number. They have faith in the country and its people. They believe in running the finances of the country on constitutional lines. They don't believe in allowing corporations to, through the abuse of the injunction privilege, keep men at work for them, against their will. They don't believe that men should be denied the privilege of walking peacefully along public highways nor of speaking in favor of their rights and privileges as American citizens.

Democracy is the party of the people, and the people are again beginning to see that it is so.

Only Another Bluff.

The Wright County Times says: "State Auditor Dunn having received the endorsement of almost the entire state press can now afford to dismiss his libel suit against the Midway News. To continue it will give that newspaper altogether too much notoriety and in the end the candle would not be worth the powder."

Dismiss the suit? Why, it was never started. It was one of the bluffs for which Bob Dunn is noted. But this time it failed to work. Mr. Paradis did not crawfish nor show any fear of the threatened suit—and Bob Dunn did not start it. Whether he reached the conclusion that it was dangerous to force Mr. Paradis into court to tell all he knew about the management of the state auditors office, or whether for other reasons decided that the matter should be dropped, the fact is that Mr. Paradis has not retracted one word of his charges and Bob Dunn has not started any proceedings.—Duluth Herald.

Advertise in

the GAZETTE

for trade.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

G. W. Beebe, Minneapolis, combined paper-weight and pencil-sharpener. J. Danz, 2d, St. Paul, pall. A. Erickson, Winfield, stacker. P. Forsberg, Minneapolis, ventilated mattress. O. Honegger, Fairmont, gate. J. C. Larkins, Minneapolis, socket-bracket for drapery-poles &c. J. Leede, Minneapolis, acetylene-gas apparatus. H. A. Loverin, Minneapolis, folding box. R. Tayor, Wadena, sailing vessel.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 14, 1898.

How can a President who is an honest and conscientious bimetallist keep a Secretary of the Treasury in his Cabinet who is so wedded to the gold standard as to endorse the statement that bimetallism—a double standard—is an impossibility? That was a question asked in the minds of many when Secretary Gage, sitting beside the chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, endorsed that statement made by ex-Senator Edmonds, president of the so-called monetary conference, and believed to be the paid attorney of the gold ring, who appeared before that committee in behalf of the gold standard bill prepared by the Commission. The question would probably not have been asked had not Senator Chandler just previously stated that he had Mr. McKinley's own word for it that he was in favor of bimetallism, and to clinch his statement added: "Mr. McKinley is as good a bimetallist as I am." If that is true, Senator Chandler can hardly be a good bimetallist, notwithstanding his constant claims to be such. Senator Chandler at the same time said that Mr. McKinley told him that the international bimetallism fake was not dead, and that he intended to send the commission to Europe again. A considerable number of voters were probably fooled in the Presidential campaign by that international bimetallism plank of the republican platform, but Mr. McKinley must have lost much of the political shrewdness with which he has been credited if he believes it can be used to fool them again.

So far as they can be seen, the results of the first week's consideration of the Hawaiian treaty by the Senate are not satisfactory to the advocates of annexation. Last week when notice was given that the treaty would be taken up Monday and considered daily until disposed, its friends were very confident that votes enough were in sight to furnish the two thirds needed for ratification, and it looked as though their confidence was justified. Presto, change! And ratification is again in doubt, owing to the defection of Senators who had been counted for it. Among those who have changed and come squarely out against ratification are Senators Thurston, of Nebr., and Gear of Iowa, both of whom claim to have been influenced by the sugar beet industry of their states; and Senators Wellington, of Md., Spooner of Wis., and Mason, of Ill., are now placed in the doubtful coulumn. Unless Mr. McKinley can whip these Senators back into line, or bribe them with patronage, into voting for annexation, there isn't much probability of the treaty being ratified.

The boss of the big boss is what they are calling Senator Joseph Fircalarm Foraker just now. There isn't the slightest doubt that Boss Hanna owes his election to the Senate to Foraker, nor that he would rather have owed it to any other man in the world. Foraker was in Washington waiting for Hanna, through Mr. McKinley, to get down and ask for his help and agree to his terms. Hanna thought he could buy his way through without regard to Foraker. At the last minute he got rattled and notified Mr. McKinley to get Forsker's help on the best terms he could, but to get it. It took Mr. McKinley and senator Foraker two or three hours to come to terms, but in the end Foraker had his way and had sent the telegram to Columbus that ensured Hanna's election to the Senate. The terms upon which Mr. McKinley secured Foraker's assistance for Hanna were, of course, secret, but they probably include much that would interest Ohio republicans and were certainly advantageous personally to Foraker.

The irrepressible Jerry Simpson injected a little amusement into the close of the civil service debate in the House by telling the anti's that whether they would be allowed to consider a bill for the modification or repeal of the civil service law, later on, would depend entirely on the Speaker, of whom he added: "He is the whole thing and runs the House." Amid the laughter which followed Lemuel Eli Quigg, Boss Platt's man, tried to get funny by turning to Jerry and asking: "Have you consulted the Speaker?" Quick as a flash Jerry replied: "No, he never consults me and I never consult him."

The republican members of the Senate committee on Finance want to pigeon-hole the Stanley Matthews resolution, declaring that all U. S. bonds are payabl in silver, at the option of the government, which was offered by Senator Teller, and referred to this committee. They say that the reporting of the resolution will cause needless agitation; that it has been adopted by Congress and that its readoption now by the Senate, when it is known that the House would not be allowed to vote upon it, would accomplish nothing. But the democrats have no idea of allowing the resolution to be smothered. They intend that it shall be reported and voted upon. It will put the Senators on record, as well as serve as a notice to the gold standard administration that its efforts for gold bond legislation also belong in the "needless agitation" class.

The House having let off its surplus steam in discussing the civil service question a whole week is now jogging along with routine work on the appropriations.

Hygienic Night Clothing.

Wool seems to be the one and only material that is in every way calculated (no doubt intentionally) to keep the machinery of the body in perfect working order. Most authorities agree that woolen garments should be worn next the skin by night as well as by day, and there is no longer any question but that two light weight woolen undergarments or bed blankets are warmer than one heavy one.

Cotton, linen, or silk fabrics absorb the moisture and odors that leave the body through the pores; but woolen is porous (unless matted together by improper laundering), allows these impurities to escape; and so it is not only warmer, because dryer and softer, but when the clothing and bedding are exclusively woolen, these exudations will make their way through it, and escape from the room with the poisonous gases thrown out by the lungs.

Camel's hair and woolen underwear, in which the wool was steam shrunk before it was woven, will not shrink perceptibly if properly washed; but if one can not be sure of the latter, it is better to make bed gowns of French flannel, or other mixture in which wool predominates over cotton, as such fabrics are almost sure to remain porous.

But for any except the most robust person to neglect wearing woolen garments next the skin is suicidal.—From "Sanitarian," in Demorest's Family Magazine for February.

The Gazette.

An Unwarranted Conclusion.

The anti-Bryan newspapers are making a great noise about an article which appeared in the New York Journal on Wednesday, which is claimed to be a repudiation of Mr. Bryan by the Journal and to indicate an intention on its part to oppose him as the Democratic presidential candidate. The Chicago Times-Herald yesterday had a cartoon on the subject with a quotation from the Journal article, credited to a "signed editorial in New York Journal." This is incorrect. The article in thd Journal was not an editorial signed or unsigned. It was a letter addressed "to editor of Journal" and signed by Arthur McEwen. It was published on the editorial page, but the Journal publishes all letters from correspondents on that page. Because Mr. McEwen is an editorial writer on the Journal staff, the anti-Bryan newspapers have deduced the conclusion that the Journal has quit Mr. Bryan's support. This is a very lame conclusion. The fact that the Journal did not publish the article as an editorial, but compelled Mr. McEwen to put it in the form of a communication and sign it, would seem to be good evidence that the editor of the Journal did not endorse the views expressed by Mr. McEwen.

If the reasoning of the anti-Bryan journals is correct, they should explain away the letter on the same page of the Journal on Tuesday, signed "A Real Democrat." It is given as much prominence as was Mr. McEwen's letter, and it tells why Mr. Bryan Should be renominated in 1900, saying: "The Democratic party is irrevocably committed to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. Any man who is not a believer in 16 to 1 is no Democrat, and no man who is not a known champion of 16 to 1 can with the smallest consistency aspire to the Democratic presidential nomination. This being so—and who, in the light of the political history of the past two years, will dispute it?—the renomination of William Jennings Bryan is inevitable."

The anti-Bryan journals must guess again.—Duluth Herald, Jan 14, '98.

The Union Temperance meeting occurred Sunday evening at the M. E. church and was largely attended. Rev. J. S. McCornack, of Howard, delivered a forcible address which was well received. The Committee appointed by the President to submit a plan for the re organization of the Society reported progress and asked for further time which was granted. We understand the committee are considering the advisability of recommending the formation of a Good Citizenship League in place of the present temperance organization.—Buffalo Standard.

Late Literary News.

What would you do if war should be declared to-morrow with a European power? How would it change your home life, the lives of your brother and other relatives? How would it affect your business connections and business? What changes would it make in fiuancial, city, state and national affairs? It is these interesting problems which a writer in the December Cosmopolitan has undertaken to sketch under the heading of "A Brief History of Our Late War With Spain," at the same time yiyidly describing the exciting scenes which would attend the opening of hostilities. This same number of the Cosmopolitan has an article on "The Well Dressed Woman" by Elsie de Wolfe, a contrast of the characters of Henry George and Charles A. Dana by John Brisben Walker, in another place "The Loves of Goethe," while Wells' story, "The War of the Worlds," which has been so widely read, reaches its conclusion in an unexpected way.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Buffalo Gazette, and Cosmopolitan one of the best monthly magazines,

for one year, for $1.80

SUBSCRIBE

Advertise in

the GAZETTE.

From Oregon.

Corvallis, Jan. 5, 1898.

Editor BUFFALO GAZETTE,

Dear sir: The request of many that I give a description of this country, I will try and comply with.

The country in and around Corvallis is comparatively flat, although a few hour's walk will bring one under the shadows of either the Cascade's or Coast Range. The valley here is probably 40 miles wide and is thickly settled for this country, few farmers having less than 160 acres and some near the mountains having as high as 1,000 acres. Land throughout the valley probably would average $20 per acre, and being very good land at that, the price seems reasonable enough. The excessive rainfall is the most serious draw back to Western Oregon, though when one gets their web feet that amounts to really nothing. The fruit crop, one of the most abundant in the history of the state, is evident on all sides; apples and pears remaining unplucked in a great many orchards, and the quality of which your humble servant tested to his fullest capacity and pronounced excellent. The grain as far as I have noticed look's exceedingly well especially on high or rolling ground, and is on an average of from three to six inches in height. A few farmers are plowing although it is somewhat wet.

As yet there is nothing to indicate a return of prosperity, although the Klondiker's promise wonders in the spring. The long trip out here consisted more of delays than anything else and consumed too long weeks. Cal Stewart and family are generally satisfied with the country and will undoubtedly remain here. As far as I am concerned, the country just suits me so I think I shall stay also. There is a great deal concerning this country to write about but will leave that for a more worthy exponent of the pen. I will close this with the wish that I may yet see some of Wright county's best residents settled in this, the land of fruit and flowers. I am sir,

ROLLA M. BAKER,
Corvallis,
Benton County, Oregon.

Pure Seeds for Trial.

To give our subscribers an opportunity to test their famous seeds, Messrs. May & Co., the well known Seed growers of St. Paul, Minnesota, whose order of one million Packets of Seeds tested over 99 per cent pure (Government Report) will mail seventeen trial Packets of choice varieties of Flower Seeds to any of our readers sending to them only ten cents in silver or stamps. This is their Giant Collection, and consists of one Packet each, Asters, Mignonette, Antirrhinum, Pinks, Poppies, Alyssum, Zinnias, Nigella, Godetia, Pansy, Calendula, Petunias, Sweet William, Portulaca, Sweet Peas, Calliopsis and Candytuft. On each packet will be printed full cultural instructions.

They will also send to any gardener or Farmer one Package of their Extra Early Tree Tomato on receipt of six cents in stamps. Their handsomely illustrated Catalogue will be mailed free on application, to any one who intends to purchase Seeds, Plants or Bulbs this Spring. Be sure and mention our paper when writing May & Co. 17-4t.

Better Than Ever.

Farm, Stock & Home, Minneapolis, Minn., begins its fourteenth volume November 15th, and starting with that issue will hereafter appear with enlarged pages, having a fourteen inch column instead of a thirteen as heretofore.

Farm, Stock & Home, by the use of minion type, has always given more reading matter for the money than any other Minnesota Agricultural paper and this move will place it still further to the fore. While an inch on a column does not seem a great deal, a little figuring will quickly prove that it is nearly equal to giving twentysix papers of the old size in a year, instead of twentyfour. The subscription price and frequency of issue will remain the same, viz. 1st and 15th of each month and 50 cents per year. The BUFFALO GAZETTE has an arrangement with the publishers by which Farm, Stock, & Home can be had in connection with the BUFFALO GAZETTE for $1.30 for the two papers.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE Co., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Latest News

The Haskell vs. Minneapolis Trust Company libel suit still fills several dailies with news.

Maryland is having a time selecting a United States Senator. Republicans have a majority of votes but are not agreed.

Those interested in the election or defeat of a candidate for U. S. Senator in the late Ohio election refuse to testify before the investigating committee.

Congressman Joseph Bailey, of Texas, accuses Speaker Thomas Reed, of inconsistency and dishonesty, and Reed intimates that Bailey is a falsifier.

The Cuban question has a hard time in Congress. Are Spanish officers using the same tactics on Congressmen they are being killed off for by insurgents.

Although the prison investigation resulted in clearing the officials from law, Stillwater men claim it did not do so from the minds of men who live there. They say the Grand Jury was discharged before charges could be brought.

THE

New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it or its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow.

* * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone, 1 year, 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal
And the
Buffalo Gazette
Both one year
For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the

Buffalo Gazette,
Delano,
Minn.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co. - MINN

JANUARY—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	....	....	....	....	1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31	....	....	....	....	....

A Georgia editor describes a defaulter who had skipped out "as six feet tall and $10,000 short."

Minnesota's practical law for the encouragement of tree planting is worth attention in other states. Nearly 10,000 acres were planted with young saplings in Minnesota last year.

The surgical world can now point with pride to a man who has had both his stomach and vermiform appendix eliminated. It would not be a bad preparation for a trip to the Klondike.

The Chicago inventor who proposed to turn antimony into gold has closed his factory. He may have feared from current reports of new discoveries that there would be an overproduction.

Of the large American population in the Austrian capital, it is said that all the men are medical students and the women piano pupils. Thus the distress occasioned by the latter may in part be relieved by the former.

In 15 years Montana's annual copper output has risen from 9,058,284 pounds to 250,000,000 pounds. From the Butte district alone, during this period, $200,000,000 worth of copper has been taken. There's money in copper.

An English prophet announces for 1898 the discovery of the north pole, the opening of communication with Mars, war in Europe, a revolution in South America, riots in London and the kidnaping of the young king of Spain. That South American event is reasonably certain to happen.

A bill has been offered in the Pennsylvania legislature "to abolish book agents." Just what the peculiar crime of the book agent is the bill does not state. As long as "the lightning rod," "the patent rake," and "the patent churn" men are loose, it looks as if a few good books might still be sold without danger to public morals.

Gladstone got into that "year of great babies," 1809, by a very narrow margin. If born three days later he would have belonged to 1810, and in that year's name there is no especial magic. The year 1809 had a long list of eminent sons, among whom were Tennyson, Holmes, Darwin, Lincoln, Hamlin, Winthrop and many others.

The losses of life by epidemics and famine reported throughout the world in 1897 have aggregated 222,902. Of these it is estimated that 40,000 succumbed to the plague in India and 150,000 from famine, the result of Weyler's concentration policy in Cuba. Some of the estimates of American consuls in Cuba place the loss of life from starvation in the island at a still higher figure.

The statistics of lynchings in the United States during 1897 indicate that this reprehensible crime continues to flourish in spite of the well-meant efforts in some parts of the country to stamp it out. The whole number of lynchings for the year amounted to 166, against 131 in 1896. Of those occurring during the last year 146 were in the south and 20 in the northern states, 122 of the victims being negroes, 39 whites and 5 Indians.

They are still working on models of submarine steamers that it is claimed will, before the end of the century, revolutionize submarine explorations, especially expeditions for wrecking purposes. The flying machine man will need to put on an extra spurt if aerial travel is to be demonstrated a success before the year 1900. Meanwhile the ordinary traveler will prefer to commit the safety of his life to the less hazardous and better demonstrated methods on the ocean surface in modern first-class steamships.

Among the statistics compiled for the year 1897 those relating to loss of life by disasters on land and sea are of special interest. The total loss from all disasters in the world is estimated at 389,077 lives, against 246,546 in 1896 and 275,391 in 1895. This number includes 103,451 lives lost in war or massacre, but it does not include the 222,902 who perished by epidemic or the thousands who died from famine in India and other countries. These figures therefore show that 1897 was a record year in the number and character of its misfortunes.

Sleeping car managers are asked to eject travelers who snore, government officials are about to forbid newly-arrived passengers from Europe to kiss their friends before customs business is disposed of, and now come the authorities of Lebanon, Pa., and forbid the trolley car employes to eat sauerkraut for their midday meal, because the odor of the viand is disagreeable to the passengers. This in Pennsylvania-Dutch land, too—the very home of sauerkraut. If such things as these are to go on, what is to become of our boasted personal liberties?

If ocean greyhounds continue to grow in size the harbor of New York, which was deepened to 30 feet seven years ago, must undergo the operation again. The steamer Oceanic, now building, which will be 704 feet long and the largest vessel ever constructed, is to have a draught of about 30 feet. Most of the fast trans-Atlantic steamers draw from 26 to 29 feet, but a few have been loaded to a depth of 32 feet. It is proposed in New York to deepen the harbor to 35 feet. No limit has been fixed to the size of vessels. The largest are the fastest and also the most popular.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

The nomination of Attorney General McKenna to be a justice of the United States supreme court was reported favorably to the United States senate on the 13th, as was also the pension appropriation bill, and the Hawaiian treaty was further discussed in executive session. In the house Mr. Bland (Mo.) introduced a free coinage bill which makes gold and silver the standard, and declares all rules discriminating against the legal tender of such coinage unlawful. The agricultural approproation bill was reported with an amendment providing for the inspection of horse meat for export purposes in the same way that the meat of cattle and other animals is now inspected.

By general consent the United States senate on the 14th postponed consideration of the Hawaiian treaty until next Monday. Senator Hoar offered a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution extending the term of office of the president and senators to April 30, 1901, and making that day instead of March 4 the commencement and termination of official terms in future. Nineteen pension bills were passed. An adverse report was made upon H. W. Corbett's claim to a seat in the senate from Oregon. The Lacey bill extending the homestead law to Alaska and granting rights of way to railroads was favorably reported in the house and the agricultural appropriation bill was passed.

The United States senate was not in session on the 15th. In the house two hours were spent in general debate on the army appropriation bill and the remainder of the day was given to eulogizing the life and public services of the later Seth W. Milliken, of Maine, who served for 14 years in the lower branch of congress.

FROM WASHINGTON.

President McKinley, because of serious riots in Havana, ordered Commodore Bunce to hold every vessel of the white squadron in readiness for action to protect Consul-General Lee and the property of American citizens.

At his home in Washington Gen. Christopher Colon Auger, U. S. A., retired, died of old age.

Exports of domestic merchandise for December last amounted to $123,181,743, an increase over December, 1896, of over $7,000,000. For the 12 months the increase was over $93,000,000. The imports during December amounted to $51,514,733, and for the 12 months the increase was about $54,500,000.

THE EAST.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 14th aggregated $1,443,002,129, against $1,418,589,759 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 37.6.

In New York Leslie Stanley and his wife were suffocated by smoke in a hotel fire.

Edwin K. Meyers, former state printer, fell from his carriage in Harrisburg, Pa., and was killed.

In the large cities of the country a gang organized for the systematic robbery of mail boxes is operating.

William Booth, the head of the Salvation Army, arrived in New York from London. He will make a tour of the principal cities of this country and Canada.

The death of Logan Carlisle, son of John G. Carlisle and his chief clerk when the latter was secretary of the treasury, occurred suddenly at the home of his parents in New York, aged 38 years.

WEST AND SOUTH.

In session at Columbus, O., the American Anti-Saloon league elected as president Hiram Price, of Iowa.

In the conference in St. Louis of the populists a new party was born and named the people's party. It has severed all connection with the national populist committee.

For the murder of three persons Archey Lockeley (colored) was hanged at Richmond, Va.

Because of jealousy Louis Alfred fatally shot Minnie Packner, his sweetheart, in Cincinnati, and then killed himself.

In a drunken quarrel at Sandy Fork, Ky., Robert Calwell, Smith Helton, John Williams and Tom Willson (all colored) were killed and Will Burgess mortally wounded.

A resolution was adopted at a convention in Kingfisher unanimously petitioning the present congress to pass an enabling act providing for the admission of Oklahoma as a state.

In Oklahoma the separate school law preventing the mixing of white and colored scholars has been declared void.

Protests have been mailed to every member of congress against the passage of the immigration bill by 150 German societies of Chicago.

In Webster City, Ia., Elijah Davis, 65 years of age, and Miss Fannie Spaulding, aged 67, were married, thus ending a romance of 47 years' standing.

The Ohio Methodists are preparing to celebrate their centennial and President McKinley will be the central figure of the celebration.

In Chicago an inventory filed in the probate court places the value of the Pullman estate at $9,363,092.

At the age of 59 years Benjamin Butterworth, commissioner of patents, an ex-congressman and a war veteran, died at Thomasville, Ga., where he had gone for his health. His home was in Cincinnati.

President Sanford B. Dole of the Hawaiian republic, arrived in San Francisco from Honolulu on the steamer Peru.

Richard Murray and Richard Thomas were killed and Louis Rich fatally injured by an explosion of dynamite in a mine near Bourne, Ore.

Fire destroyed Music hall, which was built in 1895 in Cleveland at a cost of $60,000.

In Chicago Albert C. Greenleaf, once a wealthy wholesale merchant in Columbus, O., committed suicide by jumping from the sixteenth story of the Masonic temple.

Indianapolis has been chosen as the headquarters of the United Mine Workers.

A terrific tornado wrecked many houses and injured several persons near Maud, O. T.

In St. Joseph, Mo., a series of railroad ticket forgeries have come to light which are believed to have been carried on a number of years.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

The new captain general of Puerto Rico, Gen. Gonzales Muniz, died immediately after his arrival there.

In Havana a decree has been published prohibiting the publication in newspapers of cable dispatches without previous censorship.

Pope Leo advocates as the solution of the eternal question between the vatican and the quirinal the establishment of an Italian republic.

The riots in Havana are said to have given the death blow to autonomy, as they prove that not only the Cubans do not want it, but that the army volunteers and Spanish element generally are determined to fight against it.

After passing an alien labor law the Ontario legislature adjourned sine die.

By a fire which devastated Port au Prince, Hayti, 800 buildings were destroyed.

The death of Charles Pelham Villiers, known as the "Father of the British house of commons," having sat continuously in the house since 1835, occurred at South Wolverton, aged 96 years.

LATER NEWS.

A reduction in the wages of about 125,000 operatives employed in nearly 150 cotton mills in New England, which the manufacturers decided upon as a temporary remedy for depression in the cotton goods industry of the north, went into effect in a majority of the mills the 17th.

The steamer Corona arrived at Victoria, B. C., from Skaguay with 18 men and one woman direct from Dawson City, with nearly a million dollars in gold dust, nuggets and drafts.

Two men were fatally hurt by a boiler explosion in the Fernclife distillery at Louisville, Ky.

The military judge of Havana has ordered the arrest of the editor of El Reconcentrado for having attacked the army through the columns of his paper during the past few days.

The United States supreme court decides that when a man of sound mind commits suicide, the heirs cannot collect the life insurance of the deceased.

The United States revenue cutter Dallas was called upon to subdue a mutiny on board the schooner Viking which are anchored at Vinyard Haven, Mass.

Bread riots have recently occurred in various parts of Italy.

Ex-Congressman B. S. Hooper died at Farmville, Va.

John Matthews, a groceryman in New York City, killed his wife and two children with a hatchet and then shot himself, because of pecuniary troubles.

Acting Secretary of War Meiklejohn calls on congress for an additional regiment of artillery. There are not now enough men to properly care for the guns.

Forty persons were killed and 18 injured by an explosion of gas in one of the mines in southern Russia.

Dr. Charles F. Simmons, a millionaire resident of St. Louis Mo., shot and killed Emil Davidson. Simmons claims that Davidson had attacked the reputation of his daughter.

Signor Nicolini, husband of Adeline Patti, died at his residence in France from a cancerous affection.

China has effected a settlement with Germany. Kiao-Chau bay is to be leased, a belt surrounding the bay extending about 30 miles to be the boundary. All the German troops outside the prescribed limits are to be withdrawn.

The congressional house committee on commerce voted to report the anti-scalping bill in the form of a substitute which abolishes all forms of scalping railroad tickets, and places a penalty on railroad officers who deal with scalpers.

The Androscoggin cotton mills at Lewiston, Me., have shut down in all departments for an indefinite period, owing to the strike of a portion of the operatives.

The United States circuit court of appeals at Philadelphia has affirmed the sentence of two years' imprisonment and $500 fine imposed upon John D. Hart for Cuban filibustering in connection with the steamer Laurada.

Senator Platt of New York introduced a bill in congress providing for the withdrawal of pensions from soldiers employed in the civil service, where their salaries exceed $1,200 per annum.

According to statistics at the treasury department the value of exports by the United States for the calender year 1897 aggregated $1,100,000 an increase of $93,000,000 over any proceeding year.

Cuba had a hearing in the house of representatives the 18th and for a time it looked as if parliamentary precedents would be set aside and the senate resolution, recognizing the insurgents as belligerents, would be attached as a rider to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. Mr. De Armond, a Missouri Democrat, precipitated the issue by offering the resolution as an amendment but on a point of order against it was sustained. Mr. De Armond appealed.

The riksdag or the parliament of Sweden, was opened the 18th by King Oscar in a speech from the throne. His majesty expresses his pleasure at the manifestations of Sweden attachment on the occation of his jubilee and at the cordial relations existing with all the powers.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 92 to 92½c; No. 2 northern, 86½ to 87c; May, 91c.

Corn—No. 3, 26c.

Oats—No. 3, white, 22 to 23c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.75; cows, $2.50.

Hogs—$3.20 to 3.45.

Sheep, Mutton, $3.10 to 4.50; lambs, $4.25.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 19 to 20c; creamery, firsts, 20 to 21c; dairy, fancy, 16 to 17; dairy, choice, 14 to 15.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c. spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

HE TELLS OF ITS WORK.

Senator Wolcott's Story of Doings of Bimetallic Commission.

Furtherance of Its Plans Blocked by Great Britain—Believes International Agreement Can Still Be Brought About.

Washington, Jan. 18. — Senator Edward Wolcott, of Colorado, addressed the senate Monday on the subject of the bimetallic commission's trip to Europe. Following is part of his speech.

It was perfectly realized from the beginning, he said, that bimetallism for England was out of the question. "India was the vital point of all the negotiations with England, and all other proposals were insignificant in comparison with that respecting the reopening of the mints of India to the unlimited coinage of silver, and the repeal of the order pertaining to gold to be paid for government dues and to be exchanged for government rupees."

Mr. Wolcott spoke at some length upon the conditions in India, explaining the value of the rupee since the closing of the mints to silver in 1893. The closing of the mints had, he said, created wide dissatisfaction, and there was a general impression that the Indian government would be glad to retrace its steps.

"To us," Mr. Wolcott continued, "the India situation is inexplicable. Millions of people, most of them extremely poor, have for years invested all their savings in silver. These accumulations a few years ago were worth $1,000,000,000 and more. To-day they are worth less than half that sum. By the closing of the India mints and the artificial gold value given to silver, India is at a great disadvantage with the neighboring countries, the exports of which are stimulated by the higher premium on gold, and they are robbing India of much of her manufacturing and export trade. The present policy inflicts upon India, as well, the evils of an insufficient and steadily lessening currency, evils which the vicissitudes of that dependency during the past 12 months have served to emphasize.

"The world has heard much of the famine in India and of the great funds subscribed for its victims. It has not been, however, so generally known that the famine was one of money rather than food; that the contributions were chiefly forwarded to India in the form of money and not grain, and that during the whole period of the famine rice was abundant where men were starving and its price was but a trifle over a cent a pound less than the price of wheat in England. For all these evils, the loss in the value of the savings of the people, the disadvantage of a different purchasing value for silver in India from that which prevailed in China, the evils of an insufficient volume of money and the enormous injury which commerce suffers through violent fluctuations in the rate of exchange, we offered what we believed to be a remedy. Our offer was refused, and the refusal must be considered as final until the failure of the experiment upon which the Indian government has entered shall be demonstrated."

Here Mr. Wolcott announced his intention to retire from the commission. He said:

"It is my sincere conviction that an international bimetallic agreement is still feasible, by the terms of which certain countries will join us and open their mints to the unlimited coinage of silver, and others will contribute to the plan an enlarged use of that metal as money, and I say this the more freely because I shall give way upon the commission to somebody more fitted for such negotiations and better able to give them his constant time. This result cannot be brought about without the expenditure of both time and patience, and the persons intrusted with the duty of negotiation must have back of them the hearty support of the president and of congress."

He thought it might be necessary to change the ratio to something like twenty to one.

At this point he referred to the attitude of Secretary Gage on the financial question, contrasting it with the president's position, his words on this point being as follows:

"When congress convened on the 7th of last month, the president, in his references to the subject of international bimetallism, spoke earnestly and anxiously of his desire to see an international bimetallic agreement consummated. His assurances gave renewed hope to bimetallists all over the country, and seemed final and conclusive answer to those who had claimed that the president was not in earnest in his efforts toward international bimetallism. For myself I needed no such proof. I had again and again been made to know how genuine was the president's devotion to this settlement of the vexed question. Within a fortnight after this, with no event meanwhile which would change existing conditions, the secretary of the treasury in support of a bill which he has prepared respecting the currency, said as follows to a committee of congress."

(Here he quoted the remarks of the secretary of the treasury.)

"The two statements are utterly at variance," he continued, "and contradictory to each other. They cannot be reconciled. This is not the proper occasion to analyze the bill of the secretary. It will reach limbo long before it reaches the senate.

Continuing his presentation of the desirability of an international agreement, which had been digressed from to score the treasury, Mr. Wolcott said: "Whatever differences of opinion may exist as to the ability of this country to maintain alone the parity between silver and gold, there is no question that the concurrence of other nations would help and not hinder the cause of bimetallism in the United States, and efforts to secure it ought to receive the cordial support of every citizen who is opposed to gold monometallism. International bimetallism is not a myth, a chimera. The people of Europe are, even as we are, struggling to keep their heads above water and seeking blindly for that which they may make for prosperity and progress.

"Much of the recent legislation in Europe looking to the increase of gold holdings and the depreciation of silver finds its origin in the exigencies of a situation where readiness for war is the paramount necessity. There is hardly a statesman in Europe who believes the last word has yet been said upon the question of the remonetization of silver, and hardly one who would not welcome an effort to settle the question internationally. Only a few days ago, just before Christmas, in a debate in the French chamber M. Meline again declared from the tribune that the French government was as one with the United States on the question of bimetallism.

"In the face of such a declaration it is as cowardly to abandon hope as it is false to talk about failure. International bimetallism is to the gold monometallists a stumbling block and to the silver monometallists foolishness, but it is nevertheless a splendid possibility; its accomplishment would be the greatest blessing that could befall our people, and to achieve it we might well afford to sink for the time the hostilities of party and the bickerings of factions."

Buys Five Hundred Reindeer.

Washington, Jan. 18.—A telegram was received at the war department from Dr. Jackson at Trondhjem, Norway, stating that Mr. Kjellmann was on his way from the interior with 500 fine reindeer which he had purchased, together with a suitable number of sleds and drivers. The deer have all been dehorned so that they may be safely shipped.

Fell Dead.

Niles, Mich., Jan. 18.—While sitting in her chair, with her Bible on her lap, Mrs. John Shepard, of Sturgis, fell over dead. Heart disease was the cause.

Another Relief Expedition.

Copenhagen, Jan. 18.—An agent of the Canadian government, named Lewis, is organizing an expedition for the relief of the miners in the Yukon valley, similar to the one undertaken by Dr. Sheldon Jackson, in behalf of the United States government. Six Laplanders and 114 reindeer are already en route.

Cubans Reach New York.

New York, Jan. 18.—Among the passengers who arrived on board the Ward line steamer Saratoga from Havana was Augustin Cossio, the father of Angelina Cossio y Cisneros. Cossio was released by Gen. Blanco on Sunday, January 9.

RIOT IN PARIS.

Anarchists Create Trouble at a Students' Meeting.

Paris, Jan. 18.—A great anti-Dreyfus and anti-Semite meeting Monday night at the Tivoli Vaux hall produced extraordinary scenes. The neighborhood was paraded by police mounted and on foot and the rapidly growing crowd increased the excitement. At nine o'clock on the opening of the meeting, the hall was a seething sea of humanity, crowding every part, gesticulating, shouting: "A bas Zola," "Vive l'armee" and "Vive la revolution sociale." The members of the anti-Semite committee displayed banners bearing the inscription "Death to the Jews" and other inscriptions.

It was soon seen that the 5,000 present consisted largely of anarchists and of others bent on opposing the students. On M. Guerin, the president, proposing that the honorary presidency be conferred upon M. Rochefort and M. Durmont a great uproar ensued, the anarchists trying to wrench the banners from the anti-Semites. Scuffles took place in which two of the officials were injured. Tumults and fights for the banners continued, with shoutings, whistling and singing of the "Marsellaise" and the "Carmagnole." Finally the students chased the anarchists out of the hall. The organizers of the meeting then seized the flags decorating the hall and arranged a rendezvous at the Military club, crying: "Vive l'armee!"

The hall partially emptied, but soon the anarchists returned, and, breaking open the great doors, began further fighting. It is alleged that several were injured. Finally the students were vanquished and the anarchists masters of the situation.

The interest was now transferred to the streets, where the police had been reenforced by the republican guards. At midnight large bodies of students flourishing the tricolor and shouting: "Vive l'armee!" proceeded in the direction of the Military club of the Avenue de l'Opera. The troops cleared the Place de la Republique and charged the bodies of students. In the melee some were wounded and others arrested.

Telegrams from numerous provincial towns report student manifestations at Marseilles, where the windows of Jewish shops were broken. At Nantes there have been some anti-Jewish attacks.

TO RESTRICT IMMIGRATION.

The United States Senate Passes a New Measure.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The immigration bill was taken up in the senate Monday, and discussed until three o'clock, the hour at which, by previous agreement, it had been arranged to vote finally upon the amendments and the bill. An amendment offered by Senator Spooner (Wis.) providing that the ability on the part of the immigrant either to read or to write should be accepted as a sufficient test of his literacy was adopted by a vote of 42 to 22. Another amendment by Senator Spooner providing that the members of the family accompanying an immigrant rejected under the conditions of the bill should be returned to the country whence they came by the steamship companies was also adopted. Other efforts were made to amend the measure, but failed. The bill was then passed by a vote of 45 to 28.

[The bill as passed provides that all immigrants physically capable and over 16 years of age shall be able to read or write the English language or some other language; but a person not able to read or write who is over 50 years of age, and is the parent or grandparent of a qualified immigrant over 21 years of age and capable of supporting such a parent or grandparent, may accompany the immigrant or the parent or grandparent may be sent for, and come to join the family of the child or grandchild over 21 years of age qualified under the law; and wife or minor child not able to read or write may accompany or be sent for and come to join the husband or parent who is qualified. The act does not apply to persons coming to the United States from the island of Cuba during the continuance of the present disorders there, who have heretofore been inhabitants of that island.]

Dinner to the President.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The vice president and Mrs. Hobart entertained the president and Mrs. McKinley Friday evening at a beautifully appointed dinner of 20 covers. The drawing-rooms and library of the vice president's mansion, the former home of Senator and Mrs. Cameron, were fragrant with roses, while the tables at which the guests were seated were superbly decorated with bridesmaid roses and lighted with tiny wax tapers under silver and white shades. This was Mrs. McKinley's first appearance as a dinner guest in Washington since the inauguration and was consequently awaited with great interest. The other guests present were the secretary of state and Mrs. Sherman, the secretary of the treasury and Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Alger, the attorney-general and Mrs. McKenna, Postmaster-General and Mrs. Gary, the secretary of the navy and Mrs. Long, the secretary of the interior and Mrs. Bliss, the secretary of agriculture and Mrs. Sanford, the guest of the house, and Senator Sewell, of New Jersey.

Important Battle in Cuba.

Havana, Jan. 14.—It is reported that an important engagement has taken place between the Spaniards and the insurgents under Gen. Rabi in the district of Manzanillo in which the insurgents lost 300 men killed and the Spaniards 140 men killed and wounded. On account of the concentration of the insurgent forces a few leagues distant from Havana, Gen. Valdarama left here Wednesday with 800 troops to engage the enemy. As several chiefs of Spanish columns have burned farms and cornfields and have shot prisoners of war, including sick and wounded men, Gen. Blanco has issued a new decree prohibiting the destruction of all kinds of property and forbidding the shooting of prisoners who are sick or wounded. The captain general has also issued decrees supplying the planters and farmers for their defense with the rifles which belonged to the invalided soldiers sent back to Spain.

Durrant's Body Cremated.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 14.—The body of Murderer W. H. T. Durrant was cremated at the crematory of Reynolds & Van Nuys Thursday. At two o'clock the ashes were removed from the furnace and delivered to the parents. No one saw the inside of the crematory except the employes and the Durrants.

Benjamin Butterworth Dead.

Cincinnati, Jan. 17.—A special to the Commercial-Tribune from Thomasville, Ga., says: Hon. Benjamin Butterworth, United States commissioner of patents, who has been ill at Piney Woods hotel here several weeks, died at 3:15 Sunday afternoon.

THE YEAR OPENS WELL.

Satisfactory Indications Prevail in Commercial Circles.

New York, Jan. 15.—R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say:

"The year has opened with a very satisfactory prospect. It is all the better that there is no wild excitement in the speculative markets, and while stocks advance a little, grain yields a little. The payment through the principal clearing houses, notwithstanding a decrease at New York, owing to less activities in stocks, are 2.6 per cent. larger than in 1892, and 10.1 per cent. larger outside New York. Earnings of all railroads in the United States reporting for December, $43,364,279, indicate substantially the same rate of increase, exceeding last year's by 10.5 per cent. and the earnings of 1892 for the same roads by 1.3 per cent. Since 1892 was, on the whole, the most prosperous year thus far, comparisons indicate, notwithstanding the lowest prices ever known, that the volume of business is larger and, in spite of some cutting of rates, the earnings of railroads are larger than the best year of past history.

"The wheat market has been curiously languid, yielding a quarter of a cent, although Atlantic exports amount to 6,056,788 bushels for the two weeks of January, against 3,986,317 last year, and Pacific exports for the week have been 1,979,676 bushels. Western receipts continue so heavy that the greatest accumulation of wheat at Chicago ever known there is little encouragement for speculation. Corn exports continue large, although equal to last year's, amounting to 3,136,688 bushels, against 4,142,632 bushels for the week last year, and the price declined about three-fourths of a cent.

"Split cotton is a sixteenth lower for middling uplands, mainly because of the stoppage of some mills by difficulty about wages. But nothing is definitely known about the quantity of cotton yet coming forward, and one report of creditable character puts the year's yield at 10,570,250 bales, though results thus far do not quite justify so large an estimate.

"The iron furnaces in blast January 1 report an output of 226,608 tons weekly, against 226,024 weekly December 1, with an increase of 12,281 tons in the unsold stocks held by furnaces. While this shows a consumption of 52½ per cent. larger than a year ago, there would be discouraging indications of consumption but for the fact that several furnaces were stopped for the holidays, and these, with several others, have started since January 1, while the demand for finished products does not diminish. The Pennsylvania road has ordered 100,000 tons steel rails, and a new railroad in Maine 12,000 tons, and other orders for cars, railroad supplies, plates, bars and structural material are unusually large for the season."

PRESIDENT DOLE ARRIVES.

Hawaiian Executive Comes in the Interest of Annexation.

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—Sanford B. Dole, who has an island to give away, stepped upon American soil Monday morning from the steamship Peru from Honolulu. He is the chief executive of a friendly nation and comes on a mission absolutely unique in the history of this country. Regarding the object of his trip, President Dole talked after reaching the hotel, though he would not say much that was definite. He said:

"I hope to meet President McKinley in his home, to grasp and hold his hand as a friend, as the representative of a friendly republic whose people have much in common with the citizens of this nation, and, in a social, unofficial way, discuss the problem of annexation. I come in response to no direct mandate from my government. No communications upon this subject have passed between myself and President McKinley. I have no direct, rigid plans."

The president spoke of the feeling existing in the islands upon the subject of annexation. "The sentiment in favor of the proposition," he said, "is growing quite rapidly among the more intelligent and better classes of natives. They realize the benefits to be gained, and the sentiment of friendship for this country is growing stronger. We do not feel certain that annexation will occur, yet we feel reasonably hopeful. I do not come to plead the cause. I do not intend to appear before congress nor any of the committees. All of my communications on the subject will be through the president."

GIGANTIC STRUGGLE ON.

Inauguration of the Cotton Workers' Strike Against Cut in Wages.

Boston, Jan. 18.—The greatest struggle between capital and labor in the history of New England's cotton industry began Monday. The reduction in wages ranges from ten to fifteen per cent., and affects about 125,000 operatives in 150 cotton mills. In all, 16,745 operatives are on a strike, $26,000,000 of capital is affected and 28 mills are closed. Not a loom is turning in New Bedford, where 8,730 operatives are idle. In Biddeford, Me., 3,500 hands are out, and in Saco 1,600 are loafing. In Lewiston, Me., 1,290 workers refused to accept the reduction. In Burlington, Vt., 300 wage-earners struck, and in Fitchburg, Mass., 225 quit work. In Fall River 1,100 are out.

In Nashua, N. H.; Waterville, Me.; Pittsfield, N. H.; Chester, Me.; Salmon Falls, N. H.; Amesbury, Mass.; Brunswick, Me., and Augusta, Me., the operatives accepted the 10 and 11 per cent. reductions, but await the outcome of the strikes in other places, to begin a struggle for themselves. They will give financial assistance to their struggling brethren. In Lowell the cut-down will not go into effect until Friday.

Terriss' Slayer.

London, Jan. 14. — The trial of Richard Arthur Prince, who killed William Terriss, the actor, began Thursday at the Old Bailey. Prince declared that he was "guilty, with great provocation." The mother and brother of the prisoner testified that Prince had claimed that he was Christ and that his mother was the Virgin Mary. It was also asserted in court that Prince had once attacked one of his brothers with a knife. The jury returned a verdict that Prince was "guilty, in that he was aware of what he did; but the jury, accepting the medical testimony, declare him to be irresponsible." The judgment of the court was that Prince be detained as a criminal lunatic during her majesty's pleasure.

Death of Gen. Auger.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Gen. Christopher Colon Auger, U. S. A., retired, died of old age at his home in West Washington Sunday night. Gen. Auger was one of the three surviving members of the class of '43 at West Point, the class with which Gen. Grant graduated. Gen. Auger served with Grant in Mexico and afterward with distinction through the civil war. After the civil war he saw considerable active service in the Indian uprisings on the frontier and was later in command of various departments of the army. He was retired in 1885 and has since lived in Washington.

Forty-Five Were Killed.

Fort Smith, Ark., Jan. 14.—The latest official death list shows a total of 45 lives lost in the tornado which swept through Fort Smith Tuesday night. Not less than 70 others are injured, a large number of whom are seriously hurt, and several are expected to die. In Crawford county three persons were killed, three fatally injured and about 20 less seriously hurt.

Must Not Wed.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—An act to prevent the marriage of first cousins has passed the house.

Rheumatism
Is permanently cured
By Hood's Sarsaparilla
Which neutralizes the
Lactic acid in the blood.
Thousands who were
Sufferers write that they
Have felt no symptoms
Of Rheumatism since Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

A WISE PEDDLER.

He Knew Very Well How to Dispose of His Goods.

He carried a big load of brooms, and as he zigzaged along the sidewalk with his burden on his back he cast his pale, gooseberry eyes over the houses to see a probable customer. Then he ascended a flight of steps and was hailed by the woman next door.

"You can't sell any brooms there. The woman in that house never buys at the door."

He rang the bell and waited. Sure enough the woman of the house opened the door, and when she saw the broom vender she was about to close it again.

"I don't want anything," she said.

"I know it," said the man. "The woman next door said you wouldn't buy anything."

"She did, did she? Perhaps I'm as able to buy things as she is. How much did you say your brooms were?"

"She said I couldn't sell you any—that you never bought anything at the door."

"Dear me, I wonder how she knew? Give me that broom with the covered handle and the one striped red and blue. And I'll take two of those small whisk brooms. So? I never buy anything at the door! The idea!" Then he called on the first woman who had talked with him and sold out the rest of his brooms at a big advance over his original prices. He had been in neighborhoods before.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Making Up Her Mind.

"Why, Ethel, what are you doing with that big medical work in your lap?"

"Well, Arabella, you'd never guess, I am quite sure."

"You are not going to make a physician of yourself, are you?"

"Not at all. I am trying to find out which of my two suitors I love enough to marry. What do you think of that?"

"How can a cyclopaedia of medicine help you?"

"Well, it's this way. Mr. Spondulicks is 57 years of age. He is worth $400,000 and has consumption. Mr. Dukkats is 65 years old. He is worth $300,000 and has incipient Bright's disease. I thought perhaps this medical book would help me to make up my mind. I have about decided that I love Mr. Dukkats the better. Which would you love?"—N. Y. World.

His Meditations.

Soon after Singleton's first baby was born Mrs. Singleton went upstairs one evening and entered the room where her darling lay asleep. There she found her husband standing by the side of the crib and gazing earnestly at the child. As she stood still for a moment touched by the sight, the tears filled her eyes and she thought:

"Oh, how dearly Charles loves that boy."

Her arms stole softly around his neck, as she rubbed her cheek caressingly against his shoulder. Singleton started slightly at the touch. "Darling," he said dreamily, voicing his thoughts, "it is incomprehensible to me how they can get up such a crib as that for $2.50."—N. Y. Journal.

The Brass of Critics.

"I often marvel," said Pennington, the author, "at these critics who in an hour's time blast a work over which we authors have spent a year."

"Yes," replied Cawstik, who had read Pennington's latest, "when a minute would suffice them to say all that is necessary."—Philadelphia North American.

Not Up to Date.

"I never have loved before," he said, passionately.

"Dear me!" she exclaimed. "And you're almost 21, two. How your education has been neglected, hasn't it?"—Chicago Post.

TRADE-MARK.

BAKER'S CHOCOLATE

Celebrated for more than a century as a delicious, nutritious, and flesh-forming beverage. Has our well-known

YELLOW LABEL

on the front of every package, and our trade-mark

"La Belle Chocolatiere"

on the back.

NONE OTHER GENUINE.

Made only by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

ESTABLISHED 1780.

THERE'S ONLY ONE RAILROAD

That operates its trains on the famous block system between the Twin Cities, Milwaukee and Chicago;

That lights its trains by electricity throughout;

That uses the celebrated electric berth reading lamp;

That runs four splendidly equipped passenger trains every day from St. Paul and Minneapolis through to Chicago, via Milwaukee;

And THAT road is the

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL.

It also operates steam-heated vestibuled trains, carrying the latest private compartment cars, library buffet smoking cars, and palace drawing-room sleepers.

Parlor cars, free reclining chair cars and the very best dining car service.

For lowest rates to any point in the United States, Canada or Mexico, apply to ticket agents, or address

J. T. CONLEY,
Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agt.,
St. Paul, Minn.

NOTE.—Elegantly equipped trains from St. Paul and Minneapolis through to Peoria, St. Louis and Kansas City daily.

A. N. K.—G 1892

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Gained Forty-eight Pounds.

"I had a strong appetite for liquor which was the beginning of the breaking down of my health. I was also a slave to tea and coffee drinking. I took the gold cure, but it did not help me."

This is a portion of an interview clipped from the Daily Herald, of Clinton, Iowa. It might well be taken for the subject of a temperance lecture, but that is not our object in publishing it. It is to show how a system, run down by drink and disease, may be restored. We cannot do better than quote further from the same:

I Retired to City Life.

"For years I was unable to do my work. I could not sleep nights or rest days on account of continuous pains in my stomach and back. I was unable to digest my food. Headaches and painful urination were frequent, and my heart's action became increased. I left my farm and retired to city life, for I was a confirmed invalid, and the doctors said I would never be well again.

"Soon after I happened to use four boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and since then I have been free from all pain, headache and dyspepsia. I eat heartily and have no appetite for strong drink or tea or coffee, and feel twenty years younger.

"My weight has increased 48 pounds. I cannot say too much for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and claim that they have cured me.

"JOHN B. COOK."

Subscribed and sworn to before me this sixteenth day of February, 1897.

A. P. BARKER, Notary Public.

To people run down in health from whatever cause—drink or disease—the above interview will be of interest. The truth of it is undoubted as the statement is sworn to, and we reproduce the oath here. For any further facts concerning this medicine write to Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

The name and address of the subject of above interview is John B. Cook, of 208 South 5th Street, Lyon, Iowa.

HELD AN ACCIDENT POLICY.

A Cyclist's Disgust at Not Being Hurt in a Collision.

This is the story of a somewhat unusual accident. It happened on the Conduit road one evening early in the fall, and the man who told me about it was an eyewitness. It is singularly appropriate, by the way, that he should be an eyewitness, for he is an oculist by profession. A man on a bicycle was scorching cheerily along on the way to town, when suddenly there loomed up out of the darkness in front of him a heavy wagon and a team headed straight for him. There was no time to turn out. The wheel crashed into the wagon pole, and the rider was thrown completely over the horses, falling between them and the wagon. The oculist ran to the rescue, expecting to see a limp mass of bleeding and unconscious humanity. Instead, he saw a kicking and swearing person who was apparently uninjured. The bicycle was a Chinese puzzle of twisted wire.

"Are you hurt?" asked the oculist.

The swearing person picked himself up and stopped swearing. He gazed at what had once been a fair young bicycle.

"Hurt!" he said in a tone of deepest disgust. "Hurt? Me? Of course I ain't hurt. I've got an accident policy."—Washington Post.

THE WORM TURNS.

Suffering Humanity Will Not Always Tamely Submit to Affability.

The affable passenger had been searching for a victim for a long time. He had made exclamations when reading his paper, in the hopes that it would attract the attention of some one and give him the opportunity to show his power as a conversationalist, but all his little ruses failed. The people who sat near him seemed to be wholly centered on themselves, but still he was not completely discouraged. He looked about him, and, selecting one man to whom he thought he might be able to impart much interesting information, he began operations by remarking:

"Pardon me, but you look very much like a man I know."

The man who was addressed looked over the affable passenger gloomily, and, recognizing the type, he replied, in tones that would cause the thermometer to sink, even in the Klondike:

"Yes, that is possibly so; but at the same time you must excuse me, for you look exactly like a man I don't want to know."—Puck.

Reminded of the Auld Sod.

A Cleveland landlord has one of his houses tenanted by a family that is out of all proportion to the size of the dwelling. In fact, he strongly suspects that there are at least two distinct families in the house, and he is quite anxious to get rid of them. He doesn't want to turn them out, and he has been hoping they would take frequent hints he gives them and seek some other location. Lately they have complained of a leaky roof, but the landlord has determined to make no repairs until they leave.

A few days ago the head of the household waited on him.

"Well, sor," he said, "that roof has been leakin' agin."

"Has it?" said the landlord.

"Yis, sor. It leaks right over me sister's bed. Draps right down on her, sor. This marnin' she came out o' the room a-cryin' sor. It had been raining on her all night. Yis, sor, cryin'."

"Well, why in Tophet," inquired the landlord, "didn't she move the bed?"

"'Twasn't that, sor," hastily remarked the tenant. "'Twasn't that."

"What ailed her, then?"

"Why, you see, sor, she were just a-cryin' because it reminded her so much of home."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

As a matter of fact, nobody believes in a hell except for his neighbor.—Ram's Horn.

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

AT EVENTIDE.

Forgotten be the festering cares
Of the long day, since morning light;
The hour of winged thoughts and prayers
Is come with noiselessness and night.

All day we grovel; the low ground
Is high as our desires; our eye
Doth never upward glance; no sound
Wakes our dull ear to ecstacy.

Care hovers hawk-like overhead,
And peace, the white dove, will not stay
And joy's red roses all are dead,
And long and dreary is the day.

But 'neath the dusky, brooding wing
Of nights our hearts grow still and sweet,
Like one who hears his mother sing,
And creeps unbidden to her feet.

We hear the heavenly harmonies,
The fret and worry drop away;
And holy benisons of peace
Fill our hushed hearts at close of day.
—Anna Frances Burnham, in S. S. Times.

An Intercepted Message.

An Incident Tending to Show That Appearances Do Sometimes Deceive.

SITTING in a New York hotel one November evening, carelessly running over the headlines of a newspaper, I had my eyes and wandering thoughts arrested by an article that stirred some pleasant memories. Stepping to the table near at hand I was clipping the bit of news when a handsome, athletic young fellow approached from the opposite side, knife and paper in hand. A moment later each noticed that the other was preserving the same information. Our eyes met, his brown and laughing, mine blue and aggressive.

"Beg pardon," he began with a smile that lighted up his dark face and showed his strong white teeth to advantage, "odd coincidence, isn't it?"

"I don't know," with some constraint. "Up to a short time ago my experience was so entirely along one pleasant line that my thoughts never went outside of it. Of late surprises have come so rapidly that they cease to surprise. Do you know her?"

"I'm inclined to think it my privilege to do the interrogating in this instance, but you have already satisfied my chief curiosity in the matter. If you were not acquainted with Margie Morell you would scarcely be putting that flattering criticism away in your pocketbook."

"You speak familiarly of her;" and, despite my efforts to imitate his easy manner, there was a challenge in my voice.

"Naturally enough," and his smile was the more aggravating because the more genial. "I have known her for years. Used to carry her books, haul her on her little sled, skate with her, ride with her, advise with her, encourage her when success in music seemed so far off, and all that. Held her on my knee a thousand times. Why, she spoiled the creases in this very pair of trousers I'm wearing."

Now there was an effort at self-control on my part. "You are a scoundrel and a blackguard," I whispered as I leaned over the table. "If I ever hear of your repeating such language I'll find a way to punish you without involving the name of the young lady you have been coward enough to slander."

No change in his smile, but a little more blood in his face as he answered: "Southerner, I should judge?"

"Yes, southerner, and one that tries to retain the virtues of chivalry without its faults. I want nothing more to say to you."

"But I like you. I insist on pursuing the acquaintance. It makes me happy to chance upon so stout a champion of Margie."

"Mention that name again and I'll—"

"Hold hard, my bold southron," and this time he laughed outright. "I'm Fred Morell, Margie's brother. In fact, I'm the responsible head of the family. Have you any special right to fight the battles of my sister?"

"Only the right of a gentleman who holds her in the highest respect. I met her abroad with her mother. I was completing my education in medicine and Miss Morell was cultivating her wonderful voice. In the midst of an acquaintance so delightful to me I received news of my father's sudden death, and with it the startling information that disastrous speculation had wiped out the large fortune that I had always been led to expect. I hastened home to Kentucky, spent six months in settling up the affairs of the estate, and have just come north to see what I can make of talents that have never yet been called upon to earn anything."

"It might have been worse. You are Dr. Tom Curran. I've heard them speak of you frequently. Why not take a run out with me and renew the acquaintance?"

It was a temptation, and we are prone to compromise with temptation. I could not go then because I was to spend a couple of weeks with my own relative, Uncle Bruff Curran, who lived 20 miles out of St. Louis. But when Fred and I parted it had been arranged that I should take dinner with the Morell household.

At Uncle Bruff's I was having a glorious time, though he was a bachelor of 60 and cynical as he was rich. My strange experience there began one afternoon when I was out shooting over as fine a pair of Irish setters as ever stood a covey of birds. The sport was fast and furious and I was banging away without any precautions, for the game was in a desolate preserve and the thought of danger to anyone else never entered my mind. But my confidence in the fact of my complete isolation was brought up with a short turn. I had just let go with both barrels at a flying bunch of quail when I heard a shout of terror and witnessed a laughable sight. It was a man literally dropping down a telegraph pole, his eyes big with fright and a false beard shifted to the side of his face. The fine shot had peppered him harmlessly, but he thought that he had been fired upon and was beginning to plead for mercy when I approached him.

When I went in from my holiday hunt I found a new guest at the house. He was president of the then leading bank in St. Louis, in which uncle was a director and large stockholder. After dinner we smoked together and the two old men told me what had brought the president there.

But a short time before two elegant and distinguished-looking gentlemen had flashed upon the most exclusive social circle of the city. They dressed just within the extreme of fashion, spent money with princely prodigality, and one of them had placed $20,000 in the president's bank, just to meet the expenses of the brief visit. He had been introduced at the president's home and made such an inroad upon the daughter's affections that their engagement was currently reported. This depositor had unexceptional letters and each one guaranteed him entitled to unlimited credit.

One afternoon he rushed hurriedly into the bank. He just had a letter from one of his best and wealthiest friends in Boston. He was to have met a Denver lawyer in St. Louis that very day to pay a balance of $750,000 on a contract for mining lands in Colorado. Business involving an enormous sum kept this Boston man at home, and, despite his wealth, he did not have the ready money to meet the engagement. Would his old friend, known in St. Louis as Lawrence Bochart, draw on his own funds and look after the matter? There was an assured profit of a million, and they would share it.

"Is it all right?" asked the president, who was dazzled with Bochart and his apparently fabulous riches.

"I would like to help my friend, for it is my disposition. But let me insist that you first telegraph my bank in New York to see whether it will honor a draft for the amount required. For your kindness in the matter I want you to accept half the gain which my friend would make through the deal."

"I cannot think of it," replied the president.

"Then, sir, let me make it a wedding present to your daughter. I have not asked her hand, but, with your permission, I will do so."

"I sent the telegram at once," said the president to my uncle and myself. "Inside of half an hour I had an answer, signed by both the president and cashier, informing me that Mr. Bochart's account was far more than equal to the demand made upon it. I may have been blinded somewhat by the impression the young man had made upon me and the prospect of having him for a son-in-law, but I took the usual precautions, though the largeness of the amount at stake might have demanded more.

"We went to the hotel and paid the 'Denver lawyer' in currency, as exacted by the terms of the contract. He said that he would have preferred a certified check, but he would be around before the close of banking hours to deposit the sum with us. I had no sooner returned to the bank than I received a telegram from the New York bank saying that Lawrence Bochart had no account there and never had. Then it came upon me with the force of a terrible blow that the wire must have been tapped, that we were swindled and that the bank was crippled beyond hope of recovery. For myself, I was ruined.

"Of course," continued the president, "the rascal who cut such a wide swath in society, did not distribute his photographs, but my daughter is something of an artist and she sketched the fellow from memory. Here he is, and we'd gladly give $100,000 to recover the amount of the robbery."

The two older gentlemen took a look at the picture and then passed it to me. An exclamation of surprise had almost passed my lips, but I was a fortune-seeker myself and here was an unexpected opening. The picture was that of Fred Morell. Why should I not win the reward offered for the recovery of this stolen money? I had seen the wire-tapper and I knew the man who had so successfully played his part in the aristocratic set of St. Louis.

Two days later I was on my way to join in the Christmas festivities to which young Morell had invited me. I had no idea that he would be there to receive me, but then he was not the chief attraction. I had said nothing to the two old gentlemen of what I knew or what I had in mind, but I had decided to play the novel part of a detective and lay the foundation for some such fortune as I had always expected to inherit.

Fred Morell met me at the door of his home and a welcome could not have been more hearty. His mother was one of the most gracious of the old-school ladies, and her daughter was even more fascinating in her wondrous beauty than when she had won my love beyond the ocean. I could not enjoy such hospitality and then bring a sorrow worse than death upon those who offered it. I asked a private talk with Fred, and frankly told him what I had learned and how I had started out to recover the stolen money. There was mingled anger and contempt in his face as he answered me.

"You have taken me for a scoundrel again," he said, "but I must admit the force of the evidence. Cousin Bob has broken loose once more. Seen apart we have always been taken one for the other. He is a wonderful man and his talents, properly directed, would win him almost any position. But his inclination is to go wrong and he does not restrain it. Your mission is to bring him to book. If you like, I will go this far with you. He is rich through inheritance and fraud. Together we will run him down and secure a return of the money lost by the bank. We will make him leave the country for good, but without such an arrangement I will lend you no assistance. He is the first to bring disgrace on the family name and I care more for it than for his punishment."

A load was lifted from my heart, and never was there a more delightful day spent than in that old homestead. There I was convinced that Margie's hand was mine when I should claim it, and time justifies the blissful confidence.

In New York we found the man whom I had surprised in hunting. Through fear he was induced to discover the whereabouts of "Cousin Bob." With the suavity of a diplomat and a running fire of wit, he accepted our terms. He assured us with unblushing raillery that the president's daughter had pierced his heart, that he had voluntarily decided upon a residence abroad and that it afforded him inexpressible pleasure to comply with our wishes.

I put the bank on its feet again, made the old president the happiest man in the country, tickled Uncle Bruff so that he named me as his sole heir, and made Margie Morell my wife. I'll say nothing of myself, but Mrs. Dr. Tom Curran's receptions are the most popular and most sought after in one of the greatest cities of the country. — Detroit Free Press.

Rheumatism Cured by Aluminium.

A German doctor of reputation prescribes aluminium as a cure for rheumatism. A finger ring made of this metal joined with another generates a gentle current of electricity, which, he says, effects a perfect cure.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

No One to Blame.

The commission appointed by Gov. Clough some months ago to investigate the management of the state prison at Stillwater, have held a conference, and it was announced that they are decided as to the findings they will make in the case. The commissioners agree that the officials are not to be blamed to any great extent for the troubles which were presented to them as most serious. They are agreed that the root of the whole matter is to be found in the fact that many of the prisoners sentenced to Stillwater in the past have been insane when sent there. The prison officials were not aware of the fact and could not be supposed to be aware of the fact. When the jury of 12 intelligent men had passed upon the guilt of the prisoner and had decided that he was a fit subject for confinement in prison, it was not within the province of a prison official to question their wisdom, according to the commission.

Changed His Mind.

George Williams, while in an intoxicated condition, wandered down by the river at Minneapolis, near Fourteenth avenue south. He was in a dejected frame of mind, and the sight of the river suggested to him that he might end his troubles by drowning himself. So he walked down the bank and out onto a framework which was used in constructing a sheering dam below the Minneapolis Gas company's plant. Selecting a place in the water which seemed cleanest and least agitated by the current, he jumped in. The water was cold and he shouted lustily for help. He was rescued.

A Strange Transaction.

A strange financial transaction, in which a Winona pioneer was interested, has been made public by the visit of a Chicago detective to Winona. In administering the estate of Mr. Laflin, a Chicago millionaire, a note for $17,000 has been presented by the Chicago attorney for collection. This note purports to have been given by Laflin to Henry D. Huff, about the time of the great Chicago fire, in 1871, and was to run seventeen years, with interest at 10 per cent, principal and interest to be payable at the end of this period to Huff or the bearer.

The present value of the note is $65,000. It was unmistakably written by Huff, and Laflin's signature appears to be genuine.

Fatal Accident.

John Husnick, a farmer living near Rice Lake, was fatally injured in an accident at New Brighton. The accident occurred on the road from Rice Lake to New Brighton. Husnick was driving into the city, when his team took fright and ran away. The wagon was upset and Husnick thrown out, striking on his head and fracturing his skull. He was taken home by a neighbor and died next day. He was about 55 years old and leaves a large family.

Successful Meeting.

The joint winter meeting of the Fillmore county and Southern Minnesota Horticultural societies has closed. It was a very enthusiastic meeting, and the discussions were animated and earnest. The following officers of the united society were elected: President, John C. Hawkins, Austin; vice presidents, Jonathan Freeman of Moscow, O. W. Moore of Spring Valley; Ilin L. Gregg of Austin; secretary and treasurer, Robert Parkhill of Chatfield.

Village Officers Sued.

Papers have been served on the village of Fairfax in a suit to recover $5,000 for the death of Theodore Edwin, who burned himself to death in the village lockup last fall. As the supreme court has decided that municipal corporations are not liable for the wrongful acts of their servants, the suit is brought to recover a personal judgment against the village officers for negligence while acting in their official capacity.

Blew Out the Gas.

Henry Butcher, a Money Creek farmer, made the old mistake of blowing out the gas when he went to bed at the Merchants' hotel at Winona. The transom was open so that the escaping gas was discovered before any serious results were experienced.

News in Brief.

Judge Webber, at New Ulm, sentenced Roswell D. Rice, of Madelia, indicted two years ago for grand larceny, to 64 months at Stillwater.

David R. Forgan, who for several years was cashier of the Northwestern National bank of Minneapolis, has been elected president of the Union National bank of Chicago, one of the strongest banking houses of the windy city.

Patrick O'Reilly, 9 years old, while watching a party of boys coasting in Minneapolis, was struck by a sled and killed.

Mathew R. Gerig has been appointed teacher at the Morris Indian school at $600 per annum.

Fred Miller, a farmer living about six miles from Lakefield, during a runaway, jumped from his buggy and broke his leg near the ankle.

On the Winnibogoshish reservation Sheriff Toole served a warrant upon George Lydick, the prominent logger, indicted for malfeasance in the county commissionership of Itasca county.

Wm. Bayman, residing in Minneapolis, encountered three highwaymen and was robbed of $460.

Gov. Clough has made three appointments to the state board of medical examiners: Dr. J. B. Brimhall, of St. Paul; Dr. Charles Simpson, of Minneapolis, reappointed; Dr. Oren C. Tarbox, appointed in place of Dr. Thomas McDavitt, of St. Paul.

R. H. Marshall, who conducts a news and stationery store on Wabasha street, St. Paul, has made an assignment.

Over $20,000 has now been secured for the maintenance of an Odd Fellows' Home in Minnesota, and the end is in sight, as the directors will advertise for a location as soon as they have $25,000.

The board of prison managers, at a recent meeting, decided to make the Minnesota state prison a depository for prisoners sentenced from the federal court of Wisconsin, in accordance with the request of the department of justice.

A young son of John I. Shaw, a farmer near Adams, had been skating with some other boys, and another boy started wrestling. The other boy threw Shaw, and he never moved afterward. When the boys looked in his face he was dead.

At a special election, the village of Excelsior decided not to reorganize.

REGULAR MIND READER.

A Music Box That Knew What Air to Play.

"I am fond of music, and, as I do not play and have no little ones about the house, I bought one of the finest music boxes that I could find. It was a large box and had nearly a score of melodies, from the sacred to the catchy negro airs, stored up within its recesses. There were bells and cymbals, too, and a tiny drum. It was a swell music box and no mistake. Well, one day I lost my position and was in absolute need of ready money. My prospects were excellent, and I did not want to injure them by borrowing from friends, on whom, however, I knew I could depend. To tide me over my difficulty I determined to pawn my music box (it cost me upward of $100—imported, you know), and I readily secured $25. Well, things did not pan out exactly as I expected—things seldom go just as they are scheduled to go—and it was a year almost before I found myself in a position to redeem the music box from the pawn shop. I took the ticket, went to the shop and told the man in charge that I wanted to redeem my instrument, and asked whether it had been kept in order and had not been injured. He assured me that it had not been tampered with, and, in proof thereof, he offered to let me wind it up and make it play before I paid back the money I had secured by its pledge. I accepted, and, after winding the box up, it started to play. Now, what do you think that darned old, long-forgotten musical instrument played?"

As he looked around the crowd no one could suggest the name of the air, and he said: "Darr my buttons, if it did not start right in and reel off 'I Know That My Redeemer Liveth.' Almost human knowledge that, almost human, sirs."—N. O. Times-Herald.

Hawaii and Japan.

Despatches from Washington state that there are about to be important developments in the Japanese imbroglio with the government of the Hawaiian Islands. However this may be, certain it is that the disturbance of the stomach caused by simple indigestion will develop into chronic dyspepsia unless checkmated at the start. The finest stomachic is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promptly rectifies gastric trouble, and does away with irregularity of the bowels and liver.

Lessons Discontinued.

Friend—What is the matter, Blankley? You're all cut about and your arm in a sling, as though you had been in a fight, and yet you look beaming and smiling over it all.

Blankley—The fact is, I have all along thought my boy Harold a sort of a muff, and I undertook to give him some boxing lessons. This is the result of the first lesson. O, I'm proud of that boy.—Odds and Ends.

Saved Their Lives.

It was at an afternoon tea and the crush was simply horrid. It seemed that nothing would save the few men present, when one quick-witted woman exclaimed: "Ladies, please remember there are gentlemen in the crowd!" It was all that preserved the poor things from a horrible fate.—Philadelphia North American.

Best of All

To cleanse the system in a gentle and truly beneficial manner, when the Springtime comes, use the true and perfect remedy, Syrup of Figs. Buy the genuine. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all druggists, at 50 cents per bottle.

Her Bathing Suit.

The summer girl's bathing suit is packed carefully away in camphor, just as if a moderate hungry moth would find it sufficient for a meal.—Somerville Journal.

A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE.

Heat, sense of tenderness and swelling of a part, are all indications that there is need of instant repair—the stitch in time. Where these symptoms exist on the left or the right side of the womb, disease of the ovary is setting in, and soon there will be, if there is not already established, a discharge, trifling at first, but later copious and irritating. Soon, also, there will be felt dull, dragging pains radiating from the ovary.

Do not, my sister, let your malady go so far, but those of you who are already suffering in this way should begin at once a course of treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will restore the organs to their normal condition.

In this connection MRS. E. L. MYERS, Quakake, Pa., says: "My ovaries were badly diseased, and for almost a year I suffered with severe burning pains which were almost unendurable, and a dull, heavy pain in the lower portion of my back. If standing I was most relieved with my foot resting on a stool or chair. The doctor told me I would have to take my bed and keep quiet. I had not used half a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before it worked wonders with me. I now owe my health to the Compound. To those who are suffering from diseases peculiar to women, I would say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just what they need."

Mrs. Pinkham wishes to befriend you, and if you will write her at Lynn, Mass., telling her just how you feel, she will give you the very best advice free of charge. Think what a privilege it is to be able to write to a woman who is learned in all these matters, and willing to advise you without charge.

Had Looked Them Over.

Mistress—Bridget, are there any letters for me this morning?

Bridget—Only two postal cards, but there's nothing of importance in them.—Fliegende Blaetter.

"The Hair, Its Care and Management," is the title of a pamphlet just published by Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass. They send it free to any one interested.

It Takes a Woman.

The average man doesn't know that he has distinguished ancestors until he marries and his wife makes the discovery.—Atchison Globe.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

Racial Characteristics.

Tom—It takes an Irishman for ready wit. Dick (who has just visited his "uncle")—And a Jew for ready cash.—Up To Date.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Every man remembers having been rejected as juror in some lawsuit.—Washington Democrat.

Burning, itching frost-bite. Use St. Jacobs Oil—cures promptly. Cools the fever.

The true culture of personal beauty is not external; it is heart work.—J. R. Miller.

A cruel pain—sciatica. Its cure is sure. Use St. Jacobs Oil.

Talk is cheap, but somehow gossip always gains currency.—Chicago Daily News.

A dull, racking pain—neuralgia. Its sure Cure—St. Jacobs Oil.

When a man is drunk, and should talk least, he talks most.—Atchison Globe.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

It always makes us feel foolish to look back at some lady we have passed and find her looking, too.—Washington Democrat.

It is hard to convince a schoolboy that summer vacation days are longer than winter school days.—Chicago Daily News.

I use Piso's Cure for Consumption both in my family and practice.—Dr. G. W. Patterson, Inkster, Mich., Nov. 5, 1894.

The earth goes 'round, but it would not go round if divided up among all the parties who want it.—Puck.

Cold quickens rheumatism, but quickly, Surely, St. Jacobs Oil cures it.

If a man has money it is a sign that he is mighty careful with it.—Atchison Globe.

Limp and lame—lame back. St. Jacobs Oil cures it promptly, surely.

The long-headed clergyman preaches the shortest sermon.—Chicago Daily News.

A cold—sore and stiff. All right again. St. Jacobs Oil did it—cured.

The hair

is like a plant. What makes the plant fade and wither? Usually lack of necessary nourishment. The reason why Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor restores gray or faded hair to its normal color, stops hair from falling, and makes it grow, is because it supplies the nourishment the hair needs.

"When a girl at school, in Reading, Ohio, I had a severe attack of brain fever. On my recovery, I found myself perfectly bald and, for a long time, I feared I should be permanently so. Friends urged me to use Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, on doing so, my hair immediately began to grow, and I now have as heavy and fine a head of hair as one could wish for, being changed, however, from blonde to dark brown."—MRS. J. H. HORSNYDER, 152 Pacific Ave., Santa Cruz, Cal.

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

A PUZZLE MAP
OF THE
UNITED STATES
SENT FREE TO ANY ADDRESS UPON RECEIPT OF Five Two-Cent Stamps
TO COVER THE COST OF MAILING.
BEST INSTRUCTOR
in geography ever seen. Interests the children and teaches them the geography of their own country in a practical and lasting manner.
Not more than one sent to one address. Write to
F. H. LORD,
General Passenger and Ticket Agent,
Chicago Great Western Railway,
QUINCY BUILDING. CHICAGO, ILL.

"Seven days of wash-day"—so somebody has called house-cleaning—seven days of rasping hard work. This person didn't know anything about Pearline.
House-cleaning with Pearline doesn't mean the usual hard work.
Neither does washday. And what would ordinarily take seven days ought to be done in three.
Try Pearline and see for yourself the saving in time and work and rubbing. 588
Millions NOW USE Pearline

FOR 14 CENTS
We wish to gain 250,000 new customers, and hence offer
1 Pkg. 13 Day Radish, 10c
1 Pkg. Early Spring Turnip, 10c
1 " Earliest Red Beet, 10c
1 " Bismarck Cucumber, 10c
1 " Queen Victoria Lettuce, 15c
1 " Klondyke Melon, 15c
1 " Jumbo Giant Onion, 15c
8 " Brilliant Flower Seeds, 15c
Worth $1.00, for 14 cents.
Above 10 pkgs. worth $1.00, we will mail you free, together with our great Plant and Seed Catalogue upon receipt of this notice and 14c. postage. We invite your trade and know when you once try Salzer's seeds you will never get along without them. Potatoes at $1.50 a Bbl. Catalog alone 5c. No. K 1
JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS.

WINCHESTER GUN
CATALOGUE FREE
SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
CURE CONSTIPATION
REGULATE THE LIVER
10c 25c 50c
ALL DRUGGISTS

HARTSHORNS SELF-ACTING SHADE ROLLERS
NOTICE
NAME THIS Stewart Hartshorn LABEL AND GET THE GENUINE HARTSHORN

Oats 231 Bu. pr. A. Wheat 40c. a Bu.
How to grow wheat at 40c a bu. and 231 bus. oats, 173 bus. barley and 1500 bus. potatoes per acre—SEE OUR GREAT CATALOGUE mailed you with 11 grass seed samples, upon receipt of THIS NOTICE and 10 cents in stamps.
JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K 1)

OPIUM and Whiskey Habit cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

"THE BEST IS, AYE, THE CHEAPEST."
AVOID IMITATIONS OF SAPOLIO

ESTABLISHED 1879.
MINNEAPOLIS. WOODWARD & CO. DULUTH.
GRAIN COMMISSION.
LOW RATES OF GRAIN STORAGE MADE IN MINNEAPOLIS AND DULUTH; WRITE US.
ORDERS FOR FUTURE DELIVERY EXECUTED IN ALL MARKETS.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, JAN., 21, 1897.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

--Subscribe for the GAZETTE. Three months, 25 cents. Take it now.

—A fearful cold wave, from Canada, was predicted by weather prophets last week. It didn't materialize. And now the question is what became of it? It can't be possible that the tariff prevented its getting over the line.

—The weather guesser don't guess right by a long shot for Delano. On Tuesday a card was posted saying "Fair tonight and Wednesday; and lo! and behold! it snowed before morning. That's about as good as some more of the late predictions.

--Washington's birthday is hastening on. The Delano Washington's Birthday Association should be up and stirring if they expect to keep up their well earned reputation of having first class celebrations of the anniversary of the birth of the Father of our Country.

—We received by this mornings mail a neat little book advertising a course of five lectures and two concerts all for $1 to be given under the aspices of the Epworth League at Buffalo. We are glad to see the enterprise of our neighbors and hope they may be successful. They deserve it.

—Rev. J. M. Cleary will deliver his popular lecture on "The Passion Play of the Oberammergan," for the benefit of the local circulating library, at Watertown, at the City Hall, Feb. 8. He is an orator well known and any of our citizens who may drive over to hear him will be pleased with their entertainment.

--The tax gatherers, we understand, got away from Delano with some two thousand dollars, received for taxes, mostly for personal taxes it is claimed. Some of the payers are wondering what becomes of all the money gathered into the County Treasury. There are many leakes, some of which could well be plugged up.

Some of our Franklin farmers would like $3.00 per day and mileage for a trip to Delano, Monday. They think their time worth at least as much as that of a member of the Board of County Commissioners that advertised to have the tax gatherers at Delano on that day and then failed to have 'em: necessitating a second days loss of time and another trip to Delano to pay taxes.

Enough time was wasted running to town to pay taxes when the tax gatherers were not there to have paid the printers legal rates to publish the notices of their coming. If the newspapers are not to publish the notices unless they copy the advertisement from the favored one, the tax gatherers had better remain at the County Seat so people will know where to find them.

—The entertainment in the City Hall Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the public schools, by Miss Ada Marie Crow was a grand success. Miss Crow knows how to entertain an audience and she goes at it with a will, and succeeds. The pictures shown, of travels in Europe and to the Klondike, were fine. The school received something over seven dollars for its percentage of the proceeds.

—The Eagle continues to keep quiet on the benefit the thrifty house wife and the small boys and girls on the farm are deriving from the tariff on eggs. She don't have long editorials at present, of the dimes they can save up to put into the Postal Sayings Banks, to be counted as cash in the Treasury of Uncle Sam. Meanwhile the egg manufactories are being sold out, cheap. Unless things change the law of supply and demand will raise prices on these things, soon.

—A saloon row Tuesday afternoon is said to have resulted in the spoiling of one man's countenance for a time at least. Whiskey makes lots of trouble. The village council don't appear to have much control of the business. They license saloons, take good men for bondsmen, that the saloons will run according to law. Then they issue orders that no one shall furnish liquor to certain individuals. The "C. I." continue to take up lots more than their share of the sidewalks quite often. Of what use is liquor license in Delano? It only allows a few fellows to do all the business, after their own plan. Men had as well sell without license as to break the license contract daily.

—Rev. R. H. Battey, of Minneapolis, delivered a lecture at the M. E. church last night. He is Superintendent of the Anti-saloon League of Minnesota. His lecture is different from most such we have heard. He reasons on his subject from a business standpoint, and argues that saloons are a detriment to any town. He cites instances of Albert Lea, of 4,000 and more inhabitants, without a saloon; of Warren, above Crookston, where the business men voted the saloon out and refused to vote them back again. He has several charts and compares the saloon business with other business. He favors the county option bill. He is a forcible speaker and abuses no one. His advertisements were not out soon enough and his audience was not large. Every business man in town should hear him. He would soon convince them that it was better for them to get cash for their goods than than to have their goods trusted out while the cash was drunk up, the drinker receiving no good but harm, from the drink.

—Dr. Carter, dentist, visits Delano Friday and Saturday, Jan. 28 and 29.

—The Ladies' Aid, of the M. E. church will hold a social at the parsonage Friday eve., Jan. 21st.

—Some of our citizens are tired waiting for snow and have gone to putting up ice; hauling it on wagons.

—Charley Brandes has completed the drive well for John Marth. He says he has a fine well, 60 feet deep with 30 feet of water.

—The wind did not blow enough the past week to pump water for cattle on many farms, and other sources had to be sought for supplying water to the thirsty stock.

—Joe Wyandoc is doing quite a business in buying stock, poltry, etc. for the city markets. We understand prices are some better than they were a few weeks ago.

—W. D. Freeman has sold his home to O. A. Burnes, of Minneapolis, who will occupy it himself. Mr. Freeman is on the look for an acre nearer the center of the village.

—By request of those who heard Mr. Battey last night, he will give another talk Monday evening in the City Hall, which has been secured for that purpose. Every business man in town should be there, and most of them likely will. Lecture free to all.

—The County Treasurer and his assistant arrived in town Monday evening to gather in the loose change for taxes. Our economical, or political partisan board of County Commissioners did not see fit to furnish us with a copy of the notice to tax payers, so we did not keep track of their travels until they came.

--The farmer's creamery is, we understand, an asstand an assured success, enough stock having been disposed of to make the necessary funds available with which to build a brand new, latest improved, up to date creamery. Nothing like the life of trade, competition. Two creameries in Delano beats one all to pieces. So say those who have been patronizing the one.

—The public installation of officers of the K. P. lodge, at the City Hall, Monday night passed off pleasantly. A large crowd witnessed the ceremonies. The programme was nicely carried out double, as about everything was encored. Prof. Wharton's song captivated the audience. The mandolin trio from Minneapolis, Mr. Youngman and the Zithern assisted materially in the music.

—The case of State vs. Felt and Biskey for assault, in putting Theodore Kittock, head first into a barrel of water, was brought before Justice Walter Saturday. A change of venue was taken to Justic Frazee, and the prisoners placed in jail to await the arrival of County Attorney Pidgeon, Wednesday. The County Attorney did not come and on Wednesday, on motion of O'Hair, for the prosecution, the case was dismissed, and prisoners released. The County to foot the bills.

--A. F. Mrozok says he hitched his team for a few minutes, last Saturday evening, in front of Bronkow's store, and when he came out the blankets which he covered the horses with had both been carried off. He says if things keep on farmers will not come to town. They can't afford to buy whips, blankets, and such things very often, and they would not be sure but the horses might go next. It is about time the police force was made strong enough for a couple of nights to catch the thieves. It is not likely there is much of a crowd of them, but they make lots of trouble.

Personal.

Miss Nellie Vorse and Miss Rosa Belt, of Buffalo, visited Delano relatives the fore part of the week.

Ed Farnham, formerly attorney at Cokato, now from near Seattle, Wash., is visiting at Frank Man's. He says roses were blooming when he left home two weeks ago.

Dr. C. I. Johnson, of St. Paul, was a GAZETTE caller Monday.

S. R. Spates and John McGary, two Hennepin County GAZETTE readers called Saturday. Come again when we are at home.

Harris Williams and family visited in Corcoranlown Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers, of St. Paul, attended the K. P. installation and visited with old Delano friends.

Doc Clinton makes quite a showing as a military man. He took part in the K. P. installation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dickey, of Minneapolis, came up to attend the K. P. entertainment but on Monday received news that their residence had burned, and returned to Minneapolis.

Miss Anna Maxfield, who is teaching at Kensington, came down on this morning's train for a visit with Delano friends.

Mrs. C. H. Green, who has been sick for some time is now convalescing.

Dr. Soper says: "Tell the folks my wife is getting better".

Superintendent Lee, of Annandale, was in town last night. He attended the Anti-saloon meeting.

County Cullings.

The ranting Republican editors of Wright, continue to abuse each other roundly each week. They know things are wrong, and they evidently know where the blame belongs.

The Annandale Advocate says: "W. H. Towle has this week been appointed post master at Annandale to succeed W. S. Ives. Mr. Ives is contemplating a trip to Massachusetts to visit with his mother."

The Journal has to say for the temperance lecture delivered by Rev. Mc Cornack, at Buffalo, Sunday evening: "It was one of the best we have ever heard." Eaton is a good judge of temperance lectures.

The Eagle is becoming a regular Jerry Jay in nominating county officers. She even nominates for the Democrats; probably from force of habit. But we believe Democrats can manage their own nominations, much more to their advantage than by listenin to the song of the Old Bird.

Have the Democratic Congressional and the Republican County Committees pooled issues or how is it that the Democratic Congressional committee man and the Republican chairman of the County committee are bondsmen for the county printing? Will French be expected to howl for both; or is he to be neutral just this once?

The law governing the calling and holding of primary elections, instead of old fashioned caucuses, is very strict. Every voter should read up the law, at his leisure, in the newspaper supplement he has filed away, and be prepared as a committee of one, to see that the primary election is properly an lawfully conducted; that the polls are opened on time and kept open for at least one hour. In case of failure they should be on hand at the County Convention to enter their protest to such things as snap judgements or illegal choosing of delegates. This applies to all parties. Start right. Have honest primaries and things will run right.

Wright county Democrats are, at last becoming awakened to the fact that the proper place to make their wishes known, and their influence felt is at the primary elections, which have superseded the old caucuses. By attending the first of these that is called, electing reliable men to represent us at the county couvention, our ideas stand a chance of being made manifest. By remaining at home and allowing the other fellow to run the primary to suit himself we are almost sure to have a set of resolutions, followed by a lot of nominations we don't want, and can't stand up for. Let us be on hand at the primaries and see that they are run according to law.

The most important offices with which our local politicians have exclusively to deal, are State Senator and Representatives. Men should be nominated on all tickets in the field, who are able, honest, sober, and who will look after the business of the state, who will see that public institutions are economically, and yet properly run; who will look after schools, mines, timber, transportation, banking, and other institutions with which they have to deal. Of what difference is it particularly to Wright county, whether C. K. Davis, Judge Canty, or some other good man goes to the U. S. Senate, compared with whether or not we have men in the legislature who will look after things about right. And with reliable, capable men in the legislature we are much more sure of a good man for U. S. Senator than we are if we elect a gang of men to to the legislature because of their yualifications for being brought to yote for the machine nominee whether or not they consider him a proper person for the place. Give us a good set of clean men on all tickets, then will we be sure of a clean campaign, and a good man for U. S Senator and the state's business properly looked after.

The County Commissioners met at Buffalo Jan. 4. August Haffton was elected Chiarman for ensuing year and appointed the usual commitees. Thomas Walker was awardsd the contract for furnishing plank for the Monticello bridge, 18,000 feet at $13.75.

Contracts for wood were let to B. O. and J. T. Berthlaum, Peter Dedrick, F. Desmarias; all wood to be delivered before April 1st. Jos. Enghouser was re-employed as janitor at $40 per month.

Salaries and fees were fixed for County Superintendent of schools $10 per district. Clerk of Register of Deeds $600. Judge of Probate was allowed $150 for clerk hire.

The Auditing Board reported funds in bank and on hand at $26,939.53. The lists for jurymen were selected.

All the printing was awarded to C. A French, and his bond for $2,000, J. H. Wendell and J. T. Alley, sureties, was approved.

Register of Deeds Nagel reported year's receipts of his office $2,093 05.

School petitions of John Johnson and of Nels Larson were set for hearing, Feb. 2.

County Auditor was instructed to advertise for bids for repairing Albrecht's and Boam's bridges. Bids to be opened Feb. 2, at 1 o'clock, p. m. Also for repairing Dayton bridge.

A committee was appointed to arrange for the Rockford bridge.

Committee appointed to count fund in the hands of Treasurer report $27,762 44.

$25 was appropriated to town of Frankfort, for road.

Sheriff Nugent reported receipts of his office for '97, $2,266.64.

The County Auditor was instructed to procure certified copies of mortgages and trust deeds of R. R. companies having land grants to lands in Wright county.

The request of Mary McHale, for abatement of taxes, laid over. That of C. Lubman rejected. Those of Wm. Seepert, Henry Schendell, and Joseph Papineau recommended.

The usual grist of bills were acted upon.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $55.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference, Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 50

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .84
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .79
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .75
Rye	" "	$ .36
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		.12, .18
Eggs,		.15
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5 00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .06
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

MARRIED.

GUNSIOR, MECCA.—In Delano, Tuesday, Jan. 18, Mr. Frank Gunslor and Mrs. Joe Mecca, Rev. Savs officiating.

TRAUSBISKI, MROZOK—In Delano, Tuesday, Jan. 18, by Rev. Savs, Mr. Anthony Trausbiski, of Omaha, and Miss Emma Mrozok, of Franklin.

DIED.

ALLEY,—At the home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Smith, in Webster, S. D. Hezekiah Alley, aged 74 years and six days.

Deceased was the father of Judge John T. Alley of this county. He was buried at Watertown.

If your add was here somebody would read it, and might call on you.

Advertise IN THE GAZETTE. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE GAZETTE.

Advertise in the GAZETTE.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $55.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference, Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine SEE THE BEST. DEMORESTS'

An Unparalleled Offer.

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO.

110 Fifth Ave., New York.

A Liberal Offer, Only $1.75 for BUFFALO GAZETTE and DEMORIST'S MAGAZINE. for One Year. Send your Subscriptions to this Office. Delano, Minn.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.,—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE and

LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE, Delano, Minn.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific Ameriaan, for one year. $3.50

DELANO FURNITURE CO.

(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)

GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING

PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING, REPAIRING AND GENERAL CARPENTERING.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

GIVE US A CALL.

W. H. COCHRANE, & CO., Abstractors,

BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.

Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
Edison Park, Ill.
32tf.

-AdvertisE- GAZETTE. ONE YEAR $1.00

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE popular NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very respectfully yours,

GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO., CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.

All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.

Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.

29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN, WAVERLY

Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County

D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR FINE JOB PRINTING,

IN THE LINE OF

Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line of Printing,

CALL AT THE

Gazette Office.

CHOICE GARDEN AND FLOWER SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.
Capitol

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1898. NUMBER 18.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Royal Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
Junior League..... 3:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:0 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Sabbath at 10:30 a. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 P. M. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30.
REV. T. DAVIES.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President — JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen — NICK FRANK, HENRY HUCK, ADAM HORSCH.
Recorder — L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace — W. H. FRAZEE, R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health — T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary. J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables — JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive

—of—

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

AS TO ROASTING.

BY SARA SPENCER BROWNE.

He had traveled miles from the British Isles
To study our savage types,
And he heaved a sigh as he cocked his eye
At our glorious stars and stripes.

And he shook his head as he slowly said,
"The idea is downright low;
At the very best your flag suggests,
Well—gridirons, don't you know."

Then a Gotham maid, who was not afraid
Of his lordship, raised her head,
And her eyes gleamed bright with a cutting light,
But she ever so calmly said:

"Why! of course; that's due to your point of view.
For I judge you were thinking then
Of its old-time use, when it cooked your goose,
And roasted you Englishmen."

—What To Eat.

The Trades edition of the Stillwater Gazette issued as a supplement is a neat and useful publication.

IT is thought that the duty on lumber will not be meddled with by this Congress; but that the Dingley bill rates will remain as at present.

THAT veteran office seeker, Lemuel P. Hunt has succeeded in landing the Mankato post office. The genuine old soldiers were left this time, once more.

CONGRESLMAN Bailey appears to have the advantage in his controversy in Congress with Speaker Reed, in having the records bear him out in his statement of facts.

ST. PAUL papers of Wednesday, give an account of the suicide, by shooting, of Thomas Jackson, aged 57 years, after a protracted spree. He leaves a wife and seven children.

CHICAGO this week had one of the worst snow storms for 15 years. Roads were blocked, cars stalled, schools turned out and business generally suspended. Wisconsin and Iowa are also covered with snow. No place like home this winter.

PEOPLE are thoroughly disgusted with the conflicting reports concerning Cuba and its affairs. They begin to think much of the news is manufactured for the purpose of selling newspapers, or of diverting attention from the needed legislation in our own country.

AMONG new silver and gold both for money papers making a fight for a place among the people comes the Free Press, of Minneapolis, and The Silver Knight-Watchman, by U. S. Senator W. M. Stewart, Washington, D. C. Both are in earnest for the cause of the people.

THE jury in the case of Andrew C. Haughan, a former city Treasurer, of Minneapolis returned a verdict of guilty of the charge of misappropriating city funds. This was the second trial. In the first one the jury disagreed. The defense has given notice of a motion to set aside the verdict.

EASTERN papers are claiming that the bicycle business is well nigh ruining the sayings banks. Mechanics who formerly deposited savings, are now paying monthly installments on bicycles, and as most of the members of the family must be supplied with a wheel there is no telling when the craze will stop.

Amen Alvah.

The St, Cloud Journal Press rather insinuates that we do not attend church. Possibly not; but we are reminded by the insinuation of the only time we ever saw Alvah in a church, which was at the Leech Lake Indian agency last summer, where he got so ruttled by being in so unfamiliar a place as a church that he took a seat in the "amen" corner.—Sherburne County Times.

Compare Figures.

Pennsylvania produces hardware manufactures to the value of $288,000, yearly, which is equivalent to $71 per inhabitant, the average in Great Britain being $19 and in Germany $10.—Saint Cloud Times.

Advertise in the GAZETTE.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Valued Him Too Highly.

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Jan. 26.—(Times Special)—The jury in the damage case of Mira Rogers vs. William Hanna, after being out about twenty hours, brought in a verdict of $2,300 for plaintiff. The amount asked for was $10,000. Mrs. Rogers brought suit against the defendant for selling liquor to her husband. The case comes from Dayton, where Rogers, who was a farmer, secured liquor last spring, which the plaintiff claims was responsible for his untimely death. He started home in the evening in an intoxicated condition. In going over a grade his wagon went off the side with the result of causing death."

If saloon keepers are going to be obliged to pay $2,300 apiece for all the victims of drink, it will soon bankrupt the business, and the men on their bonds, of course will have to foot the balance as long as they are able to do so. If a saloon keeper is responsible for the death of a man to whom he sold liquor because in driving home he is killed by his wagon going off from a bank, isn't he just as responsible for the death of another who patronizes him until delerium tremens, Bright's disease, apoplexy, or any other of the sequels of hard drink, cause death and leave a widow and children penniless in a cold world; pointed at and pitied as a drunkard's family? If the vender of intoxicants who supplied liquor to a man who in driving home, got killed by his team has to pay, instead of paying $2,300, why didn't he have to pay $5,000? As much as if he had been killed by the cars. In this cold country, men leaving saloons in the small hours of morning, when the law requires the saloon shut at 11 o'clock, are liable to freeze before they reach home, or to catch cold and die of pneumonia. If the saloons have to pay for these cases, and their bondsmen have to assist, just a few cases will settle the matter. There won't be many drunken men seen out doors. Nothing seems to effect reforms in this country like a matter of dollars and cents.

Hennepin County's Big Tax List.

The Hennepin county delinquent tax list for 1897, which has been completed, is the largest in the history of the county. It embraces 1,700 pages of type written copy. It was completed in thirteen days, and is a very complete and model document. A new scheme has been arranged to prevent any more fraudulent manipulation of the records.—Dispatch.

Saint Cloud Times: Some of the enthusiastic sportsmen who have been hunting rabbits along the Mississippi report that several flocks of ducks are spending the winter in the open water in that stream below the dam. The river has never completely closed this winter in the rapid water below the dam.

St. Paul Globe: Mr. Mc. Kinley and Mr. Dingley can't look toward New England now a days without hearing from somewhere in sepulchral tones: "The way to get prosperity is to open the mills."

Wabasha Democrat: It is hard to convince a disinterested thinking man that a currency based upon business assets would be "sound money." It must seem to him about as rotten a currency as it is possible to create. If we need more currency let it be based upon the business assets of the government, and also be a full legal tender.

Valley Herald: The republican editors of the state, with very few exceptions are making a fight on the "political gang" which have run politics in this state in the past. If they stick to what they now say, we look for a new deal next fall. What a rejoicing there will be if the unexpected should happen.

Pure Seeds for Trial

To give our subscribers an opportunity to test their famous seeds, Messrs May & Co., the well known Seed growers of St. Paul, Minnesota, whose order of one million Packets of Seeds tested over 99 per cent pure (Government Report) will mail seventeen trial Packets of choice varieties of Flower Seeds to any of our readers sending to them only ten cents in silver or stamps. This is their Giant Collection, and consists of one Packet each, Asters, Mignonette, Antirrhinum, Pinks, Poppies, Alyssum, Zinnias, Nigella, Godetia, Pansy, Calendula, Petunias, Sweet William, Portulaca, Sweet Peas, Calliopsis and Candytuft. On each packet will be printed full cultural instructions.

They will also send to any gardener or Farmer one Package of their Extra Early Tree Tomato on receipt of six cents in stamps. Their handsomely illustrated Catalogue will be mailed free on application, to any one who intends to purchase Seeds, Plants or Bulbs this Spring. Be sure and mention our paper when writing May & Co. 17-4t.

Advertise in the GAZETTE for trade.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan. 24, 1898.

The democrats in the House believe that Cuba deserves recognition at the hands of this government; the republicans, whatever they believe, voted this week to a man to help Spain, by a continuation of the do-nothing policy. And in addition, Mr. Dingley, the republican floor leader, admitted that the Cuban question was a partisan question. Surely the democratic party could not ask for more good campaign material to be given them in a single week by their opponents. If the democrats get the votes of all who believe that it is the right and duty of this country to end the war in Cuba by aiding the Cubans to gain their independence, at the Congressional elections, they will get about three-fourths of the entire vote of the country. Mr. Dingley may dare to make opposition to doing anything to help Cuba the platform upon which he will appeal for votes in his own district, to be returned to Congress, but there are few republicans in the House who will dare to do the same. But no matter what these men may do or say at home they cannot escape the record they have this week made by voting down the democratic amendments to the Consular and Diplomatic bill, declaring for recognition of Cuba by this government. Let that record be kept before the voters.

The administration in its anxiety to keep down the appropriations in order to wipe out the Treasury deficit has made one mistake that may give it considerable trouble. That is, in reducing the number of letter-carriers in cities. There was some plain talk on this subject in the Senate from republican Senators. Senator Hoar said: "It is absolutely intolerable that this great branch of the public service should stop or be crippled. Many of the smaller cities of the country are to be deprived practically of mail delivery facilities, and it is time that something be done to avoid serious business embarrassment." And Senator Allison said: "The point is, that the Post Master General has presented estimates to Congress too low to cover the expenses of his department." The cut in the appropriation for the District of Columbia, which has no representatives in Congress to make a fuss about it, is the deepest of all, the amount being nearly two million and a half dollars less than the estimate of the Commissioners, and more than half a million less than the appropriation for the current fiscal year. All of this cutting is done for the purpose of enabling the republicans to make a good showing in the Congressional campaign of this year, regardless of the inconvenience it may cause.

The slowness of the debate in the Senate on the treaty for the annexation of Hawaii has not prevented its reaching an acute stage, and there may be some sensational developments before it is ended. The bringing of the President of Hawaii to Washington by the administration, for there is little doubt that Mr. Dole came to the U. S. at the request, direct or implied, of Mr. McKinley, is being somewhat harshly criticized and many believe that his presence in Washington will be much more likely to make votes against annexation than for it. It is admitted by Senators who favor annexation that they have not yet secured a sufficient number of votes to ratify the treaty; Senators who oppose it say they never will.

The republicans did not succeed in their efforts to have the old Stanley Matthews resolution, declaring all U. S. bonds payable in silver dollars, at the option of the government, which was introduced by Senator Teller, pigeon-holed. The Finance committee has favorably reported the resolution to the Senate and there isn't the slightest doubt that it will be adopted with a number of votes to spare when it is voted upon, nor is there any doubt of its being pushed to a vote. It is in charge of Senator Vest.

The quarterly meeting of the executive Committee of the American Bimetallic Union was held in Washington, this week, for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps for participation in the Congressional campaign of this year. Gen. A. J. Warner, of Ohio, tendered his resignation as President of the Union on account of his bad health, but was persuaded to withdraw it on the promises of members of the committee that they would take up his work while he took a long rest and tried to regain his health. The committee will prepare and issue literature opposing the arguments put forward in support of the Gage currency bill. It will also issue a full and exhaustive reply to the report of the Indianapolis Monetary Commission. The committee was also enlarged and now consists of one member from each State and Territory and the District of Columbia.

The election of a silver chairman and a silver secretary was the convincing answers of the Democratic Congressional Campaign committee to the thousand and one tomfool stories that have been told about the possibility of its doing otherwise.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota inventors this week reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

W. J. Holman, Minneapolis, locamotiv speeding truck. M. A. Knapp, Minneapolis, teeth regulator. G. H. Lewis, Minneapolis, A. Nygreh, Elizabeth, magazine pistol. J. Rosendahl, Delhi, combined wrench and nippers. C. O. White, Minneapolis, machine for sizing barrelhoops and securing ends thereof.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

Late Literary News.

What would you do if war should be declared to-morrow with a European power? How would it change your home life, the lives of your brother and other relatives? How would it affect your business connections and business? What changes would it make in financial, city, state and national affairs? It is these interesting problems which a writer in the December Cosmopolitan has undertaken to sketch under the heading of "A Brief History of Our Late War With Spain," at the same time vividly describing the exciting scenes which would attend the opening of hostilities. This same number of the Cosmopolitan has an article on "The Well Dressed Woman" by Elsie de Wolfe, a contrast of the characters of Henry George and Charles A. Dana by John Brisben Walker, in another place "The Loves of Goethe," while Wells' story, "The War of the Worlds," which has been so widely read, reaches its conclusion in an unexpected way.

Buffalo Gazette, and Cosmopolitan one of the best monthly magazines, for one year, for $1.80

FROM CALIFORNIA.

Los Angeles. Carbon Oil Industry Snow Storms.

(FROM HON. B. F. CHRISTLIEB.)

Having alluded to the city of Los Angeles on several previous occasions, I hope your readers will pardon me for referring to that place once more, but it must be borne in mind that that city is in character, similar to our Twin Cities of the Northwest; a growing metropolis, so that descriptions of it, given from time to time must be revised occasionally to convey correct ideas of its progress. It's population is now not less than one hundred thousand, and public improvements and private enterprises continue to be inaugurated and carried foreward to completion. Many fine business blocks have been erected during the last year, and others are commenced and are in process of construction. The walls of these buildings are constructed of a beautiful and superior quality of brick with friezes, cornices and trimmings generally of interesting and tasty designs. Fortunately for the city, these buildings are no sky scrapers, none exceeding six stories in heighth, many being only four or five. Their plans, finish, and conveniences generally, are equal to those of elaborate buildings found in other progressive cities. The business streets are payed with asphaltum which system of paving is now being extended to different parts of the city.

One of the objectionable features existing in the city, is the increasing carbon oil industry; although a considerable source of wealth in itself, it is questionable whether such compensates for the detrimental effect of the presence of the wilderness of unsightly oil derricks which extends in a serpent like course through some of the most desirable residence portions of the city, as in all probability, had those localities remained undisturbed and been permitted to develop their favorable beginnings as suberban localities they would have reached a greater value than they possess under present conditions including the oil industry.

The city council has been making efforts to limit the oil operations to certain localities. The oil extracted seems to be used almost entirely for fuel purposes in operating locomotive and stationary steam engines, being used in its crude state It is said to be better adapted to that purpose than eastern oils even in their crude condition, and likely the competition of eastern oils in the California markets for illuminating purposes deters operators here from attempting to refine the California oil into an illuminating medium; but it is stated however that the California oil is not so adaptable to illuminating purposes as the eastern oil, and judging from my experience here with eastern oils, it must be a very poor material indeed, if it will not prove to be as satisfactory for illuminating purposes as much of the so called eastern oil appearing on the market here.

The weather here continues as last reported, alternating between nice warm summerlike days to periods of rain followed by a colder temperature which in turn swings back to the warmer periods. This winter however the temperature seems to run lower during the colder periods than the usual limit, and recently a light snow storm appeared in settlements and places where such a phenomena is very unusual.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees. Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

An Independent Blast.

INDEPENDENCE, Minn.

MR. EDITOR: Not much neghborhood news this week, and in order to say anything, must go into state and national affairs.

Since the election of Mark Hanna to the Senate of the United States by the Ohio Legislature, and the cut in wages among the employes of the cotton mills of New England, we have had prosperity to burn up, and the gold fields of the Klondike can play only second fiddle compared to it. The post office department has ordered the reducing of letter carriers in many of the large cities. There are twelve taken off in Minneapolis and 10 in St. Paul. This is like what the Dutchman says about the American people. He says they stand out on the side walk and cheat one another and dey calls dot bizues.

We did not know that prosperity was coming in from that direction, by cutting down wages and throwing men out of employment. This will not put money into the pockets of the common people. This does not agree with what they told us a year and a half ago; that if we got a single gold standard and a high protective tariff everybody could drink at the fountain and there would be more business than we could take care of; would have business to give away. Does it look like it?

The Election of Pontius Pilate (Mark Hanna) to the Senate is about the most disgraceful affair we have had since Paul's trial before King Agrippa. After his election (Mark Hanna's) he sent the following telegram to President McKinley:

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 12.

To Hon. William McKinley,
President, Washington, D. C.
God reigns and the Republican party still lives.
M. A. HANNA.

If Mark Hanna thinks he is the Republican party; or that the Lord had anything to do about his election he is very much mistaken. More than likely Hanna belongs to the God of Baal, and while he was being elected his God was off on a journey or asleep. It is said that Hanna received over 2,000 congratulatory telegrams, too bad, for the amunition was worth more than the game. He is purse proud, and got more confidence than mother wit.

I was much interested in reading a letter in the GAZETTE from my neighbor and old time friend Earl Hoisington who is now in the Evergreen state, Washington, on an outing of a few months. Mr Hoisington and I have lived neighbors for many years, coming to Minnesota about the same time, and the smoke of our chimneys have commingled together and formed a fleecy sheen that hangs over the gulf that separates our humble domiciles, and while his chanticleer heralded the mounting morn, mine sent back from his barn yard perch its pealing notes in response. Sometimes the chieftain crowed a lusty crow, and tipped the dying strain with a tiger.

Now as my friend Hoisington will no doubt see this unprofitable communication, would say that while away, I want you should inform yourself as to the habits and customs of the people, also religion, politics, finance, and what is best for the American people; the Bible, the pen, the sword or Mark Harnaism. But as my pen, paper, and constitution is about give out, I will close.

FARMER.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET
The BUFFALO GAZETTE
—AND—
THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS
BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR
FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS needs no introduction. Its many special articles by noted writers have given it a world wide reputation. In short, it is one of the cleanest, brightest and best family papers published. No pains or expense will be spared in keeping up its present high standard.

Remember, that by taking advantage of this combination, you get 52 copies of the BUFFALO GAZETTE and 104 copies of THE FREE PRESS, 156 papers, for only $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE
The Free Press
YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.
Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

An accurate and Superior book of Reference that tells you all you want to know. There will not be a useless page in it. A Practical Educator and Hand Book of Encyclopoedic information on subjects Statistical, Official, Historical, Political and Agricultural; likewise a book of Religious Fact, and general Practical Directions on every day affairs of Office, Home and Farm.

A copy of this book will be sent to all subscribing immediately and sending 15 cents additional for mailing expenses, making $1.65 in all.

Do not delay, but take advantage of this remarkably liberal offer which we make for a limited time only, by special arrangements with the publishers. Remember we send both papers a full year for $1.50, and you can have a copy of the book by sending 15 cents additional.

Address BUFFALO GAZETTE, DELANO, MINN.

Latest News

Cuban General Aranguern and four privates are reported killed by Spaniards.

President Dole, of Hawaii, is visiting in Washington, in the interests of his government.

History repeats itself. Joseph (Leiter) has control of the wheat of the country, with headquarters at Chicago.

Friends of the present monetary system have about given up the idea of defeating the resolution of Senator Teller. The vote is to be taken today.

Dispatches from Havana contradict the report that the Cuban capital had been taken by the Spaniards. It is claimed that Blanco hopes to bribe the insurgents into accepting autonomy, and that he is likely to fail in his effort.

"Another decision by Judge Collins is important in view of the wide interest in the question of naturalization now going on. It holds that a man born in this country of foreign parentage is a citizen. The lower court is reversed.—Dispatch.

This morning's Tribune has the following dispatch:

"LONDON, Jan. 28. The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"It has been decided that the whole Spanish fleet shall concentrate at Havana though no immediate circumstances demand such a move."

McKinley says, in a speech at the banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers, in New York: "We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are therefore opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement with the leading nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote and until such agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved."

Better Than Ever.

Farm, Stock & Home, Minneapolis, Minn., begins its fourteenth volume November 15th, and starting with that issue will hereafter appear with enlarged pages, having a fourteen inch column instead of a thirteen as heretofore.

Farm, Stock & Home, by the use of minion type, has always given more reading matter for the money than any other Minnesota Agricultural paper and this move will place it still further to the fore. While an inch on a column does not seem a great deal, a little figuring will quickly prove that it is nearly equal to giving twentysix papers of the old size in a year, instead of twentyfour. The subscription price and frequency of issue will remain the same, viz. 1st and 15th of each month and 50 cents per year. The BUFFALO GAZETTE has an arrangement with the publishers by which Farm, Stock, & Home can be had in connection with the BUFFALO GAZETTE for $1.30 for the two papers.

THE New York World
Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

Gen. Miles believes that every United States soldier should have upon his uniform some emblem of the republic.

Americans who recently visited the Panama canal report that surprising progress has been made in the work of construction.

California wines appear to be coming in such sharp competition with the native wines in Germany that some of the German papers are demanding that a higher rate of duty be placed upon them.

Greenland's most popular newspaper is the Atnagoglintil Nalinginginarmik Lusarunimasassumki. All of the Eskimo go early to get it so they can get through asking for it before the next issue is out.

The maize plant keeps pace with the cotton plant in broadening its utilities. There is said to be practically no limit to the demand for cellulose, which is made from corn pith, and is the best substance known to keep a perforated ship from sinking.

American tin plate is an established fact. The output for the fiscal year increased 45 per cent., reaching a total of 446,962,063 pounds, of which 139,000,000 pounds were exported. Plants now in construction will increase the annual product to 650,000,000 pounds.

The distinguished Rev. Dr John Hall, of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, New York, has resigned his pastorate, which has lasted 30 years. He was called to that church from Dublin, Ireland, and he has been paid $15,000 a year salary for his services.

Chief Civil Service Commissioner John B. Harlow testified before a senate investigating committee that if all the government employes in Washington were required to work the full seven hours a day, as required by law, it would effect a saving of over $800,000 a year for clerk hire, and the gain outside of Washington would be in this proportion.

Considering that it is a matter of great difficulty to convict criminals, no matter how clear their guilt, it may well be considered whether the system of paroling convicts should not be abolished. It is alleged that during the last two years one-half of the important crimes committed in Chicago have been the work of pardoned or paroled convicts.

Col. Cody still shoots glass balls and lassoes mustangs in the "Wild West show," but he is engaged in a great work in "the wild west." He owns an immense ranch in the Big Horn country and is building a canal from the Shoshone river and carrying water 125 miles through the mountains rich in ore, which will reach his rich acres in Big Horn basin. His town site is located about 40 miles from the National park.

Now it is stated that gold has been discovered in Labrador. It seems that cold countries and gold countries are to be synonymous. Next we shall hear that the north pole is gold plated, as well as the books of those explorers who do not succeed in finding the pole. The compensations of nature are illustrated when she buries under Klondike snows the glittering metal coveted in all times and lands, and makes the richly-freighted argosies fight ice to get away with their burdens.

In initiating steps for the transfer of the Erie canal to the general government the state of New York very distinctly indicates that it has found the canal a very large "elephant" on its hands, which it is anxious to dispose of on the most favorable terms. One reason for this action is undoubtedly to be found in the fact that within the last few years $9,000,000 has been expended on the enlargement of the canal, and now $7,000,000 more is needed to complete the work.

The calamity to Fort Smith, Ark., which is one of the most enterprising and handsome cities in the southwest, will arouse an active feeling of sympathy throughout the country. A furious tornado coming in midwinter and at midnight is a surprising freak of the elements. No pen could describe the terror and shock of the awful visitation in the thickly populated blocks of a city. Such a deadly storm in January has no parallel in the history of the country. Fifty lives were lost and property worth $1,000,000 destroyed.

Woman is frequently accused of not knowing her own mind, and man is usually the accuser. He is fond of asserting that she is as changeable as the weather. And yet a case is reported from New Hampshire in which a man had his wife arrested and lodged in jail on a certain charge and then succeeded in getting himself arrested for trying to smuggle candy and love letters to her when the jailers were not looking. It would seem as if man would do well to refrain from commenting on the contrariness of woman until this case has been forgotten.

The food problem is one of the main factors upon which the future of the Yukon valley must largely depend, and the farming experiments which are to be tried there next summer will prove to be of general interest. The missionaries at Fort Yukon say that potatoes grow fairly well there, as well as Siberian wheat and barley, while about Circle City there is an area upon which potatoes, cabbages, radishes, lettuce and even oats grow. In the Klondike, near the mouth of Bonanza creek, 100 acres have recently been set apart for agricultural purposes.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad now runs its freight trains over its own tracks into New York city. Years ago a line was built from Cranford Junction on the Jersey Central to St. George's, Staten Island, crossing the Kill Von Kull on a long bridge and trestle work, and all B. & O. freight, either inbound or outbound, was handled from that point. The extension of the limits of New York city has made Staten island a part of Greater New York, and the B. & O. now enjoys the distinction of being the only line from the west, except one, which has its own rails into New York.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

Senator Morgan concluded his four-days' speech in the United States senate on the 20th on the Hawaiian treaty. Senator Teller's resolution providing for the payment of bonds of the United States in silver at the option of the government was discussed. In the house the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill was passed after the close of the debate on the Cuban question. Speaker Reed stamped as false an assertion made by Mr. Bailey, the floor leader of the democrats, and turmoil ensued for a time.

The United States senate on the 21st confirmed the nomination of Joseph McKenna to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. An agreement was reached for a vote on the Teller silver resolution next Thursday. In the house a bill was passed to extend the public land laws of the United States to the territory of Alaska and the urgent deficiency bill was sent to conference.

Bills were introduced in the United States senate on the 22d to amend the interstate commerce law and for the publication of the pension roll. The resolution of Senator Teller providing that the bonds of the United States may be paid in silver dollars was discussed. The nomination of Gov. Griggs, of New Jersey, to be attorney-general, was received from the president. In the house a bill was introduced extending the criminal laws of the United States to Indian school students. Most of the day was devoted to general debate on the Indian appropriation bill.

FROM WASHINGTON.

In Washington funeral services over the remains of the late Maj. Benjamin Butterworth, commissioner of patents, were held, the president and his cabinet being present.

During 1897 the excess of exports over imports of merchandise amounted to $356,561,000, breaking all records in volume and value.

It is feared by Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister in Washington, that the debate in the house of representatives may cause a crisis in Spain.

THE EAST.

In the United States there were 374 business failures in the seven days ended on the 21st, against 349 the week previous and 409 in the corresponding period of 1897.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 21st aggregated $1,416,781,123, against $1,443,002,129 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 36.5.

In New York Charles A. Gilburg, who had a world-wide reputation as a chess problematist, died suddenly.

Yielding to the wish of the congregation of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in New York, Rev. Dr. John Hall has withdrawn his resignation.

At the age of 65 years M. J. Cramer, ex-minister to Denmark and Switzerland and a brother-in-law of Gen. U. S. Grant, died suddenly in Carlisle, Pa.

In Allegheny, Pa., Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D., was married to Mrs. Charles Collier, a widow.

WEST AND SOUTH.

Because he would have to work on Sunday E. W. Hoch, editor of the Marion (Kan.) Record, has refused the postmastership.

Kansas populists will hold their state convention at Topeka, Kan., on the 29th inst.

A windstorm at Gallatin county, Ill., unroofed houses, blew down fences and drowned stock.

In all commercial lines throughout the country remarkable activity is reported.

For the murder of Frank Dantzler Jefferson Knight, of Pensacola, Fla., was hanged at Mobile, Ala.

In Indiana the Masonic Mutual Benefit society, with headquarters in Indianapolis, made an assignment with liabilities of $150,000.

At Alexandria, Ill., John McCowan, a young school teacher, was killed by two of his pupils that he had punished.

At Port Townsend, Wash., August Nickerson, a sailor, died after living 11 days with a broken neck.

Near St. Paul, Minn., Erick Nopson, aged 24, and Mrs. Fingerson, his mother-in-law, aged 74, were killed in a runaway.

At the age of 75 years Judge John Milton Scott, former chief justice of the supreme court of Illinois, died at his home in Bloomington, Ill.

Postmaster Willis G. Neff, aged 70, of Greencastle, Ind., was found dead in a cistern in the rear of his office.

In St. Louis Richard J. Halloran, a police officer, was fatally shot by Miss Nellie Mangan, who then put a bullet in her brain. The murder and suicide was the result of disappointed love.

In Chicago Charles Tuckner, a waiter 37 years of age, shot his wife fatally and then killed himself. Jealousy was the cause.

Snow with high winds swept over northern and central Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, lower Michigan, southern Wisconsin and much of Kansas and Nebraska.

The joint convention in Chicago of coal miners and mine owners decided that eight hours should constitute a day's work in all the bituminous coal fields of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia on and after June 1 next.

Near Evansville, Ind., a houseboat occupied by George Atkins and his two young daughters was swamped during a storm and all three were drowned.

The doors of J. M. Wilkinson's private bank at Marquette, Mich., were closed.

Fire destroyed the building in Milwaukee occupied by the F. A. Walsh company, manufacturers of tinners' machinery, the loss being $300,000.

For no cause known Mrs. Seth Coffman, living near New Albany, Ind., poisoned her baby and then killed herself.

T. W. B. Dawson, an aged Baptist minister, was burned to death in his cottage near Troy, Ill.

With 450 passengers and 1,250 tons of merchandise and baggage the steamer Oregon sailed from Portland, Ore., for Alaska.

At the trial in Chicago of Adolph Luetgert for the murder of his wife the defendant took the stand and denied the charge.

Celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of gold in California began in San Francisco and will continue one week.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

On the County Down coast the British steamer Herbert foundered and seven of the crew were drowned.

Spanish troops are dying in large numbers of yellow fever in Cuba. At Sagua about 2,000 are sick.

At San Domingo shocks of earthquake were of almost daily occurrence, doing great damage to property.

Near Union and De Reyes, in Matanzas province, Cuba, all the plantations have been burned by the insurgents.

On the western shore of Nova Scotia the families of many fishermen are in a starving condition.

Recent issues of the New York World and the New York Journal and Advertiser were seized by the government officials in Havana.

A report of the death in London of Kate Forsythe, the actress, was premature.

Advices from Havana state that extra guards have been placed around Consul-General Lee's office for protection.

LATER NEWS.

Owing to bread riots in Italy, one class of reserves have been called out.

A wind storm, with a velocity of 65 miles an hour, struck St. Louis, Mo., the 25th. One woman was killed and several others injured.

The United States battleship Maine, commanded by Charles D. Sigsbee, which left Key West, Fla., on Jan. 24, arrived at Havana the 25th and was saluted by the forts and war vessels.

Judge McComas (Rep.) was elected United States senator by the legislature of Maryland to succeed Senator Gorman (Dem.)

At Algiers, the Jews returning from funerals were stoned and beaten by mobs. One Jew was killed.

The supreme court of Iowa upholds the anti-cigarette law passed by the legislature of that state.

The Union elevator at St. Louis, containing 2,000,000 bushels of grain, was burned. Loss, $1,000,000.

Ed P. Vickory, a prominent lawyer of Birmingham, Ala., was shot and killed by Dr. J. C. Taylor. The trouble arose over an unpaid bill.

The United States treasury the 25th had a gold balance of $163,483,506.

The senate the 25th took up the pension appropriation bill after confirming Mr. Grigg's nomination. Mr. Allen offered an amendment increasing the appropriation from $141,000,000 to $148,000,000, but it was lost.

British troops have occupied Okute in Borgu territory in Africa. The possession of Borgu is disputed between France and Great Britain.

As a counter move to the dispatch of the United States battle ship Maine to the harbor of Havana, it has been decided to send a Spanish fleet to United States ports.

Fourteen ticket brokers in Chicago were indicted for selling tickets without license.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Jan. 25.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 94½ to 95c; No. 2 northern, 89½ to 90c; May, 91⅝c.

Corn—No. 3, 25½c.

Oats—No. 3, white, 22 to 23c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.85; cows, $2.90.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 19 to 20c; creamery, firsts, 20 to 21c; dairy, fancy, 16 to 17; dairy, choice, 14 to 15.

Sheep, Mutton, $3.10 to 4.50; lambs, $4.25.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c. spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

MINOR NEWS ITEMS.

West Virginia is now producing more high-grade petroleum than any other state in the union.

The great strike of machinists in Great Britain has ended in failure for the workmen, after a struggle of six months.

Ex-President Cleveland has purchased a tract of land near Princeton, N. J., which he intends to stock for a game preserve.

It is stated that the government of Chili has decided to undertake the construction of the projected trans-Andean railway.

The United States government is to establish a carrier pigeon loft in Atlantic City, N. J., to be used in connection with the naval service.

Miss Phebe C. Edgar, of Rahway, N. J., has been a teacher for 60 years in the Sunday school of the Second Presbyterian church of that place.

The firm of A. S. Baker & Co., of the produce exchange of New York and London, has closed a contract for 10,000 bicycles for shipment to Europe.

The Women's Federated Clubs of Missouri voted to establish a traveling library in Missouri and appointed a board of seven members to inaugurate the work.

While W. C. Hoge, of Nevada, Mo., was on his journey home to meet his wife, from whom he had been separated by a quarrel, he fell under a freight train at Fulton, Mo., and was killed.

Seth D. Tripp, who died at his home in Lynn, Mass., the other day, was probably the greatest inventor of shoe machinery, and his devices have revolutionized almost every branch of the industry.

Congress is to be asked for an appropriation of $10,000 to aid in the erection in Chester, Pa., of a $40,000 monument over the grave of John Morton, who gave the casting vote of Pennsylvania for the declaration of independence.

Maud Booth, wife of Commander Ballington Booth, of the Volunteers of America, has left the Presbyterian hospital in New York, where she has been for the last six weeks, and returned to her home at Mont Clair, N. J.

Moses Scharff, 65 years old, a widower for eight years, senior member of Scharff Bros., flour dealers and prominent in business and Jewish circles in St. Louis, eloped with and married a Gentile 40 years his junior, a former servant in his household.

GOLDEN JUBILEE BEGINS.

California Celebrates Its Discovery of Fifty Years Ago.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—With the rising of the sun Monday morning the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of gold in California, known as the golden jubilee, was heralded by the booming of guns at the various forts which line the shores of the bay at the entrance to the Golden Gate. The salute commenced with a welcome of 21 guns from the big 12-inch guns at Fort Point. This was followed in quick succession by the guns at Forts Mason, Alcatra and Angel island. Punctually at 10:30 o'clock one of the most interesting parades ever seen in this state marched through the streets, which were gayly decorated with flags and bunting and thronged with people from every part of the state. At least 50,000 strangers poured into the city, and half as many more from the towns across the bay swelled the crowds from this city along the line of march. Market street, from the ferry to Vanness avenue, was packed on either side, and that part of it in the vicinity of the Baldwin hotel, where a mammoth arch had been erected across the street, was a dense maze of humanity. Every window along the route of march and many roofs of the buildings were pressed into service by the sightseers. The parade was divided into 15 divisions, and it is estimated that there were 16,000 men in line. In the afternoon literary exercises were held in Woodward's pavilion, at which appropriate addresses were made. In the evening there was a banquet and the native sons gave a ball. The celebration will be continued the rest of the week.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Senators Perkins and White and Representative Maguire, of California, on Monday formally invited the president to touch the button next Saturday which will open the golden jubilee mining fair of that state. The president consented.

TO INVADE THE STAGE.

Silver Leaders Plan Using the Drama as a Teacher in Politics.

Washington, Jan. 22. — Democratic free silver leaders have resolved upon an experiment in political campaign work. Under the influence of Senator Jones, Representative McMillan, Chauncey F. Black, Representatives Slayden, Simpkins and others, a company of Washington and Virginia politicians and business men has been incorporated under the name of "the American Drama company." Among the directors are Lawrence Gardner, secretary of the congressional committee; Marshall W. Wines, Robert E. Mattingly and Maj. E. W. Anderson, of this city. The first play to be produced is "the Curse of Gold," which, the free silverites claim, is another "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and from it they ardently expect the greatest results. Senator Stewart predicts great success for it, and Senator Allen thinks it will be received by the west and south enthusiastically. Samuel Gompers, president, and Charles Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, are advocates of it, and Knights of Labor assembly No. 66 owns stock in the corporation. It will be put upon the road very soon.

To Receive President Dole.

Washington, Jan. 21. — The war department is making preparation for a notable reception of President Dole upon his arrival in Washington. Orders have been given to have all the troops stationed in the city and vicinity assembled at the station under command of Col. Sumner and a fine parade will mark the trip of the visitor from the train to his hotel, where he will be called upon by the high officials of the government. It has been settled that the dinner to be given by the president in honor of his visitor shall take place Tuesday, February 1, which happens to be the first open date on the president's calendar after the arrival of President Dole next Wednesday.

War on the Jews.

Algiers, Jan. 24.—Anti-Jewish riots were renewed here Sunday. The mob invaded the Jewish quarter and pillaged the shops in the Rue Babazoum, driving the Jewish merchants out into the streets. A squadron of chasseurs was ordered to the scene and charged the mob with drawn swords, but the mob reformed further on. Revolvers and daggers were freely used. One man who was stabbed in the back and shot in the head died on the spot, many were seriously stabbed, one, named Cayol, dying from his wounds at four o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Wind and Snow.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—The storm of Saturday and Saturday night culminated in a heavy fall of snow with high winds all over northern and central Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, lower Michigan, southern Wisconsin and much of Kansas, Nebraska and northern Missouri. All kinds of outdoor business suffered. The snow was wet and heavy. Much of it melted as it fell. The remainder clung wherever it touched. Throughout the lower Mississippi and Ohio valleys it was a heavy rain. In the north and far west the winds were gentle and the sun shone.

Tie for First Place.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—The billiard tournament at Central Music hall came to an end Saturday night in a brilliant game between Jacob Schaefer and Frank Ives, in which the former won by a score of 400 to 378. Schaefer's average was 22 4-18; highest run, 138. Ives' average, 22 4-17; highest run, 100. The tournament thus ends in a tie for first money, Schaefer and Ives each having won three games and lost one. Schaefer gets the $150 diamond ring for high run.

Says Rings Were Not His Wife's.

Chicago, Jan. 25. — Luetgert was on the witness stand all day Monday. Before the direct examination was completed Luetgert denied that he had ever kissed Mary Simmering; said that Griebenow, the detective, had offered to give him information for money, and denied that the rings offered in evidence by the state had ever belonged to his wife.

Troops Kill Strikers.

Rome, Jan. 25.—In response to urgent summons a cabinet council was convened at ten o'clock Monday evening to discuss measures for dealing with the bread riots and the socialist disorders. Two persons were killed Monday at Voltri, near Genoa, in a conflict between troops and strikers, who were agitating for higher wages.

NOMINATION CONFIRMED.

Senate Seats Joseph McKenna on Supreme Bench.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The senate on Friday confirmed the nomination of Joseph McKenna to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. In the executive session Senator Allen (pop., Neb.) had before him the charges filed with the committee on judiciary, which he read at length. These comprised a large number of letters, some resolutions and the protest of lawyers and judges of the Pacific coast charging that McKenna is unfitted for the high office of supreme court justice on the ground of a want of legal attainments. He commented at length upon this latter document and was interrupted by Senator Perkins (Cal.), who read a published defense of Judge McKenna, giving statistics to show that he had not, as judge of the California federal court, been more frequently reversed by superior tribunals than had other judges of the same rank. Senator Allen did not insist upon a roll call when the vote was taken and the vote was overwhelmingly favorable to confirmation.

JOSEPH M'KENNA.

AN EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

Miners Gain an Important Point in Chicago Conference.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Eight hours will constitute a day's work in all the bituminous coal fields of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia on and after June 1, 1898. This important provision was made Saturday afternoon at the joint convention of coal miners and mine owners. The action affects the welfare of 400,000 organized coal miners, the reduced hours of labor giving opportunity for work to 8,000 more men, estimated on the reduced output of 1896 and 1897, and to a much greater number, with the anticipated output of 1898. The resolution which was presented is as follows:

"Resolved, That the acknowledged day's work in the five states of the competitive field be eight hours after June 1, 1898, provided the same is established and in operation satisfactory to miners and operators after the 1st day of May, 1898."

After it was explained that the provisionary clause of the resolution was for the purpose of giving the United Mine Workers an opportunity to organize the men at work in the fields of West Virginia the resolution was adopted and a system of work among union coal miners which their representatives have battled for for many years became a reality.

Griggs for a Cabinet Position.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The name of Gov. Griggs, of New Jersey, was sent to the senate Saturday to take the position of attorney general vacated by the appointment of Attorney-General McKenna to the supreme bench.

HON. JOHN W. GRIGGS.
[Named for McKenna's Old Place.]

Served Forty-Two Years.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The resignation of R. E. Preston as director of the mint was on Monday tendered to the president, to take effect upon the appointment and qualification of his successor. Mr. Preston has been connected with the treasury department for more than 42 years. During the last four years he has been director of the mint. His long experience and acquired information has been very valuable to the government. The president later sent to the senate the name of George E. Roberts, of Fort Dodge, Ia., for the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Preston.

Dr. Talmage Weds.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 24.—Rev. Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage was married Saturday at noon in Allegheny to Mrs. Eleanor M. Collier, widow of Charles Collier. Rev. Dr. William Robinson performed the ceremony at the bride's house.

[Dr. Talmage, who is now 65 years of age, was married the first time in 1859. His wife was Miss Avery, of Brooklyn. She bore him two children. She was drowned in the Schuyler river, Philadelphia, in the early '60s. He was married the second time May 7, 1863. His second wife was Susan C. Whittemore. She had five children. She died at Danville, N. Y., in August, 1895. She left her husband $166,000.]

Sensational Confession.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—The Bay conference, the ruling body of the Congregational church, met Monday night to expel Rev. Charles O. Brown, the unfrocked minister, charged with immoral conduct, who was afterward given a church in Chicago. There came a sensation, for a confession and plea for mercy from Rev. Mr. Brown was received. Brown's resignation is said to have been sent to the Chicago church.

"Intimidation" Defined.

Boston, Jan. 21. — Judge Sheldon, of the superior criminal court, has decided a point of law which is of much importance to labor organizations. He ruled that the word "intimidation" as used in the statute means "threats to use force" and does not mean "threats to leave work" or "threats to refuse to work with others."

CURRENT TOPICS.

ONLY eight persons perished in the great fire of London.

THERE are nearly 5,000 miles of navigable waters in the United Kingdom.

A PELICAN'S pouch is large enough to contain seven or eight quarts of water.

THE new Pennsylvania capitol is to be built of white marble quarried in the state.

GOV. TAYLOR has finally announced his candidacy for United States senator from Tennessee.

THE habit of feigning death when attacked has been found to characterize several varieties of snakes.

A PENNSYLVANIAN has left $1,000 to each of his sons upon the proviso that they remain always democrats.

A RAILWAY mail clerk in Illinois has traveled 803,784 miles and handled 57,916,144 pieces of mail in 24 years.

THUS far in the session 8,000 bills have been presented during this congress and referred to committees.

OF the 20,000 Washington government clerks, nearly one-third are women, who receive from $600 to $1,800 yearly.

OUT of 34 storms which reached the French shores in 1896, all but three were foretold by the central meteorological office.

ENGINE drivers in Germany receive from the government a gold medal and £100 for every ten years of service without accident.

SOME sheep were frightened at dogs at Grenoble, France, and 242 blindly "followed their leader" over a precipice 150 feet high.

THE wash bowl is derived from the ancient Saxon phrase, "Wass hael"—or, "To your health." The wassail bowl is practically extinct.

THERE is a glut of grain at Galveston and not enough vessels to move it. A 1 the elevators are filled and there are 1,400 cars unloaded.

A MONUMENT has just been erected over the grave of Thomas A. Kempis in the church of St. Michel, at Zwolle, 426 years after his death.

THERE is a curious superstition in Venice that if a stranger dies in a hotel the number of his room will be lucky at the next lottery.

THE czarina and the czar of Russia will receive their friends at the Paris exhibition of 1900 in a magnificent pavilion which will cost $450,000.

MRS. CROLY (Jennie June), who has been appointed an inspector of the public schools of Greater New York, will remain in office five years.

THE postmaster general has approved an order that postmasters shall make no appointments of clerks without authority from the department.

COL. JOHN LAMBERT, of Joliet, Ill., has given $7,000 to the public library of that city and $1,500 each to the Silver Cross and St. Joseph hospitals.

IT HAS been calculated that if a pound of thread made from spiders' web were required, it would occupy nearly 28,000 spiders a full year to furnish it.

THE widow of Lieut. Frederick Schwatka, the noted Alaskan explorer, is preparing to lead an expedition in search of gold on the Copper river.

A GIFT of $5,000 by Miss Elizabeth Plankington, of Milwaukee, has increased the building fund of the new Milwaukee Downer college to $30,000.

THE project of making a new state out of Greater New York and Long Island has been revived, and a bill for that purpose has been introduced in the assembly.

There are but few people who know enough not to say "that is what I thought" when anybody tells them anything.—Washington Democrat.

In cold weather
We need heat.
The blood must be
Warm, rich and pure.
Hood's Sarsaparilla
Keeps the blood
In perfect order,
Sending it, in a
Nourishing stream,
To every organ.

WHERE HARD TIMES ARE NOT KNOWN.

Described by a St. Paul Paper as the New Star of Liberty.

A correspondent, in a communication to this paper, says during the past few months so much has been said and written of Western Canada, and the new provinces forming it, he has been led to give the subject some inquiry, and he has been shown letters written to the Canadian government from delegates sent out by friends to inspect the country.

One of the delegates who was sent to Western Canada says: "In undertaking to give a description I fear I shall not be able to give it justice, for I hardly know where to begin or when to end. For a plea for my judgment, I will assume, for an illustration, the experience of a man who went from place to place in search of a wife, and finding so many of good qualities and attractions, was unable to determine which to choose, so in looking for a home in Western Canada I like the country well, and two of my boys are going this fall (they have since gone, and each has a homestead), where I am satisfied they will do well. The lands which I have seen are far superior in every respect and beyond my expectations. Lakes and streams to be found in all districts abound with innumerable kinds of water fowl, while fish are very abundant. On all sides we see innumerable stacks of grain, proving beyond doubt the fertility of the soil. On either side of the track can be seen in addition to the grain herds of cattle, horses and flocks of sheep. I have traveled over a great portion of the Western states and I have seen nothing to compare with this country. One hundred and sixty acres of land are given free to actual settlers, and I saw cases where as high as $20 per acre had been cleared in one year. I do not wish to advise anyone, but as for myself I shall leave as soon as I can arrange my affairs." The agents of the Canadian government are now at work organizing excursion parties, and the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, Canada, will be pleased to supply the information to those who are not within reach of an agent.

The Cook Was Innocent.

The polite agent for the new parlor phonograph who knocked at the door insisted that the old lady who opened it place the tubes in her ears, and listen to one song. She need not buy—a pleasure to exhibit it—"just try it once, madam," etc. "This song you will hear, madam," he said, as he held the tube doubtfully to her ears, is 'My Darling, Pluck a Daisy From My Grave,' as sung by Leopold Moriarity, the famous New York tenor." The agent started the machine up, but the old lady dropped the tubes and said: "Jest hold on a minute till I come back. That dratted cook's openin' another can of tomatoes in the kitchen with a table knife."—Detroit Free Press.

LIVELY AT HOT SPRINGS.

General Passenger Agent Cutts Reports Big Business.

A. B. Cutts, general passenger agent of the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, is in receipt of a message from Hot Springs, Ark., over the signature of a well known Minneapolitan who recently went there in one of their celebrated compartment sleepers, stating that the beautiful, bright "Arkansaw" weather is now on tap, and that they have enjoyed the genuine article for the last three weeks. The hotels are all filling up and the famous resort is as lively as a Klondike town.—Minneapolis Times.

Everybody has something the matter with them.—Washington Democrat.

ADVICE TO MINISTERS.

Given by a Minister.

Preachers who practise it will preach better.

No class of people is so liable to throat trouble as the great class who make up the Gospel ministry. The strain put upon the vocal organs by constant exercise; the sudden change from a heated building to the cool air when the vocal organs are in a state of complete relaxation; the fact that a minister feels impelled to use his voice when actors and lecturers would take the needed rest; these are among the reasons why "Clergymen's sore throat" is known as a special disease. The Rev. E. M. Brawley, D. D., District Secretary of the American Baptist Publication Society, writes from Petersburg, Va., the account of an experience of his own which is profitable reading to those afflicted with Bronchial or other throat troubles. The substance of the letter is as follows:

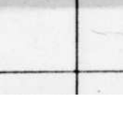
PETERSBURG, VA.

J. C. AYER CO.,

DEAR SIRS: Three months ago I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms. To ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Prevention is better than cure." A bottle of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral kept in the house, will effectually prevent the rooting of a cold and its consequent development into some dangerous malady. This remedy has no equal in Bronchial troubles. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its use. It is equally effective for Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, and every disease that attacks the throat or lungs. For years Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been put up only in large size bottles, at a price of $1.00. To meet an increasing demand for a smaller sized package the remedy can now be obtained in half-size bottles, at half price—50 cents. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook (free) and you will get a clearer idea of the great value of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Five-Pointed Discourse.



A Five-Finger Exercise

in reference to the Estey Organ. We will do as speakers do, make a point on each finger. If you want them all at once send to the

Estey Organ Co.,
Brattleboro, Vt.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND
POMMEL SLICKER
The Best Saddle Coat.
Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

If you want Agricultural Land, yielding from $15 to $30 PER ACRE yearly, become a settler in Western Canada. Good Crops, Good Prices; railroads, schools, churches; fuel in abundance. For Illustrated Pamphlets, Maps and low railroad rates, apply to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; BEN. DAVIES, 154 East Third St., Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

BUY NORTHERN GROWN SEED
FARM SEEDS
Salzer's Seeds are Warranted to Produce.
E. Walter, LeRayeville, Pa., astonished the world by growing 240 bushels Salzer's corn; J. Brester, Minikotti, Wis., 178 bush. barley, and P. Sinnott, Randalia, Iowa, by growing 196 bush. Salzer's oats per acre. If you doubt, write them. We wish to gain 150,000 new customers, hence will send on trial
10 DOLLARS WORTH FOR 10c.
11 pkgs of rare farm seeds, Hog Pea, Sand Vetch, 90c. Wheat, Sheep Rape, Jerusalem Corn, etc., including our mammoth Seed Catalogue, telling all about the $400 gold prizes for best name for our new marvelous corn and oats, "Prodigies," also sample of same, all mailed you upon receipt of but 10c. postage, positively worth $10, to get a start. 100,000 bbls. Seed Potatoes at $1.50 a bbl.
25 pkgs. earliest vegetable seeds, $1.00.
JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO. LACROSSE, WIS.
Please send this adv. along. Catalog alone, 5c. No. 87.

A. N. K.—G 1693

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

DELILAH.

BY HANNA KRYSTOFF.

SO THIS was her wedding journey! And here she sat alone at ten o'clock in the evening in the dreary hotel parlor, whose bare walls and shabby furniture had become so detestable. She might have gone with him. But no, she would never enter that hall again! She had sworn it.

Yet she knew her husband's whole repertoire by heart, knew the precise bar in his serenade when he would close his eyes, the passage in his scherzo when he would toss back his hair so gracefully. How studied and unnatural it all seemed. She fancied she could see him now, bowing with a faint smile, as though oppressed by the applause which thundered around him.

Oh, and how wildly the audiences here applauded, especially the women! Now they were pressing forward to the stage to shake hands with him. They would wait for him at the exit of the hall to thank him for the great pleasure he had afforded them, and throng around him to the very door of the carriage.

It was so yesterday, and the day before, and every day. Mme. Andre wanted to cry, especially when she thought of her adventure yesterday, when a crowd of feminine worshipers separated her from her husband, and he, evidently desiring to escape from enthusiasm which had become annoying, in the belief that his young wife sat beside him, had driven off without her. There she had stood, and was forced to hear these women rave about the "gifted man," how handsome he was, the enthralling power of his glance, and, above all, his superb hair.

Yes, his undeniably magnificent lock seemed to please these enthusiasts more than anything else, more even than his skill as an artist.

And the notes he received! She had just read one; of course the writer begged for a lock of his hair, and he would probably give it to her.

The paper fell from her trembling hands. Her slender fingers clenched convulsively, as with compressed lips she sank back into her chair. Oh, their flatteries and cajolery would make him a recreant, a recreant to her and to his art! Richard was still loyal, he still loved her. But, like every artist, he was vain. Perhaps he was more so than many others because he had more reason to be; yes, of course he had, far more reason.

She began mentally to enumerate his attractions. The stern expression of her delicate features softened, a tender light stole into her brown eyes. Then, rising hurriedly, she paced up and down the room several times, and her pretty face assumed a very resolue expression.

Surely, he would come soon, her Richard, her beloved husband. How had she lived so long without him? It had grown very late. She slipped on an elegant maize silk teagown, drew the pins from her hair, and let it fall in curling locks around her shoulders. Then she turned down the lamp, leaned back in the armchair and shut her eyes, as if asleep, and waited for him.

She soon heard his step, the door of the room was thrown open; but on the threshold the tall figure paused, the door was cautiously closed, and Andre moved forward on tiptoe.

"Richard, is it you?" asked a voice from the armchair.

"Ah, sweetheart, are you still awake? That is very kind in you." He kissed her. "It has been such an evening, Elly, such an evening!"

Removing his long cloak, he turned up the light. The clear glow fell upon his handsome figure. The regularity of the pale features were animated by the sparkle of the dark eyes, now glittering with joyous excitement. But the most remarkable thing about his appearance was the long, black hair, which fell in soft, waving locks nearly to the shoulders, giving a striking character to the man's whole person.

He took his seat at his young wife's side.

"Ah, if you would only come with me again, Elly!" he said as he lighted a cigarette. "The enthusiasm, the applause, the flowers! You know I do not set any undue value on such things, but it ought to make you very proud to see your husband so much applauded."

"But it doesn't," she answered, with a somewhat forced laugh. "To tell the truth, it makes me feel as if I were quite too insignificant. Besides, dearest, I love in you less the artist than the husband of my foolish heart, and you are more that at home than in the concert hall."

"You are right; 'here I am a man, here I may be' and, therefore, you see—"

He gave her a hasty kiss, then slipped out of his dress coat into a comfortable lounging jacket, and threw himself down on the sofa, while Elly lighted the lamp under the tea kettle. For a time they chatted gayly together. Richard had stretched himself out at full length. Elly sat at the table beside him, and her fingers played at times with his curls. He was speaking of his programme for the next concert. "We must continue our journey so very soon, Elly. I want to drain the cup of success to the dregs; one more day like to-day and—oh! oh! Elly!" he suddenly exclaimed, rather crossly, "what are you doing? You have certainly pulled out some of my hair!"

"Why, my dear husband—"

"Yes, you have! See, there are at least a dozen."

He raised his head and looked at her reproachfully.

"Why, Elly," he said, "what is the matter with you?"

"Oh, nothing, Richard," she replied, smiling as she endeavored to hide the strange excitement which had taken possession of her. "But perhaps you have forgotten that, during our engagement, you promised me a lock of your hair?"

"And because I have kept my word you want to pull out hairs enough, one by one, to make a lock? You are certainly one of the most affectionate wives that can be imagined!"

"Oh, no! If I really pulled it a little it was purely accidental; perhaps I moved my hand rather quickly, because I was vexed by the thought that you had not kept your promise. Yes, that was it."

"At that time, sweetheart, there was no traveling. I was with you, with all my hair. So you needed no memento."

"All the same, you didn't keep your promise, and I don't like it a bit, especially as you have been kinder to total strangers. Let me cut off the lock now, please! May I?"

"But, little wife, consider the season of the year.

"Only one little lock, Richard, where you can't miss it." A pair of scissors glittered in her hand. "May I?" Her voice trembled.

"Oh, I don't care, Elly. But—"

Her agitated face vanished an instant amid his dark curls. He felt a kiss pressed on them, then heard a hissing noise.

"For heaven's sake, Elly, here in front, on my forehead? And so much? Good gracious!"

He rushed toward the mirror, but the room suddenly became perfectly dark. His wife had put out the light. Two soft arms clasped him around the neck, and Elly, leaning her head upon his breast, began to cry like a child that knows it has done wrong and deserves punishment.

Richard could not understand the violence of his little wife's grief, but when she begged so wildly for his forgiveness for what she had done he smilingly granted the pardon.

The bright morning sun shone into the room.

"Disfigured! I am utterly disfigured! How could you do it?"

Richard turned angrily from the mirror and seized his hat and cane.

"Good-by!" he called loudly, to wake his wife, who was still asleep. She started up.

"Where are you going so early, Richard?"

"To the barber, to have my hair cut." His voice sounded actually threatening.

"Richard, my dear husband, you see, I wanted * * *" Then, conscious of guilt, she paused.

"Ah! So you meant to do it!"

He placed himself where the light streamed full upon him, took off his hat and stared at her.

He rushed out of the room, while his young wife murmured, amid her tears: "Perhaps he won't forgive me, but it could not be helped!"

The first part of the programme was over. During the pause the great concert hall began to fill, for now Richard Andre was to play. His admirers poured in and took their places in the front row. As if by an electric shock the thrill of expectation was communicated to the rest of the audience, which so far had been somewhat apathetic, only the pause lasted somewhat too long, longer than usual.

At last the artist appeared on the stage and was greeted by thunders of applause. Several bouquets flew through the air and fell at his feet. But the enthusiasm soon died away. The hands which had clapped so madly suddenly paused. A strange murmur ran through the hall; people east inquiring glances at one another.

This was not the artist whose personal beauty was so remarkable, but a very ordinary man, nowise different from thousands of others. Why, he looked almost ridiculous, for his clipped hair stood up like bristles all over his head!

Richard bowed his thanks for the enthusiastic reception, whose abrupt close somewhat vexed him. Then, as he again stood erect and placed the violin on his breast, he made the movement of the head with which he had formerly shaken his hair back from his brow. During the first few bars of the music he noticed the uneasiness in the hall and felt somewhat embarrassed by it; then he became absorbed in playing, and heard only the exquisite notes which he lured from his instrument.

"He surpasses himself!" the connoisseurs and critics whispered, while the orchestra and conductor gazed as though enchanted at the great musician, who had forgotten himself and his surrounndings.

When the piece was over Richard once more became conscious of his surroundings and stood waiting for the customary response from the audience. Here and there were tokens of approval, but the majority remained strangely indifferent. This state of affairs continued until the close of the performance.

"He looks not only hideous, but ridiculous," whispered a lady just in front of the stage to her neighbor.

"Yes; what induced him to do such a thing! He looks like a convict, or a clown, and those ears!"

"He has forgotten his wig," said a third.

Andre heard the remarks, as the exasperated ladies probably intended and, with his vanity deeply wounded, he left the scene of his former triumphs. His music was no longer appreciated. He had become an object of ridicule. And he owed all this to Elly, his foolish, jealous wife!

He clenched his teeth and his face flushed. She should pay for it!

Richard had not noticed that Elly had entered the carriage with him. He was thinking solely of the humiliation he had suffered—he, who had played like a demigod!

"Richard," she whispered, pleadingly, at last, "forgive me. I know I have been very wrong." He made no reply. "Just one word, Richard," she sobbed, bitterly; "just one. You see * * * the notes you gave me to read * * * all asked for locks of hair, till at last they drove me wild!"

"To think that you should have been there, Elly," he muttered, "at this concert!"

"Oh, how I suffered for you!" she cried.

Richard again lapsed into silence. But suddenly, before the carriage stopped at the hotel, he threw his arm around her, clasping her passionately to him.

"Elly!" he gasped, "you are right! I have learned it now. The lesson hurts, but it has cured me. Such external vanities are unworthy of a true artist. I owe this recognition to you, my new Delilah, and * * * and from this day my hair shall stay as it is now."

Again the light from a passing carriage shone upon Elly's face, and Richard saw that she was smiling roguishly through her tears.

"Listen, Richard," she whispered; "we will let it grow again! There is no danger now, for you or me, and, with your long hair, dearest * * * you certainly are a handsomer man."—From the German, in the International Magazine, Chicago.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

A Bad Fire.

East Grand Forks was visited by fire the other morning, and the saloons of W. T. Franklin, Dan Sullivan, Russell & Doll, Gus Hines, W. D. Kelly and Illstad & Kingstad, the restaurant of Frank Rogers, the Northern elevator, and the east approach to the Demers avenue bridge, were totally destroyed. The fire is believed to have caught in the rear basement in the Hines building and was probably incendiary in origin.

The trestle work of the approach to the bridge was almost a sething furnace, and as far back as the approach ran was soon a mass of flames, and the efforts of the firemen were directed to stopping the fire at the end and saving the entire bridge.

A Woman's Ring.

The other day Stephen S. Cook, of St. Paul, ordered his driving horse, Major, brought to his office at the Ryan hotel. After taking a drive, Mr. Cook instructed his man to take the animal to a blacksmith shop to be shod. The blacksmith found wedged in between the frog and the diamond-shaped caulk on one of the shoes with which the horse was shod, a ring, bent up into the shape of an elipse. On the inside of the ring was inscribed "F. P. B., Oct. 20, '87," and it is an 18-caret affair, and rather heavy.

The ring was sent to Mr. Cook, who has it in his safe, waiting for its owner to come along and claim it. That the ring was not in the least scratched or injured, beyond the scratching it got, is rather remarkable.

A Rich Offer.

For some time the University of Hamline has been hampered in its work by a debt, which to some extent has impaired the full plans of the trustees. Recently President Bridgemen called upon President James J. Hill, of the Grert Northern Railway company, in regard to the university, and Mr. Hill announced that he would give $20,000 to Hamline university for the purpose of raising the debt, provided other friends of the institution would raise the remaining $15,000.

These terms President Bridgeman gladly accepted. That he will succeed in making up the sum there is no doubt. An effort will be commenced immediately.

Killed the Little One.

The 11-months-old daughter of G. W. Gillis, of Minneapolis, was accidentally smothered to death. The little one's mother was ill and the father had taken the child to bed with him. The infant cried, and the father took care to cover it up well. Then he dropped off to sleep. About 3 o'clock in the morning he was awakened by the child's heavy breathing. It was seen that there was some trouble, and a physician was summoned, but before he had arrived life was extinct.

A post mortem examination was held, and death was found to have been caused by suffocation.

A New Industry.

An industry has just been discovered in Crookston which solves the mystery of the petrified man. There is in operation a factory for the manufacture of petrified men and women. A negro woman named Phenie Finn, who for a few months has resided there, has a cast of herself made, and a quarrel ensued over the delivery of the goods, thus divulging the secret. The woman is now in La Crosse, Wis., but a partly decayed semblance of petrification remains, which is easily identified as a cast of the scheming Phenie.

A Terrible Offense.

George Sudeith was arrested at St. Paul, charged with defacing United States property. Sudeith, it is alleged, scratched a match on one of the newly enameled letter boxes. When arraigned in the police court, Judge Orr stated that he could make no order in the case, as the court over which he presided had no jurisdiction. Sudieth was taken before the United States authorities.

Robbed the Dead.

The rooms of Joseph P. Hulbert in Minneapolis were entered by thieves during the night, and a gold watch, a diamond pin, a Knights of Pythias charm and Mrs. Hulbert's jewelry were stolen. The audacious thing about the robbery was that the burglars entered the house while Mr. Hulbert's body was awaiting burial.

News in Brief.

Hotel Claremont, at Claremont, was burned. Some of the inmates had narrow escapes.

The Pitcher Medicine company of Duluth has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state.

The dry goods and clothing store of Charles Wilson, at Red Wing, was badly damaged by fire.

Judge Lewis of St. Paul has decided that the law of 1895, fixing the salaries of the county officers of Ramsey county, is unconstitutional.

A postoffice has been established in Crow Wing county called Klondike.

A postoffice has been established at Hewson, Isanti county, with Bertha M. Haney as postmaster.

Frank Ratter, a watchman at Schellhas' brewery at Winona, fell into a vat of scalding malt and was badly burned on the upper part of the body.

Erick Nopson and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fingerson, were thrown from a buggy and killed while returning home from Stewartville.

"Babe" Loomis, the full back of the university football team, and recently elected captain of the eleven for next year, will not be allowed by the faculty to hold the position to which the team elected him.

Suit was begun by the Great Northern Railway company against the Northern Pacific to enforce the contract of the latter to use the former's union depot and terminal facilities in Minneapolis.

First Lieutenant Charles B. Wheeler, ordnance department, has been ordered to St. Paul to inspect the mortar carriages now being constructed by the American Hoist and Derrick company.

Chippewa Chief Kaga Doocia died on the shore of Mille Lacs lake a few days ago. He acted as a scout for the government during the Sioux outbreak.

A patient at the hospital in St. Peter, committed from Mankato, suicided by hanging himself.

Joseph Kuer, a blind man of Buckman, committed suicide by hanging in a neighbor's granary. He was released from the Fergus Falls insane asylum last October.

The body of John Fremark, an inmate of the Soldiers' home, was found in a ravine on the river bank half a mile east of Fort Snelling.

BATTLESHIP FOR HAVANA.

The Maine Is Ordered Off to the Cuban Capital.

Washington, Jan. 25.—For the first time since the insurrection broke out in Cuba three years ago, the United States government is to be represented in the harbor of Havana by a war ship. The decision to send the United States steamship Maine was finally reached at a special meeting at the white house Monday morning between the president, Secretary Long, Assistant Secretary Day, Attorney-General McKenna and Gen. Miles, and it is a striking fact that with the exception of the secretary of the navy and the attorney-general not a member of the cabinet knew of the president's intention to take this radical action. It is not denied, however, that some such move has been long in contemplation, as is evidenced in the following statement of Assistant Secretary Day, made Monday afternoon:

"The sending of the Maine to Havana means simply the resumption of friendly naval relations with Spain. It is customary for naval vessels of friendly nations to pass in and out of the harbors of other countries with which they are at peace, and British and German war ships have recently visited Havana. This is no new move. The president has intended to do it for some time, but heretofore something has happened to postpone it. The orders to the Maine mean nothing more than I have said, and there is nothing alarming or unfriendly in them. The Spanish minister here is fully informed of what is going on, and so far as I know has not made the slightest objection to it."

Further, Assistant Secretary Day said that Consul-General Lee had not sent for a war ship.

At the Spanish legation nothing was known of the order for the Maine to proceed to Havana. Minister De Lome said that even in case it were true it portended nothing serious. It was perfectly in accord with usage for war ships of two friendly powers to enter and leave each other's ports; the war ships of Spain had visited American ports on complimentary missions three times in as many years, and if there had not been an American war ship in Havana, in the same length of time, it was merely because the United States government had not seen fit to order one there. As to the possible consequences of the Maine's appearing at Havana at this time the minister expressed himself as not at all uneasy.

JAPAN READY FOR WAR.

Her War Vessels Will Leave Soon for Chinese Waters.

London, Jan. 22.—The St. James Gazette, commenting upon the dispatch from Yokohama saying that a fleet of nine Japanese warships will leave Japan in the course of a week for Chinese waters, says:

"Japan is prepared for war. That, in a nutshell, is the news from Yokohama, and it is really the first news from Japan since the beginning of the Chinese crisis. It is obvious that the Japanese government had stopped telegraphic communication, which it never does except when mobilizing the army or navy. That is precisely what it has been doing. It is almost certain that the destination of the fleet is Wei-Hai-Wei, and there is no doubt the movement means that the status quo in China, so far as Manchuria and Corea are concerned, shall not be altered by Russia or any combination of Russia's allies, in defiance of Great Britain and Japan. So long as the defenders' policy is equality of opportunity in China they are in a position to enforce their claims."

The Big Cotton Mill Strike.

Boston, Jan. 25. — The second week of the big cotton mill strike opened at the principal centers, with both sides apparently as determined to hold out as at the inauguration of the contest. No attempt was made to open the gates of the big corporations' mills at New Bedford, Biddeford or Lewiston. At New Bedford and Biddeford, the business men appear to be more anxious regarding the future than either mill owners or operatives, and many small dealers are feeling the loss of trade severely. Many operatives are leaving, some for their homes in other cities and others to seek employment in other centers.

Cuban Leaders Surrender.

Havana, Jan. 21. — The Spanish authorities report that the insurgent general Masso Parra, with the forces under his command, have surrendered at Formento to the Spanish general, Aguirre, and Senor Marcus Garcia, governor of Santa Clara province. The insurgents are said to have formed in line and delivered up their arms according to the ordinance, shouting: "Long live Spain!" "Long live the queen regent!" "Long live Spanish Cuba!" and "Long live autonomy!" Gen. Masso Parra is said to be a brother of Bartolome Masso, the Cuban president.

Cleveland on Hawaiian Question.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 25. — "It is one of the strangest things of these times that my position upon the Hawaiian question should be misunderstood." That is the way ex-President Grover Cleveland expressed himself when shown the statement of Senator Morgan in the senate Monday relative to his position. In a lengthy interview Mr. Cleveland emphatically reiterated his statement that ever since the question of Hawaiian annexation was presented he had been utterly and constantly opposed to it.

Perish on the Trail.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 25.—The relatives of Cassius and Anthony Chittick, of Flora, this state, have received word that the two men have perished in the Klondike region. The two left home for the gold fields last August. At Seattle they were joined by William Gosser, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Melville Scoville, of Syracuse, N. Y. Relatives received a letter Monday from returning miners who have reached Seattle stating that the whole party perished in a snowstorm.

Cuban Capital Has Fallen.

Madrid, Jan. 24.—A private report from Puerto Principe confirms the report that Gen. Castellano has destroyed Esperanza (at the extreme west of the Sierra Cubitas), the headquarters of the insurgent government, which moved to Navajaz, saving documents and files. When the insurgents retired they left 57 of their number dead on the field, but carried away their wounded. The government troops lost 27 killed and 87 wounded.

Position of Germany Confirmed.

Berlin, Jan. 25.—The following semi-official announcement was made Monday: "The statements regarding Germany's intention to open the port of Kiao-Chou to the commerce of the world are practically correct. Germany desires that its policy in China should be of a liberal character, not interfering with the commerce of other nations."

A Total Disability Claim of $1,650 Paid to a Man who was Afterward Cured.

The Monitor, a newspaper published at Meaford, Ont., Canada, first discovered this case two years ago, and published it at length, which now seems, owing to the cure of it, to be a miracle. The facts were so remarkable that many people doubted the truth of them. They said: "It is too remarkable; it cannot possibly be true; the paper is mistaken, and the man, although he may think himself cured, will soon relapse into his former condition," etc., etc. The accuracy of its report called in question the Monitor determined to find out definitely whether the facts were as stated and whether the man would really stay cured. They accordingly kept a close watch on the case for two years after the first article appeared, and have just now published another article about it in which the original reports are completely verified, the cure is permanent, and they publish a fac simile of the check given by the Canadian Mutual Life Association for $1,650.00 amount of total disability claim paid by them to Mr. Petch.

The first account stated that the patient (see address below) had been a paralytic for five years, and there was such a total lack of feeling in his limbs and body that a pin run full length could not be felt; that he could not walk or help himself at all; for two years he was not dressed; furthermore, that he was bloated, was for that reason almost unrecognizable and could not get his clothes on. The paralysis was so complete as to affect the face and prevent him from opening his mouth sufficiently wide to take solid food. The doctors called the disease spinal sclerosis, and all said he could not live.

For three years he lingered in this condition. Then by some friend he was advised to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. He took them and there was a slight change. The first thing noted was a tendency to sweat freely. This showed there was some life left in his helpless body. Next came a little feeling in his limbs. This extended, followed by prickling sensations, until at last the blood began to course freely, naturally and vigorously through his body, and the helplessness gave way to returning strength, the ability to walk returned, and he was restored to his old time health.

The above is the substance of the first article published by the Monitor. Now follow some clippings, taken from the same paper two years afterward, and there is not the slightest shadow of a doubt, in view of this testimony, that Mr. Petch's cure is permanent. Here follows the account:

On being again questioned, Mr. Petch said: "You see those hands—the skin is now natural and elastic. Once they were hard and without sensation. You could pierce them with a pin and I would not feel it, and what is true of my hands is true of the rest of my body. Perhaps you have observed that I have now even ceased to use a cane, and can get about my business perfectly well. You may say there is absolutely no doubt as to my cure being permanent. Indeed, I am in even better health than when I gave you the first interview."

"Do you still attribute your cure to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?" asked the Monitor.

"Unquestionably I do," was the reply. "Doctors had failed, as had also the numerous remedies recommended by my friends. Nothing I took had the slightest effect upon me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To this wonderful medicine I owe my release from the living death. I have since recommended these pills to many of my friends, and the verdict is always in their favor. I shall always bless the day I was induced to take them."

Such is the history of one of the most remarkable cases of modern times. Can any one say, in the face of such testimony, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not entitled to the careful consideration of any suffering man, woman or child? Is not the case in truth a miracle of modern medicine?

To make the evidence complete we publish above a fac simile cut of the check received by Mr. Petch from the Canadian Mutual Life Association, being the amount due him for total disability. It is unnecessary to add that this life insurance association did not pay this large amount of money to Mr. Petch, except after the most careful examination of his condition by their medical experts. They must have regarded him as forever incurable.

Mr. Petch's address is as follows: Reuben Petch, Grierswille, Ont., Canada.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

At 30 marriage is the wine of life; at 40 it's the morning after.

A man is quiet when he is dead; a woman is dead when she's quiet.

Every woman is a mirror of her bosom friend to her husband and a mirror of her husband to her bosom friend.

The first sign that a woman is beginning to feel her age is when she hunts up all the baby pictures of her children.

Half a woman's pleasure in buying a pretty pair of stockings cheap is spoiled because she can never be perfectly sure they won't crock.

When you see a girl's eyes look as if she had been crying she has generally met with some great grief, or else she has just had her bath and couldn't find her silk starching bag.—N. Y. Press.

A New Crazy Sect in Connecticut.

A lot of fanatics in the State recently immersed an old rheumatic woman bodily in the water to "heal her" as they said. She nearly died in consequence. How much better it would have been to have treated the poor old woman for her infirmity with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only cures rheumatism, but prevents kidney complaint and remedies dyspepsia, constipation, liver trouble and nervous prostration. Give it a systematic trial.

"It must be hard to lose one's mind," said the thoughtful boarder. "It ought to be easy, if your head is cracked," said the cheerful idiot.—Indianapolis Journal.

When Traveling

Whether on pleasure bent or business, take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches, and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Why is it that a boy always insists upon raising pigeons or bantam chickens, instead of something useful, like turkeys or pigs?—Atchison Globe.

A party at the house is all right if it doesn't disarrange one's things.—Washington Democrat.

The Public Awards the Palm to Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar for coughs. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

It's wonderful what a lot of things you may learn about yourself if you'll only read the papers.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Advantages of the Sleigh.

The man who owns a sleigh has no difficulty in making himself solid with the girls. As girls soon get cold and are ready to go home he can take as many as six in one afternoon, taking each girl home as fast as she freezes and going for another. The man who gets a girl in a buggy in summer isn't allowed to turn back till the horse gets lame.—Atchison Globe.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

His Weakness.—She—"He does not seem to be a brilliant conversationalist." He—"No; unfortunately, he can't talk on any subject unless he knows something about it."—Puck.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

A Man's Idea.—"Do you believe it is true that George Washington never told a lie?" "I don't know. But if he didn't, Martha must have been an ideal wife."—Cleveland Leader.

Upon the well-being of women, especially of working women, the whole welfare of society rests.

With a rub or two lumbago is often cured By St. Jacobs Oil. Small cost, big profits.

When you are prepared for an emergency it hardly ever arises.—Washington Democrat.

At once use St. Jacobs Oil for sprains. At once it will cure. Athletes know this.

Nobody is too worthless to have some congenial associates.—Washington Democrat.

The proof of it is thousands say St. Jacobs Oil cured us of neuralgia.

One for the Lawyer.

A celebrated New York lawyer asked a distinguished actress in a breach-of-contract suit:

"What is your age?"

She held back and refused to answer.

"Oh, speak up! If you had answered the question promptly you would not be as old as you are now."—N. Y. World.

$400 For New Names!

The Salzer Seed Co. want suitable names for their 17-inch long corn and White Oat prodigy. You can win this $400 easily. Catalogue tells all about it. Seed potatoes only $1.50 a barrel. $500 in prizes!

SEND THIS NOTICE AND 10 CTS. IN STAMPS to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and get free their great seed catalogue and 11 new farm seeds, including above corn and oats, positively worth $10, to get a start. K 7

The Only One.—"I know one man," said the quiet young woman, "who is listened to with respect by both sides whenever he speaks in congress." "He must have a lot of influence!" "I hope he has. He's the chaplain."—Washington Star.

People often take great pains in the care and cleanliness of their persons and wholly neglect the proper attention necessary to keep the hair and scalp in healthy condition. Dandruff is an evidence of this, and most persons are afflicted with it. There is a very excellent remedy made by Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., called "Cocoaine." Those who are interested in the subject should send to that firm for their pamphlet entitled "The Hair, Its Care and Management." The book is sent free.

Our idea of being just rich enough is to be in such circumstances that one can send telegrams instead of having to write letters.—Atchison Globe.

Piso's Cure cured me of a Throat and Lung trouble of three years' standing.—E. Cady, Huntington, Ind., Nov. 12, 1894.

To the soul in torment there is no such thing as time.—Hall Caine, in "The Christian."

Are you bruised? Use St. Jacobs Oil and You won't be long. Shortest way.

Talk isn't cheap when you hire a lawyer to do it for you.—Chicago Daily News.

As it certainly cures it, St. Jacobs Oil is The Master Cure for rheumatism.

Some people read only their church papers.—Washington Democrat.

Sudden cold brings soreness and stiffness. St. Jacobs Oil brings a cure.

IDEAL GRANDMOTHERS.

Women Who Know the Laws of Nature and Obey Them May Live to Green Old Age.

Mrs. Pinkham Says When We Violate Nature's Laws Our Punishment Is Pain—If We Continue to Neglect the Warning We Die.

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspirations easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and restore woman's health, we know of no better or more inspiring medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your ailment taken in time can be thrown off, if neglected it will run on into great suffering and pain.

Here is an illustration. MRS. LUCY GOODWIN, Holly, W. Va., says:

"I suffered with nervous prostration, faintness, all-gone feeling and palpitation of the heart. I could not stand but a few moments at a time without having that terrible bearing-down sensation.

"When I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I only weighed 108 pounds, and could not sit up half a day; before, however, I had used a whole bottle, I was able to be about. I took in all about three bottles of the Compound, and am entirely cured; now I weigh 131 pounds and feel like a new woman, stronger and better than ever in my life."

So it transpires that because of the virtues of Mrs. Pinkham's wonderful Compound, even a very sick woman can be cured and live to a green old age.

"FORBID A FOOL A THING AND THAT HE WILL DO." DON'T USE SAPOLIO

A PUZZLE MAP OF THE UNITED STATES SENT FREE TO ANY ADDRESS UPON RECEIPT OF Five Two-Cent Stamps TO COVER THE COST OF MAILING. BEST INSTRUCTOR in geography ever seen. Interests the children and teaches them the geography of their own country in a practical and lasting manner. Not more than one sent to one address. Write to F. H. LORD, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago Great Western Railway, QUINCY BUILDING. CHICAGO, ILL.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, JAN., 28, 1897.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

—Dr. Carter, dentist, visits Delano Friday and Saturday, Jan. 28 and 29.

—Mrs. M. J. Mulford is now owner and prodrietor of a bicycle.

—Bartlett is running his ice plow on the river, below town. It is a great success.

—Delano now has three tonsorial artists. You pay your money and take your choice.

—The new refrigerator for beer, on Fourth street is progressing rapidly towards completion.

—Stone, the blacksmith, says forty horses in one day is pretty fair work for one shoer single handed and alone. He has a bran span new apron too.

—When small boys are seen puffing cigarettes about the streets, it is quite clear that some one has violated the state law, which prohibits the sale to minors.

—The Delano candy factory shipped a hundred pounds of candy to Northfield, Monday, for the retail trade there. Surely Delano is growing as a manufacturing town.

—The farmer's in this vicinity have fully determined to skim their own cream, and have a co-operative creamery association organized. If they can't buy they intend building.

LATER. The farmers have closed a bargain with C. G. Roosen taking his creamery for $2,000. This will prevent the building of a new one. They will take charge Febv. 1.

—The old course of the "living ditch" was filled with water for a short time, near the depot, on Wednesday morning. The R. R. water tank was in need of repairs and was emptied for that purpose.

—Farmers have concluded we are to have a mild winter, and have begun looking for a market for surplus feed. Good hay is being sold for $3.50 a ton, delivered. We may have some snow and cold weather yet. Don't sell too short.

—Mr. Skogsburg, while skating home on the river yesterday, from an errand to George Schaffer's store, was bitten by a dog belonging to Leo Epple. Mr. S. was very mad. According to law unlicensed dogs are supposed to be dead at this season of the year.

—The law is quite strict in regard to reporting births and deaths to the Town Clerk: or in Villages to the Health Officer, and a fine of $20 is liable to be imposed for violation of the law. There are some in Delano now liable to this fine. Report your cases and have the records complete.

—One of the fine days last week, as we passed G. P. Schaffer's new dry goods store, his clerk, Andrew Hanseman, was heard to remark: I have a good mind to hang out the straw hats. The balmy air was sufficient to make most any one think of straw hats and palm leaf fans.

—A car load of farm machinery arrived Tuesday. It looks as if it was a little early. But there must be some on hand to take the place of many pieces of machinery left standing in the field last fall, and which, if housed would have done the work next spring and saved the giving of many notes.

—Rev. J. S. McCornack, of Howard Lake, has had printed a programme of his church work, containing a calendar for 1898. When his hearers look for the day of the month, they can have a good idea of where the pastor is, as well as be reminded of the time he is to be with them. He preaches at Howard Lake Sunday morning and evening, at Sylvan and at Winsted at 3 p. m. alternate Sundays, at Delano Tuesday at 7 p. m.

—Lyndale is on a boom. We are informed that Jim Sturman has started up a feed mill to grind for the patrons of the creamery and others. A blacksmith has located there. Ed Stewart doess harness business. J. C. Johnson and Post Master Castle supply goods. So long as the farmers can confine their drinks to butter milk they will not have to drive away to do business and will prosper accordingly.

—The Franklin Horse Company met on Tuesday, and discussed, and from reports, discussed without the "dis" for sometime. The company was unfortunate in investing in valuable horses on a downward market, and have some debts to meet which are hard to pay. But if they are honest debts the easiest way out is to pay them off, and profit by the experience. A company must work harmoniously in seasons of depression as well as when things are prosperous if they wish eventually to succeed.

—A terrible holocaust occurred at Spokane, Washington. The Great Eastern block, in which many people lived, was burned. The stairs took fire and people ran to open windows for help, and reports say from five to fifty lost their lives. And some of our school board claim that the stairs in the school house would not burn because they are oak. The Spokane people should, if that is so, have built their stairs of oak. For our part we believe that oak makes about as hot a fire as any wood we have, and if the school stairs should chance to get on fire during school hours that a lot of our fond parents would feel awfully bad for a short time at least, and be immediately in favor of some other way of getting out of the school house.

—Subscribe for the GAZETTE. Three months, 25 cents. Take it now.

—William Dunn says: I am 74 years old and have heard lots of temperance lectures but never a better one than that, Mr. Battey's at the City Hall Monday evening.

—A meeting of the Washington's birthday celebration committee has been called for Tuesday, Feb. 1, at 2 o'clock p. m., at Secretary Buckley's office in the Eagle building.

—If Mr. Wharton wishes the names of those who came to see the County Treasurer on Monday. We refer him to H. A. Gilmer, at the Gilmer House, where they expected to find him, but didn't.

—That naughty old Eagle is picking on us again. She says some uncomplimentary things for-ninst us. We answer in the language of that sturdy old veteran of Massechusetts. "Shoo fly; don't bother me".

—A lively runaway occurred Wednesday on River street. A team from near Maple Plain did the speeding, and partially demolished a couple of wagons that didn't get out of the way. People should drive up as near the sidewalks as possible to tie and not leave their wagons blocking up too much of the street.

—J. F. Collins, of Bertha, Minn., who for some years varied between the practice of law and teaching in Wright and adjoining counties, was in our burg a few days since, en route for Smith Lake and Waverly. He is just the same old John—only a little more so.—Annandale Post.

Mr. Collins was once principal of the Delano School.

—Alois, son of Simon Wasaka, living on the old Van Eman farm, received a severe bite on the calf of the leg, Tuesday, while walking with his father, on the sidewalk, in front of John Sturman's house. Mr. W. tried to have the Village officers order the dog killed; but no one seemed to consider himself possessed of the requisite authority. Mrs. Sturman agreed to keep the canine tied up for a time.

—The business men's temperance lecture by Rev. Richard H. Battey at the City Hall, Monday evening, was larger than that of last week but the hall was not nearly filled. The lecture was an able one and appreciated by those present, even though some of the audience was not in harmony with all he said. The Rev. insists that from a business point of view saloons are a detriment to the town in which they are run.

—Last week nearly every daily paper in the twin cities published a special from Buffalo, saying that Mrs. Fred Adickes, who was so terribly burned the 10th of January, had died. Their informant was mistaken. Although seriously and dangerously burned, her physician, who lives here, reports her improving, and likely to recover. People of Wright county can with comparative composure, because they have got used to it, read of the death and resurrection in city dailies, of Prince Bismark, General Garcia, or Consul-General Lee. But when Buffalo correspondents, at so much per line, get to killing off the wives of farmers, and people right here at home, they draw the line. It must stop.

—As the time for selecting village officers for the next year draws nigh, citizens are discussing who they will have to fill the places and administer the laws. Delano has a fair set of ordinances which, if enforced, would make the town much pleasanter for most people, and it is pretty unanimously agreed that men should be elected who will to the best of their ability, see that the laws are enforced. While village officers themselves violate laws and openly defy officials, there can not be a very law abiding community. Some of our present board close their business houses on Sunday; some do not. When a member of the board keeps business open on Sunday how can he ask others to close?

Personal.

J. H. Ferrel, of Montrose, visited Delano Monday.

Mr. Stimmel, the John Hancock man, was in town Tuesday.

M. A. and Mrs. O'Hair attended the funeral of Mrs. T. F. O'Hair, at St. Paul this week.

Andrew Swedebnek, of Upsol, now attending the Agricultural School, visited Delano relatives and friends over Sunday.

President McGary, of the Delano Washington's Birthday Association was in town Wednesday, making arrangemedts for February 22.

A. J. Hayes, one of Franklin's prosperous farmers was a GAZETTE caller Tuesday. He prepared for the coming campaign by subscribing for several papers.

County Cullings.

Scarlet Fever has made its appearance at Buffalo. The best way to keep it out of your family is to not allow them to go where it is or recently has been, and not entertain visitors who have lately recovered and not been properly disinfected. It is very contagious and one of the most fatal of children's diseases.

Minneapolis Tribune: Senator Hanna displayed his poverty of intellect and manifested very poor taste in stealing a grand idea from the late President Garfield and applying it to a little partizan scrimmage. It was, we think, the night of Lincoln's assassination that Jas. A. Garfield was in New York and was called out to address a surging and excited crowd. Raising his hands impressively and securing quiet, the first words that Garfield uttered were these: "My friends, God reigns, and the government at Washington still lives." It was a great occasion and a great utterance. But Hanna's use of the idea utterly belittles it.

If every good bimetallist attends every primary election held by his party in his precinct, there will be a platform on which he can stand and a ticket in the field for which he can vote. It is the fellows who won't take part in the primaries, who keep out of politics until the bosses have made the programme, and then refuse to vote it, that kills the party, and that allows men not the choice of the people to have office.

If you can't spend the time to attend so many political gatherings and elections, by all means attend the first primary elections held, and cast your votes for delegates from your precinct, on whom you can depend to carry out your views in the county convention. If you are for bimetallism don't support a man you have all along known as favoring a single gold standard, and expect anything but a gold standard platform. And don't stay at home expecting things to go right without your help.

The Cokato Enterprise has changed hands, Mr. Frank having sold out to Post Master C. J. Carlson. Mr. C., in his salutation, says: We shall be fearless for the right, and fearless against the wrong, as far as we are able to judge. As to politics we shall stand by principle rather than party, and may therefore be termed independent as to politics. Though, when at any time it shall become necessary to adhere to and support one party for the maintenance or securing of a good cause, we shall do so, be the party Republican, Democrat, or some other old or new party."

A great temperance wave has started out in Wright County. It has started at the right time of year to do something. Many towns are having warm meetings on the subject, and where there is apparent hope of accomplishing their object men will vote on the question of license or no license. The County Seat should set the example for the balance of the county, by doing its best to rid itself of that which aids in debauching politics; turning aside justice; and in many ways injuring the finances, corrupting the morals, and destroying the bodies and souls of men who come from all parts of the country at different seasons of the year on business, and who should be permitted to go home again clothed in their right minds.

The Eagle, as usual, just about election time, devotes a large share of space to the GAZETTE, and its editor, Dr. Catlin. She builds up a lot of straw men and knocks them down like ten pins. Who said the Commissioners advertised to collect "Franklin" taxes on the 17th? If our readers wish to know where a large share of the money goes. The Eagle gets it. She don't like our Washington letter. Read it and judge for yourself if it is not better than her old plate matter sent out ready to print. The GAZETTE wasn't in that printing combine of last year and hasn't been bothered with night mares so much as some of its neighbors. As for our Democracy, our readers know where we have always stood. It was Brother Wharton who flopped, a few years ago. It can't be possible that so great a change is forgotten so soon. Why, Brother Wharton is in the very boat he has been trying so hard to crowd Charley Towne into. Say, Prof.! that letter of explanation promised to the public, in which you were to tell why you flopped, is again in order.

[Pub. Jan. 28, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25, March 4, 11.]

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court, Eighteenth Judicial District, in and for the County of Wright and State of Minnesota upon a judgment rendered in said County on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1897, in an action wherein, wherein the state of Minnesota was Plaintiff and Danville Mayo, Moses Mayo and John Collins were Defendants in favor of said Plaintiff and against said defendants for the sum of five hundred thirty four and 8-100 dollars (534.08) and whereas said judgment was docketed in the office of Clerk of the District Court for Wright County on the 19th day of October 1897, at 4. P. M. of that day, I did on the 25th day of January A. D. 1898 duly levy upon all right, title and interest of the within named defendants or either of them in and to the following described Real Estate situated and being in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota and described as follows to-wit:

The west half of the north east quarter of section twenty three, in township one hundred and twenty one, range twenty four.

Now therefore Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale and will sell the premises levied upon and described in the within notice to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the Village of Buffalo, in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 17th day of March, 1898, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated this 26th day of January, 1898.

JOHN C. NUGENT,
Sheriff of Wright County.

C. A. PIDGEON,
County Attorney
for Wright County.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 51

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .88
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .84
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .80
Rye	" "	$ .37
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.12
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .06
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

MARRIED.

STEVENS, DENOON.—At the M. E. Parsonage, by Rev. J. L. Farber, Mr. Riar Stevens and Miss Addie Denoon; both of Montrose.

BELT, STURMAN.—At Buffalo, Tuesday, January 25, Mr. McClellan Belt and Miss Bertha Sturman.

RAMMALA, MICHALSYK.—At the Catholic Church, Tuesday, January 25, Mr. Joe Rammala and Miss Mary Michalsyk.

BORN.

LINDSLEY.—Sunday, January 23, to Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lindsley, a son.

DIED.

BUCKLIN.—At Rockford, Monday, January 24, Brayton Bucklin. Another old settler.

O'HAIR.—In St. Paul, Tuesday, January 25, Mrs. Annie, wife of Thomas F. O'Hair.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE

and

LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific Ameriaan, for one year, $3.50

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone. 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal
And the
Buffalo Gazette
Both one year
For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the Buffalo Gazette,
Delano,
Minn.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

SEE THE BEST.

DEMORESTS'

An Unparallelled Offer.

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO.

110 Fifth Ave., New York.

A Liberal Offer, Only $1.75 for BUFFALO GAZETTE and DEMORIST'S MAGAZINE. for One Year. Send your Subscriptions to this Office. Delano, Minn.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING

PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING, REPAIRING AND GENERAL CARPENTERING, SATISFACTION GUARANTEED. R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

GIVE US A CALL.

W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS,
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

-AdvertisE-

GAZETTE. ONE YEAR $1.00

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE
popular
NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very resPectfully yours,
GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits, green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.

All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.

Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
—WAVERLY—
Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexe furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County

D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR

FINE JOB PRINTING,

IN THE LINE OF

Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line of Printing,

CALL AT THE

Gazette Office.

CHOICE

GARDEN AND FLOWER

SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1898. NUMBER 19.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street.

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday.... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath at..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday.... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZEYNER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
Rev. J. S. McCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAYS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President — JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen — NICK FRANK, HENRY BUCK, ADAM BORSCH.
Recorder — L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace — W. H. FRAZEE, R. M. WALTER.
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health — T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BUCK, Secretary, J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables — JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. BORSCH.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, ILL.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One half column, one year..... 50.00
One fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One eighth column, one year..... 12.50
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

CUP CAKE.

If I had known in the morning
How wearily all the day
The words unkind would trouble my mind
That I said when you went away,
I had been more careful, darling,
Nor given you needless pain,
But we vex our own with look and tone
We may never take back again.

For, though in the quiet evening
You may give me the kiss of peace,
Yet it well might be that never for me
The pain of the heart should cease!
How many go forth at morning
Who never come home at night!
And hearts have broken for harsh words spoken
That sorrow can ne'er set right.

We have careful thought for the stranger
And smiles for the some time guest,
But oft for our own the bitter tone,
Though we love our own the best.
Ah, lips with the curve impatient,
Ah, brow with the shade of scorn,
'Twere a cruel fate were the night too late
To undo the work of the morn!

—Margaret E. Sangster.

THE Duluth election went fusion; Mayor Truelson receiving about 1200 majority over Mitchel the Republican candidate. It is claimed that Page Morris' friends helped elect Truelson, and it is laid up against the Congressmen. How could he prevent his friends from voting fusion if they so desired?

AT the Union League Club in Baltimore, Wednesday evening, Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, is quoted as having said: "I believe the Republican party is in danger of loosing the next Congress, and so believing, it were cowardly on my part not to say so." He is in favor of giving the country three years rest from threatened financial legislation and thinks by that time we will have out grown the question. Mr Thurston thinks "The proposed annexation of the Hawaiian Islands is a matter that ought to receive the most careful, deliberate and dispassionate consideration."

Anything to divert attention from the overwhelming wave of Bryanism with which the country is now being washed clean of its political pollution, is what the Senator and his partners in distres seem to desire. And Mr. Thurston is from Nebraska where the leader of Bryanism lives when he is at home.

THE present Secretary of the Treasury is rather a broad Gage. He advocates non-intervention with monetary affairs. Then he wants the present gold standard with National banks, with branches in smaller towns. Then he quotes to the Trades' League at Philadelphia, alluding to Mr. Bryan's late remark that "If our enemies boast that they have buried bimetallism, we point to these wage reductions as the weeping willows which have sprung up about its temporary tomb", and says: Beautifully expressed, but quite beside the point. In the first place, the record is against them, wages have been advanced. There are no weeping willows around the tomb of bimetallism at which to point. Besides, his enemies, if he means the Republican party, are not boasting that they have buried bimetallism, they proclaim themselves its friend, they approve it in their platform. The political head of that party has been active to secure it under the only conditions by which it can be maintained, namely international agreement, with open mints to both silver and gold."

This Gage appears to be broad enough for all. Almost any voter, whatever be his views, can find an agreement with the broad Gage. No wonder Republican readers think the financial question a difficult one to see through when their leaders are dodging about the way President McKinley and Secretary Gage have been lately. How different from Mr. Bryan's stand. He declares that relief from our financial difficulties would follow the return to bimetallism, the coining of silver and gold 16 to 1 without favor to either and without asking the aid of any country. He claims that one dollar would be worth just as much as an other so soon as it could be used, without discrimination for the same purposes. The people know this state of affairs did exist and they can see through that plan easily. There is no contradicting, talking about 53 cent dollars and so on. But it is clear as the noon day sun.

—Subscribe for the GAZETTE.

DEMOCRATS, who have read the Globe for some time back, have accused it of having a "Pyle" of dizzy spells; but since Feb. 1, it has become more "Spinney" than ever.

THOMAS B. TURLEY is booked for the next Senator from Tennessee. The 145th ballot was required to break the deadlock. He is to fill the unexpired term of Isham G. Harris. He is said to be one of the most prominent lawyers in Memphis, an ex confederate soldier, and a free silver Democrat.

THE Minneaplis Times publishes an old clipping of three years ago, in which the author seeks to turn Jews away from joining Hebrew bimetallic clubs. It, among other things, says: "We assert that every member of any political club having a religious tag to it, Jewish or not, is a knave or a fool. The founders of these political religious organizations are, without exception, designing rascals, who aim at personal aggrandizement or pecuniary profit. The rank and file are their dupes and are men who are too ignorant of the political and social institution to know what is right and proper to do."

And yet, we see men foisted into office because they belong to certain cliques, societies or churches, or may be nationality, regardless of qualifications or the lack of them, at almost every election.

Possibilities of Protection.

It is generally claimed by free traders, and those in favor of tariff for revenue only, that protective tariff protects the rich, making them richer, while it impoverishes the poor. Many farmers who have been led to believe that a tariff on farm products was an advantage to them, can, in the spring, if they happen to be short of seed wheat, see, at once, that the tariff is a disadvantage to the majority of citizens of this country, who have to buy wheat or flour. While Joe Leiter, who controls the market, and who has bargained for all the surplus crop for about $1 per bushel or less, can sell out the entire lot for a rise of about 25 per cent as those who could compete with him live across the Canadian line and must pay 25 cents per bushel to get their wheat into this country. Here we see protection benefitting the very few, and obliging the many to contribute directly to making the rich richer.

Judge Willis Replies.

Judge John W. Willis in a reply to the Salutatory of the new Editor of the St. Paul Globe among other things says: "Concurring as I do in the principles of the Democratic party, as announced in the great convention of the year 1896, I resent the sneering terms wherein you refer to the pronouncement of that convention; and, since I am a subscriber to the Globe, and, therefore, a member of the audience to which your salutatory is addressed, I cannot remain silent when silence would assent to your claim to be considered an oracle of Democracy." It is to be regretted that, as you enter upon the stage of journalism in the Northwest, bearing a banner inscribed "Democracy", you should intermingle with the language of your salutatory gratuitous, insults to the patriotic, intelligent and unterrified masses of the Democratic party."

Further along Judge Willis says: "I pray you, take the part of your country against her assailants! Ally yourself with the anti monopoly hosts!" and cites the fact that Bryan received more votes than any other Democratic nominee ever did for President. "You must present an amended salutatory."

The Globe Editor says: "Alas that the die has been cast!" and tries to make fun of the Judge rather than answer his arguments. It makes out to put in a little taffy, however, for the unsuspecting, by saying: "Far be it from us, oh Judge! to insult Democrats of any variety, when Republicans are in such abundance as to serve for daily pie," and "so dear to our heart is the dollar of our daddies that we bow cheerfully to the judicial injunction and will join gladly any movement calculated to increase their number and intrinsic worth." It then proceeds to demolish, in its mind, the Judge, thusly:

"We salute you, at this, our first meeting, Oh Learned Judge!

May your shadow grow larger.

May the beard of your fathers adorn your face.

May your tribe increase.

May your good name be projected far into space, to be respected, aye venerated by admiring posterity."

Sorghum Sugar Industry.

Ft. Scott, Kas., Feb. 1.—The death knell of the once promising sorghum sugar industry in Kansas, upon which the government spent almost $250,000 in experiments, was sounded here today when the piece of sugar machinery in the state was sold to Nebraska men for shipment to that state. The machine was from the Parkinson factory and cost $104,000. It sold for $9,000. This was the first station established by the government and was the survivor of all others. The industry in Kansas gradually collapsed after the government removed the bounty on sugar.—Dispatch.

"The Solid Republican Vote" Safe.

"Van Sant, Eustis or any other good man would undoubtedly poll the solid republican vote. What is wanted is a candidate who can corral the thousands of voters now on the fence. The question is, can Van Sant or Eustis do this?"—Aitkin Age.

The Age, of course is correct about any good man being able to poll "the solid Republican vote," Experience has taught us that "the solid Republican vote" don't always go for the best man, either. The trouble with "the solid Republican vote" has been that it would go for the party nominee, regardless of his being good, better or best. And designing men are led to all kinds of schemes for securing a nomination knowing that the "solid Republican vote" would elect them, even though their previous records might be compared bad, worse, worst. Is it not about time the "solid Republican vote" demanded its best men for candidates?

Is not the fact that people are becoming disgusted with voting solidly for men to enforce our laws, whom they believe to be totally unfit for the positions to which they aspire, simply because they are told that the G. O. P. of Abraham Lincoln, of Blaine, and of Windom must remain steadfast and vote in solid phalanx for its nominees, the reason for "the thousands of voters now on the fence".

The Age says: "What is wanted is a candidate who can corral the thousands of voters now on the fence. The question is, can Van Sant or Eustis do this?" Of course they can't The fence is loaded with the men who have tired of helping year after year to elect to office men whom they do not want, and often those, according to their own way of thinking, totally undeserving, and even unfit, to fill them, while good men can't be nominated, and things have come to such a pass that even though the schemers should conclude to bait their hook to fish for "suckers" with a good man at the head of the ticket it looks as if it would be of no ayail this year.

It looks now as if everything but "the solid republican vote", even the thousands of voters now on the fence, would help elect the Hon. John Lind to the high office of Governor of Minnesota, by such a majority as no Governor has had for years past.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 28.—A special to the Times from Frankfort, Ky., says: When, next month, the battleship Kentucky glides from the ways at Newport News, her prow will not be bathed in champagne, nor in good old whiskey. The fair sponsor, Miss Christine Bradley, will uncork a beautiful embellished silver vessel full of pure water.

On the farm in Larue county, where Abraham Lincoln was born, there is an unfailing spring of cold crystal water, where in his boyhood the great emancipator was wont to slake his thirst, using a gourd or oak leaf dipper.

The idea is to have a committe formally visit the spring, fill a silver vessel with sparkling water, and seal it. Then the vessel will be given to Miss Bradley, who will guard it as a sacred thing, until the time for breaking the seal, on board the Kentucky.—Globe.

If the committee wants to get down to Lincoln simplicity, why don't they fill with the sparkling water the kind of a vessel Abe used to drink from, a gourd?

Aitkin Age: Most people who are opposed to the government doing a banking business are men who are engaged in banking, themselves.

Willmar Tribune: The Willmar Argus defines silver republicans as men "who could not run the republican party or get the offices they wanted." On the contrary we have found them to be men who would not smother their convictions, even if the bribe of an office was offered for their silence.

Buffalo Gazette, and Cosmopolitan one of the best monthly magazines, for one year, for $1.80

Pure Seeds for Trial.

To give our subscribers an opportunity to test their famous seeds, Messrs. May & Co., the well known Seed growers of St. Paul, Minnesota, whose order of one million Packets of Seeds tested over 99 per cent pure (Government Report) will mail seventeen trial Packets of choice varieties of Flower Seeds to any of our readers sending to them only ten cents in silver or stamps. This is their Giant Collection, and consists of one Packet each, Asters, Mignonette, Antirrhinum, Pinks, Poppies, Alyssum, Zinnias, Nigella, Godetia, Pansy, Calendula, Petunias, Sweet William, Portulaca, Sweet Peas, Calliopsis and Candytuft. On each packet will be printed full cultural instructions.

They will also send to any gardener or Farmer one Package of their Extra Early Tree Tomato on receipt of six cents in stamps. Their handsomely illustrated Catalogue will be mailed free on application, to any one who intends to purchase Seeds, Plants or Bulbs this Spring. Be sure and mention our paper when writing May & Co. 17-4t.

Pension Frauds.

Western Hennepin, just across the line from the Metropolis of Wright county, January 31st. 1898.

MR. EDITOR: This being the last day of the coldest month in the year, I am constrained by force of habit, while sitting by a warm fire, to write up a small communication upon one of the issues of the day that is going the rounds of some of the prevalent papers of the day, Pension Frauds.

There is no doubt in my mind but there has, and is being, many fraudulent pensions granted. Under the supervision of Hoke Smith, as Secretary of the Interior, and William Lochren as Pension Commissioner, many of the old soldiers had their pensions cut down. I think most of these pensioners came under the act of 1890.

There has existed for many centuries a superstitious belief among the heathen that a soldier who perishes in front of battle has a free transport from the battle field to the sweet fields of Eden. If this be true the United States has a large representation in that country; for during the wars from the Revolution down to the present time we have had many men killed in battle. And yet there are many ex soldiers living and a good many of these are drawing a pension from the government, some getting as low as six dollars per month and in the aggregate it costs the government annually about $140,000,000 We think the class of people who oppose the granting of pensions the most are the bondholder, the money loaner, and the banker. For this money comes direct from the government to the pensioner and does not pass through their hands, therefore they get no usury out of it.

I do not believe there should exist fraud of any kind in our government. But what about salary grabbers, government bonds drawing interest and not subject to taxation, large appropriations to pay some political debt and of no profit to the government? This has been going on for years and has cost the government millions upon millions of dollars, yet many are begrudging the soldier the small pittance he is getting from the government. And about the only use many have for him is to use him as a tool in politics. Now if the men who have represented the people of this country in Congress for years, and those who have dictated the policy of this government for the last thirty years, have come to the head of navigation in their financial career, and can get no farther, I think it poor policy at this late day to try and bring about retrenchment and reform by cutting down the pension of the ex-soldiers. Perhaps it will not be long before they will want their sons to go to the Hawaiian Islands or to Cuba to establish a protectorate government there.

Yes, I know times are hard (but the worst has not come yet) and the latch string of generosity is getting shorter all the time, and unless things take a change soon it will be pulled through from the inside.

The Seer of Uz (Job) had many trials and sore afflictions but amid them all he put his trust in the Lord His was an individual case, ours is national; and only a small percent put their trust in the Lord. So the innocent must suffer with the guilty.

From tradition the Jews have been the bankers of the world and in every country where there is money to be made you will find the Jew. He is very far seeing as regards money maters, and it is thought the Jew money loaner of this country may have something to do about the Island of Cuba and this country. Think it advisable for the United States to be a little on the alert. We do not want to be responsible for any of Cuba's debts, neither do the common people of this country want war. If the North and South had known as much about each other in the spring of 1861 as they new in the fall of '65 perhaps things might have been a little different. But Mr. Editor I have got off my text. The subject was fraudulent pension. Now if the highcockalorems of this country want to confiscate all the pensions and put that money into boodle to buy honor and a high position for themselves we aquiess, but as sure as the Lord lives we will remember them when we come to Philippi. You know there is where Paul suffered sore affliction.

Let it be remembered that the small stipend the soldier gets as a pension goes into circulation. It pays taxes; pays doctor bills; pays preachers; pays the groceryman; and I am sorry to say sometimes pays a saloon bill, but it all goes into circulation. But it seems the moneyed class is becoming more and more avaricious. It is an old proverb that prosperity hardens the heart and by and by I fear these fellows will not be satisfied unless they get the Earth, and if they had it I suppose they would turn the whole thing into a hunting park or gymnasium grounds and we would be compelled to go elsewhere for bread.

One more thing I would like to add in way of extravagance, and that is the Hennepin county Bastile (court house) it is to the county of Hennepin as a leech would be to the body, nothing but a blood sucker, and the people are paying the freight.

But, Mr. Editor, my time is up. The hands on the dial of the town clock marks a late hour, and the sighing winds are singing a requiem over the battle fields of the South where lies buried the brave soldier of '61 and '65 who went down in bloody gore.

Independence now and Independence forever.

A FRIEND TO THE FLAG AND THE CONSTITUTION.

Advertise in the GAZETTE.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Jan 28, 1898.

The gold standard crowd is on the run. The stampede began before the adoption of the Teller resolution by the Senate, but the knowledge that that resolution would be adopted, as well as the advice of the republican Senators and Representatives from the middle west, convinced Mr. McKinley that the gold standard business would not go down, and that his parties only hope was to make a play to keep the bimetallists from deserting the republican party in a body. The game was started when Mr. Preston, Director of the U. S. Mint, who had made himself particularly obnoxious to the silver men by his obtrusive advocacy of the gold standard, both under the Cleveland and the present administration, and whose work in that direction was referred to by Senator Wolcott in his recent speech, was bounced and the position given to a republican bimetallist from Iowa. But the highest trump was played when Secretary Gage, the high priest of the goldocracy, was made to publicly say that Mr. McKinley was a bimetallist and was supported in that policy by every member of his Cabinet. Ye gods! think of that for a somersault.

The opinion is growing in Congress that the sending of that warship to Havana was the result of an understanding between the administration and Spain, and that its principal object there is to stave off Congressional action.

So long as President Dole, of Hawaii, who is now being entertained in Washington as the guest of the U. S., contents himself with the social attentions that are being paid to him and his wife he will find everything lovely and the goose hanging high, but if he attempts to meddle with the annexation fight—he will find things very different.

During the discussion which preceded the adoption of the Teller resolution, declaring U. S. bonds payable in silver at the option of the government, Senator Teller forced Senator Allison, who voted for this same resolution in 1878 and now against it, to admit that it would be legal and proper for the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the obligations of the government in either gold or silver. Mr. Allison tried to qualify that admission with a lot of stuff about the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to maintain the parity of the two metals etc., but the admission was all that Mr. Teller wanted; he is willing to leave the explanation of Mr. Allison's vote against the resolution after that admission to be made by that gentleman to the voters of Iowa.

Although Senator Gorman pointed out that the pension appropriation bill as it came from the House carried about ten million dollars less than would be spent by the pension bureau during the fiscal year beginning July 1, next, and Senator Allen offered an amendment adding $7,000,000 to the total carried by the bill, no action was taken by the Senate to increase the appropriation and the bill was passed substantially as it came from the House. It is somewhat surprising that the Senate should even to this extent have helped along the republican policy of insufficient appropriations, in order that the government finances may be made to appear better than they should be, for the purpose of bamboozling the voters at the Congressional elections. It is at this time absolutely known to officials of the pension bureau that a deficiency appropriation which may exceed $10,000,000 will have to be made by the next session of Congress to pay pensions.

Representative Richardson, of Tenn., stirred up the republican menagerie in the House by repeating the minstrel end man's joke about the only two things he ever saw that were exactly alike—the Cleveland panic and the McKinley boom; and when the republicans started in to talk "prosperity," they were asked why that "prosperity" had brought on a strike of 125,000 cotton mill operatives in New England, and made quite a mess of their attempts to explain that unusual accompaniment of "prosperity." Grosvenor, of Ohio, got himself so riled up that he sought to escape by a bit of personal blackguardism—calling Greene, of Nebr., a back-woodsman. He and his party will find lots of backwoodsmen of the same sort next November, and every one of them will cast an anti-republican vote.

This is what Senator Teller said of this era of prosperity: "I do not know, perhaps, but I have tried to learn. I have given this question hours of study that few men have, and I believe that this is the great question: that the money question threatens not only this people, but the enslavement of mankind throughout the world. I said in 1893, to my countrymen: 'You are entering upon an era of industrial slavery such as the world has never seen.' Mr. President, it is here now. With all your boasted prosperity you are closing the mills of New England and deducting from the wages of the laboring man 10, 15 and 20 per cent, and making it impossible for him to perform the duties of citizenship, and then you tell us that all these things are done in the interest of honor, and labor must stand it. But the bond holder gets the bounty."

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

T. J. Howe, Owatonna, combined churn and butter-worker. W. J. Lanigan, Duluth, bicycle tire. D. A. Lindsey, Winona, collapsible stand. H. S. Minot, Minneapolis, plumb-level. W. J. Towle, St. Paul, automatic liquid measuring and filling apparatus.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

Late Literary News.

Advertise in the GAZETTE for trade.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Latest News

The House killed the Teller resolution by a majority of 50.

Fargo is to have a fusion demonstration in March. Bryan and Towne are expected to be present.

The trial of Sherriff Martin and his deputies, at Wilksbarre, Pa., is now being held. A jury has been secured and several witnesses heard.

Frank Larabee was successful in obtaining a verdict for $8.000 for his client Charles Thompson injured while in the employ of the Great Northern.

Reports from Wyoming say thousands of sheep are reported to have perished from cold and staryation. Intense cold for sixty days. Coldest winter for 19 years.

Alaska has had a double murder and a hanging. The men shot by a man named Tanner, were N. A. Call, formerly of Worthington, Minn., and William A. Lee, of Lowell, Mass Tanner was hung.

At Westbend, Wis, a misunderstanding between two High School Seniors, Carl Lindback and Willie Glantz, aged 18 years, was being settled by a glove contest. Lindback fell dead in the fourth round.

THE New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET

The BUFFALO GAZETTE

—AND—

THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS

BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR

FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS needs no introduction. Its many special articles by noted writers have given it a world wide reputation. In short, it is one of the cleanest, brightest and best family papers published. No pains or expense will be spared in keeping up its present high standard.

Remember, that by taking advantage of this combination, you get 52 copies of the BUFFALO GAZETTE and 104 copies of THE FREE PRESS, 156 papers, for only $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE

The Free Press

YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

An accurate and superior book of Reference that tells you all you want to know. There will not be a useless page in it. A Practical Educator and Hand Book of Encyclopoedic information on subjects Statistical, Official, Historical, Political and Agricultural; likewise a book of Religious Fact, and general Practical Directions on every day affairs of Office, Home and Farm.

A copy of this book will be sent to all subscribing immediately and sending 15 cents additional for mailing expenses, making $1.65 in all.

Do not delay, but take advantage of this remarkably liberal offer which we make for a limited time only, by special arrangements with the publishers. Remember we send both papers a full year for $1.50, and you can have a copy of the book by sending 15 cents additional.

Address BUFFALO GAZETTE, DELANO, MINN.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

FEBRUARY—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	....	....	....	....	....

With a total of 4,000 music teachers, Boston may well be called a city of note.

It is 700 years since coal was discovered, and the joke about the woman who builds fires antedates it several centuries.

In an eastern city a woman advertised on the same day for a woman secretary and a cook. She received 422 applications, but only two were willing to cook.

The much heralded partition of China is not to come after all. Germany has merely leased the piece of ground which it seized and will make use of it for trading purposes.

"The mother lode" is what the boys on the Klondike are hunting for, but they are content when they find a rich sister lode and have enough grub in the shanty to keep them alive and at work.

It looks as though about all the gold the Klondike can supply will be needed to build the railways and pay for the steamship lines that are projected and in process of creation to reach the Yukon valley.

A Paris paper says that 21 murders committed for robbery in that city averaged in booty less than $16 each and all the assassins were guillotined. The certainty of justice is the most surprising part of the item.

Fourteen miles of the Panama canal are practically finished, and it is estimated that one-third of the work is completed. The remaining 40 miles will cost $150,000,000, and include all the great engineering difficulties of the route.

Rev. George L. Chaney, who is familiar with Hawaii writes as follows to the Christian Register about the population of the islands:

"There is not a tramp, a beggar or a poorhouse in all Hawaii. Education is compulsory. A public school system is in force which gives an education in English and the elementary studies to every child of school age."

The fact that no mention of any newspaper map's having been caught with the counterfeit $100 bills has yet made its appearance in print is due neither to their skill in detecting bad money nor to a disinclination on their part to see their names in print. There's another reason which cannot be divulged without betraying a professional secret.

During the past six months more than 4,000 claims of the discovery of gold and silver in New York state have been filed at Albany. Evidently a good many persons have found time dragging heavily on their hands. If the claims yield $4,000 in all—a dollar for each claim—the New York gold seekers, says the Troy Times, will be in great luck.

What is the Dreyfus affair over which all France is excited? Dreyfus is a Jew. He is accused of having revealed certain army secrets to the Germans. He was tried summarily and convicted and imprisoned under frightful conditions. The result was the formation of two parties, one which sympathized with him and one which denounced him. The German minister of foreign affairs says the charges are untrue.

The Italian republic which the pope is said to favor may not be as far away as is commonly supposed. There is more political discontent among the populace in Italy than in almost any other country in Europe except Spain. Taxes are high, trade is torpid, and general bankruptcy is apparently not far off. Both the weight of the taxes and the dullness of trade are attributed by many to Italy's position in the present division among the powers.

A Baltimore special says that science now steps in and announces that it can manufacture butter and cheese direct from grass and corn without the intermediation of the cow. Willard G. Day, of that city, declares he has discovered a process whereby, with the aid of electricity, butter can be made directly from the vegetables which form the chief food of the cow. We may pasture the electric current on turnips for butter, but it is probable that the tough and leathery cow will retain the monopoly of the beefsteak business for some time to come.

It is only logical that the tramp who starts out simply to enjoy idleness should gradually and almost insensibly degenerate into theft and thence to burglary. The dividing line, says the Philadelphia Times, between begging a living and stealing a living, and also between petty theft and petty burglary that always endangers the comfort of families and at times their lives is so narrow that the transition from the tramp to the burglar is hardly perceptible to himself, and the only way to halt the professional tramp is to punish the crimes his calling leads to.

It is not so many years since Japan began reaching out for the implements of civilization. She sent her youths to schools in America for instruction, and sent for Americans to teach her children at home. And to those who have not been watching closely the strides made by these little Yankees of the east in their seven league boots of knowledge it will be surprising to be told that Japan is the foremost naval power on the Pacific ocean, and is nearly, if not quite, third in rank among the naval powers of the world. Yet that is what American shipbuilders say.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

The time in the United States senate on the 27th was occupied in discussing the Teller silver resolution. In the house the Indian appropriation bill was passed, and the political debate which has been raging was transferred to the District of Columbia bill, which followed it. The features of the debate were the speeches of Mr. Hartman (Mont.), in denunciation of the financial policy of the administration, and of Mr. Dolliver (Ia.), in reply to the general attacks of the opposition.

The Teller resolution providing for the payment of government bonds in silver was passed in the United States senate on the 28th by a vote of 47 to 32. A bill was introduced to provide an additional circuit judge in the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth circuits of the United States. Adjourned to Monday. In the house the bill to pay the book publishing company of the Methodist Episcopal Church South $288,000 for damages sustained by that corporation during the war was passed and the free homestead bill, giving over 20,000,000 acres of public lands as free homes for settlers, was favorably reported. At the evening session 29 pension bills were passed.

The United States senate was not in session on the 29th ult. In the house the fortifications appropriation bill ($4,144,912), providing for the extensive system of seacoast defenses now in course of completion, was reported and the Teller silver resolution was received from the senate.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Hon. Joseph McKenna, of California, took his seat on the bench of the supreme court of the United States as an associate justice.

At this session of congress statehood legislation was killed by the house committee on territories rejecting the Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma bills by a vote of 8 to 3.

As yet the United States senate has not failed to confirm any nomination for office submitted to it by the president since March 4.

The total internal revenue receipts for December were $14,373,682, a gain for the month of $1,107,520.

In the United States treasury the gold reserve on the 27th reached $163,670,000, the highest point in seven years.

A farmers' book on the subject of forestry for farmers has been issued by the agricultural department.

A monthly statement of the bureau of statistics shows that the exports of wheat during the calendar year 1897 aggregated 109,909,328 bushels, a gain of more than 26,000,000 bushels over 1896.

The president touched a telegraph key at the white house and opened the California golden jubilee fair at San Francisco.

On the 29th ult. President McKinley was 55 years old.

THE EAST.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 28th aggregated $1,283,710,195, against $1,416,781,123 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 33.9.

Rev. William Lawrence, D. D., LL. D., of Boston, was elected president at the annual meeting in Boston of the National Divorce Reform league, which seeks uniformity in divorce laws.

Immigration into the United States in the last six months aggregated 99,175, a falling off as compared with the last half of 1896 of about 8,000.

At the age of 70 years Harris M. Plaisted, a veteran general of the civil war and ex-governor of Maine, died in Bangor.

On the Maine Central road a train was wrecked near Orono, Me., and four persons were killed and many others were injured.

Fridtjof Nansen, the Arctic explorer, sailed from New York on the Campania for Liverpool.

Fire destroyed the Ocean Bluff house at Kennebunkport, Me., the loss being $100,000.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., Elkes won in the 72-hour bicycle race, going 1,322 miles.

WEST AND SOUTH.

Mrs. Lizzie King and Frank Carey, aged 12, were run down by an express train and killed, while crossing a railroad trestle near St. Louis.

Henry Gelhausen and Albert Motter were killed and Gottlieb Ilson fatally injured by inhaling carbonic acid gas in a brewing vat in Milwaukee.

Fire destroyed the Ewart building in Chicago, causing a loss of $250,000 to several business firms.

A resolution was passed in the Kentucky legislature asking United States Senator Lindsay to resign because he favors the gold standard.

In St. Louis Charles Webb has been sentenced to 99 years' imprisonment for the murder of his sweetheart in 1895.

In the Chicago market January wheat went up to $1.10 on the 28th and closed at $1.08.

Fire destroyed the opera house, several business buildings and the Mason county library building, full of rare books and prehistoric relics, at Maysville, Ky.

On a charge of having eight wives David Seely was placed in jail at Kalamazoo, Mich.

The Ohio anti-lynching law has been declared unconstitutional by Judge C. W. Dustin, of Dayton.

Elwood Evans, aged 70, the oldest practicing lawyer in the state of Washington, dropped dead from heart disease on the street.

Shepard Barclay, chief justice of the Missouri supreme court, resigned, and Gov. Stephens appointed W. M. Williams to fill the vacancy.

Fannie Rathburn, a widow, and her daughter Mary, aged 12, were found murdered in their cottage at Burlington, Ia.

In Chicago Judge Horton sentenced Christopher Merry to be hanged February 18 for the murder of his wife.

It is said that Tom Burns will succeed Adrian C. Anson as manager of the Chicago baseball team.

Near Joliet, Ill., Alderman Christopher Byrne and his wife were killed by the cars at a grade crossing.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

In Berlin the thirty-ninth birthday of Emperor William of Germany was celebrated.

At Tehuantepec, Mexico, a dozen shocks of earthquake, some quite sharp, were experienced.

Fire destroyed the church of St. John Batiste in Montreal, the loss being $250,000.

A loan has been offered China by Russia on the same terms as those of Great Britain.

In Shanghai four German sailors were murdered by the Chinese.

A cessation of hostilities in Cuba in February is predicted by Capt. Gen. Blanco.

Frontier tribesmen ambushed part of an English brigade in a gorge near Shinkamar, India, and five officers and eight men were killed.

The armored cruiser Viscaya left Spain for America.

In Australia bush fires destroyed 42 homesteads at Langley and Kelling and six persons were burned to death.

The great strike of engineers in London, which continued for seven months, involved 100,000 men and cost the British nation millions of pounds, resulted in a victory for the employers.

Consul General Lee gave a banquet at Mariano Beach, Cuba, to the officers of the United States warship Maine.

LATER NEWS.

The house of representatives the 31st buried the Teller resolution declaring the bonds of the United States payable in silver under an adverse majority of 50 votes. The republicans were solidly arrayed in opposition with two exceptions, Mr. Linney and Mr. White, both of North Carolina. The debate lasted more than five hours and at times was fast and heated. The vote on the resolution was: Ayes 122, nays 182.

The British steamer Tourmalin, it is officially announced, while attempting to land arms and ammunition on the coast of Morocco, was intercepted by the Sherifian steamer Hassani, whereupon she opened fire. The Hassani reciprocated and captured one of the ship's boats with three Englishmen.

The warship Mohican has been ordered to Samoan waters.

The fourth blizzard of the winter swept the state of Michigan the 31st, completely blocking all railroad traffic.

The surgeon general of the Cuban insurgent army returned from Paris, bringing $41,000 contributed in that country for the Cuban cause.

Alice Nielson, the prima donna of the Bostonians, was legally separated from her husband by the courts of Kansas City. The only charge was desertion.

The gold production of Mexico for last year was over six millions, a gain of $800,000 over 1896.

A suit has brought in Michigan which involves the constitutionality of the Bland-Alison silver act of 1878. It was brought expressly to determine the validity of that act, along with some other decrees bearing on silver currency.

The British Steamer Channel Queen was totally wrecked off the Island of Guernsey. The chief officers, 15 passengers and 3 stokers were drowned.

Fire cut of the escape of six men who were sleeping over the Rose restaurant on Farnham street Omaha, Neb. So swiftly did the flames run through the building that the men were compelled to leep from the second story windows before the firemen could raise ladders.

Germany has demanded further confessions in the shape of railroads in the Shan-Tung peninsula, as compensation for the assassination of the sailor Schultz, who was murdered by a Chinese mob while on sentry duty.

The public debt, less cash in the treasury, showed an increase of $12,589,711 during the month of January.

Wm. Bailey (colored), released from the West Virginia penitentiary after three years' confinement for murder, was taken by a mob and lynched.

The Alvord house at Gloversville, N. Y., the largest hotel in the city, was burned during the early morning hours. H. C. Day, Bell Boy Rupert, H. C. Kimball, wife and daughter, perished in the flames. Other guests had narrow escapes.

The Doherty organ factory at Clinton, Ont., with all its contents, was burned. Loss, $80,000.

SEVERE STORMS.

Many Vessels and Lives Are Lost on the New England Coast.

Gloucester, Mass., Feb. 2.—The most violent storm known here since 1851 swept the shores of Cape Ann Monday and yesterday, causing heavy loss of life and about $200,000 damage. More than a dozen vessels are ashore near here, at least four more are lost and many others damaged. The water front of Gloucester harber and along the cape is dotted with wrecks and wreckage, schooners, sloops and other vessels having been driven ashore by the fierce gale.

About 1,000 fishing and other vessels were wrecked or damaged.

Four bodies were washed ashore at Hough's Neck. They have not been identified. At Pigeon Cove five vessels were totally wrecked. Antone Enos, Alpheus Pierce and a Swede named Nelson, three of the crew of the Daniel Webster, were drowned.

The schooner Clara P. Sewall, reports the loss of Henry Knuth, one of her crew.

It is feared that several missing vessels have been lost together with their crews. The storm did an immense ammount of dammage on land, as well as of the coast.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Feb. 1.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 96½ to 97c. No. 2 northern, 92½ to 93c; May, 93¾c.

Corn—No. 3, 26c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 23 to 23½c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.85; cows, $2.90.

Hogs—$3.35 to 3.65.

Sheep—Mutton, $3.10 to $4.50; lambs, $4 25.

Boultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c; spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 19 to 20c; creamery, firsts 18 to 19c; dairy, fancy, 16 to 17c; dairy, choice, 14 to 15c.

SENATE FAVORS SILVER.

Adopts the Teller Resolution by a Decisive Vote.

Party Lines Broken on Proposition to Pay Government Bonds, Principal and Interest, in Silver.

Washington, Jan. 29.—After a debate, animated at all times, and occasionally acrimonious, which occupied the greater part of this week, the senate Friday evening, by the decisive vote of 47 to 32, passed the Teller concurrent resolution. The resolution is a practical reaffirmation of that of Stanley Matthews, in 1878, and is as follows:

"That all the bonds of the United States issued, or authorized to be issued, under the said acts of congress hereinbefore recited, are payable, principal and interest, at the option of the government of the United States, in silver dollars of the coinage of the United States containing 412½ grains each of standard silver; and that to restore to its coinage such silver coins as a legal tender in payment of said bonds, principal and interest, is not in violation of the public faith nor in derogation of the rights of the public creditor."

An Important Debate.

All efforts to amend the resolution were voted down by majorities ranging from 5 to 29.

The events of the day leading up to the final vote were full of interest and importance. It was a field day for the orators of the senate, no less than 25 senators embracing the opportunity to speak upon the subject under discussion. That the debate was interesting was attested by the attendance in the galleries which were crowded throughout the day; and that it was important was evidenced by the statements of several of the speakers that the discussion was but the preliminary alignment of the great political parties for the contest of 1900. Many of the speakers took occasion to criticise in strong terms the utterances of President McKinley in his speech in New York city on Thursday night.

The Alignment.

The vote in detail:

Yeas—Allen, Bacon, Bate, Berry, Butler, Cannon, Carter, Chandler, Chilton, Clark, Clay, Cockrell, Daniel, Gray, Harris, Heitfeld, Jones (Ark.), Kenney, Kyle, Lindsay, McEnery, McLaurin, Mallory, Mantle, Martin, Mills, Mitchell, Money, Morgan, Murphy, Pasco, Pettigrew, Pettus, Pritchard, Rawlins, Roach, Shoup, Smith, Stewart, Teller, Tillman, Turple, Turner, Vest, Warren, White and Wolcott—47.

Nays—Aldrich, Allison, Baker, Burrows, Caffrey, Cullom, Davis, Fairbanks, Foraker, Gallinger, Gear, Hale, Hanna, Hansbrough, Hawley, Hoar, Lodge, McBride, McMillan, Mason, Morrill, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt (Conn.), Platt (N. Y.), Quay, Sewell, Thurston, Wellington, Wetmore and Wilson—32.

The pairs throughout the voting were as follows: Turley with Deboe, Faulkner with Elkins, Gorman with Frye, Jones (Nev.) with Proctor, Walthall with Spooner. The first named would in each case have voted with those sustaining the resolution and against all amendments, while the last named would have voted against the resolution and for the amendments.

There was no demonstration on the announcement, and at seven p. m. on motion of Senator Allison the senate adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE KILLS IT.

A Majority of Fifty Against Adoption of the Resolution.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The house of representatives on Monday buried the Teller resolution declaring the bonds of the United States payable in silver under an adverse majority of 50 votes. The republicans were solidly arrayed in opposition, with two exceptions, Mr. Linney (N. C.), who voted with the democrats and populists, and Mr. White (N. C.), the only colored member of the house who answered "present" when his name was called. The desertions from the democratic side were Mr. McAleer (Pa.) and Mr. Eliott (S. C.). Both voted with the republicans against the proposition. Speaker Reed, although it is not customary for him to vote, had his name called, and amid the cheers of his followers went on record in opposition to the resolution.

A Five Hours' Debate.

The vote was reached after five hours of debate under a special order adopted at the opening of the session Monday. The limited time allowed for debate and the pressure of members for an opportunity to be heard was so great that the leaders on both sides were compelled to farm out the time by minutes. This detracted much from the continuity of the discussion, but it also in a measure intensified the interest in the galleries, which were crowded all day, and the combatants on the floor were cheered by the respective sympathizers.

One Member Hissed.

The majority, under the leadership of Mr. Dingley, who made a carefully prepared speech sounding the keynote of the opposition, assumed the position that the last clause of the resolution was in reality a disguised declaration for the free coinage of silver, while the assaulting democrats, under the direction of Mr. Bailey, maintained that the defeat of the resolution was another step in the direction of establishment of the gold standard to which they alleged both the president and Secretary Gage had irrevocably committed the republican party. The debate was at times fast and heated, but there was no sensational incident beyond the hissing of Mr. Rhea (dem., Ky.), when he said that "as the author of the 'crime of '73,' the hottest place in hades would be reserved for the present secretary of state." The vote on the resolution was: Ayes, 132; nays, 182.

A Senator's Resignation Demanded.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 29.—A special to the Post from Frankfort says: The resolution requesting the immediate resignation of United States Senator William Lindsay came up in the Kentucky senate Friday morning, having been passed Thursday by the house. The resolution was also adopted by the senate by a vote of 25 to 10, Senator Johnson, of Clinton, being the only democrat voting against the resolution and only nine republicans voting against it. The resignation is demanded on the ground that Senator Lindsay has proven a traitor to the democratic party.

A Bank Goes Under.

Larimore, N. D., Feb. 1.—The First national bank, of this city, did not open its doors Monday. From the officials it is learned that the trouble is owing to slow collections. During the last 60 days there have been withdrawals of deposits amounting to $60,000. Strenuous efforts have been made by the management to meet these demands, but as there was no prospect of relief the board of directors unanimously agreed to close. The assets of the bank are said to be largely in excess of the liabilities.

RUSSIAN DIPLOMACY.

It Maintains the Upper Hand in China—Britain Backs Down.

London, Jan. 31.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Shanghai says a secret dispatch has been issued by the tsung-li-yamen to certain high officials informing them that Russia warned China that if Kiao-Chou were granted to Germany Russia would demand either Talien Wan or Port Arthur. According to the same dispatch it is asserted at Shanghai on good authority that China consents to have Russians at the head of her customs and railways.

The Daily Mail says it learns from a "source hitherto accurate," that China is inclined to make the best possible bargain with Russia, whose diplomacy appears to have triumphed at Peking, Great Britain having resolved not to force a conflict by further opposing Russia's claims at Port Arthur and in the Liao-Tung peninsula.

At the present moment, says the Daily Mail's correspondent, there are 10,000 Russian troops in Talien Wan and Port Arthur. Russian agents have been sent to Tien-Tsin, the port of Peking, and to Japan to purchase coal and food, and 60,000 bags of wheat have been bought at Tien-Tsin.

The Odessa correspondent of the Times says a volunteer fleet will convey in the quickest time practicable 10,000 Russians to the far east. The first cruiser, with 2,000 men, will leave within a few days.

Berlin, Jan. 31.—Newspaper comment here is all to the text of "England's inglorious retreat," indicated by the announcement of the Berliner Tageblatt that Russia and Great Britain have arrived at an agreement whereby the latter has consented to drop her demand for the opening of Talien Wan as a free port, and Russia waives further opposition to British control of the Chinese sea customs.

Australia Suffers from Heat.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 1.—The steamer Warimoo brings news of appalling climatic conditions which have been prevailing in many sections of Australia. The prostrations from heat were so numerous that the condition of affairs in large cities was alarming. In a great many instances work is out of the question and sleep impossible. The thermometer during the heat of the day averages about 124 in the shade, and in a long list of towns the lowest figure found was 110. In the sun it is 160, so it is impossible to work at midday. The damage from fire is very great. News comes from all parts of Australia of the destruction by flames. It would appear from the press reports that the total damage will amount to millions of pounds. In Victoria colony 100,000 acres have been swept clear and an enormous acreage of crops destroyed. In other colonies houses and barns were burned.

Asks Senator Murphy to Resign.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Assemblyman Weekes, of New York city, startled the assembly and its 2,000 spectators Monday night by the introduction of a resolution censuring and requesting the resignation of Edward Murphy, Jr., senior United States senator from this state, for voting for the Teller silver resolution. The resolution was a complete surprise. It brought to their feet a number of the members of the minority with objections. They could not object to the introduction of the resolution, but they signified their intention to debate the proposition, and under the rules of the house it had to go over and be printed. Assemblyman Weekes stated that he was willing that it be laid aside, with the understanding that it be made a special order at 8:30 o'clock on next Monday evening. That course was pursued.

Indian Head to Be Blown Up.

New York, Jan. 31.—Historic Indian Head, on the Palisades, opposite One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street, will be disintegrated by simultaneous blasts of a number of dynamite mines, containing in all 14,000 pounds of the terrible explosive. The amount of rock that will be loosened by the explosion is estimated at 300,000 tons, which is the biggest blast on record. Ninety feet from the top of Indian Head a tunnel has been constructed, running back 100 feet. In this, at intervals of 25 feet, are four shafts, each 25 feet deep. Each shaft will be loaded with 2,500 pounds of dynamite, and on top of the Palisades there are to be 100 machine holes, 22 feet deep, in each of which will be 40 pounds of dynamite. The entire blast will be set off simultaneously by electricity.

Pardoned by Emperor William.

Berlin, Feb. 1.—Emperor William, it is reported, has pardoned Herr Trojan, editor of the Kladderadatsch, who was sentenced a few days ago to two months' imprisonment in a fortress for lese-majesty in cartooning the emperor. The cartoon, which appeared in the Kladderadatsch last December, represented Frederick the Great, Napoleon, Alexander the Great and Leonidas reading Emperor William's speech, delivered on November 18, at the ceremony of swearing in the guards recruits, when his majesty remarked that in order to be a good soldier it was necessary to be a good Christian. The sentence upon Herr Trojan, which was said to have been directly due to the emperor's influence, was pronounced atrocious even by the conservative newspapers.

New Jersey's New Governor.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 1.—Gov. Griggs on Monday night sent to both houses of the legislature a communication giving notice that he had filed his resignation with the secretary of state, to take effect at midnight. The two houses then passed a resolution providing that President Voorhees, of the senate, should take the oath of office as acting governor in the presence of the senate and house at 12 o'clock Tuesday morning, and Chief Justice McKie be requested to administer the oath. A concurrent resolution eulogistic of Gov. Griggs was adopted by both the senate and assembly.

Values of Crops.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The final estimates of acreage, production and value of the crops of the United States for 1897, made by the statistician of the department of agriculture, are as follows:

Corn, 80,095,101 acres, 1,902,967,933 bushels, $501,572,952 value; wheat, 39,465,066 acres, 530,149,168 bushels, $428,547,121; oats, 25,730,375 acres, 698,809 bushels, $147,974,719; rye, 1,703,561 acres, 27,363,324 bushels, $12,239,617; barley, 2,719,116 acres, 66,685,127 bushels, $25,142,139; buckwheat, 717,836 acres, 14,997,451 bushels, $6,319,188; potatoes, 2,534,577 acres, 164,015,963 bushels, $89,642,059; hay, 42,426,770 acres, 60,064,876 tons, $401,360,728.

A CUBAN LEADER SLAIN.

Details of the Killing of Gen. Nestor Aranguren.

Betrayed by a Servant—His Sweetheart Also Falls a Victim to Spanish Bullets—Another Account of the Affair.

Havana, Jan. 31.—The following details of the death of Gen. Nestor Aranguren, who was killed on Thursday last, have been received:

"It appears that the column under Col. Aranjare, which had been operating in the neighborhood of Campo Florido, captured a negro named Morales, whom they tortured in order to extort from him information regarding the insurgents. For a long time the prisoner bore the torture and refused to make a statement, but finally, upon being promised a reward of $500, he agreed to betray Aranguren. Gen. Aranguren, the negro said, was in the habit of visiting the house of a pacifico called Cajagal, who lived in the Tapaste heights, between the town of Tapaste and Campo Florido, with his family, which consisted of his wife, a grown daughter, of whom Gen. Aranguren was enamored, and several younger children.

"Col. Anajare, with three columns, led by himself and Lieut. Cols. Arece and Benedicto, the entire force numbering about a thousand, infantry and cavalry, proceeded, under the guidance of the negro Morales, to the hut, which they surrounded.

Murder a Child First.

"It was the intention of Col. Aranjare, after assuring himself that all of those whom he wished to secure were in the hut, to fall upon the building and capture the inmates alive, but Lieut. Col. Benedicto, who was formerly second in command to Maj. Fonsdeviela, advised that the inmates be killed, and this was finallly decided upon. When the hut had been completely surrounded a squad of men were ordered to advance cautiously, which they did, arriving near the entrance before being seen. A child about eight years of age was playing outside the doorway of the building when she discovered the soldiers and screaming in alarm ran toward the hut to inform the inmates of the presence of the Spaniards. A volley from the squad stretched her lifeless on the ground, and then a general firing was ordered by the Spanish commander, which resulted in the wounding of Aranguren in the leg, the killing of his servant, Fernandez, and the mortal wounding of his sweetheart and another woman, the latter of whom fled towards the woods and fell dead a short distance away. Aranguren's sweetheart died from the effects of her wounds while being taken to Campo Florido.

Killed the Cuban Chief.

"Aranguren was in bed when the Spaniards arrived, and, hearing the alarm given by the child, ran out of the hut only partially dressed. His captor seized him and made a close search of his clothing for documents relating to the death of Col. Ruiz, which they secured. They also obtained a verbal declaration from the prisoner on the same subject, and then a bullet was fired through his breast and he fell, but, not dying instantly, a bayonet was thrust through the head, the weapon entering near the mouth, ending his life.

"While Aranguren's death is considered just vengeance for the execution of Ruiz, the killing of women and children when they could have been taken alive is generally condemned."

Enter a Strong Denial.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish minister, has received the following from Secretary Congosta at Havana:

"The correspondents of certain papers are already starting a series of horrors in connection with the killing of Nestor Aranguren. Not one of them has been out of Havana, and all they say has been manufactured by the rebel agents. The facts are as follows: A combination of columns that had been operating several days defeated on the 27th the band of Aranguren, of about 130 men. They captured one prisoner, who led a small force as guide, and the rest of the troops covered all the issues of a place called La Pila en el Monte, where Aranguren was in hiding with his escort. The rebels when discovered fired at the troops, who replied, advancing suddenly, dispersing the escort, killing Aranguren and four others and capturing five prisoners, one of them wounded. The escort escaped and with it the mistress of Aranguren. In the place was found a woman wounded, who was not seen until after the engagement. She was carried in a litter to Campo Florido in order to try to save her by giving her proper attendance.

"As a proof of the falsehood of the reports about to be circulated there is the fact that five prisoners have been captured, and that none of the dead had a single saber or machete cut. The documents captured on the body of Aranguren prove that he was Ruiz' assassin. The saddle he used was Ruiz', and he had two buttons of Ruiz' uniform in his pocket, as already reported."

Proposed Commercial Treaty.

London, Jan. 31.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: It is expected that the further negotiations for a commercial treaty between Spain, Cuba and the United States will be transferred to Washington. The proposed treaty wil provide for two sets of tariff schedules, one being Cuba and the United States and the other being Spain and the United States. It is expected that the Cuban insular government will embrace the opportunity to secure practical reciprocity with the United States. At the same time the Spanish government hopes the Cuban ministry will do entire justice to Spanish interests.

Ruiz' Body Found.

Havana, Feb. 1.—The body of Lieut. Col. Joaquin Ruiz, aide-de-camp of Gen. Blanco, who was executed by order of the late Gen. Nestor Aranguren, for visiting the insurgent camp with proposals looking to the surrender of the insurgent chief, after having been found was identified and brought to Campo Florido, where it was received with military honors. Thence the remains were taken by train to Quinta Molina, Havana, the residence of the captain general, where the body is lying in state.

Says Relations Are Good.

Madrid, Feb. 1.—At the cabinet council Monday Senor Gullen, the foreign minister, announced that the relations of Spain with the United States were good, and he expressed a hope that a commercial understanding would soon be arranged.

Our Tobacco Crop.

Washington, Feb. 1. — The final estimates of the tobacco production in the United States in the year 1896 made by the agricultural department place the yield at 402,004,320 pounds, valued at $24,258,070. The area cultivated amounted to 594,794 acres. Seven states produced a crop valued at more than $1,000,000—viz.: Kentucky, $6,032,202; North Carolina, $5,490,334; Virginia, $3,013,986; Tennessee, $2,464,816; Ohio, $1,066,000; Pennsylvania, $1,299,542; Connecticut, $1,325,668.

Naval Veteran Dead.

New York, Jan. 31.—Daniel Lawrence Braine, rear admiral of the United States navy, retired, died at his home in Brooklyn Sunday night from heart failure, following an attack of rheumatism. He had not been seriously ill until last Friday, since which time his family physician has been in almost constant attendance. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter.

Mr. Gladstone's Condition.

Cannes, Jan. 31.—Mr. Gladstone kept his bed the entire day. He passed a restless night, and there was a return of his neuralgia. His physicians called during the night and again Sunday morning.

Always Delicate

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Has Made Her Strong and Rugged.

"My little girl has always been very delicate, and has been using Hood's Sarsaparilla. She has taken several bottles of this medicine and is a rugged child now. We believe Hood's Sarsaparilla has done what no other medicine could do." S. S. CARR, 1316 Grand Ave., Racine, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills. 25 cents.

The leading druggists sell Burnett's "Cocaine." It is an absolute cure for dandruff, besides making the hair grow by nourishing the roots. Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., also issue a pamphlet which they send free to anyone interested, entitled: "The Hair, Its Care and Management." It would be profitable reading for almost everyone because there are very few persons whose hair would not be greatly benefited by more careful attention than it receives.

People whose children can't talk plain don't care as long as older ones can do no better.—Washington Democrat.

A perfect type of the highest order of excellence.

TRADE-MARK

Walter Baker & Co.'s Breakfast Cocoa

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

Delicious--Nutritious.

COSTS LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.

Be sure you get the genuine article made at Dorchester, Mass., by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.

ESTABLISHED 1780.

TOWER'S TRADE FISH BRAND

SLICKER

WILL KEEP YOU DRY.

Don't be fooled with a mackintosh or rubber coat. If you want a coat that will keep you dry in the hardest storm buy the Fish Brand Slicker. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

If you want Agricultural Land, yielding from $15 to $20 PER ACRE yearly, become a settler in Western Canada. Good Crops, Good Prices; railroads, schools, churches; fuel in abundance. For Illustrated Pamphlets, Maps and low railroad rates, apply to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; BEN. DAVIES, 154 East Third St., Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

FOR 14 CENTS

We wish to gain 150,000 new customers, and hence offer

1 Pkg.	15 Day Radish,	20c
1 Pkg.	Early Spring Turnip,	30c
1 "	Earliest Red Beet,	10c
1 "	Bismarck Cucumber,	10c
1 "	Queen Victoria Lettuce,	15c
1 "	Klondyke Melon,	15c
1 "	Jumbo Giant Onion,	15c
2 "	Brilliant Flower Seeds,	15c

Worth $1.00, for 14 cents.

Above 10 pkgs. worth $1.00, we will mail you free, together with our great Plant and Seed Catalogue upon receipt of this notice and 14c. postage. We invite your trade and know when you once try Salzer's seeds you will never get along without them. Potatoes at $1.50 a Bbl. Catalog alone 5c. No. 8 1

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE

SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE.

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO. 180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

FITS STOPPED FREE. PERMANENTLY CURED Insanity Prevented by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER

Positive cure for all Nervous Diseases, Fits, Epilepsy, Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance. No Fits or Nervousness after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges only when received. Send to DR. KLINE Ltd., Pelleue Institute of Medicine, 933 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habit cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

PATENTS Send for Inventors' Guide, free. EDGAR TATE & CO. Patent Solicitors, 245 B'dw'y, New York.

A. N. K.—G 1694

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

CANADIAN CREAMERIES.

How They Are Operated and Made to Pay the Farmer.

A correspondent of a Brown City, Michigan, paper writes as follows: "An industry which is proving very advantageous to the settlers of North Alberta, Canada, and is truly a boon to the farmers, is the establishment of creameries by the Government at regular distances apart. The Government furnishes the entire plant, puts it in and operates it without direct cost to the farmer. From the sale of the butter the Government retains 5 cents per pound, the balance going to the farmer. This is continued for three years when the Government turns over the plant and business to the farmers, giving them a clear title of it. Thus these creameries are put in at a minimum cost to the farmer and paid for in a way that he least feels it. When we were there butter was selling at 21 and 22 cents per pound. Cheese factories were being established, too, along the railroad and much of the freight loaded on the cars on our return trip consisted of butter and cheese, as it was in the best season for milk. The produce found a ready market in the mining and lumbering towns and districts beyond the Rockies, through the British Columbia country, where it was, we were told, difficult to supply the demand."

The Klondike is another field now open to the Western Canadian farmer for all produce of the farm, and the officials in the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, Canada, are kept busy sending out literature describing this great agricultural country. The agents of the Government throughout the United States are also supplied with literature, which they distribute free.

Just a Scheme, of Course.

Tenpenny—Here is an account in the paper of a man who was shipwrecked in mid-ocean and cast away on a desert island with another man's wife.

Mrs. Tupenny—The wretch! I hope his wife got a divorce from him!—Town Topics.

Demand for More Battleships.

The Secretary of the Navy has demanded more battleships, and there can be no doubt that Congress will consider his recommendations. Protection is what our sea ports require, and fortifications will not adequately supply this. Defense against all disorders of a malarial type is, however, adequately afforded by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an efficient remedy, also, for constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, rheumatism and nervousness.

It Has a Foreign Sound.

Mrs. White—Does your daughter speak French fluently now?

Mrs. Brown—Well, she speaks something fluently, and it doesn't sound at all like English, so perhaps it may be French.—Somerville Journal.

A Handsome Metal Paper Cutter and Book Mark Combined

Sent free of postage under sealed cover on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps. The latest, best and most serviceable adjunct of every library and office. Address Geo. H. Heafford, 410 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Illinois.

Adding to the Horror.

Knowall—Nero fiddled while Rome was burning.

Flatdweller (shuddering)—And I'll bet he was just learning to play, too.—N. Y. World.

Poor Judgment.

Obslow—What do you think of Smuggin's views on the great questions of the day?

Debbits—Not much. Why, he didn't like this necktie I'm wearing at all.—Roxbury Gazette.

When a man turns over a new leaf he is never satisfied until he gets it blotted up worse than the old one.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

E stands for Estey.

Five-Finger Exercise, No. 1.

For fifty years this name has been synonymous with "Organ" until now the Estey Organ has the record of the largest number of instruments sold by any manufacturer in the world. What further guarantee of satisfaction could a purchaser want?

Our five-pointed discourse complete with catalogue sent free. Estey Organ Co. Brattleboro, Vt.

HARTSHORN'S SELF-ACTING SHADE ROLLERS
NOTICE NAME THIS LABEL AND GET THE GENUINE HARTSHORN
Stewart Hartshorn ON

Oats 231 Bu. pr. A. Wheat 40c. a Bu.

How to grow wheat at 40c a bu. and 231 bus. oats, 172 bus. barley and 1600 bus. potatoes per acre. SEE OUR GREAT CATALOGUE mailed you with 11 grass seed samples, upon receipt of THIS NOTICE and 10 cents in stamps. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K T)

PATENTS 30 years a Solicitor. Book free. W. N. Stevens, Opposite Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

"LIFE."

Life's but a troubled river, flowing on
To gain the ocean, whose grim name is Fate.
We float upon its surface, then are gone,
Learning its lessons when, alas! too late.
We quarrel with the sunshine while 'tis there,
Pluck not the flowers that blossom all around,
Heed not the beauties in this world so fair,
Till clouds close thicken, and the vision's drowned—
Drowned in old age, or in our faulty reason,
Which sees not what things are or ought to be,
So dwarfed our knowledge truth confounds with treason,
And pride won't tell us we've not power to see.
Contentment! 'tis a lesson past our learning;
We scorn the happiness the gods do send;
For far-off worlds and myths we're always yearning,
To stoop to beauties near our minds won't bend.
So life is but one long and fruitless straining
To get beyond what is within our reach;
The river flows on without a moment deigning
To listen to the wisdom we would teach;
And fate is reached—the dark and seething ocean,
Which covers all and well its secrets keep;
We float along with weary, onward motion,
Till all is over and in death we sleep.
—Charlotte Mansfield, in Pall Mall Magazine.

A Telegraphic Dot.

IT WOULD be interesting to know just what was the beginning of a big quarrel. Almost anyone can recall some large event on which the leaders of the two factions disagreed, but the real thing to be striven for is the far-away and remote affair which started these ructions. The seed of the disputations. The source, the very first germ of discord, from which the present open and deadly warfare sprung. For great quarrels do rise from very small and apparently inconsequential things—the slamming of a door, the borrowing of a penknife and the failure to return it, the breaking of an appointment, the pinching of a pair of shoes. Napoleon started out to conquer Europe because at just the wrong time a mosquito bit him and irritated him and made him want to get square with somebody; the decay of the Roman empire dates from the moment that a mischievous boy threw a snowball in which he had placed a lump of anthracite coal at Julius Cæsar and hit him on the ear and withdrew his thoughts from plans of peace.

Small things indeed are these, but many a historian can tell you of quarrels which grew out of smaller ones.

Sherwood, for instance, a telegraph operator, recently told of a feud which came into existence because of the loss of such a small thing as a telegraphic dot. A good "sender" can make ten or more dots in a second, so you can imagine how infinitely small one is. Only a trained ear is able to distinguish the difference between a dozen dots and 20 when a batch is rapidly made, and yet one poor little dot nearly killed one man and brought the other, overworked and overwrought, into a hospital.

Sherwood was at the Chicago end of a New York wire at the time of the adventure. It was not a good wire even at its best. It had a poor battery and some other ailments which made receiving a woe. But first-class operators were expected to do high-grade business with it, and they usually did if they worked in harmony and did not get into quarrels over the responsibility for the cluttering and mixing of the faulty circuit. After two or three men had resigned in disgust and had declared that they would rather wheel gravel to a stone crusher than try to copy from that line Sherwood was put on at Chicago, and some stranger to him was given the New York end. They seemed to suit each other immensely well and pounded away without the least bit of friction for a week. They were sensible enough to take it easy and neither tried to rush the other. Sometimes between whiles they would have a minute or so for conversation, and these little spells made them feel even better disposed each to the other. One evening Sherwood thought business would proceed with greater satisfaction if he knew the name of the good fellow over in New York, so in the course of a rest he asked:

"What's your name, old man?"

Quick as a flash and to Sherwood's utter amazement the other operator hurled back at him the curt monosyllable:

"Rats!"

Sherwood was thunderstruck and he was also warm. "All right," he said to himself. "Very well, you fresh sucker. If that's your kind I'll let you alone and give you a little taste of hot work just to make you do some thinking on politeness over a line."

So he turned in and fairly made his own arm whizz in jerking streaks of lightning at the New Yorker. He put on double speed, and with that hazy, ragged wire to help to make things unintelligible he considered that he was giving his associate a very ardent chase to copy him. He knew that the stuff must be getting into New York in outlandish shape, but he felt outraged and didn't care.

The next day the worm turned and the New Yorker began to give Sherwood a correct imitation of just how evilly an angered telegraph operator, assisted by a bad circuit, can send Morse across the country. The matter came like the clatter of musketry in battle; like the jangle of tin roofs torn up by cyclones; like a nail mill working overtime, but with very scant similarity to actual commercial telegraphy. Just once in a long time a perfect letter was distinguishable in the rattle of the rubbish of sound, but Sherwood was a haughty man and refused to "break" (or interrupt) the sender to ask what he was trying to do. He would catch as much as "He—y—on, —ea—o," and guessing that to be "Henry Wilson, Chicago," he would be put to the mental stress of imagining what kind of a telegram Henry Wilson ought to receive that day. He made an effort to guess as nearly as sanity would suggest, but with such a broad latitude, not knowing who Henry Wilson was or who was his correspondent, or in what line of business either was—or, indeed, not being able to swear that the message was for a man named Henry Wilson, and not for a woman named Hetty Thompson—you will perceive that Sherwood had a severe time of it. But he tried to be satisfied, despite the mental wear and tear. He knew the fellow in New York was in pretty hot water, too. He realized that the Gothamite was undergoing the same mental travail in trying to conjecture up a sequential statement of fact from some such gleamings as "F-d-a-e-tt C-m-m-y-r-f-s-de — Will-m B——e."

A man not equipped with a rubber arm cannot keep up a speed of 45 or 50 words a minute and then turn in and translate the sputterings of a crazy, leaky, swinging line which is being worked by an idiot in New York without suffering. Ten days of this kind of worry reduced Sherwood from 190 to 138 pounds, and then his friends took him in charge, for he was wandering around town imprecating against insolent donkeys in New York, and driveling about Gxwyvzch and other combinations of letters. They hired doctors and kept him in a secluded, cool place for three weeks, by which time he was able to move abroad again, and in a month he was in condition to resume his telegraphic functions. He went back to his old wire, and, still rather pale and shaky, started at his day's work. He sent with deliberation and firmness, however, and was overjoyed to note, when it came his turn to receive, that the sender was likewise easy and firm of touch, and there was scarcely any trouble from the workings of the line. After a time a pause came and the New Yorker inquired:

"Are you the fellow who was working this line five weeks ago?"

Being answered in the affirmative the man at a distance continued: "Say, I've just returned after being nearly knocked out by brain fever on account of trying to keep up a fight with you. Where was it I met you, and how did you come to get a grudge against me? When did you know me?"

"I didn't ever know you," chillily answered the Chicagoan. "I tried in a gentlemanly way to get acquainted with you, but when I asked your name you got fresh and said 'Rats,' and that made me hot, of course."

There was a long pause, then—

"Say, this is too rich," the brass clashed to him. "This is a good thing. Here you've been killing me, thinking I had insulted you, and I've been trying to burn you alive because I thought when I told you my mame five weeks ago you recognized it as that of some enemy. I believed then that when you heard my name you, being some fellow who had got sore on me elsewhere in the country, started in to do me."

MADE HIS ARM WHIZ.

"Well," said Sherwood over the line, "what is your doggoned name?"

"It's Rath. Understand? Make that last letter h and not s. See? Four dots and not three. One of the dots got lost on this bum wire, and so you got it an s. Ain't that good? If you'll get somebody in Chicago to kick you, I'll hire some one in New York to do the same to me."

That is the true story of how a poor little telegraphic dot, scarcely big enough to be seen with the naked eye, started one of the most notable battles that ever waged between the seaboard and the great lakes.—Chicago Record.

MILITARY JUSTICE.

As Applied to a Farmhand in Time of Peace.

Old Judge Dole, an early settler of Pike, in the county of Wyoming, N. Y., was a military man in his early days, having, to quote his own words, "fit the Britishers" in the war of 1812. And he carried his habits of military discipline into the management of his farm.

One hot summer day his hired men, five or six in number, decided to take a nap after their luncheon of doughnuts and pie, instead of setting to work again at haymaking. They selected one of their number to act as sentinel and keep watch for the old judge, and the rest of them stretched themselves at full length in the shade of a big tree.

Unfortunately, or fortunately, the sentinel also yielded to the desire for slumber, and at the end of ten minutes was fast asleep at his post.

Just five minutes later the judge appeared, to see how the work was going on, and he saw at once the state of affairs. From the sentinel's position the judge knew what duty the man had been expected to perform, and without waiting for any explanation, he proceeded to administer a sound drubbing with his stick.

When he had sufficiently admonished the sentinel, the old judge let him go, saying: "There, I guess that'll learn you not to sleep on your post!" And without taking the least notice of the other sleepers, the disciplinarian marched off, perfectly satisfied.—Youth's Companion.

Tried to Hide His Contempt.

This is an old story of Thad Stevens, but it is so good that it will bear repeating: Stevens was once engaged in trying a case before a judge noted for his ignorance of the law. During the course of the trial the judge made a ruling that greatly incensed Stevens, who began to tie up his papers, his hands trembling and his thin face suffused with red. "Do I understand," asked the court, "that you are trying to show contempt for this court?" "No, sir," replied Stevens; "I am not trying to show contempt for this court. On the contrary, I am doing my best to conceal it."—Omaha World-Herald.

A Crushing Reply.

At a certain uproarious shareholders' meeting, two disputants were at loggerheads, and one exclaimed: "Sir, you are certainly the biggest ass in the room." Here the chairman interposed. "Sir, you are forgetting yourself." And here he might have stopped to advantage, but he went on: "And still more, you are forgetting me!"—London Household Words.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

Sentenced.

Andrew C. Haugan, ex-city treasurer of Minneapolis, convicted of misappropriation of city funds, was sentenced to four months in jail and a fine of $1,000. He spen a quiet Sabbath in confinement. It was the first full day of confinement, and the prisoner, in commencing his term of four months, seems determined to make the best of a bad affair.

Just after sentence had been pronounced, a number of influential friends of Mr. Haugan went to the jail and requested that the prisoner be allowed to remain in the hospital. This is the pleasantest part of the jail. Although quiet and lonely, it is preferable to the noise and profane language used by many of the prisoners in the jail room. However, Jailor Duffield decided that the new prisoner would have to share the troubles of the others and occupy a cell with the rest.

Wants Damages.

A. P. Loomis, as attorney for Frank Wilson, who was recently tried and acquitted at Minneapolis on the charge of murdering Rime Ducharme, has made out papers instituting action against Detectives John P. Hoy and Nick Smith for damages. It is claimed that Wilson was photographed against his will and the picture given to the newspapers and printed as the alleged murderer, and that he was damaged thereby to the extent of $20,000. He seeks to recover $10,000 from each of the detectives.

Execution of Moshik.

Gov. Clough has signed the warrant for the execution of John Moshik, now at the Hennepin county jail, convicted of the murder of John Lemke.

The warrant to the sheriff of Hennepin county is that he carry out the death sentence March 18. The laws of the state of Minnesota provide that the hanging must take place between midnight and 5 o'clock in the morning, and the number of persons allowed to be in attendance is limited.

A Bold Transaction.

Some time ago Mrs. H. Temple, of Sacred Heart, died, but before dying she had made her own death robe. She was supposed to have considerable money, and her relatives were very much chagrined after searching to find nothing. It was rumored that she had sewed all her money in her death robe, and shortly after the grave was found to have been dug up and everything searched. The robbers left the grave almost open.

Base Ball.

The Minneapolis base ball club this year will get together at St. Louis and Manager Schmelz has notified all of his men to report at that city not later than March 31. Games have been arranged with the Browns for April 1, 2, 3 and 4, and after these have been played the team will be taken to St. Joseph, where the spring practice will be had.

For West Point.

Representative McCleary has appointed Hon. Ashley Coffman, of St. James; Dr. Leroy D. Brown, of Heron Lake, and Prof. W. H. Dryden, of Wilder, as a board to examine applicants for admission to West Point Military academy. An examination will be held at Heron Lake, Feb. 10.

News in Brief.

Tawney is the name of a new postoffice in Fillmore county.

A six-year-old son of Joseph Sidlinshi, was run over and instantly killed at Hastings. He attempted to climb onto a hayrack and fell, the wheel of the wagon passing over his head.

Lars J. Spilder, living near Manchester, was killed by the kick of a horse.

The St. Cloud electric railway line was sold at forced sale to Jared Haw for $5,400.

The officials of Sherburne have written to the state board of corrections and charities asking to be permitted to exchange the county for the town system of caring for the poor, on the grounds of economy, greater efficiency and less likelihood of imposition by the undeserving.

Albert A. Blair, a switchman for the Great Western railroad, accidentally fell beneath the wheels of a switch engine at South St. Paul and died from his injuries an hour later.

The St. Cloud Water Power and Mill company property was sold to Richard D. Fisher, C. A. Wright and Wm. S. Checkley, bondholders, for $124,619.44. E. E. Clark was appointed local manager.

Mrs. Fredericka Behr, of Winona, recently celebrated her 100th birthday.

While out hunting rabbits, Theodore Polzin, a young man living a few miles from Hokah, was seriously and perhaps fatally wounded from a shot accidentally fired by Edwin Klein, a companion.

Thomas Jackson, a blacksmith of St. Paul, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart with a shotgun. He had been drinking heavily.

F. Gustafson fell off the Great Northern bridge in Minneapolis, a distance of 30 feet, and was killed.

Edward Halson has been commissioned postmaster at Nicollet.

The C. N. Nelson Lumber company of Minneapolis paid the state treasurer $11,000 in settlement of claims by the state auditor's office for trespasses six and seven years ago.

Peter Velander, of Vassa, was found dead in his barn. Cause, apoplexy.

Rev. George R. Hair, formerly presiding elder of the Mankato district, died at his home in Mankato of peritonitis, aged 72 years.

F. M. Wilson, attorney for the Chicago, Millwaukee & St. Paul road, has asked the city council of Red Wing to appoint a committee to meet representatives of the road to amicably settle, if possible, the difficulties between it and the city.

After being out nearly 24 hours, the jury in the slander suit of Adelaide E. M. Daniels against Rev. William Wilkinson, rector of St. Andrews Episcopal church of Minneapolis, brought in a verdict of $50 against the defendant.

Frank Wilson, on trial at Minneapolis for the murder of Remie Ducharme at Hopkins last summer, was found not guilty.

George & Cole's factory for mill supplies at Jordan was burned to the ground, throwing 50 persons out of employment.

Two red-breasted robins were seen in Crookstoon last week.

Isaac Hullquist was killed at the lumber camp of Lammer Bros. & Nelson, near Fosston.

A. C. Haugan, ex-city treasurer of Minneapolis, was found guilty of misappropriation of the city funds.

HE LEVIED ON THE DINNER.

How a Tennessee Officer Collected a Debt.

The most interesting levy I ever heard of," said Squire Bell to a reporter, "was one that I made some time in 1868 or 1869, when I was a marshal of the Memphis municipal court. I don't remember the plaintiff in the case, but old Col. Cockerill, who used to run a hotel where the Peabody is now, was the defendant. The case was tried and judgment given for the plaintiff. An execution was issued, and in those days the court had quarterly terms and all papers had to be served during the quarter or a report made why they were not served. Well, I would go out and see the colonel and begin to urge him to do something toward paying the judgment, but he would always invite me into his room to take a mint julep. Then he would become so plausible and make so many promises that I kept putting off the levy till the quarterly term was nearly up. About this time the attorney for the plaintiff came to me and said he was tired of fooling along like that and wanted to know how many mint juleps I had been drinking with the colonel. This scared me some, so I determined I would do something at once.

"I went to see the colonel again, and after refusing the usual invitation to take the mint julep. I told him that he would have to do something. He said that if I would just wait till Tuesday, which was the last day of the term, he would settle up.

"'Suppose you make it Monday, colonel,' I said, for I knew that if I failed to make the levy on Tuesday my execution was dead, and I wanted a day of grace. Well, the colonel agreed to settle up on Monday.

"When Monday came the colonel was awfully sick, and his three boys, who were in the office, would let nobody see him. There were in those days, just as there are now, a lot of men lying round and waiting to get on the jury. I had counted the doors of the hotel dining-room, and I picked out a man for each door and gave them $1.50 apiece and took them down to the hotel. When the gong sounded for dinner I had a man stand at each door and not let anyone go in. There was a great deal of travel in those days, and the hotel was crowded. Pretty soon the people began to fill up the halls and wonder what was the matter. The doors of the dining-room were glass, and the people could see the tables set and the waiters standing 'round, but they couldn't get in.

"This didn't last very long before the old colonel sent for me. 'I call this a low trick, Mr. Ball,' he said.

"'No low trick at all, colonel,' said I. 'I have done a thing never done before in the world. I have levied on a hot dinner, and I am going to hold it till that money's paid.'

"The colonel waxed wroth and swore he would beat the attorney in the case just as soon as he got well. But, finding that his getting hot didn't keep the dinner from getting cold, he finally sent for the bookkeeper, who brought up about $500, which lacked just $150 of satisfying the judgment. The colonel wanted to get off with this, but I demanded security. He was lying in bed, and reached under his pillow and handed me a watch and chain worth twice as much as was still due."—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

TOSSED BY THE HURRICANE.

The Sharp "Colonel" and the Wrecked "Captain" Dine Together.

Two men who had been chums in a western town before a financial hurricane hit it met for the first time in 11 years in a Sixth avenue eating house the other day. In the days of their prosperity one of them was a political lever and was called colonel. He had been on the governor's staff. The other in some way had acquired the title of captain. Both had front seats in every event of the town in which they had lived. The governor's ornament is now a plain bookkeeper in Broad street. The other man is a dry goods clerk.

After greetings, explanations, and a few mournful references to perished delights, they had a combination meal, and if you don't know what that is you have never had any trouble, and anyone who casts a shadow is worse than a heathen. When the meal was over the two old friends walked out and stood for a few minutes under the splutter of an arc light. As they were parting the man who used to ride the big bay horse in the governor's parade, and who had commanded the populace of his town to stand back, said in a low, mourner-like tone:

"If you come to see me don't call me colonel. Nobody knows me as colonel now. I am just an employe on a salary."

The arc light spluttered again as the little man replied, in a squeaky, hall-bedroom voice:

"And if you come to see me just call me 'Say, you!' That's what everybody calls me in the store."

"Well, good-by, captain."

"So long, colonel."

It was the first time they had heard the titles in years, and each walked away with a lighter step and lighter heart.—N. Y. Sun.

Hickory Nut Cake.

Rub to a cream 1½ cupfuls of granulated sugar and one-half cupful of butter. Add three-quarters of a cupful of sweet milk and 2½ cupfuls of flour through which has been sifted two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Stir in one teasponful of vanilla and a cupful of hickory nut meats. Lastly, fold in lightly the white of four eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Bake in a long tin, lined with buttered paper on the bottom, in a medium hot oven. It will require about an hour's baking, and should rise in the pan to its full height before it begins to brown.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Date Gems.

Separate two eggs, beat the yolks and add half a pint of milk, half a cup of finely-chopped dates, a cup and a half of whole wheat flour, a tablespoonful of melted butter and beat thoroughly; add one teaspoonful of baking powder and then stir in the well-beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in hot, greased gem pans in a quick oven for 20 minutes.—Boston Budget.

Spice Dip.

One cupful of boiling water, half a cupful of vinegar, one teaspoonsful of ground cinnamon, half a teaspoonful each of ground cloves and allspice, half a cupful of sugar; stir in one tablespoonful of cornstarch mixed in a little cold water. When thick, serve.—Good Housekeeping.

—It's a wise saw that knows its own maker.—Chicago Daily News.

Dr. Ayer's

is the name to remember when buying Sarsaparilla. Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has been curing people right along for nearly 50 years. That's why it is acknowledged to be the sovereign Sarsaparilla. It is the original and the standard. The record of the remedy is without a rival,—a record that is written in the blood of thousands, purified by its healing power.

"I nursed a lady who was suffering from blood poisoning and must have contracted the disease from her; for I had four large sores, or ulcers, break out on my person. I doctored for a long time, both by external application and with various blood medicines; but in spite of all that I could do, the sores would not heal. At last I purchased six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, thinking I would give it a thorough trial. Before the six bottles had been taken, the ulcers were healed, the skin sound and natural, and my health better than it had been for years. I have been well ever since. I had rather have one bottle of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla than three of any other kind."—Mrs. A. F. TAYLOR, Englevale, N. Dak.

Get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Mutually Unpleasant.

There was once an Irishman who had a face that, as one of his friends once remarked, was "an offense to the landscape." Next to his homeliness, his poverty was the most conspicuous thing about him. Hence the unsympathetic comment of a neighbor. "How are ye, Pat?" he said.

"Mighty bad," was the reply; "sure 'tis starvation that's starin' me in the face."

"Is that so?" rejoined his friend. "Sure it can't be very pleasant for ayther of yez."—Binghamton (N. Y.) Leader.

People who can get no credit usually find a great deal of fault with others who are slow to pay.—Washington Democrat.

Sore and stiff from cold; don't wait and Suffer; use St. Jacobs Oil and get cured.

When lovers form a combination an engagement ring is the result.—Chicago Daily News.

Use St. Jacobs Oil promptly and freely And say good-bye to neuralgia.

A man never gets too old to enjoy the picture of a pretty girl.—Washington Democrat.

Use St. Jacobs Oil and say to rheumatism: "Will see you later."

Her Complaint.

Mrs. Newrocks—I don't like this restaurant at all.

Newrocks—Why not, my dear?

"Why, instead of calling the bill of fare a menu they call the menu a bill of fare!"—Puck.

The John A. Salzer Seed Company, La Crosse, Wis., have shipped within 25 days 1,400 barrels of their celebrated Salzer's Earliest 6 Weeks Market Potato to Texas customers. This potato has the reputation of being the earliest, the finest flavored and the heaviest producing early potato in the country.

Where a man is too utterly trifling to do anything else, he hunts up an estate of his ancestors that he was cheated out of.—Washington Democrat.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

When a man shakes hands with his dentist we wonder if he has ever done any work for him.—Washington Democrat.

After physicians had given me up, I was saved by Piso's Cure.—Ralph Erieg, Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 22, 1893.

The meanest thing one can do is not to ask a woman when she has a story to tell.—Washington Democrat.

It is not nearly always the richest people who have the finest horse and buggy.—Washington Democrat.

Stand straight and strong — St. Jacobs Oil cures lame back—cures promptly.

Married people laugh at things at the theater which make girls look mad.—Washington Democrat.

A sprain may cripple but St. Jacobs Oil Will cure it before it can. It cures.

The less energy a man has, the easier he drifts into matrimony.—Atchison Globe.

The pain that tortures—sciatica. The Cure that cures it—St. Jacobs Oil.

MEN CALL WOMAN A MYSTERY.

So She is to Them—Not so to a Woman

A Woman's Knowledge Saves Mrs. Ebbert From an Operation

A woman understands women as a man never can hope to. For this reason Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., now known all over the English-speaking world, set to work to help her sex.

After long and patient investigation, Mrs. Pinkham confirmed her own conclusions, namely: that seven-eighths of the sufferings of women are due to disorders of the uterine system. Reasoning on this line, she saw that the only preventive of early breaking down, was a specific medicine which would act alone on the female organism.

This was why she prepared her excellent Vegetable Compound, which has been such a boon to thousands and thousands of women. If you have headaches chiefly at the top of the head, and are troubled by painful menstruation, dizziness, sleeplessness, backache, and that bearing-down feeling, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will tone up your whole system. MRS. CHAS. D. EBBERT, 330 Wood St., Reading, Pa., testifies to the great power of the Compound.

"Mrs. Pinkham—I can say that your medicine has cured me of the pains and troubles which I had. My case was a very bad one, and puzzled the doctor. My womb had fallen and I had terrible pains in my back and hips. I could hardly walk. My husband went to our family doctor, and he prescribed medicine for me, but I found no relief, and grew worse instead of better. The doctor examined me and wanted to perform an operation, but my husband would not consent. Seeing the advertisement in the paper, I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken half of the second bottle, I felt like a new woman. In all I have taken four bottles of your medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured. I hope that every woman suffering as I did, will follow my advice and take your medicine at once."

Let its twenty years of constantly-growing success talk. That ought to convince you that there's "something in Pearline."

Twenty years ago Pearline was a new idea. And no new idea could have come into favor so rapidly and so largely, or would have been so copied and imitated, if it hadn't been a good idea. Pearline saves more, in washing, than anything else that's safe to use. 589

Millions NOW USE Pearline

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
CURE CONSTIPATION
REGULATE THE LIVER
10c 25c 50c
ALL DRUGGISTS

"WELL BRED, SOON WED." GIRLS WHO USE SAPOLIO ARE QUICKLY MARRIED.

FREE! WANTED—All persons looking for a home to join one of the fifteen successful colonies and settlements now forming along the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad in Minnesota. Cheap lands, good soil, pure water, clear streams, beautiful lakes, a healthful climate, freedom from drought and malaria, excellent markets. The King of all countries for the DAIRY BUSINESS and Diversified Farming. Maps and Circulars free. Address HOPEWELL CLARKE, Land Commissioner, 908 Globe Building, St. Paul, Minn.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, FEB 4, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

--Advertise in the GAZETTE.

—Isn't it about time for the Eagle to change her standing local to "If you see it in the Eagle it is so, whether it is so or not."?

—A colored concert company played to a small audience at the city hall Monday evening. Prosperity being delayed they disbanded to wait for it.

—It is reported that Joseph Moskosky, of Hopkins Station, who owned the vacant lot on River street, between Janikula's and Weldele's, died Wednesday last.

—Sunday and Sunday night were colder than we have been having and the wind blowed hard enough for a few hours to pump water for stock on the farms. No sleighing yet but the roads are icy and slippery.

--Almost a lawsuit occurred yesternay, Joseph Matzko complaining of Tom Janikula using abusive language tending to provoke an assault. On advice of his attorney, the defendant settled the matter out of court.

--Riley Sturman says: This is a fine winter. If it had not been the fur never would have grown on his over coat as it has. He says he was offered $250 for his team a short time ago, but did not like to part with it, so did not sell.

--Rev. J. S. McCornack, at his meeting Tuesday evening, in the Presbyterian church, announced his intention to hold a series of meetings next week at 7:30 each evening commencing Monday evening. Rev. J. L. Farber will assist in the meetings.

--At the business meeting of the Epworth League held Wednesday evening it was voted that the League hold an entertainment and sociable the first week in March. This gives plenty of time for preparations and something good is expected. Let everybody attend.

—S. A. Thompson, of Mounds View, father of Mrs. E. S. Babb, of this place, was a passenger on the Soo train that was wrecked Monday evening. He had been serving as a jurvman in St. Paul and was on his way home at the time. All hands jumped and Mr. T. lit between the rails on the track and broke a leg. While the train men were extinguishing the fire that threatened to consume the remains of the cars he was left alone. he was later taken to a hospital and placed in charge of Dr. O'Hage. Mr. Thompson is 71 years old and so severe an accident is hard for him.

—On Monday forenoon the St. Peter's school narrowly escaped going up in smoke. A boy emptied the ashes near the high board fence and a few coals were fanned into heat enough to start a good blaze which soon crept into the big pile of dry wood and shot up high into the air. Messrs Michael Brenner and Nick Franzin, who live near, ran to the assistance of the sisters and the school children, and together they succeeded in getting enough water onto the fire to put it out. Five minutes more start we are told and it would have been impossible to have suppressed the flames with the means at hand.

—The Eagle, last week, sought by a slurring allusion, among other things, to belittle in the eyes of the public, our Washington letter. It will, of course, have the opposite effect, and everybody will wish to read it for themselves and form their own judgement. The Old Bird must have suspected, knowing that the bosses had failed to keep the political machine on the track in the Senate, what was coming, and hoped to forstall public opinion, by telling people how stale our Washington letter each week is. Look at our Washington letter this week. No wonder the poor Eagle don't appreciate it. But that's how it is whether you read it in the "Eagle" or not.

—If you see it in the Eagle it is so. —Eagle.

The persistence manifested by our feathery friend, whose aerie is up towards the sylvan groves which separate our metropolis of the great county of Wright from the murmering Minnehaha, and the Sawdust village down by the Father of Waters, reminds us of a story, which is something as follows: A little girl was trying to convince another little girl of the truthfulness of some of her assertions. The other little girl was considerably doubtful. Little girl number one, (with persistence like the Eagle,) cried out "It is so, Ma said it was so, and it's so, whether it's so or not!

—The law makes it obligatory upon parents to report the birth of a child in their families within ten days thereof under penalty of not more than $20, while any physician or midwife in attendance, is subject to a fine of $25 for neglect to report within ten days to the Town Clerk in the Township or to the Health Officer in the Village. This is the means made use for keeping the vital statistics of the state. If you desire your family record to appear properly kept, and promptly reported it is best you see to making reports on time to the proper officer. Some times the public records come very handy in cases of property disputes or other legal matters besides the satisfaction of having them properly kept. If you have not complied with these requirements do so.

—Prof. Hawker was surprised last night by a jolly party of High School students, of his house. An enjoyable time is reported.

—Last Saturday was a big day at the round house. The cars were blocked for some time with teams waiting their turn to drive up to unload. It reminded old settlers of Delano's wheat market of a few years ago. Most of the grain hauled Saturday was from above Watertown. some within a few miles of Meyer Station.

—The farmers who have purchased the Delano creamery, and who have been patrons for some time, and are well acquainted with Mr. Kaemmer, who has operated it for Mr. Roosen since it was started, have retained him in his old position. Charley goes with the creamery. This is certainly a good recommend for Mr. Kaemmer.

—Rev. M. Says, though here less than two years was able to report to his congregation last Sunday, that the big debt that has so long hung over them, has been entirely wiped out, and that they are now on a cash basis. Good. As soon as times brighten up a little, we may look for one of the finest church buildings in the county.

—The officers of the Delano Washington's Birthday Association met Tuesday and appointed the following committees to arrange for the proper celebrationg of the 22nd of February.

Reception—T. Hitzman, William Lewis, Martin Conzet.

Tables--Mrs. W. Bauman. Mrs. Chas. Eppel, Jr., Miss Amanda Sturman, Mrs. Eph Jacobs, Mrs. W. Rader, Mrs. Geo. Goodrick, Mrs. M. A. O'Hair.

Decorating Stage—C. M. Conzet.

A basket dinner will be served. Coffee will be furnished.

Everybody invited to be present.

Personal.

Mrs. Mulford returned home from Monticello Monday.

Mrs. L. K. Flanders, of Montrose, is reported quite sick.

A. L. Mealey took a trip to Minneapolis, one day this week.

Michael Jacobs, of Greenwood, was a Delano visitor Saturday.

Tom Rader and Rev. K. Zeyher, Who have been sick, are again about.

George Darrow, of Rockford, was a business caller in town Wednesday.

Rev. J. L. Farber attended Quarterly Conference last night at Montrose.

Miss Alice Arnold entertained her brother and sister, of Minneapolis, this week.

William T. Ziebarth and son, of Herman, came down Monday for a short visit at the old home.

Mrs. Charles Carlton has retuned from a visit with her daughter Mrs. Spates, at Markville.

Miss Alice Arnold entertained her brother and sister from Minneapolis for a visit this week.

C. R. Carlton, of Independence, was transacting business and discussing politics in town, Monday.

E. S. Babb went to St. Paul this morning to see his father-in-law, Mr. Thompson, who is at St. Joseph's hospital.

Miss Ida, daughter of George Marth, of Herman, is stopping with her aunt Mrs. Charles Brunkow, for awhile.

E. S. Babb went to St. Paul this morning to see his father-in-law Mr. Thompson, who is at the St. Joseph's hospital.

Patrick Crowley and wife, of Minneapolis, visited Delano relatives this week. Mr. C. was quite sick on Wednesday.

Charles M. Conzet and family and Max Youngman drove over to John Hinman's Sunday and had a pleasant visit.

County Cullings.

We have purposely deferred comment on Hanna's dispatch to McKinley in order first to get the sentiment of the public political and religious press.—Buffalo Journal.

Is that the kind of a mind molder Mr. Eaton is? And why is he so anxious to get the sentiment of the "public political and religious press" before expressing himself? Mr. Eaton wouldn't have much to say if all the editors followed his plan.

The Republican papers have been making and unmaking candidates for office in Wright county in numbers and in qualifications to suit the most fastidious of their readers. The Democratic papers might prove themselves as good at slate making and have just as good a right to make slates as have the Republican papers, but they don't seem to belong to any clique, or have any bosses to dictate to them, except the people themselves. and the people are keeping quiet until things arrange themselves in shape so that they can make the best nominations possible. It seems that they have begun to smell a mice about legislative tickets; that they have begun to find out that our state laws are what our members of the Senate and House of the state make them. They have seen enough of laws that are not constitutional, and that leave loop holes for all expense and no profit. They want men in accord with their own ideas of things, and matters, nominated so that they can work honestly for their election, expecting that they will be represented in a manner that will not cause a blush to rise to their cheek whenever the name of "the gentlemen from Wright" is mentioned.

A United States Senator to succeed Hon. C. K. Davis is to be selected next winter by the legislature. On how the members of that body feel depends whether or not C. K. Davis or some other man will be chosen. Some ugly charges have in days past been laid at the doors of members from Wright. The prevailing sentiment is that men be chosen on whom reliance can be placed to do right as they see it. If you are a gold bug send a man who favors the gold standard. If you are a gold bug send a man who favors the gold standard. If you are a Free coinage of both gold and silver man, send a representative who believes in that doctrine. If you are of the opinion that protective tariff is a good thing for us, send a man to vote your principles. If you are quite sure that protective tariff takes money out of your pocket and puts it into the till of the monopolist send a man who will vote for a U. S. Senator who will not favor that scheme, always remembering that simply to vote for a United States Senator is not all our representatives have to do. We want honest, sober, industrious men who will be on hand and assist in regulating wheat laws, railroad laws, educational, supervision of poor, the economical and proper conducting of villages, and whatever may come up. Then can we rest assured that our county will be reconed with counties of respectability and importance politically.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .86
" "	No. 2 " "	.83
" "	No. 3 " "	.79
Rye	" "	.37
Potatoes, per bu.		.25
Barley		10 .15
Eggs,		.13
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .06
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

BORN.

EPPEL.—On Sunday, January 30, to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Eppel, a son.

DIED.

MILKS.—At Montrose, January 27, Mrs, wife of Isaac Milk, aged 72 years.

An Unparallelled Offer.

DEMORESTS'

A Liberal Offer, Only $1.75 for BUFFALO GAZETTE and DEMORIST'S MAGAZINE. for One Year. Send your Subscriptions to this Office, Delano, Minn.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

[Pub. Jan. 28, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25, March 4, 11.]

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court, Eighteenth Judicial District, in and for the County of Wright and State of Minnesota upon a judgment rendered in said County on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1897, in an action therein, wherein the State of Minnesota was Plaintiff and Danville Mayo, Moses Mayo and John Collins were Defendants in favor of said Plaintiff and against said defendants for the sum of five hundred thirty four and 8-100 dollars (534.08) and whereas said judgment was docketed in the office of Clerk of the District Court for Wright County on the 19th day of October 1897, at 4. P. M. of that day, I did on the 25th day of January A. D. 1898 duly levy upon all right, title and interest of the within named defendants or either of them in and to the following described Real Estate situated and being in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota and described as follows to-wit:

The west half of the north east quarter of section twenty three, in township one hundred and twenty one, range twenty four.

Now therefore Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale and will sell the premises levied upon and described in the within notice to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the Village of Buffalo, in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 12th day of March, 1898, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated this 28th day of January, 1898.

JOHN C. NUGENT, Sheriff of Wright County.

C. A. PIDGEON, County Attorney for Wright County.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 50

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New. Abreast of the Times. A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged."

Everybody should own the Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, meaning of words.

A Library In Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority. Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the selection of dictionaries. I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

Recommended by Every State Superintendent of Schools Now in Office.

A saving of three cents per day for a year will provide more than enough money to purchase a copy of the International. Can you afford to be without it?

Send for our Bookseller show it to you.

G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.,—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely Illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE and LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE, Delano, Minn.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE, Delano, Minn.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone. 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal And the Buffalo Gazette Both one year For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the Buffalo Gazette, Delano, Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

DELANO FURNITURE CO.

(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)

GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING

PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING, REPAIRING AND GENERAL CARPENTERING,

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

GIVE US A CALL.

W. H. COCHRANE, & CO., Abstractors,

BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.

Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
221f. Edison Park, Ill.

-Advertise-

GAZETTE.

ONE YEAR

$1.00

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE popular NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very resPectfully yours,

GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO.,

CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.

All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.

Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.

29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,

WAVERLY

Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County

D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR

FINE JOB PRINTING,

IN THE LINE OF

Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line of Printing,

CALL AT THE

Gazette Office.

CHOICE

GARDEN AND FLOWER

SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1898. NUMBER 20.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. S. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon. Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis, Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARMER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesday..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCONNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 7 a. m
Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President {JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen, {NICK FRANK, HENRY BOCK, ADAM BORSCH.
Recorder, {L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, {W. H. FRAZEE, M. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health, {T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary, J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables {JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. BORSCH.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO | CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, ILL.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Postoffice in Delano, Minn

Three Pernicious Doctrines.

In his Minneapolis speech William J. Bryan said the Republicans now favored three pernicious doctrines:

Foreign control of our primary money.

National bank control of our paper money.

Trust control of the taxing power.

THE National Intelligencer, of Washington D. C. aged 97 years comes around weekly, as regularly, and as spryly, as some of its much younger contemporaries. It can be had for three months trial for 10 cts sent to National Intelligencer Publishing Co. Washington, D. C.

EDITOR HUNT, who has recently obtained a situation as post master at Mankato, seems to think himself called upon to defend the adminis'ration from the attack of such as Editor Eaton on the financial policy. Mr. H. claims that the only true bimetallism is that adopted by the Republican party, favoring the largest possible use of silver that can be kept at parity with gold.

How can Mr. Hunt sustain his assertion, that the only bimetallism is the present system? What rank foolishness to insist upon the largest possible use of silver kept at parity with gold as at present. Would it not be much easier to use some cheaper metal than to use nearly 50 cts worth of silver to make a dollar from? What foolishness. How mysterious.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

Mystefiers of Money.

Our Republican friends are great on mysteries. They are long on ignorance and short on truth. People are beginning to see through some of their schemes. And as fast as they get their eyes open they are leaving the poor old drowning wreck. Those who were Republicans when Lincoln was president remember that he made the greenback; that he carried on a great war with it, and that, until tinkered with later, it was good for $1. If Lincoln didn't know any better than to make greenbacks how have Messrs McKinley, Secretary Gage, J. J. Hill and "Bill" Merriam learned so much better now?

The whole aim and object of the present day Republicans seems to be to mystefy things; to try to persuade all hands that they are with them. Their orators begin their speeches by saying that the tariff is a very intricate question, to be revised only at the suggestion of the manufacturers, money changers and wealth collectors, who are supposed alone to be able to fathom its profound mysteries. Then they mention the financial problem, as still more difficult of solution, as something that only statesmen and bankers can know anything about, and repeat a mystefying mess, from someone who staid up nights to arrange it, that goes to prove their assertion that the question is beyond the ken of mortal man, and certainly too deep for their comprehension, or explanation, and which appears to mean that the G. O. P. is for sound money, for gold standard, or for bimetallism if they can get the consent of other nations.

No wonder their voters are bewildered. No wonder, as Charley Warner's Aitkin Age has said "thousands of them are on the fence." No wonder they are disgusted. No wonder they doubt the sincerity of their leaders and are ready to follow some plain beaten path like that held out by Democracy, which is the people's party, the party of the Constitution of the country, the party that believes in having gold and silver used as it has been before without asking the consent of any other nation; the party who with Thomas Jefferson believe in entangling alliances with no other country, and especially on the money question. If our own nation can't agree as to the kind of money it wants, how can all the nations under the sun with their different views come to a conclusion any better?

Away with ignorance. Away with mystery. Away with deceit and double dealing in politics. Let us have honest men and honest parties and honest government with honest money and peace and prosperity will be our reward.

THE County Line seems to have underbid the Litchfield papers and does the County printing for three fourths legal rates.

IF a protective tariff law can be made by the United States, without the aid or consent of any other nation, why cannot a free silver bill be made in the same way? Don't all answer at once.

International Consent Tariff.

It looks as if the German nation had got its "Dutch up" and determined to hold its own in the commercial world. It don't propose to allow American products shipped into their country. If the United States can play hog by prohibiting other countries goods and wares from coming onto its soil so can Germany. Kaiser Wilhelm don't have to allow his people to buy microbe infested lumber from across the water, unless he sees fit; nor feed his army on American apple worms.

It begins to look as if our Republican friends are to keep up the high protective wall they have built about our country, they will have to do so with the aid and consent of other nations.

Dingley Deficit.

The demopops are not saying much about deficits any more. The Dingley bill is too much for them and will be sufficient under normal conditions of importations to produce the necessary revenue. The trouble with our enthusiastic friends on the other side of the house is this: They want to do everything in a moment.—Eagle.

Does the Eagle expect the Democrats to keep continually pointing to the Dingley deficit? They would grow as weary of the pointing as the Democrats are of the Dingley Deficit. "Under normal conditions of importation"! How long does the Eagle want for the "normal conditions" and "prosperity" to come? The 4th of next month Mc Kinley will have been in his seat as President, one year. He was elected a year ago last November, and some claimed prosperity would begin the day he should be elected, and yet after these weary months the Eagle talks of "normal conditions" to come. Why arn't they here? Or did you promise too much, and have just found out that the Dingley deficit is bound to bring that issue of "more bonds" pretty soon, unless Speaker Reed can succeed in his attempt to keep down expenses?

Parity of Silver and Gold.

Gold standard organs, and among them the Eagle has something to say about "maintaining the parity of gold and silver and to make every dollar as good as gold."

That is a strange kind of parity; every dollar as good as gold! Why basswood chips would be as good money as silver, if the United States said they should pass, when stamped "one dollar," for as much as a gold dollar under this plan.

Bimetallism means for the United States to stamp all the gold and silver that is brought to its mints, free of cost, the same as it used to do, and when paying out money to pay it out according to the constitution of the United States, making no distinction between silver and gold, both coin, one as good to pay taxes, and all other debts with, as is the other. That's the kind of bimetallism people want. Then there will be no tomfoolery to befuddle the people with about "maintaining a parity." If Uncle Sam puts his fist on a piece of silver and says that it is a dollar, and he will accept it and pay it out for a dollar just as many times as he can get a chance, that settles it, just as much as it does for him to do so with gold.

Railroad and Warehouse Report.

The Thirteenth Report of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission is out. It is a very interesting document. The now celebrated Steenerson case is among the subjects handled.

From the report it appears that Minnesota Railroads did not make so much money the year past as they did the year before.

The increase in mileage of railroads in the state for year ending June 30, '97, was 61.38 miles. The total mileage at that time being 6,086,35.

The gross earnings for 1897 were $36,660,63; a decrease from the year previous of $2,798,066.

Freight revenue for 1897, $28,849,441; a decrease from previous year of $2,473,657.

Total passenger revenue for 1897 was $5 395,435; a decrease of $410,774.

Miscellaneous earnings, $2,364,187 an increase for 1897 of $80.366.

Operating expenses for 1897, $19,555,989; a decrease of $988,135. Average percentage of operating expenses to gross earnings 53.43 per cent; for previous year 47.48 per cent.

Net income (exclusive of taxes) of Minnesota railroad business for 1897 was $17,044,074; a decrease of $1,809,930.

Two passengers were killed and 35 were injured. Trainmen, 20 killed. 187 were injured. Switchmen, flagmen and watchmen, 6 killed, 57 injured. Other employes, 15 killed. 165 injured. Trespassers, 75 killed, 78 injured. Persons not trespassing, 13 killed, 24 injured, in 1897.

Gold and Silver Money.

If it was such a fearfully wrong thing to have free coinage of gold and silver both, into money, by the United States, why did Jefferson and Hamilton ever agree to it?

If it was right for the government to go out of the banking business and turn it all over to other hands why did Andrew Jackson and Thomas H. Benton labor so hard, for so many years, to regain the privileges that had well nigh slipped away from the government, and into the hands of Mr. Biddle and the Bank of the United States? And why did the people oppose the bank and uphold President Jackson and his helpers?

If the greenback is such a barnicle in business, when did it become so? Who made it so? And how did they do it?

If there was gold enough in this country on which to do business why didn't Secretary Windom find it out when he controlled the Treasury? Why did he place himself on record as believing that there was not enough of either gold or silver alone to serve as primary money of the United States? Why didn't James G. Blaine ever awake to the country's interests, see that a gold standard was the thing? Why didn't Grant who wanted to pay off the national debt with silver dug from the ground, or President Garfield learn these things? Were they so dumb compared to Secretary Gage, Jim Hill, William R. Merriam, or Mark Hanna and his President, as not to see these wonderful curiosities?

If there is as much gold in this country as is needed for money, what will the poor fellows do with their nuggets and sacks of dust when they return from the Klondike. Do the Protectionists intend raising their wall in that corner high enough to make them pay the national debt or prohibit the bringing of all that destroyer of the "intrinsic" worth of the dollar into the states?

Is the Klondike scare got up for the purpose of enriching transportation and other monopolistic companies and running enough of the silver vote off to Alaska to defeat the fusion candidates for Congress and U. S. Senate this fall?

Structure of Society.—No. 3.

To those who feel an interest in these papers we would say, our object and aim is to show how humanity is governed. We do not mean that the conditions pictured in these articles apply to any particular location or place. But, taken collectively, are conditions brought about by greed, wherein the happiness of the many is sacrificed for the profit and the pleasure of the few, all over God's world, in the unhappy past and in the living present.

The discontent manifested on all sides; the murmuring voice of general dissatisfaction all indicate that we are not living and enjoying the best forms of government. The poor are not the governing but the governed. They are not the impure and unsanctified of the race, but are made so by those who lord it over them. "A continual droping will wear away a stone." So does man's strength and manhood become deformed by the burdens and responsibilities imposed upon them.

I was told a few years ago by one of Minnesota's pioneers, and a leading spirit in the Klondike movement, that the centralization of wealth would ultimate in the final overthrow of our present form of government. It is now and has always been a curse, a paralyzing, blighting octupus, standing in the way of general improvement, and a lifting up of all humanity. The wealthy are the powerful ones. They controll the finances of the world. Therefore the destiny of the laboring classes are at their disposal. From them, as causes, flows all arbitration and oppression, and as a sequence, all the absolute misery that prevails in the world, today. It is from these purse proud lords of creation that castes, exclusiveness take their rise, and like an ocean tide covers all beneath them. The rich, as to their unlimited power and unequaled situations, are examples of what the whole race will be, when equal wealth and equal justice pervade the social world.

Intelligence, an attribute of God, will then be the governor and administrator of all laws and principles required by the human family. There will then be no dividing line. All will be free to drink at the fount of knowledge and thirst not, for the best impulses of our nature will be in the assendence. There could not exist disunity. Mankind would be moved by one impulse, and that, a plain recognition of rights and necessities of each and every one. But, owing to the disunity that prevails in society, the wants of the lower classes are not supplied, and the desires of those in the higher classes are supplied with such an overwhelming profusion that they are unable to appreciate the blessings of life, and the pure enjoyments flowing from a well ordered desire and its natural gratifications. The inordinate gratification of these favored ones of society should be object lessons to every son of honest toil "who in the sweat of his brow earns his bread".

The papers of the day have been engaged in the commendable business of pen picturing to the unwashed, how the mind of man is harrassed in the endeavor to furnish new attractions to the select 400 of society, pampered and spoiled with the surfeit of luxuries, they turn earth and heaven for new diversions lest they go mad, so happily, they hit upon the idea of interspersing each and every course, by a cotillion or waltz. By this means more courses could be indulged in, as the timely dance would pack it down and aid digestion. But this goes on while many an aching heart is vainly trying to hold the little family together and keep a shelter for their loved ones. And these conditions both flow out of a disordered state of society, antagonistic to each others interest and well being.

Well so it is—these classes constitute the Human Race! and this tree of social discord will flourish, so long as intelligence is exclusive, labor is unrewarded, and wealth is possessed by those who have it unjustly. No one will risk his reputation by attempting to refute these charges. That there is political and social wickedness all over God's world, no sane man denies. That all the great opportunities are controlled by favored ones in every condition of society is a fact no one disputes. That there was famine in India while the food supply was adequate to the demands is an open secret. A famine in the money markets was the direct causes by which thousands lost their lives.

A few short months ago, we as a nation, were promised a revelation if a prominent party was victorious, "wheels would turn; the smoke of industry would hang over the cities; the cry of want would cease; clean garments would take the place of rags; fat, rosy cheeked men and women would take the places of gaunt hollow eyed, starved humanity that tramped the cities in search of work, or food." In the coal regions the answer to their prayers and their devotion to party was a strike of the most bitter proportions and fearful results to both parties.

Again the cry of distress is in the land. Neither parties nor politicians can stem the tide. The "winter of their discontent" is upon them in the cotton manufacturing centers of our beloved land. A fearful strike for living wages is on. Another siege with poverty will be the bitter lot of thousands of unfortunate ones in the crowded centers of civilization. But while we contemplate a great people, with inexhaustable resources battling with these living complex issues, and knowing that the true remedy is within, is principal, and does not float upon the temporary, superficial prosperity of the hour, nor cannot return to stay by booms or trusts or combinations of any kind, we still know there is a grand way out, first by jealously guarding our liberties, by looking after the privileges that belong to us as citizens and voters, by waking up to the mighty cleansing power of the ballot.

Let us see what the condition of some other countries are today, who have been more watchful of their rights and interests than the American people generally are. Listen to the story that is told by J. M. Peebles, one of America's great travelers and most careful observer, who has circumnavigated the globe three times in the interest of religion, of economy, good government and general prosperity of humanity. This grand man, working for a better condition in the social world and keenly realizing the causes of our national distress tells us, in glowing terms, of what he saw in "New Zealand". Listen!

"While India, suffering from the plague and famine was the poorest country I saw during my third tour around the world, New Zealand was the most prosperous, and among the reasons are the following: The government controls the post offices and the post office saving bank. Postage is cheap. The goverment also owns and manages the telegraph system, and a ten word message, any where upon the island, costs but a six pence. The government owns and operates the telephone system which is excellent, and the charges are more than one third less than in America. The government gives state or mutual life insurance, and the premium rates are considerable lower than the average rates charged by the private companies Accordingly, every government policy holder feels that he has the whole country as a guarantee behind him. Eight hours constitutes a legal days work. The schools are free. The government has expended nearly 2,000,000 in establishing special and technical schools. The government has established a governm nt bank, thus making deposits as safe as the government itself. Victoria and South Australia have done the same. The law imposes a tax upon incomes, and an ordinary tax upon land and mortgages, the amount of which is fixed annually, by a "rating act" and also an additional graduated tax upon the unimproved value of land held in large blocks or tracts. The government, through parliamentary law, administers and is responsible for all estates, thus insuring justice and safety to the widow and orphan, The government owns and operates the railroad, and the passenger and the freight rates are such as to give about 3½ per cent interest on the capital invested. Traveling railroad rates are considerably less than in my native land. Conciliatory boards have been established by the government in every city and town where disputes are likely to arise between labor and capital. Each board is comprised of three representative business men of capital and three representative's from the labor organizations and the District Judge--a veritable board of equity; hence a strike is next to impossible in New Zealand. New Zealand has also woman's suffrage. Bishop Corvil of these islands, my traveling companion by steamer from Auckland to Sydney, was a devoted advocate of extending free and full suffrage to women. 'It had already' he said, 'raised the standard of politics and elected a higher class of officials.' Those who most violently opposed the woman's suffrage movement were gamblers, liquor dealers, and men that owned or patronized houses of ill fame --our sainted mothers, wives, sisters, and daughters-- in a word, women being the subjects of law, and punishable if violating law, it is but the simplest act of justice that they have a direct voice in the making of laws to which they are subject without representation."

Well, so it is, our boasted civilization is not yet out of its swaddling clothes The laws of primitive history clings with a death grip to our sacred institutions. We are in this respect but a little ahead of semi savage tribes, who consider women only fit to do the drudgery, raise the family and look after the pots and kettles, is as far as their shallow minds can be trusted. They can raise our children, many times making them better men than their father ever was. They are our counsellors in the most trying situations of our lives. Their keen perceptions, their intuitave wisdom has many times been our reliance. Their higher and nobler sense of justice has been the safe guard of mankind thousands of times. Their business capacity outstrips us every time.—But on the awful subject of political economy, woman becomes idiotic. Their judgement about such great questions as granting licenses to men to sell rum, would not be mature and would no doubt greatly lessen the public revenue. In short, woman is not safe in politics.—Thus you see the structure of society. As you inspect it, behold how rotten it is! and soon devastation and destruction must overtake such a condition of things.

MARKVILLE FARMER.

Advertise in

the GAZETTE.

Pure Seeds for Trial

To give our subscribers an opportunity to test their famous seeds, Messrs. May & Co., the well known Seed growers of St. Paul, Minnesota, whose order of one million Packets of Seeds tested over 99 per cent pure (Government Report) will mail seventeen trial Packets of choice varieties of Flower Seeds to any of our readers sending to them only ten cents in silver or stamps. This is their Giant Collection, and consists of one Packet each, Asters, Mignonette, Antirrhinum, Pinks, Poppies, Alyssum, Zinnias, Nigella, Godetia, Pansy, Calendula, Petunias, Sweet William, Portulaca, Sweet Peas, Calliopsis and Candytuft. On each packet will be printed full cultural instructions.

They will also send to any gardener or Farmer one Package of their Extra Early Tree Tomato on receipt of six cents in stamps. Their handsomely illustrated Catalogue will be mailed free on application, to any one who intends to purchase Seeds, Plants or Bulbs this Spring. Be sure and mention our paper when writing May & Co. 17 4t.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

G. W. Comee, Wiseca, Table. O. Evans, Kerkhoven, Wrench. H. Keisel, Stillwater, Cigar-support. A. Sahlstrom, Minneapolis, cap for closing stove pipe flues.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Latest News

Gen. Barrios, President of the Guatamalian republic, is reported assassinated by a German named Oscar Solinger.

Pittsburg had a fatal fire Wednesday. A cold storage warehouse filled with whiskey took fire and an explosion occured. Six dead and many wounded. Property loss nearly $2,000,000.

The Jury in the case of Adolph L. Luetgert, the Chicago sausage maker, on trial for killing his wife, brought in a verdict of guilty, on Wednesday night. The sentence is imprisonment for life.

Enrique Dupuy de Lome, Spanish Minister to Washington, is reported to have written a letter in which he spoke of the President of the United States as a "low politician, weak and catering to the rabble"; that his recall has been asked for, and he, taking time by the forelock, has tendered his resignation.

POPULIST COMMITTEES.

Chairman Gibbs Calls the Populist State Central, the Congressional and the County Committees, of Minnesota, Together.

Waterville Minn., Jan. 24th, 1898.

Call is hereby made for a meeting of the Peoples Party State Central, Congressional, and County, Committees of Minnesota to meet in the city of Minneapolis, Feb. 16th, 2 o'clock P. M., at the Windsor Hotel, for the purpose of considering, the more thorough organization of the party, the naturalization of persons now debarred from voting for lack of second papers, The manner of raising funds necessary for active work, and the question of right to a place upon official ballot, is now passed, or must we go on by petition, and if so, the appointment of committees for that purpose will be in order.

F. C. GIBBS,
Chairman Peoples Party Central Committee.

A rate of one and one-third fare has been granted on all Railroads entering Minneapolis for the People's Party Committee and Mass meetings on the certificate plan. Get your certificate from the Railroad agent of whom you buy your ticket.

Special rates have been secured at the Windsor Hotel for all persons attending the meetings: $1.50 per day for one in a room, and $1.25 each where two occupy the same room.

Some of the republican papers of the county occasionally remind us that there is a democratic as well as a republicanring in the county. So there is and there are also those in the populist ranks who would be ring leaders, and they are all equally disreputable, dishonest and worthless. There is this consolation, the voters generally do not love them, and if the voters do their duty at the primaries and conventions the ring leaders of all parties will be compelled to occupy back seats in the next campaign.—Maple Lake Messenger.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.

A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.

A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year. Send for sample; agents wanted.

Published weekly by the Silver Knight Publishing Co., WASHINGTON, D. C.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

The "gold cure" may serve for inebriates, but the only effectual cure for tramps is the "work cure." It scatters the disease, at least.

The graphophone is being utilized by the bureau of ethnology to preserve a record of songs and languages that are likely to soon become extinct.

A South Dakota judge has undertaken to prevent elopements by injunction. Now let him secure marriage by mandamus and the harmony of law and love will be complete.

In balancing the accounts of Massachusetts it is found that there are 83,000 more women than men in the state. This is not exactly a surplus, but it is an inequality that ought to be promptly adjusted.

The new counterfeit $100 bill is a quarter of an inch shorter than the genuine. To test this it is only necessary to borrow one of the counterfeits and then borrow one of the genuine and compare them.

An Englishman named Bateman, who has been collecting statistics of the drink bill of various countries, reports the reassuring fact that the Americans are growing more temperate than any of the European nations.

Baltimore is shipping terrapin and oysters to Queen Marguerite of Italy, while Kansas has just consigned a cargo of apples to Queen Victoria. Somebody has also been forwarding soft-shell crabs to the official family at Prague—at least it is reported that there is great turbulence in the Bohemian diet.

"The Deacon's One-Hoss Shay" has been outdone by the colonel's "one-hoss" sleigh. A sleigh made by Col. David Moseley in 1776 has been in the family service ever since. It is now owned by Edward Moseley, of Westfield, Mass., a great-grandson. It is a low-backed affair and a "hansum critter" even now.

The record-breaking case of modesty occurred at Elizabeth, N. J., the other day when Rev. Martin Gessner, a Roman Catholic clergyman, ran away to avoid receiving a purse containing $2,500 in gold in honor of his twenty-fifth anniversary as a priest. It is probably the only case on record where a man has run away from $2,500.

Miss Margaret Long, the second daughter of the secretary of the navy, has just passed a brilliant examination and matriculated in the senior class of the medical school of Johns Hopkins university at Baltimore. She intends to continue her studies in this institution until she is prepared to practice medicine at her home in Boston.

England is making great preparations to hold her supremacy upon the seas. She has 117 war vessels now in course of construction. Fifteen are battle ships, 12 first-class cruisers, 9 second-class cruisers, 10 third-class cruisers, 6 twin-screw gunboats, 56 torpedo boats, 8 light-draught gunboats and 1 royal yacht. Many of these are nearly completed.

Germany has set a pace that so-called temperance nations would do well to follow. The new German civil code, to go into effect in 1899, excludes from the ordinary rights and privileges of citizenship all persons who through inebriety are unable to provide for themselves and their families, or who bring themselves or their families into danger of want, or who imperil the safety of others.

Hail, all hail to the Chicago woman! Also the Washington Post; which is first to discover the because-whyness of her supremacy. The Chicago woman, says the Post, does not seek divorce from the bonds of matrimony because she craves excitement, or because she has fallen in love with another fellow, but simply that she again may be her solitary, unapproachable, majestic and sole-centered self.

The cries of "Long live the republic!" which have been frequently heard of late on the streets of Brussels do not necessarily mean that a revolution in Belgium is close at hand. They do mean, however, as did the recent demonstrations in Austria, the mutterings in Italy, the threatened Carlist and republican risings in Spain and the Dreyfus ructions in France, that there are some cyclonic portents in Europe's political atmosphere.

The people of California recently celebrated in San Francisco the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of gold in that state under the name of the golden jubilee. The yield during the first year (1848) is estimated at $5,000,000, and in 1897 it was estimated at $18,000,000. The total gold production of the state since the discovery of the metal there is estimated at $1,300,000,000—a greater amount than was ever obtained from a single district of like character, though the Alaska gold fields may equal or exceed it in the course of time. California is a great state.

An old miner who came out of the Klondike a few days ago put the case in this way: "To the man of good health and strength who will toil like the laborer who tears up the streets, who has sufficient money to land a year's supply of provisions from 1,000 to 1,900 miles up the Yukon river, with over $500 in cash after this expense, a barrel of patience, a willingness to take all chances and deny himself the pleasures of life for several years, I say go." The conditions named are evidently based on experience and good judgment and should be heeded.

A weary public will welcome the proposition from St. Louis for the formation of a newspaper league to suppress oratorical pugilists. The movement contemplates an agreement among the newspapers utterly to ignore pugilists except when they have fights pending. Challenges and counter-challenges, long-winded "statements" and speeches from the stage will not get into print at all, and the pugilists will have to fight or face the alternative of going to work. They will get no more free advertising for their variety shows. The organization cannot get to work too soon.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

The agricultural appropriation bill was passed in the United States senate on the 3d and Hawaiian annexation was further discussed in executive session. An omnibus bill covering a large number of old claims amounting in the aggregate to $10,000,000 was reported. The house spent the day ostensibly considering the fortifications appropriation bill, but in reality the major portion of the time was consumed in the discussion of political topics.

No business of importance was transacted in the United States senate on the 4th. Senator White concluded his three days' speech in opposition to the annexation of Hawaii in the executive session. Adjourned to Monday. In the house the whole day and evening was consumed in passing 37 private pension bills.

The United States senate was not in session on the 5th. In the house the bill making appropriations for fortifications and coast defenses was passed and bills were favorably reported permanently locating the capital of the territory of New Mexico at Santa Fe; for a commission to inquire into the conditions of labor, agriculture, etc., and the "free homes" bill, which opens to free homestead settlement lands acquired from the Indians. Mr. Bartholdt (Mo.) introduced a bill for an international exposition to be held at St. Louis in 1903.

FROM WASHINGTON.

In the United States the exchanges at the leading clearing houses during the week ended on the 4th aggregated $1,470,300,828, against $1,283,710,195 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 40.6.

Having reached the age fixed by law, Admiral Selfridge, who has just relinquished the command of the European station, went upon the retired list of the navy.

THE EAST.

In a Brooklyn (N. Y.) hospital Harry Albury, an 18-year-old boy, died of leprosy.

Flames destroyed the Young Men's Christian Association building in Scranton, Pa., the loss being $225,000.

In the seven days ended on the 4th there were 335 business failures in the United States, against 342 the week previous and 311 in the corresponding period of 1897.

At his home near Chambersburg, Pa., Abraham Staley died at the age of 103 years.

The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company has purchased the Lake Shore road.

The Rhode Island locomotive works at Providence filed a petition in insolvency with liabilities of $616,700.

The Hudson river for the first time in years was frozen all the way across at Nyack, N. Y., its widest point, 3¼ miles.

The death of Thomas A. Osborn, of Topeka, former governor of Kansas, occurred in Meadville, Pa.

Richard Severns, Nellie Fields and Mark Laumaster were drowned at Burlington, N. J., by the breaking of the ice on the river.

In New York William M. Evarts, secretary of state under President Lincoln, celebrated his eightieth birthday at his home.

In Boston six firemen, including a district chief, a captain and a lieutenant, were killed at a fire.

WEST AND SOUTH.

The Main street school building was burned at Columbus, O., but 300 children were marched out safely.

While chopping wood at Earl, Tenn., Samuel Webster accidentally decapitated his stepson.

In the Carnegie mines in Ironwood, Mich., 4,000 employes have received an advance of ten per cent. in wages.

One of the most prominent Cherokees, D. W. Bushyhead, died at Tahlequah, I. T., aged 75 years. He had in turn filled every office in the nation.

From Tacoma, Wash., the steamer Queen sailed for Alaska with 650 passengers, 1,300 tons of freight and 200 dogs.

On the same day Henry Gilbert, aged 87 years, and his wife, aged 67, died in Kalamazoo, Mich. Mr. Gilbert was the first editor in western Michigan.

At Edwardsville, Ill., an earthquake shock lasting three minutes was felt.

Maude Ely, who murdered her little daughter at Painesville, O., last August, committed suicide in jail.

At Crescent, W. Va., George P. Tucker, a coal miner, shot and killed his wife and William McAllister, whom he surprised together at his home.

At Hematite, Mo., a cow derailed a train and Engineer Franey and Fireman Childs, both of St. Louis, were killed.

Republicans of the Sixth district of Illinois have renominated Henry S. Boutell for congress.

Flames destroyed the Highland Park hotel at Aiken, S. C., the loss being $140,000.

William H. Martin, an ex-congressman, died at his home near Hillsboro, Tex.

Andrew Alley was shot dead at Mercer, Mo., and Joe Alley, his cousin and partner in a general store, was mortally wounded by Peter Kindred in a quarrel over a debt.

The saloons in Toledo, O., will hereafter be closed on Sunday.

At a railway crossing in Saginaw, Mich., a train struck a sleigh, and Thomas Stewart and Mrs. Mathias Mosner and her daughter were killed.

In a fire which burned the Victor jail in Colorado three men were burned to death and another received fatal injuries.

An incendiary fire destroyed the cathedral, in Savannah, of St. John the Baptist, the head seat of the Catholic church in the state of Georgia, the loss being $225,000.

Fire wiped out the business portion of Plainfield, Ill., the second time within five years.

The death of Joseph P. Smith, of Canton, O., director of the bureau of American republics, occurred at Miami, Fla.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

France, Russia and Great Britain have agreed to insist upon the candidature of Prince George of Greece for the governorship of Crete.

Among the peasantry of the interior provinces in Russia a failure in the harvest has caused terrible distress.

A Paris report says that J. Pierpont Morgan is engineering a scheme to purchase Cuba for $400,000,000.

Having failed to win the insurgents to autonomy, and the army having had no better success, Gen. Blanco returned to Havana from a trip to eastern provinces of Cuba.

Lee Milligan, aged 15; John Milligan, aged 21, and Ethel Baker, aged 12, were asphyxiated with fumes of charcoal at Madoc, Ont.

At Berlin, Ont., James Allison, the boy murderer of Mrs. Anthony Orr, whom he killed for boxing his ears, was hanged.

The latest revolution in Nicaragua is one of conservatives against liberals and the movement has spread rapidly.

In reply to an official note from Gen. Woodford, the United States minister, Senor Sagasta says that Spain cannot fix a date for her completion of the pacification of Cuba.

Nine sailors and three workmen were drowned by the capsizing of a navy launch at Kiel, England.

Turks captured several villages in Thessaly and killed 100 persons.

Spain has decided to send two additional cruisers to the United States.

LATER NEWS.

Japan is about to send 5,000 laborers to Dawson City.

The wife of W. W. Place, an insurance adjuster living in Brooklyn, N. Y., killed her mother-in-law by burning her face and body with acids, attacking her husband with a hatchet and cut him so badly about the head that he may die, and then locked herself in a room and turned on two gas jets. When found by an ambulance surgeon she was unconscious, but it is believed that she will recover.

A duel was fought near Sexton, Io., between Albert Rahm and Herman Necker on account of a woman. Both men were wounded and are in a precarious condition.

An uprising of moonshiners is threatened in the mountain district of Clayburn county, Ark., and the United States authorities have been appealed to for assistance to protect the law-abiding citizens of the locality.

The works of the Bradley Twine and Cordage company at Dayton, O., were destroyed by fire. Loss, $75,000.

American lumber is now the subject of discrimination at the hands of the German government, according to the report of Mr. Keenan, United States consul at Bremen.

A big deal, by which every brewery in Cleveland, O., will pass into the hands of a syndicate of eastern capitalists, has just been completed in New York.

Communication was received by the senate from the secretary of war the 7th prefenting the urgent necessity for immediate action to control the disorderly elements that are assembling in Alaska.

The president nominated Commander Francis M. Bunce to be rear admiral of the navy.

At the cabinet meeting the 8th, it was decided to send two companies of troops to Dyea and Skaguay, Alaska, immediately, for the purpose of preserving order and protecting life and property. Advices to the government state that the rush to the gold fields has attracted hundreds of the lawless element, and that troops are necessary at once to prevent trouble.

Mrs. James O. West, while visiting at St. Louis, was robbed of $4,000 worth of diamonds.

Earthquake shocks continue to be felt at Balikesr, Asia Minor, and its vicinity. About 4,000 people have been rendered homeless, some 3,600 houses, 30 mosques and 15 Khans have been more or less destroyed and 120 persons have been killed or injured.

A boat with five men went over the falls at Oregon City, Ore. George Freeman, his sons James and George, and L. J. Shannon were drowned. Harry Freeman held to the boat and reached shore.

Alexis Claremont, who carried the U. S. mail from Green Bay to Chicago on foot sixty years ago, died at De Pere, Wis., aged 87 years.

Rear Admiral Sicard has been relieved temporarily from the command of the North Atlantic squadron on account of sickness.

The Spanish government has decided to send the Spanish cruiser Almirante Oquendo to Havana and thence to New York.

Judge Lunt, in the district court of El Paso county, Colo., has rendered a decision which practically nullifies the eight-hour law passed by the Colorado legislature.

Captain Leutze, in command of the Alert, has cabled the navy department that he has landed marines at San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, for the protection of the American consulate owing to the fact that a revolution has broken out.

A special from Nanaimo, B. C., states that the steamer Noyo has arrived there from Skaguy. She had twenty-five disguested passengers aboard, tired of the country after their first experience and severely denouncing the Klondike rush. The treasure on board was $10,000.

O. H. Sheeler, of Chicago, has made a proposition to lift the massive capitol of Ohio and place another story under the structure. Mr. Sheeler says he will acomplish this remarkable feat for $300,000, and Senator Miller, of Licking county, has promised to introduce a bill to provide the funds for the undertaking.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Feb. 8.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 94¼ to 95c. No. 2 northern, 90¼ to 91c; May, 92⅜c.

Corn—No. 3, 26c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 23 to 23½c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.85; cows, $2.90.

Hogs—$3.35 to 3.65.

Sheep—Muttons, $3.10 to 4.50; lambs, $4.25.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c; spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 19 to 20c; creamery, firsts, 18 to 19c; dairy, fancy, 16 to 17c; dairy, choice, 14 to 15c.

SHOT IN THE BACK.

Statement Made by a Doctor Testifying in Lattimer Affair.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 5.—In the trial of Sheriff Martin and his deputies, who are jointly charged with the murder of the striking miners at Lattimer on September 10, Dr. H. M. Keller, who viewed the remains of the strikers, and attended many of the wounded, testified that a number of the strikers were shot in the back, thus bearing out the allegations of the commonwealth that the deputies fired when the men were running away.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 7.—The first week of the trial of Sheriff Martin and his deputies ended Saturday with the case well under way, and the jury having a lot of evidence to think about over Sunday. There was the usual crowd at the morning session.

The first witness, Michael Nicholson, described the condition of some of the wounded on the road near Lattimer. One man died as he watched him; five others whom he saw were badly wounded.

The next witness, one of the most important of those to be heard on behalf of the commonwealth, was John Egler, secretary of the Harwood union of the United Ironworkers. He told how, on the night before the shooting, a meeting had been held at Harwood, and the men gathered there decided to march over to Lattimer that day to show themselves to the men at that place at the request of these men. Witness got an American flag and nailed it to a long pole he had cut. They agreed, he said, to march unarmed, and to behave peaceably. Speaking of the meeting with the sheriff and deputies at West Hazleton, witness said: "They rushed at us and pointed their guns in our faces and told us to stop. I explained to the sheriff that we were just going to show ourselves to the Lattimer men, and were going to do no harm to anybody. The sheriff said: 'If you get to Lattimer, you must kill me.' Burgess Jones, of West Hazleton, said we could march through the streets, and so the sheriff and deputies went away, and we marched on to Lattimer."

The witness said that at Lattimer he again told the sheriff they were not armed, and would behave themselves. The sheriff pulled a couple of men out of the ranks and drew his revolver, and witness saw him trying to shoot one of the strikers. The revolver did not explode, however, and then a crowd formed around the sheriff. At this time there was a shot, and then three or four shots, and at last a volley. Witness fell down between two men, but did not think the men were shooting ball cartridges until he saw one of the men bleeding. Then he got up and ran with the rest, and the bullets kept whizzing about his ears. He saw lots of wounded men, but did not go near the deputies, as he was afraid.

On cross-examination Egler admitted that when the sheriff told them to disperse, he said: "We ain't going to; we are going to Lattimer."

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 8.—In the course of the Martin trial Monday morning there came a severe denunciation of the sensationalism of certain newspapers in endeavoring, as the court said, to prevent justice by an exaggeration of the facts and incidents of the trial. He would, he said, not mention any names at present. "But if the astounding falsehoods and misrepresentations continue the representatives of the papers will find the door of the court closed to them." Just before the noon adjournment the court accepted bail for all accused deputies and the sheriff in the amount of $6,000 in each case, making $402,000 in all. Bail was furnished by the Philadelphia Surety company.

Japan No Longer Objects.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Japan has been removed as an element in the opposition to the consummation of the annexation of the Hawaiian islands by the United States. This result has been attained by the conclusion of an agreement between our government and that of Japan, as represented by Minister Toru-Hoshi which by practically settling the status of the Japanese in Hawaii removes the only substantial difference that has existed between the two governments. The exact basis of this agreement has not yet been made public, but the general scope of it is understood to be a recognition of the rights of Japanese in Hawaii to claim equal rights with Japanese in the United States after the taking effect of the treaty with Japan proclaimed in 1895.

Thousands Are Going.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The Times-Herald says: Klondike fever is the raging epidemic in the middle western states. It is estimated on an absolutely accurate basis that at least 25,000 men in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and Michigan are planning to go to the Yukon this spring. The estimate is built upon reports that 2,114 have actually bought tickets and secured their implements and outfits. This company of argonauts is ready to start this week or next, and certainly before the month is up. Iowa heads the list with 10,000 men. The quota to be furnished by the other states is as follows: Illinois, 5,000; Wisconsin, 4,000; Indiana, 4,000; Michigan, 2,000.

Held for Trial.

Oklahoma City, O. T., Feb. 8.—Monday, at Shawnee, 11 persons were brought in from the vicinity of Maud and given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Galbreath, on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the lynching of the Indian murderers of Mrs. Leard. All were held under bonds of from $800 to $2,500. The United States marshals expect to make 50 arrests before they are through. Many of those implicated in the Indian burning are leaving the country to avoid arrest.

Schaefer Beats Slosson.

New York, Feb. 7.—With the victory of the American championship at 18-inch balk line billiards almost within his grasp, George Slosson was defeated Saturday night by Jake Schaefer, of Chicago, by a score of 600 points to 596 points in the game for the championship of America, which took place at Madison Square Garden concert hall.

Chief Bushyhead Dead.

Tahlequah, I. T., Feb. 5.—D. W. Bushyhead, one of the most prominent Cherokees, died here Friday of Bright's disease. He was 75 years old and had in turn filled every office in the nation. He was a member of the recent Dawes commission on the part of the Cherokee nation, and was favorable for negotiations.

TOLEDO'S SUNDAY LAWS.

Repealed After Being Thoroughly Enforced for One Day.

Toledo, O., Feb. 8.—All the Sunday-closing ordinances and saloon regulations were repealed by the council Monday night as a result of an attempt on the part of the police commissioners to enforce them. The evident feeling in the board was that its action would not throw the town "wide open" any more than it would license crime and create riot.

Toledo, O., Feb. 7. — This hitherto wide-open town was closed up tight by an order of Chief of Police Raitz, to all persons who do business on Sunday. Saturday night all the saloons were ordered to close at 11 o'clock and remain closed all day Sunday. Milk dealers were notified to stop serving their customers and the news stands were ordered to discontinue selling papers. Druggists were warned that if they sold anything except upon prescription from a physician they would be arrested. Candy stores and cigar counters were closed.

Manager Strobel, of the Toledo Marine band, and Bandmaster Vandorn were taken to the police station for giving a band concert at the Valentine Sunday afternoon. A crowd gathered and hooted the police and for a time a riot was feared. Manager Stevens, of the People's theater, and Manager McFadden, of the Wonderland, were arrested Sunday evening. Fully 3,000 people gathered in the vicinity of the playhouses to hoot the officers.

QUINLAN'S CERTIFIED CHECKS.

Officers of Chemical National Bank Are Looking Them Up.

New York, Feb. 4.—John S. Silver, one of the men whose borrowing from the Chemical national bank led to the resignation of Director and Cashier Quinlan, said Thursday that he did not owe as much as he had been said to owe, but whatever the sum was he would pay it.

The officers of the Chemical national bank were in communication by telegraph with banks in various parts of the country to trace the course of the certified checks given by Cashier Quinlan to Messrs. Silver and Grable, and to ascertain whether financial institutions elsewhere had advanced money on drafts such as were accepted as security at the Chemical national.

President Williams, of the Chemical national bank, when shown the dispatch from St. Louis containing an interview with Grable, in which the latter said that Mr. Williams had been a stockholder in one of his companies for several years, said: "It is wrong for this man to try to mix me up in his schemes. It is true that I have been connected with one of his companies, but it was a trifling matter, not more than $2,000 or $3,000." He also admitted the truth of the statement that on Thursday last the Chemical national bank had accepted a demand note of $201,500 from Grable, agreeing at the same time not to press Grable for the money.

Will Not Resign.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Speaking to a question of personal privilege in the senate Friday Senator Lindsay (dem., Ky.) commented sharply on the motives of the author and promoters of the resolution recently passed by the legislature of Kentucky demanding his resignation as senator. Senator Lindsay, after defining his position upon the financial question, made it clear that he was the representative of the whole people of Kentucky, and not in any sense the agent of the Kentucky legislature. Above all he was, he said, a senator for the whole American people, and as such would perform his duties and cast his vote in accordance with his convictions and with the dictates of his conscience.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 7.—A majority of the house signified its intention Saturday to continue its appeal to Senator Lindsay to resign.

Killed Three.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 4.—One of the most horrible crimes ever perpetrated in this state took place in Franklin county Wednesday night. Sol. F. Autrey, a farmer, accompanied by his family, went to visit his aged father and mother, living near Mulberry. Shortly after his arrival Autrey became engaged in a religious argument with the old folks. Suddenly he grasped an iron bar, killed his aged father, mother and his ten-year-old son and seriously wounded his wife and three remaining children, two of whom are not expected to live. His wife and eldest daughter, although badly wounded, managed to notify the neighbors. When they reached the house they found Autrey a raving maniac, with his clothes on fire. He was overpowered after a hard struggle.

Fighting in Thessaly Continues.

London, Feb. 7—The Athens correspondent of the Times says: The Turks, after severe fighting, have occupied and burned four villages in the Agrapha district, in the north of Acarnania, about midway between Arta and Domoko. Eight thousand Turkish troops were engaged in the conflicts. It is reported that in the neighborhood of Palaeokastron the Turks were repulsed. A panic prevails among the inhabitants of the neutral zone. The Greek outposts have been strengthened and the situation is ominous. It is probable that the Cretan question will be dropped until the evacuation of Thessaly has been secured.

Gold from Australia.

San Francisco, Feb. 7.—The steamship Mariposa, from Sydney, Australia, due here February 10, is reported to have on board nearly $500,000 Australian gold consigned to the Anglo-California bank, of this city. Added to the former receipts, this will bring the total shipments of gold from that source for this season up to $13,000,000, by far the largest amount ever received in California from Australia during any one year in settling the balance of trade in favor of this country.

Will Visit Gettysburg.

Washington, Feb. 5.—President McKinley and probably some of the members of his cabinet will attend the Memorial day services at Gettysburg on the 30th of May if public business does not intervene to prevent them. The president so informed a delegation who called on him Friday to extend the invitation.

Spain to Send More Cruisers.

London, Feb. 7.—Special dispatches from Madrid say that the Spanish government has decided to send two additional cruisers to the United States.

ZOLA'S TRIAL BEGUN.

Keen Public Interest Shown—Has No Hope of Fair Treatment.

Paris, Feb. 8.—The trial of M. Emile Zola, who is being prosecuted by the government as a result of the letter which he wrote last December to the Aurore, strongly reflecting upon high officials connected with the Dreyfus case, opened Monday in the assize court of the Seine. The most keen public interest was manifested in the case.

When M. Zola entered everybody was on tiptoe to get a glimpse of him, and there was some disorder pending the arrival of the judge. Scarcely was he seated when a bundle of telegrams was handed to M. Zola, all addressed "Zola, court of assizes, Paris," and other telegrams poured in during the proceedings, altogether over 400 from all parts of the world, offering sympathy and congratulations. One from Belgium bore the signature of 1,000 legal and literary celebrities and signed by a group of Roman Catholic priests said "Viva la justice."

M. Zola, who was quite calm, asked the barristers: "What is the maximum penalty to which I am liable?" On being told that it was six months imprisonment, he rejoined smiling: "If truth could but merge from this trial, I would willingly take six months more."

The day's proceedings bring out more patently than before what an uphill fight lies before Zola. M. Laborie, his counsel, has already pronounced it a forlorn hope.

London, Feb. 8.—David Christie Murray, the novelist and playwright, had a column interview with Emile Zola, which is published in the Daily News. Zola, it appears, was anything but hopeful of the outcome of his trial and said:

"We know everything about the Dreyfus case; but it is impossible to describe the pressure to impose silence upon the men who are able and ready to reveal the truth. Our documentary evidence is not even looked at and our witnesses have refused to testify or have been ordered to be silent. The facts are clear and absolutely beyond denial; but the authorities refuse to allow us to produce our evidence and then hold up the feebleness of our cause to the derision of the public."

GOV. PINGREE'S VICTORY.

Michigan Central Must Issue 1,000 Mileage Books for $20.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 7.—Judge Donovan, of the circuit court, has ordered the issuance of a mandamus against the Michigan Central railway in the suit brought by Gov. Pingree to compel the railway company to sell him a 1,000 mileage book, good not only for himself, but for any member of his family, for $20.

Judge Donovan quoted several decisions of the United States supreme court, under which the right to regulate fares and charges was reserved to the state. He concluded that the Michigan Central is still under police power, reserved to the state, and that the "company cannot fix rates by by-laws repugnant to the laws of the state."

"It is clearly settled law that the company's whole system is under state law and state control. It cannot escape state statutes by its by-laws, which conflict with the constitutional requirements.

"The company cannot even tender to the state what it purchased in 1846, and which the state could buy back in 1867. The holdings are so vast that eventually either the company will control the state railway system or that function must remain in the state. In case of doubt the state is entitled to the doubt.

"The mandamus will issue."

Savannah's Fire Epidemic.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 7.—Savannah's epidemic of fire continues. Sunday night damage to the extent of $125,000 was caused by a conflagration which started in a hay warehouse on the wharf at the foot of Jefferson street. The fire communicated itself to several brick buildings on Bay street and three of them were entirely gutted. Before the fire, which broke out in the hay warehouse, had been brought under control, flames burst out in the magnificent cathedral of St. John the Baptist, the head seat of the Catholic church in the state of Georgia, and it was soon in ruins. At midnight the destruction of the cathedral was complete. The cathedral cost about $225,000 and was insured for $60,000. It was one of the finest ecclesiastical structures in the south. The edifice contained many works of art, all of which were saved.

A Gigantic Combination.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—All biscuit and cracker companies between Salt Lake City on the west, Portland, Me., on the east, St. Paul on the north and New Orleans on the south are under one management. The name of the new corporation, which was incorporated in the state of New Jeresy, with a capital of $25,000,000 preferred and $30,000,000 common stock, is the National Biscuit company. The actual transfer of deeds of the various plants controlled by the companies merged into the National company took place in the office of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank in this city. Benjamin F. Crawford, Mansfield, O., was elected president; H. F. Vories, of Chicago, first vice president; Frank O. Lowden, of Chicago, second vice president; C. E. Rumsey, of Pittsburgh, secretary and treasurer.

The Decree Modified.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The state department has been notified by Ambassador White at Berlin of the modification of the original decree issued by the Prussian minister of finance, Dr. Miquel, prohibiting the importation of American fruit. According to the ambassador's cablegram, the decree does not, as he advised Thursday, apply to dried fruits, while fresh fruit will be admitted to entry if an examination shows its condition to be satisfactory. If this modification has been made in the decree, it would appear that the prompt representations made by the United States have received an equally prompt consideration on the other side.

Sentenced for Embezzlement.

Chicago, Feb. 7. — Theodore H. Schintz, who failed last summer with debts of nearly $800,000, was found guilty Saturday in Judge Horton's court of the embezzlement of $3,844 from the Franz Ertel estate. His punishment was fixed at imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Death of an Ex-Governor.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 5.—News has been received here in a private dispatch to Mr. P. I. Bonbrake, president of the Citizens' national bank, of the death of ex-Gov. Thomas A. Osborn, at Meadville, Pa., Friday.

New Bank for Chicago.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The American national bank of Chicago has been authorized to begin business. Capital, $1,000,000.

The Government's Domain.

The commissioner of the general land office has submitted his report to the Secretary of the Interior. Compared with last year, it shows a decrease of 3,298 homestead entries, aggregating 378,625 acres. Quite proportionate to this is the falling off in general health when no effort is made to reform irregularity of the bowels. This can easily be accomplished with the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, also a remedy for malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism and liver trouble.

If a noisy baby has a real pretty mother, a crowd will forgive it a good deal quicker.—Washington Democrat.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

Rome wasn't founded by Romeo; it was Juliet who was found dead by him.—Chicago Daily News.

Years of rheumatism have ended with Cure by St. Jacobs Oil. Cures promptly.

Wise men make feasts that fools may eat and get the gout.—Chicago Daily News.

The architect of his own fortunes seldom tires of building extensions.—N. Y. Weekly.

The pain of sciatica is cruel. The cure by St. Jacobs Oil is sure. It penetrates.

Lots of people mistake a loud noise for ability to sing.—Washington Democrat.

Slipped and fell; bad sprain. Never Mind. St. Jacobs Oil will cure it.

Nobody uses over about six adjectives.—Washington Democrat.

Eruptions On the Face

"I was troubled with eruptions on my face. I thought I would give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial, and after taking a few bottles I was cured. I am now also free from rheumatism to which I have been subject for some time." C. E. Barry, 726 Milwaukee Street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills. 25 cents.

EVERBEARING STRAWBERRIES.

Fruits in a Few Months From Seed.

Some berries will be white, some black and others red, and some of the plants runnerless. Perfectly hardy in any garden and bear continually from May to Nov. Greatly superior in flavor to other sorts. Fruits well in pots summer or winter. Plants from seed sown now will fruit freely all the coming summer and fall. One plant has yielded a pint of berries at one picking as late as November.

For 10c. we will mail a packet of this Strawberry seed and our great Catalogue of New Seeds, Bulbs, Plants and Fruits, 160 pages, 12 large Colored Plates.

Or for only 25c. we will mail Catalogue, Strawberry Seed, Chinese Lantern Plant, Shoo-fly Plant, Jubilee Phlox, Prize Verbena and THE MAYFLOWER Monthly Magazine for a year; illustrated—colored plate each month—devoted to Flowers and Gardening. Order now; this offer may not appear again.

John Lewis Childs, Floral Park, N.Y.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND

POMMEL SLICKER

The Best Saddle Coat.

Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

If you want Agricultural Land, yielding from $15 to $20 PER ACRE yearly, become a settler in Western Canada. Good Crops, Good Prices; railroads, schools, churches; fuel in abundance. For Illustrated Pamphlets, Maps and low railroad rates, apply to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; BEN. DAVIES, 154 East Third St., Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE

SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO. 180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

POTATOES $1.05 a Bbl.

Largest Seed POTATO growers in America. The "Rural New-Yorker" gives SALZER'S EARLIEST a yield of 464 bushels per acre. Prices dirt cheap. Our great SEED BOOK, 11 Farm Seed Samples, worth $10 to get a start, or 10c., and this notice. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LaCrosse, Wis. (X 7.)

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

For the sound and permanent cure of Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers and Old Sores of every kind and description, no matter how many years standing, or by what name known. And for the prevention and cure of Gangrene, Lock-Jaw and Blood Poisoning. It never fails. BY MAIL 63 Cents. 32-PAGE BOOK FREE. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., ST. PAUL, MINN. For sale by Druggists.

WELL MACHINERY—Drills 100 to 2,000 feet. LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

PATENTS 30 years a Solicitor. Book free. W. N. Stevens, Opposite Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. N. K.—G 1695

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Chronic Rheumatism.

From the Industrial News, Jackson, Mich.

The subject of this sketch is fifty-six years of age, and actively engaged in farming. When seventeen years old he hurt his shoulder and a few years after commenced to have rheumatic pains in it. On taking a slight cold or the least strain, sometimes without any apparent cause whatever, the trouble would start and he would suffer the most excruciating pains.

He suffered for over thirty years, and the last decade has suffered so much that he was unable to do any work. To this the frequent occurrences of dizzy spells were added, making him almost a helpless invalid.

IN ALL SORTS OF WEATHER.

He tried the best physicians but without being benefited and has used several specific rheumatic cures, but was not helped. About one year and six months ago he read in this paper of a case somewhat similar to his which was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and concluded to try this remedy.

After taking the first box he felt somewhat better, and after using three boxes, the pains entirely disappeared, the dizziness left him, and he has now for over a year been entirely free from all his former trouble and enjoys better health than he has had since his boyhood.

He is loud in his praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and will gladly corroborate the above statements. His post office address is Lorenzo Neeley, Horton, Jackson County, Michigan.

All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained, in a condensed form, in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. All druggists sell them.

BEYOND BELIEF.

Henri Was Stuck on His New Brown Suit.

The lady in the railway car would have claimed undisputed recognition as the most overdressed person in any of the counties through which the train passed had it not been for her son. He was one of the weary-faced, scrupulously clad little people who afford support to the theory that poverty may be a comparative blessing to the very young. He did not look as if a genuine good time would fit him. The ambition to drill him into unflagging self-consciousness had met with obvious and pathetic success. He sat with his neck stretched out to keep from wrinkling his lace collar. The novel which his mother read was one of the most recent and ponderous. The title, in large gilt letters, was turned toward the aisle as she held it before her, turning the pages with suspicious infrequency. A mist had gathered on the pane, so that the boy could not look out of the window. Instinct was more powerful than culture, and before he thought he had taken his gloved finger and rubbed a round spot through which he could look with one eye. His mother fairly gasped with indignation.

"Henri!" she exclaimed.

"Yes, ma'am."

"You bad child! How can you do such things?"

He made no reply, but penitently turned his back upon the mental luxury with which he had hoped to provide himself. But his mother evidently prided herself upon her achievements as a domestic disciplinarian. In a loud voice she continued:

"Now, you sit there perfectly quiet, and remember what I tell you. If you do anything like that again—"

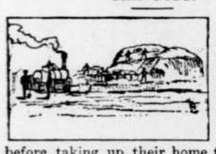
As she paused to consider her threat the child gazed into her face with tense apprehension.

"I'll open that window and toss you out and let the car run over you, so that all the wheels will cut you up in little bits of pieces!"

His eyes grew big with dread, and in tones of mingled incredulity and dismay he exclaimed:

"Mamma! In my new brown suit?"—Washington Star.

A PERFECT HOME SECURED AT LITTLE COST.



Joan and Theodore Striovski, formerly residents of Michigan, but now living in Alameda, Western Canada, before taking up their home there visited the country as delegates. They reported to the Government of the Dominion of Canada the result of their observations, and from this report extracts have been taken, which are published below:

"We have visited a number of most desirable locations, and are highly pleased with the country as a whole, it being beyond our highest expectations. We find here a prosperous and well-contented lot of people. They have comfortable homes, and their vast fields of wheat and other crops in addition to their herds of choice cattle, indicate prosperity in the full sense of the word. In conversation with the farmers throughout our trip we learned that the majority of them came here with very limited means, and some with no more than enough to bring them here, and they are now well-to-do. They all claim that this is the only country for a poor man, or one with little means, to get a start and make a home for himself and family. As you are aware, we were a little shaky and undecided before leaving Detroit, but have determined since that we, with our friends, will make this country our future home. It is far from being the wilderness we had pictured it to be; it is, instead, a land having all the facilities required by modern civilization, such as railroads, markets, stores, churches, schools, etc., in fact, an ideal home for those having the future welfare of themselves and families at heart."

The Messrs. Striovski selected the Alameda district, but what they say of it appeals in a general way to most other districts in that vast country. They speak of the fuel, which is to be had in great quantities, of the water that can be had by digging from 10 to 20 feet, and of the good grazing land to be had almost everywhere. There is plenty of wood for building timber and for fuel, while coal is convenient, and sells at low prices at the mines. In driving through the country they passed many fine patches of wild raspberries, and say they can speak highly of their flavor, as they could not resist the temptation to stop and eat.

Having already transgressed on your valuable space, I shall defer further reference to Western Canada for another issue. An illustrated pamphlet recently issued by the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, Canada, giving a complete description of the country, will be forwarded free to all who write for it.

Yours,
WESTERN CANADA.

A pompous bishop was having his portrait painted, and, after sitting for an hour in silence he thought he would break the monotony. "How are you getting along?" he inquired. To his astonishment the artist, absorbed in his work, replied: "Move your head a little to the right, and shut your mouth." Not being accustomed to such a form of address, his lordship asked: "May I ask why you address me in that manner?" The Artist (still absorbed in his work)—"I want to take off a little of your cheek."—Tit-Bits.

The Mean Thing.

"My face," said the Seasoned Soubrette, is my fortune. "You don't say so?" retorted the Funny Comedian. "I thought it stood for what you owed." "And why did you think it stood for what I owed?" asked the Seasoned Soubrette. "Because," explained the Funny Comedian, "I see you have it chalked up."—Indianapolis Journal.

Below Zero (and the Belt).

Tenbooke (after the refusal)—How cold it is to-night. My hands are chilled.

Gwendolen—Well, I have made you a Christmas present of the mitten. That ought to keep them warm.—Yellow Book.

FOLLOWING THE BAND.

Life was a joy when I was a boy,
In the days of long ago,
When eye and ear could see and hear
The things it was good to know.
But the kind old earth, once glad with mirth
And pleasure high and grand,
Seems stale and tame since I became
Too big to follow the band.

Yet I dare say earth holds to-day
About as much or more
Of joy and cheer, right now and here,
Than ever it held before.
But by our pride we're now denied
God's gifts on every hand;
We've grown too proud to follow the crowd—
Too big to follow the band.

I'd like to stray in a careless way
Through the broad green fields of youth,
And wander back along life's track
To the blissful springs of truth.
I'd like to trade my woes, self-made,
And the cares that come to men
For the keen delight of a boy's glad right
To follow the band again.
—Nixon Waterman, in L. A. W. Bulletin.

AN AWAKENING.

By Enoch Dixon.

A BACHELOR is much given to reflection. It comes after a time to be one of the few real pleasures of his existence. Surrounded by the bare furnishings of a bachelor's quarters, the stiffness and uncomfortableness of it leads from a realization of what is to a dream of what might have been. Unconsciously the habit grows until its satisfaction becomes as necessary as the satisfaction of a carnal appetite.

I have lived to the age of 43, unloved and unloving, fancy free, except that the usual attachments which come to everyone of healthy body and mind have been mine. I had always intended to marry. I have appreciated women fully. I have worshiped at the shrine of femininity, but always in the general rather than the particular. My drifting away from gentle attention to the fair sex has been gradual, if at all. There still remains a pleasure in speaking those soft and gentle words which bring the blush of pleasure to fair cheeks and the sparkle of self-satisfaction to timid and downcast eyes. There is still a joy in measuring the accomplishments of the latest belle, to kindly overlook her faults or excuse them, and to choose for her a husband from among my friends. Somehow, however, there has come a crustiness and a spirit of pessimism which is a bar to the consideration of any young lady in connection with any future in which I might have a share.

That was until to-night.

This evening I dined with a happy couple, not long since married. In my goodness of heart I had picked them out one for the other and brought them together. He and I had spent our school days as comrades, and in those times were inseparable. The same rod had corrected us for partnership truancy, and we had together often paid the penalty for the despoilment of a neighbor's watermelon patch. I had tried his constancy and friendship and found them true. I met her in the south. I was off for a vacation, making the journey lazily on a palatial Mississippi river steamboat. She came aboard at a little landing, chaperoned by a big, good-natured, careless brother and attended by a colored maid. I was attracted by the freshness of her beauty, and we became good friends. When I came back north I told Fred of her, and my eulogy aroused his interest. The next spring we went south together, met Marian at her home and Cupid scored another victory. Nor was the little rascal a laggard. Fred tarried for two months, and within the year they were married. I am their best friend, and to-night I dined with them. At the parting Marian quietly asked: "Frank, why haven't you ever married?"

That query aroused a new sentiment—gave a new cause for reflection. I wandered slowly to my bachelor apartments, filled and lighted my pipe, elevated my feet a few inches more than was customary and seriously repeated the question in my mind.

Yes, why haven't I married? It was an honest question, propounded in a spirit of friendship, and I would have an answer for Marian the next time we met.

As the smoke slowly curls toward the ceiling I see the shadow of a face—a tender, youthful countenance—and a flood of memory from early days comes to me. Let's see—yes, I was 12 years old then, just beginning to realize that there was a difference between petticoats and trousers, and to feel the pangs of bashfulness. Rose was, if my memory does not deceive me, a pretty girl. Her name might have been chosen for the color of her cheeks, they were so bright, and her chestnut hair refused to be confined by any method of control. She was the first in every game at school, tall for her years, supple and full of energy. I never joined the circle of which she was a part nor passed her home in getting to mine if I could help it. It seemed to me she was sacred, and I shrank from profaning her with the accidental touch of my hand or a glance which could be avoided. I really thought I loved her. I was happy for days if she gave me a glance, and blushed with confusion if she smiled at me. Once I bribed my brother to drop a note, a tender avowal of passion, at her father's gate, but an elder sister found it, and I was glad when we moved away from that village. That was as near as I came to marrying Rose.

My pipe had gone out, and as I relighted it a new face appears amid the smoke. It is Irene. I knew her at once, for there is no mistaking those black, lustrous eyes, that open, frank countenance nor the firm determination of that full chin. How we became sweethearts I cannot tell, but I think the fire had long smoldered and was fanned to flame when she gave me half her apple one recess. Anyway, in our boyish and girlish ways, we loved. In my mind she could do no wrong, and I still believe she never did. But she had a Celtic temper, and one day I transgressed beyond forgiveness in some way, and that is why I never married Irene.

The vision of a little southern village comes to me, and with it the remembrance of a multitude of girl friends—some fair, others only fair. Prominent among them is the face of Dollie—petite and flaxen-haired. She was the embodiment of many graces and was of a charming personality. Whatever she did she did well, and principal among her accomplishments was that of flirting—so we parted. Then there was Jessie and Dora, as unlike in their styles of beauty as is day and night, yet both were very handsome. I loved them in turn, but the disease was not deep-seated, and there was a radical cure when Nellie came. I will never forget when first I saw her. A boy friend had come to borrow my sled and told me he was going to the hill with the prettiest girl on earth. I believed his judgment faulty, yet I went to see the person he dared compare with Jessie and Dora. As I came upon the hillside a vision of loveliness was revealed, and I was fascinated. I had not thought there could be so beautiful a creature, and I stood there and froze my toes watching Albert and Nellie coasting on my sled. In after years, when I had come to manhood, I met her, and for a time was a persistent caller at her home. Her nature was as cold as the snow upon the hillside that December morning. Then there were other sweethearts, for there never was a time when I was wholly fancy free, but the retrospect reveals none who was a possible wife.

Why haven't I married? I am puffing away and honestly trying to solve the question, but one thing bothers me. Back of all these visions there has been a shadowy face, the face of a friend of all these years. It has looked at me with soft, appealing eyes, seemingly repeating Marian's question. Somehow I cannot look fairly at it, but must steal furtive glances. It is the pretty countenance of Grace. She and I were never sweethearts, and how she can be concerned in this reverie is what puzzles me. But I like to think of Grace. The other visions have vanished, and I am looking squarely at her now. She smiles, and I nod back. I remember well when she first came to our little village, a tot in short dresses, and I was 20. She was not pretty then—but such eyes! Large, lustrous, appealing—they seemed to search your very soul. I guess I liked Grace from the very first. The choicest roses in our garden were saved for her, and she was always "my little girl." As she developed she became "my little sister," the only one I had. Then I was her first "grown-up" fellow. What a sensation we caused among the brethren when we walked into church one quiet Sunday morning—she 15, I 24. I do not think either of us thought of love. Ours was the highest order of friendship; she trusted me, I honored her. And then the excursions we took together! We each loved nature, the flowers, birds, brooks, everything outdoors. How often I have spent an hour casting in the creek while Grace wove garlands of pretty flowers and ferns, or expressed compassion for the fish which gasped for life amid the damp moss which lined the basket. Ah! but we were such good friends and so carelessly happy in those days.

AS THE SMOKE SLOWLY CURLS.

But why do I remember these things now? Is it possible Grace is concerned in this? Do I know of a more womanly woman? Do I know of another who understands me so well, or who is in every way so worthy? For the life of me I cannot think of another for whom I have so high a regard. I dreamed the other night that Grace was dead; that I had stood beside the coffin and taken a silent farewell of the friend I had respected so long, and when I awoke I was sobbing, and there were tears upon the pillow. Why, confound my dumbness, I believe I have loved her all the time. Yes! I am sure of it, and tomorrow I am going south. No, I will not see Marian before I go, for Grace shall answer her question, and I hope that answer will be: "Just because he has been so foolish."—Carter's Monthly, Chicago.

Fat Folks' Goodness.

"It's a singular thing, but the commission of crime seeems confined to certain kinds of people," said Bluff, putting on an air of wisdom.

"Yes," rejoined Miggs. "That's well known. It's confined to criminals, of course."

"Certainly persons are almost sure to become criminals," continued Bluff, ignoring the interruption, "while others are never, or very rarely, found in prison."

"Because they are too lucky," murmured Miggs.

"It may seem strange, but fat men seldom commit crime. This is the assertion of criminologists."

"It doesn't seem strange at all to me," remarked the irrepressible Miggs. "Everybody knows that it is difficult for fat men to stoop to anything low."—Pearson's Magazine.

Nothing of the Sort.

The irritated father of a truant boy was filling up sundry holes in the back yard where the urchin had "prospected" for angleworms a few hours before, when a neighbor who happened to be leaning over the fence remarked, with a praiseworthy effort to say something consoling: "Well, your boy, at any rate, is a faithful disciple of Izaak Walton." "Him?" exclaimed the father, stopping to rest a moment and leaning dismally on the hoe-handle. "He ain't a disciple of anybody! All he's good fur on earth is to set on some log all day and fish!"—Youth's Companion.

Misunderstood.

A wealthy lady, living near a garrison town, sent an officer an invitation to take tea with her. The note began: "The pleasure of Capt. Armstrong's company is requested," and the answer ran accordingly: "Enlisted men Jones and Lee have been detailed to do guard duty, but the remainder of Capt. Armstrong's company accept with pleasure."—Youth's Companion.

Oil in a Whale's Tongue.

A ton of oil has been obtained from the tongue of a single whale.

ARE YOU TO LIVE IN ALASKA?

Some Requirements That Will Be Found Indispensable.

The universal article of diet in that country, depended upon and indispensable, is bread or biscuit. And to make the bread and biscuit, either in the camp or upon the trail, yeast cannot be used—it must be baking powder; and the powder manufactured by the processes of the Royal Baking Powder Company, miners and prospectors have learned, is the only one which will stand in that peculiar climate of cold and dampness and raise the bread and biscuit satisfactorily.

These facts are very important for every one proposing to go to Alaska and the Yukon country to know, for should he be persuaded by some outfitter to take one of the cheap brands of baking powder, it will cost just as much to transport it, and then when he opens it for use, after all his labor in packing it over the long and difficult route, he will find a solid caked mass or a lot of spoiled powder, with no strength and useless. Such a mistake might lead to the most serious results. Alaska is no place in which to experiment in food, or try to economize with your stomach. For use in such a climate, and under the trying and fatiguing conditions of life and labor in that country, everything must be the best and most useful, and above all it is imperative that all food supplies shall have perfect keeping qualities. It is absurd to convey over such difficult and expensive routes an article that will deteriorate in transit, or that will be found when required for use to have lost a great part of its value.

There is no better guide to follow in these matters than the advice of those who have gone through similar experience. Mr. McQuesten, who is called "the father of Alaska," after an experience of years upon the trail, in the camp, and in the use of every kind of supply, says: "We find in Alaska that the importance of a proper kind of baking powder cannot be overestimated. A miner with a can of bad baking powder is almost helpless in Alaska. We have tried all sorts, and have been obliged to settle down to use nothing but Royal. It is stronger, and carries further, but, above all things, it is the only powder that will endure the severe climatic changes of the Arctic region."

It is for the same reasons that the U. S. Government in its relief expeditions, and Peary, the famous Arctic traveler, have carried the Royal Baking Powder exclusively.

The Royal Baking Powder will not cake nor lose its strength either on board ship or in damp climates, and is the most hightly concentrated and efficient of leavening agents. Hence it is indispensable to every Alaskan outfit. It can be had of any of the trading companies in Alaska, but should the miner procure his supplies before leaving, he should resist every attempt of the outfitter to palm off upon him any of the other brands of baking powder, for they will spoil and prove the cause of great disappointment and trouble.

BIRDS EAT 400 SHEEP.

The Feast Took Place 100 Miles From Dawson and Cost $20,000.

Jack Collins, who started for Dawson City with a band of sheep last summer, has been heard from. He sold part of his flock for $20,000. The other and biggest half of the flock fed the birds of the arctic zone. This is how it happened:

He drove the sheep in over the Dalton trail. Some time before Dawson was reached cold weather came on, and Collins decided to kill his sheep. He killed and sold 300, and received nearly $20,000 for them.

Then he concluded to hold the remainder for a better market. He killed the remaining 400 in a sort of secluded place off the line of travel and suspended the carcasses on poles far enough above the ground to be out of the reach of bears, wolves or other wild animals. He left two young men to watch the mutton, and proceeded to look for a mining section. Having found one, he located a claim and proceeded to test it. After he had dug out a few thousand dollars' worth of gold he thought he would, as the French say, "return to his muttons."

His stay had been so prolonged that the young men had become weary of holding a wake over the sheep, and, imagining Dawson to be only a few miles away, had started for that city to enjoy some of the pleasures a metropolitan city can afford. It proved to be about 100 miles to Dawson, so their absence was more extended than they had inended, and when Collins reached the place where he had left the carcasses of 400 sheep he found only 400 bleaching skeletons.

The eagles, ravens, crows, kites, hawks and other birds of prey which inhabit that region had been feasting on mutton. "Where the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered," is a proverb which applies to other birds of prey. Collins had left so many carcasses that invitations had been sent out and a general round-up of all the vultures and things in that region, from Behring sea to the Mackenzie river, had taken place. Whether the claim Collins secured will make good the loss of the mutton or not remains to be seen, but when he drives in his next band of sheep the birds of prey will not get so large a percentage of them.—Portland Oregonian.

A Town Rides in This Elevator.

Probably the only elevator in the world that is used to connect two parts of a town is the one in Heligoland, the little island just off the coast of and belonging to Germany. One portion of the town is on a cliff over 200 feet high. The other is at the base of the cliff on a flat stretch of land. There are no paths up the cliff, and all communications between the two portions of this unique little place must be held by means of the elevator—an elevator that lifts an entire community to and from the scene of its daily labors.—N. Y. Journal.

From the Paris Holocaust.

The unclaimed jewels and curios, to the value of $150,000, which were found in the ruins after the fire at the charity bazar in Paris, have been sold at auction. The money realized is to remain bonded for 30 years, after which all the money unclaimed goes to the state.

The Beneficent Corset.

A paper read before the British association at Bath in praise of corsets declared that "reasonably tight" lacing increased mental and physical activity by causing a more liberal supply of blood to the brain, muscles and nerves.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

Subject to Taxation.

The different express companies doing business in this state have filed with the state auditor reports of their earnings for 1897.

The largest business reported is that of the American express company, which operates on a number of lines of railway in the state. It reports its gross receipts of $75,405.33, of which it says half is paid to the carrying railroads, leaving $37,702.68 subject to taxation.

The Northern Pacific reports that it has done $32,910.86 since June 1, paying to the Northern Pacific railroad company $15,946.77, leaving $16,964.09 for taxation. This, however, is only a partial report, arising out of a misunderstanding between the express company and the Ramsey county tax officials, who, in May last, notified the company that it had listed its effects for taxation.

The Adams company, operating on the Burlington and the St. Paul & Duluth, took in $24,711.94 and paid out $14,117.94, leaving a taxable margin of $9,406.

The Wells Fargo company, which operates only on one line, the Chicago Great Western, and which has only been in the state since April last, reports receipts of $7,098.52 and expenditures of $9,802.80, leaving nothing to tax.

The Western company, operating on the Soo, reports receipts of $12,590.62 and expenses of $10,093.48; taxable receipts, $2,497.14.

The four companies report an aggregate of net earnings of $66,569.89, on which the three per cent tax will realize $1,997.10 to the state.

The United States and Great Northern express companies have as yet failed to file reports.

By the Hypnotic Route.

If the authorities will permit it, John Moshik, who is to be hanged in Minneapolis next month for murder, will be hypnotized as he stands on the gallows. Dr. Edward H. Haas, a skillful hypnotist of St. Paul, is anxious to try the experiment.

Acting upon the suggestion that he is to stiffen all the muscles, Moshik may drop through the trap as rigid as any of the hypnotized subjects so often exhibited with head upon one chair and feet upon another. Thus the metallic muscles of his neck may prevent the rope from compressing his wind pipe and from causing him to strangle. The same muscular resistance may keep the shock of his fall from wrenching apart the vertebræ of his upper spinal column. Or, if he really does die, his death may be spiritually serene.

The execution of Moshik will take place in the large vacant space on the jail floor between the hospital and the insane wards on the Fifth street side of the building.

Acquitted.

One of the greatest libel suits ever tried in Minneapolis came to an end with a verdict of not guilty. The action was brought by the Minneapolis Trust company against the Minneapolis Times, W. E. Haskell, its manager, and John Blanchard, its editor, and was a criminal prosecution by indictment. The case was on trial two months, and the jury, after being out 24 hours, brought in a verdict of not guilty as to the defendant Haskell, which will settle all the cases. The jury, however, declared that the editorial went beyond the statements in the affidavit on which it was based.

Must Practice Economy.

W. W. Prendergast, state superintendent of public instruction, has issued a circular to county superintendents of schools informing them that the state printing commission would not authorize the printing of all matter hitherto sent to county superintendents, and suggesting that they use great economy in distributing school laws and blanks. Questions for spring and fall examinations of teachers were mentioned as one of the blanks which the commission bill disallows.

News in Brief.

The residence of C. M. Packard at Sherburne was destroyed by fire.

Some miscreant opened the switch at Island Lake, causing the special to leave the track. Engineer Hallet and Fireman Fisher both jumped, the former being internally injured and the latter badly bruised. The passenger service was only slightly delayed.

Two masked men attempted to hold up S. G. Lamott in his home in Minneapolis, but a lusty yell scared the robbers away.

John Johnson, a retired St. Paul saloonkeepor, having spent his money in a protracted spree, committed suicide by poison.

For the first time in the history of Hennepin county, a juror's fee was paid to a woman. Mrs. N. E. Parsons was summoned by mistake. The judge excused her, but she demanded her fees, and got them.

The destruction by fire of the manufacturing plant of George & Cole at Jordan, will probably result in the removal of that firm to Minneapolis.

The Allemania bank of St. Paul will reopen about March 1.

W. J. Coles, Jr., has a franchise to build a new flouring mill at Stewart.

Chas. E. Stafford fell from a box car in Minneapolis and was fatally injured.

Crookston is going to build a $6,000 steel bridge.

The spring wheat millers of Minnesota will assist their St. Louis brethren in their fight against adulterated flour, and an "Anti-adulteration League" is being formed. It is proposed to take an active part in the fight, and assist the St. Louis millers in their work for the anti-adulteration bill now before congress.

The livery stable of Thomas Kehoe, Minneapolis, with 43 head of horses, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $20,000.

Andrew Elkton, who claims to have been drugged and robbed in a Moorhead saloon, has sworn out a complaint against the owner of the place where the affair occurred.

Russell Delano, aged 7 years, was killed by an electric car in front of his home in Minneapolis. The accident occurred about 7 o'clock in the evening, but it was nearly midnight before his parents knew what had happened to their only child.

While walking on the railroad track between Moriska and Auburn, Mr. Miller, of Biwabik, lost a roll of bills containing $500.

The Winona street railway company has laid off its conductors. Fare boxes have been placed in the cars, and hereafter the motormen will have entire charge of the running.

THE MAN WHO LIVED.

He should have been dead.

But he wasn't, because——

"There's nothing succeeds like success." There is no withstanding the living argument of the man who should be dead, who isn't dead, but who would be dead, but for a preserving medicine. That's about the way it seemed to strike Editor Lawrence, of the Ohio Farmer, Cleveland, Ohio. He was afflicted with one of those colds that have, thousands of times over, culminated in consumption, when not promptly cured. In this condition he met a friend, a consumptive, whom he had not expected to see alive. The consumptive friend recommended Dr. J. C. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for the editor's cold, on the ground that it had "helped him wonderfully." It helped the editor just as wonderfully, giving "almost instant relief." But read his letter:

"About two months ago, I was afflicted with a bad cold, and, meeting a friend, he advised the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral which, he claimed, had helped him wonderfully. As he was a consumptive, whom I had not expected to see alive for several years, I concluded there must be merit in this preparation. I accordingly bought a couple of bottles, one of which I keep on my desk all the time. This is certainly the best remedy for a cold I ever used. It gives almost instant relief, and the J. C. Ayer Co. are to be congratulated on possessing the formula for such a very valuable remedy."—W. H. Lawrence, Editor, The Ohio Farmer, Cleveland, Ohio.

Keep a bottle of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral handy, on the desk, in the office, on the shelf or in the closet at home, and you will have at hand a remedy that is capable at any time of saving you suffering, money, and even life. There is no malady so prolific of evil results as a neglected cold. There is no medicine so promptly effective in curing a cold and absolutely eradicating its effects, as Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Every traveller should carry it. Every household should keep it. It cures every variety of cough, and all forms of lung and throat trouble. Asthma, bronchitis, croup, and whooping cough, are promptly cured by it, and it has in many cases overcome pulmonary diseases in aggravated forms, when all other remedies failed to help and physicians gave no hope of cure. Those who for convenience have wanted a smaller sized bottle of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, can now obtain it of their dealer in half size bottles, at half price—50 cents. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook, and read more of the cures effected by this remedy. The book contains 100 pages, and is sent free, on request, by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

An Old War-Horse of Journalism Discovers the Virtue of a New Medicinal Variety.

There are only a few of them left.

Since Chas. A. Dana's death, Joseph Medill, the war-horse of the Chicago Tribune, is the chief surviving representative of the old school of virile, aggressive editorial giants.

To have mud thrown at them was part of the profession at all times, but to find health in mud is rather a modern innovation. That is what Joseph Medill has been doing of late.

Mr. Medill is an investigator and when the stories of the miraculous Magno-Mud at Indiana Mineral Springs began to spread over the country, the great editor became interested and eventually decided to try this mysterious substance on his own rheumatic limbs and weigh its value. He was accompanied by his private physician, a young Armenian scientist of high attainments. The great editor was mud-mummified daily for several weeks and gained visibly in weight, strength and vitality.

The final result of the experiment was an unqualified success. Mr. Medill went back to Chicago in September, and wrote an editorial about Magno-Mud with his own hand. Next, he sent his son-in-law for a little of the mud-treatment. In November he went down again, and since the new bath house is completed he expects to be a regular visitor four times a year.

This mud-treatment in which Mr. Medill found so much virtue, is peculiar, yet logical. After all, every form of life springs from the earth, which is the great destroyer and assimilator of dead and effete matter. At the Indiana Mineral Springs is a beautiful little natural amphitheatre, the slopes being grown with magnificent oaks. At the foot of the converging hills, a big Lithia spring gushes forth at the rate of 3,000 barrels a day and floods the soil, which consists of a rich, black porous loam, fed by the deciduous foliage of the oak trees. This peculiar soil saturated with mineral salts for ages, is as soluble as sugar, and being devoid of clay is not sticky in the least. It is not, therefore, in any sense related to the conventional mud of the road-way, of the Chicago street or to the variety which clings to your heels.

The mud is applied to the patient on a cot, the subject being entirely encased in the substance, steamed to a proper temperature. It then acts as a poultice, stimulates the skin, superficial blood vessels and nerves, opens the pores and lithiates the blood, dissolving all uric acid deposits. Nothing can be simpler or more rational.

Up-to-Date Sociology.

Son—Papa, what is meant by the classes?

Sprocketts—Why, they're professionals and A and B amateurs—the B's really aren't amateurs at all.

"Well, and what are the masses?"

"Oh, they're the folks who pay gate money to see the races, I s'pose."—N. Y. Journal.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The coat may not make the man, but lawsuits make attorneys.—Chicago Daily News

Pres. McKinley Vs. Free Silver.

A battle of giants is going to take place this summer on 30,000 farms in America, not in talk or votes, but in yields. Salzer's new potato marvels are named as above, and he offers a price for the biggest potato yield, also $400 in gold for suitable name for his corn (17 inches long) and oat prodigies. Only seedsmen in America growing grasses, clovers and farm seeds and selling potatoes at $1.50 a barrel. The editor urges you to try Salzer's Northern-grown seeds, and to

Send This Notice with 10 Cts. in Stamps to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., for 11 new farm seed samples, worth $10.00, to get a start, and their big catalogue. K 7

How silly it makes one feel to reach out to shake hands and not be noticed by the other fellow.—Washington Democrat.

If people insist upon waiting until they lose all their hair before they make any effort toward caring for it, they can have but little hope of satisfactory results from any preparation; but those who are wise enough to give consideration to the subject before their hair falls out, may be rewarded by a renewal of its health, growth and permanency. There is a pamphlet published entitled "The Hair, Its Care and Management," which is sent free to all who are interested in the subject, by the makers of "Cocoaine"—Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass.

The young onion is a very seductive vegetable, but it invariably gives a man away.—Chicago Daily News.

A Handsome Metal Paper Cutter and Book Mark Combined

Sent free of postage under sealed cover on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps. The latest, best and most serviceable adjunct of every library and office. Address Geo. H. Heafford, 410 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Illinois.

No man was ever blamed for being a gentleman, but many have been falsely accused of it.—Chicago Daily News.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Woman's inhumanity to woman causes many men to live and die in the bachelor class.—Chicago Daily News.

Pleasant, Wholesome, Speedy, for coughs is Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

It's difficult for a man to check his creditors unless he has a bank account.—Chicago Daily News.

Piso's Cure for Consumption has saved me many a doctor's bill.—S. F. Hardy, Hopkins Place, Baltimore, Md., Dec. 2, 1894.

The man with a grievance always proves a grievance to his friends.—Chicago Daily News.

Lots of men mistake a coarse, harsh voice for a good bass voice.—Washington Democrat.

Made worse by cold. Neuralgia needs St. Jacobs Oil to cure. It cures.

Everybody has some pet adjective.—Washington Democrat.

Any ache, from toothache to backache, St. Jacobs Oil will cure.

Lots of very shiftless people get up early.—Washington Democrat.

Bad feet from frost-bites are made sound By St. Jacobs Oil. It cures.

BEWARE OF MORPHINE.

Mrs. Pinkham Asks Women to Seek Permanent Cures and Not Mere Temporary Relief From Pain.

Special forms of suffering lead many a woman to acquire the morphine habit.

One of these forms of suffering is a dull, persistent pain in the side, accompanied by heat and throbbing. There is disinclination to work, because work only increases the pain.

This is only one symptom of a chain of troubles; she has others she cannot bear to confide to her physician, for fear of an examination, the terror of all sensitive, modest women.

The physician, meantime, knows her condition, but cannot combat her shrinking terror. He yields to her supplication for something to relieve the pain. He gives her a few morphine tablets, with very grave caution as to their use. Foolish woman! She thinks morphine will help her right along; she becomes its slave!

A wise and a generous physician had such a case; he told his patient he could do nothing for her, as she was too nervous to undergo an examination. In despair, she went to visit a friend. She said to her, "Don't give yourself up; just go to the nearest druggist's and buy a bottle of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will build you up. You will begin to feel better with the first bottle." She did so, and after the fifth bottle her health was re-established. Here is her own letter about it:

"I was very miserable; was so weak that I could hardly get around the house, could not do any work without feeling tired out. My monthly periods had stopped and I was so tired and nervous all of the time. I was troubled very much with falling of the womb and bearing-down pains. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; I have taken five bottles, and think it is the best medicine I ever used. Now I can work, and feel like myself. I used to be troubled greatly with my head, but I have had no bad headaches or palpitation of the heart, womb trouble or bearing-down pains, since I commenced to take Mrs. Pinkham's medicine. I gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman. The use of one bottle will prove what it can do."—Mrs. Lucy Peasley, Derby Center, Vt.

"THRIFT IS A GOOD REVENUE."
GREAT SAVING RESULTS FROM CLEANLINESS AND SAPOLIO

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, FEB. 11, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

--Advertise in the GAZETTE.

—William Stacy and Riar Stevens, of Montrose, drove down Friday, to help supply the Delano market with some hay.

—Tomorrow, Saturday, Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday, will be a legal holiday in Minnesota; the Legislature having so made it.

—A dance at the City Hall, by Hellman and Matter, was enjoyed by some of the young people of the vicinity Wednesday night.

--The weather bureau billed snow flurries for Wednesday night and much colder Thursday. The snow flurries didn't come; the much colder didn't either. But on Thursday a good rain came down.

—Peter Peterson, who has been at Waverly most of the winter, has again taken a situation with his father Olaf, where he obligingly assists those who desire new shoes, in picking out the latest styles.

—Next month comes village election. Let us have a set of officials who will enforce the laws. If the laws are good and right they should be observed; if they are evil or wrong the sooner they are annulled the better.

--The "Beckahs" are said to be having lots of fun drilling for some kind of an entertainment in the near future. Their goat seems to have been well kept this fine winter and is more than comonly frisky for spring.

—The balmy spring air of Tuesday evening wafted sweet strains from the City Hall to the tympanums of those who chanced to be on the streets. It was the band boys together once again. Delano has the talent and the taste for the leading band in Wright county. Lets have it.

--The lecture on "the Passion Play, of Oberammergan," by Rev. Cleary, at Watertown, Tuesday evening was well received The house was full to overflowing. To say that Rev. Cleary entertained them is unnecessary. His reputation as an orator, not to mention the subject, is sufficient to warrant that. Several from Delano attended.

—We are informed that a number of the young Scandinavian people of this vicinity have organized a glee club, with Peter Peterson as leader. This insures good music for Delano entertainments whenever needed. There is abundance of material for several more glee clubs in the neighborhood. An evening in singing is well spent generally.

--It is a shame and a disgrace to a civilized country to have young men, some of them scarcely in their teens, who have been brought up in a christian country walk up to the bar of a saloon like so many pigs to a hog trough and proceed to fill up on what puts them in the gutter with the hogs, and that in direct violation of the law. If we have laws they should be obeyed.

--Notwithstanding the weather bureau's posted notice "Rain or Snow to-night and Tuesday", Tuesday was as fine a sunshiney a day as you would expect to find in Georgia, at this season of the year. Birds were preparing for spring. Buds were swelling on the trees, and Phil Martin's bees acted up so that he put about a dozen swarms out of doors, and they flew about and buzzed as if ready for business.

—We understand that Independence is to take a vote on the question of granting liquor license next month. Our informant says it will be snowed under. But those opposed to license don't want to be too sure and remain at home; they might feel awfully sorry to learn that too many were of their way of thinking and acting and that saloons were to be licensed. Whichever way you believe, it is your privilege and duty to vote whenever opportunity presents.

--The officers of the Delano Washington's Birthday Association met Tuesday and appointed the following committees to arrange for the proper celebrationg of the 22nd of February.

Reception—T. Hitzman, William Lewis, Martin Conzet.

Tables--Mrs. W. Bauman, Mrs. Chas. Eppel, Jr., Miss Amanda Sturman, Mrs. Eph Jacobs, Mrs. W. Rader, Mrs. Geo. Goodrick, Mrs. M. A. O'Hair.

Decorating Stage—C. M. Conzet.

A basket dinner will be served. Coffee will be furnished.

Everybody invited to be present.

The County Line: Had the other bid been accepted says a valued exchange, between 4,000 and 5,000 people would have been reached, "which being interpreted" means that the other bid was put in by the combine. No paper in Meeker county has a list of that size.

Brainerd Journal: The St. Paul Globe newspaper property has been bought by Geo. F. Spinney, an eastern newspaper man of recognized ability. Mr. Spinney makes the fatal mistake, however, of continuing the bastard politics heretofore advocated by the Globe. There is no such thing possible as successfully running a Democratic newspaper on Republican principles. It savors too much of the man who declared that although he was earnestly in favor of laws to prohibit the liquor traffic, he was just as earnestly opposed to their enforcement.

Personal.

C. H. Vorse and wife were over from Buffalo Sunday, seeing their grandson.

P. H. Grecar arrived home from a Sunday visit to the cities Monday morning.

John Mayer visited his family over Sunday, taking his departure for the west Monday.

Miss Arnold made a flying trip to Minneapolis Tuesday evening, returning Wednesday.

Archie Billings, of Minneapolis, came up Tuesday evening for a visit with his father O. L.

Smith Lake's enterprising lumber merchant made his customary Sunday visit with Delano friends.

Thomas F. O'Hair, of Wheaton, visited with relatives and old time friends, in Delano, last Monday.

S. S. and Oscar Ball drove to Montrose Sunday in response to a telegram that Mrs. Flanders was dead.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Schaffer attended the lecture by Rev. Cleary, at Watertown, on Tuesday evening.

Miss Florida, of Rockford, has been making regular trips via the bicycle route to Delano, giving music lessons.

Mrs. T. M. Shaw returned last week from a pleasant visit with relatives at Albert Lea, she reports Becka and Stella well.

County Cullings.

Among Jurors summened for the term of federal court at Minneapolis, March 1. Wright county is represented on the petit jury by Frank Boerner, Buffalo; J. B. Quinn, Jr., Waverly; Chris Bechtel Hanover.

Some of the Free Silver Republicans appear to be satisfied with the nomination of Joe Reems for Sheriff. May be Joe will loom up well on the home stretch after all. "Faint heart ne'er won fair lady."

Township officers have considerable to do with the holding of elections. Be out to your town election to be held next month and help elect good men, men whom you know can, and will, see fair elections held. Commence now to ensure a fair election next fall.

The republican papers have nominated and killed off most of their best men for county and legislative offices, so soon, and appear to think they have saved the proper letters for when nomination time arrives. Possibly they will find they have lost the combination.

With John Lind for Governor and C. A. Towne for Congress from the Silver Republican ranks on the ticket, it looks as if there might be a slim chance for many more of the same persuasion and an awfully cheeky thing to ask for it, on the part of those interested in the welfare of the combination of forces. Fusion means fusion. It don't mean substituting one party for another from top to bottom of the ticket.

The Eagle suggests that possibly the new post office in McLeoad county was named for Frank Lamson, the Buffalo P. M. That is an awfully far fetched little boom for her friend Frank Lamson. Don't the Old Bird remember that Chauncy Lamson shot Little Crow somewhere thereabouts, and what is more fitting than to perpetuate the memory of that eventful occasion by naming a post office after him. And then to have the old vulture tackle her talons into it at the very first opportunity and try to make political capital out of it for her friend Frank!

The County Line: Even in Europe they have some sympathy for the Cubans. But they are just as much afraid to do anything as we are on this side of the water.

Litchfield Independent: The St. Paul Globe has recently changed publishers, but not politics. It is still goldbug and low tariff. It is said to be owned by Ex-Secretary Whitney of New York.

Aitkin Age: The bosses can fix up a slate; perhaps they can nominate it, but they should remember that the people will have the last say.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET
The BUFFALO GAZETTE
—AND—
THE TWICE-A WEEK
DETROIT FREE PRESS
BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR
FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS needs no introduction. Its many special articles by noted writers have given it a world wide reputation. In short, it is one of the cleanest, brightest and best family papers published. No pains or expense will be spared in keeping up its present high standard.

Remember, that by taking advantage of this combination, you get 52 copies of the BUFFALO GAZETTE and 104 copies of THE FREE PRESS, 156 papers, for only $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE
The Free Press
YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.
Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

An accurate and superior book of Reference that tells you all you want to know. There will not be a useless page in it. A Practical Educator and Hand Book of Encyclopoedic information on subjects Statistical, Official, Historical, Political and Agricultural; likewise a book of Religious Fact, and general Practical Directions on every day affairs of Office, Home and Farm.

A copy of this book will be sent to all subscribing immediately and sending 15 cents additional for mailing expenses, making $1.65 in all.

Do not delay, but take advantage of this remarkably liberal offer which we make for a limited time only, by special arrangements with the publishers. Remember we send both papers a full year for $1.50, and you can have a copy of the book by sending 15 cents additional.

Address BUFFALO GAZETTE,
DELANO, MINN.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .86
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .83
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .79
Rye	" "	$ .87
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		10, .15
Eggs,		12
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .06
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

BORN.

STEIN.—In Franklin town, Monday, Jany. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. John Stein, a daughter.

DIED.

FLANDERS.—At Montrose, on Saturday Feb. 5, Mrs. Rhoda, wife of L. K. Flanders, aged 74.

DURFEE.—At Buffalo, Saturday, Feby. 5, Paul C. Durfee, aged 89 years.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb 4, 1898.

Although it was known a week ago that the advocates of the single gold standard were defeated, it was not supposed that they were prepared to make such an absolute acknowledgment of defeat to the country as to abandon all attempts to get gold standard legislation through the House, which is entirely dominated by Czar Reed, who is one of the boldest of the gold advocates. Such is the fact, however. Mr. Reed has decided that no financial legislation shall be put through the House at this session, and that all of his power shall be used to keep appropriations down and to bring about an early adjournment. That any bill supported by Mr. Reed could have been jammed through the House is certain, and only last week Mr. McKinley intimated in his New York speech that a financial bill would be passed by the House. From the beginning of the session that has been generally understood to be the republican program. Now it has been abandoned. Why? Because there are many Congressional districts in which the republicans are afraid to make a campaign in favor of the gold standard, and they da not dare to commit the party any further in that direction than the defeat of the Teller resolution by Czar Reed's slaves did. However, that is clear enough for those who do not wish to be deceived. As Representative Dockery, of Mo., remarked: "This clears away all the fog in the atmosphere and makes the issue for 1898 and 1900 a purely financial one. Republicans will be unable henceforth to separate themselves from the cause of the single gold standard. They are absolutely committed to it, and from it next fall there can be no escape."

There have been a number of important conferences of representatives of the three parties that supported Bryan and silver in the last campaign held in Washington during the last few days, but it is not deemed advisable to make public what object is in view, further than to say that it looks to a complete co-operation of all the silver forces in this year's Congressional campaign. To go into detail might put the other side in possession of more than it would be advisable for them to know.

Representative Allen, of Miss., ("Private John Allen, of Tupelo") has applied the well known story of the negro who baked a 'possum, went to sleep beside it, and woke up to find the 'possum gone, with the bones lying before him and 'possum grease on his fingers and lips, to republican talk of prosperity. The story makes the astonished darkey say: "Can it be possible dat I eat dat 'possum while I was asleep? It do look like I must have eat him, but 'fo' God, dat 'possum has less effect on my constitution dan any 'possum I ever eat befo'." Mr. Allen says to the republicans: "You tell us about prosperity and show figures that look like prosperity, but 'fo' God, this prosperity has less effect on my constitution than any prosperity I ever had in my life."

Senator Mason is one of the republicans—there are many more—who is not pleased with the do-nothing attitude of the administration towards Cuba. He says that it is within the power of Mr. McKinley to bring about immediate peace on the island, and that if something is not done soon he intends to offer a resolution calling upon the President to demand peace. But the offering of such a resolution, and its adoption by the Senate, would not change the present status a particle. So long as the republicans in the House stifle their opinions and vote as Czar Reed dictates it is useless for the Senate to do anything about Cuba.

In the course of one of the strongest speeches, yet made against the annexation of Hawaii, Senator White, of Cal., the new chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, took occasion to say, that he did not believe a word of the stories about the sugar trust being opposed to annexation, and to call attention to the fact that some Senators who have generally been credited with sustaining friendly relations with the sugar trust were strongly in favor of annexation. The significant occurrence connected with the resumption of the consideration of the annexation treaty by the Senate was the voting down of the motion of Senator Thurston, of Nebr., to postpone its further consideration until March 1. The motion was made by Mr. Thurston because he did not wish the treaty considered while Mr. Dole, the President of Hawaii, remained in Washington. No record vote was taken, the motion being defeated by a rising vote. Although this incident indicates that Mr. Thurston will vote against the treaty, sixty votes are claimed for it by Senator Davis. The vote is some weeks off, however, if present plans are carried out.

The latest ukase of the Czar of the House is that there shall be no River and Harbor appropriation bill at this session of congress. This has caused a lot of profanity, as it had been understood by members of the River and Harbor committee and others that a bill carrying not to exceed $12,000,000 would be allowed to pass, and the committee had practically completed such a bill.

[Pub. Jan. 28, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25, March 4, 11.]

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court, Eighteenth Judicial District, in and for the County of Wright and State of Minnesota upon a judgment rendered in said County on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1897, in an action therein, wherein the State of Minnesota was Plaintiff and Danville Mayo, Moses Mayo and John Collins were Defendants in favor of said Plaintiff and against said defendants for the sum of five hundred thirty four and 8-100 dollars (534.08) and whereas said judgment was docketed in the office of Clerk of the District Court for Wright County on the 19th day of October 1897, at 4. P. M. of that day. I did on the 25th day of January A. D. 1898 duly levy upon all right, title and interest of the within named defendants or either of them in and to the following described Real Estate situated and being in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota and described as follows to-wit:

The west half of the north east quarter of section twenty three, in township one hundred and twenty one, range twenty four.

Now therefore Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale and will sell the premises levied upon and described in the within notice to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the Village of Buffalo, in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 12th day of March, 1898, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated this 26th day of January, 1898.

JOHN C. NUGENT,
Sheriff of Wright County.

C. A. PIDGEON,
County Attorney
for Wright County.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses Position steady. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 55

Advertise in
the GAZETTE
for trade.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month: this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its various contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.,—a single number frequently containing from 250 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most Complete and Most Profusely Illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer
To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE

and

LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3 00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1 50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

If It's Worth Printing
the Twice-a-Week
Courier-Journal
Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone. 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week
Courier-Journal
And the
Buffalo Gazette
Both one year
For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the
Buffalo Gazette,
Delano,
Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING,
REPAIRING AND GENERAL
CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

—GIVE US A CALL.—
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.
Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.
Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

-AdvertisE-
GAZETTE.
ONE YEAR
$1.00

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE
popular
NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very respectfully yours,
GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES
Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.
All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.
Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
3y. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.
TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.
Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR
FINE JOB PRINTING,
IN THE LINE OF
Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads
Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand
Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line
of Printing,
CALL AT THE
Gazette Office.

CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS!
Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for
FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE
Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at
50 CENTS
From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.
Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer
The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
Capitol
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1898. NUMBER 21.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis, Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday.... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARMER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President — JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen — NICK FRANK, HENRY BOCK, ADAM HORSCH.
Recorder — L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace — W. H. FRAZEE, R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health — T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary, J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables — JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive

—of—

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO — CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, DePt. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance,..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year,..... $100.00
One-half column, one year 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

THE FLIGHT OF THE BIRDS FROM THE NESTS.

(Oregon Agriculturist and Rural Northwest.)

Does the mother-bird grieve, I wonder,
When the little birds leave the nest?
When their wings have grown strong to fly
So they feel not their need of rest.

Do the mother wings ache, I wonder,
That there are no nestlings to fold?
No twitterings under her wings,
As she tucks them away from th' cold.

I think of it, now that my birds
Are pluming their wings, too, for flight
And I pray, Oh Father, I pray,
That their lives be guided aright.

Though their wings may be strong to soar
And they fly afar from my sight,
Yet I pray, Oh Father, I pray,
Thou'lt direct my birds in their flight,

Mary P. S. Arms.

THE State Editorial Society met in Minneapolis yesterday and today.

THE Populists held a rousing meeting in Minneapolis this week. Fusionists seem to be in control.

THE verdict of acquital of Mr. Haskel, of the Minneapolis Times, sued for libel by the Minnesota Trust Company, appears to suit the people if it is not approved of by the trusts.

DOCTOR DANIEL B. COLLINS, of St. Peter, died this week. He was a prominent physician of that city; but has been in poor health for a number of years. His funeral was largely attended; many from Mankato being present.

GOV. CLOUGH is out in a letter on the Spanish Minister De Lome letter: He closes by saying: "But I am sure that there can be but one sentiment among the people of the United States in common with all others, protest against the slander." The Governor don't seem to approve of Spanish Ministers making remarks derogatory to our President.

A SPECIAL to the Dispatch claims that "Secretary Gage still delays sending to the senate a report on the St. Paul public building called for by Senator Davis away back in December." The Secretary seems to be wide enough Gage to bear the blame attached to his own office, and share with the President and even to help out Senators who fail in securing large slices of the Dingley Deficiency. How handy to have just at present.

OUR Congressman should not turn altogether a deaf ear to the protests of some of the newspapers concerning the Loud bill. Newspapers should be dealt with as leniently as possible, in reducing the expenses of the mail service. We would suggest that the plan of carrying mail to central railroad points in different states for distribution seems to necessitate the carrying of a large amount of mail long distances, and must be expensive. For instance the carrying of the mail of Wright County only 40 miles from St. Paul, to that point and return, requires at least a trip of 80 miles, wholly unnecessary, and often requiring several days delay, which a mail route by team of from four to six miles, if properly used, would save, besides ensuring prompt delivery. Let us have our old Rockford route renewed.

Attend the Primaries.

Election time comes this fall. In a short time primary elections for delegates to conventions will be held. These delegates will shape the politics of our country and have a voice in the Congressional and state conventions which will nominate candidates and make platforms. Every male citizen above 21 years of age has a vote, and it is his privilege and his duty as a citizen to use it. To cast it for men and principles, so far as possible, in harmony with his belief of what a good government "of the people, for the people and by the people" is. In order to do justice it is necessary for the voter to be posted in regard to affairs. The best way to be posted is to read the county papers, as many of them as possible on all sides; and especially the one most nearly agreeing with you in public matters; the one you consider most reliable in what it says, whether on principles or when discussing men. Make up your mind as to what you want then use every honorable means to secure it. Attend the primaries and see that they are properly conducted. Vote for the best men your precinct and party furnishes, do your own choosing. See that delegates in accord with you go to county conventions; then you will not be so apt to have a platform prepared for you that you do not agree with, nor a ticket placed in nomination which you cannot support. Let every voter do his duty like a true citizen of the United States and attend the primary elections. They do the business. They are the founts from which spring the creeks, and rivulets which flow into the mighty river that leads to the White House, at Washington. On how the primaries in counties go depends the platform. Shall it be for bimetallism or for a single gold standard? Answer at the primaries by selecting delegates to suit you.

The Maine Blown Up.

The News of the blowing up of the United States war ship Maine, in the harbor of Havanna, Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock while the men were mostly asleep, created quite an excitement on its arrival in this country. Letters from those aboard to friends in America had been giving accounts of hostile feelings manifested by the Spaniards at their presence in their harbor. It was even said that anonymous posters were circulated saying: "Down with Americans". With this int lligence abroad; the resignation of the Spanish minister De Lome, and the mysterious explosion destroying the Maine, costing nearly $3,000,000, and 260 lives of those on board, people naturally had a feeling of resentment. As yet nothing definite is known as to the cause of the fearful explosion hurling hundreds of sleepers into eternity without warning. Some claim it was an accident. If so, it is fearful to contemplate that such an accident might occur on one of the best regulated of Uncle Sam's men of war. There should be more safety than that for the defenders of our country. Others claim that the explosion was the work of a torpedo, placed under the boat by some Spaniards. Experts have been sent to make an investigation, but it is doubtful if the cause can be located to the satisfaction of a majority of the people of this country.

If Uncle Sam's big boats are to sink like the Texas, or blow up like the Maine, there seems little use to build any more. It would be more safe and less expensive to rely on wooden structures, more of them, and not so many men on one boat. It is fearful to think of so many men and so much money invested going out of existence in so short a time and that without warning.

If it turns out that there was a torpedo fired beneath the ship, or other means made use of by Spaniards to blow up the Maine, Spain will have to make amends as nearly as she can, or there may be trouble between Spain and the United States.

Look After the Harness.

While fitting the horse for his coming hard work do not neglect the harness. See that it is made strong to match the increased strength of the horse, and that it is soft and pliable. Give it a good oiling, plenty of time now to do it; see that the collar is cleaned, and be sure that it fits before the horse has to work hard in it, for may be the horse's shoulder has changed in size since last fall, and if anything is likely to need mending during the season mend it now. And while at it, see that the machinery the horses are to haul is in condition to require the least possible energy to run it. In short do everything you can to make the horse thankful that you are his master and protector.—Farm, Stock and Home.

Among Our Exchanges.

St. Peter Herald: J. A. McConnell bought and shipped twenty horses yesterday, the horses being consigned to Canada.

It begins to look as if a Republican Administration might find itself called on to carry out the declarations of the Republican platform on the Cuban question.—New York World.

Ida Greye (Iowa) Era: There are now forty-five beet sugar factories in the United States and the number will be doubled the next few years. Eight years ago there were only two beet sugar factories.

Advertise IN THE GAZETTE.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

W. Aab, New Ulm, rotary engine. J. Gilbertson, Hawley, Minn., ratchet wrench. F. Hill, Moose Lake, non-refillable bottle. J. Megins, Duluth, guard rail for berths. W. Munch, St. Paul, gluing machine. I. F. Wallace and W. L. Kellogg, St. Paul, exhaust steam lubricator and feed water heater for locomotives.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb, 11, 1898.

Hard things have been said of Mr. McKinley by the friends of Cuba on the floors of the Senate and House, but no American has said such insulting things of him as were said in a letter signed with the name of his great and good friend, Senor de Lome, Spanish Minister to the U. S., which was this week published. Not only was Mr. McKinley grossly insulted by name in this letter, but he was jeered at for allowing himself to be fooled by the farce of autonomy in Cuba and the pretence of Spain that it wishes to negotiate a reciprocity treaty that would give this country all the trade of Cuba and Porto Rica. It is doubtless because of grief that his great and good friend should have such an opinion of him that Mr. McKinley did not send de Lome his passport at once, instead of writing to have it fully proven that the letter was written and signed by de Lome, by his resignation. This letter was made public by the Cuban Junta, which has the original in its possession, and if it does not open the eyes of Mr. McKinley to the real situation, and cause him to either recognize the independence of Cuba or to intervene by force, it will convince all of the people that a great mistake was made in electing him President—About 7,000,000 are already convinced. If he acts quick, he may get some credit, but if he delays, Congress will force him to act and he will get no credit. The feeling that the time for action has come was plainly manifested in the Senate while Senators Cannon, of Utah Mason of Ill., and Allen, of Nebraska, were speaking on the Cuban resolutions which have been offered by each of them.

In order that he might meet them all and at the same time show his appreciation of their loyalty to him during the recent deadlock, Senator Gorman entertained all of the democratic members of the Maryland legislature, except two who were kept away by sickness, at a dinner in Washington this week. Not a man who attended that dinner regards Senator Gorman as out of politics.

If the democrats, the populists, and the silver republicans had not made that agreement to act together in the Congressional campaign, Representative Plowman, of Ala., would not have been ousted out of his seat in the House, by the votes of the republican majority. The republicans voted to give the seat to Aldrich, who ran as a populist candidate and was supported by republicans, not because they thought he was entitled to it, but because they thought the case could be used to divide the democrats and populists in some Congressional districts in which republicans cannot possibly win if the democratic and populists votes are cast for a single candidate.

Mr. McKinley has not forgotten to take good care of his personal friends. Another one of them, Mr. Wm. J. Calhoun, of Ill., who it will be remembered was sent to Cuba as the personal and confidential representative of Mr. McKinley, last spring, has been given a fat berth. Mr. Calhoun is to get the position on the Inter State Commerce commission vacated by the retirement of Hon. Wm. R. Morrison, the old democratic war-horse of Illinois. A Pennsylvania man was slated for this position, but so many vigorous protests were received from labor organization that Mr. McKinley was afraid to appoint him.

Boss Hanna is again asserting his power. He kept very quiet for awhile after he returned from his late Ohio shopping expedition but he this week compelled Mr. McKinley to carry out the terms of a bargain made at the St. Louis convention, in the face of protests not only from the people of the city directly interested and the entire Georgia delegation in congress, but from members of his own Cabinet. This bargain has brought about the nomination of J. H. Devaux, a negro politician who helped Hanna control the Georgia delegation to the St. Louis convention, to be Collector of Customs at Savannah, Ga. The excuse given by Mr. McKinley to Representative Lester, of Ga., who called at the White House to make a personal protest in the name of every merchant who does business with the Savannah custom House against the nomination of a negro to be collector, was not calculated to add to the respect for him by the white people of Georgia, or of any other state. He said in effect that instead of kicking, the white people of Georgia ought to thank him, because he had not appointed negro post masters at Savannah and Augusta, as he had at one time intended to do. The democrats may not succeed in preventing the confirmation of this negro's nomination by the Senate, but there is consolation in the knowledge that every negro put in an office of this sort makes additional democratic votes.

Representative Dingley should give Senator Hale, of his State, a little coaching on "prosperity". When Mr. Hale was attempting, as usual, to defend Spain when it had been attacked by other Senators, he incidentally mentioned that there were a million idle men in the U. S. Now, surely no sane man would call a country the size of the U. S. prosperous while a million men are idle.

What To Eat For March.

"What To Eat" now comes forward with a proposition to give a three months' course in College to any one sending in four yearly subscribers at $1 00 each. Full particulars given on request. 10 cents a copy. $1.00 a year. Ask at the News Stands, or Address, What To Eat, Minneapolis, Minn.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO. Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

BY HON. B. F. CHRISTLIEB.

Mr. Editor: The GAZETTE reaches me regularly and is a welcome visitor in this far away land. It contains tidings concerning my old acquaintances, friends, in Hennepin, Wright, and Carver counties and other parts of Minnesota, and of those, like myself, who have migrated from those localities to other parts of the world. It gives local events and discusses questions of local, state, and national import, in a straight forward and candid manner, without fear or favor.

I was much gratified to learn something from friend Hoisington in his own "dialect," of his trip and experience in the "Further West" and if I construe his letter correctly he did not find in his travels a duplicate of The Big Woods of Minnesota as he first saw them in the Fifties.

I continue to be interested in the letters of the Independence farmer. They give the world to understand that he is still independent in his political views, and am likewise gratified to learn something of the pioneers of the country surrounding Delano, in Hennepin, Wright and Carver counties, amongst whom I can name the venerable Martin Conzet and wife, J. D. Young and wife, A. G. Sexton, A. Hohenstein, the Guptil brothers and families, John O'Meara, and am sorry to learn of the latters serious illness, John Williams, C. R. Carleton, E. E. Brandon, the Sturmans, the Raders, Peter Nicholas. E. Miller, and the Beckers, of Loretto, Joseph and Anthony Merz, of Ditter, J. O. Hamel, of Hamel, Maurice Luby, the Kohnens, the Reisers, the Wolsfelds, the Scherers, the Friesses, Jacob Spurzem, Jerry Hannen, of Medina. Also I was gratified to learn that C. O. Teas had taken on him the title and labors of "Ye Editor". Success to you Charley!

On the 17th of last month, I had the pleasure of receiving a visit from my townspeople and pioneers of Long Lake, namely Dayid A. Lydiard and wife, who are now visiting different points in California.

This winter in California, up to date has not been one of its ideal winters. With the exception of a warm period about the beginning of the year, December and January was persistently cold. I saw an item in the published weather reports alluding to the northeasterly trade winds in the Pacific ocean as having a northerly slant, which was applicable to the winds on this part of the Pacific coast, excepting that there was no slant; they came directly from the North through snow clad mountains and were correspondingly cold and disagreeable as compared with our usual balmy ocean breezes which the northerly winds held at bay on the briny deep; so the Minnesotan anxious to escape a rigorous northern winter has not missed much by remaining at home instead of coming to California this winter, for it seems that Minnesota is now having one of its mild winters, and I congratulate my old friend Dr. A. Wright on remaining quietly by his Minnesota fireside instead of making the trip to California. February has set in with warmer weather and likely our coldest period is past. Amongst people here, there are misgivings as to the water supply, for up to date less that one half of the usual rainfall has taken place, and at the end of the next six weeks the rain period will have passed. It most seriously affects grain crops, which are sown and raised during the rainy season and may possibly limit the supply for irrigation purposes, which is obtained from springs and streams in the mountains and from artesian wells, but these mountains being so massive, it is to be hoped that one years drought may not seriously affect the amount absorbed and stored within them.

Monrovia, Cal., Feb. 5, 1898.

FROM THE EVERGREEN STATE.

Not So Rosy As It Might Be. Frozen Ground In January. Good Place for Healthy People.

Tubercolosis and Old Age Maine Causes of Death. Business Booming.

FROM REV. JACK L. PARMETER.

EVERSON, Wash., Feb. 1st 1898.

Editor BUFFALO GAZETTE,

Dear Brother: Noticing several references in the GAZETTE to this climate (Pacific Northwest) recently, and of course the "Evergreen State" is always referred to as a land of flowers, "roses in bloom" in mid winter, etc. If you care to give me space I will perhaps correct some erroneous conceptions people have in Minnesota, with regard to this good land. Washington is a most delightful place for healthy people to live in, and some who come here seeking health sometimes find it, but people with weak lungs would do better in a dryer clime.

In six years of sojourn here, fully 80 per cent of the deaths which have occured under observation (baring old age) have been from tuberculosis. The year '97 has been, as a whole, a good year, crops abundant, our share of sunshine and general prosperity. But we haven't been in the tropics all the time. Recently (in Jan.) the ground was frozen so hard that "loggers" wished "it would stay that way for awhile" and the ground was covered with snow for several days in the valleys. The hills are covered with plenty of snow all winter about 7 miles from the Woolsrack valley. People must have good snug "root-houses" or loose their vegetables here in winter. House plants are in danger of freezing many times through the so called "wet season".

There is a great deal of sickness here, like other places. We have had a scourge of "grip" or something worse (this winter) through this part of Whatcom Co. which has led to the common remark, "Everybody seems to be sick."

I do not write this as a "crank" nor a "croaker" but when people put this climate down as without "drawbacks" and all roses in winter, it is a mistake which needs correcting. The Evergreen state is "not all roses" nor al "balmy summer days".

We like this climate and it will probably be our permanent home, and we recommend it as having many advantages over such a climate as Minnesota, but let people who contemplate coming to Washington, expect to meet the same draw backs (perhaps in lesser degree) other climates are afflicted with, and also that it takes brains, muscle, and perseverances, to make a living here, in about the same ratio as other places. I am proud of Whatcom county as a place of industry; shingle mills in almost every direction. Wood and logging camps are numerous. Churches and school houses abound. Several rail roads run through the county. There are (reputed) rich gold mines which will be opened this spring, called Mt. Baker mines. I believe news papers flourish in nearly every little town, and all kinds of stores seem to be doing well. Ranching is good business here. Stock of all kinds do well, and the city of New Whatcom (easily reached by our plank roads) is a good market for all the products of a first class farm or ranch. Fruit is very abundant.

My letter is much longer than I intended, Dr will close. Success to the GAZETTE and all our friends, our regards. J. L. PARMETER.

EARL HOISINGTON WRITES.

Candidate for Congress. Has a Scheme.

Earl Hoisington, who with his wife is spending the winter in Washington, evidently wishes when he reads of our fine winter, that he was safe at home in Independence, among the Gophers. He writes to friend McGary that "we are all well as usual, and hope these few lines will find you and your family in as good or better condition. My sojourn here has been very pleasant except the weather, which has been a series of fog, rain, snow and sleet, badly mixed, does not agree with your humble servant very well; but as I have nothing else to do but eat, drink, and sleep, and take care of my corporation, I get along very well. I see by your letter that I have made a bad mistake in coming here this winter and loosing all that beautiful sunshine you have been having in Minnesota since I left there. Well mistakes happen to us all more or less, and we are all as liable to err as the sparks are to fly upwards. It would have been certainly a great pleasure to have been there this winter, out of doors, a half mile off on top of the fence and talked politics all day with people, as you know I have great lungs and I love to use them to the best advantage and my pleasure. I am cooped up in this town and can't get out into the country as yet. But Mary says I have talked so much and loud here, I have bursted my shirt collar open, and now I will have to get along without a collar. Well let her bust. I am going to waggle my tongue and lift up my stentorian voice while I live, in behalf of the downtrodden, degraded slaves of humanity, sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish".

He says he attended G. A. R. installation of officers. Notwithstanding a few drawbacks he seems to be having a good time generally. Among many other things he writes:

"Well comrade, I am going back to Minnesota as soon as spring opens up things there, and set my face as a flint to work for my country. I am going to offer myself to the people of Minnesota as a candidate to Congress and if I can prevail on the people to endorse me and send me to Congress, I will set forth when there, the best scheme for the welfare of this country that has ever been presented by any man in Congress. My policy will be as follows: I will present a bill to have all the property of the United States stamped the same as gold and silver, so that every one will know the value of all property, so no one can take the advantage of another, because I think it is just as reasonable to have what I dig out on my farm in any way as for our government to stamp what is dug out of a gold or silver mine. All of our products come out of the earth, and mind you the stamp of our government is of great intrinsic value.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

Advertise in the GAZETTE.

Latest News

The terrible explosion and loss of the United States war ship Maine is yet a mystery.

Mrs. Dr. Chauncy Hobart, president of the W. C. T. U. of the state of Minnesota, died at Red Wing, Feb. 15. Age 72.

Miss Frances Willard head of the W. C. T. U. of the United States, died Feb. 18, at New York, aged 59.

THE

New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.

A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.

A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year. Send for sample; agents wanted.

Published weekly by the Silver Knight Publishing Co., WASHINGTON, D. C.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET

The BUFFALO GAZETTE

—AND—

THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS

BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR

FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS needs no introduction. Its many special articles by noted writers have given it a world wide reputation. In short, it is one of the cleanest, brightest and best family papers published. No pains or expense will be spared in keeping up its present high standard.

Remember, that by taking advantage of this combination, you get 52 copies of the BUFFALO GAZETTE and 104 copies of THE FREE PRESS, 156 papers, for only $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE

The Free Press

YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

An accurate and superior book of Reference that tells you all you want to know. There will not be a useless page in it. A Practical Educator and Hand Book of Encyclopoedic information on subjects Statistical, Official, Historical, Political and Agricultural; likewise a book of Religious Fact, and general Practical Directions on every day affairs of Office, Home and Farm.

A copy of this book will be sent to all subscribing immediately and sending 15 cents additional for mailing expenses, making $1.65 in all.

Do not delay, but take advantage of this remarkably liberal offer which we make for a limited time only, by special arrangements with the publishers. Remember we send both papers a full year for $1.50, and you can have a copy of the book by sending 15 cents additional.

Address BUFFALO GAZETTE, DELANO, MINN.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

FEBRUARY—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	....	....	....	....	....

The catacombs of Rome are to be lighted with American electricity, the contract for the same having been just let.

If you have any doubt as to the pronunciation of that Chinese port just turn it off in a convenient sneeze—Kiao-Chou!

Since the scientists have failed to locate the north pole by any other kind of expedition, a Baltimore genius now proposes to dive for it.

The Boston Advertiser wonders at the misfit of referring "the anti-scalping bill" in congress to the committee of interstate commerce, instead of "to the committee on Indian affairs."

It is thought that the purchase of 10,000,000 pounds of smokeless powder will enable Uncle Sam to maintain chummy relations with foreign nations in social affairs for several days to come.

The mortality in the Cuban city of Santa Clara last year is reported at 6,981, or considerably over one-half of the total population. History has few examples of such deadly suffering.

Gov. John R. Rogers, of Washington, in a recent address in Tacoma summed up what he termed his faith thus: "Life is a struggle; a school; a test of fitness. No struggle, no school; no school, no fitness; no fitness, no future."

In eight years the number of beet-sugar factories in this country has increased from two to forty-five. The New York agricultural college says that in 24 counties in that state sugar beets would be the most profitable crop.

Many do not know that Italy stands second to Great Britain in the length of its sea coast line which it has to defend. Great Britain has 2,755 miles of sea coast. Italy, 2,472 miles; then follows Russia, third, and France, fourth, among the nations of Europe.

Congress has been requested to do something to relieve the disabilities of a Kansas man who deserted from the union army during the war, deserted one political party for another in 1894, deserted his own fireside with a neighbor's wife later on, and eventually deserted the state on the darkest night and best horse he could find.

The British war in India is more than a dress parade. All the red is not in the dye of the coat fabric. The ravines of the frontier are as undesirable fighting ground for army columns as were the lava beds when the Indians of the American plains took to the warpath. And the officers are killed as well as the privates. It is grand to have an empire on which the sun never sets, but it means a long skirmish line.

The Indian is not poor, but, like the poor, he is always with us and is always costing us money. In fact, the redman, though steadily diminishing in number, is constantly growing more expensive. In 1870 there were 300,000 Indians in the country. In 1890 there were only 249,273. To-day there are hardly 230,000. Seventeen years ago—in 1881—the Indian appropriations were $4,535,538. Nine years ago, in 1889, they were $5,401,3330. For 1898 they are to be $7,527,204.

In these latter days of the nineteenth century one must hardly allow himself to be carried away by excitement over some new invention or some new discovery in the scientific world. In fact, what a few decades ago would have been chronicled as phenomenal or beyond belief is now taken as quite a matter of fact. The latest invention is a machine made by Prof. Trowbridge, of Cambridge, Mass., to measure the force of lightning. He says it requires 1,000,000,000 volts to produce a one-mile flash.

Electricity is silently stealing its way along the railroad tracks. The electric line has the call for short distances and for light service electricians are at work on the long-distance problem. The Railway Age, in its summary of railway building for last year, says: "In New England steam railway construction continues practically suspended, as has been the case for several years, only 33 miles being added in the six states. On the other hand, a surprising number of electric lines have been built; and this is true also of every other state."

In Kentucky and Illinois, factories are in operation separating the pith from the outer covering of the cornstalks. This pith is worth several hundred dollars a ton and is largely used as packing in the construction of steel war ships and for several commercial purposes. The industry is an entirely new one, and is destined to give thousands of men employment. Thus, notwithstanding great inventions in labor-saving machinery, there are always in development new industries opening new opportunities for the employment of labor.

The business man does not waste much time in denouncing intoxicants, and none in threatening those who indulge in them with prison; he simply says, "if you drink you cannot work for me." This ultimatum has now been formulated by most of the great railways, other corporations are repeating it, and private employers, commercial and professional, are fast joining in the enforcement of this great boycott against drunkards. The effects of the movement are to be seen in every line of industry. This sort of "prohibition" prohibits.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

Cuban debate consumed the whole day in the United States senate on the 9th, speeches being made by Messrs. Cannon, Mason and Hale. The Aldrich-Plowman contested election case from the Fourth Alabama district was settled in the house by the passage of a resolution declaring Mr. Aldrich (rep.) entitled to the seat. A special deficiency appropriation bill was passed carrying $200,000 for the payment of jurors' fees in the United States courts and $175,000 for witness fees.

William Booth, of London, England, founder of the Salvation Army, officiated as chaplain at the opening of the session of the United States senate on the 10th. The Indian appropriation bill was the only measure discussed. In the house the entire session was consumed in filibustering against two bills of minor importance. Adjourned to Monday.

The Indian appropriation bill was passed in the United States senate on the 11th after being amended so as to restore the free homestead law so far as it relates to Indian lands ceded to the United States, for which lands the settlers have been obliged to pay the purchase price paid to the Indians. The bill carries appropriations aggregating nearly $8,000,000. Adjourned until Monday. The house was not in session.

FROM WASHINGTON.

For his vulgar criticisms of President McKinley in a letter written to Senor Canalejas the state department has demanded the recall of Enrique Dupuy de Lome, the minister of Spain.

The first week in May the national congress of mothers will hold its second convention in Washington.

On the 12th the eighty-ninth birthday of Abraham Lincoln was very generally observed throughout the country.

THE EAST.

During the week ended on the 11th the exchanges at the leading clearing houses in the United States aggregated $1,434,975,984, against $1,470,300,828 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 52.0.

Fire destroyed Levi P. Morton's seven-story office building in New York, the loss being $500,000.

The death of Rev. William C. Cattell, D. D., aged 71 years, for 20 years president of Lafayette college, occurred in Philadelphia.

A resolution was adopted by the New York legislature censuring United States Senator Murphy for his vote on the Teller financial resolution.

Because the council refused to confirm his appointment Henry Cline, chief of police of McKeesport, Pa., committed suicide.

At the age of 74 years David W. Ramsdell, who gained fame by the discovery in 1861 of "Norway oats," died in South Royalton, Vt.

A newspaper train went from New York to Buffalo, 425 miles, in 426 minutes, over the Erie railroad.

Three days out from Rotterdam the Holland-American steamer Veendam foundered at sea and the passengers and crew to the number of 212 souls were rescued by the crew of the American liner St. Louis.

By the present plans of labor leaders a demand for the eight-hour day will be made on May 1 next that will involve fully 1,000,000 men.

WEST AND SOUTH.

At the annual meeting in St. Louis Isaac S. Potter was elected president of the League of American Wheelmen.

At Nowata, Kan., John Wilson, city marshal, was killed by Thomas Dwyer, a whisky peddler, and the latter died soon after from wounds received during the encounter.

While attempting to cross Chilkat pass in Alaska five men were frozen to death at the summit.

Trains collided near Green Bay, Wis. Conductor Charles Anderson, of Menominee, Mich., and Brakeman Tews, of Green Bay, were killed.

For the murder on July 27 last of Dollie Briscoe, his 18-months-old babe, James Mingle was hanged at the county jail in Springfield, Ill.

The leading citizens of Skaguay and Taiya ask the war department to declare martial law in those places because of lawlessness.

In session in St. Louis the national assembly of the League of American Wheelmen went on record as opposed to Sunday racing.

Mrs. Crowe and her daughter were killed by officers while resisting arrest at Esculopia, Ky.

At Persia, Ia., Michael Seipel killed Ida J. Seipel, from whom he was divorced, and then killed himself.

Judge Thornell declared in the district court at Council Bluffs the Iowa collateral inheritance tax law unconstitutional.

At Seattle, Wash., H. C. Boltony was shot and killed by Andrew Annen, his business partner, who afterwards killed himself. A quarrel was the cause.

Mrs. Matilda J. Ballinger died in Bethel, Ill., aged 100 years and 8 months.

The attorney-general of Missouri says it is unlawful for a teacher to require pupils to repeat the Lord's Prayer in the public schools of the state.

Emanuel Naimo, Peter Biazza and Michael Sadia were killed in the Newport mine at Ironwood, Mich., by an explosion of giant powder.

Miss Mollie Vincent shot her lover, Taylor Wyatt, and then committed suicide at Gate City, Va.

In the vicinity of Siloam Springs, in Howell county, Mo., gold in paying quantities has been found.

Fire destroyed the Hoyt building in Cleveland, occupied principally by manufacturers of clothing, the loss being $375,000.

Judge Denny lowered the two-mile racing record for running horses at Oakland, Cal., making the distance in 3:26½.

The death of Thomas W. Woollen, formerly attorney-general of Indiana, occurred at his home in Franklin.

George B. MacFarlane, justice of the supreme court of Missouri, died in St. Louis, aged 61 years.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Spain's cabinet has accepted the resignation of United States Minister De Lome.

The South African republic has re-elected Paul Kruger president.

At Palermo the Austrian bark Mattea was wrecked and the captain and six of the crew were drowned.

China has been notified by Japan that she intends to keep the port of Wei-Hai-Wei permanently.

The German, Oscar Salinger, who killed President Barrios, of Guatemala, has been shot. Gen. Morales, formerly secretary of war, has been declared president.

The yacht Buccanneer, which took Julian Hawthorne to Havana for a New York paper, has been seized by the Spanish in the harbor.

At Hull, England, the steamer Marabelle was sunk in a collision with the British war ship Galatea, and 40 valuable race horses were lost.

In the Pembina mountains, near the international boundary, in southern Manitoba, quartz gold has been found.

This year Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his succession to the crown and he has decided to signalize the event by resigning in favor of his eldest nephew.

The famous French novelist, Ferdinande Fabre, died in Paris.

Throughout Guatemala anarchy reigns as the result of the assassination of President Barrios.

LATER NEWS.

The suspected filibusterer Dauntless succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the government officials at Savanah and has passed out of the harbor to sea. The Dauntless is said to have a cargo of arms, ammunition and other supplies intended for the Cuban insurgents.

Three men were instantly killed and two seriously injured by accidents in elevators in one day in New York City. One of the injured will die.

The United States government lost three anti-trust suits in the United States district court of appeals at St. Louis, Mo. The suits were brought by United States Attorney Judd, of Utah, against F. H. Moore, D. G. Sharp and E. L. Carpenter.

David W. Ramsdell, who discovered the "Norway Oat," amassed a fortune and spent $3,000,000 advertising, died at South Royalton, Vt., comparatively poor.

At a meeting of the Spanish cabinet it was decided to publish a decree accepting the resignation of Senor Dupuy De Lome as minister at Washington and appointing Senor Louis Polo Bernabe as his successor.

Timothy Hogan, who has eluded the officers for a long time, was arrested at Westerville, O., for tampering with mail boxes. A large number of mail keys and letters were found with him.

It is known on high authority that the real reason for sending the United States torpedo boat Cushing to Havana was that the Spainish authorities have been tampering with mail sent to the battleship Maine in Havana harbor.

Mrs. Norman Selby has sued her husband, Kid McCoy, the prize fighter for divorce.

Advices from Port Said report that the British battleship Victorious, which sailed from Malta Feb. 11 for China, went ashore while entering that port.

The south wall of the Union Storage Co. building, which burned at Pittsburg, Pa., a few days ago, fell the 15th. Five boys who were playing about the ruins were caught and buried under the debris.

A severe blizzard swept the coast of Alaska, from the head of Lynn canal to Fort Wrangel, at least 20 persons are reported lost.

A number of men, estimated at between 20 and 30, who were fishing through the ice on Lake Erie near Cleveland, O., were blown out into the lake and drowned.

In the presence of 4,000 spectators, George Washington Edwards, colored, was hanged at Senatoria, Kas., for the murder of Roxie Williams, committed in July, 1896.

A special from Madrid says the populace of that city is greatly enraged owing to the belief that the Spanish cabinet has apologized to the United States. The populace, the dispatch adds, is bitterly opposed to such a course and exceedingly hostile to the government and may make a demonstration.

The house passed a bill to amend the navigation laws of the United States.

Luther G. Billings, pay director in the United States navy, has been found guilty by a courtmartial which has been in session at the Washington navy yard for the past few days, of falsehood and scandalous conduct has been sentenced to dismissal from the navy. The result of the trial caused the greatest surprise in naval circles.

By a vote of 50 to 47, the lower branch of the Iowa legislature defeated the resolution to submit a constitutional amendment for woman suffrage to the people. The vote was one short of a constitutional majority.

The National City Bank of Boston, Mass., has gone into voluntary liqidation.

The thirteen-months-old babe of Ira Painter, of Verndale, Minn., fell head first into a basin of concentrated lye and was killed.

Another rich gold strike is reported as having been made in Trinity county, Cal., by the Graves Bros. The new pocket is said to be worth $60,000. It will be remembered that a rich strike by the Graves brothers caused a rush to that locality last summer.

The municipal election at Pittsburg, Pa., resulted in a victory for the republicans, notwithstanding a division in the ranks.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, Feb. 15.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 96 to 96½c. No. 2 northern, 92½ to 93c; May, 94⅝c.
Corn—No. 3, 26c.
Oats—No. 3 white, 23 to 23½.
Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.85; cows,
Hogs—$3.35 to 3.65,
Sheep—Muttons, $3.10 to 4.50; lambs, $4.25.
Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c; spring chickens, 7 to 8c.
Butter—Creamery, extras, 19 to 20c; creamery, firsts, 18 to 19c; dairy, fancy, 16 to 17c; dairy, choice, 14 to 15c.

THAT DE LOME LETTER.

Story of Its Theft as Told on High Authority.

Original Copy Falls Into the Hands of the Cuban Junta in New York, Is Published and De Lome's Downfall Effected.

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—The Press prints what it asserts to be the true version of the acquisition and publication of the letter from Mr. De Lome to Senor Canalejas. The authority cited for its authenticity is "a Cuban of the highest standing in the councils of his party" who receives his information "from headquarters in New York." The story proceeds to say:

"The letter was not stolen from the United States mails, but was secured by an agent of the Cuban junta at the post office at Havana. Don Jose Canaleas, to whom the letter was addressed, never saw the original. He did not know until eight days after the letter reached Havana that such a letter from Spain's representative in Washington had been written him. De Lome wrote the letter in his private residence in Washington, instead of at the Spanish legation. The paper, however, was marked with the official type and read in the corner 'Legation de Espana.' The same inscription was upon the left-hand upper corner of the envelope. Senor de Lome did not mail the letter from his house. In fact, he had not quite completed it upon the morning it was written, and carried it to the legation, where it was first seen and noticed by a person who is in the employ of the embassy, acting in a subofficial capacity. The letter lay upon the desk of the minister in his inner office, the outer office being his place of reception of visitors. During an absence of half an hour from the inner office of De Lome the clerk in question saw the open letter and read some of it.

Notified His Friends.

"The next day this same person sent word to his Cuban associates in Washington to the effect that he had seen a letter from De Lome to Canalejas, in which President McKinley was vilified and autonomy called a scheme. Several of the Cuban leaders got together and asked the employe of the embassy to secure the letter. They did not believe implicitly in his story, although he urged them to come into the public print and make charges against De Lome. Because they did not have the letter in their possession, the leaders refused to say anything about it. The employe of the legation was urged to use all means in his power to secure the letter, although it was considered probable that the letter was already in the mails when the Cubans at the Hotel Raleigh were informed of its existence.

On the Alert.

"The clerk in the employ of Minister De Lome saw no more of the letter. His memory-written abstracts were forwarded to New York, and it was quickly agreed that could possession of the letter be obtained and his statement proven to be true, the letter would be of incalculable value to the Cuban cause, as substantiating what Cuban leaders had maintained regarding autonomy and the general Spanish policy, in official circles, toward this country and its officers. Immediately words of warning and urgings to be on the alert were sent to every Cuban who might be in a position to obtain track of or intercept the much-sought-for missive.

Stolen at Havana.

"The letter reached Havana five days after its postmark in Washington. An agent of the Cuban party who is an employe of the Spanish post office knew that the letter was on the way, and when it came into his hands it was carried from the post office, and a copy was made of it. Word to this effect was sent to the Cuban leader in Jacksonville, Fla., who at once asked the secret Cuban junta in Havana to secure the original letter—that a copy was not what was desired. The Havana post office clerk was not willing to do this at first, but afterwards consented, as he was obliged to account for a certain number of letters to other employes of the department. The original was then taken, several blank sheets were substituted in place of the paper upon which De Lome had written, and the letter finally postmarked in the Havana office, and sent on its way.

"Eight days from its arrival in the Havana office, the sealed envelope, properly addressed to Senor Canalejas, was delivered at the Hotel Inglaterra. Senor Canalejas communicated almost immediately with Minister de Lome, and for several weeks letters and cablegrams passed between the two, but no trace of the letter could be obtained. Canalejas shortly thereafter left Havana, going to Madrid.

"It is not explained why the letter was kept by the Cubans for several weeks before it was given out for publication. An informant, other than the person who gave the foregoing, but who is on the inside in Cuban official circles, declares that the delay was occasioned by a desire on the part of the junta to be assured absolutely that the writing was that of the Spanish minister, so that he might not have any chance to deny its authorship, and thus cause a reaction, which undoubtedly would have been the result of the propagation of a fake."

Decision of Spanish Cabinet.

Madrid, Feb. 15.—The cabinet met at five o'clock Monday afternoon and discussed the present state of the war in Cuba and the De Lome matter at great length. It was decided to publish a decree accepting the resignation of Senor Dupuy De Lome as minister at Washington and appointing Senor Louis Polo Bernabe as his successor.

The note from Minister Woodford demanded that Spain should formally disavow the insults to President McKinley contained in Senor Dupuy De Lome's letter to Senor Canalejas.

Further Apology Refused.

The cabinet council, it is reported, decided unanimously to reply to Minister Woodford that Senor De Lome's spontaneous resignation and the terms of the decree accepting it were considered sufficient satisfaction. It is understood that Minister Woodford received this intimation and dispatched a long cipher telegram to Washington.

Cabinet Aggrieved.

One of the ministers present said at the close of the council:

"You may say openly, as coming from Senor Sagasta, and from each of us, that we entirely condemn, in the most absolute manner, Senor De Lome's letter. We are ashamed, grieved and sorry thereat. The ministers feel more aggrieved than President McKinley can possibly be. We are honest men, who have been placed in a false position by a fool."

Francis Joseph to Abdicate.

Vienna, Feb. 12.—Emperor Francis Joseph will celebrate this year the fiftieth anniversary of his succession to the crown. He has decided to signalize the event by resigning in favor of his eldest nephew, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, who is now entirely restored to health. This news, circulating here in court circles, is confirmed by the emperor's relatives and by the dignitaries of his household, who declare that he is tired out by the cares and worries of governing. It will not be a complete abdication, as he will retain the title of emperor and possession of the crown.

Makes List of Dead Eighteen.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 14.—Seven bodies were taken from the ruins of Wednesday night's fire Saturday. Six were identified as follows: William Finch, George Nueman, William Doran, Prof. James Moxon, David B. Wickerly, D. A. Geary. All the bodies were terribly bruised and mangled and were found lying close together, and the body of Doran was found lying across that of Prof. Moxon. The finding of the seven bodies makes the number of the known victims 18, and there is no doubt that others will be found as the search for the dead progresses.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

It Is Appropriately Observed in a Number of Cities.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—The banquet of the Marquette club on Saturday evening was the leading event in this city in honor of Lincoln's eighty-ninth birthday. More than 1,200 persons listened to the addresses of ex-President Harrison, Justice David J. Brewer, Secretary Gage, Bishop Potter and the other distinguished guests.

Boston, Feb. 14.—The Middlesex club, of Massachusetts, on Saturday observed Lincoln's birthday with a great banquet at Young's hotel. Two hundred and fifty of the leading republicans of the state and New England were present. The principal speakers were ex-Gov. J. Q. A. Brackett, Lieut. Gov. T. L. Woodruff, of New York; Gen. Benjamin F. Tracy, of New York; Congressman C. B. Landis, of Indiana, and Gov. Hastings, of Pennsylvania.

New York, Feb. 14.—For the third time the birthday of Abraham Lincoln was celebrated in this city Saturday as a public holiday. All banks and public institutions were closed, as were also the majority of stores. The chief event of the day was the annual Lincoln dinner, at the Republican club, which was presided over by Chauncey M. Depew, who, with Congressman Charles A. Boutelle, Assistant Secrefary of the Navy Roosevelt and others, spoke. Senator John M. Thurston addressed the Union League club, of Brooklyn, at night.

New York, Feb. 14.—Addison F. Andrews, son of the late Rufus A. Andrews, who was surveyor of the port of New York under Abraham Lincoln, on Saturday presented to the New York Press club the pen with which Abraham Lincoln signed the proclamation of emancipation. This pen was given to Rufus F. Andrews by Mrs. Lincoln shortly after the president's death, when she was distributing personal mementoes to the various intimate friends of the president and it has never been out of the possession of the family of Mr. Andrews.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 14.—In Minnesota, which first of all the states legislated Lincoln's birthday into a legal holiday, Saturday was generally observed, banks and public offices being closed all day and general business much curtailed.

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

Scope of the Annual Report of the Commission.

Washinton, Feb. 15.—The annual report of the civil service commission for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1897, has been presented to the president. It begins with a statement to show that after an experience of nearly 15 years, the hopes of the advocates of the civil service law have been largely realized. In practice the law has proved to be a constantly exerted and effective force in the direction of economy.

Considering the few changes in the service under the merit system and the wholesale removals under the patronage system, the economy and efficiency of the one stand in striking contrast to the extravagance and inefficiency of the other.

The whole number of positions examined during the year was 49,145, of whom 28,593 passed. The number of appointments was 4,136. The commission, the report says, has been steadily making its examination more practical.

The report speaks highly of the promotion system based on the efficiency record. This has been especially indorsed by the navy department in the work in the yards. On the other hand the commission deprecates the proposition of limited tenure of government office, pointing out that it would not only impair the efficiency of the service, but open the door for political influence.

The commission recommends that the operation of the civil service law be extended to include all positions to which the civil service rules can be applied with advantage to the service. It believes that the best interests of the service require that the civil service rules be extended to include the municipal service of the District of Columbia, the force in the congressional library and the clerical force of the next census.

Remembers Its Dead.

Gloucester, Mass., Feb. 14.—Gloucester's annual tribute to lost fishermen was made Sunday. The annual memorial serivce under the auspices of the Gloucester Fishermen's institute was held in the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon before a large audience, many of whom were relatives and friends of lost fishermen. Practically all of the clergy of the city were present and participated in the services, which opened with select Scripture sentences by the chaplain of the institute. The memorial list, which was read, shows that 96 fishermen lost their lives during 1897, their average age being 31 years. There are 17 widows and 45 children left to mourn their loss. A large percentage of the unfortunate fishermen were natives of the British provinces.

To Demand Eight-Hour Day.

New York, Feb. 14.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has been in this city for several days to get the unions of this city to enter into a movement for an eight-hour day. According to the present plans of labor leaders a demand for the eight-hour day will be made on May 1 next that will involve fully 1,000,000 men. The American Federation of Labor will make this demand in one trade at a time, and, according to the leaders, great strikes are expected before the battle likely to follow is decided. Previous attempts to force the large employers to grant the eight-hour work day have been unsucessful. The success of the recent strike of miners, in which more than 200,000 took part, has encouraged the American Federation of Labor to prepare for undertaking a tremendous fight.

Pope Celebrates Mass.

Rome, Feb. 14.—The pope celebrated mass Sunday in the Basilica, in the presence of a congregation of pilgrims from all parts of the country, in honor of past and coming anniversaries jointly of his first mass, his election and coronation. It is estimated that no fewer than 50,000 persons were present, of whom 20,000 were pilgrims. While the pope was being borne through the church amid the ringing tones of silver trumpets the assembly was raised to a pitch of excitement almost reaching delirium. The ceremony was one of impressive magnificence, and the pope's appearance caused indescribable enthusiasm on all sides.

CRUISER MAINE A WRECK.

The Battleship Blown Up In The Harbor of Havana.

Over One Hundred are Killed. The Cause of the Sad Disaster is not Definitely Known. The Explosion Occurred Late at Night.

Havana, Feb. 16.—At a quarter of 10 o'clock last evening a terrible explosion took place on board the United States battleship Maine in Havana harbor.

Many were killed and wounded.

All the boats of the Spanish cruiser Alfonso XIII. are assisting.

As yet the cause of the explosion is not known.

It is believed that the ship is totally destroyed.

The explosion shook the whole city.

The windows were broken in all the houses.

The wounded sailors who were rescued say the explosion took place while they were asleep, and they know nothing of the cause.

The wildest consternation prevails in Havana.

The wharves are crowded with thousands of people.

It is believed the explosion occurred in a small powder magazine.

At a quarter of 11, what remains of the Maine is still burning.

Captain Sigsbee and the other officers have been saved.

It is estimated that over 100 of the crew were killed, but it is impossible as yet to give exact details.

The Maine was built in New York in 1890, at a cost of $2,588,000. She had a steel hull and a compliment of 874 men.

The Havana firemen are giving aid, tending carefully to the wounded as they are brought on shore.

General Solano and the other generals have been ordered by Captain-General Blanco to take steps to help the Maine's crew in every way possible.

The correspondent of the Associated Press has been near the Maine, and seen others of the wounded, who corroborate the statement of those first interviewed that they were already asleep when the explosion occurred.

Captain Sigsbee says the explosion occurred in the bow of the vessel. He received a wound in the head.

Orders were given to the other officers to save themselves as best they could.

They showed great self-possession and heroism.

At 11:30 the Maine still continues burning.

The first theory was that there had been a preliminary explosion in the Santa Barbara (magazine), with powder or dynamite below the water.

Capt. Sigsbee Confirms the Report.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The secretary of the navy has received the following telegram from Captain Sigsbee:

"Maine blown up in Havana harbor at 9:40 last night and destroyed.

"Many wounded and doubtless more killed and drowned.

"Wounded and others on board Spanish man-of-war and Ward line steamer.

"Send lighthouse tenders from Key West for crew and few pieces of equipment still above (water).

"No one had other clothes than those upon him.

"Public opinion should be suspended till further report.

"All officers believed to be saved.

"Jenkins and Merritt not yet accounted for.

"Many Spanish officers, including representatives of General Blanco now with me and express sympathy.

—"Sigsbee."

The officers referred to in the above dispatch are Lieutenant Friend W. Jenkins and Assistant Engineer Darwin R. Merritt.

From the wording of the dispatch the navy department thinks it possible that they were on shore at the time of the accident.

The secretary of the navy received another dispatch from Key West at the same time with the above, but its contents were not made public.

The orders for the lighthouse tenders were at once sent to Key West in plain language, thus avoiding the delay that would have arisen from the use of cipher.

Learned at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Secretary Long received Captain Sigsbee's dispatch but a few minutes before the press dispatches from Havana were handed to him. He received the news with apparent calm, and his first act was to comply with Captain Sigsbee's request that assistance be sent from Key West. He immediately wired Captain Forsythe at Key West to proceed with the naval tender Fern to Havana harbor.

Secretary Long then sent for Captain Dickens, and the two discussed Captain Sigsbee's brief telegram. No other naval officers were present, and besides the secretary and Captain Dickens the naval colony here is ignorant of this disaster, the greatest which has befallen the American navy since the disaster at Apia many years ago.

The secretary is inclined to believe that most of the officers of the Maine were on shore at the time of the accident, as it was still early in the night.

While neither the secretary nor Captain Dickens are inclined to discuss the probable cause of the accident, several suggestions were ventured upon.

They believe that it may have been caused by a fire in the bunkers, heating the bulkhead near a magazine, or that an accident may have occurred while inspecting high explosives for torpedoes.

Of course, this is mere speculation, and the secretary is anxiously awaiting a more detailed report from Captain Sigsbee.

Later the secretary sent another telegram to Key West, directing that the tender Mangrove also be sent to Havana.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A lazy sheep thinks its wool heavy.

A hungry man smells meat afar off.

A jest driven too far brings home hate.

A lie has no legs, but a scandal has wings.

A hare may draw a lion with a golden cord.

A kiss of the mouth often touches not the heart.

A handsaw is a good thing, but not to shave with.

A life of leisure and a life of laziness are two things.

A house filled with guests is eaten up and ill spoken of.

A liar is not believed when he speaks the truth.—Italian.

A handful of common sense is worth a bushel of learning.—Spanish.

Simple and well-cooked foods are the only means to preserve a good complexion. Coffee or cocoa should be taken at breakfast time, with toast or brown bread, fish, or eggs or meat. Fruit stewed or fresh should also be included. Bacon and eggs is an excellent breakfast dish.

Rheumatic Pains

Confined to Her Bed, but Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured Her.

"I was taken with rheumatism and suffered a great deal of pain, and at times I was confined to my bed. I obtained only temporary relief from medicines, and a friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and it cured me." MRS. P. P. HAY, Centralia, Ill.

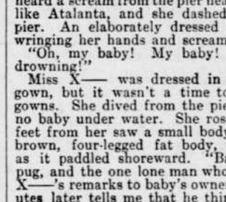
Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills cure sick headache. 25c.

THE NEW WORLD.

Interest Is Aroused in the Canadia West.



The exhibits of grains and grasses, roots and vegetables, the product of the fertile lands of Western Canada, which were made at the several state and county fairs in some of the Western states this fall, have awakened considerable interest in the lands which the Canadian Government has opened for settlement, and which are given free to settlers. The agents of the government, who are to be found in these states, are flooded with inquiries regarding the conditions on which these lands may be secured. Large numbers have located on these lands during the past year, and send back to their friends most encouraging reports. They say they have entered on an era of prosperity, and are well pleased with both the agricultural possibilities and the climate. The provinces of Manitoba, Assinaboia and Alberta are especially adapted to diversified farming. In some parts the country is specially adapted to stock raising, and it is being profitably pursued. In these parts snow seldom remains a week at a time, the warm breezes from the ocean affecting the climate thus favorably. When the desirability of these lands is fully known there will be a rush such as has scarcely ever before been known. Information as to low railway rates, illustrated pamphlets, etc., will be forwarded with pleasure by the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, Canada, if you are not in possession of the name of an agent of the government.

RESCUED BABY.

Brave Deed of a Heroine for Which She Got No Reward.

Doubtless no woman in town swims better than Miss X——, but since last summer she has ceased to take pride in her accomplishment. She spent the season at one of the northern lakes. One afternoon, just at the fashionable promenade hour, she was walking along the lake shore drive, when she heard a scream from the pier near. She runs like Atalanta, and she dashed out to the pier. An elaborately dressed woman was wringing her hands and screaming:

"Oh, my baby! My baby! My baby's drowning!"

Miss X—— was dressed in her newest gown, but it wasn't a time to think of gowns. She dived from the pier. She saw no baby under water. She rose and a few feet from her saw a small body floating, a brown, four-legged fat body, that yelped as it paddled shoreward. "Baby" was a pug, and the one lone man who heard Miss X——'s remarks to baby's owner a few minutes later tells me that he thinks of them still at night and quakes.—Washington Post.

If you have anything lett to shed, shed it now.—Atchison Globe.

A LETTER TO WOMEN.

A few words from Mrs. Smith, of Philadelphia, will certainly corroborate the cla m that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is woman's ever reliable friend.

"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly.

"For nine weeks I was in bed suffering with inflammation and congestion of the ovaries. I had a discharge all the time. When lying down all the time, I felt quite comfortable; but as soon as I would put my feet on the floor, the pains would come back.

"Every one thought it was impossible for me to get well. I was paying $1 per day for doctor's visits and 75 cents a day for medicine. I made up my mind to try Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has effected a complete cure for me, and I have all the faith in the world in it. What a blessing to woman it is!"—MRS. JENNIE L. SMITH, No. 324 Kauffman St., Philadelphia, Pa.

TRADE-MARK.

BAKER'S CHOCOLATE

Celebrated for more than a century as a delicious, nutritious, and flesh-forming beverage. Has our well-known

YELLOW LABEL

on the front of every package, and our trade-mark

"La Belle Chocolatiere"

on the back.

NONE OTHER GENUINE.

Made only by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.

DORCHESTER, MASS.

ESTABLISHED 1780.

Oats 231 Bu. pr. A. Wheat 40c. a Bu.

How to grow wheat at 40c a bu and 231 bus. oats, 123 bus. barley and 1800 bus. potatoes per acre is SEE OUR GREAT CATALOGUE mailed you with 11 grass seed samples, upon receipt of THIS NOTICE and 10 cents in stamps. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K 2)

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

A Frontier Washington.

FOR ONCE the Father of His Country was to be properly honored in Wathena. The settlers had decided that it ought to be done, and the method of its carrying out was left to a committee consisting of the storekeeper, the teacher, and one of the leading cattlemen who, rumor said, had once owned a library.

"Of course it ain't proving nothing about our honesty that we do this sort of thing," remarked Borden, the ranche foreman, "but it's the right thing to do."

"Yes, Washington was a fine old gentleman," added the storekeeper, "an' we Virginians always will stand by him."

"Mighty nice thing to be honoring the leader of a revolution," broke in a gruff voice from the rear of the store. It was the Englishman who was overseeing the fencing of the Olympic Cattle company's new lands. He had been a farmer over in the Cimmarron country, and was always objecting to whatever was on foot.

"Hush up, you got too badly licked to talk," was the rejoinder from Borden; and Glade, the foreigner, subsided.

The celebration was to take place in the schoolhouse out on the edge of the tiny settlement. From its door could be seen the haze that covered the tops of the Spanish peaks off to the west and also the sunken lines of the Cimmarron. It was all the conception of the pretty school mistress, who thought to thus raise enough money to buy a flag for the building's roof. There were other inducements for the two men who helped in the preparations—Borden and Grade. The cattleman thought there was no one like Lizzie Dean—and the Englishman thought the same.

"You are to be Washington," said the director to Borden, and the part fitted him well.

"All right, I'll lick the Britishers out of their boots," he declared as he pranced around with a stick for a sword, and cast ugly looks at Glade.

"And you shall be Cornwallis," turning to Glade. This, too, seemed satisfactory.

Night after night they met at the schoolhouse preparing the rendition of the play. The half-dozen actors were determined that there should be no ground for criticism. Spring was early on the prairie, and the gray and brown grasses were dry as tinder. The close curling buffalo grass was, like that of the blue stem, crinkling in the breeze, and the cattle were nibbling it away to get at the tiny spears of green beneath.

One night the play was nearly over when Borden remarked, in tones that came to the ears of the entire company: "If I had my way, I'd order every one of these red coats off the soil of America."

"Maybe you can't do any better than did your first president at that," was the sneer that came from back in the flies (curtains strung on pieces of twine) somewhere.

Borden grew angry. "Well, I can try, the same as he did. He won in the end, I believe."

The Englishman came out in the middle of the room. "I would not advise thee to try it," he drawled. The words were not more than out of his mouth when there came a crash of scenery, and along with the flies and nearly everything portable came Borden from the stage which he left with a leap. He made straight for the throat of his adversary, but what met his grasp when he reached out was—Miss Dean's hand.

"There, there, let this stop right here. The man you represent would never have fought in the presence of a woman."

Borden, abashed, stood back, and then went to the stage. But it did not mean the end of the trouble—everybody knew that. The men had a fight after the evening's practice was over, but it settled nothing, except that they were both very much in love with Lizzie.

The school did not amount to much those days, for all the scholars were practicing for their parts in the coming drama. The work on the ranches suffered likewise, for there was the same interest among the older people. On the night before the festal day there was a final practicing at the schoolhouse, and again the two representatives of the opposing sides in the revolution had their warfare of words.

In his speech the American took pains to insert a few words reflecting on the Englishmen who came out to the west to run cattle ranches, and the Englishman said some cutting things that pointed at frontier manners.

"See here, gentlemen," said Lizzie, "this has gone far enough. I cannot have you quarreling all the time. You must settle your troubles somewhere else."

"All I want is to win you," whispered the Englishman behind the scenes a few minutes later. "Will you give me the answer?"

"No, this is a warfare that you must settle with Mr. Borden. I would like to see how this contest of the rival powers comes out."

"Well, it will be different to that of the days of 1776," was the sententious answer. But would it?

"I don't like to see that Englishman around you so much," whispered Borden a few minutes later.

"Why, he behaves himself," replied Miss Dean, with well-feigned astonishment.

"But it ain't patriotic, don't you see," was the retort. "You ought to stand up for your country, and—Washington!" This last proudly, for Borden was really elated at the character he was taking in the play.

"So I must make this a national affair?"

"No, just a personal affair, but be patriotic in it."

Thus the matter stood when Washington's birthday dawned—an armed truce between the opposing forces, each of which was intent on winning the prize and confident that it could be done.

Soft blew the southern breeze and the night was dark. From miles of plain came the breath of spring that was giving the first earnest of its glory. The settlers rode in from their claims in wagons; the ranchmen came on horseback, and the line of ponies that fringed the schoolhouse yard was formidable. The Englishman came in all the glory of his best clothes, while Borden made his appearance in the frontier dress that so well became him.

"No reserved seats; come right in," welcomed the storekeeper as he took the tickets at the door. The crowd obeyed and filled the front seats, the back seats, and overflowed the aisles.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen," announced the storekeeper, when all was ready, "we will present the great drama of the time of Washington, as is most appropriate on this occasion."

The curtain rolled up (again a sheet on a pole), and the simple incidents that had been chosen to give a representation of the life of the first president were one after another called forth. There was nothing but peace until the act where the meeting of the hero and Cornwallis occurred. Then as the two rivals came on the little stage there was a howl of delight from the men present, for each knew how matters stood.

Borden looked daggers at Glade, and as his turn came to speak all realized that he was putting strange sentiments into the mouth of Washington when he said: "You may be as good a man as the rest of us, but you are not so brave."

Cornwallis colored, and the storekeeper remarked to his wife: "Blest if I don't think Borden struck home that time."

But Glade responded, with due courtesy: "It remains to be proved as to that—" and then went on with his set speech.

The play was long and the audience was evidently weary when the final act came. The rivals were on the stage and there was a chance for some more repartee, which was likely to be given, when suddenly there was a sound from the outside of the house that caused the heart of every auditor to sink with an ill-defined fear. It was a whinny of terror from a score of horses' throats.

Quickly the people rushed from their seats and to the windows and doors. What they saw was something that is never without its message of alarm for the ranchman and the settler—the prairie was on fire.

In an instant almost the house was emptied. The women were crying and the men were trying to calm the frightened horses. One by one the wagons were hurrying off, the owners anxious to get home or at least out of the reach of the danger.

It was high time!

Like a sea of flame the onrushing blaze was sweeping across the dry sod, licking up the long grass of the ravines and making quick work of the crisp covering of the higher lands. The wind had risen and was bringing the attacking army onward with rapid pace. There was no chance for the schoolhouse to escape. In a scrambling, pushing mass the people left the place and their wagons and horses were dotting the flame-lighted plain. Two men found themselves side by side a quarter of a mile from the building, each on his broncho and each galloping toward the north.

As they mounted a little swell in the prairie the blaze lighted their faces. From each came an exclamation: "Borden!" "Glade!"

"I thought you were with her," demanded the former, angrily.

"I thought you were the one."

For an instant the two men glared at each other and then the test came. Borden looked straight in the face of the Englishman and then at the sea of flame sweeping up from the south and whose breath was hot in their faces.

"Well," he demanded, "which shall it be? This is the time to prove which is the true representative of bravery."

"Oh, it's not that sort of a question," pleaded the other.

"It is just that sort of a question. There is a chance for the one who rides into that blaze to come out alive—and only a chance. It will be at the schoolhouse in a moment, and the race there is no small thing in itself, even if the horses will take it."

"We'll go together," after a little thought.

"Very well." The horses' heads were turned and the rivals went toward the long line of leaping flames, each determined to make the other weary of his undertaking. On and on they rode, the horses becoming wilder as each whiff of the wind brought them a stronger smell of smoke.

Finally the Englishman began to fall behind. His horse was not so unruly as Borden's, and there seemed no reason for his retrogression.

"Come on, Cornwallis," called the ranchman, and the cut was felt by the laggard.

Faster and faster rode the frontiersman into the thick of the smoke and was lost to the sight of his comrade. With head bent low and notrils shielded in the folds of his cloak, he steered toward the schoolhouse whose black form rose out of the flames.

Finally the door was reached and with a shout he called to the teacher. Was she there? He remembered that she had gone to the rear of the building when the alarm was given. She might have thought there was no danger in staying in the schoolhouse.

He leaped from the horse. Into the building he ran and to the rear. What was that—a sobbing? Leaning over a pile of curtains in the corner he took from them a bundle of humanity that was very frightened and very thankful to see him.

"Is it you, Lizzie?" he questioned.

"Yes—and Jimmie."

"Who is that?"

"The widow's little lame boy. I thought he would like the show and brought him. He is too heavy to carry and we had to stay here. What can we do?"

For an answer the strong man lifted the woman in one arm and the boy in the other and rushed to the door. Throwing them to his saddle he bade them cling for their lives. The fire was already around the yard and was eating its way to the building. The intense heat had made the shingles smoke and in a few minutes the whole structure would be a pyramid of blaze.

It was no easy task to control a wild and excited horse in the midst of a fire and also see that two helpless charges did not fall from the back of the animal. But Borden with his superb mastery of horseflesh did it, and the gait that they took through the wall of flame was something marvelous. Had the riders been living a little nearer to civilization they would have called it "record breaker."

"Well, that was a scorcher," remarked Borden, when they had come to a safe place. "Hello, who is that?" as a solitary rider came out of the smoke and approached them.

"Bless me, if it ain't Cornwallis!"

"Woo!" exclaimed the Englishman, wiping his eyes. "I couldn't find the schoolhouse or I would have saved the little school ma'am."

"Was it hot?"

"Awfully so. I suppose it is too late now to do her any good."

"Oh, I don't know, Cornwallis. She is here all right," and the form of Lizzie came to the astonished eyes of the late arrival.

The Englishman looked sheepish for a minute and then hit his horse with his hand and started off.

"Say," called Borden, "that little rivalry is settled now." And then to Lizzie: "I knew that he was not hunting that schoolhouse very hard. You gave him the right character—that is, the side that got licked!"

And Lizzie Dean agreed with him. So thoroughly was the defeat felt that the vanquished suitor did not even deign to come to the wedding—the dedication event of the new schoolhouse that replaced the one destroyed by the fire. Lizzie wanted it that way and Borden was willing to have it so.

"I don't know much about it," he said, "but I take it for granted that Washington always pleased the ladies when he could."

CHARLES MOREAU HARGER.

A SUCCESSFUL CHOPPER.

This boy he couldn't tell the truth,
As was known by everyone;
But when it came to chopping trees
He could beat George Washington.

When Washington Was Young.

The stagecoach rolled along its way,
On tireless axle hung,
The speediest travel of the day
When Washington was young.

A wick in tallow wax impearled
Its feeble luster flung
To light the darkness of the world
When Washington was young.

But thirteen states and thirteen stars
Historic poets sung,
Who scanned the patriotic bars
When Washington was young.

That selfsame flag to-day is fraught
(O'er seventy millions swung)
With principles of honor taught
When Washington was young.

Grand history lessons are enrolled
Its stars and stripes among.
Hurrah, then, for the days of old,
When Washington was young!

—Mrs. M. L. Rayne, in Chicago Times-Herald.

The Barometer and Men's Weight.

A man weighs less when the barometer is high, notwithstanding the fact that the atmospheric pressure on him is more than when the barometer is low. As the pressure of air on an ordinary sized man is about 15 tons, the rise of the mercury from 29 to 31 inches adds about one ton to the load he has to carry.—Washington Star.

House Built of Hats.

An ingenious hatter of Paris constructed a house of felt made out of 24,000 old hats. This house consisted of parlor, dining-room and bedroom, also a kitchen. It was erected upon a platform upon the plain of St. Denis, and could be transported from place to place.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Benefactress' Kind Act.

From the Evening News, Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. John Tansey, of 130 Baker Street, Detroit, Michigan, is one of those women who always know just what to do in all trouble and sickness. One that is a mother to those in distress. To a reporter she said:

"I am the mother of ten children and have raised eight of them. Several years ago we had a serious time with my daughter, which began when she was about sixteen years old. She did not have any serious illness, but seemed to gradually waste away. Having never had consumption in our family, as we come of good old Irish and Scotch stock, we did not think it was that. Our doctor called the disease by an old name which, I afterward learned, meant lack of blood.

"It is impossible to describe the feeling John and I had as we noticed our daughter slowly passing away from us. We finally found, however, a medicine that seemed to help her, and from the first we noticed a decided change for the better, and after three months' treatment her health was so greatly improved you would not have recognied her. She gained in flesh rapidly and was soon in perfect health. The medicine used was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I have always kept these pills in the house since and have recommended them to many people. I have told mothers about them and they have effected some wonderful cures.

"Every mother in this land should keep these pills in the house, as they are good for many ailments, particularly those arising from impoverished or diseased blood, and weakened nerve force."

A TOOTH-BRUSH TALE.

An Old Story and One That Is Brand New.

Three society girls sat in the newly decorated boudoir of the blue-eyed girl. The brown-eyed girl remarked that she wished some one would remind her to buy a toothbrush the next time she went downtown. Then she laughingly asked:

"Girls, what would you call a toothbrush—one of the amenities of civilization?"

"I would call it a necessity," exclaimed the blue-eyed girl. "That reminds me, girls," she continued, "of a story my Uncle James used to tell. I always had my doubts about this story of Uncle James', but I will tell you what he said.

"He was going from Boston to New York one time on one of the new Sound steamers, and he shared his stateroom with a strange man. When morning came, Uncle James got up first, dressed, and went on deck. Presently he came back to pack his traveling bag. He remembered that he had left his toothbrush on the rack. On looking for it, he discovered his roommate using it vigorously. Supposing that a mistake had been made, he said:

"'I beg your pardon, sir, but that is my toothbrush.'

"'Indeed,' said the man, 'you must excuse me; I thought it belonged to the boat.'"

"Oh! oh! oh!" exclaimed the gray-eyed girl, waving her hands frantically, "that is the same story my Uncle Robert always told. It didn't happen to either one of them, of course."

"Of course not," assented the blue-eyed girl, laughing. "We have caught both our uncles in fibs now, haven't we?"

The brown-eyed girl looked at her frineds in disgust.—St. Louis Republic.

HIS NEAREST NEIGHBOR.

The One Who Made Trouble Wherever He Moved.

An excellent and pertinent suggestion was that once made by an old Quaker lady to a grumbling man. The man had formerly lived near the Quakeress, and from his boyhood had been in the habit of finding fault with his neighbors, their ways of living, their speech and ideas.

He moved to another town and on his first return to his birthplace called on his Quaker friend, who had to listen to a catalogue of the faults of his new neighbors. She spoke as soothingly as possible, but her words produced no effect.

In the course of five years the man's business led him to make a second move, and on his next visit to his native town the old Quakeress was again favored with a call.

"How does thee like thy new home, William?" she asked.

"Oh, the town's all well enough," said the man, in his usual complaining tone, "but the people are queer. I can't get along with them. They're not what I call good neighbors. I wish to the land that I could find somebody that was the kind to live near. It seems strange, with living in three places, I've had bad luck in my neighbors every time."

"William," said the old Quakeress, looking straight across at the moody face opposite, "I think the trouble may be partly that wherever thee moves, one of the neighbors move with thee. Why not leave him behind the next time, or at least ask other folks' opinion of him before thee moves again?"—Youth's Companion.

RAINY REMINDER.

Characteristic Bit of "Ould" Ireland in America.

A Cleveland landlord has one of his houses tenanted by a family that is out of all proportions to the size of the dwelling. In fact, he strongly suspects that there are at least two distinct families in the house, and he is quite anxious to get rid of them. He doesn't want to turn them out, and he has been hoping they would take the frequent hints he gives them and seek some other location. Lately they have complained of a leaky roof, but the landlord has determined to make no repairs until they leave.

A few days ago the head of the household waited on him.

"Well, sor," he said, "that roof has been leakin' agin."

"Has it?" asked the landlord.

"Yis, sor. It leaks right over me sister's bed. Draps right down on her, sor. This marnin' she came out o' the room a-cryin', sor. It had been raining on her all night. Yis, sor, cryin'."

"Well, why in Tophet," inquired the landlord, "didn't she move the bed?"

"'Twasn't that, sor," hastily remarked the tenant. "'Twasn't that."

"What ailed her, then?"

"Why, you see, sor, she were just a-cryin' because it reminded her so much of home."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

She Must Excuse Him.

The young woman tried to be aristocratic and did not look at the money she gave to the conductor of the car; but he meekly gave her back the lozenge on which was stamped: "I'll never cease to love thee," and said he was an orphan with five little brothers to support, and must be excused.—Roxbury Gazette.

Its Real Meaning.

Little Elmer—Pa, what does "requiescat in pace" mean?

Prof. Broadhead—"Please stay dead" is near enough.—Pearson's Weekly.

Customs Cases Decided.

The general appraisers of goods passing through the Custom House have made several decisions lately which, until passed upon by the Secretary of the Treasury, will hold good. But while there is stability in that quarter, no system failing in strength can be properly sustained without the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a genial tonic and remedy for malaria, rheumatism, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness.

The Only Cure.

Cholly—Have you anything that will stop the habit of cigarette smoking?

Druggist—Yes, sir. John, give the gentleman a box of "Rough on Rats!"—N. Y. World.

Florida and South-Dixie Flyer Route.

Double Daily Sleepers between Nashville and Jacksonville, via Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon and Tifton. Buffet Sleeper between St. Louis and Charleston, via Nashville, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Augusta. For information concerning rates to Winter Resorts, Land and Homeseekers Excursions South, Sleeping Car reservation, etc., apply to Briard F. Hill, N. P. Agt. 328 Marquette Bldg. Chicago, or J. H. Mittler, N. W. P. Agt. Box 609 St. Louis, Mo. For pamphlets regarding lands and resources of country traversed by Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, address J. B. Killebrew, Immigration Agent, Room 75 Chamber of Commerce, Nashville, Tenn.

The Usual Thing.

Hotel Visitor—Now, are you sure this bed is quite clean?

Servant—Yes, sir; the sheets were only washed this morning. Just feel them; they ain't dry yet.—The Rival.

More than forty thousand cases of Asthma and Hay-Fever have been treated by Dr. P. Harold Hayes and Associates, of Buffalo, N. Y., and the evidence that a cure to stay cured can be accomplished is as complete as it is abundant and convincing. All who suffer, or have friends who suffer, can have books and blanks for free examination sent on application and after receiving a statement of the case Dr. Hayes will write his opinion as to curability free.

Failed to Please.

Tom—That composer made himself very unpopular.

Dick—How?

"By putting on such airs."—Up-to-Date.

One of the oldest and most reliable houses in Boston manufacture a preparation for the hair called "Cocoaine," which is thoroughly reliable as a means of removing dandruff, beautifying the hair and benefiting the scalp. They issue a pamphlet on the subject which it is worth the while of any one interested to send for. The firm referred to is Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass.

Arctic Exploration.

Smith—Of late years arctic explorers seem to have entered upon a race to see who can reach the furthest point north.

Brown—Yes, and I guess the fellow who hugs the pole will win the race.—N. Y. Journal.

Pawn It to Buy Presents.

Robinson—Are you going to hang your socks up this Christmas?

Jones—No; from the looks of things I shall probably be obliged to hang up my overcoat.—Up To Date.

A Handsome Metal Paper Cutter and Book Mark Combined

Sent free of postage under sealed cover on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps. The latest, best and most serviceable adjunct of every library and office. Address Geo. H. Heafford, 410 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Illinois.

Then He Quits.

Prim—Man is born to rule the world.

Prone—But sometimes he gets married.—Up-to-Date.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

After a man is 30, in thinking of coasting he considers the walk back.—Atchison Globe.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

It is astonishing how many people criticise things they know nothing about.—Washington Democrat.

I am entirely cured of hemorrhage of lungs by Piso's Cure for Consumption.—Louisa Lindaman, Bethany, Mo., Jan. 8, '94.

We wonder why preachers always pray longest when we are standing.

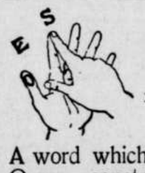
SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.



Substantial.

Five-Finger Exercise, No. 2.

A word which in the Estey Organ construction means experience, best material, deft fingers and improved machinery. All this accounts for the marvelous way the "Estey" will stand in tune and resist bad climate. Many an "Estey," twenty-five years old, is as good as new.

Our five-pointed discourse complete with catalogue sent free. Estey Organ Co. Brattleboro, Vt.

PATENTS 30 years a Solicitor. Book free. W.T. Stevens, Opposite Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CAUSE FOR ALARM.

How baldness begins.

How to prevent it.

Every person, male or female, shrinks from baldness. It adds to the appearance of age and is a serious discomfort. The cases are rare when the falling out of the hair may not be stopped, and a new and healthy growth of the hair promoted. The hair grows in the scalp like a plant in the soil. If a plant flourishes, it must have constant attention; it must be watered regularly and find its food in the soil where it is rooted. It's so with the hair. Neglect is usually the beginning of baldness. Dandruff is allowed to thicken on the scalp. The hair begins to loosen. The scalp loses its vitality. The hair, insufficiently nourished, begins to fade and to fall. The instant need in such a case is some practical preparation which, supplying the needed nourishment to the scalp, will feed the hair, give it strength, and so produce a strong and healthy growth. All this is done by Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor, the most practical and valuable preparation for the hair that can be obtained. It tones up the scalp, does away with dandruff, stops the hair from falling, restores the original color to gray or faded hair, and gives an abundant and glossy growth. Those who are threatened with approaching baldness will be interested in the following voluntary statement, made by Alderman S. J. Green, of Spencer, Iowa. He writes:

"About four months ago, my hair commenced falling out so rapidly that I became alarmed, and being recommended Dr. Ayer's Hair Vigor by a druggist, I resolved to try this preparation. I have been now using it for three months, and am much gratified to find that my hair has ceased falling out and also that hair which had been turning gray for the past five years has been restored to its original color, dark brown. It gives me much pleasure to recommend this dressing."—S. J. Green, Alderman, Spencer, Iowa.

Those who are interested in preserving and beautifying the hair will do well to send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook. A story of cures told by the cured. This book of 100 pages is sent free, on request, by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

AFTER NEARLY ¼ OF A CENTURY
THE RECORD IS UNBROKEN.
THE RECORD STILL GOES ON.
ST. JACOBS OIL
IS THE MASTER CURE FOR RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA,
SCIATICA, LUMBAGO.

Twiddle your thumbs, if you've nothing better to do, in the time that's saved by washing with Pearline. Better be sitting in idleness than to spend unnecessary time washing with soap, doing unhealthy and wearying work. But almost every woman has something or other that she talks of doing "when I get time for it." Washing with Pearline will save time for it. 576

Millions NOW USE Pearline

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
CURE CONSTIPATION
REGULATE THE LIVER
10c 25c 50c
ALL DRUGGISTS

"A HANDFUL OF DIRT MAY BE A HOUSEFUL OF SHAME." CLEAN HOUSE WITH SAPOLIO

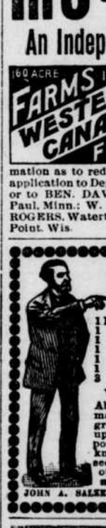
RHEUMATISM
Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

FREE! WANTED—All persons looking for a home to join one of the fifteen successful colonies and settlements now forming along the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad in Minnesota. Cheap lands, good soil, pure water, clear streams, beautiful lakes, a healthful climate, freedom from drought and malaria, excellent markets. The King of all countries for the DAIRY BUSINESS and Diversified Farming. Maps and Circulars free. Address HOPEWELL CLARKE, Land Commissioner, 908 Globe Building, St. Paul, Minn.

In 3 or 4 Years
An Independence is Assured
160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE
if you take up YOUR Home in WESTERN CANADA, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experience of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat. Reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates, can be had on application to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 154 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND
SLICKER
WILL KEEP YOU DRY.
Don't be fooled with a mackintosh or rubber coat. If you want a coat that will keep you dry in the hardest storm buy the Fish Brand Slicker. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

FOR 14 CENTS



We wish to gain 150,000 new customers, and hence offer
1 Pkg. 13 Day Radish, 10c
1 Pkg. Early Spring Turnip, 10c
1 " Earliest Red Beet, 10c
1 " Bismarck Cucumber, 10c
1 " Queen Victoria Lettuce, 15c
1 " Klondyke Melon, 15c
1 " Jumbo Giant Onion, 15c
3 " Brilliant Flower Seeds, 15c
Worth $1.00, for 14 cents.
Above 10 pkgs. worth $1.00, we will mail you free, together with our great Plant and Seed Catalogue upon receipt of this notice and 14c. postage. We invite your trade and know when you once try Salzer's seeds you will never get along without them. Potatoes at $1.50 a Bbl. Catalog alone 5c. No. K 7
JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE
SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

RHEUMATISM and ALL PAINS. Try THE IDEAL PLASTER, 25 cents, from your druggist or by mail. HAMMOND CO., Box 2, LYNN, MASS.

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE
For the sound and permanent cure of Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers and Old Sores of every kind and description, no matter how many years standing, or by what name known. And for the prevention and cure of Gangrene, Lock-Jaw and Blood Poisoning. It never fails. BY MAIL 50 Cents. 32-PAGE BOOK FREE. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., ST. PAUL, MINN. For sale by Druggists.

HARTSHORN'S SELF-ACTING SHADE ROLLERS
NOTICE NAME THIS LABEL AND GET THE GENUINE HARTSHORN
Stewart Hartshorn

OPIUM and Whiskey Habit cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

A. N. K.—G 1696

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, FEB. 18, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

--Advertise in the GAZETTE.

—A big surprise for the Ladies; Peterson's $2.00 shoe.

--DR. CARTER, Dentist. Delano, Friday and Saturday Feb. 25, and 26.

—The Minneapolis Brewing Company have completed their new storage plant here, and have secured ice for next summer's use.

—Read the inside of this paper for an account of the explosion of the Maine, and the DeLome letter affair and several other items of interest.

—Snow about three inches deep fell on Monday. That came the nearest to a snow storm we have had this winter and some of it melted away before many hours.

—Farmers are improving their opportunity to do some hauling on sleds for a few days. Sleighing is good except for bare spots where the snow has been blown away.

—Some of our able bodied young men seem very willing to risk a trip to Cuba in order to get even with Spain in case it is proven that the Main was blown up by Spaniards.

—The M. E. Ladies Aid Society tea held last evening at Mrs. Mulford's was a grand success. They had some more good sandwiches, coffee, etc. and people enjoyed it very much.

--The school board, at a late meeting, expelled Oscar Ball from school, for incorrigibility. If Oscar will take to his books he may outstrip many who are left at school, in the pursuit of book learning.

—William Lewis, on Monday afternoon, slipped and fell on the cement pavement near the Eagle office, shaking him up generally and especially injuring his hip. He was confined to his bed for several days.

—Next month, only a few days now, and you will want to plant some tomatoes and early garden stuff. See that you have seed that will grow. Plant a little and test for yourselves what per cent will come up.

—Too many lights for the electric plant have been put up, and when nearly all of them are in use, as occasionally happens, the street lights have to be turned off. Another dynamo appears to be a necessity, quite soon.

—Peterson's $3.25 shoe is the best in the market for the money.

—The Epworth League assisted by the Christian Endeavor Society will hold a temperance meeting together, at the M. E. church, Sunday evening, February 27, commencing promptly at 6:45. Church services begin at 7:30 so it will be necessary to be prompt in beginning. Everybody is invited.

—Considerable is being said in the papers about last years wheat not being good for seed. Every farmer should try a handful or so and see if it all sprouts, and not go to work and sow the field with many dollars worth of wheat that wont grow, loosing his grain besides his work and then having to resow.

—On Monday James Murphy, aged 18 years was brought before Justice Walter, charged with petit larceny, in stealing some meat hooks from a refrigerator car of the G. N. railroad. He plead guilty to the charge and was sentenced to a fine of $20 or 30 days in jail. He refused to pay the fine and was taken to the Hennepin county jail Monday evening, by Constable Joe Merriman.

--Rev. J. S. McCornack, of Howard Lake held special services in the Presbyterian church at this place last week and this. Though the audiences have not been large considerable interest has been manifested, several manifesting a desire to lead better lives, Mr. McCornack is a very earnest and forcible speaker, making many telling hits at the ways of sin. Rev. Farber has assisted in several of the meetings.

--The St. Cecilian Society held a dime social at the City Hall Tuesday evening. The house was filled and a splendid time had. The programme was well carried out except the speaker from abroad didn't arrive; but Rev. Savs filled that number with an interesting and humorous talk on the Klondike. He thinks if the "K's" were eradicated from the word it would come pretty near to being correct, and describing the case with many, "lon e die".

—Delano butchers have things handy. Both shops have cards with prices printed on; surloin and porter house steak 15 cts per pound, etc., to the end of the bill where they have their names. Their new scales are marked so that all customers need to do is to call for what they want, consult the price list for the rate per pound, and the scales for how much their purchase comes to, lay down the change, take their meat and walk out. Awfully convenient.

--At about 4 p. m. on Sunday, an explosion of a powder can in John B. Plattner's store, blowed out the glass in the front and rear windows, and the skylight. The fire bell gave the alarm and people flocked to the scene of the fire. The fire company soon had water, and some burning clothing was soaked. Matches and powder were kept near together, on a lower shelf behind the counter. Several hundred dollars damage must have been done. The cause of the fire remains a mystery.

—Go to Petersons for your spring rubbers; we have them at all prices.

—The report has been received of the death of E. C. Austin, at Reno. Nev. on Feb. 9.

—The Rebekahs will give an entertainment in the City Hall to night. If you want to have some fun be there.

--Master Arthur Davis on, Feb. 12, his sixth birthday, gave a party to his Sunday School class mates. A fine time was had.

--Village officers are to be chosen next month. Our village has grown to such proportions, and has such a multiplicity of interests to be looked after that the best men should be chosen, men who have an interest in the welfare of the place and the people.

--Delano Washington's Birthday Association will meet in the City Hall Tuesday, Feb. 22; dinner at 12 o'clock. An interesting programme has been arranged for the afternoon. Everybody invited.

Committees are as follows:

Reception—T. Hitzman, William Lewis, Martin Conzet.

Tables--Mrs. W. Bauman, Mrs. Chas. Eppel, Jr., Miss Amanda Sturman, Mrs. Eph Jacobs, Mrs. W. Rader, Mrs. Geo. Goodrick, Mrs. M. A. O'Hair.

Decorating Stage—C. M. Conzet.

A basket dinner will be served. Coffee will be furnished.

Everybody invited to be present.

Personal.

C. E. Dickey, of Minneapolis, was in town Monday.

F. H. Lindsley visited Buffalo Monday, on business.

Fay Parslow came home from Minneapolis for Sunday.

Mrs. Erb visited her nephew Dave Epple, at Montrose Tuesday.

Prof. Roy Wilder, of the Warner school, was home as usual for Sunday.

Charles Wilker, of Todd county, visited this week with his Uncle Dairy

Dr Jenner Chance is at home from the Hamline U Medical school for a visit.

James C. Dunn, who attended court in Minneapolis a couple of weeks, is at home again.

Vernon Wilder and friend Marshal Stone, of St. Peter, came up from the "U" and spent Sunday in Delano.

Ray and Archie Billings, who have been with their father here lately, left Wednesday morning for Minneapolis.

County Cullings.

Judge Tarbox held a special term of court at Buffalo last week.

The list of pensions granted this week contains the name of Henry Allen, Cokato, $6.

Bro. Lamson wants to know when do we "start for the Klondike?" We want to vote at the November election and haven't concluded to go yet.

Be sure you pick the best men for State Senator and two Legislators that can be had. More bangs on these men than on any others. They help do the business and make the laws for the state.

The Buffalo Journal printed Wednesdays, at Buffalo, did not arrive in Delano until Monday. That is pretty slow traveling for fast mail service. Perhaps free silver papers, 16 to 1 are more weighty and require a longer time in transportation than do the lively "gold bugs".

The proper petition for the privilege of voting on the question of liquor license at Howard Lake has been filed, and the citizens will once more have the privilege of voting for or against license. The experience of the year past will doubtless swell the anti-saloon vote some.

Rev. Voris, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at this place the past year, left yesterday for Storm Lake, Iowa, where he was called to accept a position on the professor's staff in the Buena Vista College, an institution of theological instruction. —Buffalo Journal.

Eaton and Lamson are fooling away their own time, and taking time of their readers, and space in their papers that should be occupied by something more elevating every week now. Who cares to read about their individual affairs all the time? Why don't they argue the financial question; the tariff; the license; or even the Cuban or Hawaiian questions?

If your free silver literature is not always on hand when you think it should be, don't get discouraged, but be sure to read it when it does arrive. For some reason or another some of the mail is a long time on the way. The Delano and Rockford route, which has been discontinued, and which, it was promised, would be quickly restored, would be a great improvement over the present way of hauling the mails all over the country, and wearing the papers nearly out before the subscribers a few miles away, in the same county gets a look at them.

With our neighbors nearly all temperance towns it would surely not hurt Delano much to join their ranks. Not a farmer or his family who helps to pay the $3,500 license money into the village treasury and receives in return nothing that builds up his body, that brightens his mind, that improves his morals or that increases his hope of a life to come, could be loosers. Many a load of wood or hay or even of corn, oats, or wheat, that now runs down the throat of an otherwise kind husband and father would then go to clothe helpless children or fond wives, would aid in building better houses and barns; and in supplying furniture and dishes, and many things much needed. Many a black eye, and bruised head would not have to be accounted for, family disturbances would not be so frequent. Much now paid out for lawyer's and doctor's bills would then be unnecessary. Communities would be more intelligent, more moral, and life would be much more pleasant to many.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .89
"	No. 2 " "	.83
"	No. 3 " "	.82
Rye		.39
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		.16, .18
Eggs,		.19
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .07
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

BORN.

STINSON.—On Thursday, Feby. 10, to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stinson, a daughter.

The M. and D. elevator at Waverly was burned Tuesday morning.

Albion and Maple Lake have not yet learned whose business it is to care for George Lindmark.

The Cokato Enterprise, under the management of C. J. Carlson, seems able to take care of its own affairs without, and, in fact, in spite of the combination of Republican editors of the county.

After all the Eagle's howling about high charges for county printing, what can her readers think when they read that the commissioners allowed their bill at their last meeting for "notice to tax payers" at $21.00?

The degree of calorie of the editorials of the "Frazzler" and the "P. M. Standard" are ascertained by spirit thermometers. One editor looks out upon the grave yard, the other the saloon, according to their own stories of each other.

At the last week's term of District Court at Buffalo, cases were disposed of as follows:

Wm. Quinn vs. Catherine Birmingham et al. Decision for plaintiff.

Mrs. Higgins vs Thomas Wren. New trial denied.

Seraphina Chevalier vs Edward Chevalier Temporary alimony granted

Ida May Fenn vs. Harry Fenn. Divorce granted.

Christine Ball vs. John Ball. Divorce granted.

Brabec vs Cech. New trial granted.

J. J. Woolley vs John Johnson. Verdict for plaintiff.

Assignment of O. D. Belden to be submitted on briefs.

George Hayes vs Mary Hayes et al. Court took case under advisement.

O. L. Dudley vs Village of Buffalo. New trial denied.

The County Commissioners met at Buffalo, Feb. 2.

The action of Hennepin county board in awarding contract for repairing Dayton bridge to Frankman Bros., for $520, approved.

Contracts for repairing Albrecht's bridge for $97, and erecting fenders at Boam's bridge $120, were let to Brown & Sproul.

Petion of P. N. Franzen for change of school district presented. Hearing set for March 9, also that of Nels Larson.

Petition for school district change by John Johnson granted.

Petitions for abatement of taxes by Henry Smith and Mary McHale, rejected.

Abatement of taxes of A. F. Barker & sons, of Monticello; Joseph Thomas, of Rockford and A. G. Johnson, Buffalo, recommended to State Auditor. The petition of James Stoddart, of Rockford, rejected.

Final road order issued for a road on section 15-119-28.

Annual report of C. H. Vorse shows receipts for year 1897, $1576 69. Report approved.

The chairman was authorized to examine bonds of Frankman Bros. and if satisfactory approve it.

Voted that Auditor purchase a set of 1894 statutes for Clerk of Courts office.

Brown & Sproul's bond with A. Y. Eaton and F. McKnight, for $1,000, approved.

A number of claims were allowed.

Claims laid over till next meeting; George and Minnie Davis, and the Eagle Printing Co.

Board adjourned to March 9.

A few reasons why you should buy your shoes at Peterson's: 1st He has the only exclusive line of Boots & shoes in Delano and handles only first class goods. 2nd He has made the shoe trade a study for 30 years and when he tells you whet a shoe is you can depend on it. 3d He has the bigest stock of Boots & Shoes in town to select from guarentees every pair he sells. 4th One price to all.

[Pub. Jan. 28, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25, March 4, 11.]

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court, Eighteenth Judicial District, in and for the County of Wright and State of Minnesota upon a judgment rendered in said County on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1897, in an action therein, wherein the State of Minnesota was Plaintiff and Danville Mayo, Moses Mayo and John Collins were Defendants in favor of said Plaintiff and against said defendants for the sum of five hundred thirty four and 8-100 dollars ($534.08) and whereas said judgment was docketed in the office of Clerk of the District Court for Wright County on the 19th day of October 1897, at 4. P. M. of that day, I did on the 25th day of January A. D. 1898 duly levy upon all right, title and interest of the within named defendants or either of them in and to the following described Real Estate situated and being in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota and described as follows to-wit:

The west half of the north east quarter of section twenty three, in township one hundred and twenty one, range twenty four

Now therefore Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale and will sell the premises levied upon and described in the within notice to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the Village of Buffalo, in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 12th day of March, 1898, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated this 26th day of January, 1898.

JOHN C. NUGENT,
Sheriff of Wright County.

C. A. PIDGEON,
County Attorney
for Wright County.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 5tf

Advertise in
the GAZETTE
for trade.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely Illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE

and

LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.80 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

Teacher's Examinations.

Examination for Spring Term, 1898, will be held as follows:—

Buffalo and Monticello, Feb. 28 and March 1, commencing at one o'clock P. M., Feb. 23.

Delano, March 2nd and 3rd, commencing at 8:30 A. M.

Howard Lake and Annandale, March 4th and 5th, commencing at 8:30, A. M.

J. F. LEE,
Co. Supt. of Schools.

ANNANDALE, Minn., Feb. 11, 1898.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3 00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1 75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year,	$6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year,	8.00
Sunday alone. 1 year.	2.00

Twice-a-Week
Courier-Journal
And the
Buffalo Gazette
Both one year
For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the
Buffalo Gazette,
Delano,
Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING,
REPAIRING AND GENERAL
CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

GIVE US A CALL.
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

-AdvertisE-
GAZETTE.
ONE YEAR
$1.00

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE
popular
NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very resPectfully yours,
GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES
Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.
All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.
Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.
TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexe furnished on demand.
Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR
FINE JOB PRINTING,
IN THE LINE OF
Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads
Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand
Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line
of Printing,
CALL AT THE
Gazette Office.

CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS!
Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for
FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE
Chicago, price $1 00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders wil be taken at
50 CENTS
From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.
Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer
The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until JanuaRy 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1898. NUMBER 22.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B AMES, Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis, Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:30 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching.....
REV. F. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President { JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen, { NICK FRANK. HENRY BOCK. ADAM HORSCH.
Recorder, { L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, { W. H. FRAZEE. R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health. { T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary. J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables { JOSEPH MERRIMAN. GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.
F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive —of— -THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO } CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS, DESIGNS, COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain, free, whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Oldest agency for securing patents in America. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,

beautifully illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, weekly, terms $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Specimen copies and HAND BOOK ON PATENTS sent free. Address

MUNN & CO., 361 Broadway, New York.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope The Dominion Company, DePt. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

THE Senate votes to increase the standing army by adding two regiments of artillery.

ZOLA, the French novelist, was found guilty and sentenced to one year in prison for the part taken in the Dryfus affair.

IGNATIUS DONNELLY was married to Miss Marion Hanson, in Minneapolis on the 22nd. Now who says the Sage does not favor fusion?

THE Editorial association voted against the Loud bill by a large majority. Wonder if our Congressman will take cognizance of the fact.

DULUTH is to have another Mendenhall divorce suit; Mrs. Ellen Mendenhall having again sued for divorce; this time on grounds of desertion.

HENNEPIN COUNTY'S Grand Jury is said to be determined to make a general investigation of the various departments of the city, among others, the school board.

HON. CHARLES A. TOWN has already begun the campaign in Oregon where Congressmen and Legislators will be elected next June. It is expected that Oregon will go solidly for free silver and gold coinage.

SOME of the bimetallists by international agreement people, are greatly in favor of going slow on the Cuban question; of entering into entangling alliances with no other nation on questions of Cuban Independence and especially with Spain, while they at the same time claim bimetallism should be by agreement of other nations. Is it not fair to suppose that a question capable of making the turmoil in our own country the money question has would make a commotion in proportion if entered into by other nations with conflicting interests? Would not an entangling alliance on bimetallism be equally as disagreeable to Uncle Sam as a declaration that Cuba's struggling people should be independent?

Big Men of War.

The recent disaster to the mammoth steamer Maine, lying at anchor in Havanna harbor has created an aversion to the idea of building a navy of such monsters. Whether the big man of war was accidentally blown up, or was blown up by the Spaniards, it has shown to the American people the foolishness of risking so many men, and so much money, about 5,000,000 in one boat. Too much hangs on a thread. One explosion or other accident is sure to involve too much. It is unnecessary. And it cripples the navy too much to meet with a single loss. Supposing the Maine was in Havanna for purposes of war, and not as has been said, on a "friendly visit" one explosion would remove all menace for the time from there: while if the same number of men and munitions were distributed among several boats, if one did blow up there might still be enough to hold their own till help arrived.

Something of the monitor style that could fight lively and move quickly and that was less expensive, and required fewer men to run them, could be more servicible in case of need.

It is likely that no appropriations will be made for such costly and large boats as the Main, by the United States Congress soon.

Wallace Challenged.

LEBANON, Ind., Feb. 19.—George E. Oakes of Indianapolis has written a challenge to Gen. Lew Wallace to mortal combat on the field of honor. At the banquet here on Lincoln's birthday. Gen. Lew Wallace in a speech told of a personal interview with Lincoln when Gen. McClelland had been forced back by Lee by Harrison's Landing on the James river. Lincoln was sad and Wallace inquired what was the matter. Lincoln said: "I must go to Harrison's Landing to tell McClelland to not surrender that army." Gen. Wallace said half an hour later Lincoln was in a boat bound for Harrison's Landing. George E. Oakes, who was a private soldier in the first Michigan infantry under Mc Clelland, denounces the story as a fabrication and champions the cause of his dead commander.—Pioneer Press.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

ON Tuesday morning a negro postmaster at Columbia, S. C. recently appointed by President McKinley was, with his infant child shot to death while his wife and three daughters and and a son were wounded.

THE convention of grocers met at Duluth this week and held an interesting meeting. The national president, George A. Shearer, of Illinois, addressed the meeting. He spoke of the advantages of co-operation and urged the members to take a citizens interest in politics to see that property legislators are elected, and on trade matters.

The Coming Campaign.

The Congressional and state campaign is now fairly started. Election of town officers will occur March 8. Men will be elected to office then, whose business it will be to look after the elections next fall. Good reliable men should fill these positions, men in whom their neighbors have confidence. Caucuses will be held before the time for election to nominate men for office. The place to make your influence felt is at the caucus. Secure the nomination of every good man possible, and do your best to keep out regular schemers and tricksters. Do your best to get up a ticket that you can heartily support, and then we are likely to have election boards next fall whose returns will not be disputed.

Caucuses should be carried on according to law. Voters should not be permitted to attend several caucuses and put up one ticket on purpose to be defeated and another to win, over the first one.

Voters should be qualified, according to law. Men who have not taken out their second papers now cannot vote at caucuses, and unless they secure their second papers at least three months before the coming fall election they will not be allowed to vote next November. A man whose patriotism is at so low an ebb as to fail to get his second papers in time is hardly entitled to much sympathy when the board refuses his vote.

It will be but a short time until the primaries will be held for the fall nominations. Men can't vote at primaries unless qualified voters.

Party Rings.

In reply to Mr. Lamson's agreement to assist Bro. Hamilton in breaking Wright county political rings, the latter in last weeks' Maple Lake Messenger says:

The above from the Editor of the Standard, who has always been recognized as one of the king pins in the Wright County Republican ring, and who is credited with starting the Standard for the sole purpose of furthering the political interests of himself and other members of said ring, who had been practically deserted by every newspaper in the county, can be regarded as nothing but the rankest kind of jingo and moonshine.

But the messenger is not timid about exposing rascality, and if the Standard is sincere, we'll go ahead and "bust 'em up". Here's a suggestion. We understand that Lamson and Culkin in 1896, in the interest of the republican ring made lists of all farmers in this district who had their farms mortgaged, and then went privately to each of them the lie that if silver carried they would be compelled to pay two dollars for one in gold with which to cancel them. Also that they went privately to farmers holding mortgages and told them that if silver carried they would be compelled to accept in payment dollars worth only fifty cents each. Now if Mr. Lamson will publish in the Standard, the different stories used on the mortgagees and mortgagors, and just how the whole thing was worked and who worked it, we will cheerfully "pop" it to the other ringsters to the extent of our knowledge and ability. We will unearth the causes which compassed the defeat of every candidate on the democratic ticket save J. C. Nugent and tell how even he came very nearly being counted among the lost through an "error" of the county auditor, which was corrected in time to save him. Go ahead, lets whoop 'er up.

Stick to the People.

Jim Hill puts the granting of a bit of transportation over his lines—to an editor as a gracious favor, and some editors lack independence enough to say: "To Halifax with your mileage." The newspapers have criticised Jim Hill in the interests of the people, yet he owes more for his success to the press than to any other nosthwestern agency. The newspapers owe him nothing, and any self respecting editor whose pocketbook is too lean to pay for transportation or whose rheumatism is too severe to permit him to start off on a long journey, should stay on his "native heath" until the cows come home, rather than accept a favor from such a man in the spirit in which he grants it. Mr. Hill has kicked the editors of the northwest, and the editors ought to have sense enough to stay kicked and stick to the people.—Ortonville Journal.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 11, 1898.

Nothing short of the absolute proof that the sinking of the battleship Maine, in Havanna harbor, and the drowning of more than two hundred and fifty of its crew-a catastrophe that will cause a shudder of horror to pass over every American every time Havanna harbor is mentioned for many years to come-was caused by an accidental explosion on board of the Maine will save Spain from the licking it has been inviting for some time at the hands of the United States. In view of the reports that have reached this country from time to time of boasts made by Spaniards in Havanna, since the Maine went there, that at the first intimation of war between Spain and the United States they were prepared to blow the Maine to atoms with torpedoes, and of the treachery of the late Spanish Minister towards his great and good friend, Mr. McKinley, it is not surprising that the suspicion that the destruction of the Maine was the result of Spanish treachery should be expressed by more than half the men one meets. A nation which could deliberately plan to surround the house of a Cuban with several regiments of troops and coolly shoot down a an old man and his children, in order to kill a Cuban officer whose sweetheart was the daughter of the old man, as the Spaniards recently did in Cuba, would not hesitate to use any sort of treachery to destroy a warship of a nation it both feared and hated. Mr. McKinley professes to regard these suspicions with horror, and expresses the belief that the investigation now being made will show them to be without foundations. It is to be devoutly hoped that his belief will be justified by the result of the investigation, for if it isn't, Spain will not only be driven out of Cuba, but will be in danger of being driven out of existence as a nation, by relentless Americans bent on revenge.

Congress is disposed to allow the administration to conduct the investigation of the cause of the loss of the Maine, only asking that it be prompt and thorough and that its result be made public as soon as arrived at.

It having been arranged that Friday and Saturday of this week should be used by the House to discuss the bankruptcy bill, reported as a substitute for the bill that was passed by the Senate at the extra session, Czar Reed did not find it necessary to make the House adjourn from Thursday to Monday, in order to prevent their being a private bill day, which under the rules should be Friday.

The National Council of the Farmers' Alliance, once a power in the political world, now scarcely heard of, was in session in Washington this week; also the annual convention of the Woman Suffragists, which always manages to occupy its full share of news paper space.

Senator Murphy, of New York, who has gone home on business, said before leaving Washington that the resolution censuring him for voting for the Teller resolution, which was adopted by the aid of republican votes in the New York legislature, was not worrying him the slightest little bit, as he had written evidence from prominent democrats in every section of the state endorsing his course in voting for the Teller resolution. He regards the censure as nothing more than an attempt by the republicans to make political capital in the state, which their party badly needs.

Ex-Gov. Patterson, of Colo., has been telling his many friends in Washington that the largely increased and constantly increasing gold production of his state has not altered the universal sentiment of its people in favor of the free coinage of silver at at 16 to 1. He made this prediction of the next democratic National Convention: "It will be held in Chicago; it will reaffirm the platform of '96, without the dotting of an "i" or the crossing of a "t"; it will nominate Bryan by acclamation, and it will be the most unanimous National convention ever assembled in the U. S."

It was at first intended that the National Committees of the democratic party, the people's party, and the silver republican party should unite in a joint address to the voters who are friendly to the free coinage of silver, but as some objection was raised to that course it was decided that each committee should issue an address to the voters of its own party, advising general co-operation of all the friends of silver in this year's Congressional campaign, and this week the three addresses were made public. The first time that the full effect of this co-operation will be seen will be in Oregon, where the congressional elections will be held in June, and the campaign is already practically begun. The issue is going to be squarely made in that state, and the silver men are confident of winning.

Miss Allie Murphy, of Watertown, spent Sunday with Delano friends.

George Barth came home from St. Thomas college, sick, Monday evening. He hopes to able to return soon.

Jeff Bonner, of Rockford, made Delano a visit Monday.

What To Eat For March.

"What To Eat" now comes forward with a proposition to give a three months' course in College to any one sending in four yearly subscribers at $1 00 each. Full particulars given on request. 10 cents a copy. $1.00 a year. Ask at the News Stands, or Address, What To Eat, Minneapolis, Minn.

Advertise

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply In All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.

A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.

A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year. Send for sample; agents wanted.

Published weekly by the Silver Knight Publishing Co., WASHINGTON, D. C.

Among Our Exchanges.

Oregon Agriculturalist and Rural Northwest:—The value of the eggs handled in Chicago last year, figured at 12½ cents per dozen, was $7,360,881.

Prison Mirror: A medical gentleman recently stated in part that the shaking of hands is a prolific method of transmitting disease. He might also have added that the "shaking" of evil companions is a safe panacea for the avoidance of mortal disease.

World: Between the "Old Ironsides" that has stayed on top of the water for nearly a hundred years and the new iron clads that go down like a broken kettle under a hard blow from without or within, the sailors will begin to think the "ribs of oak" preferable.

Minneapolis Times: David B. Hill is said to be contemplating a rediscovery of himself. Mr. Hill has been so stubbornly unobtrusive for more than a year that his reappearance would be a curious if not an important event. The great question with Mr. Hill previous to exploring his onceness is what to say when he brings himself out. Which shall it be? "I am a democrat," "I was a democrat," or "I wish I was a democrat."

Waseca Herald: The man who is now President of the United States, and who proposes "to more thoroughly commit the government to the gold standard," "to retire the greenbacks" and "make the present large volume of silver dollars redeemable in gold," is the same McKinley who, on Nov. 5, 1877, voted for the Bland 16 to 1 free coinage act as a member of the House; who voted for the silver bullion purchasing bills on February 21, 1888; who voted for the passing of the Bland-Allison Act over the veto of President Hayes on February 28, 1878; who reported and voted for the Sherman law of 1890; who on various and numerous occasions voted and spoke for free silver and advocated bimetallism and upheld in effect the very spirit and letter of the contract which he now repudiates.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

C. Blomstrom, Minneapolis, Hand-vise. S. Bloomer, Stillwater, Cloth-holder. T. Forstner, New Ulm, Pipe-wrench. C. E. Hanson, Two Harbors, Spring-support. R. Hearns, St. Paul, Sealing attachment for bottles. F. F. Kane, Waterville, Elevator or conveyor. L. D. Libbey, Duluth, Dredging and mining pump. D. H. Newton, Minneapolis, Starching-machine.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

SUBSCRIBE

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone. 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal And the Buffalo Gazette Both one year For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application,

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the Buffalo Gazette, Delano, Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

BUFFALO.

Dr. Ridgway, of Annandale, was in town Tuesday.

James Ryder spent several days of last week at the school of agriculture with Frank, who has been having the measles.

Stuart Walker, Charley Fogarty, and Frank Nagel, of the "U", spent Sunday in Buffalo.

Rev. F. T. Voris preaches his farewell sermon next Sunday evening.

A H. Grant is quite sick with the typhoid fever.

Charley Armstrong was brought beiore Judge Woolley last Monday and adjudged insane, and sent to Fergus Falls.

A very pleasant social was held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Voris last Friday evening by th Y. P. S. C. E.

C. E. Oakley and C. G. Roosen have gone to Mexico for a pleasure trip.

Rev. D. B. Jackson, of Minneapolis, representing the children's aid society, was in Buffalo and spoke in the churches last Sunday. We understand he found a home for the little boy he had with him in our village.

J. C. Fogarty has put in a gas light plant in his store and house which is said to be much cheaper and a great deal better than kerosene oil.

The afternoon passenger trains here have been late for several days now.

Last Saturday evening at a neighborhood dance out to Tim Leahy's, in Maple Lake town, Fred Flannigan aged about 16 or 18, stabbed Lawrence Mullen in such a manner that he will probably die. It appears to be the result of a family quarrel, as the boys of the two families are said not to have been on good terms for some time.

Independence Blast.

Last week's GAZETTE was toned up with good reading matter. Spread out Dr. and give us the best there is in the shop. Hew to the line and let the chips take care of themselves. We must have men who can go into the political fight without armor and shield. It seems that in both state and national affairs we are lacking of men with nerve and back bone. We want more men of the Andrew Jackson and Abraham Lincoln stamp. Such men as Mark Hanna would only be a suckling compared to Jackson and Lincoln. We have too many men who are after the fashion of the Gentile hog. Gold is their God and the earth only a hiding place for them.

Has been some little excitement in our neighborhood in regard to the blowing up of the battle ship Maine. Who did it? Is this a signal for war? Whether by accident or otherwise it has been a great loss of life and property. We hope an investigation of the matter in regard to the blowing up of the battle ship will bring to light the real cause of the explosion.

We believe there is a class of men in this country who would be glad to see a war inaugurated so they could make money and get gain by the spilling of the blood of their fellow man.

Spain is not foolish enough to undertake to fight us single handed. If she means fight, she has been promised help from other nations.

And it is a fact that the excitement of war always takes the precedence of everything else, and if a few men in this country could attract the attention toward a war, they would have a better chance to fool the people in other matters. Now days a person must look to every point of compass in order to get his bearings.

It has been but a little more than thirty years since we had a war, and the common people of this country are not anxious for another. unless our rights are maliciously trampled upon and wholly unprovoked by us. We have brave men, and men that will fight for home and fire side, for liberty and independence, but we do not care to fight for filthy lucre only. when all the spoils of war goes into the hands of the plutocrats.

For the benefit of those who read the GAZETTE in distant country, would say we had on last Saturday and Saturday night a blizzard that broke the record for the winter. The snow and wind came from the N. E. and we got it in double doses. We now have snow enough for domestic purposes but is piled up on the road in spots and there is no first class sleighing.

Since the blowing up of the battle ship Maine, the Klondike is not mentioned.

It seems our state politics is a mixture of war paint and fusion. The candidates of all parties are being groomed for the race and the home stretch will be a hard pull.

Town meeting will be here in a few days, but as yet there is no excitement in regard to the meeting.

INDEPENDENCE FARMER.

Hangs Himself.

COKATO, Minn., Special, Feb. 19.—Nels O. Molstergian, mail carrier from French Lake to Annandale and a well known farmer of French Lake, eleven miles north from this place, committed suicide by hanging himself in his barn. No cause is known.—Pioneer Press.

GAZETTE.

Latest News

Investigations are going on as to the cause of the blowing up of the Maine. Everything is being kept secret, but from outside sources news comes that it was no accident.

Everything seems to indicate a war with Spain in the near future. This may be a short affair and it may be of larger proportions than anyone is aware of. There may be more behind Spains' movements than is visible to the ordinary observation.

THE New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO. Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET The BUFFALO GAZETTE —AND— THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS needs no introduction. Its many special articles by noted writers have given it a world wide reputation. In short, it is one of the cleanest, brightest and best family papers published. No pains or expense will be spared in keeping up its present high standard.

Remember, that by taking advantage of this combination, you get 52 copies of the BUFFALO GAZETTE and 104 copies of THE FREE PRESS, 156 papers, for only $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE The Free Press YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 30,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

An accurate and superior book of Reference that tells you all you want to know. There will not be a useless page in it. A Practical Educator and Hand Book of Encyclopoedic Information on subjects Statistical, Official, Historical, Political and Agricultural; likewise a book of Religious Fact, and general Practical Directions on every day affairs of Office, Home and Farm.

A copy of this book will be sent to all subscribing immediately and sending 15 cents additional for mailing expenses, making $1.65 in all.

Do not delay, but take advantage of this remarkably liberal offer which we make for a limited time only, by special arrangement with the publishers. Remember we send both papers a full year for $1.50, and you can have a copy of the book by sending 15 cents additional.

Address BUFFALO GAZETTE, DELANO, MINN.

Many little fortunes have been made at work for us, by men in Page, Austin, Texas, and Jno. Bonn, Toledo, Ohio. See cut. Others are doing as well. Why not you? Some earn over $200.00 a month. You can do the work and live at home, wherever you are. Even beginners are easily earning from $5 to $10 a day. All ages. We show you how and start you. Can work in spare time or all the time. Big money for workers. Failure unknown amongthem. NEW and wonderful. Particulars free. H. Hallett & Co., Box 880 Portland, Maine

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

The proposed formation of a bloomer colony in Alaska is no doubt a clever ruse to stampede the miners from all the desirable claims.

A western paper modestly announces a demise as follows: "He was a regular bandit, seized the bag of silver, got a bullet and retired from business."

Several cases of stomach amputation have been reported in this country, but none of them tends to confirm the idea that the human stomach is a superfluous organ.

"Hold up, there!" said a policeman in cautionary call to a reckless driver in Chicago. Thereupon the driver dropped his lines, threw out his watch, and went into a trance.

An expert fooled a local electric burglar-proof safe by carrying off the noise on a set of wires. If this device can be applied to the boarding house piano, there is millions in it.

The gluttonous individual in Chicago who captured the championship belt for eating 84 eggs in 20 minutes, to use a nautical expression, can now afford to "lay to" for several days.

Speaking of German Rhine wine, the New York Tribune says: "A good deal of stuff is sold here under the name of Rhine wine which would eat the lining out of a blast furnace in about 20 minutes."

The concert of Europe has vanished everywhere except on the coast of China, where the musicians are playing solos in discordant keys. But the harmonic effects are no worse than they were in Greece.

Capt. Ray undoubtedly means well, and further than that he undoubtedly tells the truth, but Uncle Sam might as well make up his mind that nothing short of a Gatling gun and a few troops of cavalry will stop the Klondike rush.

A bill to tax bachelors two dollars a year, introduced in the New Jersey house, was referred to the committee on lunatic asylum. The author of the bill admits that he may have made a mistaken estimate of the value of bachelorhood.

Ex-Gov. Morrill, of Kansas, once said that his ambition was to create in Kansas the largest orchard in the world and leave it as a monument to his memory. That hope is about to be realized, as he has turned his farm over to a man with the stipulation that 65,000 fruit trees, mostly apple, are to be planted there.

Dogs are destined to play an important part in the affairs of the world from now on. The English foreign office has a serious question of dog-muzzling diplomacy to settle, Kentucky is struggling with the canine tax business, and it is impossible to reach Klondike without a spanking team of brindle pups.

The population of New York, according to the health department, is 3,438,899. That of London, by the census of 1894, was 4,349,000. New York is 1,000,000 smaller than London and 1,000,000 larger than Paris. It was once supposed that China had the largest cities, but Canton, the largest, is now credited with but 1,800,000.

A Paris letter says that the Americans will be given about 150,000 square feet at the exposition of 1900, for much of which we have to thank the late Moses P. Handy, who threw himself into the work with an ardor that hastened, possibly, his death. The government has decided to devote the space to the more important exhibits of American skill.

At no former period in the history of the Mormon people has that church been so active in proselyting as now. They are in every leading city in every state, and fairly swarm in the states of the south. A North Carolina paper says: "There are over 200 Mormon elders at work in this state, and they are making many proselytes, who are shipped at once to Utah."

New Jersey is far ahead of every other state in the construction of good roads. The reason is because the farmers are thoroughly enthusiastic on the subject and are rapidly having every road in the state macadamized. Until the farmers are interested and enthusiastic on the subject of good roads little will be done. It is astonishing to find them so indifferent in many states. They, of all persons, most need good country roads.

Perhaps there is nothing in a name, but the pictures painted by Fortuny seem to command good-sized fortunes. At the recent great Stewart art sale in New York city 23 of the artist's canvases were sold, and the sum realized amounted to no less than $132,435, or an average of $5,758 apiece, while one of them brought $42,000. It was a pretty stiff price for ten or twelve dollars' worth of paint and canvas, but art comes high these days, and the collector must have a long purse to secure valuable prizes. Long purses knock the "persimmons."

The cable news that Dr. George Waltemath, of Hamburg, Germany, has discovered the long-sought second satellite of the earth will be received with great interest by all astronomers. For centuries the idea that there might be a second moon attending the earth has been entertained by some astronomers. Various observations of circular spots seen crossing the surface of the moon and unknown luminous planets in the sky have been thought to lend probability to the theory that there is such a second moon attending our planet. If there is we will know it later.

At the top of the retired list of the United States navy stands the name of Rear Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge, Sr., and at the bottom that of his son, Rear Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge, Jr. The first left active service in 1866 and the latter recently. This interval of 32 years represents a little more than a generation. Between this father and son are 28 other retired rear admirals of the American navy. To the list will be added four more during this year, according to seniority. It is a striking coincidence that father and son should be upon the list at the same time.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

A resolution was introduced in the United States senate on the 17th for immediate and thorough investigation into the cause of the disaster to the battle ship Maine in the harbor of Havana. In the house a joint resolution was introduced appropriating $150,000 to aid the families of those lost in the Maine disaster. The bankruptcy bill was discussed.

The Maine disaster and the Cuban question occupied the entire day in the United States senate on the 18th. The resolution appropriating $200,000 for raising the battle ship Maine and saving what property could be saved was passed. Senator Mason (Ill.) bitterly attacked the policy of the administration in Cuban affairs and Senators Wolcott and Lodge openly rebuked him. Adjourned to the 21st. Aside from adoption of the resolution giving the secretary of the navy permission to use $200,000 in the work of raising the battle ship Maine, the day in the house was devoted to a continuation of the debate on the bankruptcy bill.

The United States senate was not in session on the 19th. In the house the bankruptcy bill, which contains both voluntary and involuntary features, was passed by a vote of 158 to 125.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The administration has decided, it is said, that another man-of-war should be sent at once to Havana to replace the Maine.

The president has ordered an immediate inquiry, and a naval board has been appointed to go to Havana at once to investigate and learn the cause of the disaster to the battle ship Maine. The total loss of life is now placed at 269, and the funerals of many of the victims took place in Havana.

In regard to the cause of the war ship Maine explosion nothing new has developed. The divers have not as yet begun their work at Havana. The navy department places the loss of life at 246, and 135 bodies have been recovered.

Consul-General Lee was notified by President McKinley that the United States would not accede to the request of Spain that a joint investigation be made into the Maine disaster. The first inquiry, it was decided, must be made by official representatives of this country.

THE EAST.

The Vizcaya, Spain's finest war ship, arrived in New York.

In the United States there were 295 business failures in the seven days ended on the 18th, against 295 the week previous and 303 in the corresponding period of 1897.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 18th aggregated $1,356,703,203, against $1,434,975,984 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 52.3.

Lillian M. N. Stevens, of Maine, will succeed the late Miss Frances Willard as president of the National Christian Temperance union.

Charles W. Knapp, of the St. Louis Republic, was elected president at a meeting in New York of the National Publishers' association.

On Handkerchief shoal, off Cape Cod, the barge Excelsior foundered, and four of the crew were drowned.

In the Broadway tabernacle in New York funeral services over the remains of Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the World's and National Woman's Christian Temperance union, took place. Final services will be held in Evanston, Ill.

Spain's war ship Vizcaya anchored in New York harbor and her ensign was placed at half-mast in regret for the Maine disaster.

The famous Irish comedian and song writer, William J. Scanlan, died in the Bloomingdale asylum in White Plains, N. Y., aged 42 years.

WEST AND SOUTH.

On the ranges in Colorado many cattle are dying because of bad weather.

Counterfeit ten-dollar national bank notes of the Hibernia national bank of New Orleans, series 1882, check letter B; Rosecrans, register; Nebeker, treasurer, were discovered.

Flames wiped out Iconium, a small town in Missouri.

The governor has granted a respite of 60 days to Chris Merry, the wife murderer, who was to have been hanged in Chicago.

At Decatur, Tex., Grant Carter (colored) was hanged for the murder of Floyd Colbey.

In a railway wreck at Hubbard, Ia., Engineer Hollander, Fireman Osborn and Brakeman Cross were killed.

A resolution was passed in the Cincinnati chamber of commerce to end the Cuban war.

The well-known evangelist, Rev. Sam Jones, has announced his candidacy for the governorship of Georgia.

A mob lynched John Kellog (colored), who assaulted a 14-year-old white girl named Roberts near Blanch, Ala.

On April 15 the National Baseball league season will open.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and Iowa were swept by the worst blizzard of the season.

At his home in Ionia, Mich., Bank Commissioner Josiah E. Just, aged 51, dropped dead from heart disease.

On the Erie railroad a special train ran from Salamanca, N. Y., to Newburg, O., a distance of 220 miles, in 208 minutes, making a new record.

At the age of 52 years John J. O'Neil, former congressman from the old Eighth district of Missouri, died in St. Louis.

In Chicago Adolph L. Luetgert's motion for a new trial was denied by Judge Gary and sentence of imprisonment for life for the murder of his wife was pronounced.

Fire destroyed the post office and store at Runsberg, Minn., and Postmaster Olaf Kartunen, who slept in the building, was cremated.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Later advices say that the destruction of the United States battle ship Maine in Havana harbor resulted in the death of 258 men. The total number of the crew was 354, and of these only 96 are now alive. Many of the survivors are suffering serious wounds and several more may die of their injuries. The cause of the explosion has not yet been ascertained, but an investigation is under way.

On the coast of the Gulf of Finland a mass of ice broke loose and carried to sea 200 fishermen and several horses.

Dispatches from Constantinople give accounts of the murder and torturing in the most horrible fashion of Bulgarians in Macedonian villages.

The Spanish government has officially disclaimed in positive manner the reflections contained in the De Lome letter, and it is officially announced by the state department that the incident is satisfactorily closed.

At the trial in Paris of M. Zola there were riotous proceedings and he narrowly escaped being lynched by the mob.

The Spanish minister of state in Madrid has been assured by Minister Woodford that the explanations by the Spanish government have satisfactorily closed the incident of the publication of Senor de Lome's private letter.

The firm of Caverhill, Hughes & Co., wholesale grocers in Montreal, failed for $100,000.

It is said that China has agreed to open all her inland waters to navigation by steamers from every nation.

LATER NEWS.

A bomb was exploded at the residence of M. Mestine, a former president of the French chamber of deputies. Serious damage was done, but no one killed. The police have discovered similar bombs in other parts of Paris.

The bill to increase the artillery by two regiments passed the senate by a vote of 52 to 4. The senate then passed a resolution directing the committee on naval affairs to ascertain if a ship to be equal to any in the world and to be named the George Washington can be built within one year in the United States shipyards.

Mr. Baker, the negro postmaster at Lake City, S. C., had his home fired by a mob, and while attempting to escape from the building with his child in his arms, both he and the child were shot and killed. His wife and two girls were wounded.

The British ship Asia, from Manila for Haverhill, Mass., is supposed to have been wrecked on the Nantucket shoals during the recent storm and her entire crew of probably twenty men have perished. The body of a man and a little girl were recovered from a portion of a floating hull near the Handkerchief lightship.

The premature explosion of a charge of dynamite in a stone quarry at Philadelphia killed three Italian workmen.

After a hard fight, the state populist convention at Indianapolis adopted a platform against fusion and nominated a complete state ticket.

The details of the wrecking expedition of the Maine have been completed. The tug Right Arm will proceed at once from Key West with three divers. The wreckers underwriters and the mammoth tug Monarch will follow with a total equipment of 100 men.

It is announced that the Chinese loan of 16,000,000 pounds ($80,000,000) has been arranged with the Hong Kong and Shanghai bank of London and the German Asiatic bank.

Three doctors and the chief nurse of the Red Cross organization of the United States have gone to Cuba, in response to a summons from Clara Barton.

There was a panic in London stock markets on account of the French occupation in West Africa.

The U. S. treasury the 21st had a gold reserve of $167,041,415.

The senate, by unanimous vote, passed a resolution providing for an investigation of the Maine disaster.

Spanish flags were torn down by workingmen at Columbus, O.

FROM THE PATENT OFFICE.

By a new device blind shutters can be automatically raised and lowered as the sun's rays shine or disappear, a thermostat being attached to the blind to close an electrical circuit and shut the blinds as the sun's rays become hot.

Envelopes can be quickly moistened by sealing and stamping by a handy new device, consisting of a water cup from which a wick rises to feed water to an absorbent roller, which turns and dampens the envelope as it is drawn between the roller and a fixed pad.

Electricity is used to destroy weeds in a new device which can be used on an ordinary mowing machine, one wire of the dynamo being attached to the cutting bar and the other grounded through one of the wheels, so that if the weeds are cut when damp a current of electricity enters each root and burns it as the top is cut.

Imprisoned miners can be supplied with food and air by a newly patented conduit system, consisting of a series of pipes to be laid through the mine shafts, with branch pipes running around each section to be used, if the main pipe should be crushed by a cave-in, flexible conveyors being run through the pipes to carry the food.

Bicycle tires can be automatically inflated when punctured by a new pump, consisting of a yoke, which encircles the tire and extends around the rim to support the piston-rod mounted in the cylinder attached to the rim. The yoke sinks in with each revolution as soon as the tire becomes soft, and gives a stroke on the piston, which is forced back again by a spring inside the pump.

Ships' bottoms can be cleaned without the necessity of docking by a newly patented apparatus, which is mounted on a small boat or scow and attached to the side of the ship to be cleaned, and has an adjustable ladder, at the outer end of which is mounted a revolving brush or scraper which is capable of reaching all parts of the bottom of the vessel.

Thorwaldsen's famous "Lion of Lucerne," cut in living rock, is crumbling and cracking away, owing to the infiltration of water in the sandstone cliff, of which it forms a part. It is to be preserved by isolating it from the main body of sandstone and draining the ground around it.

VISIT OF THE VIZCAYA.

Big Spanish Cruiser Arrives in the Port at New York.

Anchors Off Tompkinsville, S. I.—Precautions Taken by United States Authorities to Protect the Boat.

New York, Feb. 22. — The Spanish cruiser Vizcaya, in command of Capt. Eulate, came through the Narrows Sunday afternoon and anchored off Tompkinsville, S. I., where she is closely guarded by navy yard tugs and police patrol boats. The Vizcaya has been lying outside of the bar since Friday night and was unable to come into the harbor, owing to the dense fog and rainstorm which have prevailed for over 48 hours.

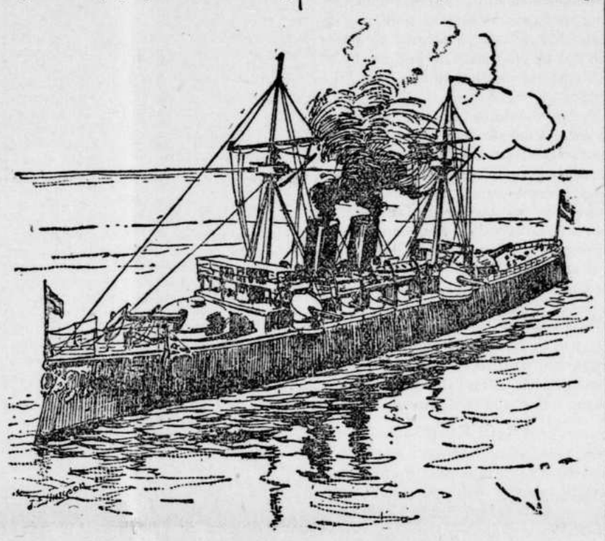
Greetings Exchanged.

At 3:35 o'clock the big vessel reached her anchorage ground and dropped her mudhook. As soon as she was anchored several boats in the vicinity made toward her, but they were quickly warned off by the naval vessels and backed away to a respectable distance. The Undine, with Lieut. Ward aboard, then made its way alongside, and that officer, dressed in full uniform, ascended the gangway which was lowered on the port side. As soon as he reached the deck he was greeted by the Spanish commander, to whom he tendered, in the name of Admiral Bunce, the courtesies of the port, which is the usual formality whenever a foreign war vessel arrives in American waters. Lieut. Ward remained on board about a quarter of an hour, and as he descended the gangway, on his return to the Undine, the royal Spanish ensign was put at half mast. This was the first sign that the spectators afloat and ashore were given that the visiting craft was aware of the disaster in Havana harbor. Capt. Eulate ordered the flag at half mast as a token of regret for the death of the American sailors.

Big Cruiser Well Guarded.

The feeling which prevails among a great many people in this vicinity that the American battle ship was destroyed deliberately by enemies of the United States prompted the naval authorities to guard against any possible harm being done to the visiting Spaniard at the hands of fanatics.

Rear Admiral Bunce, commandant of the New York navy yard, received orders from Washington last week to establish a careful and well-appointed patrol to guard against any such emergency. The commandant immediately put himself in communication with Chief of Police McCullagh and appointed Lieut. John A. Dougherty, of the navy, to take charge of the protective patrol. Chief McCullagh responded immediately and informed Rear Admiral Bunce that he had instructed Capt. Smith, of the harbor police, to hold himself in readiness and supply the desired number of patrolmen to assist in guarding the visiting vessel. The navy yard tugboats Nina and Narkeeta, in charge of Capts. Bell and Cantain, respectively, were immediately placed at the disposal of Lieut. Dougherty. Lieut. W. C. Neville, of the marine corps, received instructions to take command of 38 men, one first sergeant, three sergeants, three corporals and 31 private marines, who will relieve each other in four-hour watches during the entire stay of the Spanish cruiser.



THE SPANISH CRUISER VIZCAYA, NOW ANCHORED IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

Results of the Disaster.

Washington, Feb. 19.—The navy department has compiled the following summary showing the total results of the Maine disaster from all available official information up to the close of the department Friday night:

Total officers and men on board Maine, 355; total officers, 26; total men, 329; total officers saved, 24; total men saved, 76; total officers lost, 2; total men lost, 246; total officers injured, 0; total men injured, 57. Doubtful men, 7. The seven men appearing as doubtful probably represent that number, or less, whose lives have been saved but who cannot be identified at present on account of errors in the transmission of telegrams. The 57 appearing as injured are included in the 76 appearing as saved. Two men reported as having died in hospital are included in the total of 246 appearing above as having been lost.

Magazine Intact.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 21.—It is learned from what may be considered a semi-official source that the divers sent down on behalf of the United States to examine the wreck of the battle ship Maine have made a preliminary report of the result of their work. Incredible as it may seem, it is stated that after a partial examination of the magazines of the Maine the divers report that the one in which the explosion is supposed to have occurred is intact. According to this information, the contents of the magazine are unharmed.

Defense of Sheriff Martin.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 22.—The case for the defense in the trial of Sheriff Martin and his deputies was opened Monday. A number of witnesses were called who testified to the riotous behavior of the strikers before they started out on their march to Lattimer.

For a New Battle Ship.

Washington, Feb. 19.—A bill appropriating $4,000,000 to provide a battle ship to replace the Maine was introduced in the house Friday by Mr. Foote, of New York.

OFFICERS OF THE VIZCAYA.

Not to Receive Social Courtesies Planned by the Government.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The social courtesies which the government intended to extend to the officers of the Vizcaya have been abandoned on account of the Maine catastrophe. As a result the stay of the Vizcaya at New York probably will be materially shortened, and she is likely to sail within the next three days, probably on Thursday next. The ship probably will proceed direct to Havana, not stopping at Charleston or other ports, as has been suggested during the earlier preparations. The Vizcaya will not coal at New York, according to the understanding here, nor will it be necessary for her to take coal before reaching Havana. This determination gives relief to the authorities here, as the taking on of coal in time of public excitement is attended with more or less risk, the coal affording an opportunity to extremists for the secretion of explosives, despite the utmost precaution that may be taken.

New York, Feb. 22.—Capt. Eulate and four of his officers were brought to the city Monday from the Vizcaya by Lieut. J. A. Dougherty, United States navy, on the tug Narkeeta. On arrival at the Spanish consulate Capt. Eulate was received by Consul Baldasano. Several prominent Spanish residents of this city were introduced to Capt. Eulate, and after a brief reception the captain, the consul-general and their attendants crossed over the Brooklyn bridge to the navy yard. A large crowd was outside the Spanish consulate, but there was no demonstration. At the navy yard Capt. Eulate paid his respects to Admiral Bunce, the attendant, and was received with the usual honors. The ceremonies were brief and the Spanish party soon returned to the consulate. Capt. Eulate also visited Governor's island and paid his respects to Gen. Merritt, United States army.

Capt. Eulate, accompanied by Consul-General Baldasano, called on Mayor Van Wyck in the afternoon. The visitors were ushered into the mayor's office without delay. The consul approached the mayor's desk. Mayor Van Wyck arose and the consul stepped forward and introduced Capt. Eulate. Mayor Van Wyck bowed low to the captain, but did not offer his hand, and he did not speak a word. Capt. Eulate bowed a few inches lower than the mayor did, and then there was an awkward silence. The consul looked around at the reporters, and, turning to the mayor, he said: "Mr. Mayor, I see you have many gentlemen waiting to see you, so we will bid you good day." The mayor bowed again, and the interview was ended. The captain and the consul turned and walked out to their carriage unattended.

NEW SPANISH MINISTER.

Senor Polo de Bernabe Appointed to Succeed De Lome.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The following dispatch, announcing the appointment

SENOR POLO DE BERNABE.
[New Spanish Minister at Washington.]

of a minister from Spain, was received at the state department Thursday:

"Madrid, Feb. 17.—Secretary Sherman—Have just received official communication from Spanish minister of foreign affairs that the queen regent has signed decree appointing Senor Polo de Bernabe minister from Spain to the United States.

"WOODFORD."

Spain Has a Report.

Madrid, Feb. 22.—The admiral commanding at Havana telegraphs that the Spanish official investigations of the catastrophe to the Maine terminated Monday, and that the first exploration made by official divers has shown that the disaster was quite accidental and not caused by any exterior cause. Premeir Sagasta in person conveyed the official telegrams to the palace, where the queen regent expressed satisfaction on hearing the result of the investigation.

Librarians Confer.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—The first interstate librarians' conference of the central western states opened at the Orrington Lunt library, Northwestern university, Monday afternoon. Delegates were present from Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Indiana. Dr. Henry Wade Rogers, president of Northwestern university, welcomed the delegates and spoke strongly in favor of librarians organizing a permanent organization.

BOARD OF INQUIRY.

Begins Its Work of Investigating Cause of Maine Disaster.

Havana, Feb. 22.—The board of inquiry into the Maine disaster met on the lighthouse tender Mangrove at ten o'clock Monday morning with Capts. Sampson and Chadwick and Lieut. Commanders Potter and Marix present. Capt. Sampson presided, and Lieut. Commander Marix, recently executive officer of the Maine, acted as recorder. Capt. Sigsbee, the commander of the Maine, was the first witness called. He was under examination until one o'clock p. m., at which hour an adjournment was taken. Capt. Sampson said in the course of an interview after the session of the board:

"I would be glad to give the news, but owing to the delicate situation the board has decided to make nothing whatever public. I do not know what testimony may develop or when, and it is only fair to the Spanish government not to tell the public the testimony until all has been received and the findings have been considered. You may say that this rule is absolute. Due care will be taken for the rigid enforcement of it, and all stories purporting to come from the court should be set down as false. I have no idea as to how long the court will remain here. No one is authorized to fix the time, as the members themselves do not know. I shall give to the press such routine news of the proceedings as is proper."

Monday afternoon the court of inquiry personally inspected the wreck of the Maine. By their invitation Capt. Peral, appointed by the Spanish government as a special judge to investigate the disaster, and his secretary viewed the divers at work. Capt. Peral expressed his appreciation of the courtesies shown to him by the court of inquiry.

Monday the divers found a copper cylinder used in conveying charges to the six-inch guns. The fact that it had exploded seems to show that there was an explosion in the magazine for fixed ammunition on the port side forward. A number of bodies were discovered in the forward hatch. Consul-General Lee says the Spanish officials are not interfering with the investigation into the causes of the disaster.

Capt. Sigsbee, on board the Mangrove, told the correspondent that he was quite pleased with the examination and that he was able to answer all the questions asked, not only as to his own acts, but as to those of his subordinates on the Maine.

SPAIN APOLOGIZES.

Does Not Share in De Lome's Reflections on the President.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Spain has officially disclaimed in positive manner the reflections contained in the De Lome letter, and as officially announced by the state department Thursday the incident is satisfactorily closed. The statement given out is as follows:

The following is an abstract of a note sent Wednesday evening by the Spanish government to Minister Woodford at Madrid: "The Spanish government, on learning of the incident in which Minister Dupuy de Lome was concerned and being advised of his objectionable communication, with entire sincerity laments the incident which was the cause of the interview with the minister, states that Minister De Lome had presented his resignation and it had been accepted before the presentation of the matter by Minister Woodford. That the Spanish ministry, in accepting the resignation of a functionary whose services they have been utilizing and valuing up to that time, leaves it perfectly well established that they do not share and rather, on the contrary, disauthorize the criticisms tending to offend or censure the chief of a friendly nation, although such criticisms had been written within the field of friendship, and had reached publicity by artful and criminal means. That this meaning had taken shape in a resolution by the council of ministers before Gen. Woodford presented the matter, and at a time when the Spanish government had only vague telegraphic reports concerning the sentiments alluded to. That the Spanish nation, with equal and greater reason, affirms its views and decisions after reading the words contained in the letter reflecting upon the president of the United States.

"As to the paragraph concerning the desirability of negotiations of commercial relations, if even for effect, and importance of using a representative for the purpose stated in Senor Dupuy de Lome's letter, the government expresses concern that in the light of its conduct, long after the writing of the letter, and in view of the unanswerable testimony of simultaneous and subsequent facts, any doubt should exist that the Spanish government has given proof of its real desire and of its innermost convictions with respect to the new commercial system and the projected treaty of commerce.

"That the Spanish government does not now consider it necessary to lay stress upon or to demonstrate anew the truth and sincerity of its purpose and the unstained good faith of its intentions.

"That publicly and solemnly the government of Spain contracted before the mother country and its colonies a responsibility for the political and tariff changes which it has inaugurated in both Antilles the natural ends of which, in domestic and international spheres, it pursues with firmness which will ever inspire its conduct."

ZOLA TO THE JURY.

In His Address He Says He Is Defending the Truth.

Paris, Feb. 22. — M. Zola, during the trial on Monday, addressed the jury. He said:

"I am not defending my liberty, gentlemen, in presenting myself to you. I am defending the truth. Look me in the face, gentlemen. Have I been bought or am I a traitor? I am a free writer who intends to resume his vocation and again take up his interrupted labors. I indignantly protest against the charge of being an Italian. No, I am not defending my liberty. Condemn, then, if you wish. It will be but an additional error. It will be the seed which will germinate and prevent France from falling into indifference. If the country is in trouble, the fault lies with the government, who, in the hope of saving some culprit, had tried to prevent the truth from coming into the light of day. The very life of the people is at stake. It is for you, gentlemen of the jury, to utter the truth upon this affair and render justice."

M. Zola dwelt upon the fact that the entire people had been thrown into painful anguish through doubts of the guiltiness of Dreyfus and said:

"The government, who know all, and who, like you, are convinced of the innocence of Dreyfus, will one day make it known and will publish it without running any risk."

Then, raising his voice, M. Zola three times proclaimed the following:

"Before all the world I swear Dreyfus is innocent!" Loud murmurs and hisses from the back of the court greeted this utterance. M. Zola concluded by saying: "The day will come when France will thank me for saving her honor." (Prolonged uproar.)

Revenue Collections.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The monthly statement of the government collection of internal revenue shows that the total collections during January last amounted to $12,335,927, an increase over January, 1897, of $1,184,596. For the seven months ended January 31 last there was a decrease of $5,990 as compared with the same period last year.

Very Painful

Could Not Move without Great Suffering—Hood's Cured.

"My shoulders and arms were very painful with rheumatism so that I could hardly move them without great suffering. I have taken four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and now find myself free from rheumatism." MRS. MARY A. TUCKER, 454 Ninth St., Red Wing, Minn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.
Hood's Pills cure sick headache. 25c.

A GREAT TIDE OF PROSPERITY.

Canadian Loan Companies Getting Money on Mortgages That Had Been Written Off.

Probably in the history of the continent there never was such a tide of prosperity enjoyed by any country as the Dominion of Canada is being favored with. That portion of Canada known as Western Canada is attracting thousands of people who are seeking homes on the arable lands of that new but rapidly developing country. Possessed of exceptionally good railroad privileges, the best school system in the world, churches in every small settlement, while in the towns and cities all denominations are represented, and with markets in close proximity to the grain fields, most of the requirements for a comfortable existence are met. The development that is now taking place in the mining districts gives an impulse to agriculture and good prices, with good crops, being about a state of affairs that the crowded districts of more populous centers are taking advantage of. The Associated Press dispatches a few days since had the following telegram:

Toronto, Feb. 4.—(Special)—Loan companies that made advances on Manitoba property years ago report that the returns from the west during the past three months have exceeded expectations. One company has taken from Manitoba over $20,000 interest, and discharged mortgages many of which had been written off a year ago. Directors of the leading loan companies are taking a greater interest in the business of their institutions, and are inquiring into many properties on which advances have been made.

The climate in the Western provinces of Manitoba, Alberta, Assiniboia and Saskatchewan is excellent, there being no healthier anywhere. The Canadian government is now offering special inducements for the encouragement of settlers, and they have their agents at work throughout the United States for the purpose of giving information and distributing literature. Among those going to Canada are many ex-Canadians, who have failed to make as good a living as they expected in the United States.

High Lights.

Thirteen oysters in one plate of soup means bad luck for the other guests at the table.

The man whose wife belongs to five clubs always goes home entertaining serious apprehensions about dinner.

Amiability rules in large families when the girls are so many different sizes that they can't wear one another's clothes.

When a woman is sure she is alone in the house she eats an orange after digging a little hole in one end of it with her scissors.—Chicago Record.

Any one troubled with dandruff should send to Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., makers of "Cocoaine," for their pamphlet on the subject. It will be found interesting and instructive; moreover, it costs nothing.

You can tell a good deal about a man by the kind of team he drives.—Washington Democrat.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

When a girl goes on the street to look for her steady, everybody knows it.—Atchison Globe.

Actors, Vocalists, Public Speakers praise Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

However sad a man may feel, he loses his look of sadness when eating a good dinner.—Atchison Globe.

Piso's Cure for Consumption relieves the most obstinate coughs.—Rev. D. Buchmueller, Lexington, Mo., Feb. 24, '94.

The weakness of others increases our confidence in ourselves.—N. Y. Weekly.

Disfigured from a bruise? No; not When St. Jacobs Oil cures it. No chance.

Pleasure soon palls when it costs nothing.—Ram's Horn.

A treasure laid up is St. Jacobs Oil. It cures the worst Neuralgia.

A writing teacher never knows anything about grammar.—Washington Democrat.

Disability is made ability to work from The cure of Lumbago by St. Jacobs Oil.

Humbug—A bug that always preys upon the unwary.—Chicago Daily News.

A big investment for a workingman is St. Jacobs Oil. It cures rheumatism.

Spinster—Either a boy with a top or an elderly unmarried lady.

Young Womanhood.

Sweet young girls! How often they develop into worn, listless, and hopeless women because mother has not impressed upon them the importance of attending to physical development.

No woman is exempt from physical weaknessand periodical pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be guided physically as well as morally.

If you know of any young lady who is sick and needs motherly advice, ask her to address Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell every detail of her symptoms, surroundings and occupations. She will get advice from a source that has no rival in experience of women's ills. Tell her to keep nothing back. Her story is told to a woman, not to a man. Do not hesitate about stating details that she may not wish to mention, but which are essential to a full understanding of her case, and if she is frank, help is certain to come!

Oats 231 Bu. pr. A. Wheat 40c. a Bu.
How to grow wheat at 40c a bu. and 231 bus. oats, 173 bus. barley and 1600 bus. potatoes per acre, SEE OUR GREAT CATALOGUE mailed you with 11 grass seed samples, upon receipt of THIS NOTICE and 10 cents in stamps.
JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K 7)

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

A Beautiful Girl's Affliction.

From the Republican, Versailles, Ind.

The Tuckers, of Versailles, Ind., like all fond parents, are completely wrapped up in their children. Their daughter Lucy, in particular, has given them much concern. She is fifteen, and from a strong, healthy girl, three years ago, had become weak and kept falling off in flesh until she became a mere skeleton. She seemed to have no life at all. Her blood became impure and finally she became the victim of nervous prostration. Doctors did not help her. Most of the time she was confined to bed, was very nervous and irritable, and seemed on the verge of St. Vitus' dance.

"One morning," said Mrs. Tucker, "the doctor told us to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which he brought with him. He said he was treating a similar case with these pills and they were curing the patient. We began giving the pills and the next day could see a change for the better.

The doctor came and was surprised to see such an improvement. He told us to keep giving her the medicine. We gave her one pill after each meal until eight boxes had been used when she was well. She has not been sick since, and we have no fear of the old trouble returning. We think the cure almost miraculous."

FRANK TUCKER.
MRS. FRANK TUCKER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 28th day of April, 1897.
HUGH JOHNSON, Justice of the Peace.

These pills are wonderfully effective in the treatment of all diseases arising from impure blood, or shattered nerve force. They are adapted to young or old, and may be had at any drug store.

TOO OBLIGING.

A Housemaid's Effort to Please and Its Disappointing Result.

A young woman, whose home is in St. Paul, spent a few days in Washington the guest of a congressional family from New England. She had just returned from a six months' tour of Europe, and the traveling bag she carried was plastered over with steamer labels and stamps of half the famous hotels on the continent. She is not an ostentatious person, by any means, the St. Paul girl, but she certainly did set great store by that decorated bag, and gazed with pride on its collection of labels. Her charm of manner and the liberality of her tips, too, perhaps, completely won the heart of the trim New England housemaid of the congressional family. On the morning of the guest's departure for St. Paul the maid appeared at the door of her room, wreathed with smiles and holding the traveling bag in her hand.

"Here's your valise, miss," she said, gleefully. "I had some trouble with it, and it took quite a little soaking; but I knew you wouldn't want to start off with all those tags pasted all over it. I got 'em all off for you, and the valise just looks brand new."

And if you want to see a striking example of rage too deep for speech you have only to speak of New England neatness in the presence of one young woman from St. Paul.—Washington Post.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of One Hundred Dollars for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886. A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.
[Seal]

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Alternative.

The police justice had formerly been a bar-tender. He had gone into politics and had been elected by a big majority. This was his first case. Mary McMannis was up before him for drunkenness. The justice looked at her a minute and then said sternly:

"Well, what are you here for?"

"If yer please, yer honor," said Mary, "the copper beyant pulled me in, sayin' I was drunk. An' I don't drink, yer honor; I don't drink."

"All right," said the justice, his former bartender habit getting the best of him; "all right; have a cigar."—Detroit Free Press.

Florida and South-Dixie Flyer Route.

Double Daily Sleepers between Nashville and Jacksonville, via Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon and Tifton. Buffet Sleeper between St. Louis and Charleston, via Nashville, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Augusta. For information concerning rates to Winter Resorts, Land and Home-seekers Excursions South, Sleeping Car reservation, etc., apply to Briard F. Hill, N. P. Agt. 328 Marquette Bldg. Chicago, or J. H. Mittler, N. W. P. Agt. Box 609 St. Louis, Mo. For pamphlets regarding lands and resources of country traversed by Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, address J. B. Killebrew, Immigration Agent, Room 75 Chamber of Commerce, Nashville, Tenn.

She Was Rattled.

A young girl, an ardent admirer of Mme. Melba, at a reception given for the latter, was so completely overcome when it came her turn to have a word with the prima donna, that, blushing crimson and looking up with a sweet smile, she murmured: "You sing, I believe?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

No Klondike for Me!

Thus says E. Walters, Le Raysville, Pa., who grew (sworn to) 252 bushels Salzer's corn per acre. That means 25,200 bushels on 100 acres at 30c a bushel equals $7,560. That is better than a prospective gold mine. Salzer pays $400 in gold for best name for his 17-inch corn and oats prodigy. You can win. Seed potatoes only $1.50 a barrel.

SEND THIS NOTICE AND 10 CTS. IN STAMPS to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and get free their seed catalogue, and 11 new farm seed samples, including above corn and oats, surely worth $10, to get a start. K 7

Useless Study.

Teacher (severely)—Tommy Smith, come here! Why haven't you learnt your geography lesson?

Tommy—'Cause the papers say there's going to be a change in the map of Europe.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Handsome Metal Paper Cutter and Book Mark Combined

Sent free of postage under sealed cover on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps. The latest, best and most serviceable adjunct of every library and office. Address Geo. H. Heafford, 410 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill.

Almonds and Smilax.

A good deal is said and written about society, but all there is to it is salted almonds and smilax.—Atchison Globe.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

The inventor of suspenders that will not pull the buttons off will have a bigger fortune than a shareholder in Klondike.—Washington Democrat.

A big man with a soprano voice sounds just as funny as a little man with a deep bass voice.—Washington Democrat.

Women whose clothes do not look like it, are very particular about their dressmakers.—Washington Democrat.

When a boy can't think of anything else to do he eats something.—Washington Democrat.

ALWAYS SOME ONE BELOW.

On the lowest round of the ladder
I firmly planted my feet,
And looked up in the dim, vast distance
That made my future so sweet.

I climbed till my vision grew weary.
I climbed till my brain was on fire.
I planted each footstep with wisdom,
Yet I never seemed to get higher.

For this round was glazed with indifference
And that one was glazed with scorn,
And when I grasped firmly another
I found under velvet a thorn.

Till my brain grew weary of planning,
And my heart strength began to fail,
And the flush of the morning's excitement
Ere evening commenced to pale.

But just as my hands were unclasping
Their hold on the last-gained ground,
When my hopes, coming back from the future,
Were sinking again in the ground,

One who had climbed near the summit
Reached backward a helping hand,
And, refreshed, encouraged and strengthened,
I took once again my stand.

And I wish—oh, I wish—that the climbers
Would never forget as they go
That, though weary may seem their climbing,
There is always some one below.
—Ella Higginson, in Journal of Education.

THE RUBY HEART.

AUNT JESSICA had beeen round the world more than once. She had been what is vulgarly called a "globe trotter." In her day she had collected many rare and curious and beautiful things; but now she was an old woman, and her time was come to die in the great silent house, filled with the furniture that had belonged to Aunt Jessica's forbears many score years ago, and enriched by the spoils of many lands, brought home by the energetic hands of Aunt Jessica herself.

There was one treasure above all that I coveted, and that I would have sold my soul to have had for my own—my cousin Edith.

As for the money, well, I am not more disinterested than most people; but I would rather have had Edith without a penny than all Aunt Jessica's money without Edith.

William and Bertram and I were sitting in the dining-room. Edith was above, helping poor aunt in the hard work of dying. Three raps came on the floor. We knew they were a signal that we were to go up, and that aunt had asked for us, and up we went.

"I have left everything divided among you four," she said; "and the ruby heart is to go to whichever of you three boys can find it." She spoke slowly and with difficulty.

I remembered the jolly old days when she used to come and see us at school and tip us, and I wished that death and time could have been more merciful. She went on:

"You know it has a charm to make you happy in your love. It would have made me happy, but he died, and it hadn't a chance to do its work; and now my time's come—it has been weary waiting."

And with that—the first and last hint we ever had of a romance in my aunt's life—she turned her wrinkled old face to the pillow with a sigh like a tired child's and there were only four of us left in the room.

After the funeral and the reading of the will we three men set to work to find the charm.

"I shall take the library and aunt's bedroom first," said Bertram. As these were the rooms she had most used, I imagined he thought he had made the best choice. "You other fellows can arrange as you like!"

William chose the drawing-room and the guest chamber, and they took the whole day searching systematically inch by inch for the ruby heart. I began to look in the dining-room, but Edith came in.

"Do you care so very much for the ruby heart?" she said.

"I confess I should like to find it," I answered.

"Shall I help you to look?"

She pulled out a book or two from the shelves in an aimless, desultory way, and then said:

"It's very sunshiny out of doors, don't you think?"

So we went on the river.

The next day I began to look for the heart again. Edith sent her duenna companion (who had once been her governess) to ask me if I did not think it would be nice to drive. Of course I said I thought it would, and off we went.

That evening she asked Bertram and William if they would like to come out next day to see some ruins.

"Thanks," said Bertram, "but I think my first duty to my poor aunt's memory is to find that heart."

"Besides," said William, who never had much sentiment, like Bertram, "it's worth thousands of pounds, I believe."

"To say nothing of the charm," I added.

"But you'll come, Wilfrid?" she said, looking at me with her soft gray eyes.

"Of course," I answered.

Bertram and William scowled at me. They would have given their ears, their lives, anything, in short, but their chances of a ruby heart worth thousands of pounds for the privilege that was to be mine to-morrow.

To be in love with Cousin Edith was a mode, a fashion among us. Besides, Edith was now an heiress.

"As soon as I have fulfilled dear aunt's last wishes," said Bertram—he talked, the silly fool, as if aunt had wished him to find the heart—"I shall be only too glad to accompany my Cousin Edith on any excursion she may propose."

"So shall I," said William.

So Edith and I went to the ruins alone together.

"I hope it does not seem like disrespect to poor aunt's memory," she said, as we drove snugly back in the dog cart that evening, "our going out like this. But I couldn't bear to stay in the old house alone where she was so kind to me. It's better to go out, and I'm sure she would have wished it."

I felt that it was foolish of me not to make an effort to find the ruby heart. So next morning I got up very early and came down before the servants were about. I had pulled out half the drawers of the Chinese cabinet and looked into them, when my heart leaped into my mouth at the touch of a hand on my shoulder—Edith's!

"Still after that wretched ruby!" she said. "How you waste your time!"

"Why? Don't you think I shall find it?"

"I don't know," she said, looking at me with her eyes wide open, "but I don't think you will find it there, because Bertram has been through that three times already. Did you ever eat strawberries before breakfast and gather them yourself."

So we went into the kitchen garden and ate strawberries till the gong rang for breakfast. Bertram and William were getting quite sulky and savage from the non-success of their search, and the little time I had devoted to it annoyed them.

"I believe," said Bertram, with an air of gayety, a little overdone, "that Wilfrid thinks he knows where the heart is, and that he can put his hand on it at any moment."

"I wish I could," I said.

"So do I," said Edith, almost in the same breath.

"You wish Wilfrid to find the heart!" said William. "Why?"

"Oh, no. I don't mean Wilfrid; I meant—at least— Well, we shall all be glad when it's settled one way or the other, shan't we?"

I had never told Edith I loved her, because I didn't know how my aunt was to leave her money, and if Edith was to be heiress of the whole—but anyone will understand my reasons.

It was a week after aunt's funeral that I went into the rose garden, where Edith was snipping roses into a basket.

"I've been looking for the heart again," I said, "but I haven't found it."

"No," she answered, "and I don't suppose you will. Would a Gloire de Dijon be any compensation?"

She began to stick one in my coat as she spoke. Her slender waist, in its black gown, was very near my left arm where she stood.

"I will take the bud," I said, "but not as compensation for the heart."

"Don't you think," she asked me, "that it might be possible to live happily without a charm to help you?"

"No," I said, "not without a charm to help you. But ruby hearts are not the only charms in the world."

My arm fell on her waist.

"Let them find their ruby heart! Let them chop it into pieces and divide it between them and sell the bits," said I.

"And you are content with what you have?" she asked.

"I am content with what I have," I answered, and my other arm went around her.

They never found that ruby heart, though the old house was tapped and tested from top to bottom. At last, wearied out, they took the portion of goods that fell unto them, and went, fortunately for us, into a far country. And Edith and I were married.

We didn't go on a wedding tour, but came straight back to the dear old house.

On the evening of our wedding day we walked in the moonlight through the rose garden to listen to the nightingales. I stopped to hold her in my arms, on the very spot where I had first kissed her, and the light shawl she wore round her head and shoulders fell back.

"What's that you have round your neck?" I said, for something darkened the white laces on her breast.

She did not answer. I put up my hand, touched with a thrill the whiteness of her neck, and found in my fingers the ruby heart!

"Then she gave it to you," I said; "it is yours?"

"She gave it into my keeping," answered Edith, dropping her chin till her lips rested on my hand; "but she left it to the man who should find it."

"And I have found it—here!"—The Argosy.

Some Bon-Mots of Wit.

When Brummell made his midnight flitting to Bologne at the suit of the Jews, Lord Alvanley remarked complacently: "Brummel has done quite right to be off; it was Solomon's judgment." Alvanley gave many proofs of generosity to acquaintances in distress. One of those he had assisted was the well-known Jack Talbot, a reckless prodigal, who had repeatedly borrowed of him. When Talbot was beggared and lying on his deathbed, Alvanley met his doctor and inquired about the invalid. The answer was: "My lord, I fear he is in a bad way. I had to use the lancet." "You should have tapped him, doctor," said Alvanley, cooly. "I fear he has more claret than blood in his veins." That reminds one of Talleyrand's remark on his old friend Montrond, who once declared that he was suffering the torments of the damned: "What, already?" More excusable was Alvanley's expostulation when he had been persuaded to dine with the eccentric millionaire, Neeld, in his new mansion in Grosvenor square. The host, with the vulgarity of a nouveau riche, was expatiating on the sumptuous decorations of the apartment, and, in the words of Milton, "letting dinner cool." "I don't care what your gilding cost," said Alvanley, bluntly, "but I am most anxious to make a trial of your carving, for I am famished."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Rash Man.

When she saw his look of determination she was afraid.

"I pray you," she cried, "do nothing rash! Take time to think!"

"I have sworn!" he answered. "I must keep my vow."

"What have you sworn?" she demanded. "Tell me. I would know the worst."

He seized her by the arm with such force that she could hardly refrain from crying out.

"I made a vow," he said, slowly and impressively, "that if you refused me I would—"

"Go on!" she cried. "You would—what?"

"I would marry some other girl."

As he went out into the night she could see that fierce resolve was written all over his face.—Chicago Post.

Simple But Dainty Dresses for Baby.

Except for the christening-robe, the dresses, slips and wrappers are all made quite plain, but of the finest French nainsook. When laces and embroideries are used, only those of daintiest pattern and finest quality are in good taste. Plain hems at the bottom, hand-finished or hemstitched, are simple, babyish and always in good taste. In most dresses the trimmings are confined to the yoke, neck and sleeves, with perhaps a band of trimming to mark the waist-line. Many have the fullness at the back held in with a sash of the same material starting from each side of the fullness in the front of the waist, which makes a garment easy to launder and fashion.—Louise Merlon, in Woman's Home Companion.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

Everything Reported Correct.

The commission appointed last October by Gov. Clough for the purpose of investigating the treatment accorded convicts in the state prison has made a report. The commission found that none of the charges of cruelty to prisoners were substantiated, and exonerated the prison officials from any suspicion of improper treatment. After a thorough investigation of the prison and its management, the commission finds that the state is to be congratulated on the excellency of her penal institution, and not a single harsh criticism is passed upon the penitentiary or its officials.

The commission consisted of Judge Charles E. Flandrau of St. Paul, chairman; B. F. Farmer of Spring Valley, and A. M. Harrison of Minneapolis. Grossly inhuman treatment of prisoners was charged by a certain St. Paul newspaper, and Deputy Warden Lemon was especially accused. The commission was appointed by the governor for the investigation of these charges.

They Are Welcome.

There will be large additions to the Dunkards settlements in the Red river valley country in the early spring. The Great Northern railroad has already arranged to run three special trains to St. Paul to accommodate them. The present indications are that the new settlers will number over 2,000 people. This is larger than the movement last year, when about 1,500 settled in Northern Dakota. It is probable that the number will grow; additions are being constantly made to the number already listed for transportation. One special train will leave St. Paul March 23, another March 30, and a third one April 6. The people come from Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Missouri and other states.

Minnesota Butter.

Minnesota will be represented at the annual meeting of the National Creamery Butter makers at Topeka, Kas., by three coach loads of butter makers and 50 tubs of the state's best samples of butter. Minnesota has two places on the program. Prof. T. L. Haecker, of the state agricultural college, and H. E. Schuknecht, of Albert Lea, will take part. The 50 tubs from Minnesota are expected to score 95 points or better, and a prize of $3,000 is to be divided between all scoring that and over. Minnesota stood high last year, but butter men say her samples are better this year.

Postmaster Burned to Death.

The postoffice at Runeberg, six miles from Menahga, was burned, and Postmaster Olaf Kartunen was burned to death. He lived alone and slept in the building. No one knew of the fire until the next morning, when his body was found in the ruins.

News in Brief.

The elm hoop factory at the head of Lake Osakis is completed and will begin making hoops at once.

Walter Stewart, one of the best known freaks in the country, died in Minneapolis. He was born without legs or hands, yet he was a skillful wood carver and surprised museum audiences in almost every city in civilized countries.

Wm. Nordlinger, of Westfield, committed suicide by shooting. He had been sick for some time.

Gov. Clough has appointed J. F. Renmore, of Bemidji, as probate judge of Beltrami county, to fill the vacancy in that office caused by the death of Judge T. M. Rosely.

Tenants of the Security flats at Mankato are terribly enraged because the janitor threw a pet dog in the furnace and burned him up alive. The dog was a favorite of the tenants and belonged to Conductor Frank Root, of the Milwaukee road. The janitor has been discharged and he will be prosecuted for his inhuman act.

Hai Wing, the only Chinaman in Redwood Falls, was sandbagged in his laundry late one evening. He had received some money by express a day or so before, but the robber was unable to find it.

Captain J. Newcomb, of Winona, one of the veteran pilots on the upper Mississppi, has recently signed a two-year contract with the Yukon Transportation company, and he is to leave for Alaska at once.

Mrs. Anna Slepika, a Bohemian woman, died at Eastern, aged 105 years. It is said by her relatives and neighbors that she was spry and active and retained all her faculties to within two weeks of her death.

Warrants have been placed in the hands of the sheriff for the arrest of Joseph Houska and Wm. Seidelman, of Sauk Center. They are charged by Joseph Sechman, a Sauk Center farmer, with highway robbery. He says they waylaid him and robbed him of $1,100.

Mike Quinlan, famous at one time in Minneapolis as a detective, was killed at Skaguay while attempting to make an arrest.

The Georgia marble for the new state house has begun to arrive at St. Paul.

A company has been formed for the purpose of cutting a new canal through Minnesota Point to admit of easier entrance to the harbors of Duluth and Superior.

A postoffice has been established at Ellerth, Marshall county, with Edward Sagnes as postmaster.

John M. Bayer's farm house near Navon was burned, together with contents.

A terrible battle occurred in Goss' camp among a crowd of lumber jacks near Milaca, cantdogs and double bitted axes being used in the fight. Wm. Millmer and a Swede were badly cut and bruised, but no one was fatally injured.

While chopping timber near Rochester, Jacob Schnorr was seriously injured by a companion, the axe slipping and striking Schnorr forcibly in the fleshy part of the hip, cutting an ugly gash six inches long and five inches deep.

Geo. P. Ralberg, while working in a saw mill at Fosston, was instantly killed by falling on a slab saw. The body was badly mangled, the head and body being picked up on the opposite sides of the table.

The contract has been let for the construction of the approach to the Demers avenue bridge, East Grand Forks, recently destroyed by fire.

The retail merchants of Mankato have organized an association, its object being to prevent the distribution and consumption of adulterated and unwholesome goods, and to remove the use of fictitious labels.

FRANCES E. WILLARD DEAD.

W. C. T. U. President Passes Away in New York City.

New York, Feb. 18.—Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, died shortly after midnight Friday morning, at the Hotel Empire, this city. At the bedside of Miss Willard at the time of her death were here niece, Mrs. W. W. Baldwin; Mrs. L. M. M. Stevens, vice president of the W. C. T. U.; Miss Anna M. Gordon, Miss Willard's secretary, and Dr. Alfred K. Hill. Miss Willard had been ill for about three weeks.

New York, Feb. 21.—The funeral service over the remains of Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the World's and National Woman's Christian Temperance union, took place in the Broadway tabernacle Sunday. The service was held in this city by the official decree of the Women's Christian Temperance union. The church was crowded, among the attendants being many women from neighboring states, representing the state unions. A great number of floral tributes have been received, and these, together with palms, were used as decorations in the church.

FRANCES E. WILLARD.

Miss Willard's request that her funeral service be simple was carried out. Portions of the Scripture which Miss Willard loved to read were read, her favorite hymns were sung and the Methodist Episcopal funeral service was read. Rev. E. S. Tipple, pastor of St. James Methodist Episcopal church, was the principal officiating clergyman. He was assisted by Bishop John Newman and others. Presidents of state organizations, of which Miss Willard was the national head, were the honorary pall bearers.

New York, Feb. 22.—The body of Miss Frances E. Willard late president of the W. C. T. U., was removed from the home of her niece, Mrs. Woodward M. Baldwin, on Clinton place, at eight o'clock Tuesday night. It was taken to the Grand Central station, where it was placed in the observation room of a private coach attached to the 9:15 Chicago express. The car was especially tendered by the New York Central railroad to the W. C. T. U.

"Frances Elizabeth Willard was born in Churchville, N. Y., September 28, 1839. She was graduated at Northwestern Female college, Evanston, Ill., in 1859, became professor of natural science there in 1862, and was principal of Genesee Wesleyan seminary in 1866-67. The following two years she spent in foreign travel, giving a part of the time to study in Paris and contributing to periodicals. In 1871-74 she was professor of aesthetics in Northwestern university and dean of the Woman's college, where she developed her system of self-government, which had been adopted by other educators. Miss Willard left her profession in 1874 to identify herself with the Woman's Christian Temperance union, serving as corresponding secretary of the national organization till 1879, and since that date as president. As secretary she organized the home protection movement and sent an appeal from nearly 200,000 persons to the legislature of Illinois, asking for the temperance ballot for women. On the death of her brother, Oliver A. Willard, in 1879, she succeeded him as editor of the Chicago Evening Post. In 1888 she accepted the leadership of the White Cross movement in her own unions, which had obtained through her influence enactments in 12 states for the protection of women. In 1888 she was made president of the American branch of the International Council of Women and of the World's Christian Temperance Union, which she had founded five years before, and she was repeatedly reelected. Besides many pamphlets and contributions to magazines and the press, Miss Willard has published several volumes relating to temperance and other reforms."

Frances E. Willard practiced too closely the doctrine of humanity to lay up a great treasure on earth. The use of her estate, small as it is, will be divided between her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary B. Willard, of Berlin, Germany, and Miss Anna Gordon, who served Miss Willard so faithfully as private secretary, but it will go eventually to the Temple fund. There are only two items of particular value mentioned in Miss Willard's will. They are Rest cottage, Miss Willard's pretty home at Evanston, and $3,000 presented to her by the national officers of the Women's Christian Temperance union on her fiftieth birthday. The property at Evanston is valued at $16,000, making the estate worth $19,000.

Bankruptcy Bill Passed.

Washington, Feb. 21. — After four days of consideration the house on Saturday passed the bankruptcy bill reported by the house committee on judiciary as a substitute for the Nelson bill passed by the senate at the extra session last summer. The bill is known as the Henderson bill and contains both voluntary and involuntary features. It is considered less drastic than the measure passed by the last house by a vote of 157 to 87. The involuntary feature, however, had but 16 majority. Saturday a motion to strike out the involuntary feature was defeated by a majority of 19 and the bill was passed by a majority of 33, the vote standing: Ayes, 158; nays, 125.

Mardi Gras Festival.

New Orleans, Feb. 22.—The New Orleans carnival was opened Monday by Rex and his retinue. The river was covered with a brilliantly decorated flotilla when the royal yacht appeared with the King of Mirth. The three war ships in port, Austrian, French and American, were attractively dressed. The government revenue cutters participated. At night the Krewe of Proteus paraded, presenting a superb pageant, illustrating flights of fancy, painting the possibilities of the future. The brilliant ball and tableaux at the French opera house followed. Miss Laure Lanaux was the queen.

An Ultimatum Ready.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—The Times-Herald special from Washington says: President McKinley will within 60 days present to Spain a demand that the war in Cuba be stopped. It will be couched in friendly but firm language and may lead to a crisis, but probably not to hostilities. It will indicate that the patience of the United States is about exhausted, and will notify the Spanish government that this country is willing to aid in gaining peace.

LOVELIEST IN THE WORLD.

But It Seems That He Was Referring to Another Woman.

"I know what I am talking about," remarked a member of congress, "when I say that a congressman has troubles of his own. It's a fine thing to be a statesman and show up in the national parade of greatness at the capital, but there's a good deal more to it than that. And one of the things that is hardest to bear is what they say about us. Why, a lady can't come up here and ask to see a member that there aren't half a dozen people to wink and shake the head and a lot more of the same to make him wish all the women were in hades. Of course, there is some ground among us for remarks, just as there is among preachers and doctors and hod carriers and everybody else human, and I know a woman or two who find their chief delight in trying to involve congressmen and other officials in any kind of a flirtation that comes handy. They are pretty and persuasive, and before a man knows what he is about he is down in the senate restaurant paying for a lunch and listening to some kind of a tale of woe.

"But they miss it now and then, and I am glad to note an instance which occurred only a day or two ago. A member from a northern state had been invited to call at the lady's hotel the next day and she had asked him to let her know if he could come. He wrote saying among other things: 'Tomorrow, madam, I hope to see the loveliest woman in the whole world.' Naturally she was pleased and told all the people around the hotel about it. The next day he did not appear, and the next she saw him at the capitol and asked him what he meant by treating her so.

"'What did I do?' he asked, innocently.

"'You said you were coming to see me,' she said, blushing at the remembrance of his words.

"'I think not.'

"'Indeed, you did,' she insisted. 'You said you would see the loveliest woman in the world,' and she blushed again.

"'Oh, I beg your pardon,' he said, smiling, 'I meant my wife. She just arrived yesterday.'"—Washington Star.

Knew His Business.

"My dear, why are you applauding that piece?" asked Mrs. Snaggs, in a tone of remonstrance. "Don't you see no one else is applauding? It is beyond the performer's ability and not worthy of applause."

"I know that," replied Mr. Snaggs, "but we must applaud pieces like that in order to get something worth listening to in the encore."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Mutual.

Bank Clerk (scrutinizing check)—Madam, we can't pay this unless you bring some one to identify you.

Old Lady (tartly)—I should like to know why?

"Because we don't know you."

"Now, don't be silly! I don't know you, either."—Truth.

News for the Wheelmen.

The League of American Wheelmen numbers nearly 2,000 below the 100,000 mark within the last few weeks. In spite of this startling diminution, the maximum of health may be attained by those who use the comforting and thorough tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promotes digestion, a healthy flow of bile, regularity of the bowels, and counteracts kidney trouble. It is, moreover, a remedy for and preventive of malaria and rheumatism.

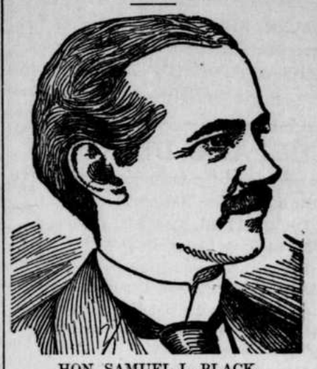
No Room to Turn.

"Did you ever turn over a new leaf the first of the year?"

"Gracious! no; we live in a flat."—Detroit Free Press.

MAYOR OF COLUMBUS.

The Executive of the Capital City of Ohio Speaks.



HON. SAMUEL L. BLACK.

Executive Department,
City of Columbus.

To Whom It May Concern:

I can most cheerfully recommend Pe-ru-na as of the very greatest possible benefit in cases of catarrh and other diseases of the mucous membrane. This remedy has established itself in the minds of the people as of the greatest possible worth and genuineness.

I have known Dr. Hartman for a number of years and am pleased to say that he is one of the leading citizens of this city, a man of the very highest standing and character in the community.

Respectfully, Samuel L. Black.

The old saying that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country," does not hold true of Dr. Hartman's great catarrh remedy—Pe-ru-na. Pe-ru-na is in great repute, not only in the city of Columbus, where it is made, but in the county and the State. The city officials, county officials, state officials of Ohio have given Pe-ru-na the highest endorsements that words could convey. It is the greatest known catarrh remedy. It cures catarrh wherever located. Send for a copy of the National Witness, which is filled with home testimony concerning Pe-ru-na as a catarrh remedy. Address The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Information Wanted.

Teacher—At what age does a man usually get bald?

Bright Pupil—What kind of a man—married or single?—Chicago Evening News.

A copy of the new edition of Miss Parloa's Choice Receipts will be sent postpaid to any of our readers who will make application by postal card or note to Walter Baker & Co., Limited, Dorchester, Mass.

The inventor of a kind of suspenders that won't wear out is assured of the blessings of all mankind.—Washington Democrat.

It is a knock-out when St. Jacobs Oil cures Sciatica promptly.

Love—A game the result of which is often a tie.—Chicago Daily News.

Rupture. Surecure. Book free. Write for it to S. J. Sherman, Specialist, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Whispers and runaway teams make the break-ups.—Ram's Horn.

When did you arrive—not to know St. Jacobs Oil will cure a sprain right off.

Coughs

that kill are not distinguished by any mark or sign from coughs that fail to be fatal. Any cough neglected, may sap the strength and undermine the health until recovery is impossible. All coughs lead to lung trouble, if not stopped. Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Cures Coughs.

"My little daughter was taken with a distressing cough, which for three years defied all the remedies I tried. At length on the urgent recommendation of a friend, I began to give her DR. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. After using one bottle I found to my great surprise that she was improving. Three bottles completely cured her."—J. A. GRAY, Trav. Salesman Wrought Iron Range Co., St. Louis, Mo

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Is put up in half size bottles at half price - - 50 cents

"WHERE DIRT GATHERS, WASTE RULES." USE

SAPOLIO

RHEUMATISM

Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND
POMMEL SLICKER
The Best Saddle Coat.

Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

CLOVER SEED

Largest growers of Grass and Clover Seeds in America. 5000 acres. Our Grass Mixtures last a lifetime. Meadows sown in April will give a rousing crop in July. Prices dirt cheap. Mammoth catalogue and 11 pkgs. Grass and Grains, FREE for but 10c. and this notice. Catalogue 5c. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K 7.)

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swelling, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 35c; large, 65c. Book free. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

WELL MACHINERY—ALL KINDS AND SIZES. LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

PATENTS 30 years a Solicitor. Book free. W. N. Stevens, Opposite Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

A. N. K.—G 1697

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

In 3 to 4 Years
An Independence is Assured

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

If you take up YOUR Home in WESTERN CANADA, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experience of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat. Reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates, can be had on application to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 134 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE

SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 156 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

SEEDS Garden and Flower with a world-wide reputation. Catalog free to all.
JAMES J. H. GREGORY & SON, Marblehead, Mass.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, FEB. 25, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

DR. NIVEN in Delano, Mar. 9, 10.

--DR. CARTER, Dentist. Delano, Friday and Saturday Feb. 25, and 26.

—For nobby, nice fitting suits, call on Delano's tailor, John Brandser.

—For good substantial spring suits, of the latest style, leave your measure now with John Brandser.

—Mrs. Thomas Reichel has moved into the Roosen building next door west of the GAZETTE office.

—Among Minnesota buttermakers on the trip South we noticed in a city daily the name of C. E. Ball, Delano.

—Some out of town people remarked on the appearance of Delano's principle business street one day this week, that it looked like Broadway.

—Most of the weather predictions this winter for our section of country have been total failures, and the finest winter we have ever had persisted in staying right along with us.

—Saturday a snow storm came along this way reminding us of what we have had in winters before this. But the weather didn't get so cool as it sometimes does and Monday opened up bright and sunshiney.

--A large number of people from Rockford and other near by places, attended the celebration of Washington's birthday in Delano this year. Owing to the unusually fine day many old settlers were among the audience.

—The rush to Klondike don't seem to be such a great rush after all. No extra trains nor very crowded cars seem to be making time in that direction over this road. The long looked for Norweigan reindeer haven't even yet been sighted.

—On Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor society will assist the Epworth League in its regular Sunday evening service commencing at 6:45 at the M. E. church. Subject for the evening, temperance. Everybody invited to be present.

--Some of our business men claim that we must have saloons to run our town, to pay for our lights, water, etc. But some of those using electrict lights have a different opinion. Their bill comes around promptly the first of every month; ditto, water priyileges.

—Rev. Farber preached a good sermon Sunday evening from John. 3rd chap. and part of the third verse. He tried to make the path to heaven plain, and held the attention of his audience. More interest in things pertaining to the hereafter seems to be taken by our people than for a long time.

—On the 22nd, as Will Carney and Ben Blacketer were driving across the G. N. on Third Street crossing they got their cutter runner smashed. There might have been much more damage for which the G. N. would probably be responsible as the crossing is not leveled up as it should be.

--The committee on decoration of hall for Washington's birthday celebration deserves a word of praise for its artistic work. The committee consisted of Charles M. Conzet. The committee on reception did nobly in giving the older people front seats, but Young America, nothing daunted, moved upon to the stage.

—Buffalo business men are putting in the new kind of lights, the cheapest, and it is claimed the best known. It would be well for Delano authorities to investigate and see if this is correct, and if so perhaps it would be preferable to get some of that kind to purchasing a new dynamo for helping out the plant already on hand.

—Participants in the celebration of Washington's birthday at the City Hall Tuesday, complain that more people brought good sharp appetites than there was prepared with the other necessaries for a good dinner. One, in particular, don't seem to fully agree with Thomas Jefferson that "we never repent of having eaten too little".

—A caucus of the voters of the town of Franklin is called for Saturday, March, 5 at 2 P. M. at the City Hall. The township officers for the next year are to be nominated. Every voter is interested and should attend caucuses. It is there that candidates for your officers should be selected, and not by two or three or half a dozen men getting off in a dark corner and whispering among themselves and choosing a ticket of weaklings that can be controlled and swayed to the sweet will of some boss.

--The Eagle has become "Yankeeized" and when we said something about that $21 for publishing "Notice to Tax Payers" allowed the Eagle by the County Commissioners, instead of answering, she trims up her quills and asks how the Health Officer of Delano, which is "us", drew $7.50 from the county for reporting 4 births for '97. We haven't drawn anything for reporting births for '97 yet. We admit that some of our report was not in when it should be We have been cautioning people several weeks to make returns according to law. And, in fact, we only yesterday learned of a new arrival in Delano on Oct. 29, '97; so still are some of these kept. Another we copied from the Eagle, and the wrathy father, whose first it was, accused us correctly of the offense and complained that his son had been robbed of a day. 'Taint always so if you do see it in the Eagle.

--Read John Brandser's new add; also that of Dr. Niven.

—Louey Strauch is building himself a fine new barn west of town.

—Be sure to pay your personal property taxes before March 1, if you have not already done so.

—Attend the crazy social at the City Hall Wednesday evening March 2. Local talent, some of the best in the burg, will assist in furnishing the entertainment. A big time is anticipated.

--Persons who persistently neglect to return to the Health Officers or Town Clerks the reports of births or deaths occuring in their families are liable to a fine of $20; doctors or midwives to a fine of $25. The new State Board of Health recommended enforcing the law, in a few cases if necessary. Look out you are not the subject of the example.

—Never since we have been a resident of Delano have we heard of a stronger public sentiment for a reform in the enforcement of our Village laws. If the laws were kindly but firmly enforced, people would not have to listen to so many criticisms of Delano. Our villagers usually are no worse than people in other places; but there has been too much laxness in police regulations.

--The Thomas Family Concert to be given in the City Hall next Tuesday evening, March 1, promises to be a rare treat for our people. Prof. Thomas is an old soldier, having been a member of a Wisconsin Reg. Tickets at the drug store, 25 cts., children 15cts. The Buffalo Journal says: "The violin solo by Miss Jessie captured the house. Her command over her violin is simply wonderful and past belief." The Annandale Post says: "The writer of this has had more or less experience in teaching music for some fifteen years and has no hesitrtion in predicting for them high and well merited success."

Grazy Social.

A crazy social (crazy in colors) will be given by the Epworth League, in the City Hall, March 2nd, programme as follows:

Instrumental duet: Miss Allie Murphy and Blanch Lader.

Reading,	Mrs. Shaw.
Recitation,	Mrs. Roosen.
Reading,	Mr. Wharton.

Quartette, Mesdames Soper, Buckley, Farber, and Miss Young.

Pantomime,	The ghost.
Solo,	Dr. Soper.
Pantomime,	School in an uproar.

Ladies Quartette.

Pantomime. How we hunted a mouse.

Solo,	Mr. Buckley.
Tableaux,	The Professor.

Ladies Quartette.

Tableau,	Abide With Me.

Fairy Tales.

Instrumental music will be furnished by Mrs Stewart and Carl Hildebrandt.

A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission 10 cents. COM.

Personal.

Mr. Kaemmer is on the Topeka tour.

Ray Billings has returned to town from Minneapolis.

L. M. Maxfield and N. K. Coffin visited Dassel, professionally, Wednesday.

Miss Mary Catlin and Miss Viola Cunningham visited Watertown friends Thursday.

Elmer Gilmer accompanied his brother Alec and wife home to Graceville, where he is to work in a bank.

Miss Viola B. Cunningham, of Minneapolis, came up Tuesday, and attended the celebration, and is making a visit.

Mrs. Glossi, and her daughter Miss Gertrude of St. Paul, attended the wedding of her son Edward, at this place, on Tuesday.

C. G. Roosen, and Mr. Oakley, of Buffalo, in company are gone to Mexico. They will, probably, bring back a lot of Mexican dollars.

Washington's Birthday in Delano.

The celebration of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington was observed by the Delano Washington's Birthday Association, at the City Hall, in their usual good style, except some of the work of the festival of food for dinner and of the festival of food for the amusement and entertainment of the mind seemed to drag. But the energy and industry of those who did assist soon put things in running order. The dinner was served soon after noon, and promptly at 2 P. M. the other feast was ready to begin. In the interval between feasts while the tables were being removed and the chairs arranged, a number of school girls rendered several pretty songs, to the satisfaction of the rapidly swelling audience.

The meeting was called to order by President McGary.

Prayer by Rev. J. L. Farber.

Officers for next year were then elected as follows:

President, William Ziebarth; Vice President, J. D. Young; Secretary, T. J. Catlin; Treasurer, William Lewis.

Presidents Address, J. H. McGary.

Toast. "Old Settlers", Dr. T. J. Catlin.

Address. "The Father of Our Country", F. H. Lindsley.

Toast. "Future of Our Country", Rev. M. Savs.

Toast. "How we subdued the Indians", George Florida.

Several solos were sung by Dr. J. E. Soper, and C. J. Buckley.

Zithern Solos, Max Youngman.

Meeting adjourned till Feb. 22, 1899.

County Cullings.

Dr. R. O. Cady, of Buffalo, is reported as being quite sick. He is the oldest doctor in this part of the country and many friends wish for his speedy recovery.

The hearing on the final account of the executor of the Boxell estate, George G. Taylor is to take place in Judge Woolley's court, at Buffalo, on Monday, Feb. 28. The question as to who was first dead, Mr. or Mrs. Boxell, will determine the disposition. In case Mr. Boxell died first his wife would be heir to ½ of his property, about $10,000, her father John Oliver asks for this as her heir. In case Mrs. B. was first dead the Boxell heirs would get the entire estate. There is likely to be quite a fight over this matter.

S. K. Bartholomew, of Maple Lake, has been appointed oil inspector for the Annandale district. Perhaps the Maple Lake oil well will now pan out up to grade.

A. J. Lindberg, of French Lake, whose wife has been sick a long time, is said to have made an assignment of his business Monday. It is hoped he may recover his footing.

We are glad to learn that ex-Representative Ole Mattson has greatly improved in health and we hope that he may reconsider his declaration to not re-enter the political field.--Cokato Enterprise.

Lawrence Mullen was stabbed by Fred Flannigan, at a dance, at Maple Lake, Saturday night. The wounded boy is reported in a dangerous condition. Flannigan was placed in charge of Sheriff Nugent.

From the Howard Lake Herald we learn that Albert Burger, near Winsted has sued the G. N. railroad company for $15,000 damages sustained on the Hutchinson branch. F. E. Latham plaintiff's attorney.

There should be no financial straddling in the Congressional campaign. Let the issue be squarely made and the majority decide whether the country favors or approves the present old standard.—Buffalo Journal.

John Holler, the C. K. Davis man, of Monticello, has been appointed, Deputy Collector of Customs at the sub port of Koochiching. We don't know where that is, but it sounds as if John Goodnow might have had something to do with it.

The Eagle, Herald, Standard combine are having a hard time smoking out the Enterprise. They write some pretty good advice; but do they follow it up by their examples? In the meantime Brother Carlson seems inclined to calmly look matters over and be in the right when he does advise his readers. He proposes to have principles and adhere to them, whether the balance of the craft does or not.

Bro. Catlin, of the Buffalo Gazette of Delano, evidently thinks the sorehead Republicans are hogging all the offices at the expense of the old time Democrats and Populists, as witness the following:

With John Lind for governor and C. A. Towne for congress from the silver Republican ranks on the tickets, it looks as if there might be a slim chance for many more of the same persuasion and an awfully cheeky thing to ask for it, on the part of those interested in the welfare of the combination of forces. Fusion means fusion. It doesn't mean substituting one party for another from top to bottom of the ticket.

We don't blame him a mite for feeling that way. When men leave the Republican party they want everything left on earth to compensate them for the loss of the company they have left.—Sherburne County Star News.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that a caucus of the legal voters of the Town of Franklin will be held in the City Hall Delano on Saturday March 5th, 1898, at 2 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of nominating town officers.

Per COMMITTEE.

[Pub. Jan. 28, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25, March 4, 11.]

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court, Eighteenth Judicial District, in and for the County of Wrigat and State of Minnesota upon a judgment rendered in said County on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1897, in an action therein, wherein the State of Minnesota was Plaintiff and Danville Mayo, Moses Mayo and John Collins were Defendants in favor of said Plaintiff and against said defendants for the sum of five hundred thirty four and 8-100 dollars (534.08) and whereas said Judgment was docketed in the office of Clerk of the District Court for Wright County on the 19th day of October 1897, at 4, P. M. of that day, I did on the 25th day of January A. D. 1898 duly levy upon all right, title and interest of the within named defendants or either of them in and to the following desc ibed Real Estate situated and being in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota and described as follows to-wit;

The west half of the north east quarter of section twenty three, in township one hundred and twenty one, range twenty four

Now therefore Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale and will sell the premises levied upon and described in the within notice to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the Village of Buffalo, in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 12th day of March, 1898, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated this 26th day of January, 1898.

JOHN C. NUGENT,
Sheriff of Wright County.

C. A. PIDGEON,
County Attorney
for Wright County.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $85.00 and expenses Position steady. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 69

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .90
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .87
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .84
Rye	" "	$ .39
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.10
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5 00
Pork		3.00 3 50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .07
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

MARRIED.

GLOSSI, MARR.—At the home of the bride's father, Otto Marr, in Delano, on Tuesday, Feb'y. 22, by Rev. K. Zeyher, Mr. Edward Glossi, of St. Paul, and Miss Pauline Marr.

BORN.

FAUTSCH.—On Saturday, Feb. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Mat Fautsch, a daughter.

JAPS.—In Franklin, on Saturday, Feb. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Japs, a daughter.

FRANZEN.—On Tuesday, Feby. 22, to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Franzen, a daughter.

JAPS.—In Franklin, on Wednesday Feb'y. 23, to Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand E. Japs, a daughter.

DUNN.—On Saturday, Feby. 19, in Independence, to Mr. and Mrs. James C. Dunn, a son.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE

and

LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY

for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

DR. NIVEN

will be in Delano March 9 and 10; Howard Lake, March 11, and Waverly, March 12 and 13. Dentistry, all branches. Painless extracting with Gas or Odontunder. Lowest prices. Office in Delano at Danforth House. 25

J. BRANDSER.
DELANO, MINN.
Spring Styles

Goods on Hand
BIGGEST STOCK
THAT EVER
CAME
To Wright County.

NOBBY SUITS.
FIT GUARANTEED.
Call soon and get a choice of
Patterns.
22-tf.

METROPOLITAN TAILOR.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING,
REPAIRING AND GENERAL
CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

GIVE US A CALL.
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.
Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.
Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3 00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

Advertise in
the GAZETTE
for trade.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $85.00 and expenses. Position steady. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

If your add was here somebody would read it, and might call on you.

SUBSCRIBE

FOR THE

GAZETTE.

-AdvertisE-

GAZETTE. ONE YEAR $1.00

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE
popular
NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very respectfully yours,
GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES
Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.
All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.
Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR
FINE JOB PRINTING,
IN THE LINE OF
Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line of Printing,
CALL AT THE Gazette Office.

CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders wil be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1898. NUMBER 23.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wedensday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President { JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen, { NICK FRANK. HENRY BOCK. ADAM HORSCH.
Recorder, { L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, { W. H. FRAZEE. R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health. { T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary. J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables { JOSEPH MERRIMAN. GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. BORSCH.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive —of— -THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, DePt. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance,	$1.00
One copy, six months, in advance	.50
One copy, three months, in advance	.25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year,	$100.00
One-half column, one year	50.00
One-fourth column, one year	25.00
One-eighth column, one year	13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year	5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year	3.00

Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the PostOffice in Delano, Minn

LET the Republicans succeed if they wish, in getting Justice Canty off the bench of Supreme Judges; it will only make a bigger man of him.

HON. JAS. W. CRAVEN has again taken up the editorial pen, on the Norwood Times. Comment is unnecessary. Joseph will let his Democracy be known.

WAR, always a sad thing to contemplate, is at the present time, with the tremendous engines of destruction, more dreadful than ever before. The nearness of hostilities between this country and Spain brings the matter up vividly to the minds of our people. Many are crying out for war. They seem to think that, with men being daily shot down, those at home would be more prosperous, and are willing to make the sacrifice. A few of the moneyed men favor war. Apparently they expect to gain wealth by catering to the necessities of those engaged in the conflict. Some, from a hatred toward their enemies, are for a war to exterminate Spaniards and liberate Cubans. Peaceful solutions of all questions would be preferable; but should we come to war we don't wan't to be licked.

Pension Reform.

Commissioner of Pensions Evans seems to be bringing down upon himself about as much criticism as did Judge Lochran when he held the place. He is said to have made a ruling that no drunkard could hold a situation in his department, a good move, and one that no cause for having to make should ever have been allowed to grow into existence. Now it is claimed that he has been testing the ability, or the inability of the boards of pension examining physicians by taking an old soldier before four different boards for a pension rating, and learning that they differed, from no pension to $24 per month. Possibly his temperance ruling, if carried to this branch of the business, would correct it some at least. The pension appropriations would not have to be so big if a lot of the red-tape and other trimmings, mostly of a political nature, were done away with. If Commissioner Evans can succeed in accomplishing much needed reforms in his department, hurrah for Mr. Evans, just as much as if it were Judge Lochran, or any other good man who was fortunate enough to enforce the laws of the land. No body begrudges a deserving old soldier a reasonable pension. But no one but politicians, and the recipients and their friends, approves of pensions sufficient to decently keep half a dozen or more respectible families, being granted to some favorite, or his family of grown children too aristocratic or too indolent to earn their own livelihood. Nor does the public sanction the granting of pensions for political reasons, nor for the keeping up of expenditure of thousands of dollars of money under this appropriation that never reaches the old soldier or his family. Let the reform proceed.

Change in the Cabinet.

Reports are current that John Sherman don't hitch with the Hanna administration and that he will step out of the Cabinet and leave room for Secretary Gage to be promoted; and it is claimed Hanna telegraphed for "Bill" Merrirm to come down to Washington and keep a weather eye on the situation and succeed Gage in the Treasury if possible. It was claimed Merriam was to be Secretary of the Treasury in the first place but that Mrs. Davis succeeded in freezing him out. Now that the Hon. C. K. is in the field himself for re nomination it is evident that he remembers the tight squeeze last time he ran and wants to save all the points possible for this fall, and of course will protest no farther and that Ex Governor W. R. Merriam, of Minnesota will be Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. This will make a great shaking up among the faithful in the Republican ranks. Those who have been feeding at the at the public trough will begin to retire and give place to those long, lean, hungry fellows who have grown extremely tired of waiting for their day to come.

GAZETTE.

Paper Money.

That there is not enough of the precious metals used for money, in the world, on which to do business, without having paper, in some form, to aid it, is an undisputed fact. That with gold alone, as the standard, more paper can be called into use is self evident..

The question of what kind of paper money then, we must have, is an all important one. Which is better for the average citizen of the country, the great majority of the people; interest bearing bonds; or greenbacks bearing no interest, and in their purity as turned out by Abraham Lincoln in the days of war, good for the same purposes, and all purposes for which any dollar was good? If the stamp of the United States in those perilous times could make a piece of paper good for $1.00, or $100.00, why can't it do so now? If it could then make paper good for dollars, why can't it make silver, or any other substance on which it places its stamp, good for money?

The constitution gives Congress the right to coin money and fix the value thereof. Then why not use that right for the benefit of the people, and not entirely for the aggrandizement of individuals. It looks very much as if the principle scheme of the gold standard men is to contract primary money, real money, to its smallest possible compass, so that by combining into trusts, syndicates, etc. a few men can control the entire pile of gold; then issue pper money, or silver redeemable in gold, for the people to do business on. This paper or silver redeemable in gold, they want fixed so they can manipulate, to suit themselves. When they wish to make times flush, before election for instance, they can issue a lot of new bank notes, bearing interest; or, when they see fit, they can draw in their bank notes and squeeze the people down till they must sell what they have at low figures to get something to live on. Great scheme that! If people would only look into the matter a little for themselves they would have no difficulty in knowing how they want to vote.

Gold and silver coin, one as good as the other for all purposes, is what people want. They don't want any body to have the privilege of refusing to take silver for debts, or gold for debts, but either, whichever a man has, should pay any debts to anybody.

Then, if we must have paper money, we will not need much of it, and, in a reasonably limited amount, even greenbacks bearing no interest, and built after the plan of Old Abe, would do the business, just as well or better than a lot of National bank notes drawing interest from the dear people who permit the moneyed men to foist their money making schemes upon Uncle Sam.

Investigate, read, and study for yourselves. See what you think about the matter. Your brain is as fine, and as clear in regard to these things as is that of the many times dissipated millionair. You can see for yourself what is your interest, what will be best for you, and your neighbors and men in like conditions all over this country; what is best for the country. Vote for these things. If a man has a horse or a cow for sale and you want to buy, you look the animal over and you are not apt to get bit. We all have money to get, lets looh the animal over and see if we want money which the government makes and which is good, and which costs only the making, or if we want national bank bills made by millionairs and for which we must pay interest on the bonds put up for security.

No Needless Conflict.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Archbishop Ireland, who is in this city, said in an interview on the Spanish question:

"I have fully considered everything that I have seen in the papers, and while at Washington I talked to the officials of the government, and in my opinion nothing has yet come to light that would in my judgement call for a rupture between the United States and Spain.

"Certainly if guilt is brought to the door of Spain full retributive justice should be the order of the day, liberal indemnity, apologies and full reparation ought to be preferable to the legislators, rather than that course which would entail the country into the consequences of war.

"The attitude of the administration is dignified, worthy of this great nation. War scares and the clamors of war do do not move it. It awaits the necessity of war, meanwhile making ready. Mr. McKinley will not rush the country into a needless conflict. Should the honor of the country demand that Mr. McKinley sign the proclamation of war, he will do it with the same love for peace, the same courage and the same trust in the God of our nation that characterized Abraham Lincoln, nearly 40 years ago."

"What is the attitude of the Catholic church at this time?" was asked.

"The Catholic church assumes no attitude of any kind. She has not been called on the scene. The fact that Spain is a Catholic nation matters nothing. The question is not one of religion. If there is a question at all, it is one of national and international right, and nothing else."—Minneapolis Tribune.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb, 25, 1898.

Senator Morgan's plain talk in a speech against Senator Allen's attempt to make the recognition of Cuban belligerency a rider to an appropriation bill, was refreshing in these days of tricky statesmanship. He said that he had voted for the belligerency resolution that the Senate adoptee last May—he was its author—and that he was not only ready to vote for a declaration of war against Spain, which he regarded as more proper than attempting to sneak a belligerency declaration through by attaching it to an appropriation bill. He added that he had always believed that Spain and the United States would fight over Cuba and that he still believed it; that he had always believed that as soon as Spain realized that it had lost Cuba, it would seek a war with us, in order to save Spanish pride by making it appear to their people at home that it was the U. S. that secured Cuban freedom.

Things are looking decidedly better in Washington, to those who believe that it is better to fight than be trampled upon and spit upon, than they were last week. Members of the administration are still talking peace, but they have quit trying to cram the "accident" theory of the loss of the Maine down men's throats, and what is better than all, they are preparing to fight. They still claim to have no more information than they have given to the public, and to be waiting for the report of the Naval Court of inquiry, now sitting in Havanna harbor, in order to ascertain whether the Maine was accidentally blown up or was blown up by a Spanish torpedo. Their claims are not worrying anybody, so long as they are going ahead energetically making preapartions for that war with Spain which a majority of Congress now regard as inevitable. In fact, Mr. McKinley is said to have become convinced by reports from Gen. Fitz Lee, and other U. S. Consuls in Cuba, that regardless of the Maine catastrophe the time has about come when he must either intervene in behalf of Cuba or eat the threat of doing so, after giving Spain an opportunity to try its autonomy fake, made in his annual message to Congress. Those consular reports, which show beyond the shadow of a doubt that autonomy in Cuba is dead beyond hope of resurrection, have been called for by both the House and the Senate. Mr. McKinley has held them back, he says because of the excitement caused by the wreck of the Maine; but it is probable that his knowledge that he must act after they are laid before Congress also had something to do with the delay. Unless all signs fail he is getting ready to act, and not a minute too soon, either.

The administration is much alarmed about the success of Hawaiian annexation, and fresh efforts are being made to get enough votes to ratify the treaty in the Senate, in order to keep the matter from getting before the House at all. This fresh alarm was started by Representative H. U. Johnson, of Indiana, who surprised everybody by making a corking good speech against the policy of annexation in general, and especially against the annexation of Hawaii, while the Sundry Civil bill was under consideration. The applause given Mr. Johnson from his own side of the House indicates that more republicans will vote against a resolution for annexation than had been put down in the opposing column, and the administration fears that annexation will be defeated in the House, if it gets before that body. There are about 20 democrats in the House who would vote for annexation.

Representative Perkins, of Iowa, is the latest republican who tried to take a fall out of Jerry Simpson and failed, as the following dialogue, which occurred in connection with a few remarks of Jerry concerning the tendency of present conditions to make millionaires and paupers, will show: Perkins; "Would you object to being a millionaire?" Simpson; "I should not. I don't believe in playing the hypocrite. But that I am not a millionaire is evidence of my disinclination to take advantage of my fellow-men". Perkins; "If you were a millionaire, I presume you would admit that there was some respectability among them?" Simpson; "Yes, I have no doubt I should add at least an air of respectability to them". The shouts of laughter convinced Mr. Perkins that he had enough.

Czar Reed has not yet given his consent for the House to pass the bill authorizing the enlistment of two additional regiments of artillery in the army, which the Senate has passed, and without which it will be impossible to properly man a number of heavy batteries which have been established in connection with our system of sea coast defences, but public opinion in favor of this legislation is making itself so distinctly felt in Washington that he will probably see the wisdom of doing so.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible established house in Minnesota. Monthly, $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

Fire Feels Good. Advertising and Other Doctors. Dry Spell.

(By Hon. B. F. Christlieb)

Mr. Editor: While this climate is, in my opinion, all that is claimed for it in the way of benefitting the health of invalids, there are many difficulties here besetting that class in the object of their pursuit. One of which is the finding of exactly suitable quarters for their entertainment and comfort, owing to the faulty plans or arrangements of lodging houses, hotels and dwellings open for the entertainment of strangers and while these places are neat and tasty in appearance, most of them, especially those erected several years ago are minus chimneys and heating facilities. Often only one chimney, even in large structures, is found and that is intended only for culinary purposes, the idea being that as this region is in a southerly latitude it is, as a matter of course, warm any time of the year, which is not exactly correct as to this locality. There are days and parts of days and the entire night during the wintry and rainy season that are quite cool, cold enough to frost at times, to which conditions permanent residents become accustomed and suffer little inconvenience, taking the precaution to open the windows and blinds of their houses during the day and permitting the sun to warm the rooms, closing the windows before sunset, through which process they claim that a room will remain sufficiently warm to sit in during an evening with comfort and old residents do so without apparent inconvenience notwithstanding the fact that the apartment at that time of day has assumed a temperature of 60 degrees and often less, being a considerably colder temperature than that of the sitting rooms of the homes of the eastern visitors who suffer inconvenience if not serious damage to health therefrom. The invalid in such emergencies is advised to use an oil or a lamp stove which is only a makeshift at best, besides vitiating the air of his apartment. If he ventilates he destroys the small quantity of heat thus produced as this kind of a stove usually has not sufficient heating power to withstand a blast of colder air from the outside.

The most of these places have offices, parlors or sitting rooms that are heated at least part of the time, but they are not always suited to to the invalids condition and for these several reasons the invalid on arriving here, especially in the winter months, should seek a room with proper heating facilities, more powerful and less poisonous than a kerosene lamp and bring his apartment to a comfortable temperature. Mornings, evenings and nights during fall and winter months are cool even when the middle of the day is as warm as summer and a considerable difference in temperature between day and night is the result and during the cooler hours a fire is almost indispensable to the invalid. In not understanding or observing these precautions many invalids take colds and receive backsets instead of benefits to their health and in consequence the climate is unjustly condemned. The buildings more recently erected for the accomodation of tourists and visitors, are better provided with chimneys and proper heating appliances and the invalid by persevering can find suitable quarters of which he should not fail to avail himself, even at a greater expense than those rooms without heating facilities and the chances are that he will be benefitted, cured perhaps, or his ailment releived to a considerable degree by a residence here of a few years or longer.

The next thing besetting and tempting the poor invalid is the alluring advertisements of "cure all" doctors of Los angeles and other places in California, and they are numerous. Many pages of the daily newspapers, especially Sunday issues, of Los Angeles, are emblazoned with advertisements of these professional medical men, experts etc. including their portraits and portraits of people who claim to have been cured of serious maladies by these parties, while it is possible that cures or benefits may have been effected as represented in those advertisements, the question after all arises whether nature and climate did not perform the good work thus set forth. The City of Los Angeles, claiming a population of over one hundred thousand souls, contains about six hundred physicians, including allopathic, homeopathic and those of other systems of medicine and also these advertising physicians, amongst the latter the Chinese are even represented who are sought after in the same spirit as the old time Indian doctors were. Christian Science, Mental Science, Healing Mediums are also to be found, and last but not least all these parties are well patronized.

February has been a very pleasant month but has added a very small quantity of moisture to the existing shortage of this season. It is asserted however that there is an abundance of snow in the mountains from which an abundant water supply will reach the reservoirs through pipes, drains tunnels and artesian wells connected with subterranean water courses.

Gleaned at The County Seat.

Monday was a fine day, and we drove to Buffalo to transact business and see the folks.

We found land lord Shattar's big barn so full of horses we had to hunt other quarters.

This being the last day for paying personal taxes without a penalty a few were settling up. Uncle Ben Parmeter remarked that he had been on such a mission before when the crowd was so large he was obliged to leave his money with some one to pay for him, but there was no trouble on that score now. Calvin Stewart, of Rockford, was on hand looking after his tax.

P. B. O'Laughlin, of French Lake, was along with some neighbors, whom he said had killed some wolves and wanted the county bounty, but as the Town Supervisors had not furnished them with the proper certificates he thounht they were likely to go home empty handed.

At the Court House, Probate Judge Woolley, was listening to the eloquence of David Cochran asssisted by J. H. Steele, of Minneapolis, in behalf of Mr. Oliver, father of the late Mrs. Boxell, for his share in the Boxell estate. John T. Alley was doing the talking for the Boxell heirs. The question of whether or not Mr. Oliver should have his daughter's third hangs on who died last. The case was adjourned to Howard Lake, March 26. It is likely to be a long and tedious case.

Auditor Swanburg was on a trip to Minneapolis.

Mr. Reinmuth was rushed nearly to death attending to the throng of business callers, while Guy Eaton, County Surveyor was diligently figuring up some of his surveys.

Hanaford and Junkin, though it was the last day for personal tax paying without penalty seemed as calm and serene as anyone about the building.

Recorder Nagel, and a force, were awfully busy writing in great big books, the records of the business transactions of real estate owners.

Clerk of Court Vorse was figuring up births and deaths, and Deputy Cochrane was attending to matters in general.

Mr. Brewster appeared to be keeping Judge of Probate office while Mr. Walley was busy with cases.

Dr. Cady, who has peddled pills among the stumps of Wright County for 36 years and who was quite sick last week, we were pleased to see up and about the house again. He thinks he is now on the road to recovery.

Dr. Shannon has moved into his new office, next door to the Post Office which has been moved down town.

The Post Office is in care of Campbell Dodd, while P. M. Lamson runs the Standard of Republicanism in the room in the rear. He says he set a galley of type Monday.

Mr. Eaton seemed all at sea. He talked loudly of we Republicans demolishing the Democrats next fall. But admitted that if the Democrats put up a good ticket it would be hard to beat them. If he was running a democrat paper he would nominate men now. He would like to run a Democratic paper. We thought the Democrats were pondering in their own minds what candidates they wanted, and when the time come will be prepared to make a good ticket.

Blacksmith McClatchie was bifwing away to heat the iron and at the same time his silver bugle was busy advocating the rights of we the people.

John O'Leary is now advocating Free Silver we were told. He invited us in; said he would not hurt us; but when we got around to see him, a traveling salesman was engrossing his attention to such a degree that we moved on.

Rev. Plant was making a friendly visit with the Frazzler force. He is a pleasant gentleman to meet and seems quite popular.

Jackson Taylor, an old timer, came into Clerk Vorse's to toast his toes, and crack jokes.

Court Commissioner Putnam is at work on next June's Old Settler's meeting. He thinks he can secure Mr. Gray, of Monticello, one of the earliest settlers and one of the first newspaper men in the county to talk. This would be a treat for old settlers, who have heard eloquence enough on politics and other subjects and would like to review early times with a man who was among them in early days, and knows of those times.

Hayes' Home Levied Upon.

FREMONT, Ohio, Feb. 25.—The homestead of the late ex-president, R. B. Hayes, known as Spiegel Grove, was levied upon by the county sheriff today to satisfy a judgment for $5,000 damages awarded Mrs. Addie M. Smith of this city. Mrs. Smith was given a judgement for injuries received in a runaway caused by a dog owned by the Hayes estate. The costs amount to $1,095.—Times.

Once more Minnesota butter is pronounced the best in the country. There is no reason why it shouldn't be, since we have the best cows, the best pasturage and the best farmers in the world.—Pioneer Press.

St. Paul Dispatch: The people of Switzerland a week or two ago decided to buy for about $200,000,000 the private owned railways of that country. In Switzerland the people have the referendum, which provides that all laws shall be referred to the people for ratification by direct vote before they become of force. The act providing for the purchase by the government of the railways was deaided on in this way and carried by a very large majority. The referenndum is advocated by the People's party for adoption in this country and would be a safeguard worth a great deal in some cases where legislatures sell out the interests of the people, as for instance was done at its last session by the legislature of Illinois, which betrayed the interests of the people by selling out to Yerkes, the street car magnate.

Getting to be a Nuisance.

Fairmont Sentinel: A new secret society—heaven save us?—has been started at Winnebago City known as the order of the iron chain. It ought to be made a criminal offense for anyone to attempt to inflict another secret society upon any community that already has over four. The field is overworked and if half of those already in existence would die off it would be a blessing to the public. The iron chain better go hang itself.—Litchfield Independent.

St. Paul Dispatch: President McKinley is doubtless waiting for the Pioneer Press and Bishop Ireland to decide whether or not he has the right to declare war.

THE New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET

The BUFFALO GAZETTE —AND— THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS

BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR

FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS needs no introduction. Its many special articles by noted writers have given it a world wide reputation. In short, it is one of the cleanest, brightest and best family papers published. No pains or expense will be spared in keeping up its present high standard.

Remember, that by taking advantage of this combination, you get 52 copies of the BUFFALO GAZETTE and 104 copies of THE FREE PRESS, 156 papers, for only $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE

The Free Press

YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

An accurate and superior book of Reference that tells you all you want to know. There will not be a useless page in it. A Practical Educator and Hand Book of Encyclopoedic Information on subjects Statistical, Official, Historical, Political and Agricultural; likewise a book of Religious Fact, and general Practical Directions on every day affairs of Office, Home and Farm.

A copy of this book will be sent to all subscribing immediately and sending 15 cents additional for mailing expenses, making $1.65 in all.

Do not delay, but take advantage of this remarkably liberal offer which we make for a limited time only, by special arrangements with the publishers. Remember we send both papers a full year for $1.50, and you can have a copy of the book by sending 15 cents additional.

Address BUFFALO GAZETTE, DELANO, MINN.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

MARCH—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	29	30	31	....	....

America contains 229,722 miles of railway, and the rest of the world 204,231 miles. The New World might rest its reputation for enterprise on that one item.

Five is the sacred number of the Chinese, who have five planets, five cardinal points, five virtues, five tastes, five musical tones, five ranks of nobility and five colors.

Planted now on the eastern coast of China are Russia, Japan, Germany, England and France. It is a new sort of happy family and beats the concert of Europe for possibilities.

A team of horses at Dawson, N. W. T., earns $150 a day, but it is quite possible they eat $100 worth of hay, and the daily board of the teamster is $25 more. The question of profit is relative, after all.

A party of American argonauts who went to Venezuela have returned with the report that they "struck some gold, but mighty little of it." Many a Klondike pilgrim will come back with a similar story.

The pith of cornstalks, made into cellulose, is being extensively used as a lining for war vessels. In fact, nearly everything produced from corn is found to have considerable virtue as an interior application.

A Yale professor says "poetry has failed of its mission when its language, like that of diplomacy, is used to conceal thought." But perhaps it is different when, after a diligent examination, no thought is found.

The heads of four women will be sculptured on the grand stairway of the New York state capitol in Albany, and the four selected are Capt. Molly Pitcher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Clara Barton and Susan B. Anthony.

The German minister of foreign affairs says the Chinese empire will probably exist for another 3,000 years. People familiar with European history will beg to be excused from settling territorial questions that far ahead.

Some man with an ear for figures estimates that there are 10,000,000 nerve fibers in the human body. Just how many of these are in action when a fellow has the toothache or loses his last dollar in speculation or on a horse race is not stated.

It seems too bad that Mrs. Harrison Sise, of Fort Scott, Kan., should be refused a divorce by a hard-hearter judge just because she has already had two divorces from the same man. It is unkind in the law to get in the way of a man or a woman who wants to make a game of progressive cinch out of matrimony. Why, a few decisions of that description would result in making people look on marriage as a serious matter.

A descendant of Warwick, "the king maker," has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment in England for fraudulently obtaining endorsements to his notes. The criminal is Lord William Nevill, whose father is a marquis and nearly all of whose relatives are titled personages. According to English law Lord William is a "noble," which only goes to show that a good old English word may sometimes be put to base uses.

The returns of the adjutant general of the army show that the nation is not so badly prepared for war, at least as far as the available men are concerned, as some believe. In addition to the small regular army, the militia of the 45 states includes 114,365 men, New York leading with a total of 13,894. The total number of men available for military service is placed at 10,301,339, which would insure in an emergency a very formidable army in point of numbers.

It is evident from the report of the United States government's representative in Alaska that the gold region is in the bad condition of a new country without law. This is dangerous because of the temptations which covetousness offers to violence, and because of the lack of ample sustenance for life. It is surprising that there has not been more disorder, and indeed there are indications of desperate demonstrations to come. The United States government will act promptly in the endeavor to establish a reign of justice within its territory.

Twenty thousand years ago, according to Prof. Walters, the archaeologist, a terrible battle was fought on the Arkansas river, in the Indian territory, between the mound builders and the Mayas, in which over 75,000 warriors bit the dust, says the Detroit Free Press. He has reached this remarkable conclusion on account of his investigation of a prehistoric burying ground in the Choctaw Indian country, which he has found to cover 30 acres and to contain fully 75,000 skeletons. The skeletons were buried in sand and above the sand were two distinct strata.

President Diaz of Mexico several years ago interviewed a famous bandit who was in prison who told the president that his lawless life was the result of having no work to do. The president liberated him, made him chief of police of his native district, which was one of the worst in the country, and informed him that he would be held strictly accountable for all the robberies in his district. From that day to this not one has occurred. The president has appointed many more bandits to office under similar conditions, and they have, without exception, been successful.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

The feature in the United States senate on the 24th was the speech of Senator Spooner (Wis.) in favor of the right of Henry W. Corbett to a seat in the senate from Oregon under appointment of the governor. In the house Mr. Boutelle (Me.,) introduced a bill providing for the relief of the survivors of the victims of the United States battle ship Maine. Thirty additional pages of the sundry civil appropriation bill were disposed of and the senate bill to prohibit the passage of local or special acts by territorial legislatures and to limit territorial indebtedness was passed.

Henry W. Corbett's right to a seat in the senate from Oregon was under consideration by the United States senate during nearly the entire session on the 25th. In the house the senate amendments to the army appropriation bill were agreed to and a long debate over the question of river and harbor appropriations took place during the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill.

In the United States senate on the 26th ult. the pension calendar was cleared by the passage of several private pension bills and the right of Henry W. Corbett to a seat from the state of Oregon was further discussed. In the house the time was occupied in discussing the sundry civil appropriation bill and about 20 pages were disposed of.

FROM WASHINGTON.

It is admitted by Senor Du Bosc, Spanish charge at Washington, that the authorities at Havana planted submarine mines in the channels but not in the harbor.

At the annual meeting in Washington Mrs. Daniel Manning, of New York, was elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

At a cabinet meeting at which the Spanish situation was thoroughly discussed it was stated by one of the members that there was no occasion for alarm or excitement, and that the present situation was not even critical.

President McKinley has appointed Col. Henry C. Corbin adjutant general of the army, to succeed Samuel Breck, retired on account of age.

It is shown by a report laid before President McKinley that 10,073,376 able-bodied men are now available for military duty in the United States. Of these 112,082 are already in the militia.

THE EAST.

On March 24 the battle ships Kentucky and Kearsarge will be launched at Newport News and it will be the first double launching of first-class battle ships in the world.

In the United States there were 233 business failures in the seven days ended on the 25th, against 295 the week previous and 296 in the corresponding period of 1897.

During the week ended on the 25th the exchanges at the leading clearing houses in the United States aggregated $1,201,784,156, against $1,356,703,203 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 54.0.

In Philadelphia the United States cruiser Minneapolis was launched.

After a week's stay the Spanish cruiser Vizcaya left New York for Havana.

At New Bedford, Mass., the cloth mill strike, involving 9,000 operatives, enters upon its seventh week with the strikers still firm.

At Springfield, Mass., the Warwick Cycle company filed a petition in insolvency, its indebtedness being $300,000.

John P. Maynard, famous as the discoverer of collodion, as used in surgery, died in Dedham, Mass., aged 72 years.

At the age of 66 years William M. Singerly, editor of the Record and president of the Record Publishing company, died suddenly of heart disease at his home in Philadelphia.

With a herd of 537 reindeer purchased by the government for Alaska the steamer Manitoba arrived in New York.

WEST AND SOUTH.

The final services over the remains of Miss Frances E. Willard were held in the Methodist church in Evanston, Ill., and the body was laid to rest in Rose Hill cemetery.

At the age of 71 years ex-Judge Elliott Anthony, one of the most widely-known jurists of the west, died in Evanston, Ill.

Fire destroyed the plant of the American Tobacco company at Louisville, Ky., the loss being over $350,000.

Indians at Pine Ridge agency in Nebraska are on the warpath again.

At Gransboro, Ala., William R. Colt (colored) was hanged for the murder there three months ago of John A. Singley, wife and child.

During a fire in Charleston, S. C., Mrs. Rebecca Knickmeyer and her six children and Caswell O'Neal were burned to death.

Rev. Sam Jones has withdrawn as a candidate for governor of Georgia.

Flames broke out in the Hall chemical works at Kalamazoo, Mich., and explosions that occurred killed ten men and injured several other persons.

On the steamer Mariposa President Dole of Hawaii left San Francisco for Honolulu.

A well-known Chicago newspaper man, John E. Wilkie, will succeed William P. Hazen as chief of the secret service of the treasury department.

Fire wiped out the entire business portion of Cortez, Col.

While on their way to a party seven persons, residents of West Harvey, Ill., were crushed to death by a train which struck their bus at a railway crossing.

On April 20 the Western Baseball league season will open.

Linda and Edith Caplinger, aged sisters, were burned to death at their home near Mineral Wells, W. Va.

The court of inquiry into the Maine disaster has shifted its base of investigation from Havana to Key West, Fla., and will examine some witnesses of the explosion who are now there.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

In a gale off Wells, England, two government cutters were capsized and 11 persons were drowned.

Investigation was continued by the naval court of inquiry into the wreck of the Maine at Havana. Any further facts that may have been discovered tending to show the cause of the explosion have been carefully kept secret by the officials. Divers are said to have ascertained that the keel of the Maine is stove upward, pointing to an explosion from the outside.

Terrific earthquakes caused great destruction of property on the island of Montserrat, of the West Indies group.

It is stated that the board of inquiry at Havana believes the bottom of the Maine must be examined if the positive facts of the cause of the disaster are to be known. The disclosures of the divers seem to prove that the ship was blown up by an outside explosion of a large torpedo or submarine mine.

The steamer La Champagne, six days overdue in New York, was towed into the harbor at Halifax, N. S., in a disabled condition.

There is an appalling scarcity of food in many provinces of Spain and bread riots are of daily occurrence at Salamanca.

In midocean the British steamer Legislator, en route to Boston, was destroyed by fire and six of her crew were lost.

An Athens an unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate King George of Greece.

LATER NEWS.

In the U. S. supreme court an opinion was handed down in the case of E. F. Holden vs. the Sheriff of Salt Lake County, Utah, upholding the constitutionality of the territorial law fixing a day's work in smelters and mines in the territory at eight hours.

Serious bread riots have taken place at Galipoli, Turkey, where a mob has attempted to burn the government offices. The police made 30 arrests.

Fire in Brooklyn, N. Y. damaged property to the extent of $30,000 and made 70 families temporarily homeless.

The United States supreme court has decided that a United States official could not take advantage of his office to secure advantage over others in the location of government land.

Representative Bromwell, of Ohio, introduced a resolution authorizing the secretary of the navy to expend $20,000,000 in purchasing war vessels from foreign powers in case of war.

Lyman Dart, a 17-year-old boy under sentence of death in a Nova Scotia jail for murder, is to be released. Evidence has been discovered showing conclusively that the shooting was accidental.

One of the men who attempted the life of the king of Greece has been arrested. He was a minor employe in the mayor's office at Athens. His name is Karditza, but he refuses to divulge the name of his accomplice. He did not express any regret, and declared that if the gun had not trembled in the hands of his accomplice the king would have been killed.

A 10 per cent reduction in wages has gone into effect in the cotton mills at Waltham, Mass. The 1,500 operatives accepted the cut-down.

The murder of the colored postmaster and his infant child at Lake City, S. C., is being investigated by the officers and sailors who lost their lives in the Maine disaster.

The Spanish cruiser Vizcaya has arrived at Havana.

Senor De Lome, former Spanish minister to the United States, was hanged in effigy at Troy, N. Y. The police had to be called to disperse the crowd.

Consul General Lee has made the following explanation of the difficulties in the way of relatives who seek to secure the removal to the United States of the remains of such of the victims of the Maine explosion as have already been interred: "Most bodies buried some weeks ago unrecognizable. Against Spanish law to exhume until expiration of five years. Neither steamers nor authorities permit shipment of bodies unless at once embalmed and in metallic cases. Cost of embalming and encasing from $600 to $800 each."

The French bark Felix Faure arrived at Adelaide, South Australia, and reports that during a gale on Feb. 2 her second mate and fifteen sailors were swept overboard.

It is rumored that Major Esterhazy has challenged Col. Picquart to a duel, as a result of the latter's evidence in the recent trial of Zola.

The war department has decided to abandon its expedition for the relief of the miners in the Klondike country because the conclusion has been reached that no necessity exists for it.

A terrific hurricane has devastated New Caledonia, N. S. W., doing great damage to shipping. The hurricane also sank a French gunboat, the St. Loyalty.

The United States senate passed the Bacon resolution for the erection in some suitable place in the capitol of a bronze memorial tablet commemorative of the officers and sailors who lost their lives in the Maine disaster.

The secretary of the treasury has received through the British ambassador information that the Canadian government would hereafter allow American vessels to carry merchandise from one port in Canada to another.

The boilers in Clark and Acker's shingle mill at Wetmore, Mich., exploded, killing two men and seriously injuring several others. Hugh Long, a teamster, was killed instanly. Peter Morris, ex-sheriff of Alger county, was found lying dead and badly mangled near the boiler.

In view of the increase in the price of grain in Spain, the government has decided to reduce the import duties. A decree on this subject is momentarily expected.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, March 1.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 98¼ to 99c; No. 2 northern, 95¼ to 96c; May, 96⅝c.

Corn—No. 3, 28c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 25 to 26c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.35; cows, $2.60.

Hogs—$3.50 to 3.90.

Sheep—Muttons, $3.10 to 3.50; lambs, $4.25.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c; spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 17 to 20c. creamery, firsts 18 to 19c; dairy, fancy, 16 to 17c; dairy, choice, 14 to 15c.

PREPARING FOR TROUBLE

Work on War Ships at Navy Yard Is Being Hastened.

Spain Is Also Pushing Work of Naval Construction and Armament—Fleet Ordered to Be Held in Readiness.

Washington, Feb. 28.—Activity is seen at the military posts, and men by the thousands are announcing their readiness to serve the country in the event of a conflict with Spain. In order to hasten work on war ships at League Island navy yard large forces of men were kept at work all day Sunday. Many clerks were also kept at the navy department for Sunday work, something that is very unusual.

According to a report laid before President McKinley, 10,073,576 able-bodied men are now available for military duty in the United States. Of these 112,082 are already in the militia.

Spain Prepares.

Ferrol, Spain, Feb. 28.—The work of naval construction and armament is being pushed by the government with the greatest activity at the arsenal and dock yard.

A former captain-general of Cuba (presumably Marshal Martinez Campos), interviewed by a representative of Correspondencia Militiar, is reported as saying:

"I never entertained a doubt that if the rebellion were not suppressed before 1898 war with the United States would become an established fact. Unhappily my prophecy will be fulfilled. I have the consolation of having done all in my power to avert it, and therefore I do not regret the blame which has been heaped upon me. All that is now possible is that we should all unite to meet the danger that threatens the country."

The Correspondencia Militiar, organ of the army, says: "The prevailing impression is that war between Spain and the United States will break out in April."

ADMIRAL SICARD AND SOME OF HIS AIDS.

WRECKING DERRICK CHIEF.
(Now Being Towed to Havana.)

Fleet for Cuba.

Key West, Fla., March 1, 3:30 a. m.—The fleet here, made up of the New York, Iowa, Marblehead, Montgomery, Nashville, Cushing and Ericsson, as well as three battle ships, Indiana, Texas and Massachusetts, now at Dry Tortugas, at three o'clock in the afternoon received orders to hold themselves in readiness to start for Havana at the tap of the drum. The Detroit left here Monday for Dry Tortugas, where she will join the squadron. The orders came from Long in Washington to Admiral Sicard, and are said to be based on information wired from Havana by the captain of the Bache, United States coast survey boat, which left Key West for Havana Monday. The captain of the Bache told such a story of the heated state of the Havana public and the probability of riot at any moment, and danger to Americans now in Havana to flow therefrom, that Long at once made the order indicated.

England Won't Support Spain.

London, March 1.—The Daily News, commenting editorially on the relations between the United States and Spain, says: "Spain can expect no support, moral or otherwise, from England against the United States. She has ruined Cuba, as she has ruined or lost every other colony, by the grossest corruption, cruelty and maladministration, and she must be left to settle the account for it with those whom it may concern without any aid or sympathy on our part."

Oppose Sale of Cuba.

London, Feb. 25.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: Spanish statesmen of every shade of opinion are simply amazed and indignant at the idea that Spain would ever consent to sell Cuba. The suggestion would expose the monarchy to an irresistible movement of popular feeling, shared by the army and navy. From a financier's viewpoint it is equally impossible, because the price suggested would not half cover the Cuban debt, which is almost entirely held by Spaniards.

Catholic Prelate Dead.

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 25.—James Vincent Cleary, archbishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Kingston, died here Thursday.

WARDS OF THE NATION.

The American Indian Shows Very Rapid Advancement.

Washington, March 1.—The twenty-eighth annual report of the board of Indian commissioners, of which Merrill E. Gates is chairman, has been submitted to Secretary Bliss. An abstract of the report follows:

In the general condition of the Indians no important changes have occurred, but there is evidence of steady progress in industrial pursuits and in education.

The board views with satisfaction the "firm stand of the president in support of civil service reform," and the application of the order prohibiting removals without cause to the Indian service. Belief is expressed that the placing of the Indian agents themselves under the civil service would be a great boon to the service.

The board thinks the agreements of the Dawes commission with the Choctaws and Chickasaws in the Indian territory have one serious defect. They make no provision for some thousands of Chickasaw freedmen whose rights as citizens the government is bound to protect. If this defect can be remedied prompt ratification of the treaties by congress is urged.

Mention is made of the enlarged and improved facilities for Indian education inaugurated during the past year and figures are given showing that the enrollment in the 288 schools of all grades including contract and mission schools for 1897 was 22,964, as against an enrollment of 23,572 for 1896. The statistics presented are regarded as highly significant and full of hope for the Indian race. It means, the board says, that in a few years a generation of Indians will be raised up very different from any that have lived before—a generation educated to speak and read and write the language of the people among whom they dwell, of whom they are destined to be a part, and trained to habits of industry and in many mechanical arts.

The average attendance of pupils at Indianapolis has increased from 3,030 in 1877 to 18,676 in 1897. The schools of the five civilized tribes and of the New York Indians are not included in these figures.

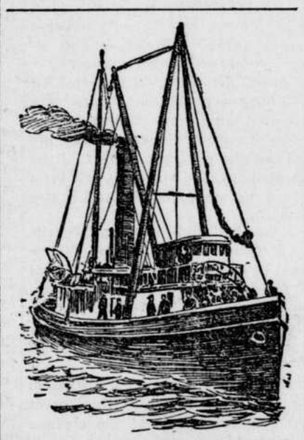
Considerable progress in the allotments of lands to the Indians has been made during the year. Nearly 60,000 allotments in all have been made since the practice was begun, so that about one-third of the redmen, excluding those in the Indian territory and in New York, are now in possession of their own lands and have the opportunity of establishing individual homes and of gaining support by their own labor. The commission is strongly of the opinion that the allotment system is a good one, that as a result of Indian labor there is a gratifying growth in their productive industries which warrants the hope that the time is not very far distant when the issue of rations and other supplies to the Indians may be brought to an end.

Unfortunately, the report says, much of the land allotted to the Indians is in the arid regions, and is unfit for productive cultivation without an extensive system of irrigation, and the board concurs with the commissioner of Indian affairs in recommending an appropriation to aid in works of this character.

An Official Denial.

Washington, Feb. 26.—In view of the widely published report that the harbor of Havana contains a system of submarine mines, a statement around which has centered the chief public interest in connection with the disaster to the battle ship Maine, Senor Du Bosc, Spanish charge d'affaires at Washington, Friday night made the following statement which, coming from such authority, may be considered as an official denial:

"I wish to state on my own official knowledge that no mine exists inside or outside of Havana harbor, nor is there any submarine defense of any kind. The report is so absolutely false and ridiculous that it could only have originated in the minds of those persons anxious to incite the evil passions of both nations for their own miserable ends. I consider the very suggestion of such a thing an insult to Spain."



THE WRECKING TUG RIGHT ARM.
(Now at Work in Havana Harbor.)

Von der Ahe Out on Bail.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 25.—The application of Chris Von der Ahe for release on a writ of habeas corpus was refused by Judge Buffington, of the United States circuit court, and bail was fixed at $4,000 on an appeal to the supreme court. Late in the afternoon Von der Ahe was released from jail, the Mercantile Trust company giving bond in $4,000. The National league authorized the bond, and will indemnify the trust company should the bail be forfeited. Von der Ahe left for St. Louis at 9:30 p. m.

THE LAW IS VOID.

Government Inspection of Meat Is Held to Be Illegal.

Kansas City, Mo., March 1.—The entire system of government inspection of meat which has been established in the packing houses of the United States was declared to be unconstitutional, ineffective and void in an opinion handed down in the United States district court Monday by Judge John P. Rogers, federal judge at Fort Smith, Ark., who sat for Judge Philips.

An indictment against Harry Boyer, foreman of the fresh meat department of the Jacob Dold Packing company, charged with attempting to bribe a government inspector, was quashed on the ground that congress had no power to create the office of meat inspector, so that even if Mr. Boyer had attempted to bribe an inspector, as was charged in these indictments, he did not commit an offense against the government.

The effect of the decision is to declare invalid the law by which people who consume the product of American packing houses are protected from impure or diseased meats. It is probable that the decision will make necessary a complete reorganization of the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture.

The effect of the ruling may be to place a dangerous weapon in the hands of Germany, to be wielded in its campaign of exclusion against American products. Should she so desire, it is asserted by some, she can now bar out American meat and raise a defense of self-protection against disease-infected product, which could not easily be combated.

KING IS IN PERIL.

Attempt Is Made to Assassinate the Ruler of Greece.

Athens, Feb. 28.—An unsuccessful attempt was made Saturday to assassinate King George of Greece. The king was returning from Phalerum at five o'clock in the evening in a landau, accompanied by Princess Maria, when two men who were hidden in a ditch alongside the road opened fire with guns upon the occupants of the carriage. The first shot missed, but the second wounded a footman in the arm. The coachman whipped up his horses and the royal party dashed away at a gallop. The miscreants fired seven more shots after them, none of which took effect, and the king and the princess returned to the palace unhurt.

Athens, March 1.—One of the men who attempted the life of the king of Greece on Saturday has been arrested. His name is Karditza, and he is a minor employe in the mayor's office here. He refused to give the name of his accomplice. According to the Astray, it had been decided at a secret meeting of a certain club, held outside the city, to assassinate the king, because he had accepted the proposition for international financial control of the revenues, in order to arrange the war loan. This decision, it further appears, was recorded on the minutes of the club, a copy of which was sent to the king, who paid no attention to the threat.

Insurgents Defeated.

Havana, March 1.—La Lucha publishes an official dispatch giving an account of a battle in the province of Puerto Principe, in which the insurgents are said to have lost 181 killed and wounded. According to the dispatch the battle took place February 18 and 19 in and near the Santa Inez and Hinjoa hills. The Spanish force, which was under the command of Gen. Jiminez Castellanos, numbered 2,400 infantry and 400 cavalry. The insurgents numbered 3,000. The insurgents left 87 dead on the field. Among the killed were Col. Alvaro Rodriguez, Commandant Anglo Rocco and other officers. According to the dispatch the Spaniards lost one officer, Lieut. Porajo, and seven soldiers killed, and three officers and 73 soldiers wounded. The Spanish troops are said to have captured many weapons, a large quantity of ammunition and 34 horses.

Cargo of Reindeer.

New York, Feb. 28.—The steamer Manitoba has arrived with a herd of reindeer purchased by the government and destined to save the miners of the Yukon. The Manitoba brings 557 reindeer. In the steerage were 43 Laplanders, ten Finns and 15 Norwegians. They are the reindeer herders and drivers, with their wives and children. There are 418 reindeer sleds, 511 sets of reindeer harness and between 3,000 and 4,000 bags of moss, the only food of the reindeer, on the Manitoba.

Lost at Sea.

Boston, Feb. 28.—The British steamer Legislator, Capt. Tennant, bound from Liverpool for Colon, was burned at sea on February 16 in latitude 31.23 N. and longitude 44.10 W. The fire broke out so suddenly that 11 men forward were cut off from the rest of the ship and in saving them a boat was capsized and five men, including the second and third officers, the chief steward and the cook, were drowned. A fireman received such severe burns that he died in a few minutes.

Baseball Magnates Meet.

St. Louis, March 1.—With the exception of Andrew Friedman, president of the New York Baseball club, all the National league magnates are here to attend the annual meeting, which convened Monday at the Southern hotel. The adoption of a playing schedule, the drafting of new rules, especially one looking to the doing away of rowdy ball, and the appointment of a new chief of umpires and the selection of his staff are the principal matters up for action.

Many Deaths Reported.

Nanaimo, B. C., March 1.—The steamer Oregon arrived here Monday afternoon from Skaguay and Taiya, Alaska. She had a number of passengers who are returning home disgusted with Alaska. Before the Oregon left Skaguay 17 deaths from cerebro-spinal meningitis were reported in 24 hours. Dr. C. B. Estees, of Astoria, who was a passenger on the Oregon, predicts that the number of deaths will soon run into the hundreds.

Claims He Is Innocent.

Rio Janeiro, March 1.—Vice President Pereira has issued a long address, strongly protesting that he is innocent of complicity in the attempt made to assassinate President Moraes last year. He refuses to appear in court, invoking parliamentary immunity. Vice President Pereira in his address attacks President Moraes, to whom he attributes the agitations and misfortunes of the republic.

America's Greatest Medicine

GREATEST, Because it does what all other medicines fail to do. As an instance of its peculiar and unusual curative power, consider the most insidious disease, and the disease which taints the blood of most people, producing incalculable suffering to many, while in others it is a latent fire liable to burst into activit and produce untold misery on the least provocation.

Scrofula is the only ailment to which the human family is subject, of which the above sweeping statement can honestly be made. Now, a medicine that can meet this common enemy of mankind and repeatedly effect the wonderful cures Hood's Sarsaparilla has,—clearly has the right to the title of America's Greatest Medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

What Will He Do Next?

The imperial William held his sides. His face was red with laughing and the tears stood in his eyes. "Dot is too goot!" he gasped. "Ve got 'em all skairt most grazy, ain't it?" And he roared again. "Yes, your highness," the aid replied, "the dispatches say that the Yankees are quite wild over your suppositious movements. Stocks are bobbing up and down, and the market is badly demoralized. "Dot's pully!" cried the noble Hohenzollern. "Dose fellows didn't know dot Willie vas hiding under de sofa! Ve got der medicine to make 'em dance, you pet. Und so dey expect Heinrich in San Francceesko, ain't it, und Skeattle, und py der Klondikes? Oh, dot's too goot! Maybe dey expect him by Skecawgo and Sinnysknatti also. Oh, Willie, my poy, du bist ein crate choker. People all over de vide vorld is saying: 'Vell, vot vill he do next? Dot's de gwestion." Falls into a brown study and the aid softly slips out.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Florida and South-Dixie Flyer Route.

Double Daily Sleepers between Nashville and Jacksonville, via Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon and Tifton. Buffet Sleeper between St. Louis and Charleston, via Nashville, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Augusta. For information concerning rates to Winter Resorts, Land and Homeseekers Excursions South, Sleeping Car reservation, etc., apply to Briard F. Hill, N. P. Agt. 328 Marquette Bldg. Chicago, or J. H. Mittler, N. W. P. Agt. Box 609 St. Louis, Mo. For pamphlets regarding lands and resources of country traversed by Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, address J. B. Killebrew, Immigration Agent, Room 75 Chamber of Commerce, Nashville, Tenn.

A Diplomatic Invitation.

Jack Fiance—It was a great surprise to me to learn that you had invited your neighbors, the Flatpurses, to our wedding.

Jessica—Ah, but I ascertained that they were in such unquestionably straitened circumstances that they wouldn't come. That means they won't have money to get us a wedding present, and we will have a legitimate provocation for cutting them afterward.—Judge.

A Handsome Metal Paper Cutter and Book Mark Combined

Sent free of postage under sealed cover on receipt of ten cents in silver or stamps. The latest, best and most serviceable adjunct of every library and office. Address Geo. H. Heafford, 410 Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill.

What Puzzled Him.

The most ignorant man in America lives in St. Louis. The other day he asked his employer, who was reading a paper: "Say, boss, which does you read, the black or the white?"—Kansas City Star.

In the advertisement of the John A. Salzer Seed Company, La Crosse, Wis., a few weeks since, the price of potatoes was inadvertently placed at $1.05 per barrel; this should be $1.50 per barrel. We advise sending 5 cents postage for Salzer's catalogue.

A perfect type of the highest order of excellence.

TRADE-MARK

Walter Baker & Co.'s Breakfast Cocoa

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

Delicious--Nutritious.

COSTS LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.

Be sure you get the genuine article made at Dorchester, Mass., by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.

ESTABLISHED 1780.

Tone.

Five-Finger Exercise, No. 3.

The "Estey" tone is proverbial, rich, deep, pure and full, and it ought to be. Fifty years' experience in tone production is to be found in every Estey Organ sent from the factory.

Our five-pointed discourse complete with catalogue sent free.

Estey Organ Co.,
Brattleboro, Vt.

Oats 231 Bu. pr. A. Wheat 40c. a Bu.

How to grow wheat at 40c a bu. and 231 bus. oats; 173 bus. barley and 1600 bus. potatoes per acre; also SEE OUR GREAT CATALOGUE mailed you with 11 grass seed samples, upon receipt of THIS NOTICE and 10 cents in stamps.

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K 7)

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

A VIGOROUS BATTLE.

From the New Era, Greensburg, Ind.
The following is a straightforward statement of facts by a veteran of the late war. No comrade will need further proof than their friend's own words, as here given.

Squire John Castor, of Newpoint, Ind., is the narrator, and an honest, respected citizen he is, too. He said: "I have been troubled with rheumatism in all my joints, ever since I went to the war. It was brought on by my exposure there. It came on me gradually, and kept getting worse until I was unable to do any work. I tried several physicians, but they did me no good. They said my trouble was rheumatism resulting in disease of the heart, and that there was no cure for it. Nevertheless I had lived and fought the disease for thirty years, and did not intend to die, simply because they said

I must, so I hunted up some remedies for myself, and finally happened on Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I asked some of my neighbors about the medicine, for it had been used by several persons in the community, and they recommended it very highly. I procured a box. The pills helped me right away, and I continued taking them. I commenced taking them last fall, and finished taking the sixth box a few months ago. I am not bothered with the rheumatism now—the medicine has cured me. I can most certainly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

These pills are not only good for rheumatism, but are invaluable for any disease that arises from impoverished, or bad blood. They do not act on the bowels.

Mixed Maxims.

A man is known by the trumpery he keeps.
Never put a gift cigar in your mouth.
The lack of money is the root of all evil.
Where wisdom is bliss 'tis folly to be ignorant.
A pitch in time saved the nine.
Chain up a child and away he will go.
Virtue is its only reward.
The course of free love never did run smooth.
A bird in the hand lays no eggs.
All that a man hath will he give to his wife.
Many hands like light work.
It's a wise child that owes his own father.
The rolling stone catches the worm.
Osculation is the thief of time.
A thirsty man will catch at a straw.
Straws show which way the gin goes.
"Heaven lies about us in our infancy," and this world lies about us when we are grown up.
It is not good for man to give a loan.
The wages of sin is debt.
Every dogma must have its day.—Carolyn Wells, in Chap-Book.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with Local Applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.
Sold by all druggists, price 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Quite a Kid.

Joseph Jefferson a few weeks ago was walking in Boston with a friend. Mr. Jefferson met Judge Charles Levi Woodbury, and was then and there introduced to Judge Woodbury by the friend.

"I am glad to meet you, Mr. Jefferson," said Judge Woodbury. "You are not so tall a man as your father was." Whereupon Mr. Jefferson expressed his pleasure at meeting a friend and contemporary of his father.

"And you are not so large a man as your grandfather, whose acquaintance I also enjoyed," continued Judge Woodbury.

"Well, well," said Mr. Jefferson, "I'm something of a kid after all."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Only Half Sure.

Bookstore Salesman—What can I show you, madam?

Mrs. Struckett-Ritch—I want to order the complete works of—the complete works of—there, I've forgotten again! I know it's either Wordsworth or Southworth, but I can't remember which. About the same thing, ain't they?—Chicago Tribune.

Lots of boys say they cannot stand the confinement of the schoolroom, who can stand to loaf around a billiard hall every day.—Washington Democrat.

Both the bride and groom may be timid, yet they always stand up for their rites.—Chicago Daily News.

Don't run from a bore; he is probably keeping you from boring somebody else.—Chicago Record.

Mothers must be an awfully good thing; children cry for them so much.—Atchison Globe.

Clove—An article used in the manufacture of a counterfeit breath.—Chicago Daily News.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

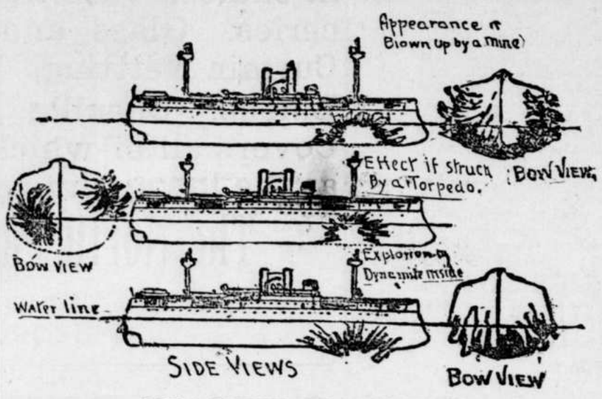
MAKING SLOW PROGRESS

Report of Board of Inquiry Not Expected for Weeks.

Court Goes to Key West to Get Testimony of Wounded Survivors —Difficulties Experienced by the Divers.

Key West, Fla., March 1.—The United States court of inquiry into the loss of the battle ship Maine in the harbor of Havana on February 15 began its sessions here Monday morning. Those officers and civilians here who believed the reports from Havana saying that the court had already decided that the loss of the Maine was due to treachery have apparently changed their minds, for Monday the universal question was: "What has the court found out?" while Sunday one heard all around: "When will war be declared?"

Brought face to face with the court,



HOW A WARSHIP CAN BE BLOWN UP.

men realize for the first time how unlikely it will be for the court to allow any inkling of its conclusions to be known out of due season.

Divers Work Slowly.

Havana, March 1.—The difficulty experienced in recovering the bodies of victims of the Maine disaster is not understood by any but the divers. The latter Sunday worked for three hours trying to bring out one body intact, and one of the divers had a bad fall and several got their air tubes tangled. Even then they could not extricate the remains. The principal efforts of the divers are now directed toward clearing the upper wreckage, smokestacks, decks, guns, hatches, bridge, cranes and gratings. Then, if not before, all the dead can be removed.

May Not Get Report for Weeks.

Washington, March 1.—At the close of office hours a telegram came to the navy department from Admiral Sicard at Key West saying it would be necessary for the court of inquiry to resume sessions at Havana to obtain evidence of divers after further work upon the wreck. One important deduction to be drawn from the message was that the report of the court of inquiry can scarcely be expected for several weeks to come. Upon the return to Havana it is expected that a good deal of time must elapse before the divers can get through the mud which now encompasses the lower part of the wreck of the Maine and examine the bottom. After this is done the court must deliberate in order to secure an agreement upon their findings. The prevalent belief at the navy department is that up to this moment the court has not once undertaken to compare notes and endeavor to reach such an agreement.

HOW A SUBMARINE MINE IS PLACED AND OPERATED.

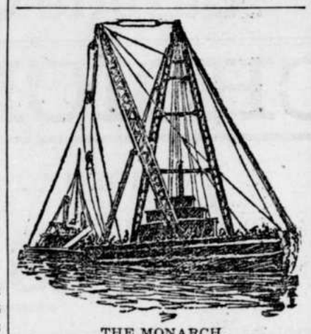
Opinion prevails among members of congress that the president and his advisers have positive information regarding the destruction of the Maine, but



THE MONARCH.
(Most Powerful Floating Derrick—Now at New York.)

that facts are kept secret and the official inquiry is being delayed to give the administration needed time to prepare for threatened war.

Can't Be a Senator.

Washington, March 1.—Hon. Henry W. Corbett was on Monday denied admission to the senate as a senator from Oregon, on the appointment by the governor, by the decisive vote of 50 to 19. Speeches were made against the admission of Mr. Corbett by Senators Bacon (Ga.) and Burrows (Mich.), and in favor of his admission by Senator Morgan (Ala.).

Promoted.

New York, Feb. 25.—Francis M. Bunce, commandant of the navy yard here, has received from Washington his commission as rear admiral. His official rank up to Thursday was that of commodore.

TEN VICTIMS OF EXPLOSION.

Awful Disaster at Kalamazoo, Mich. —Fire in a Laboratory.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 28.—While firemen were trying to extinguish a fire in the second story of Hall Bros.' laboratory Saturday night a terrific explosion took place, blowing the roof and the walls of the building into the street. Ten men were killed and fourteen injured as follows:

DEAD—George Halliday, engine driver; Pat McHugh, pipeman; John Hastings, Jr., hoseman; Charles Whiting, spectator; James Quigley, spectator; William Wager, fireman; L. L. Holloway, druggist; Frank Auwers, fireman; Eugene Dole, fireman; Joseph Clifford, telephone lineman.

INJURED—Will Hastings, scalp badly cut and right foot blown off, necessitating amputation; James Utter, driver, both legs broken; John McDermott, fireman, leg broken, face badly burned; Ordway Knight, fireman, head badly cut; George Chatterton, back broken, leg injured; Victor Vocelle, scalp badly cut, skull injured; Fred Stohrer, hip injured; John McAllister, fireman, leg broken; six others received lesser injuries.

Firemen were perched upon ladders on several sides of the building and they were buried in the great heaps of debris. The flames shot up 100 feet, and then after a moment two more explosions occurred. The shocks broke many windows in other buildings, horses were knocked down, and spectators thrown off their feet. The loss will be $30,000, upon which there is an insurance of $18,000. The Kalamazoo Paper Box company occupied the same building, and its loss is $6,000; insurance, $4,225. Some of the debris was blown across the tracks of the Michigan Central railroad, and it will stop traffic for several hours. A fire engine was covered up by the bricks, mortar and timbers, and the horses ran away, dashing into the crowd.

END CAME SUDDENLY.

Unexpected Close of the Career of William M. Singerly.

Philadelphia, Feb. 28.—William M. Singerly died suddenly at his residence, 1701 Locust street, Sunday afternoon. Heart disease was the immediate cause of death.

William M. Singerly was proprietor of the Record Publishing company, president of the Chestnut Street national bank and the Chestnut Street Savings & Trust company, which recently collapsed, and president of the Singerly pulp and paper mill. He was a member of the Fairmount park commission, and until lately the treasurer, and a trustee of the Philadelphia commercial museum. He was born in this city on December 27, 1832, and with the exception of a brief period in his early manhood when he conducted a commission business in Chicago has lived here ever since. Mr. Singerly was always an active democrat. In 1894 he was unanimously made the democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania and entered with great energy into the canvass, speaking in nearly every county in the state. During the last national campaign he supported the Palmer and Buckner ticket, making a number of speeches in its behalf in Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, and organized a local association in aid of the movement. He also took an active part in forming the Pennsylvania Bankers' association.

Financial misfortune overtook Mr. Singerly during the last few months of his life, when on December 23 last the Chestnut Street national bank and trust company were compelled to close their doors. Messers. Earle and Cook were made assignees of the trust company and managers of a plan looking to the liquidation of the affairs of both institutions. Mr. Singerly promptly turned over to them every personal asset he possessed, including his interest in the Record. Since then a receiver has been appointed for the bank and the affairs of it and the trust company are in process of settlement.

Death for Six.

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Six persons, pleasure seekers, residents of West Harvey, were crushed to death Saturday evening at the Western avenue crossing of the Grand Trunk railroad south of Blue Island. A bus loaded with 11 men and women was struck by a passenger train. Only two of the occupants, James Rogers and J. H. McKeon, escaped injury. Instant death came to five, one died later at St. Luke's hospital, and others are dangerously wounded. The accident was caused directly by the icy ground. The bus rounded a curve in the country road just before reaching the rails. There is a slight down-grade beginning at the curve, and the driver was unable to stop the vehicle, which slid down and on the tracks directly in front of the flying passenger train.

Verdict Causes Surprise.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 28.—The jury in the case of the state against the bondsmen of ex-State Treasurer Bartley returned a verdict for the defense Sunday evening. The amount sued for was $555,000. The case was on trial 19 days, and was given to the jury Friday evening. The court's instructions were in effect that a verdict for the full amount should be returned in favor of the state.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

Fight with a Maniac.

A fight with a raving maniac during the midnight hours—a struggle for dear life at a time when assistance could not be obtained—was the thrilling experience of Charles Hanson, steward of the Red Wing hospital. His assailant was Charles Ell, a maniac at the time. Ell struck the steward in the face several times with his fist and then picked up a mop handle and beat him. At that time, wounded and bleeding, minutes seemed like hours to Mr. Hanson, but no one came to his assistance. His horrible fight for life continued for nearly an hour, and when he was about to give up on account of failing strength, a nurse, being attracted by the noise, came in time to save his life.

To Be Returned.

Two insane patients are to be deported under the United States statute and the state law governing the deportation of the foreign insane. State Agent W. A. Gates left with his wards for New York, and thence they will be sent to their native lands. Kristofer Askhjem, a Norwegian who came to the United States in August, was taken from the St. Peter asylum. He was committed from Minneapolis three weeks ago. The other is Carni Vincezo, an Italian, who has been confined at the Fergus Falls institution for two months.

Territorial Pioneers.

A general reunion of old settlers who came to Minnesota prior to 1858 was held at Little Falls in response to invitations sent out by Hon. Nathan Richardson, secretary of the Territorial Pioneers' society. About 50 were present, among whom were Hon. Wm. E. Lee, of Long Prairie, and ex-Senator Geo. Feissel, of North Prairie, both of whom made speeches, after which several hours were spent in talking over old times. The banquet was held at Hotel Buckman.

We Are First.

The big event of the National Creamery Buttermakers' convention at Topeka, Kas., was the awarding of prizes for the best creamery butter. There were 500 entries in the contest. The judges awarded the first prize, a gold medal and $25 in cash, to Sam Hougdahl, of New Sweden, Minn., who scored 98; the second prize, a silver medal and $10 in cash, was given to Martin Mortenson, of Ames, Io., who scored 97½.

Must Conform to the Law.

Secretary Hart, of the state board of corrections and charities, received specifications for a village lock-up at Deer River, Itasca county. The specifications provide for a frame building, with cells made of pine scantlings. Secretary Hart will notify the village authorities that a fire-proof lock-up will have to be built or none at all, in accordance with the provisions of the law.

Ignatius Donnelly Married.

A wedding which has created a great sensation and an unusual amount of talk and interest in Minneapolis, and, in fact, all over the northwest, or wherever the distinguished bridegroom is known, was solemnized in Minneapolis Feb. 22, at high noon, when Ignatius Donnelly was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Marion Olive Hanson, the 22-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hanson.

Want the State to Pay.

Beltrami county officials want the game and fish commission to pay the bills growing out of the killing of Game Warden Wetzel by the Indians. The doctors ask for $80, of which $20 is for care for the Indians shot by Wetzel. Dr. J. B. Gilfillan, the White Earth missionary, urges the commission not to push the prosecution of the murderers. The commission, however, urges the fullest prosecution.

News in Brief.

The state auditor computes the area of Leech lake as 124,000,000 acres; Mille Lacs, 110,000,000, while Red lake exceeds both in area.

The record has been broken at the office of the clerk of courts of Hennepin county. For 10 years past there have not been two days in succession in which a marriage license was not issued by the clerk, but Feb. 24 and 25 not a marriage license was issued.

State Treasurer Koerner has received from a Kentucky bank three old bills issued by the State Bank of Austin in 1858. The bank long ago went out of existence, and the Kentuckians want to know if they can be redeemed.

The farmers of Flora, Renville county, have just contracted for the erection of a creamery. This will be the third creamery to be erected in that vicinity in 1898.

Henry Murphy was thrown into a wire fence near Preston by a runaway team and frightfully cut about the face and neck, just grazing the windpipe. Thirteen stitches were taken.

Judge Crosby, of Hastings, held court at Kenyon for the purpose of issuing full citizenship papers to aliens, Judge Williston being sick. Eighty-two took advantage of this opportunity, in comparison with 200 one year ago.

In accordance with his last request, the body of Charles Dietz, a tailor, was cremated at the Forest Cemetery crematory at St. Paul. The work of incineration was witnessed by a number of physicians.

The North Swedish Mission church in Minneapolis was damaged by fire to the extent of $500.

The state executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. has reorganized by the election of N. R. Frost, St. Paul, president; C. S. Ward, Minneapolis, secretary; R. H. Chute, Minneapolis, treasurer. State Secretary Francis and Assistant Secretary Hill were re-elected.

Executive Agent Fullerton, of the state game and fish commission, seized two boxes of white or pin-tailed grouse at the Minnesota Transfer. The birds were being shipped through to Boston and were consigned to J. W. Little & Sons, St. Paul.

After three years of quiet, the Milwaukee road will reopen its station at Carver.

Dr. L. N. Lyon and Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck, of Minneapolis, have been chosen by the St. Paul gun club to represent that organization at the annual meeting of the American gun club, to be held at Elkwood, N. J. This will be one of the greatest tournaments ever held in the United States.

The saloonkeepers of Crookston gave a ball on Washington's birthday.

President James J. Hill has promised the citizens of St. Cloud a new Great Northern depot of native granite and extensive capacity. The St. Cloud people, in return, promise to ship in and out via the Great Northern.

HOW SHE MANAGED HIM.

Let Her Husband Be Cross for the Presents He Gave Her.

They were two women discussing their husbands over shopping lunch. One asked the other if her husband was ever cross.

"He is never anything else," was the cool reply.

"How do you manage him?" asked the first speaker.

"I don't try to manage him. I just let him alone."

"But how do you make up?"

"We don't make up. You see, he is always as cross as two sticks at breakfast, and says a whole lot of sarcastic things about women attending to their households, and club women, and any other old thing he can think of, and then he goes away mad and slams the front door."

"You poor thing. And people say you are so congenial and so well suited to each other."

"So we are. When Harold comes home at night he hands me a little package and says he hopes it will please me, and I tell him he is too good, and I wish all women had as good a husband as mine. Then I see what he's giving me, and sometimes it's a lovely belt or a new chatelaine, or a fancy scarf, and I give him a kiss nad ask him to forgive me for being cross in the morning."

The other woman looked dazed and went on sipping her chocolate in profound silence as long as she could stand it. Then she flashed out:

"And yet you deliberately told me you did not manage him."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Sound Money Discussions.

Between now and next presidential election there will be hosts of discussions of the questions of "sound money" and silver. However opinions may be divided on these points, there is but one public and professional opinion, and that is a favorable one, regarding the merits of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for and preventive of malaria, as well as a curative of kidney complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, liver trouble and rheumatism.

Safe at All Hours.

Humanity is never satisfied. The man with a watchdog, a nervous wife and a restive baby does not feel safe without a burglar alarm.—Adams (Mass.) Freeman.

A preparation called "Cocoaine," made by the old house of Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., has grown into general use and great favor for the preservation of the hair as well as for removing dandruff. Druggists are supposed to carry this excellent remedy, and the manufacturers will send a pamphlet on the subject of the hair, its care and management, to all who apply to them for it.

There are people who think it is a big thing to play no cards but whist.—Washington Democrat.

Dr. Hayes, of Buffalo, N. Y., is succeeding in curing Asthma so that it stays cured. A postal card will bring full information.

Bachelor—A traveler on life's railway who has missed his connections.—Chicago Daily News.

Feel it pass away—when St. Jacobs Oil cures Neuralgia. Soothes it out.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE.

And what it led to.

It is not a common occurence that a friendly word should be the means of giving nearly forty years of happiness and health to the person heeding the advice it carried. This was the case with Mary Lingard. At twenty-five she was dragging out her days in misery. At sixty-one she finds herself so active and strong she can do work that would shame many a younger woman, and looks back on thirty-six happy, healthful years of industry. But let her tell her story:

"Thirty-six years ago I had great trouble with my liver. The doctors allowed that there were tumors growing on it, and they blistered my side in an effort to give me relief. I was at that time earning my living as a tailoress, but for five years, between the pain in my side and the blisters I was in constant misery, and work was a drag to me, with no prospect of relief; fortunately for me, however, a friend advised me to take Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and finally persuaded me to take a regular course of it. When I first commenced taking the Sarsaparilla my side was so painful that I could not fasten my dress, and for a time I did not get any relief, but my friend advised me to persevere and relief was sure to come, and come it did. This happened, as I say, thirty-six years ago. My liver has never troubled me since, and during these years I have passed through the most critical period of a woman's life without any particular trouble, and to-day, at sixty-one years of age, I am active and strong, and able to do a day's work that would upset many a younger woman. Ever since my recovery I have taken a couple of bottles of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla each spring, and am quite satisfied that I owe my good health to this treatment. I give this testimonial purely in the hope that it may meet the eye of some poor sufferer."—Mary Lingard, Woodstock, Ont.

Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has won its way to every corner of the world by the praise of its friends; those who have tried it and who know they were cured by the use of the remedy. There is nothing so strong as this personal testimony. It throws all theories and fancies to the winds and stands solidly upon the rock of experience challenging every skeptic with a positive "I know." Ayer's Sarsaparilla with its purifying and vitalizing action on the blood is a radical remedy for every form of disease that begins in tainted or impure blood. Hence tumors, sores, ulcers, boils, eruptions and similar diseases yield promptly to this medicine. Some cases are more stubborn than others, but persistence with Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla usually results in a complete cure. Mary Lingard began with a bottle, and went on to a course of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. When she was cured she realized that a medicine that could cure disease could also prevent it. So she took a couple of bottles each spring and kept in perfect health. There are thousands of similar cases on record. Some of these are gathered into Dr. Ayer's Curebook, a little book of 100 pages which is sent free by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. Write for it.

Just So.

Quite frequently a man's views on religion depend to a considerable extent on what kind of a job he has.—Puck.

Piso's Cure is the medicine to break up children's Coughs and Colds.—Mrs. M. G. Blunt, Sprague, Wash., March 8, '94.

Cheek—Something that a man has a great deal of when it covers an acher.—Chicago Daily News.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Be careful how you grasp an opportunity; it is often terribly hard to let go.—Chicago Record.

Rupture. Sure cure. Book free. Write for it to S. J. Sherman, Specialist, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

With the day the light, with the road the strength to tread it.—Samuel Johnson.

Keep on and suffer if you think St. Jacob's Oil won't cure rheumatism.

Flag-raising is one of our standard industries.—Chicago Daily News.

Sprained last night. To-day you are Well if you use St. Jacobs Oil to cure.

The principles of acoustics are sound doctrines.—Chicago Daily News.

Aids.

Fannie—I wonder where Mr. Reggie got his lovely English accent. He's American born.

Queenie—Why, I heard he bought his teeth in London.

"How clever of him."—Philadelphia Call.

Oh, What Splendid Coffee.

Mr. Goodman, Williams Co., Ill., writes: "From one package Salzer's German Coffee Berry costing 15c I grew 300 lbs. of better coffee than I can buy in stores at 30 cents a lb."

A package of this and big seed catalogue is sent you by John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., upon receipt of 15 cents stamps and this notice. Send for same to-day. K 7

"I suspect there has been some crooked work going on here," he said. And he was right. His wife had been driving nails.—Puck.

Why suffer with an ache or pain
When St. Jacobs Oil will cure? Why?

A poor speller always spells words the hardest way.—Washington Democrat.

Frost-bites are like burns, and both
Are cured by St. Jacobs Oil promptly.

A-lass!—The favorite interjection of the love-lorn youth.—Chicago Daily News.

Not yourself? Use St. Jacobs Oil for Soreness and stiffness. It will cure.

A JOYFUL MOTHER OF CHILDREN.

Mrs. Pinkham Declares that in the Light of Modern Science no Woman Need Despair.

There are many curable causes for sterility in women. One of the most common is general debility, accompanied by a peculiar condition of the blood.

Care and tonic treatment of the female organs relieve more cases of supposed incurable barrenness than any other known method. This is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has effected so many cures; its tonic properties are directed especially to the nerves which supply the uterine system. Among other causes for sterility or barrenness are displacements of the womb. These displacements are caused by lack of strength in the ligaments supporting the womb and the ovaries; restore these, and the difficulty ceases. Here, again, the Vegetable Compound works wonders. See Mrs. Lytle's letter, which follows in this column. Go to the root of the matter, restore the strength of the nerves and the tone of the parts, and nature will do the rest. Nature has no better ally than this Compound, made of her own healing and restoring herbs.

Write freely and fully to Mrs. Pinkham. Her address is Lynn, Mass. She will tell you, free of charge, the cause of your trouble and what course to take. Believe me, under right conditions, you have a fair chance to become the joyful mother of children. The woman whose letter is here published certainly thinks so:

"I am more than proud of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and cannot find words to express the good it has done me. I was troubled very badly with the leucorrhœa and severe womb pains. From the time I was married, in 1882, until last year, I was under the doctor's care. We had no children. I have had nearly every doctor in Jersey City, and have been to Belvin Hospital, but all to no avail. I saw Mrs. Pinkham's advertisement in the paper, and have used five bottles of her medicine. It has done more for me than all the doctors I ever had. It has stopped my pains and has brought me a fine little girl. I have been well ever since my baby was born. I heartily recommend Mrs. Pinkham's medicine to all women suffering from sterility."—Mrs. Lucy Lytle, 255 Henderson St., Jersey City, N. J.

DIRECTIONS

Closer you keep

to the directions, the more Pearline will do for you—especially so in washing clothes.

Even the hit or miss way in which many use Pearline is better than soap-using. But soaking, boiling, and rinsing the clothes—according to directions—is best of all—better for clothes: better for you. Use no soap with it. 577

Millions NOW USE Pearline

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
CURE CONSTIPATION
REGULATE THE LIVER
10c 25c 50c
ALL DRUGGISTS
888.

"DON'T BORROW TROUBLE."
BUY
SAPOLIO
'TIS CHEAPER IN THE END.

RHEUMATISM
Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

FREE! WANTED—All persons looking for a home to join one of the fifteen successful colonies and settlements now forming along the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad in Minnesota. Cheap lands, good soil, pure water, clear streams, beautiful lakes, a healthful climate, freedom from drought and malaria, excellent markets. The King of all countries for the DAIRY BUSINESS and Diversified Farming. Maps and Circulars free. Address HOPEWELL CLARKE, Land Commissioner, 908 Globe Building, St. Paul, Minn.

TOWER'S TRADE MARK FISH BRAND
SLICKER
WILL KEEP YOU DRY.
Don't be fooled with a mackintosh or rubber coat. If you want a coat that will keep you dry in the hardest storm buy the Fish Brand Slicker. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

In 3 to 4 Years
An Independence is Assured
160 ACRES FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE
If you take up YOUR Home in WESTERN CANADA, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experience of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat. Reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates, can be had on application to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 134 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

FOR 14 CENTS
We wish to gain 150,000 new customers, and hence offer
1 Pkg. 13 Day Radish, 10c
1 Pkg. Early Spring Turnip, 10c
1 " Earliest Red Beet, 10c
1 " Bismarck Cucumber, 10c
1 " Queen Victoria Lettuce, 15c
1 " Klondyke Melon, 15c
1 " Jumbo Giant Onion, 15c
3 " Brilliant Flower Seeds, 15c
Worth $1.00, for 14 cents.
Above 10 pkgs. worth $1.00, we will mail you free, together with our great Plant and Seed Catalogue upon receipt of this notice and 14c postage. We invite your trade and know when you once try Salzer's seeds you will never get along without them. Potatoes at $1.50 a Bbl. Catalog alone 5c. No. 8 7
JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS.

WINCHESTER GUN
CATALOGUE FREE
SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

FITS STOPPED FREE. PERMANENTLY CURED Insanity Prevented by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER
Positive cure for all Nervous Diseases, Fits, Epilepsy, Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance. No Fits or Nervous-ness after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges only when received. Send to DR. KLINE, Ltd., Kellevue Institute of Medicine, 933 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE
Is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 50c; large, 65c. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

SOW GOOD SEED
GREGORY SEED is good. Prices low—quality high. New varieties vegetables described in free catalog. James J. H. Gregory & Son, Marblehead, Mass.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habit cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

PATENTS Send for Inventors' Guide, free. EDGAR TATE & CO. Patent Solicitors, 245 B'dw'y, New York.

PATENTS 30 years a Solicitor. Book free. W. T. Stevens, Opposite Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, MAR. 4, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

DR. NIVEN in Delano, Mar. 9, 10.

—Next Sunday evening is consecration Sunday for the E. L. Mrs. Farber will conduct the services.

—The teacher's examinations were held Wednesday and Thursday in the Principals room at the school house, by Superintendent Lee.

—Miss Mamie Farber successfully engineered the entertainment of the E. L. Wednesday evening. She says it was hard on nerves though.

—The last day of February was fine. Sleighing was quite fair in the morning, but in the evening muddy in many places, the snow haying melted away rapidly during the day.

—There is a man in business in Delano who says he never drank but one glass of liquor over a bar in his life, but he would not live in a town where there is no saloon.

--The Thomas Concert Company gave an entertainment at the City Hall Tuesday evening to a small sized audience. The programme was well carried out and several members encored.

—Several business changes have lately been made in Delano, Oscar Ball to Oscar Eppel, F. T. Zaun, to J. L. Stein, John Coolen to W. and T. Rader. We understand others are in contemplation.

—A farmer a couple of miles from Delano, when Montrose had no saloons told us he did business at Montrose instead of Delano because he did'nt have to buy so much liquor there. He could come home sober.

—March came in like a lion. Before day light it was noticeable that a change had taken place in the weather. Spits of snow with a genuine March wind soon made their appearance, and the lion, though rather a small one, roared all the same.

—A large delegation of Delano men attended the meeting of "Orientals" at Rockford Saturday night. They claim they had a large time and initiated 21 new members. They expect to effect the organization of a lodge in Delano in a week or so.

—Symptoms of spring are again making themselves manifest. The thrifty gardener will now begin putting in a few early garden seeds, and the enterprising farmer will try his seed wheat, oats, and other grains to be sure he has what will grow.

—One of the most enjoyable occasions of the season was the Epworth League sociable at the City Hall Wednesday evening. The audience was a large and appreciative one. The entertainment was fine: the luncheon excellent: the receipts satisfactory, and everybody had a good time.

—Next Tuesday be at the polls and vote for the best men on any ticket that shows up, not forgetting that there are good men not in the same party you are. Politics seems to have dropped out of village elections, and now what the people want is men who will do their best to enforce the laws.

--Editor Wharton is quite anxious to have us publish the report of births and deaths for 1897. Up to date the records of the Health officer show for Delano, 1897: births 18, deaths 8. By the way though, the Eagle has not yet stated how she managed to gobble onto that $21, from the county for publishing "Notice to Tax Payers."

--Next Tuesday from nine till five o'clock election will be held at the City Hall. A president, three trustees, recorder, treasurer, justice of the peace, and constable will be elected. Upon the officers of the village devolves the enforcement of the ordinances and laws. Elect a good set of men.

—Charley Kaemmer says Eph Ball and he had a fine time on their butter association excursion. Nothing was too good for them. They even called at Bishop Millspaugh's residence and finding the reverend gentleman out, carried off his his house, as a souvenier of their visit; that is, Charley took a snap shot of it which he is having developed and expects soon to haye on exhibition.

--The union meeting of the E. L. and C. E. at the M. E. church, Sunday evening was quite well attended under the circumstances. The electric lights not being turned on prevented the appearance of many. But kerosene sufficed to light those present and a good meeting was had. Rev. Farber preached a temperance sermon immediately after the adjournment of the joint meeting. He waxed considerably eloquent.

Caucus.

Notice is hereby given that there will be a Union Caucus held at the City Hall Delano Minn. on Saturday evening at 7:30 P. M. or the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for Village officers as follows: 1 President, 3 Trustees, 1 Recorder, 1 Treasurer, and 1 Justice of the Peace.

Per Order of Committee.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that a caucus of the legal voters of the Town of Franklin will be held in the City Hall Delano on Saturday March 5th, 1898, at 2 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of nominating town officers.

Per COMMITTEE.

Statutes.

§2035. Same—Duty of officers.

It shall be the duty of every sheriff, deputy-sheriff, constable, policeman, or other peace-officer, to immediately arrest any person or persons found committing any of the offenses named in this act, and to make complaint against them, to the end that they may be dealt with according to law, and to enforce this act. Any such officer who shall fail to do his duty, as in this section required, shall be guilty of malfesance in office, for which he may be removed therefrom.

Personal.

Dr. Catlin visited Buffalo, Monday, on business.

Mrs. George W. Bolton visited Minneapolis Saturdy.

Mr. Hoar, of Monticello, was a Delano visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Hawker called on Rockford friends Monday.

Uncle Joe Bland, of Marysville, was a GAZETTE caller Saturday.

Mrs. Bradley, from Minneapolis is again stopping with Miss Arnold.

Emil Krone, of Hanover, an old time Delnoite was doing business here Tuesday.

F. L. Scherer was in town a couple of days looking after his business interests here.

John Walker, one tf the prosperous farmers of Rockford township, made us an agreeable call Wednesday.

C. E. Ball and Charley kemmer returned early in the week from their Topeka trip with the butter makers.

Dr. Harry and Guy Halgren drove over Sunday evening with a load of young people from Watertown.

Fay Parslow was at home over Sunday. He thinks the Osteopaths in Minneapolis are straightening his spine.

Prof. Jas A. Wharton returned faom Ashland Wis. Monday. He found his mother, who hah beee quite sick, recovering.

Among passengers for Minneapolis Monday morning were Al Eppel, F. H. Lindsley, Fay Parslow and Miss Viola Cunningham.

Oscar Ball left last night for Grafton, N. D., to rustle for himself awhile. A large delegation of young friends saw him off at the depot.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brandes and family drove over Wednesday and attended the funeral of Mrs. B's nephew, William Fenkner, Thursday.

Miss Anna Parslow has finished her school, in the Maple Lake district, where the Mullen-Flannigan fight occurred, and is again safe at home.

Sheriff Nugent was in town Monday, on his way to Minneapolis, Prof. Bohn is authority for the statement that he is an ardent Silver man and Bryan suporter.

Charles A Bronkow, visited Duluth last week with the grocers association. He is well pleased with the business prospects of the zenith city by the unsalted sea.

Rev. J. S. McCornock, of Howard Lake hrs been on the sick list for two weeks and unable to fill his Tuesday evening appointments here. We are glad to learn that he is regaining his usual health.

Card of Thanks.

We would hereby tender our heartfelt thanks to those of our kind friends who assisted us in caring for and attending the last sad offices for our beloved relative the late William Fenkner.

VALETTINE EPPEL AND FAMILY.

County Cullings.

We wondered at the apparent restoration to republicanism of the Hon. A. Y. Eaton, by several of his remarks about "we republicans" going to win out next fall, while we were in Buffalo the other day; but the probable restoration to power of ex-Governor Merriam, whose ardent admirers the Senator has always been, gives to the enigma a solution. If Mr. Merriam is restored to grace, and C. K. Davis buries the hatchet, A. Y. will in all probability be the Republican nominee for Congress from the sixth district.

Some of our politicians are growing quite restless. They are anxious to know what the other fellows are going to do, in order that they may know what they want to do themselves. The Democrats and People's party people generally, must unite on a ticket if they wish to defeat the Republicans. There are several points on which the anti-republicans can unite. They favor bimetallism. They favor reform all along the line. "In union there is strength." "A house divided against itself must fall." The Republicans are more than ever split up in state and in county politics. Now is the opportunity. Let every honest advocate of Bryanism be on hand at the primaries and see to it that his voice is heard, and his ballot counted for the cause and let a ticket be put up that will need no defending, but which is in itself a tower of strength, and for which every true decple of reform will work, early and late, until triumphant at the polls next November.

Application for Transfer of License to Sell Intoxicating Liquors.

TO THE VILLAGE COUNCIL of Delano, in the county of Wright and State of Minnesota:

The undersigned J. L. Stein hereby makes application for a transfer of license to sell Intoxicating Liquors for a period of the unexpired term of F. T. Zaun.

The place where the said business is to be carried on is designated as follows: On ground floor of the two story brick building situated on Lot twenty-three (23) of block eight original townsite of Delano.

Said applicant prays that such transfer of License be granted to him pursuant to the ordinance of said Village of Delano and the statutes of said state of Minnesota, in such case made and provided.

The hearing, by the Village council, on said petition will be had at the council room, in the City Hall, at Delano, on Tuesday, Feby. 8, at 8:30 P. M.

Dated at Delano, Minn, this 1st day of March 1898.

L. M. MAXFIELD,
Recorder.

April Conference for Ministers and Christian Workers.

The Third Annual Conference for Ministers and Christian Workers will hold its sessions in Chicago, at the Bible institute, throughout the month of April.

The Conference occurs at the close of the winter's heavy work, and many pastors obtain leave of absence for their vacation then, in order to attend the Conference.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu,	$ .92
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .89
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .86
Rye	" "	$ .39
Potatoes, per bu..		.40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.10
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5 00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .07
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

DIED.

KUNKEL,—In Franklin, on Tuesday, March 1, Mrs. Sophia, wife of Crarles Kunkel, aged 19 years.

FENKNER,—At Cloquet, Minn. on Monday, Feby. 28. William Fenkner, aged 32.

Deceased was in the pineries with his cousin Frank Eppel, and was killed by a falling tree. He was buried from the Catholic church here yesterday.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
(SUCCESSORS TO H. GALLEY)
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING, REPAIRING AND GENERAL CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

DR. NIVEN

will be in Delano March 9 and 10; Howard Lake, March 11, and Waverly, March 12 and 13. Dentistry, all branches. Painless extracting with Gas or Odontunder. Lowest prices. Office in Delano at Danforth House. 2t

MERCHANT TAILOR.
J. BRANDSER.
DELANO, MINN.
Spring Styles
Goods on Hand
BIGGEST STOCK
THAT EVER
CAME
To Wright County.
NOBBY SUITS,
FIT GUARANTEED.
Call soon and get a choice of Patterns.
22 tf.

GIVE US A CALL.
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.
Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.
Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
32tf. Edison Park, Ill.

[Pub. Jan. 28, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25, March 4, 11.]

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court, Eighteenth Judicial District, in and for the County of Wright and State of Minnesota upon a judgment rendered in said County on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1897, in an action therein, wherein the State of Minnesota was Plaintiff and Danville Mayo, Moses Mayo and John Collins were Defendants in favor of said Plaintiff and against said defendants for the sum of five hundred thirty four and 8-100 dollars (534.08) and whereas said judgment was docketed in the office of Clerk of the District Court for Wright County on the 19th day of October 1897, at 4. P. M. of that day, I did on the 25th day of January A. D. 1898 duly levy upon all right, title and interest of the within named defendants or either of them in and to the following described Real Estate situated and being in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota and described as follows to-wit:

The west half of the north east quarter of section twenty three, in township one hundred and twenty one, range twenty four.

Now therefore Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale and will sell the premises levied upon and described in the within notice to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the Village of Buffalo, in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 12th day of March, 1898, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated this 26th day of January, 1898.

JOHN C. NUGENT,
Sheriff of Wright County.

C. A. PIDGEON,
County Attorney
for Wright County.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.
Money the Pricing Instrument.
Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.
The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.
The Silver Knight-Watchman.
The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.
U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.
A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.
A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.
A large circulation in every State and Territory.
Subscription Price, $1 Per Year.
Send for sample; agents wanted.
Published weekly by the
Silver Knight Publishing Co.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

—of the—

Village of Delano Minn., for the Year Ending

—MARCH 2, 1898.—

Balance in Treasury, March 3, 1897.		$33.64
RECEIPTS.
Light Rents,	$1507.46
Hall Rents, and Licenses,	111.55
Village Revenue, from County Treasurer	632 95
Liquor Licenses	3500.00
Fines,	10 00
Water Rents Fines, etc	445.47
Weiklund House Rent,	14.00
Sidewalks, from County Treasurer,	7.00
Delinquent Road, from County Treasurer,	1.65
Miscellanious Items,	107.22
For Hook and Ladder Truck, transferred from Fire Department Fund.	50.00
For Fire Bell,	50.00
Total Receipts,		6470.94
DISBURSEMENTS.
Engineer Salary,	870.00
Marshall's Salary,	468.00
Village Officer's Salary	196.06
Labor Account,	91.47
Street Work,	667.27
Fuel,	575.86
Electric and Other supplies,	560.80
Poor,	176.10
Printing,	74 15
Health Officers,	25.00
Compass,	68.15
Special Police,	22.85
Fire Department,	29.25
City Hall Repairs and Bell,	117.00
Insurance,	301.11
Lumber,	200.22
Serveying Streets,	30 93
Payment Village Bond,	1000.00
Interest on Bonds,	524.82
Freight and Express,	19.95
Assessor,	33.00
Board of Review,	8.00
Fourth of July Celebration,	50.00
Attorney's Fees,	10.00
Medical Services, Etc.,	34.05
Total Disbursement,		6154 03
March 2nd, 1898, Balance on Hand,		316.91

Fire Department Fund.

1897.
March 3.	Balance in Treasury,	$227.41
Aug. 3.	Received from State Treasurer, for year ending July 31, '97,	50.62
1898.
	Paid for Fire Alarm Bell, and Balance on Hook and Ladder Trucks,	100.00
March 2.	Balance in Treasurers hands,	178 03

LOUIS P. PROBST,
Village Treasurer.

JOHN E. BORSCH,
President. Attest: ADAM HORSCH,
HENRY BOCK.

L. M. MAXFIELD.
Recorder.

Report of Electric Plant of Village of Delano, For the Year Ending March 2, 1898. as Taken From Above Statement.

RECEIPTS.
Water Rents from G. N. Railway,	240.00
Water Rents from Village Patrons	295.47
Electric Light Rents,	1507.46
Miscellaneous Items Sold,	134.64
Electric Supplies on Hand,	105.35
Lubricating Oils on Hand,	30.90
Fuel on Hand,	71.60
Cotton Waist, Etc, on Hand,	9.65
Total Receipts.		2305.07
DISBURSEMENTS.
Engineer and Helper,	870.00
Fuel,	563.85
Inspection of Boiler,	3.00
Electric Supplies,	460.80
Freight, Labor and Repairs,	75.81
Lumber,	22.42
Oil and Engine Compound,	83.64
Total Disbursements,		2079.52
Amount in excess of cost of running plant		225.55

L. M. MAXFIELD.
Recorder.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.
The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month: this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer
To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE and LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising: its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have plastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO.,
222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

PATENTS
Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.
Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

CALL AT THE
popular
NORTH PALACE STORE.

For the rarest bargains and the most carefully selected line of Imported Dress Goods that was ever displayed in Delano. Also clothing, Gents furnishing goods, Ladies muffs, underwear for large and small, a general line of dry goods in endless varieties. Fancy Groceries, Glass and Queensware, Curtain Nettting, Notions, Table Linens, Chenille Curtains and Covers all of which will be sold at the lowest living prices at

The North Palace Store

I am very resPectfully yours,
GEORGE P. SCHAFFER.

G. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES
Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.
All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.
Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.
TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexe furnished on demand.
Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

FOR
FINE JOB PRINTING,
IN THE LINE OF
Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads
Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand
Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line
of Printing,
CALL AT THE
Gazette Office.

CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS!
Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for
FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE
Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders wil —be taken at—
50 CENTS
From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.
Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer
The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
Capital
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1898. NUMBER 24.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis, Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday.... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:30 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. F. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President — JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen — NICK FRANK, HENRY BOCK, ADAM BORSCH.
Recorder — L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace — W. H. FRAZEE, R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health — T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary, J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables — JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, DePt. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

It is intimated that Gen. Fitzhugh Lee will have a command in the army in Cuba, in case Spain and the U. S. really came to a clash of arms.

The tide of emigration toward Klondike seems to have been switched off somewhere. The war breezes from Cuba must have turned the stream in another direction.

President E. A. Nelson, of Hallock sends us notice that the Northwestern Teacher's Association will meet at Moorhead Friday and Saturday, April 1st and 2nd. Reduced rates on all railroads are assured. Teacher's should be there.

Fifty millions of dollars for strengthening the war footing of the United States has been voted, without objection by Congress, and now it is being claimed that Spain don't care to have a war with us if we are going to go at in that manner.

It seems to require a long time for the investigating committee to make a report of how the Maine came to explode in the harbor at Havana. The people in this country are entitled to know what their servants are doing and should be given the news as promptly as it is learned.

So long as legislatures continue to be the electoral college for the U. S. Senators, so long may we expect to have politicians rather than practical law makers in our legislative bodies. And so long as this state of affairs exists so long may we expect the Supreme Court to frequently decide that a law is unconstitutional therefore null and void and of no use.

The Montgomery, another of Uncle Sam's boats has been sent to Havana harbor. There is now a fleet of about 30 boats of different sizes and makes off the Florida coast ready to surround Cuba at a few hours notice. Just what the people along the coast from Maine to Florida would do after this squadron surrounded, in case they saw some strange gunboats steaming up from the high seas, we don't know.

The State Editorial Association has accepted an invitation from the Canadian government and the Canadian Pacific road to take an excursion next summer over this road to Victoria, B. C. President S. A. Langum, C. S. Mitchell, C. C. Whitney, H. P. Hall and C. P. Stine of the committee and Will J. White, of the Interior Department Dominion of Canada met in St. Paul Tuesday evening to agree upon dates and make other arrangements.

It is now reported that the Alaska reindeer expedition has arrived in Seattle, making the trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific in about six days. It is stated that about twenty cases of measles exists among the Laplanders who are accompanying the deer. If this is true they should not be permitted to proceed. Measles would, most likely, relieve Alaska of its surplus immigrants in a short time, and leave enough food for those remaining, but that is not the kind of relief that is wanted by the miners.

Shooting at Hamel.

On Sunday, at Hamel, occurred a sad sequence to too much liquor. It is told us that James Mooney, a respectable young farmer came to town and with others drank too much and became boisterous, and that Nick Stassen who lived close by was annoyed and threatened to shoot if they did not keep away. Soon after, his window was broken, and while the man had hold of the sash, he claims, he shot, severely wounding Mooney. Stassen was lodged in the Hennepin County jail. We are told he was a laborer and his family being left without support will have to be cared for by the county. Surely this is a bad state of affairs, which results from the violation of the laws of the land.

Drunkards Not Witnesses.

Drunken men are not competent to act as witnesses, says Judge McGee. In his opinion the three principal witnesses for the plaintiff in the personal injury case of William W. Wilson against the street railway company, recently tried before him, were in such an advanced state of intoxication while on the stand that they knew whereof they spoke. Such was his reason for filing an order with the clerk of the district court yesterday setting aside the verdict reached by the jury in favor of the plaintiff.—Minnneapolis Times.

State Politics.

Present indications are that a fusion of all forces opposed to the present ring rule of our state will be effected; that John Lind will again head the ticket of reform, that he will have on the ticket with him good men upon whom all can unite and be ably seconded by candidates for Congress, from our own district the Hon. Charles A. Town. With this splendid array of talent sprinkled among others equally as earnest in the cause, though not so prominently before the people, of the different parties represented, and on whom people can depend for members of our legislature, and county offices there should be a sure and decisive victory this fall.

The better element of the G. O. P. is heartily tired of the State political ring. Now that the Democrats have slipped the ring off their necks the Republicans have to carry the whole weight. They are wearying of the load, and are liable to lay it aside at any convenient time, preferring to take up new men, and there are so many office seekers among them that harmony don't altogether prevail.

Our Democrats, People's Party, Prohibitionists, Free Silver Republicans all must feel that they are in the race if we would win. There are men respected by all, as honest, sober, and endowed with sufficient intelligence to represent the people in the different offices. Care should be taken to select them. Men who are objectionable to too many factions are not apt to win. People are better informed on the issues of the day than ever before. They will vote their sentiments provided the candidates are acceptable. Lind and Towne so far as heard from are all right. Let the rest of the ticket be as satisfactory.

Bryan Favors Fusion.

W. J. Bryan in his Minneapolis speech was very particular to express his views on the coming campaign. He is for the Chicago platform of 1896, without scratching out a letter. He is for bimetallism 16 to 1. He said quite plainly that good men only should be placed on tickets calling for a fusion of forces He is willing to fight together for victory with those who are with him. The sooner the gold standard people flock by themselves the better he thinks it will be for reformers. He advised the Democrats to select men in accordance with the party on bimetallism and not such as opposed it. The meeting was a large and very enthusiastic one and men came home fully determined to act on Mr. Bryan's advice, to select the best men. He didn't advocate getting "vote getters" on the ticket, he advocated "good men". Good men naturally are vote getters, when in a good cause. The cause is expected to get votes, and men who are not the best are prone to push themselves to the front on the pretext that their "large following" will elect them. Their "large following" may help them into office; but how about the balance of the ticket? How about the cause at issue? If the question of whether our country is to have free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver or of gold alone, is to be the issue, the men whose characters are well and favorably known, will receive the votes of those who believe as they do. With scheming politicians; with rings that have existed for years, and that elect to office term after term certain men on both tickets, to the exclusion of all others, people who favor reform will shrink from supporting the ticket claiming to represent their views.

The principles are good the platform plain, now give us good men and let the campaign proceed.

St. Paul Dispatch: The people of Switzerland a week or two ago decided to buy for about $200,000,000 the private owned railways of that country. In Switzerland the people have the referendum, which provides that all laws shall be referred to the people for ratification by direct vote before they become of force. The act providing for the purchase by the government of the railways was deaided on in this way and carried by a very large majority. The referenndum is advocated by the People's party for adoption in this country and would be a safeguard worth a great deal in some cases where legislatures sell out the interests of the people, as for instance was done at its last session by the legislature of Illinois, which betrayed the interests of the people by selling out to Yerkes, the street car magnate.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S Patent office Washington, D. C.

Anders Anderson, Nelson, sled propeller. Jno. J. Burnes, Hopkins, stable appliance. Cornwell P. Chase, Minneapolis, permutation lock. Oliver Crosby, St. Paul, coalchute. Wm. A. Holgate, Duluth, combined case and cigar tip cutter. Anthony W. Menk, Minneapolis, chain and sprocket wheel for driving bicycles. Caroline E. Miller, Minneapolis, skirt guard. Wm. T. Summers, St. Paul, coin or check controlled bicycle-rack.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. March 4, 1898.

Secretary Long either talked too much or too little when he said: "The element of official Spanish participation in the explosion has been practically eliminated," and then added that the administration had received nothing but what had been made public concerning the investigation of the destruction of the Maine. The only thing eliminated by what has been made public is the accident theory; therefore, unless he has information which has not been made public, Secretary Long was doing what all other naval officials had been positively ordered not to do,—theorizing—when he used that language. He did not better the case any when he stated that his only reason for saying that official participation had been eliminated from the case was the statement of the Spanish charge d'affairs at Washington that there were no mines in Havana harbor. As Mr. Long had just left a Cabinet meeting when he used the words quoted above there isn't the slightest doubt that they were deliberately used for a purpose. I will not go to the extent that some do, and charge that it was intended either for a notice to the Naval court of inquiry of the sort of verdict desired, or as a notice to the country that a policy of peace-at-any-price was to be followed, but it certainly has not served to strengthen confidence in the intention of the administration to stand up vigorously for national honor, regardless of cost or consequences.

About the only thing done this week by the administration looking like business was the making of a contract for a $1,000,000 supply of projectiles, for the new high-power guns of our coast defenses.

That no immediate action is expected on the Maine catastrophe was shown by the departure for Cuba, this week, of a party including Senators Thurston, Money, and Gallinger, and Representatives Amos J. Cummings, and William Alden Smith. These gentlemen are going directly to Havana, on a private yacht, for the purpose of doing a little investigating on their own hook, and they expect to get information that will be useful when the matter gets before Congress. They expect to be gone about ten days.

There is quite a stir among members of the House over a report that Czar Reed intended to try to rush the rest of the appropriation bills through and to force an adjournment of Congress, in order to prevent a declaration of war, or any other action on Cuba. A paper was at once circulated by republicans among republicans pledging the signers to vote against adjournment under any circumstances before satisfactory action had been taken on the Cuban question, and enough signers have already been obtained to block any adjournment scheme, with the aid of the democratic and populist votes, which have been promised.

A bill for the conditional repeal of the Federal tax or currency issued by State banks has been introduced by Senator Platt, of New York, much to the surprise of democrats, who have at various times sought the repeal of that tax, which they have always considered unjust. Mr. Platt's bill authorizes State banks to deposit with the U. S. Treasurer the bonds of any State, city or county and to receive in exchange circulating notes to the extent of 80 per cent of the deposits and 70 per cent of the capital stock of the bank. The securities to be held in trust for the redemption of the bank's circulating notes, just as U. S. bonds are now held for national bank notes.

Ex-Gov. Colcord, of Nevada, is in Washington trying to persuade the republican leaders that unless they abandon the single gold standard the party will be overthrown. He said on the subject: "I am a republican, but I do not believe that the party can continue in power by the advocacy of the single gold standard. During the last few months I have traveled extensively, and everywhere I find a most bitter opposition to that policy. The democrats will press this view for all it is worth, and by so doing will sweep the country, unless there is a great change from existing conditions. The American people really want bimetallism-gold and silver-and if silver is restored to its former place as money, will be content to let Congress establish the ratio."

It was officially announced this week by Secretary Alger that the government relief expedition to the Klondike miners had been abandoned, and authority to sell the stuff purchased, including the reindeer has been asked of congress. No official announcement has been made to that effect, but it is stated that it is now fully known that the whole business was a systematic scheme on the part of certain sharpers to "do" the government.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone, 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal And the Buffalo Gazette Both one year For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the Buffalo Gazette, Delano, Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

Among Our Exchanges.

County Line: What's the use of the Spaniards spending time and money to destroy our battle ships? If they wait long enough the darned things will all blow up!

Litchfield Independent: The Delano Eagle is finding fault editorially with A. T. Koerner in his administration of the state treasurer's office. The Eagle man will establish a reputation as a carping critic, if he don't let up on his party leaders.

World: Whatever Spain's connection with the Maine disaster, the duty of the United States to put her off the American continent is clear and plain. The American people do not want and will not have a professional and wholesale assassin as a neighbor.

Minneapolis Tribune: Senator Morgan is certainly justified in calling for all the information the administration possesses about Cuba. The people of this country have demonstrated their ability to exercise the utmost self-control and there is no longer any reason for treating them like children who cannot be trusted with dangerous playthings. The demand of the hour is for all the light that can possibly be thrown upon the situation from all sources, and if the administration would retain popular confidence it should not longer withhold a single fact within its possession.

The Anandale Post says: "A constable should have at least courage enough to take a person in charge who is disgustingly drunk and disorderly, regardless of all threats and bluffing. It is also suggested that a village president who makes frequent Sunday visits to the back door of a saloon will not be likely to adopt anything else than a "wide open policy." And yet many of our villages have just that kind of officers. The people elect them. The majority of voters must prefer the "wide open policy" and so long ag it is kept up in violation of law of what use is the high license law?

Election Returns.

Villages.

BUFFALO.

President, A. Y. Eaton; trustees, O. H. Bushnell, George W. Burrows, John Prahl; recorder, S. M. Ash; treasurer; E. O. McGaffey; justice, W. H. Cochrane.

MAPLE LAKE.

Presidedt, Dr. O'connor; trustees, A. A. Jewett, P. B. Geary, Fred Oberle; recorder, W. H. Parker; treasurer, W. E. Feeney; assessar, D. F. Flaherty; street commissioner, P. H. Leahey; constable, E. Smith.

MONTROSE.

President, Robert Potter; trustees, W. G. Young, Edward Klatt and J. H. Streeter; recorder, H. G. Wright; treasurer, Louis Miller; Justice, J. Streeter; constables, John Herman and Christ Schneider; street commissioner, Thomas Robinson; no license carried by three majority.

CLEARWATER

President, C. D. Keene; council, L. Laughton, P. A. Leme, W. A. Shaw; recorder, D. Bosworth; treasurer, F. N. Burscil; justice, S. Stevens.

COKATO.

President, H. C. Bull; trustees, Nels Olson, Frank Johnson, Chas Larson; recorder, J. A. Eklund; treasurer, J. W. Larson; justice of the peace, C. M. Carlson and H. A. Hela, constable, John Tracy; assessor, P. Mattson; street commissioner, John Marin. License or no license, a tie. Bonds for public improvement defeated.

DELANO.

President, T. B. Rader; trustees, J. E. Borsch, Adam Horsee, A. E. Johnson; recorder, L. M. Maxfield; treasurer, L. P. Probst; justice of the peace, W. H. Frazee.

HANOVER.

President, John Weinand; trustees, Wm. Weinand, Edward Strunk, Peter Bingenheimer; recorder, W. H. Vollbrecht; treasurer, August Vollbrecht; justice, John Lockedellie; constable, George Strunk. For separate assessment district, 36, against 2.

HOWARD LAKE.

President, W. J. Tousley; trustees, J. S. Graves, W. J. Rausch, C. P. Comer; recorder, C. E. Tuttle; treasurer, Lemuel McGrew; justice of the peace, A. N. Carter; constable, Wm. H. Johnson. For license, 76; against license, 50

MONTICELLO.

President, F. A. Baker; trustees, J. W. Tennison, M. B. Bryant, F. C. Nickerson; recorder Chas. Bradford; treasurer, E. B. McCord; assessor, H. M. Piper; constable, Wallace Sawyer. For license, 25; against license, 107.

ROCKFORD.

President, D. R. Farnham; trustees, Wm. Jacobs, A. B. Bucklin, Frank Thomas; recorder, M. E. Fuller; treasurer, C. M. Johnson; street commissioner, O. C. Roberts; justice, Calvin Moore; constables, O. C. Roberts, Chas. Beach.

ST. MICHAELS.

President, F. T. Aydt; trustees, Ferdinand Gutzwiller, Marth Hengels, A. Duerr jr.; recorder, A. Brixius; treasurer, J. H. Dick; justice, J. A. Michels, constable, J. A. Neiss.

Townships.

ALBION.

Supervisors, Aug. Lorents, chairman, Pat Smith, G. Johnson; clerk, F. Fitzpatrich; treasurer, Wm, Reek; assessor, Michael Hannon; justice, Leslie McClay; constable, J. B. Railie

BUFFALO.

Supervisors, George Davies, chairman, John Hak, S. O. Hilmer; clerk, Aug. Hafflen; treasurer, John Heller; assessor, C. O. Taylor.

CLEARWATER.

Supervisors, W. J. Farley, chairman, Benj. Ponsford, E. D. Sheldon; clerk, S. A. Howard; treasurer, W. A. Shaw; assessor, W. P. West; constables, F. Harrington, E. Hyatt.

COKATO.

Supervisors, Gust. P. Olson, chairman, L. J. Berg, Erick Paayo; clerk, Gust. F. Anderson; treasurer, Jacob Ojanpera, assessor, Gust O. Peterson; justices, Frank Griffith, Henry Rustad; constables, Fred Swanberg, Gust I. Johnson.

FRANKFORT

Supervisors, Frank Zachman, chairman, Wm. Elliot, Emil Gutzwiller; clerk, Stephen Schumacher; treasurer, J. P. Eull; assessor, Joseph Reems; justice, J. A. Michels; constable, J. A. Neiss.

FRANKLIN.

Supervisors, John Turngren, chairman, John Marth, Geo. Sutton; town clerk, Fred C. Kespohl; treasurer, E. F. Ziebarth; assessor, Herman Otto; justices, John Turngren and Fred Chancellor; constables, Henry Hellman and Carl Schroeder.

FRENCH LAKE.

Supervisors, E. A. Rosseau; chairman, N. N. Dakkin, N. O. Nelson; clerk, P. B. O'Loughlin; treasurer, R. W. Rosseau; assessor, J. M. O'Loughlin; justice, O. M. Palmquist; constable, Robert Gerard.

MARYSVILLE.

Supervisors, Perry Nelson, chairman, Alfred Robasse, Chas. J. Bloem; clerk, Emil R. Olson; treasurer, John Bodin; assessor, Frank J. Dahlin; justice, Nels Carlson; constables, Alfred A. Ostlund, Joseph Meeham.

MAPLE LAKE.

Supervisors, Tim Desmond, chairman, Tim Leahy, John Kotilinek Jr.; clerk, Thomas Hudek; treasurer, R. H. Jude; assessor, Patrick White; justices, Mike A. O'Loughin, Patrick White; constables, Frank Mooney, P. H. Butler.

MIDDLEVILLE.

Supervisors, Albert Zeidler, chairman, R. H. Johnson, R. C. Workman; clerk, F. T. Prohl; treasurer, William Wildung; assessor, John Torgerson; justice, W. Hutchinson; constable, Joseph Boxell.

ROCKFORD.

Supervisors, Chas. Bugbee, chairman, Joseph Thomas, A. Hohl; clerk, D. D. Ames; treasurer, D. R. Thompson; assessor, A. C. Farnham; justices, Geo. O. Crandall, Wm. H. Guptil; constable, F. A. Thomas.

SILVER CREEK.

Supervisors, Nic Vandergon, chairman, P. O. Swanson, John Plarur; clerk, A. E. Trogen; treasurer John Sorensen; assessor, R. H. Melrose; justice, E. A. Ahl; constable, Geo. Ferguson.

SOUTHSIDE.

Supervisors, Thomas King, chairman, Frank Hoffman, Aaron Elfstrand; clerk, J. N. Backlun; treasurer, George Kites; assessor, R. A. Marquardt; justice, L. C. Holmes; constables, Robert Thiede, G. W. Rudolph.

STOCKHOLM.

Supervisors, Joseph Krimbring, chairman, H. L. Sand, J. O. Chelgren; clerk, J. J. Erickson; treasurer, Gustaf Moody; assessor, G. W. Erickson.

WOODLAND.

Supervisors, H. Doring, chairman, E. W. Ferrell, W. O'Connell; clerk, J. S. Johnson; treasurer, D. Fitzpatrick; assessor, P. J. Powell; justice, D. Fitzpatrick; constable, James Mc Graw.

Grand Jury Will Investigate.

Le Sueur, Minn., March 9.—Four of our saloon men forgot to remember the Sabbath day and Mayor Quackenbush invited them to call at the municipal court and the court passed them on to the grand jury for further investigation.—Minneapolis Tribune.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

BALD,
BALD HEADS,
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

THE New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

Advertise SUBSCRIBE

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET
The BUFFALO GAZETTE
—AND—
THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS
BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR
FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE TWICE-A-WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS needs no introduction. Its many special articles by noted writers have given it a world wide reputation. In short, it is one of the cleanest, brightest and best family papers published. No pains or expense will be spared in keeping up its present high standard.

Remember, that by taking advantage of this combination, you get 52 copies of the BUFFALO GAZETTE and 104 copies of THE FREE PRESS, 156 papers, for only $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE

The Free Press

YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

An accurate and superior book of Reference that tells you all you want to know. There will not be a useless page in it. A Practical Educator and Hand Book of Encyclopoedic information on subjects Statistical, Official, Historical, Political and Agricultural; likewise a book of Religious Fact, and general Practical Directions on every day affairs of Office, Home and Farm.

A copy of this book will be sent to all subscribing immediately and sending 15 cents additional for mailing expenses, making $1.65 in all.

Do not delay, but take advantage of this remarkably liberal offer which we make for a limited time only, by special arrangements with the publishers. Remember we send both papers a full year for $1.50, and you can have a copy of the book by sending 15 cents additional.

Address BUFFALO GAZETTE, DELANO, MINN.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $18.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New. Abreast of the Times. A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged."

Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all question concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority.

Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the one great standard authority."

Recommended by Every State Superintendent of Schools Now in Office.

A saving of three cents per day for a year will provide more than enough money to purchase a copy of the International. Can you afford to be without it?

Have your Bookseller show it to you.

G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO. Wright Co., - MINN.

The next great man to be honored by celebrating his birthday as a national holiday is Uncle Sam.

"The Book of Wealth" is being published in Chicago, and as it is to cost $2,500 a copy it may be said to be appropriately named.

The biscuit trust has a capital of $35,000,000, and yet there are people who seem to fear that there will be a shortage in biscuits.

The new woman is not likely to be very prominent in the new navy, although her talent might very properly be utilized in trimming sails.

The Atchison (Kan.) Globe thinks that because a man was on the streets of that city wearing a blue patch on a yellow pair of pants his wife must have poor taste.

Events move fast in these times. A year ago Chilkat was a lonely mountain barrier in an arctic wilderness, and now it is spanned by an aerial trolley line open for freight and passengers.

A clever Cleveland girl claims to have discovered the secret of perpetual life and offers to disclose it to ten men. If she wants to scatter the information around she ought to tell it in confidence to one woman.

Edison claims a patent on the moving picture apparatus, in spite of its 80 names ending in "scope," "trope" and "graph." The inventor should get up something to arrest the raid upon the English language.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson says there are ten beet sugar factories in operation in this country and ten more under contract. He has no doubt of the profits of the industry to the American farmer as well as manufacturer.

As a solution of the difficulty at the state industrial school for girls at Denver, Col., where there have been of late numerous violent outbreaks among the inmates, it is proposed to hypnotize the incorrigibles, and while they are in that state suggestions will be made which may influence them toward better lives.

Latest advices from Akassa are that "two French expeditions are advancing toward Sokoto, capital of the sultanate of Sokoto, on the Sokoto river, north of the Haussau states," and that French troops have arrived at Argungu and Tagga. That advice man in Akassa earns every cent of his salary every time he locates his advice.

Eight of the most remarkable marriages on record took place recently in the parish of St. Marie, Quebec. Two neighbors named Morin and Rheaume have each eight children, four sons and four daughters. Rheaume's four sons have married Morin's four daughters and Morin's four sons have married the daughters of Rheaume.

A New York judge has granted a wife a divorce from her husband for six months. Notwithstanding all the cry against "plutocracy" this is an age when the necessaries and comforts of life were never more within the reach of the masses. Divorces on the installment plan are one of many of our modern developments which were unheard of in the so-called "good old days."

The earth apparently holds no attractions for Andree, and, after waiting all these months, an expedition is being fitted out in Sweden to search for the missing explorer. It is feared that Andree will be harder to find than the north pole, but the expedition will start in that direction, and make the discovery of the pole an incidental feature. The whole subject is so bewildering that the average person is becoming totally indifferent to the existence of anything north of the flagstaff at Dawson City.

An unusual special pension claim is about to be paid by the government. It is for the widow of Lieut. Michael Moore, who died in Brooklyn last year at the age of 98. He had served continuously in the United States army for 85 years, and is believed to have broken a world's record in this particular. He enlisted in the regular army as a drummer boy at the outbreak of the war of 1812. His widow writes that she is not the young wife of an old soldier, but is 82 years old, and when her husband died they had been married 63 years.

Because Americans have not become a nation of total abstainers there are many persons inclined to believe that the temperance work of the last 40 years has not accomplished much. Nevertheless figures can be produced to show that there has been a great decrease in the amount of drinking. In 1860 the annual yearly production of whisky was 2.86 gallons per capita, while to-day it is but .97 gallons. The temperance people should find much reason for encouragement in those figures and good cause to redouble efforts that have been so successful.

Woman suffrage has been defeated in the Massachusetts legislature—97 to 44. And the interesting point is that women did it. The legislators were flooded with visits and remonstances from women who were opposed to receiving the ballot. So the woman suffragists must revise that indictment which reads "Man, our bitter enemy," and make it "Woman, our deadly foe." And when woman suffrage comes to be a contest of woman versus woman, long suffering man will stand at one side and say "May the best woman win!" while he holds Sarah Jane's bonnet.

Not all the deeds of valor are done in war, nor is the bravery inspired by martial music and the smell of powder the highest type of courage. The ten men of La Champagne's crew who put forth in an open boat in search of help dared greater danger than soldiers in battle. They were not sustained by the presence and encouragement of thousands of comrades. They went out upon the ocean alone to fight tempestuous seas and biting winds. The record of their seven days' struggle is a crown of glory to the French seaman and an example of bravery that will live long.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

A favorable report was made in the United States senate on the 2d on the joint resolution for an investigation of the recent killing of the colored postmaster at Lake City, S. C. A long debate took place on the Alaskan homestead and railway right of way bill. The house spent the time in debate upon the Loud bill relating to second-class mail matter.

In the United States senate on the 3d the house amendments to the bankruptcy bill were nonconeurred in and a conference committee was named. The resolution for a congressional investigation of the murder of the postmaster at Lake City, S. C., was referred to a committee. In the house the Loud bill to correct alleged abuses of the second-class mail matter privilege was laid on the table by a vote of 162 to 119.

The United States senate on the 4th passed the bill extending the homestead laws and providing for right of way for railroads in the district of Alaska. In the house the pension and consular and diplomatic appropriation bills were passed and sent to the president. At the night session 32 pension bills and nine relief bills were passed. Adjourned to the 7th.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The government will send an expedition to find a practicable route up Copper river, Alaska, to the Yukon basin.

In February the government receipts amounted to $28,572,358, being an excess over expenditures of $945,358.33.

A dispatch to Secretary Long from Admiral Sicard informs him that the court of inquiry into the Maine disaster will be unable to reach any conclusion as to the cause of the explosion until after further investigation by the divers now at work upon the wreck. The court has returned to Havana to resume the investigation there.

While the United States is not seeking war, the government is preparing for any emergencies that may arise, says Secretary Long.

A reward of $1,500 was offered at a cabinet meeting in Washington for the arrest of the murderers of Postmaster Baker, at Lake City, S. C.

The president has refused a request from the Spanish government that Consul-General Lee be recalled from Cuba.

THE EAST.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 4th aggregated $1,541,855,208, against $1,201,784,156 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 68.9.

All signs point to an unprecedented volume of business being done in all portions of the country.

At East Cambridge, Mass., Lorenzo Barnes was hanged for murdering John Deen, a farmer about 75 years old, on December 17, 1897.

The strike of the 3,500 employes of the Pepperel and Laconia cotton manufacturing corporations at Biddeford, Me., which began January 17, has been declared off.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., Mrs. John Enriello was suffocated in a tenement house fire and four persons were fatally burned.

The famous railroad financier, Hugh J. Jewett, died in New York, aged 81 years.

In Sing Sing (N. Y.) prison Adrian Braun, a convict, murdered his wife, who was paying him a visit.

WEST AND SOUTH.

Mayor John M. Good, of Springfield, O., has been ousted for violation of the Garfield anti-corrupt election practice act.

Off Marquesas, Fla., the schooner Speedwell capsized, and three children of Capt. Collier and the entire Nichols family, consisting of father, mother, grandmother and three children, all of Bridgeport, Conn., were drowned.

At Cordele, Ga., Shep Wood, a prominent young farmer, shot and killed his brother Thomas in a quarrel and then killed himself.

The largest elephant in captivity, Diamond, died at Peru, Ind. He was valued at $10,000.

In a refrigerator car at Fort Worth, Tex., four tramps were asphyxiated. They built a coal fire in a stove and were overcome by the gas.

Judge Hughes has retired, after serving as United States judge in the Norfolk (Va.) district 24 years.

Dispatches from Tacoma, Wash., say that 10,000 persons are moving across Chilkat and White passes toward Klondike.

At Hot Springs, Ark., "Kid" McCoy, of Indiana, champion middleweight pugilist of the world, defeated Nick Burley, of California, in the second round.

A mob lynched Will Jones (colored) at Lake Cormorant, Miss., for assaulting a colored woman.

Judge John Newton Hendren, ex-treasurer of the confederate states, died in Staunton, Va., aged 75 years.

At the age of 114 years Aaron Hendricks died at Blue Springs, Ark., on the farm where he was born and had lived his entire life.

The Underwriter, reported to have been lost while en route to Havana, has reached the Charleston (S. C.) harbor after a rough passage.

In Chicago Adolph Kraus, ex-president of the civil service commission; Dudley Winston, Hempstead Washburne and Robert Lindblom, members of the commission, were indicted by the grand jury on charges of violation of the civil service law.

In Cedar Rapids, Ia., Alfred S. Healy, a 25-year-old stenographer, killed 16-year-old Libbie Brauschand and then killed himself. No cause for the tragedy is known.

It is said that 38 United States warships will be at Key West and vicinity within the next 30 days.

C. W. Wood murdered Mrs. Irene Breider and afterward sent a bullet through his own brain at Ottawa, Ill. Jealousy was the cause.

From the jail in Chicago Adolph L. Luetgert was taken to the state prison at Joliet under a life sentence for the murder of his wife.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

Governments of Japan, Germany and Sweden have asked the state department in Washington for names of their subjects who were among the victims of the Maine disaster.

It is estimated by the Nicaragua canal commission that the cost of the work will be $100,000,000.

In the Philippine islands rebel chiefs are said to be plotting for another rebellion against Spanish rule.

In a storm four fishing vessels belonging to Memet, Prussia, were wrecked and ten fishermen were drowned.

Arabs pillaged the Jewish quarters at Tatza, Morocco, killing many of the men and abducting the women.

The court of inquiry into the Maine disaster reached Havana from Key West and went to work promptly to finish what business remains to be done at the earliest possible date.

United States Consul Walter B. Baker, at Sagua la Grande, Cuba, has resigned.

In Havana Americans are making hurried preparations to leave on account of the rumors of the warlike attitude of Spain and the United States.

Some 30 persons lost their lives in a burning mine in Breslau, Prussia.

Frank Jackman and Fred Fivecoats were sentenced at Creston, Ia., to imprisonment for life for attempted train-wrecking. Both are young men.

LATER NEWS.

Capt. Everett, of the tug Right Arm, expresses the opinion that it is now doubtful if the big guns of the Maine can be saved, so fast is the wreck sinking into the mud.

The Russian demands from China have caused the greatest excitement at the Japanese legation at Pekin and the Japanese minister has had several interviews with the officials of the Tsungli-Yamen (the Chinese foreign office) urging the rejection of the Russian demands. In addition it is reported that Japan has threatened to take vigorous action if the demands of Russia are conceded.

The Spanish torpedo squadron at Cadiz will not sail for Cuba, owing to information received from the United States and Captain General Blanco.

According to advices from Odessa, troops and war material are going to far East with such haste that the Russian volunteer fleet will not suffice. The government, therefore, has chartered some French steamers, the first of which will start, with 2,000 men.

The strike of the 300 glass workers at Orestes, Ind., comes to an end by the discharge of an objectionable employe.

The president has signed the Hawly bill providing for two additional regiments of artillery to man the coast defenses.

Gov. Pingree has summoned the Michigan legislature to convene in extra session.

Chas. O. Cutten, agent for the Adams express company at Orville, O., and a $10,000 express package have disappeared.

Prince Albert, of Belgium, arrived at New York on the steamer Kaiser William der Grosse.

Jack Atkinson, a Canadian hotel keeper at New Westminster, B. C., shot across the boundary line and killed Billy Patterson, an American rival.

The steamer La Gascogne, sailing from New York to Havre, took out 105,000 ounces of silver, and the steamer St. Paul, for Southampton, took 65,000 ounces.

The Union Pacific railway company has subscribed $25,000 to the Omaha exposition.

Andrew S. Draper, president of the University of Illinois, was elected superintendent of schools of Greater New York at a salary of $8,000, but has declined the office.

China has agreed to lease Port Arthur and Lu-Lien-Wan to Russia for 99 years.

Chairman Cannon of the appropriations committee, the 7th, introduced a bill in the house providing for the national defense. It is as follows: "That there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the national defense and for each and every purpose connected therewith to be expended at the discretion of the president, and to remain available until June 30, 1899, $50,000,000." The appropriation committee reported the bill favorably. Every member of the house of representatives responded to the president's call and voted favorably for the measure.

The naval authorities have ordered the cruiser Montgomery to proceed to Cuba with supplies instead of the Fern.

Mabel Keating, known from coast to coast as the "Queen of Pickpockets," was shot and fatally wounded by Jerry Sullivan in San Francisco.

Spain has withdrawn her request for the recall of Consul General Lee, and it is now believed the incident is practically closed. The withdrawal came in the shape of an official communication from Minister Woodford.

The bill increasing the artillery arm of the service by two regiments passed the lower house of congress.

The Peoples Savings bank of Akron, O., has asked for the appointment of a receiver.

James Ivey, a school teacher, was killed by Wm. H. Davis, principal of the public schools at Colombia, Mo. They quarreled over a woman.

Two separate commissions of Spanish officers were in London purchasing ammunition.

The available cash balance in the United States treasury the 7th was $224,864,297; gold reserve, $168,577,277.

The president has obtained options upon several warships building in this and other countries.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, March 8.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 98½ to 99c; No. 3 northern, 92½ to 93c; May, 97c.

Corn—No. 3, 28c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 25 to 26c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.20 to 3.35; cows, $2.60.

Hogs—$3.50 to $3.90.

Sheep—Muttons, $3.10 to 3.50; lambs, $4.25.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c; spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 19 to 20c; creamery, firsts, 18 to 19c; dairy, fancy, 17 to 18c; dairy, choice, 14 to 15c.

PRESIDENT'S FIRM STAND

Refuses to Recall Gen. Lee Upon Spain's Demand.

Latter Government Forced to Back Down, and Withdraws the Request—Says It Was Only a Suggestion.

Washington, March 7.—The Spanish situation developed two new phases Sunday, when it became known that the Spanish government had formally requested the recall of Consul-General Lee from his post at Havana, to which request the United States had courteously but firmly refused to comply; also that the Spanish government has suggested the impropriety of sending relief supplies to the Cuban reconcentrados on the cruiser Montgomery and gunboat Nashville, to which suggestion the United States had given a like answer in the negative.

The first intimation of these steps came in a brief and explicit cable dispatch from Madrid. Prior to its receipt, however, the authorities here had been fully conversant with the facts, although no intimation had been allowed to get to the public on either subject. The disclosures from Madrid left no further ground for reticence in Washington, and after a conference at the white house between the president, Assistant Secretary Day, of the state department, and Secretary Long, of the navy department, the following authorized statement was given out by Judge Day, as comprising everything that was to be said by the administration on the subject:

President Refuses.

"The president will not consider the recall of Gen. Lee. He has borne himself throughout this crisis with judgment, fidelity and courage, to the president's entire satisfaction.

"As to the supplies for the relief of the Cuban people, all arrangements have been made to carry a consignment this week from Key West by one of the naval vessels, whichever may be best adapted and most available for the purpose, to Matanzas and Sagua."

SPAIN BACKS DOWN.

Explains That Proposal Was Made on Incorrect Reports.

Washington, March 8.—There were no less than five important events Monday having a bearing more or less direct upon the troubled relations between the United States and Spain, viz., the introduction in congress by Mr. Cannon of a resolution carrying $50,000,000 for the public defense, the withdrawal by the Spanish government of its intimated objection to the continuance in office of Consul-General Lee, the order to the cruiser Montgomery to proceed to Havana in place of the Fern, the passage through the house of the bill increasing the artillery arm by two regiments, and the institution of negotiations looking to the purchase of warships for our navy.

Mr. Cannon's resolution probably led all other topics in interest, particularly when it became known that it was the result of a conference between the author, the president, Senator Hale and other leading spirits in congress.

Lee's Unpleasant Position.

As for Gen. Lee's case, the news of the satisfactory ending of the incident through the withdrawal of the suggestion by Spain was expected as soon as it was noted that a loophole had been left open through the failure to make the complaint in anything like an official shape. Some fear is expressed that the consul-general will not find his post very congenial, now that he knows he is an unwelcome guest in Havana, but the administration is relying upon his devotion to the welfare of the Americans in Cuba and American interests generally to submit his own personal wishes to restraint and remain at his post.

Will Do His Duty.

Havana, March 8.—Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, consul-general of the United States, was questioned Monday regarding Spain's demand for his recall. He said:

"I shall continue to do my duty, which is to guard American interests."

Flags Are Barred.

Washington, March 5.—The congregation of the holy office, one of the most solemn tribunals in the Roman Catholic church, has just sent to this country a decree regulating the use of flags in decorating churches at any church function, which, it is believed, will rouse much hostile sentiment among patriotic Catholic laymen. The decree absolutely prohibits the use of national, state or other emblems of all purely secular organizations in any service of the church, whether the obsequies of an official of standing or in the celebration of such events as might make the presence of the flag seem appropriate. The decree admits that the American flag is the one which must be to all Americans a glorious emblem of freedom, but says it can never be considered as a fitting decoration for the house of God.

Mob Takes Revenge.

Hot Springs, Wyo., March 8.—Valentine Hoy's friends have caught and lynched three of the murderers of Hoy. The men lynched are L. J. Johnson, a man named Bemret and a third man whose name cannot be learned. Some days ago Johnson, who was a cowboy employed on Hoy's ranch near Rock Springs, shot and killed a boy named Willie Strong for a trivial provocation. He escaped and joined some of "Butch" Cassady's outlaws. Hoy joined a sheriff's posse which went in pursuit. The posse came upon Johnson and two others in Ladore canyon, when a fight occurred in which Hoy was killed. The outlaws were, however, surrounded in the canyon and finally captured and lynched.

Four Drowned at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, March 4. — As the Bostonia steamed out from her wharf Thursday night for Louisville eight colored roustabouts were thrown into the river. Four were rescued and four were drowned. The dead are: Millard Dancy, Louis Jackson, Louis Miller and William Van Dike, all of Louisville. They leave families. The gang plank broke. Ten other roustabouts were starting on to the plank when it broke.

Schooner Speedwell Capsized.

Key West, Fla., March 4.—The schooner Speedwell, Capt. Collier, from Marco, Fla., for Key West, was struck by a squall Thursday while off Marquesas, 18 miles from here, and capsized. Nine persons were drowned. Among the victims were three children of Capt. Collier, and the entire Nichols family, consisting of father, mother, grandmother and three children. The family of Nichols was from Bridgeport, Conn.

A WORD OF ADVICE

To Those Coming to Alaska or the Klondike Gold Fields.

One thing should be impressed upon every miner, prospector or trader coming to Alaska, to the Klondike, or the Yukon country, and that is the necessity for providing an adequate and proper food supply. Whether procured in the States, in the Dominion, or at the supply stores here or further on, this must be his primary concern. Upon the manner in which the miner has observed or neglected this precaution more than upon any other one thing will his success or failure depend.

These supplies must be healthful and should be concentrated, but the most careful attention in the selection of foods that will keep unimpaired indefinitely under all the conditions which they will have to encounter is imperative. For instance, as bread raised with baking powder must be relied upon for the chief part of every meal, imagine the helplessness of a miner with a can of spoiled baking powder. Buy only the very best flour; it is the cheapest in the end. Experience has shown the Royal Baking Powder to be the most reliable and the trading companies now uniformly supply this brand, as others will not keep in this climate. Be sure that the bacon is sweet, sound and thoroughly cured. These are the absolute necessities upon which all must place a chief reliance, and can under no circumstances be neglected. They may, of course, be supplemented by as many comforts or delicacies as the prospector may be able to pack or desire to pay for.—Alaska Mining Journal.

A book of receipts for all kinds of cookery, which is specially valuable for use upon the trail or in the camp, is published by the Royal Baking Powder Company, of New York. The receipts are thoroughly practical, and the methods are carefully explained, so that the inexperienced may, with its aid, readily prepare everything requisite for a good, wholesome meal, or even dainties if he has the necessary materials. The matter is in compact though durable form, the whole book weighing but two ounces. Under a special arrangement, this book will be sent free to miners or others who may desire it. We would recommend that every one going to the Klondike procure a copy. Address the Royal Baking Powder Co., New York.

A PRETTY INCIDENT.

The Kindness of a Spanish Lady to a Lone Soldier Boy.

A recent traveler in Spain describes a touching scene witnessed at the departure of a regiment for Cuba. All day long there had been heard the measured tread of soldiers marching through the street; all day long gayly bedecked boats had been passing to and from the vessel that was to take them to Havana. The twilight began to deepen when the correspondent saw a "startling and pretty sight"—the impetuous action of a portly, good-looking and well-dressed lady, who noticed a young soldier walking dejectedly along down the pier in his traveling gray, with a knapsack strapped over his shoulders. All the rest of the men had friends, their novias, mothers, relatives, and made the usual gallant effort to look elated and full of hope. This lad had no one, and it might be divined that he was carrying a desolate heart over the seas. The handsome woman burst from her group of friends, took the boy's hand, and said: "My son has already gone to Cuba. He is in the regiment of Andalusia, and sailed two months ago. You may meet him, Pepe G.; take this kiss to him." She leaned and kissed his cheek."

An English boy would have shown awkwarness, but these graceful southerners are never at a loss for a pretty gesture and a prettier word. The boy blushed with pleasure, and still holding the lady's hand, said with quite natural gallantry, without smirk or silly smile: "And may I not take one for myself as well, senora?" The lady reddened, laughed a little nervously, and bent and kissed him again to the frantic applause of soldiers and civilians, while the boy walked on, braced and happy.—Blackwood's Magazine.

He Had Flung Up.

The superior court was in session and the little mountain town was crowded with people. Along about the middle of the day when the judge was worried with a tedious trial, Bill Williams, of the Lick Creek settlement, began galloping up and down the streets on his little red mule, firing off his pistol, whooping like a Sioux, and otherwise dispensing the energy which a liberal supply of corn liquor had inspired.

"Mr. Bailiff," commanded the judge, sternly, "go out and arrest that man and bring him into court."

The bailiff went timidly out of the courtroom and the judge attempted to proceed with business. But Williams' racket outside did not cease. It grew worse and the judge looked over the room for some one else to send out, and observed the bailiff sitting complacently on one of the back seats.

"Look here, Mr. Bailiff, why did you not arrest that disorderly man? Are you not an officer of the court?"

"Y-y-es," replied the bailiff, quaking with fear, "I wuz, but I've done flung up."—Atlanta Journal.

Her Gentle Reminder.

"Grace," he began, "between you and me—"

"Bob," she interrupted, "between you and me there should be nothing."

And what could he do, in face of this, but move up to her end of the sofa?—Ainslee's Magazine.

Geniality.

A quality often found in men whose whole mental and physical organizations are kept vigorous by diligence and temperance, and in simple minded men who love fun and comfort without falling into vice or folly.—Judge.

A Strong Hint.

Gentleman (to tailor)—I want a secret pocket in the trousers to put my money in.

Tailor—Excuse me, sir, but is it necessary?

"Certainly. Why do you ask?"

"Because you always tell me when I ask you for payment you haven't any money."—London Fun.

Proof to the Contrary.

Miss Aukward—I think dancing horrid and wicked! Positively wicked!

Miss Wise—Why, I always thought you knew how.—N. Y. Journal.

BRIGHT TRADE PROSPECTS.

Indications of Unprecedented Activity in Business.

New York, March 5.—Bradstreet's says:

"Nearly all signs point to an unprecedented volume of business being done or arranging for the present time. The aggressive strength of prices, record-breaking bank clearings and continued large exports, particularly of the lower-priced cereals, a very heavy volume of business in iron and steel and kindred lines and generally satisfactory reports as to the volume of spring trade at leading distributive centers are among the visible features of the trade development. Nearly all the country's cereal products are higher in prices this week, as also some varieties of provisions, Bessemer pig iron, copper, raw cotton and tin. Few decreases in prices are noted, sugar being the most important, while the list of staples steady and unchanged numbers pork, coffee, lead and print cloths. The strength of raw cotton has had an encouraging effect upon southern trade, which is generally reported good and better than usual at this season. The export of corn from southern ports is an additionally favorable feature, while the practical agreement of southern iron producers as to prices, with generally satisfactory collections at most points, has imparted a decidedly cheerful tone to advices from that section. Trade is larger than usual at the central west, particularly in dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes, hardware, lumber and agricultural implements, the demand for the latter being a notable feature of nearly all markets. Spring trade has opened up well in the northwest, and the jobbing trade is quite active."

KILLED IN A DUEL.

Fatal Encounter of Sig. Cavalotti, Italian Statesman.

Rome, March 7.—Signor Felice Carlo Cavalotti, poet, dramatist, publicist and the well-known radical member of the chamber of deputies for Corte-Olona, was killed here Sunday afternoon in a duel with swords with Signor Macola, member of the chamber of deputies and editor of the Gazzetta di Venezia. The encounter was the outcome of a press polemic in the columns of the Milan Secolo and the Gazzetta di Venezia. It took place at an unfrequented spot outside the Porta Maggiore.

Signor Cavalotti made his will immediately after the duel, which was the thirty-second he had fought. The body will be embalmed and lie in state at his residence. The sword entered his mouth and pierced his tongue.

Though political opponents, Signor Cavalotti and Signor Macola were personal friends. For this reason their seconds tried to avoid the duel, but the matter becoming ridiculous in the public eyes, the principals decided that they must fight. The death of Cavalotti is a great loss to the radical party.

TREAT FOR EDUCATORS.

Trans-Mississippi Educational Convention at Omaha, June 28-30.

Omaha, Neb., March 5.—The trans-Mississippi educational convention, which meets in this city on the last three days of June, has been organized to promote the educational interests of the states participating in the Trans-Mississippi exposition. It aims to give teachers and schoolmen the benefits accruing from a great gathering of representative educators interchanging ideas and listening to addresses of recognized leaders in the different branches of pedagogic work. The plan and object of the convention have been indorsed by resolution of the state teachers' associations of Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota, Montana, Colorado.

The convention will consist of five general meetings and numerous sessions of sections, departments and congresses. For the general meetings the programme will provide addresses by educators of national reputation upon topics of general educational interest. The conference will be under direction of leading specialists in each field.

Russia's Demands.

Berlin, March 8.—The Tageblatt publishes a dispatch from Peking saying China has agreed to lease Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan to Russia for 99 years.

Peking, March 8.—Much uneasiness is felt in Chinese circles in consequence of the Russian demands. The Russian minister of finance, moreover, is reported to have urged these demands peremptorily and to have complained that the Chinese loan was settled in spite of the disapproval of Russia. Russia demands the settlement of the lease of Port Arthur and Ta-Lien-Wan by March 26. The Tsung-Li-Yamen (Chinese foreign office) has given full powers to Yank Yu, the Chinese minister at St. Petersburg, and the negotiations have been transferred there. The matter is practically settled. China has given Japan a written undertaking to pay the indemnity in May.

Spanish Squadron for Cuba.

London, March 5.—A letter just received here from Madrid says it is definitely reported there that a fresh Spanish squadron destined for Cuba is being organized at Cadiz. It consists of four ironclads, the Carlos V. Pelayo, Alfonso XIII. and another, several gunboats and a trans-Atlantic steamer. Active work is also proceeding upon the torpedo boat destroyers Prosperina, Audaz and Usada, and upon the torpedo boats Habana, Retamoso and Barcelo, which form the second torpedo boat flotilla which Spain is sending to Cuba.

Big Shipment of Powder.

New York, March 8.—The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad last week shipped 50,000 tons of gunpowder and ammunition from the government storehouses at Dover, N. J. A train load of powder and ammunition left Dover each night last week, and at Hoboken was placed on lighters and taken to the coast fortifications. Employes in the railroad yards at Hoboken made no secret of having received orders to have a train ready for carrying ammunition in case of an emergency.

A Rumor Denied.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, March 5.—The manager of Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., shipbuilders and ordnance manufacturers, was asked Friday night if it was true, as reported, that Spain had bought the protected cruiser O'Higgins, which his firm has been building for Chili, and the protected cruiser Amazonas (incorrectly called Amazonius), built for Brazil. "The report is entirely unfounded with respect to both ships," the manager answered.

Cruiser to Go to Havana.

Washington, March 8.—The navy department announced at two o'clock that the cruiser Montgomery would relieve the dispatch boat Fern at Havana and that the Fern would carry provisions and relief supplies to Matanzas and Sagua La Grande. This is understood to be a satisfactory arrangement to the Spanish government and will relieve the incident of its irritating feature.

Hypnotic Wonders.

No one need to go to Paris now to see all that is marvelous in hypnotism. In the hypnotic wards of many hospitals of this country are hypnotic subjects that a mere glance, it is said, throws them into the trance state. But in order to overcome that obstinate kidney trouble, the persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is necessary. Use it also systematically for malarial, bilious, dyspeptic, rheumatic and nervous diseases.

He Won.

"My dear young friend," said the employer who believes that a fatherly interest is better than a big salary, "do you think the salary you are drawing justifies your playing poker?"

"Justifies? justifies?" repeated the dear young man, "I've got to play poker to get enough money to live."—Indianapolis Journal.

Florida and South-Dixie Flyer Route.

Double Daily Sleepers between Nashville and Jacksonville, via Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon and Tifton. Buffet Sleeper between St. Louis and Charleston, via Nashville, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Augusta. For information concerning rates to Winter Resorts, Land and Homeseekers Excursions South, Sleeping Car reservation, etc., apply to Briard F. Hill, N. P. Agt. 328 Marquette Bldg. Chicago, or J. H. Mittler, N. W. P. Agt. Box 609 St. Louis, Mo. For pamphlets regarding lands and resources of country traversed by Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, address J. B. Killebrew, Immigration Agent, Room 75 Chamber of Commerce, Nashville, Tenn.

Looking Forward.

Sh—And you will always love me?

He—Do you think I'm a prophet?—Up To Date.

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar relieves whooping cough.
Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

It is his own most vigorous and noble action that man feels within himself, as it were, the very pulse of the divine energy.—George S. Merriam.

After six years' suffering, I was cured by Piso's Cure.—Mary Thomson, 29½ Ohio Ave., Allegheny, Pa., March 19, '94.

When a man is trying to experiment he does not want to be asked about it.

With cold Neuralgia increases. With St. Jacobs Oil it decreases and is cured.

A man with two faces never needs but one pair of feet.—Ram's Horn.

Don't bend. Wait a little. St. Jacobs Oil will cure your lame back.

You can't tell how little a man knows by his size.—Washington Democrat.

Cold? Stiff as a poker. Use St. Jacobs Oil. Limber as a whiplash. Cured.

Blood Humors

Spring is the Cleansing Season—Don't Neglect Your Health.

You Need to Take Hood's Sarsaparilla Now.

Spring is the season for cleansing and renewing. Everywhere accumulations of waste are being removed and preparations for the new life of another season are being made. This is the time for cleansing your blood. Winter has left the blood impure. Spring Humors, Boils, pimples, eruptions are results. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all impurities from the blood and makes it rich and nourishing. It builds up the nervous system, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, gives sweet, refreshing sleep and renewed energy and vigor. It cures all spring humors, boils, pimples and eruptions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1: six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND POMMEL SLICKER

The Best Saddle Coat.

Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

In 3 or 4 Years

An Independence is Assured

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

If you take up YOUR Home in WESTERN CANADA, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experience of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat. Reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates, can be had on application to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 154 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

WINCHESTER GUN FREE—CATALOGUE

SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE →

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO. 180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

Oats 231 Bu. pr. A. Wheat 40c. a Bu.

How to grow wheat at 40c a bu. and 231 bus. oats; 173 bus. barley and 1600 bus. potatoes per acre—SEE OUR GREAT CATALOGUE mailed you with 11 grass seed samples, upon receipt of THIS NOTICE and 10 cents in stamps. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K 7)

GREGORY SEED

Sound, safe seed as low in price as ordinary seed. Gregory seed is reliable. Gregory specialties are profitable. Catalogue is free. Established 45 years. JAMES J. H. GREGORY & SON, Marblehead, Mass.

CANCER TUMORS, PILES and all forms of Malignant Growths cured at home without the use of the knife. Book free. Dr. J. D. LYON CO., Carlisle, Ill.

WELL MACHINERY—Horse, Steam and Gasoline Power. LOOMIS & NYMAN, Tiffin, Ohio.

A. N. K—G. 1699.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS. 25 CTS.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

AN OVERWORKED BRAIN.

From the Record, Pierceton, Ind.

Determined to rise in his chosen profession as an educator, Ernest Kemper, of Pierceton, Ind., overtaxed himself mentally and physically. He was ambitious, his mind was always on his work. From early morn until late at night he continually pored over his books.

"Burned the candle at both ends."

Few persons, even with the strongest constitutions, can keep up under such a strain.

In addition to his studies, Mr. Kemper was teaching a school some three miles from his home. Finally, his excessive study and the exposure of going to and from school in all kinds of weather undermined his health.

He was taken to his bed with pneumonia and his overworked brain almost collapsed. For several weeks he was seriously ill.

Catarrh had taken root in his system and his mind was in a delicate condition. He was sent to Colorado where he spent three months without receiving any benefit. Then a noted specialist from Cleveland treated him without avail, and then a hospital in Chicago was tried, but all absolutely without benefit. Finally his physician recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and from the first box he began to improve. When he had taken nine boxes he was completely cured. This famous blood and nerve medicine had accomplished what all his former expensive treatment failed to accomplish. Mr. Kemper says his catarrh has entirely left him; he is strong again and weighs nine pounds more than he ever did. He gives the pills the entire credit. He is starting teaching again and feels abundantly able to continue the work. To prove that the above is true in every respect, Mr. Kemper makes an affidavit as follows:

Overstudy.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 10th day of September, 1897.

R. P. WATT, Notary Public.

We doubt if these pills have an equal in all the range of medicine, for building up a run down and debilitated system.

He Could Change His Mind.

No man is better known or more generally beloved in the city in which he lives than Prof. Adam Hendershott. His conversation is quite devoid of bitterness. Only once was he ever known to say anything indicating even the slightest trace of ill-temper. Traveling townward on a suburban trolley line to call upon a friend, he asked the conductor to transfer him to the city street cars at a certain point.

Soon afterward the car stopped, and he was surprised to see outside the very friend he was seeking. He started to leave the car, but the conductor accosted him.

"You can't change for your car here," he said brusquely. "Go back!"

The professor passed him, taking no notice.

"Can't change cars here, I tell you," snapped the conductor again.

Prof. Hendershott, deep in conversation with his friend, merely waved his hand to signify that the car might go on without him.

"Here, you old jay!" cried the man with the brass buttons angrily, "don't I tell you that you can't change cars at this station?"

The good old professor answered with severity: "But I can change my mind at this station, can't I?"—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Didn't Look It.

"These are very fine suspenders," said the peddler to the lady at the door. "I have all kinds—striped, plain, dark, light. Now here is a very fine pair of plain ones. Did you ever embroider any suspenders for your husband, lady?"

"No," said she.

"Now don't you think you'd like to embroider a pair for his Christmas present?"

"I guess not."

"Well, has he a real nice pair of suspenders for his Sunday clothes?" persisted the peddler.

"Really, I don't know," said she.

"Well, madam, is your husband in?"

"No; he's not here yet."

"Do you expect him in before supper?"

"No—surely not by that time."

"Well, haven't you any idea when he will be here?"

"Not the least idea."

"Humph—that's queer," mused the disappointed peddler.

"Oh, not so very," said the young lady. "I haven't any husband."—Detroit Free Press.

Pres. McKinley Vs. Free Silver.

A battle of giants is going to take place this summer on 30,000 farms in America, not in talk or votes, but in yields. Salzer's new potato marvels are named as above, and he offers a price for the biggest potato yield, also $400 in gold for suitable name for his corn (17 inches long) and oat prodigies. Only seedsmen in America growing grasses, clovers and farm seeds and selling potatoes at $1.50 a barrel. The editor urges you to try Salzer's Northern-grown seeds, and to

SEND THIS NOTICE WITH 10 CTS. IN STAMPS to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., for 11 new farm seed samples, worth $10.00, to get a start, and their big catalogue. K

He Needed a Chaperone.

Just before a recent dinner given in honor of some magnate, a young swell, whose chief claim to distinction seemed to be the height of his collar and an eyeglass, addressing a stranger, said:

"Beastly nuisance, isn't it? Spoke to that fellah over there—took him for a gentleman—and found he had a ribbon on his coat; some blooming head waiter, I suppose?"

"Oh, no," replied the other; "that's Blank the guest of the evening."

"Dash it all, now, is it?" said the astonished swell. "Look here, old fellow, as you know everybody, would you mind sitting next me at dinner and telling me who every one is?"

"Should like to very much," replied the other man, "but you see I cannot. I'm the blooming head waiter!"—San Francisco Argonaut.

SUPREME COURT OF OHIO

Delivers an Opinion Through the Hon. Josiah B. Allen.

HON JOSIAH B. ALLEN.

Clerk of the Supreme Court of Ohio. }
Columbus, O., April 16, 1897. }

The Pe-ru-na Drug M'f'g Co.:

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with a disease commonly known as la grippe, every winter since that disease was discovered. I have tried many remedies without success. This spring I was induced to try a bottle of Pe-ru-na. I have now taken two bottles and have received much benefit therefrom. In fact, all symptoms of the disease seem to have left me. Therefore I cheerfully recommend the virtues of Pe-ru-na.

Yours truly, Josiah B. Allen.

Nothing so completely undermines the constitution and demoralizes the feelings as a siege with la grippe. It takes only a few weeks' wrestle with la grippe to make the young, old; the strong, weak; and the beautiful, ugly. La grippe devitalizes the human body. It impoverishes the blood. It saps the vitality from the nerve centers. No remedy known to the medical profession equals Pe-ru-na in these cases. Pe-ru-na builds up, enriches and revitalizes. La grippe is epidemic catarrh. For the cure of catarrh in all stages and phases send for a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book entitled "Winter Catarrh." Address The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

HER LOOK.

Time may set his fingers there,
Fix the smiles that curve about
Her winsome mouth, and touch her hair,
Put the curves of youth to rout;
But the "something" God put there,
That which drew me to her first,
Not the imps of pain and care,
Not all sorrow's fiend accurst,
Can kill the look that God put there.

Something beautiful and rare,
Nothing common can destroy;
Not all the leaden load of care,
Not all the dross of earth's alloy;
Better than all fame or gold,
True as only God's own truth,
It is something all hearts hold
Who have loved once in their youth.

That sweet look her face doth hold
Thus will ever be to me;
Joy may all her pinions fold,
Care may come, and misery;
Through the days of murk and shine,
Though the roads be foul or fair,
I will see through love's glad eyne
That sweet look that God put there.

—W. W. Campbell, in Boston Watchman.

Rope Walker's Romance.

The Narrowest of Pathways the Scene of a Thrilling Incident.

NO ONE who saw the tawdry finery of his tinsel trappings and the cheap appointments of the famous Signor Salviatoria as single handed and alone he prepared the paraphernalia for his tight-rope performance which had brought him his glory would have ever imagined that there was time or space in his busy life for a romance. The signor was a peripatetic perambulator of the rope, and his field of performance lay in country towns, where it was his wont to stretch his narrow pathway across a street from roof to roof of houses whose owners were willing to extend that privilege to him in exchange for tickets to "the Great and Only Megatherian Concert," which followed the outdoor exhibition. Yet he had a romance, and there were in it those elements which one greater than Signor Salviatoria might easily have crystallized into a melodrama that would have stirred the applause of a thousand galleries.

"The greatest act I ever done," he said, with a natural and easy disregard of accent and syntax, "I done in an Ohio town about ten years ago. I was doing my turn there for a week, and it was the county fair season, and I was following their trail like a sleuth, for they brought people to town and helped my business, never none too good. The third night of my performance, which was a half-hour exhibition in midair before the concert had begun, I had gone up on the roof to git things ready, and while I was pottering around snuggin' up the rope and seeing that there wasn't any loose cogs to be dropping, I heard a screech up through the scuttle hole leading to the roof, and the next second out popped a woman like one of these here jumping jacks. It give me a hard pull on my nerves, but I flew over to see what the matter was. It was my landlady—and here I want to say that when I stop for any time in a town I go to a boarding-house where I can get a rate that won't break me. Got to do it in this line. Can't give it all to railroads and hotels.

"In this case I not only stopped at this boarding-house, but the landlady let me stretch my rope from her roof to the roof of the house across the way, and as it was the main street of the town, it was convenient all the way round for me. The only drawback was that the lady had a half-crazy husband that never had done anything for her when he had his senses, and now she had to support him and take his abuse of her every time he got a jealous fit, which was every time she had a new boarder that was anything for looks and style."

Signor Salviatoria stopped a moment at this remark, stroked his little chin whisker, and smiled retrospectively.

"She had only been polite to me because I had been polite to her, as any gent should be when there is a pretty woman around, and the landlady was the prettiest little woman, about as big as a piece of soap, I had met.

"As I was saying, when I got to her she had slung the cover to the scuttle hole over it and was sitting on it with her jaw set and trying to stick her toes into the roof to help hold it down. In a mighty few words she told me her husband was on the chase after her with a hatchet to kill her, and he would be up from below in a minute. She wasn't as bad scared as I was, for I didn't have much experience in that kind of business and didn't know what to do. I didn't have anything to defend myself or her with, either, and the more I thought of the situation the more I began to think how many things there were that was more dangerous than walking a tight rope 50 feet above the earth, and me as innocent as a babe. The little woman told me to bring a barrel half full of sand there was over in one corner of the roof, and we'd set it over the cover of the scuttle to hold it down. I done it as fast as I could, and when we had the barrel there and about fixed, the crazy husband came slashing up with his hatchet. As luck would have it the sand fell in on him and knocked him off the ladder below, and the barrel got stuck in the hole, so the little woman and me had a minute or two to think, and she done the thinking.

"'Are you afraid?' says she.

"'Some,' says I, nodding toward the scuttle hole.

"'I mean of me?' says she, smiling.

"'Not much,' says I.

"'Are you strong?' says she.

"'That's part of my act,' says I. 'But not against a crazy man with a hatchet,' says I, wondering what she would do next and about how long it would be till the crazy man was on deck with his tomahawk gleaming in the air.

"'Then,' says she, 'grab hold of me right quick and carry me across the rope over to Mrs. Peck's house so's my husband won't get at me with that ax.'

"She had more nerve in a minute than I had in a week, but when she said that my professional pride come to me, and without any more talk I reached for my balancing pole, and stooping down so she could get on my back, which she didn't like very much, I made a quick run for the end of the rope just as the crazy husband came out of the scuttle through the barrel and tumbled down on the roof half smothered with sand. I told her to hold tight and do the prayin' for both of us, and I thought I could get her through safe. I don't know how I ever got on that rope with her on my back, for that wasn't the way my profession done business, but I got there, and as I shot out with the woman clinging to me the people in the street below set up such a yell as I never heard before, and I come near losing my balance, for I knew, as they didn't, why this feature that wasn't on the bills was being showed.

"The crowd yelled about twice, and then all of a sudden got so still I could hear the little woman's heart beat. Anyway, I thought I could, but maybe it was my own. I knew when they done that the crowd had seen the man on the roof with the hatchet, and recognized him, for all the people in the town knew the kind of a fellow he was. At the same time the crowd got still something came to me telling me to nerve myself, for the crazy man would cut the rope and drop me and my load in the street, to be crushed into a shapeless mass, and I came near letting go and dropping before I was dropped. I couldn't see what was going on behind me, and all the little woman knew she was whispering to me to go ahead, because we were safe if I only kept my path. I didn't know whether she thought about the man with the hatchet or not. Likely she did. It wasn't her to mention it, though, under them circumstances.

"While I was thinking about him cutting the rope I was getting along it toward the safe end as fast as I could, the little woman hanging on till she nearly choked me, but it didn't hurt, and I was standing it beautiful. It's funny how a man will find pleasure in life when there's so much in sight that ain't, and I nearly forgot the man with the hatchet thinking about the little woman's arms holding onto my neck as the one hope of her life. But it was only for a second; then I felt a jar on the rope and I choked and braced myself, for I was sure that the crazy man was beginnig to cut, and I knew that three or four licks would be enough. I waited for the second jar, but it didn't come, and in its place come a spring to the rope, as if a weight had been taken off of it, followed by a swishing sound and a dull thud on the sidewalk 50 feet below us. At the same time the crowd sent up a groan as if every person in it was hurt. I didn't know for sure what had happened, but I guessed that that crazy man, like most any crazy person or a mad dog, only had room in his mind for one thing at a time, and when that was there there wasn't space for any more. He wanted to kill his wife, and the only way he knew how to do it was with the hatchet by cutting her to pieces. It did not strike him that he could kill her by cutting the rope and letting her drop to the ground. That was too much for him. He knew an easier way, and, as she was out there on the rope not 40 feet from him, he would go out there and kill her. Crazy people have such a crazy way of doing things, don't they? He did, and when he took his second step out on the rope he went over and down to his death. That's what had made the rope spring back. I guess the little woman must have felt that something awful had happened, though she never said a word, because when I at last stepped safe on to the roof and the crowd yelled a hundred times louder than they did before they knew what they were yelling about, the little woman let go her hold around my neck and dropped at my feet in a dead faint; and I didn't blame her, either; it was time for somebody to faint, and if she hadn't a done it I would, sure pop. Her doing it gave me something else to think about, and I got her downstairs as quick as I could, where the women took charge of her and soon brought her out all right.

"I guess that's all there is to it," smiled the signor, picking up his balancing pole and pointing to a date line and some initials on it. "This is the one that steadied us over, and the little woman had them put on there when she became the blushing bride of Signor Salviatoria," and the signor bowed with a sweep that would have entranced an audience of millions.—N. Y. Sun.

How He Escaped.

A young man was tried for murder, having killed a member of a rival faction in a faction fight. The judge, reluctant to sentence him to death on account of his youth, turned to him and said: "Is there anyone in court who could speak as to your character?" The youth looked round the court and then said, sadly: "There is no man here, my lord, that I know." At that my grandfather chanced to walk into the grand jury gallery. He saw at once how matters stood. He called out: "You are a queer boy that don't know a friend when you see one!" The boy was quick-witted; he answered: "Oh, then, it is myself that is proud to see your honor here this day!" "Well," said the judge, "Sir Vere, since you know that boy, will you tell us what you know of him?" "I will, my lord," said my grandfather, "and what I can tell you is this—that from the very first day that ever I saw him to this minute I never knew anything of him that was not good." The old tenant ended his tale by striking his hands together and exclaiming: "And he never to have clapped his eye on the boy till that minute!" The boy escaped being hanged. — Aubrey De Vere's "Recollections."

Air and Rest for House Plants.

As regards airing the plants, it is perhaps sufficient to say that what in this respect is healthful for human lungs will suit the plants. But do not forget that the plants cannot take a walk on a pleasant day, hence fresh air should frequently be admitted to them from the window. In nature all plants and trees have their seasons of growth and of rest, a principle that must be observed in house plant culture. When, therefore, any plant, after a period of growth and bloom, shows signs of lessening growth, water also should be somewhat withheld. In a state of rest from growth most kinds can get along with lessened light also, and this we may take advantage of by putting some kinds of fuchsias, oleanders, hydrangeas and scarlet geraniums in a light cellar, while growth is suspended. Almost without exception it is best as the end of the resting season approaches, say in late winter, to shake the old soil from the roots and repot the plants into fresh earth.—Vick's Magazine.

—At a recent sale of autograph letters in London an original plan and survey entirely in the hand of George Washington and made by him in 1750, when a surveyor in the woods of Virginia, was sold for $50. A fine letter written by William Penn, dated 1707, brought $56.85.

CAN'T FIX THE DATE.

Court of Inquiry Unable to Tell When It Can Report.

Washington, March 5.—It was developed Friday afternoon through telegraphic correspondence between Secretary Long and Admiral Sicard that the court of inquiry is unable to fix even an approximate date for the conclusion of its investigation into the disaster to the Maine. Sharing the general anxiety for some information on this point, Secretary Long Friday, at the instance of the cabinet, sent a telegram to Admiral Sicard asking him when it was probable that the report of the court would be made, and late Friday night the following reply was received:

"Key West, Fla., March 4.—Secretary of the Navy: Have talked with the president of the court of inquiry, and agree with him that it is not yet possible to fix a date for the finding, as so much depends upon the progress of divers and wreckers and the results they obtain. Every effort is being made to advance the inquiry. The court returns to Havana by the Mangrove this evening, having about finished the investigation at Key West. SICARD."

Washington, March 5.—Admiral Sicard's precept convening the court of inquiry now investigating the disaster to the battleship Maine has been received by the navy department and has just been made public. It is important in showing mainly the exact scope of the inquiry and the extent to which the report will go. Aside from the usual orders directing the court to report both findings of fact and its opinions as to these findings, Admiral Sicard directs the court to record any information as to person or persons, "not connected with the navy of the United States who are, in its opinion, responsible, in part or wholly, directly or indirectly, for the explosion and the loss of the Maine," with names, and the degrees of responsibility in each case.

MODERN AMERICAN ORDNANCE.
(Eight-Inch Disappearing Gun and Carriage in Firing Position.)

Key West, Fla., March 5.—After two postponements of its departure, the court of inquiry left for Havana Friday evening on the lighthouse tender Mangrove. The sessions, it is generally understood, developed no evidence by which the court could definitely determine the cause of the explosion. A naval officer in close touch with the members of the court said to a correspondent:

"With one exception, the witnesses who testified here were Maine survivors. The evidence, though in most cases taking longer to tell, can be summed up in the words of an enlisted man, who, when Judge Advocate Marix asked him what he knew about the explosion, replied: 'Sir, I was blowed up. I was saved and I'm here.' That was all he could swear to."

One important fact has been learned, however. It is this: Although the members of the court have their individual theories, they are by no means prepared as a body to give a decisive verdict. The officer already quoted said:

"If the court has yet heard any testimony which would enable it to decide intelligently that the Maine was blown up from external causes, I am the most mistaken man in the world. Before the coming Havana sessions are over it may secure such evidence and possibly find the blowing up was intentional. It will learn from the divers the actual condition of the ship after the explosion, as it has already learned from the survivors most of the details of the ship's condition before the explosion. With these causes thoroughly established, the court will hear more expert theoretical testimony, and then reach a verdict."

Alleged Filibuster Arrested.

New York, March 5.—The men connected with the filibustering sloop Tillie, which foundered off Montauk point on January 3, were indicted by the federal grand jury Thursday. Friday United States Marshal Henkel arrested Frank Agramonte, whom United States District Judge Brown subsequently held in $2,500 bail. The charge against the three men is that they set on foot a military expedition against a foreign country with which the United States is at peace.

Death of a Naval Veteran.

Washington, March 2. — Lieutenant Commander Charles Henderson Craven, U. S. N., (retired) died here Tuesday, aged 55 years. He was the oldest son of the late Rear Admiral Thomas T. Craven and was born at Fort Preble, Me. He was graduated from the naval academy in 1860 and rendered efficient service in the late war. He was on the Housatonic when blown up by a torpedo boat off Charleston in 1864. After the war he served on the European and Pacific stations.

A British Opinion.

London, March 7.—The Daily Mail, discussing the "probability that the United States may goad Spain into declaring war as a last desperate move," says: "In America's unprepared condition, Spain could inflict appalling damage. Neither could conquer the other, and the utmost America could gain would be the unequivocal triumph of securing Cuban independence. If Spain takes the first step America will have herself to thank."

More Trouble for Spain.

London, March 8.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Hong Kong says that a fresh rebellion has broken out in the Philippines and that 53 Spanish soldiers have been killed. No further details are known at Hong Kong.

The Underwriter Is Safe.

Charleston, S. C., March 7.—The tug Underwriter, towing the Merritt Wrecking company's derrick Chief, came into Charleston harbor Sunday morning after a very rough passage off Hatteras.

tels were brought together in a circuit the connecting wire was laid over the top of the cliff. Hugh Riley, the boss blaster, pressed the button. Instantly there was a trembling of the ground and a roar that seemed muffled at first, then loud, so that it was heard by persons three miles away. The entire face bent out in the middle, then doubled up like a jackknife and the whole mass slid down, 300,000 tons of rock being dislodged. This was done to furnish crushed stone for roadways.

Reward for Conviction of Lynchers.

Washington, March 5.—Friday's cabinet meeting occupied about three hours, and at its conclusion it was announced that nothing of an important nature had occurred. An hour or more of the time of the cabinet session was occupied in the reading of a long report from the special agent of the post office department on the killing of Baker, the colored postmaster at Lake City, S. C. In view of the peculiar circumstances connected with the murder, and the enormity of the crime, it was decided to increase the government's reward to $1,500 in each case. Postmaster-General Gary expresses the determination to do everything in his power to ascertain the identity of the guilty parties.

Victory for Railways.

Washington, March 8.—A long and hard fought battle was brought to an end in the supreme court of the United States Monday when the Nebraska maximum freight case was decided against the state and in favor of the railroads, on the ground that the law authorizing the establishment of the rates was in conflict with the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States. The case was instituted to test the validity of a law passed by the Nebraska legislature in 1893, prescribing the maximum rates for the transportation of freight by railroads within the state. The act applied specifically to freight whose transit begins and ends in the state, and there was no effort in its enactment to control the interstate freight.

French Sympathies with Spain.

London, March 8.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail comments upon the fact that the bourse Monday for the first time was seriously affected by the situation of Spain and the United States and that Spanish stocks fell heavily. "French sympathies," says the Daily Mail's correspondent, "are undoubtedly with Spain. Furthermore, France desires to see a check put upon the growing political and commercial importance of the United States."

Spain Secures a Loan.

London, March 5.—The indications are plain here that Spain is making great preparations for war with the United States. It is impossible to verify the rumors in connection with Spain's transactions in London, but it is said, on the very best authority, that her agents have concluded negotiations for a loan of $40,000,000. The Rothschilds are said to have furnished this amount, but the Rothschilds' agents deny it.

Miss Willard's Will.

Chicago, March 5.—The will of the late Frances E. Willard was offered for probate Friday. Most of the estate is left to Miss Anna Gordon, but Miss Willard's home in Evanston is left to Miss Gordon and Mary Bannister Willard during their lives, and will revert eventually to benefit the National Woman's Christian Temperance union. The estate is estimated at $17,000, of which $16,000 is real property.

PLEASED WITH HIS TRIP.

Gen. Merritt's Inspection of Our Southern Fortifications.

New York, March 4. — Gen. Wesley Merritt has returned from his tour of inspection of the southern fortifications in the department of the east. Probably within a week he will start for Key West. Gen. Merritt was especially interested in the work now going on in the New York arsenal. During the past few days hundreds of eight, ten, twelve and thirteen-inch projectiles have been shipped from the arsenal to Fort Preble, Me. Speaking of his tour, Gen. Merritt said:

"I am pleased to say that I found the troops in excellent condition. The men were all the picture of health, and the regulations were working perfectly. I first went to Fort McPherson, at Atlanta, Ga. Then we went down to Fort Barrancas and Pensacola. From there we journeyed to New Orleans, where I stopped over two days to inspect Jackson barracks. I did not go to Fort St. Phillip, for the reason that none of my troops are garrisoned there. I may have a few suggestions for the improvement of some of the posts I visited, but I do not care to discuss that just now. I have nothing to say on the subject of the Maine disaster, more than that it was lamentable and deplorable in the extreme."

END OF INDIAN HEAD.

Famous Hudson River Landscape Blown Up with Dynamite.

New York, March 5.—Indian Head, the principal promontory in the Hudson river palisades, was blown up Friday. The cliff rose 200 feet from the water's edge. One tunnel, five feet in diameter, entered the cliff about 80 feet below the top and continued back 100 feet. All shafts and tunnels had been filled with dynamite to the amount of 7,000 pounds. The mixture used was 75 per cent. pure nitroglycerin. When all the wires from the shafts and tuncan be driven in or driven out. Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla drives disease out of the blood. Many medicines suppress disease—cover it but don't cure it. Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures all diseases originating in impure blood by purifying the blood itself. Foul blood makes a foul body. Make the blood pure and the body will be sound. Through the blood Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures eczema, tetter, boils, eruptions, humors, rheumatism, and all scrofulous diseases.

Disease

"Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me by my physician as a blood purifier. When I began taking it I had risings or boils all over my body, but one bottle cured me. I consider Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla the best blood medicine made."—BONNER CRAFT, Wesson, Miss.

Get Ayer's Sarsaparilla

BEETS AS LARGE AS YOUR ARM.

The editor of the "Brown City (Michigan) Banner" recently paid a visit to Western Canada, and speaking of a garden that he saw in the Edmonton district says:

"On August 23d we had the pleasure of visiting the model seven-acre garden at Edmonton owned and operated by Donald Ross, a typical Scotchman, and as wholesouled, good-natured old gentleman as you often meet. He gave the Yankees each a hearty handshake as we were introduced in succession by the Canadian Government Agent, who was our guide and pilot while at Edmonton, and to whom we are indebted for many courtesies conferred. Mr. Ross informed us that he cleared from $800 to $1,000 annually from the sale of roots, vegetables, flowers and plants. We here state that we never before saw such a growth of vegetables at that season of the year. He said that he raised 750 bushels of onions to the acre. Beets were growing as large as your arm, turnips the size of one's head, and cabbages as large as a patent pail. Following are the prices that Mr. Ross gave us as receiving for his produce: Beets 50 cents per bushel, carrots 40 cents, onions $1.25; turnips $5, cabbage 4 cents each, green corn 25 cents per dozen, tomatoes $1.50 per bushel, potatoes 35 to 30 cents, cauliflower $1.00 per dozen, cucumbers 15 cents per dozen, strawberries 25 cents per box, squash 4 cents per pound, and other produce in proportion. He kept a hot-house 12x180 feet heated by a furnace by means of flues. One man beside himself attended this garden, except at time of gathering the crop."

Agents of the Canadian Government are now located at different points in the United States, and using their efforts towards securing settlers on the fertile lands of Western Canada, adjoining the gold belt.

A man who has scattered a good many compliments says that it pleases a man more to compliment his children than it does to compliment his wife.—Atchison Globe.

Dandruff is disgusting, an evidence of lack of proper treatment of the hair. There is a way to take care of the hair and to prevent dandruff; to make the hair soft and silky; to preserve it; to cleanse the scalp and keep it always in a healthy condition. Those who are interested should send for a pamphlet on the subject which Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., send free upon application.

The man who regulates his wife generally has one daughter who can regulate him. —Chicago Record.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Activity is only beautiful when it is holy; that is to say, when it is spent in the service of that which passeth not away.—Amiel's Journal.

Wanted—Agents to Sell Murat Halstead's Great Cuba Book;

All about Cuba, Spain and War; great excitement; everyone buys it; one agent sold Eighty-seven in one day; another made $13.00 in one hour. 600 pages; magnificent illustrations; photographs, etc.; low price; we guarantee the most liberal terms; freight paid; 20 days credit; outfit free; send 6 two-cent stamps to pay postage. THE BIBLE HOUSE, 324 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

The man who makes the best of everything is always sure of a market for his products.—Chicago Daily News.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

How many women do $40 worth of work at a missionary dinner for about 75 cents profit!—Washington Democrat.

A good way to get along with some people is to have nothing to do with them.—Washington Democrat.

If he was a cripple from rheumatism, he isn't now. St. Jacobs Oil cured him.

People who think they are misunderstood are really understood too well.—Chicago Record.

Rupture. Sure cure. Book free. Write for it to S. J. Sherman, Specialist, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

The speculators who bull the market often have to bear the losses.—Chicago Daily News.

Even a baby was cured of a burn By St. Jacobs Oil. Read directions.

There is no rhyme for silver, but it jingles with gold very nicely.—Chicago Daily News.

The Grip may intensify aches, but St. Jacobs Oil will alleviate.

MRS. PINKHAM CONQUERS BACKACHE.

Four Women Who Owe Their Present Happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I wrote to you last June, I was not able to do anything. I suffered with backache, headache, bearing-down pains, pains in my lower limbs, and ached all through my body. Menstruations were very painful. I was almost a skeleton. I followed your advice and now am well and fleshy, and able to do all my own housework. I took medicine from a physician for over a year, and it did not do me a particle of good. I would advise all suffering women to write to Mrs. Pinkham. She will answer all letters promptly, and tell them how to cure those aches and pains so common to women.—Mrs. C. L. WINN, Marquez, Texas.

I think it is my duty to write and let you know what your medicine has done for me. For two years I suffered with female weakness, bearing-down pains, headache, backache, and too frequent occurrence of the menses. I was always complaining. My husband urged me to try your Vegetable Compound, and I finally did. I have taken three bottles and it has made me feel like a different woman. I advise every woman that suffers to take your medicine and be cured.—Mrs. GARRETT LICHTY, 612 S. Prince St., Lancaster, Pa.

I had suffered for over two years with backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, falling and ulceration of the womb, leucorrhœa, and about every ill a woman could have. I had tried doctors, but with no success, and it seemed as though death was the only relief for me. After using five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and four packages of Sanative Wash, I am well. Have had no more pain, womb trouble, backache or headache.—Mrs. CLAUDIA HALPIN, Cream Ridge, N. J.

Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was afflicted with female complaints so that I could hardly walk. My back ached terribly, in fact, I ached all over. Was not able to raise myself up some of the time. I had no appetite and was so nervous that I could hardly sleep. I have taken but two bottles of your Compound and feel like another person, can now eat and sleep to perfection, in fact, am perfectly well.—Mrs. SUE MCCULLOUGH, Adlai, W. Va.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; A Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills

"WELL DONE OUTLIVES DEATH."
YOUR MEMORY WILL SHINE
IF YOU USE

SAPOLIO

RHEUMATISM

Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swelling, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 35c; large, 65c. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

POTATOES $1.50 a Bbl.

Largest Seed POTATO growers in America. The "Rural New-Yorker" gives SALZER'S EARLIEST a yield of 464 bushels per acre. Prices dirt cheap. Our great SEED BOOK, 11 Farm Seed Samples, worth $10 to get a start, for 10c. and this notice. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LaCrosse, Wis. (K7)

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, MAR. 11, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

—Delano Fair tomorrow.

—Our grist mills, feed mills and saw mills are busy now a days.

—Mrs. Fred Adickes Jr., who was so severely burned, died Monday, after eight weeks of suffering.

—Mr. Longosh is building a new house on his land on the West Side, south of the R. R. track.

—The Delano Concert band met at the City Hall, Tuesday evening, and reorganized and is going to practice up.

—Marbles and base ball have already struck Delano. It seems a little early for Minnesota but looks nice. The people enjoy an early spring.

—Rev. Farber's Sunday evening sermon was enjoyed by a good sized audience. He seems to have reached an extra good bunch of sermons lately.

—At the business meeting of the E. L. last Thursday evening two new members were elected to membership. The Sunday evening meeting was a good one.

—The Township caucus, Saturday afternoon, passed off in good shape and was soon over. William Ziebarth, Fred Kespohl and were appointed a committee to call caucus next time.

—Miss Grace O'Hair and Miss Lommen, her school mate at the "U" visited Delano friends during a short vacation. Miss Grace gave a party to about a dozen young people, on Saturday evening; a very pleasant occasion.

—If our village police force is not sufficiently powerful to cope with the crowds that blockade the sidewalks and talk loud and very unbecomingly, at times, a little more sand should be infused into it.

—The caucus ticket had no opposition except for president. The vote stood for President; C. J. Buckley, 74, Thos. B. Rader, 89; Trustees, J. E. Borsch, 159, Adam Horsch, 159, A. E. Johnson, 161; for Recorder, L. M. Maxfield, 163; Treasurer, L. P. Probst, 163; Justice, W. H. Frazee, 158. Several scattering votes were cast.

—One of our merchants who visited Duluth with the grocers a few weeks ago claims Jim Hill advertised one and a fifth fare, but that the officials succeeded in worming full fare out of him, and that though the amount is not large, it is just as good to him as to the G. N. railroad. He would like to have Jim refund to him the amount of over charges.

—On Wednesday, quite a commotion was created by Fred Adickes Jr. accusing his mother-in-law, Mrs. Shudrop, with taking his pocket book with about $75 in cash. Officers were sent out and it was finally determined that she had placed the money in the hands of her son Pete who had started for Monticello. Telegrams were sent to that place and to Sheriff Nugent to be on the loook out.

—The Township election threatened to pass off with but one ticket in the field, but another ticket was finally put up, but did not win. The officers elected are Supervisors, John Turngren, Chairman, John Marth, George Sutton; Town Clerk, Fred Kespohl; Treasurer, E. F. Ziebarth; Assessor, Herman Otto; Justices, John Turngren, F. F. Chancellor; Constables, Henry Helman, Carl Schroeder.

—The President of a village is superintendent of the police force. We predict that Fairday's and other heretofore riotous occasions, for which Delano has already become too well advertised will be more quiet for the coming year. When our burly Mayor tells a fellow to keep quiet he will be apt to do so or go where he will have a chance for reflection and to cool off a little, and to contribute to the village exchequer.

—Sunday was a typical spring day. What little snow there was mostly disappeared and left the bare ground in sight. A large flock of ducks which passed over town in the afternoon helped the peaceful denizens of this quiet burg to the conclusion that spring had indeed arrived, and stirred the fiery souls of wiley nimrods to fair dreams of the pleasures of crawling through mud and wading in grassy water in search of a dainty morsel of greasy duck.

—Notwithstanding Hicks and other weather prognosticators the fine weather keeps right on, and all indications now point to an unusually early spring. It is better to be prepared for seed time when it comes and get the seed into the ground early than to wait for finer weather. When the frost goes out, the ground is in excellent condition. A few days after may find it too dry or, it rains come, too wet. Take seed time when it comes and the harvest will surely follow.

—The Union caucus held at the City Hall Saturday evening was one of the largest ever held in the village, about 100 votes being cast. T. J. Catlin was chosen chairman and George P. Schaffer Secretary. N. K. Coffin, Fred Q Lindsley and Prof. C. S. Hawker were appointed tellers. Nominations were made and the names of the voters were written down as fast as they handed in their ballots. The nominees were for President C. J. Buckley; Trustees, John E. Borsch, A. E. Johnson; Recorder, L. M. Maxfield; Treasurer, L. P. Probst; Justice, W. H. Frazee.

—Several horses changed hands this week. S. S. Ball sold "Kit" to Mr. Lowe. Dr. Catlin sold "Peggy" to Cal Stewart.

—It was reported that Buckley had said that he didn't want to be defeated by the saloon element, consequently many of those favoring saloons turned out and worked against him as hard as they could and yet a change of eight votes from Rader to Buckley would have elected the latter. If this was really a liquor fight it would look as if liquor adherents were growing less numerous than in former years —The Board of Education met Wednesday evening and discussed the question of teachers for next year. Prof. Hawker was not an applicant having made other arrangements. Miss Arnold was offered the position she has been filling, at a salary of $60 per month. The principal, when employed, is to have not over $75; other teachers $40. Miss Quinn and Miss Kelly were tendered their old places. Other positions were not filled for the present. Some changes may be made. The board works quite harmoniously, and appears to have given the question more intelligent consideration than has been done on some previous occasions by former boards. Unless the school is kept up to its present grade of efficiency there is danger of its falling out of the High School grade, thereby loosing $200 or possibly $400 state aid. This must be guarded against. At present quite a number of pupils from out of the district are attending here. Some families moving to town for the purpose of educating their children. A poor school is a poor advertisement for a town. A good one booms any town. Financially, even though a few dollars more be invested in teacher's salaries, making schools that people come to town to patronize, the town is gainer, while if scholars leave town rather than come to it the town is looser. Let the board do its best to secure the best school in the county. No better advertisement could it make. No better way invest its money; but extravagance is not necessary.

Personal.

C. G. Roosen is expected home in a few days from Mexico.

John Cunningham of Minneapolis was in town Monday.

Mrs. Snyder, of Williston, N. D. visited with Mrs. I. C. Steward this week.

Report says Prof. Hawker will attend the Cornell law school next term.

Ed Freeman of the "U" came home for a few days vacation during the week.

Mrs. Minnie Staples, of Howard Lake, visited Delano friends early Monday morning.

Warren Merriman has been quite sick with erysipilas, but is again able to be about.

E. J. Swedeback left Tuesday for Hibbing to move his mill to Bermidji where he expects to live for awhile.

Nicholas Kohnen, of Long Lake, patronized the Delano Flour Mills yesterday. We acknowledge a pleasant visit, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfingdon and Freddie Peters returned last week from Sheldon Iowa. Mr. W. intends locating in Minneapolis.

Misses Sadie Van Eman and Allie Murphy, of Watertown, were among the listeners to Rev. Farber's sermon Sunday evening.

Ex-commissioner Burbee, of Rockford, was prospecting in the political field of Delano Monday. He favors fusion good and solid.

J. E. Brothers, of Wayzata, was in town Saturday. He informed us that in a week he expected with his wife to go to coeur de Leon to visit relatives.

County Cullings.

From the list of attorneys given by the Valley Herald, we learn that W. H. Cutting was attorney in a case in district court there last week.

Considerable talk has been indulged in by fusionists of making the Hon. A. Y. Eaton, of Buffalo, the nominee of the fusion forces for Judge, to supercede Judge Tarbox.

The "Frazzler" and the "P. O. organ" seem to be burying the hatchet politically, and have gone to quarreling over how the principal of the school came to be re elected.

Hennepin county refused to help build an iron bridge across the Crow at Rockford station so a wooden one is in course of construction. This, though not quite so nice looking or substantial as an iron structure, will be a great convenience to many people.

A prominent Wright County Populist is a warm advocate of the idea of separating state and national elections; that is of holding the state elections on alternate years with national elections. It seems as if it might be a step toward the purification, much needed of politics.

Elections of Village and Township officers took place throughout the county last Tuesday, and now the election returning boards for next fall's election are practically fixed, and the men who are to control the Village and Town affairs have been selected. Time will prove whether or not our choice has been for the best.

What can be the matter with the transportation of free silver papers, and others not in with the present run of things. The Minneapolis Free Press of Feb. 26 reached us March 8. The Annandale Post of Friday, March 4, arrived at our office Tuesday March 8, while the Buffalo Standard got here by Friday morning, and the Buffalo Journal, printed the same day, Wednesday, has not arrived at this writing, nearly a week.

Death has recently claimed as its own several persons once well known in Wright county. Mrs. G. M. Miller, formerly Miss Mary Goodsell, of Howard Lake, died at Anacostes, Wash. Hon. F. X. Lafond, who once lived at Delano, and who represented Wright county in the Legislature in the seventies, died at Little Falls. Hon. C. E. Vanderburg, once District Judge of our district died at his home, Minneapolis, aged 70 years.

It is about time Wright County would send men to the Legislature to help look after the interest of the State and county matters, and not simply because they agree to support certain men for the United States Senate. Good men will try to get the best U. S. Senators in their power to get, and after this matter they will be on hand to look after other matters equally as important to us, while the practiced politician will, we are told, look upon the election of U. S. Senator as the all important object of his election.

The Boxell probate case was heard by Judge Woolley, at Howard Lake, Wednesday. The case of John Oliver for his daughter's third of the property was appealed to district court. John and James Boxell who are not represented in the will, also contest the distribution of property according to the will. The court sustaining the will, John and James also appealed to district court.

Town and Village elections are over. Officers for the next year have been elected. So much dissatisfaction seems not to have been manifested for years. In many places only one ticket or one ticket with the exception of a few of the officers, was put up. At Maple Lake a Union Caucus was held and almost the entire ticket nominated double, or two tickets practically, put up by the one caucus. It would be more satisfactory to divide on old lines Democrat and Republican and then vote for the best men on both. It would beat the present system, and would fetch out the voters.

Editor Tanner says: "Dr. Catlin neglects to tell us, however, whether we are to have party principle or principle rather than party. We await impatiently his explanation upon this important question."

We are of the opinion Brother, that in order to have party principle sufficient to amount to anything it is necessary that individuals have principle. Men of good principles will soon make a party of good principles; and men of loose principles, or who care only for dollars and cents are apt to form a party that writes platforms to catch all dreamy voters.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and the Silver Knight Watchman, weekly, two papers for one year, for $1.60.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

MERCHANT TAILOR.

J. BRANDSER.
DELANO, MINN.
Spring Styles

Goods on Hand
BIGGEST STOCK
THAT EVER
CAME
To Wright County.

NOBBY SUITS,
FIT GUARANTEED.
Call soon and get a choice of Patterns.
22 tf.

GIVE US A CALL.

W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

[Pub. Jan. 28, Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25, March 4. 11.]

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered and issued out of and under the seal of the District Court, Eighteenth Judicial District, in and for the County of Wright and State of Minnesota upon a judgment rendered in said County on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1897, in an action therein, wherein the State of Minnesota was Plaintiff and Danville Mayo, Moses Mayo and John Collins were Defendants in favor of said Plaintiff and against said defendants for the sum of five hundred thirty four and 8-100 dollars (534.08) and whereas said judgment was docketed in the office of Clerk of the District Court for Wright County on the 19th day of October 1897, at 4. P. M. of that day, I did on the 25th day of January A. D. 1898 duly levy upon all right, title and interest of the within named defendants or either of them in and to the following desc ibed Real Estate situated and being in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota and described as follows to-wit:

The west half of the north east quarter of section twenty three, in township one hundred and twenty one, range twenty four

Now therefore Notice is hereby given that I will offer for sale and will sell the premises levied upon and described in the within notice to the highest bidder for cash at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the Village of Buffalo, in the County of Wright and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 12th day of March, 1898, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

Dated this 26th day of January, 1898.

JOHN C. NUGENT,
Sheriff of Wright County.

C. A. PIDGEON,
County Attorney
for Wright County.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .90
"	No. 2 " "	$ .88
"	No. 3 " "	$ .85
Rye	" "	$ .39
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.10
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .07
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

BORN.

COFFIN.—On Monday, March 7, to Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Coffin, a daughter.

KELSEY.—On Friday, March 11, to Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Kelsey, a son.

MARRIED.

KELSEY, BUCH—In Franklin, by Rev. K. Zeyher, on Tuesday, March 8, Mr. Lawrence Kelsey and Miss Antoine Buch.

DIED.

ADICKES.—In Franklin, on Monday, March 7, Mrs. Celia, wife of Fred Adickes, Jr.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING,
REPAIRING AND GENERAL
CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.
A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.
A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year.
Send for sample; agents wanted.

Published weekly by the
Silver Knight Publishing Co.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

GAZETTE.

One Dollar for fifty-two papers.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer
To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE
and
LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY
for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

GAZETTE.

ONE YEAR

$1.00

The Pioneer Press.

"OLDEST AND BEST"

With the SPECIAL CABLES
OF THE NEW YORK HERALD

The Full Service of the ASSOCIATED PRESS

and its PRIVATE N. Y. WIRES

PRINTS THE NEWS

12 to 24 Hours Ahead

of any Northwestern Newspaper.

G. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.
All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.
Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

FOR

FINE JOB PRINTING,

IN THE LINE OF

Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads

Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand

Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or

Anything in the Line

of Printing,

CALL AT THE

Gazette Office.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexe furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR
DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely Illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

CHOICE

GARDEN AND FLOWER

SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1898. NUMBER 25.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANNANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 1tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday,..... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
Watertown.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... —
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President { JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen, { NICK FRANK. HENRY BOCK. ADAM HORSCH.
Recorder, { L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, { W. H. FRAZEE. T. R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health. { T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary. J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables { JOSEPH MERRIMAN. GEO. GOODRICK

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN B. BORSCH.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TREASURER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $21.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100,00
One-half column, one year 50,00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25,00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13,00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5,00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3,00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

A SOUTHERN VOLUNTEER.

Yes sir, I fought with Stonewall,
And faced the fight with Lee;
But if this here Union goes to war,
Make one more gun for me!
I didn't shrink from Sherman
As he galloped to the sea;
But if this here Union goes to war,
Make one more gun for me!

I was with 'em at Manassas—
The bully boys in Gray:
I heard the thunders roarin'
Round Stonewall Jackson's way
And many a time this sword of mine
Has blazed the route for Lee;
But if this old nation goes to war,
Make one more sword for me!

I'm not so full o' fighting,
Nor half so full o' fun
As I was back in the sixties
When I shouldered my old gun;
It may be that my hair is white—
Such things, you know, must be;
But if this old Union's in for war,
Make one more gun for me!

I hain't forgot my raisin'—
Nor how, in sixty-two,
Or thereabouts, with battle shouts
I charged the boys in blue;
And I say, I fought with Stonewall,
And blazed the way for Lee;
But if this old Union's in for war,
Make one more gun for me!
—Atlanta Constitution.

Just make it two, old fellow.
I want to stand once more
Beneath the old flag with you
As in the days of yore.
Our fathers stood together
And fought on land and sea
The battles fierce that made us
A nation of the free.

I whipped you down at Vicksburg,
You licked me at Bull Run;
On many a field we struggled,
When neither victory won.
You wore the gray of southland,
I wore the northern blue;
Like men we did our duty
When screaming bullets flew.

Four years we fought like devils
But when the war was done
Your hand met mine in friendly clasp,
Our two hearts beat as one.
And now when danger threatens
No north, no south we know
Once more we stand together
To fight the common foe.

My head, like yours, is frosty,
Old age is creeping on:
Life's sun is lower sinking,
My day will soon be gone.
But if our country's honor
Needs once again her son,
I'm ready, too, old fellow—
So get another gun.
—Minneapolis Journal.

GEN. W. S. Rosecrans died at his home near Rendondo, Cal., on March 11, nearly 80 years of age.

THE Great Northern depot at Clear Lake burned lately. It is not known whether or not J. J. Hill will rebuild.

THE Loud postal bill was defeated in the House. People are not prepared to have the press interfered with in any manner, at present.

THE children of Louisville are said to be collecting for a library for the ship Kentucky. It must be that Kentucky is reforming. First to discard wine for water for christening a ship. Then to present the vessel with a library rather than a silver set. Surely these are good moves in the right direction.

THE New York World says: "However, from present indications the silver question is not likely to play much of a part in this year's elections."

That kind of talk may do down on Wall street and in that vicinity, but the World should take into consideration that New York, even if it is Greater New York, is not the whole of this country yet. Western people will vote on the silver issue, and they don't want a president from Wall street, not by a good deal. So the World need not try to prepare the way for one.

THERE appears to be an uncommon lot of suicides and sudden deaths occurring in this vicinity now a days. What is the cause of it? Does any one ever stop to consider why so many people come to the end of their earthly existance so abruptly now-a-days? Is there not something in the mode of living? Is not the many adulterations of food and drink to blame for the keeping down of the increase of population, by killing off many? Do not the thousands of patent medicines containing powerful drugs, and sold to all classes of people to rub on or take, for all ailments flesh is heir to, cut a big figure in making people sick, crazy, and inclined to suicide or maybe homicide; or in producing the numerous cases of heart failure?

JOHN ARTHUR CAMPBELL, a son of ex-Marshal W. M. Campbell, aged 30 years and unmarried, died at St. Paul Wednesday, of consumption, from which he has been a sufferer for some time.

THE St. Paul Globe josh editor ought to lay aside his gold "specs" and he might be able to see the "relativity" of a legislature elected as a U. S. Senatorial college to some of the decisions of the supreme court.

THE Minneapolis Free Press which for some time has not made its appearance came to our table this morning bright and newsey as ever. We notice as editor and manager appears the name of our well known county editor, Frank N. Stacy, which assures an earnest effort on behalf of reform all along the line.

War. Fearful to Contemplate.

Wars and rumors of wars fill the land. France is having her Dreyfus affair. England and Germany are squabbling over parts of Africa. Russia and others are pestering the Chinese. Our own country is disturbed over the blowing up of the Maine in Havanna harbor. Many are crying out for war! war! It does look as if something should be done to stop such insults as apparently have been offered to our goyernment. It looks as if the national colors should float over the seas of the world, with none to molest or make afraid those who are under their protection. The way to do this is to have all nations understand that our flag must be unmolested wherever found. It may be necessary to resort to harsh measures to impress this knowledge upon some; but in this day of intelligence it seems cruel for a great nation to send out ship loads of men to shoot down or sink to the bottom of the sea men of another nation; when the men in both armies are personally entirely innocent of having done ought against the other. It looks foolish to expend millions of money, and thousands of lives over petty quarrels. But if the Spanish government is proven the aggressor in the present difficulty and is preparing to prey upon our commerce, to shoot down innocent merchandise carriers, something must be done to stop it. Congress, without dissent has voted $50,000,000 to prepare for any emergency. Let it be judiciously expended. Let the national defenses be made secure. Let us prepare to take care of what we have, at home; of the people and property on our own land, before sailing out to battle for the monopolistic concers who are making money off of imported goods and wares.

Concentration of Powers.

The National Single Taxer quotes from an article by President Dr. Cyrus Northrup, of the State University:

"Certainly the large diminution of independent, self-reliant, conductors of business and the substitution therefor of a few business bosses, with a host of subordinates who simply obey orders, is not likely to add to the character of our citizenship nor to brighten the outlook for young men in this or any other part of the country. But the business world is in a state of transition, and no one can foretell the result. Let us hope that the intelligence, good sense and patriotism of our people may be equal to the emergency, and that out of what now seems fraught with so much calamity may be evolved new methods that shall contribute to the general prosperity, and give to every man at least a fair chance of earning an honest living. I confess I do not now see how this is to be brought about. But dark days have been followed by sunshine before now, and I do not doubt that they will be hereafter."

Could not President Northrop as well say the same thing concernig nthe business in which he himself is so earnestly engaged? Is there not a tendency of the educational institutions of our state to all come under the same management; to loose their identity; to be swallowed up by bosses? Do not the officials of our state, whose business is connected with educational matters, consciously or unconsciously, give prefference to graduates of the State University over those from other schools, even though the qualifications may be in favor of the non-"U" individual? Is there not too much of a tendency to boss the business?

It seems to us these are fair questions worthy the consideration of those haying the education of the coming men and women of our state in hand. Complaints are often heard that schools whose teachers are not graduates of the "U" do not get their papers marked as high as those whose instructors have received their education at the State institution.

Education is the same thing, whether obtained by the fireside, after the family has retired at night, or learned in the stately halls of the state "U" and is worthy of the same respect.

Minnesotans are proud of their University. They are proud of its teachers and pupils. They are proud of many of its graduates, whose influence for good is felt throughout the land; but too much preference for those who have been so situated as to improve their minds by its help, is apt to discourage many worthy young men and women who have not the money nor time to spare to attend that particular school, but who have improved the opportunities presenting themselves and oftentimes whose knowledge of the world and of books is equal to that of the best in the "U". It is for these we speak.

The Eagle's News.

The St. Paul Globe's josh Editor has discovered how the Old Bird gets what little news she has. As witness, the following from the Globe:

"From posters printed at this office we learn that William Dress, who has been in the livery business in Delano for some time, has offered his horses, buggies, etc. for sale.—Delano Eagle.

We have often wondered, as we ran over the columns of the Eagle, where it got the little news it usually contains. We are gratified to know that what it learns is from posters printed in its office."—Globe.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11, 1898.

At last the administration and Congress have caught up with the people on the Spanish question. Congress has been all right all the time; it has only been waiting for Mr. McKinley to indicate what he wanted. This week he broke silence, and the result was that in 48 hours a bill appropriating $50,000,000, to be expended at his discretion, had been unanimously passed by the House and Senate and carried to him for his signature. It does not matter whether it was the request of Spain for Fitz Lee's recall, which was so promptly refused by Mr. McKinley, or the certainty that the Court of Inquiry will report that the Maine was blown up from the outside, that has aroused the administration to the necessity of preparing to lick Spain. It is enough to know that it has been aroused and that it is now pushing war preparations in dead earnest. Having given him all the money that will be needed before the actual fighting begins and left him entirely unhampered as to how it shall be spent, Congress is proceeding with its routine business, and holding itself ready for any further action that may be considered necessary. The only thing to be regretted is that Mr. McKinley had not asked for this appropriation a month or two ago. A month ago fighting ships might have been purchased in Europe that cannot now be had, owing to European war clouds and other reasons. We have got navy enough, however, even if the naval officer sent to Europe doesn't buy a single vessel, to lick anything and everything that flies the Spanish flag, as will be proven in short order after the shooting starts.

The National Association of Democratic Clubs, which has made arrangements to celebrate the 155th birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson, by a subscription dinner, on Wednesday, April 13, at which Hon. William J. Bryan and Senator Jones, of Ark., chairman of the Democratic National Committee, will be guests of honor, has issued a circular letter urging all democratic clubs to celebrate in some way by joining with the National Association "in a common homage to the memory of the great apostle of American liberty, the author of the Declaration of Independence, and the founder of the democratic party, and in a fresh expression of our unalterable determination to preserve the heritage of freedom as it came to us from our forefathers, and to resist by every lawful means in our power the encroachments of organized wealth and monopoly upon the constitutional rights of the people."

Senator Allen offered a resolution this week, which the Senate adopted, calling on the Attorney General to inform the Senate how many writs of injunction were granted during 1897-'98 by the U. S. Courts, against labor leaders and labor organizations, and to furnish it with certified copies of such writs, the affidavits upon which application for them were made, and of other papers connected with them.

Unless Mr. McKinley takes a notion to veto the bill appropriating $288,000 to reimburse the publishing house of the Southern Methodist Church for war damage to its property, which was this week passed by the Senate, the Methodist brethren will soon get the money.

There may have been worse violations of the canons of good taste than that of the Providence, (R. I.) Board of Trade, in sending a circular letter to each Senator and Representative, in which the attempt is made to use the destruction of the Maine and the probability of war with Spain as an argument for the gold legislation asked for by the Indianapolis bankers' convention, but none such is recalled just now. Representative Freeman Knowles, of S. Dak., who is serving his first term in the House, is so far as known the only man in Congress who has answered this extraordinary circular letter, but the answer of Mr. Knowles was a very warm document, as may be judged from the following quotations therefrom: "I can find no language to express my abhorrence of men who will seek to take advantage of the patriotism of the people to force a financial system upon them which means their enslavement." "You are the same class as those who took advantage of the people's patriotism in 1861-'65, to fasten upon the toiling meshes a system of bondage by which yo have absorbed the entire produce of labor since the war." "This class would not hesitate to sell our country for gold, and would welcome to our shores foreign armies and navies, rather than lose the interest on their bonds. This is the same class which is now trying to fasten upon the struggling patriots of Cuba the $400,000,000 of bonds which the European Shylocks have taken from Spain in return for the money they loaned that nation with which to butcher the Cubans". You talk about going to war on a gold basis. If you are not even more ignorant than you are unjust, you would know that no nation ever conducted a war upon a gold basis. At the very first scent of danger gold always hunts its cowardly hole." "Men who would take advantage of the present delicate and strained foreign relations of their country to foist a robber financial system upon the people are, in my judgement, greater traitors to humanity than was Judas Iscariot or Benedict Arnold."

Election Returns.

Villages.

ANNANDALE.

President, W. S. Huntington; Trustees, A. M. Ridgway, W. D. McDonald, J. J. Rennie; Recorder, J. C. Rousseau; Treasurer, J. H. Burl; Justices of Peace, W. H. Towle, Thos. A. Remington; Constable, J. B. Golladay; Assessor, J. N. Grafft; Street Commissioner, W. W Cotten.

Townships.

INDEPENDENCE.

Supervisors, Charles Budd, chairman, Mike Frank, Frank Shrewsbury; Town Clerk, R. M. Mills; Treasurer, John Pagenkoff; Assessor, J. H. McGary; Justice, R. M. Mills; Constable, William Felton.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65,00 and expenses Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 50

Patriotism and Prosperity.

One day last week, in company with several of my townsmen, I took conveyance on one of Jim Hill's steam wagons for the city of Minneapolis, to look for patriotism and prosperity. The first place I struck was an underground barber shop, lighted by electricity and warmed up by Cuban sympathizers, and it seemed as if a warlike spirit filled the whole room. After waiting for my companion to get a Bill McKinley shave and a Mark Hanna trim, we started for the Hennepin county play house (Court House). The receipt of customs is on the second floor. You get there by an elevator, an easy way, and it costs you no freight, all paid by the county, but it looked lonesome inside. Another fellow and myself were all that were paying money over to the official. Next I called on the Hennepin county scribe, Register of Deeds. His business did not seem to be overdone. I next caled upon our County Commissioners, as they were holding a meeting that day, and presented them a bond given for $600, signed and approved, and told them I wanted $300 current money. They 'O K'd' it and said I could get my money in 30 days from the day of grace. This was my prosperity, and my patriotism ended up in buying an American flag 6 x 3 ft. to float over the polling place in our town, while we vote for good times and a single gold standard.

It looked to me as if a good many people had died in Minneapolis since I was there last, for many houses were vacant and many people waiting for news from seat of war, for they seemed to have no other business.

Now Mr. Editor, it seems that ever since a year ago last fall, the wind has blown in the wrong direction. Instead of prosperity we have had adversity. Instead of peace we have had confusion. And Minneapolis is so hard up she cannot run her schools without asking the teachers, the janitors, and school children to chip in and help them out. Perhaps if they would go down town every day and vote for Mc Kinley, Mark Hanna, the single gold standard and the whole Republican party it might be a panacea for all the ills that man is heir to.

Some say the Dingley tariff bill is working all right, and to prove this, they take the receipts of February as a basis, but by compairing the official report on custom duties we find that the receipts on imports for 1896 was $29,188,016, more than in 1897, the Dingley bill being in force in 1897 about six month. How is this? Please explain. They take the month of February, 1897, as a basis, just when our wholesale merchants are buying their foreign goods for spring trade. They also figure in the receipts on internal revenues, on whiskey, beer, tobacco and oleomargerine. Now, if they have had larger receipt from whiskey, beer, tobacco and oleomargerine since the Dingley bill took effect we are perfectly willing to give them the credit for it. They seem to go on the plan, the more you tax a country the better it is for its subjects.

The gold bug missionaries are loud in the approval of a high protective tariff and claim it is a saving ordinance to all our financial ills. Why then did not the Dingley tariff bill keep the mills of the east running, and give employment to the working class? Such talk is superfluous. There has been a reduction in wages instead of an advance, and yet they tell us the tariff law is working fine, but I would inform my unsophisticated friend that we take no stock in such statements.

Now if yov blind hoodlers have been doing so much for the country for the last thirty years? Why has there been such a shaking up among the dry bones?

The city of Minneapolis has been under Republican rule for 35 years almost, and what is her record now? A score of defunct city officials, as embezzlers without saving grace, character or reputation. Hennepin county has been in the hands of the Republican party almost continuously, ever since its formation, and what is its debt, and what does it cost the tax payers to run it? Let them answer. The state of Minnesota has been under Republican rule ever since the days of Abel (Governor Sibley) and does she stand head and shoulder above any other state in the union.

Now if the establishing of a single gold standard and the destroying of free coinage of silver has proved a blessing to this country it is time we were receiving some of the benefit. If the God of Baal and John Sherman has brought relief to the suffering millions of this country by the demonitization of silver, why are we not reaping some of the benefit. John Sherman chokes the intelligence of all honest men by trying to make the people believe they have no use for free coinage. If we are to trust the saving of this country to the National Banker, the single gold standard and the issuing of government bonds, our downfall is assured and there is not salt enough to save us.

Our government has been under the rule of the Republican party for 37 years now with the exception of 8 years ruled by that defunct official, Grover Cleveland, who was neither useful, beneficial, nor ornamental, and what is our debt. We have paid millions upon millions but it will take more farm produce to pay our national debt now than it would have taken just after the war. Now, if you are not blinded by one or all of three things, selfishness party prejudice or ignorance, the truth will force itself upon your mind and you must see there is something wrong.

By a good many the Democrats are blamed for all the ills this government is heir to, ever since the days of the landing of our Pilgrim fathers and it might be well to disfranchise all who were born south of the Mason and Dixon line.

"Go to now ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

Your ritches are corrupted, and your garments are motheaten.

Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days".

Mr. Editor, we have no objections to a man having a reasonable amount of ritches, but do not think he should want the earth, for if he had it the rest of us poor fellows would have to go up in a baloon. I hope the ship of state will keep top side up and not run her keel upon the rocks.

Notwithstanding the coming of prosperity, times are hard, and if I am any prophet the worst has not come yet. Way back in the wilderness Moses did not consider the golden calf a saving ordinance, but in these last days it is the medicine.

A INDEPENDENCE FARMER BUT NOT AND INDEPENDENT FARMER.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

Nathan M. Barnes, Minneapolic, blank book. Fred Eggen, Malmo, draft evener. Lars Halvorson, Willmar, explosive engine. Hugh Kirkwood, Minneapolis, sales book. Swan F. Lindstam, Minneapolis, stable. Wm. Moran, Minneapolis, range finder. Erick E. Sparr, St. Paul, dish cleaner.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chance with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow.

* * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal And the Buffalo Gazette Both one year For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the Buffalo Gazette, Delano, Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
Edison Park, Ill.
22tf.

Latest News.

John Moshik was hung at Minneapolis this morning at 3:30. He was hung for killing John Lemke.

The report of the investigating committee on the blowing up of the Maine is to be made public very soon according to latest rumors.

Democratic Committee Meeting.

Chairman L. A. Rosing of the state democratic committee, has called a meeting of the committee to be held in St. Paul on Wednesday, March 30. At this conference the date for the state convention will be discussed and it is likely that a call may be issued.—Minneapolis Times.

Chairman Rosing is a rustler and is an uncommonly earnest and active worker. He evidently believes in placing his platform and candidates in the field early, and in haying the platform sound and the candidates of the best, knowing that the more they are discussed the stronger they will grow. We are for beginning the campaign in time so that none need vote unintelligably.

THE New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

Advertise SUBSCRIBE

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET
The BUFFALO GAZETTE
—AND—
THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS
BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR
FOR ONLY $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE
The Free Press
YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.
Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.
By sending 15 cents for postage any subscriber to the Free Press can have the book.
$1.65 gets the GAZETTE and the Free Press for One Year, and the Book.

GIVE US A CALL.
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO.,
222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

DESPITE the fact that we have few ships on the high seas we managed to maintain our supremacy in Hawaiian shipping last year. Ships carrying the American flag entered at Hawaiian ports numbered 286, while the ships of all the other nationalities numbered only 141.

IMPRISONED miners can be supplied with food and air by a newly patented conduit system, consisting of a series of pipes, to be laid through the mine shafts, with branch pipes running around each section to be used if the main pipe should be crushed by a cave-in. flexible conveyors being run through the pipes to carry the food.

IN the royal family of England the order of precedence among men is thus: The sovereign, the prince of Wales, the other sons of the sovereign in the order of their age, the sovereign's grandsons, the brothers or sisters of the sovereign, the sovereign's uncle, and finally the sons of the brothers or sisters of the sovereign.

IT is asserted that the reason why Spain favors war is that if Cuba is permitted to depart in peace Spain will be compelled to foot the entire Cuban debt of $600,000,000, but if Cuba should be wrested from Spain in a war with the United States that obligation could not be held against Spain. In other words, Spain would make money by being whipped.

BOSTON is getting rid of its professional beggars by turning them over to the tender mercies of some special policemen appointed for this service. The beggars are given the choice of disappearing from the streets or going to jail. A majority chose the first alternative, and are working other cities which have not adopted the Boston plan, and the others are in jail, where they will be required to stay until they have served out their full sentences.

DR. S. J. ALLEN, of White River Junction, Vt., has a relic of the closing days of the rebellion, a testament in which a minie ball is imbedded. It was taken from the left breast pocket of a rebel soldier who was killed at Sailor's Creek, Va., April 8, 1865, and who was brought to the hospital of the Second division of the Sixth corps that day. The ball was flattened upon either side and stopped on the seventh verse of the eighth chapter of Corinthians.

AN ingenious machine for making sandwiches is used by many of the ocean line steamships. It cuts and butters 60 slices of bread a minute. One movement of the hand cuts and butters the bread, and the machine can be arranged so that the bread need not be buttered if the operator does not want it to be so. In making 1,000 sandwiches three hams and 11 pounds of butter are saved, it is said, on account of the accuracy with which both are cut.

MEMBERS of the New York police department are to be fitted out with new uniforms. New buttons form part o the equipment. What does this change mean? Including commissioned officers there are about 7,500 men on the force. It requires 78 buttons to fit out the two uniforms and overcoats. This means a total of 585,000 buttons. For one suit and overcoat the buttons weigh 18 ounces avoirdupois, so that the total weight will be 8437½ pounds, or 437½ pounds more than four tons.

PRESIDENT KRUGER will shortly have the opportunity of unveiling at Pretoria a monument to himself. As a result of the national subscription raised for the purpose a native artist, Van Bouw by name, was commissioned nearly two years ago to execute the work, and has been exclusively engaged upon it at Rome ever since. The monument is designed to glorify the majesty of the Transvaal republic, and the statue of Oom Paul, in heroic size, crowns the structure, in itself some fifty feet high.

As a result of Hubner's latest investigations, the population of the world is placed at 1,535,000,000, or 23,000,000 more than in 1896. Of this increase Europe is credited with 5,700,000; Asia, 6,200,000; Africa, 7,500,000; Americas, 3,200,000, and the United States 2,800,000. Europe, which in area is about as large as the United States, is credited with about one-fourth of the population of the world, or 378,600,000. The United States has 72,300,000 or 53 per cent of the combined population of North and South America.

A COMPARATIVELY small number of handkerchiefs are manufactured in this country, and those that are made here are mostly of the cotton and inferior silk variety. The finest silk goods are imported principally from Japan, which country sends us annually between 17,000,000 and 18,000,000 Japanese pongees. The best cambric article comes from France and Belgium, and linen handkerchiefs come from the north of Ireland and also from St. Galls, Switzerland. Japanese silk handkerchiefs are worth from $3 to $40 per dozen.

THE court of errors and appeals in the case of the North Hudson Railroad Co. vs. Anderson, reversed the decision of the Hudson circuit court, and decided that a dollar greenback with a corner one inch and a half by one inch torn off was not a legal tender. Anderson had sued the railroad for damages. He had offered the mutilated bill in payment of his fare, and the conductor would not accept the same. Anderson would offer no other money and was ejected from the company's car. He then sued for damages, and the Hudson circuit court held the bill to be legal tender.

IT IS perhaps not generally known that the defense of Peking is still largely intrusted to men armed only with bows and arrows. A recent imperial decree solemnly directs that those who "succeeded in hitting the target with their arrows on horseback five times be given" such and such rewards, while those who manage to hit the mark four times on foot and once on horseback and four times on foot only shall be proportionately recompensed. The decree concludes with a list of the presidents and tally-ists appointed for archery competitions which are still to take place.

IS BUILDING UP NAVY

United States Secures Two of Brazil's Big Warships.

Purchase of Amazonas and Admiral Abreuall—Important Change in the Organization of the Army.

Washington, March 15.—The reported sale to the United States of the two Brazilian cruisers, Amazonas and Admiral Abreuall, now receiving their finishing touches in an English ship yard, was confirmed here. It is learned also that Spain has not secured the O'Higgins, and that Chili will not sell her to Spain. It is said furthermore that Spain has not and cannot purchase ships from either Chili or the Argentine Republic.

Spanish Squadron Sails.

London, March 15.—A special dispatch from Cadiz, Spain, announces that the Spanish squadron has sailed from that port. It is understood the Spanish warships are going to Porto Rico, where they will await the orders of Capt. Gen. Blanco. Enthusiastic crowds of people gathered there to bid farewell to the Spanish war vessels.

Warships Sail from Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 15.—The United States war vessels Helena and Bancroft sailed Monday, going in a southwesterly direction. The departure of the United States warships Helena and Bancroft in a southwesterly direction from Lisbon may possibly be connected with the seemingly simultaneous departure of the Spanish squadron from Cadiz, which is situated on the southwestern coast of Spain. Rumors have had it that the Bancroft and Helena might follow the Spanish ships across the Atlantic.

IMPORTANT ARMY CHANGE.

Departments of theGulf and of the Lakes Created.

Washington, March 14.—The war department Saturday promulgated its order creating the departments of the gulf and of the lakes and abolishing the departments of the Missouri and of Texas. The department of the east will embrace the states on the Atlantic coast to and including North Carolina; the department of the lakes will include Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, with headquarters at Chicago, and the department of the gulf will comprise the states of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, with headquarters at Atlanta. Maj. Gen. John R. Brooke will command the department of the lakes and Brig. Gen. William Graham the department of the gulf.

Veterans Tender Their Services.

Detroit, Mich., March 15.—Members of Fairbanks post, G. A. R., of this city, and of which Secretary of War Russell A. Alger is a member, adopted resolutions Monday night tendering their services to the government in case of war between the United States and Spain.

Mason Challenged to a Duel.

Washington, March 15.—Senator Mason has received the challenge sent him by the editor of the Spanish illustrated paper El Cardo. The document is printed and is signed by the editor, Marquis de Alta Villa. The challenge is to a combat at swords' point and is preceded by a short column of personal abuse, in which Senator Mason is described as "an ignoble Yankee senator who scolds like a woman and who has not the valor to fight like a man, and who would take a slap in the face without resenting it." The American people are referred to as "a people who deal in pigs and whose flag is the almighty dollar." The senator accepts the challenge in a jocose spirit. He says he will have to see the marquis before he decides whether he will accept, but that it scarcely accords with Spanish modesty for the challenging party to name the weapons, as is done in this instance.

Murder and Suicide.

Manchester, O., March 14.—At Robbtown, Ky., a name given to a small group of houses at the railway station across the Ohio river opposite this place, Thomas Robb, 19 years old, went to the home of Mrs. Rosa Read Saturday and called her to the door on the pretext that he had a letter for her. She came with her babe in her arms. Robb fired three shots in rapid succession into her body, then shot and killed himself. Mrs. Read fell forward dead upon her babe. The case is inexplicable.

America's Heavy Demand for Gold.

London, March 14.—The money market has tightened considerably and an advance in the bank rate is mooted. The American demand for gold has exceeded all expectation, and in addition to all the bar gold about £400,000 ($2,000,000) in Japanese yen has been bought for New York. This, with the withdrawals of eagles, has induced the Bank of England to raise the price of Japanese, French and German gold coins to 76s. 5d. per ounce.

FOUGHT FOR THE UNION.

Death of Gen. W. S. Rosecrans in California—Brief Sketch of His Life.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12.—Gen. W. S. Rosecrans died Friday morning at seven o'clock at his home near Redondo.

William Stark Rosecrans was born in Kingston, Delaware county, O., September 8, 1819. His parents were of old Dutch stock. He was raised on a farm and educated at the public schools. He clerked in a store, and in 1837 applied to the secretary of war for appointment to West Point military academy. He was appointed and graduated in 1842.

At the beginning of the war Gen. Rosecrans was a private citizen. When it became evident that military operations must become necessary to crush the rebellion, he offered his services to Gen. Dennison, of Ohio, and he was requested to act as engineer and lay out Fort Dennison.

GEN. WILLIAM STARK ROSECRANS.

His first important action was at Rich Mountain, which he won. Gen. Rosecrans succeeded Gen. McClelland in the department of Ohio. He participated in the battle of Corinth, and afterward took command of the army of the Mississippi. He was made commander of the department of the Cumberland, which position he held from October 27, 1862, to October 19, 1863. Gen. Rosecrans was relieved in October, 1864, and assigned to the department of the Missouri. He was mustered out of the volunteer service in January, 1866, and resigned from the army in March, 1867. He had been breveted major general. He was appointed minister to Mexico in July, 1868, and held the office until June, 1869. He mined in Mexico and manufactured powder in San Francisco. He was elected to congress from California in 1881 and served four years. He then settled on a ranch near Redondo, Los Angeles county, Cal., and spent the last years of his life quietly. His wife, the daughter of Judge Hegeman, of New York, died in 1878. Three children, Car Rosecrans, Mrs. J. K. Toole, of Helena, Mont., and Miss Anna Rosecrans, survive him.

PERISHED IN THE FLAMES.

Bowery Mission Lodging House in New York Burned—Eleven Bodies Recovered.

New York, March 14.—Eleven men lost their lives in the fire which swept through the Bowery Mission house at 105 Bowery early Sunday morning and left it a blackened shell. Their bodies, now at the morgue, are so charred that most of them may never be recognized. The dead are supposed to be: Elias Cuddah, 29 years old, address not known; John Foran, Stapleton, Staten Island; —— McDermott, 25 years old, address unknown; James O'Rourke, 42 years old, Philadelphia; William Sodan, 38 years old, Spottswood, N. J.; six bodies unidentified.

No. 105 Bowery was one of the best-known lodging houses on that thoroughfare. It was called the Bowery Mission lodging house and was conducted by the Christian Herald. In the basement of the building there was a cheap restaurant, while the ground floor was used exclusively for mission purposes, Gospel services having been held there daily for several years. The four upper floors were fitted up as a cheap lodging house with accommodations for 150 males, who paid 15, 20 or 25 cents each, according to the location of the rooms.

A Town Destroyed.

Tacoma, Wash., March 14.—An earthquake has destroyed the town of Amboina, capital of Amboina island, one of the Malucca group. Late in January, according to meager details received at Hong Kong, a frightful earthquake occurred, without the usual preceding rumblings. A great crack opened in the earth and many houses were swallowed before the occupants could get out. Hundreds of natives were killed and 200 injured. Some died of fright.

To Modify Civil Service Rules.

Washington, March 11.—The president summoned the members of the civil service commission to the white house Thursday afternoon for a final consultation over the form of the executive order which had been decided on for the modification of the famous Cleveland order putting the blanket of governmental protection over everything in sight. The modifying order will, it is understood, take 20,000 employes out of the classified service.

Ice Bridge Over Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 15.—The immense masses of ice coming down the river during the last two or three days lodged in the gorge below the falls Sunday night, and Monday Niagara Falls enjoyed the novelty of an ice bridge formed in the middle of March. The bridge is solid and seems likely to last for some time.

EUROPE MIGHT BE HOSTILE.

Austria, Germany and Russia Likely to Side with Spain in Case of Trouble.

London, March 15.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says: According to information obtained from good sources the Austrian emperor is making great efforts to induce the European powers to present to the United States the danger to Europe of their carrying any further their interference in Cuban affairs. Emperor William is warmly seconding the efforts of Emperor Francis Joseph. The American government is aware of this situation.

London, March 15.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times telegraphs an abstract of an article in the St. Petersburg Novoe Vremya, which he thinks "deserves attention as giving an accurate account of the views and intentions of at least three of the great powers." The correspondent says: The article asserts that the United States are well aware that in declaring war against Spain they could not count upon the approval of any of the European powers. All, it alleges, would sympathize with Spain—if not actively, certainly by categorical protest against President McKinley's conduct. This is also well known at Madrid. Therefore, continues the Novoe Vremya writer, it is hoped that Spain will not fall into the trap laid by Washington, for she has so far no serious grounds for declaring war, and measures should immediately be taken in order that she may not have such grounds in the future. The European representatives, concludes the article, will notify the Washington government of their opinion that war is not desirable, and it is to be hoped that President McKinley will realize the disadvantage of such general censure and will not allow himself to be egged into war by American speculators.

London, March 14.—The Daily Graphic editorially suggests that there is time still remaining that can be utilized to negotiate an agreement to refer the Maine matter to arbitration to ascertain the "true facts," and to decide as to the nature of the indemnity, if any, be due to the United States. "England," says the Daily Graphic, "would sympathize with a war for the liberation of Cuba, but if the United States goes to war it must be in a just cause and after every effort to secure an honorable peace has been exhausted."

Paris, March 14.—The Temps says: Spain does not deceive herself when she counts upon the sympathies, at least latent, of European governments, but it would be a mistake for her to expect any effectual support from either Great Britain or the triple alliance. Before all she must rely upon herself.

Mrs. John M. Thurston Dead.

Havana, March 15.—Consul-General Lee received the following telegram Monday afternoon from Mr. Walter B. Barker, United States consul at Sagua la Grande: "The wife of Senator Thurston died on the Anita to-day. Shall give every attention and wire you from Boca." Meager advices say that Mrs. Thurston died of apoplexy about eight o'clock Monday morning, when the yacht was in sight of port. The Anita left Matanzas Sunday night with all the congressional party except Congressman Smith and Congressman Cummings, who went to Sagua by rail. The passage from Havana to Matanzas was very rough, and that to Sagua even worse. It is thought that this, together with the rough passage down the coast, may have hastened the end.

Shot by a Soldier.

Cape Town, March 15. — Mr. Wolf Joel, the trustee of the estate of the late Barney Barnato, the South African millionaire, was shot in his office at Johannesburg by a former soldier. The murderer of Mr. Joel, a man named Felstein, has been arrested. Felstein entered Mr. Joel's office and demanded £3,500. Being refused, he snatched a revolver from a desk and fired. The bullet entered Mr. Joel's forehead and he fell to the ground and expired. His murderer attempted to commit suicide, but failed.

Sympathy from Mexico.

Guadalajara, Mex., March 15.—All classes of Mexican citizens sympathize with the United States in its controversy with Spain and the alleged blowing up of the Maine, which is called a characteristic Spanish trick. All new pending matter is read and discussed in the smallest towns and the remarkable fact is that the Mexicans who have been hitherto cool in their manifestations of regard for the United States publicly declare the United States should punish Spain.

Wages Advanced.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 15.—The Dayton Coal and Iron company, Dayton, Tenn., has announced an advance of ten per cent. in the wages of its miners, 1,100 in number, to take effect April 1. Other laborers had their wages advanced Monday from 12 to 15 per cent. This is the carrying out of an agreement between the operators and miners entered into in January just after the strike was settled.

GAVE SPAIN MORE TIME.

Administration Said to Have Allowed Until May 1 to Establish Peace in Cuba.

London, March 14.—The Madrid correspondent of the Morning Post says:

"I am able to assert on the best authority that United States Minister Woodford originally intimated that the United States hoped and expected that Spain would re-esablish peace in Cuba before March 1 of this year. Recently, in response to Spanish representations, the United States extended the time to May 1. Both governments refuse to describe this intimation as an ultimatum to Spain. It has been given entirely irrespective of the Maine affair or any other complications which may arise in the meantime. There was no suggestion as to what action the United States would take on May 1, should, as is certain to be the case, the rebellion be still unsuppressed."

Washington, March 15.—Feeling here is that the prospect for peace has materially brightened, and that in the end Spain will yield to all the reasonable demands of the United States, both as regards the Maine tragedy and Cuban reforms. A special cable dispatch from Madrid declares that the ministry is for peace and tranquillity prevails.

Madrid, March 14.—The view held in official circles is that Spain will not provoke a war, because, if she did, she would find herself isolated, but if America gives the provocation Spain will not be alone in the struggle. The general opinion is that in the event of war Spain will not need to attack American territory. It will suffice her to pursue a war of privateering. As America's commerce is sevenfold greater than Spain's, American interests would suffer most.

SENATOR PROCTOR RETURNS.

Speaks Guardedly of the Maine Disaster—Thinks Explosion Was Outside.

Washington, March 14. — Senator Proctor, of Vermont, and his companion, Col. Myron M. Parker, who have been spending some time in Cuba, returned to Washington Sunday night at 10:35. Senator Proctor was met at the station by friends and was driven at once to his residence. Senator Proctor said that he did not desire to discuss his trip at present, and that further than to commend the good work Miss Clara Barton was doing in Cuba he had said nothing in the way of an interview.

The Post claims to have had an interview with Senator Proctor, in which the latter said:

"Concerning the cause of the Maine disaster I feel free to say that such information as I have obtained indicates that the explosion was from the outside. It does not show that the Spanish government or any of its officials in Havana were participants in the crime. In the first place I do not think there were any mines in the harbor. I have not the slightest knowledge of what the decision of the naval court of inquiry will be, or when it will reach Washington. Such information as I have is entirely of an unofficial character."

Col. Parker commended most highly the action pursued by Consul-General Lee, who, he said, was a man fitted for his place in every respect, from what he had seen of his administration of affairs there. "The matter of his recall reached there just a little before the contradiction and was not credited. It was denied that his return to this country was wanted," he said. In regard to the question as to whether the impression prevailed in Havana that the Maine was destroyed by external influences, Col. Parker spoke guardedly. He said, however, that the same impression prevailed there as did here. There was little or no war talk.

Powderly Turned Down.

Washington, March 12.—The senate committee on immigration has reported adversely upon the nomination of T. V. Powderly to be commissioner of immigration. The nomination has been held up in committee for several weeks on account of the absence of Senator Chandler. He having returned to Washington, the matter was brought up and the vote taken. President McKinley received a large number of protests against Mr. Powderly's appointment from representative labor organizations in all parts of the United States. Ever since congress has been in session these protests have continued to come to the members of the committee on immigration.

Defense of Pacific Coast.

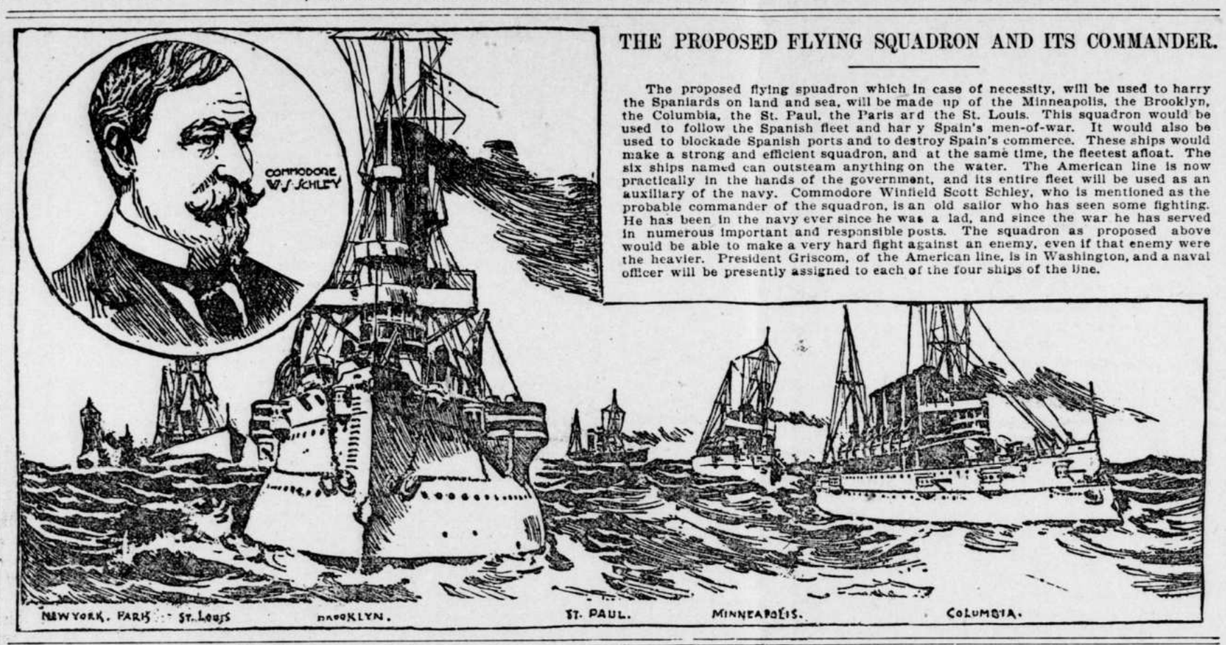
Washington, March 14.—In making preparations for the possibilities of the future, the navy department has by no means overlooked the strategic defense of the Pacific coast. To guard properly this important seaboard it has been found necessary to send an advanced guard some distance down the Southern Pacific ocean. The battleship Oregon, the sister of the Indiana, and one of the most powerful vessels in the navy, has been selected for this work.

To Build Revenue Cutters.

Washington, March 15.—During its session of three hours Monday the senate passed a considerable number of bills from the general calendar, among the number being one authorizing the construction of eight new revenue cutters not exceeding in aggregate cost the sum of $1,025,000.

THE PROPOSED FLYING SQUADRON AND ITS COMMANDER.

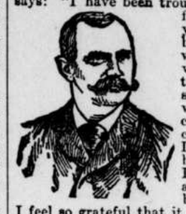
The proposed flying squadron which in case of necessity, will be used to harry the Spaniards on land and sea, will be made up of the Minneapolis, the Brooklyn, the Columbia, the St. Paul, the Paris and the St. Louis. This squadron would be used to follow the Spanish fleet and harry Spain's men-of-war. It would also be used to blockade Spanish ports and to destroy Spain's commerce. These ships would make a strong and efficient squadron, and at the same time, the fleetest afloat. The six ships named can outsteam anything on the water. The American line is now practically in the hands of the government, and its entire fleet will be used as an auxiliary of the navy. Commodore Winfield Scott Schley, who is mentioned as the probable commander of the squadron, is an old sailor who has seen some fighting. He has been in the navy ever since he was a lad, and since the war he has served in numerous important and responsible posts. The squadron as proposed above would be able to make a very hard fight against an enemy, even if that enemy were the heavier. President Griscom, of the American line, is in Washington, and a naval officer will be presently assigned to each of the four ships of the line.



COMPLETELY DISCOURAGED.

Are Thousands of People Who Have Chronic Catarrh.

As a result of our changeable climate catarrh has become one of the most prevalent and universal diseases known to man. Nearly one-third of the people of the United States are afflicted with catarrh in some of its many phases or stages. Add to this fact that catarrh rapidly tends to become fixed or chronic; also the further fact that it is capable of producing a great many other diseases, and we begin to realize the true nature of this dread disease. So formidable has catarrh become that in every city or town of any size numerous doctors are to be found who make the treatment of catarrh a specialty. Mr. Ralph W. Chulip, La Porte, Ind., in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, says: "I have been troubled with catarrh for the past eight years. I was so bad I had to quit work, and was so weak and dizzy that I sometimes staggered when I walked. I was completely discouraged. After I had taken two bottles of Pe-ru-na I began work again and have not felt better in ten years. I feel so grateful that it seems as though I could never stop talking in praise of the medicine."



On application to The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio, a free book on catarrh will be sent to any address.

SHE REMOVED HER BONNET.

Unused to City Ways, But She Appreciated the Humor.

It was during one of the most severe snowstorms which Chicago has experienced this winter, and the umbrella which a little bit of a woman was carrying in front of her face, standard-bearer fashion, came into clinging contact with the smart bonnet which was balanced on the head of the comely Irishwoman who was making her way, burdened with a heavy valise, in the opposite direction.

"Tourist! In town for the day only!" might have been posted upon her, so unmistakably did she belong to this class of visitors; a second glance betrayed the fact that she was undoubtedly crossing the city from one depot to another.

When the umbrella caught in her bonnet, which was anchored to position by its velvet strings alone, the bonnet was worsted in the struggle. The little woman sailed on victoriously, hardly stopping for the conventional word of apology, and the out-of-town woman was left lamenting, her bonnet hanging around her neck by the strings and the thickly falling snow powdering her glossy black hair. But not for long did she lament.

"Sure," she said, merrily, as she lowered her great satchel to a convenient doorstep and prepared to right her ill-treated headgear again, "Oi've been hearing for some toime that they made ther women take off their bunnits in public places in Chicago but Oi niver supposed they did it fer them in ther sthreets."

She Wanted All the Days.

There is always a bountiful crop of stories concerning the doings of congressional women, new congressional women, at this season of the year. Most of the tales are apochryphal, but this one is perfectly true, for the stationer himself told me about it. The woman is the wife of a member from somewhere in the west, and she had never been in Washington till a fortnight ago. She went to a stationer's to order visiting cards.

"What day do you wish engraved on them?" asked the clerk.

"Oh," answered Mrs. Congressman, "I've got to have several days. I can't make all my calls in one day. Engrave me some cards for Monday calls, and some for Tuesday, and—well, it's going to be expensive, but I guess I've got to do it. Make me some for every day in the week except Sunday."—Washington Post.

A Grecian Gag.

Virgil occasionally indulged in humor at the expense of his freind, Maecenas. He made at one time a pilgrimage to the oracle at Delphi, and on his return said to Maecenas:

"I was awfully bored while I was away."

"So?" said Maecenas, "and what was it that bored you, amicus mens?"

"The augurs, of course," was Virgil's quick response.

This incident goes far to prove the inventive genius of the Greeks and Romans, since even at that early date augurs and gimlets had come into use.—Detroit Free Press.

Innocent Children Sacrificed.

The "slaughter of the innocents" continues, until it is estimated that fully one-fourth of the human race die before attaining their fifth birthday, owing in great measure to our rigorous and changeable climate. And there are thousands of adults, even in this land of plenty, that stomach, liver and bowel complaints are reducing to confirmed invalidism, whom Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would promptly relieve and invigorate. Malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble yield to the Bitters.

Ostentation.

First Klondiker—What ostentation!

Second Klondiker—Particularly that solitaire suspender button!—Detroit Journal.

In buying print goods it is always well to remember that Simpson's are the best made. For variety and beauty of design they surpass all others and they retain all their original brightness no matter how often they are washed. The name Wm. Simpson & Sons on the ticket is a guarantee of the highest standard of quality, color and finish, whether in calico or fine prints. When buying always ask for Simpson's goods.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

TRADE-MARK.

BAKER'S CHOCOLATE

Celebrated for more than a century as a delicious, nutritious, and flesh-forming beverage. Has our well-known

YELLOW LABEL

on the front of every package, and our trade-mark

"La Belle Chocolatiere"

on the back.

NONE OTHER GENUINE.

Made only by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.
DORCHESTER, MASS.
ESTABLISHED 1780.

Dr. P. Harold Hayes, of Buffalo, N. Y., announces that Asthma can be cured so that it stays cured, and says: "If a patient is loyal to the conditions of a cure, then there is no uncertainty as to the result. In all the world there is not an Asthmatic, free from Heart Disease, Bright's Disease, Tubercles in the Lungs, or other organic complications, who cannot be cured of Asthma and to stay cured." Dr. Hayes has now treated more than forty thousand cases of Asthma and Hay-Fever, and sends to all applicants such testimony and proofs as cannot be gainsaid or doubted. Among his patients are many who have not had a particle of Asthma for more than ten years and some of them have now stayed cured for nearly twenty years. No charge is made for consultation by mail and all sufferers are invited to write about their own cases.

A Sharp Answer.

Mose—Ef I sho'd escort anuddah lady to de ball nex' week would yo' feel much cut up?

Clarina—Nopey; yo' would.—Judge.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

HE BROUGHT IT FROM THE WORLD'S FAIR.

And kept it two years.

How he lost it at last.

The great World's Fair, at Chicago, in 1893, while it gave pleasure to many, gave pain to not a few as an indirect result of their visit to the White City. People were lured along the miles of wonderful exhibits by the new marvels that met the gaze at every step, and did not realize their exhaustion until they dropped into a chair in some breezy corner by the lake, and "cooled off." That's what began the trouble, in many cases. Of one such case, Mrs. L. W. Stevens, Fort Fairfield, Me., writes:

"My husband took a severe cold and cough two years ago last October—time of the World's Fair, which we attended. This cough lasted over two years, was accompanied by spitting of blood, and nothing could be found to help him, although various remedies were tried. Several doctors were consulted, but their prescriptions afforded no relief. Finally, I saw an advertisement of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my paper and prevailed upon my husband to get a bottle and try it. The very first dose helped him and he was completely cured in a short time. We feel very grateful for what Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has done for us, and shall keep it constantly on hand in the house."—Mrs. L. W. STEVENS, Fort Fairfield, Me.

Two years of doctoring for a cough, two years of "remedies" that gave no help, of prescriptions that profited only the men who wrote them, and then a trial of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which helped from the very first dose and effected a complete cure in a short time. The difference between Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and all other cough medicines could not be better stated than in this comparison of results. It has cured the most stubborn and obstinate cases of chronic bronchitis and asthma. It is a specific for croup and whooping cough. It cures all coughs and colds and all affections of the throat and lungs promptly and effectively. In response to numerous demands Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is put up in half size bottles—sold at half price—50 cents. More about cures effected by Pectoral in Dr. Ayer's Curebook. Sent free, on request, by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

RHEUMATISM

Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

FREE! WANTED—All persons looking for a home to join one of the fifteen successful colonies and settlements now forming along the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad in Minnesota. Cheap lands, good soil, pure water, clear streams, beautiful lakes, a healthful climate, freedom from drought and malaria, excellent markets. The King of all countries for the DAIRY BUSINESS and Diversified Farming. Maps and Circulars free. Address HOPEWELL CLARKE, Land Commissioner, 993 Globe Building, St. Paul, Minn.

$15 A WEEK and expenses for honest, active man or woman, as special representative in their vicinity. Responsible House; experience unnecessary. KELLER & KIRKPATRICK, Philadelphia, Pa.

FAT How to Reduce It. Full Diet. Elegant treatment by "The Doctor." Send 8c. stamp for Manual. THEO. WING, Plainfield, Conn.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habit cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

7,000,000 ACRES—Farms, Timber, Mineral, Colony lands; South: cheap, easy terms. FREE CATALOGUE. W. H. CRAWFORD & CO., Nashville, Tenn.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

FIRE GRENADE AGENT FOOLED.

The Proprietor of the Hotel Lost a Good Customer.

The proprietor of a suburban hotel has a son whose sense of humor seems likely to result in the destruction of the business of the house. Recently one of the guests was the traveling representative of a fire grenade manufacturing house. The grenades are green glass bottles filled with a compound that is said to smother fire. They are hurled into the center of the blaze, and, bursting with the force of the impact render an engine and a line of hose unnecessary.

The fire grenade agent remained several days at the hotel and advertised that before his departure he would give a grand exhibition of the efficiency of the green glass bottles. Early in the evening when the exhibition was advertised to take place a large and curious crowd gathered in front of the hotel. The agent caused a fire to be built in the street, boxes and barrels being piled many feet high. After seeing that the fire was roaring merrily the agent made his appearance bearing an armful of fire grenades. He hurled the bottles one after another into the blazing pile, but instead of smothering the flames the grenades seemed to have the opposite effect. The fire blazed up nearly twice its former height, and the surrounding buildings began to shed their paint, while the crowd drew back from the fierce heat.

The agent was the most astonished man in the group until he learned that the son of the hotel proprietor had extracted the grenades from the sample case, poured out the contents and then filled them with gasoline. The crowd soon found out that the grenades had been "doctored," and yells of derision nearly drowned the protests of the agent as he attempted to persuade the hotel proprietor that the house should pay the costs of the indulgence of the small boy's humor.—Chicago Times-Herald.

WOMAN'S FATE.

From the Record, Bushnell, Ill.

No woman is better able to speak to others regarding "woman's fate" than Mrs. Jacob Weaver, of Bushnell, Ill., wife of ex-City Marshal Weaver. She had entirely recovered from the illness which kept her bedfast much of the time for five or six years past, and says her recovery is due to that well-known remedy Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Weaver is fifty-six years old, and has lived in Bushnell nearly thirty years. She is of unquestioned veracity and unblemished reputation. The story of her recovery is interesting. She says:

"I suffered for five or six years with the trouble that comes to women at this time of my life. I was much weakened, was unable much of the time to do my own work, and suffered beyond my power to describe. I was downhearted and melancholy.

"I took many different medicines, in fact I took medicine all the time, but nothing seemed to do me any good.

"I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and some of my friends recommended them highly. I made up my mind to try them. I bought the first box in March, 1897, and was benefited from the start.

Bought the first box.

"A box and a half cured me completely, and I am now rugged and strong. I have not been bothered with my troubles since I began taking the pills.

"I have recommended the pills to many women who are suffering as I suffered. They are the only thing that helped me in the trial that comes to so many women at my age." MRS. J. H. WEAVER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 23d day of October, A. D. 1897.

O. C. HICKS, Notary Public.

When woman is passing beyond the age of motherhood, it is a crisis in her life. Then, if ever, proper attention to hygiene should be exercised. The attendant sufferings will disappear and buoyant health will follow if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are used.

These pills exert a powerful influence in restoring the system to its proper condition. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood.

Bad Investment.

Mrs. Holden—John, we'll never be able to save a cent if you don't quit being so extravagant.

Mr. Holden—Why, my dear, I'm not at all extravagant.

"Yes, you are. There's that accident policy you bought nearly a year ago, and you haven't used it once; if that isn't extravagance I don't know what it is."—Chicago Evening News.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Cure.

Author—I am troubled with insomnia. I lie awake at night hour after hour thinking of my literary work.

Friend—How very foolish of you! Why don't you get up and read portions of it?—Boston Traveler.

The Land of Christ.

Under this title, the Passenger Department of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern Railroad has issued a splendid series of views made by the half-tone process from photographs taken in the Holy Land. The subjects embrace people, scenery and cities, as they exist today in that famous country. The work is published in sixteen parts, each containing from twelve to fifteen views. Each picture is fully explained by descriptive reading matter. A sample part will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in postage, and the complete set will be forwarded, postpaid, on receipt of ninety-five cents. Postage stamps will not be received for the full set, but remittance must be made to the undersigned by draft, postal order, express money order, or registered letter. This is a rare chance to secure more than two hundred views of the Land of Christ for less than one dollar. Address Geo. P. Lyman, G. P. A., C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Useless.

Uncle—It's been a very hard year, and I've had to contract a lot of debts!

Nephew—Why, that's too bad, uncle, for I had a lot of ready-made debts that I could have turned over to you! — Humoristiche Blaetter.

All Things as Advertised.

By competing lines show a progressive spirit, but some of the things that are alleged to be new have been in constant daily use for years past on the Steam-heated, Electric-lighted (with berth reading-lamp), Vestibuled trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway between St. Paul and Minneapolis and Chicago, as thousands upon thousands of its patrons will cheerfully testify. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway always maintains its supremacy with the traveling public by always being the first to utilize every mechanical device and improvement which can be of any value to those who ride on its magnificently equipped trains.

The Young Idea.

"Mamma, I guess I know why Mr. Buns by sits in the front row at the theater."

"Why, my dear?"

"So everybody can see that he's got a little hair left behind."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

No "All Canadian Route."

President Wallace, of the Chilkoot Railroad & Transport Co., operating a tramway from Dyea to Lake Lindeman, has just closed a contract with the Canadian authorities to carry over 100 tons for the mounted police at Dawson City. He says the Dominion officials informed him further orders for handling goods would be given him later. This would indicate that the Canadian government does not know of any "all Canadian route."

MANY PATENTS ISSUED.

The Annual Report of the Commissioner Shows a Great Increase in Inventions.

Washington, March 15.—The report of the commissioner of patents for the calendar year 1897 was laid before congress Monday. It is dated January 31 and was prepared by Assistant Commissioner A. P. Greely, who was acting commissioner for several months preceding the death of the late Commissioner Butterworth. An abstract of the report follows:

In 1897 there were received 45,661 applications for patents, and, in addition, a large number of applications for designs, trade marks, etc. Patents granted amounted in number to 23,729, including designs; 65 patents were reissued, 1,661 trade marks registered and 14 labels and 16 prints. The number of patents that expired was 12,926. The total expenditures were $1,122,843, the receipts over expenditures, $252,798. The total balance to the credit of the patent office in the treasury of the United States January 1, 1898, was 4,791,438.

The influence of patented inventions is most strikingly shown in the creation of new industries of enormous magnitude since 1880—this is, within the term of patents now in force, but very recently expired. Of these new industries, the most noted are those connected with the development of agricultural inventions. The manufacture of electrical apparatus and supplies began to be of importance shortly before 1880, and in that year 76 establishments, employing 1,721 persons, and producing an output valued at $2,655,036, were in existence. In 1890 the number of establishments had increased to 189, employing 9,489 persons, and producing an output valued at $19,114,714. In the electric light and power industry, as reported in 1890, there were but three establishments in the United States, employing 229 persons and producing an output valued at $845,400. At the close of 1894 there were in the United States 2,124 central stations supplying electricity for light and power, and 7,475 isolated plants, a total of 9,599 establishments. The capital invested in these central stations is stated to have been $258,056,265, and the capital invested in the isolated plants, though not stated, was probably not below $200,000,000. A conservative estimate of the number of persons employed at that time in this industry would not be under 45,000.

The use of electricity for power purposes has found most noted development in the electric railway. The first electric street railway in the United States was put in operation little more than ten years ago. In 1890 of the 2,500 road miles of street railway in the United States nearly all used animal power. The total mileage of electric railways in the United States up to October, 1897, was 13,765 miles, out of a total mileage of 15,718, of which but 947 miles were horse car lines. The total capital invested was $846,131,691.

The great development of the bicycle industry has come since 1890, as a result of the inventions in pneumatic tires made about that time. In 1890 there were reported as engaged in the manufacture of bicycles 27 establishments. In 1895 more than 200 establishments were engaged in the manufacture of cycles and the output of wheels for that year is stated to have not been less than 800,000. The production 1897 was over 1,000,000 wheels. In 1880 a large proportion of the cycles used were imported mainly from England. In 1897 the exports of cycles and parts of cycles to England amounted to a value of $2,138,491, and the total exports amounted to a value of $6,902,736.

SETTLED AT LAST.

Agreement Reached in the Alaskan Boundary Dispute Favorable to United States.

New York, March 11.—A dispatch to the press from Ottawa says: Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, has informed the Canadian ministry officially that he has arranged a convention with the United States whereby the Alaskan boundary dispute has been settled. Under the terms of the convention the British government has conceded the claim of the United States that the three marine leagues should be measured from the shore of the mainland, and should proceed along the shores of the inlets, which are thus recognized as arms of the ocean, and not as rivers.

The contention of the British and of the Canadian governments was that the three-league limit should begin on the ocean side of the island and the delimitating line should be run across the inlets, and not follow their shores. These inlets are numerous and extend into the mainland a great distance, and the decision, therefore, is of much importance to the United States. The United States has agreed to the British retaining the boundary on the limit of the Chilkat pass and the White pass, because in the Russo-British agreement of 1825 the line of demarkation was fixed as one running along the tops of the mountains.

No Defense Fund.

Columbus, O., March 15.—The proposition for the establishment of a defense fund for the United Mine Workers of America has been lost by a vote of the members of the organization. Some time ago a special committee submitted a plan for a defense fund and it was then sent out in circular form for a vote of the members. The ballots have now been received and tabulated by National Secretary Pearce with the following result:

	For.	Against.
Pennsylvania	311	1,656
Ohio	2,455	3,971
Indiana	1,767	1,692
Illinois	2,278	2,345
West Virginia	444	178
Kentucky	144	241
Alabama	126	2
Missouri	28	.....
Wyoming	.....	126
Totals	7,533	10,214

Spain Shows Alarm.

Madrid, March 11. — Political and financial circles here now fully realize that Spain is facing a grave problem. In view of the attitude of the United States, it is understood the Spanish government has completely changed its policy toward Cuba, and is now courting the cooperation of the Cuban constitutional party, urging the maintenance of the volunteers, and the pushing of the campaign against the insurgents, thus giving the military policy predominance over diplomacy. This change is due to the fear that if the radical autonomists insisted upon the disarmament of the volunteers or incited the constitutionalists to disaffection a conflict would supervene, "affording the United States an opportunity for an armed intervention."

Fern Reaches Matanzas.

Washington, March 14. — Word has been received by the secretary of the navy that the lighthouse tender Fern has arrived at Matanzas with relief supplies. She discharged her cargo in a few hours and started at once for Sagua la Grande. The supplies left in Matanzas consist of flour, cornmeal, potatoes, smoked meats and clothing. More than this, nearly a ton of quinine was landed. This will be freely distributed among those in need of it, but great precautions will be taken to see that it does not reach the insurgents.

A FAST RECORD.

The Government Reindeer Sent Across the Continent in Six Days.

St. Paul, Minn., March 8.—Six days, including all stops, is the record of the two trains carrying the reindeer belonging to the government's Alaskan relief expedition in their flying journey across the continent. Last Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock the first train pulled out of the Pennsylvania railroad depot at Jersey City, followed fifteen minutes later by the second one, and both arrived in Chicago, 912 miles, within a few minutes of each other.

The Milwaukee road delivered them to the Great Northern in this city, 410 miles, running as sections of Chicago and St. Paul passenger train No. 5. After a stop of several hours at the Minnesota Transfer, Great Northern engines were attached and the journey was resumed to the Seattle steamer docks at 5:30 o'clock last night, 1817 miles, in about eighty hours, the two trains arriving within eleven minutes of each other. The total run was 3,139 miles, and the actual running time 129 hours, or nearly 25 miles an hour, making it the record breaking feat for freight trains from ocean to ocean. There was no hitch or mishap from start to finish, and the government officials in charge of the expedition expressed themselves well pleased at the successful carrying out of the plans of the war department, and said no mistake had been made in the selection of routes. Other lines made lower bids.

There were 38 cars in the outfit, divided into two sections of 19 cars each, 28 containing the deer, dehorned, otherwise they would have filled a hundred cars. The people, 113 in number, Lapps, Finns and Norwegians, with their belongings, including 3 cars of moss for the deer, filled 10 cars. The crowd started 32 days ago from Arctic Lapland, and still have a long trip ahead.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS.

Killed by Gasoline.

Mrs. Ida Peterson, Aubrey C. Peterson, aged 20 months, and Mada Baehr, 14 years old, were burned to death in Minneapolis by a gasoline explosion. Mrs. Peterson attempted to fill the tank of a gasoline stove before the flames had been extinguished.

Without warning, there was a deafening report, a blinding flash, and the room was filled with smoke and flames. Mrs. Peterson's clothes were covered with burning gasoline. In frantic agony she rushed to the front room, where she met her sister. The latter tried to beat out the flames, but in so doing her own clothes ignited. Still they both attempted to extinguish the flames, but without success. Further than this they could do nothing.

A Peculiar Suicide.

Chris Bristie, a farmer, committed suicide at Chaska. He had been summoned as a juryman and was among those called to sit on a case. During the preliminary examination of the jurors, one of the lawyers became facetious and poked fun at Bristie. He was finally excused, with several others, and left the court room. As he went out he remarked to one of the others that if he didn't know enough to be a juror he didn't know enough to live. Then he went to a hardware store, where he purchased a revolver, went across the river and shot himself through the head. He was unmarried.

Large Purses.

At the annual meeting of the Minnesota State Agricultural society it was decided to offer a combined purse of $20,000 for horse racing at the next fair. This is the largest amount yet offered in the west, the most heretofore hung up being $7,600. After it had been difinitely ascertained that Minneapolis and St. Paul would each give $5,000 for trotting events, the association was not slow to double the amount.

The Bodies Found.

The bodies of Jacob H. Amos and Henry Bergenkrieger, the cigarmakers who jumped 200 feet to death from the high bridge at St. Paul on Oct. 30, 1897, were found floating in the river at Pig's Eye, by Gust Larson, 15 years of age. He was playing on the ice and saw a body floating in the water, face downward. He dragged it to the shore. The body was identified as that of Amos by his name on the collar.

A Heavy Fine.

One of the largest fines ever imposed in the history of the game law enforcement in the northwest was levied in Duluth against a man named Kingston, a prominent commission man of Tower, St. Louis county. He was caught with 803 partridges in his possession, and the state compromised with him on a basis of 100 birds, making the fine $1,000, which, with the costs, made the grand total $1,109.90.

Woman Held Up.

Miss Lou Diller, in the employ of H. H. Flowers, hardware merchant at Cleveland, was held up and robbed of $87. She had closed up the store, and put the money in a sack to carry across the street to the residence of her employer, when a man jumped from behind the building and grabbed it and ran away. A man named Sam Davis has been arrested for the crime.

Additional Commissioners.

Gov. Clough has appointed as additional members of the Minnesota commission to prepare an exhibition for the Omaha Trans-Mississippi exposition W. H. Garlock and C. M. Youmans, of Winona, and George T. Barr, of Mankato.

News in Brief.

Ole Rasmussen fell under a Great Northern train at Crookston and had his leg cut off.

Plans have just about reached a point when it can be said definitely that St. Paul will be included in the national racing circuit of the L. A. W.

Gov. Clough has appointed Samuel A. Nelson upon his staff, giving the appointee the rank of major. Mr. Nelson is from Lanesboro.

Mary Risk, 14 years old, was drowned at St. Paul. She was gathering chips from the ice, which gave way and precipitated her into the river.

The postoffice at Newport was destroyed by fire.

Tie contractors for the Fosston extension are finding it difficult to deliver the goods owing to the scarcity of snow, and 5,000 ties have yet been hauled to the right of way.

The late investigation of the state prison cost the state $2,254.75.

The general store of C. A. Rohrer at New Rome was burned to the ground.

It is expected that the Crookston saw mill will cut forty million feet of logs this year.

The Exchange Grain company's elevator at Brownton was burned.

DESTRUCTIVE FUNGUS.

How to Treat Brown-Rot on Plums with Considerable Effect.

It is scarcely necessary to repeat the general remarks on treatment for fungus diseases published in several previous bulletins. But concerning brown-rot (Monilia fructigena) we may say that only the most persistent effort can hold this fungus in check. As all growers have observed, the decayed fruits hang to the twigs and persist over winter. It is from these in the early days of spring that an abundant crop of spores are borne, and the petals of the flowers, young leaves, and even many branches, are attacked. These mummied fruits also hang on all summer and continue to produce spores. Hence, by the time the fruits become half-grown or begin to mature, the infecting spores may come from the old decayed fruits of the previous year or from more recent infection on the young growth of the current year. Whenever the fruit has become badly attacked treatment is quite useless.

The proper plan is to remove all decayed fruit from the orchard when the trees are free from foliage, as it can be easily seen at this time; then, before the buds swell in the spring, wash the trees thoroughly with a solution of concentrated lye or of sulphate of copper. The first solution should be made by dissolving eight cans of lye in 50 gallons of water, and the copper sulphate (bluestone) in 50 gallons of water. I consider the lye preferable, but the latter may be somewhat pleasanter to handle. This washing is very important and perhaps does as much real good as all later work.

The later washings should be given as follows: Weak Bordeaux just as color shows plainly in the bloom-buds, and repeated soon as bloom has fallen. If the work is well done to this point very little infection will have survived. Concerning value of later sprayings I much in doubt. If the early washing is not well done, I have almost no faith in later treatment.

All washing or treatment of orchards should be done with a spray-pump. Poor, half work is usually a dead loss. —William B. Alwood, in Bulletin Virginia Experiment Station.

BEST SOIL FOR PEARS.

Grow Nicely on Clayey Ground and on a Hillside.

Clay soil is considered best for pear culture, and still it should not be too tenacious and sticky. A pear orchard will not thrive so well, says Green's Fruit Grower, on any soil that has not a clay subsoil. Next to a friable clay loam, a gravel loam is most desirable. A light, sandy soil is the least desirable of any, and yet pears can be grown on sandy soil. Standard pears can be planted 20 to 30 feet apart, according to circumstances and habits of growth. If planted 30 feet apart, dwarf pears can be planted between the rows each way. I prefer a standard pear for general orchard culture, for the reason that they require less fertility and cultivation, and for the further reason that they are longer lived and make larger and more permanent trees. When the question came up for a vote, however, before the Western New York Horticultural society, we found that the dwarf pear was the favorite for orchard planting or for garden. Dwarf pears have the advantage of coming into earlier bearing. The dwarf pear is not short lived. It requires more pruning and more attention than the standard pear. Many varieties do better on the dwarf pear than on the standard. I should not locate a pear orchard or any other orchard in a low piece of ground. I should locate on a hillside. The pear is easily transplanted. I transplant several thousand every spring, and they do not lose on an average one out of one hundred trees. Pear trees come into bearing earlier than the apple.

RASPBERRY VINES.

How to Keep Them from Sprawling All Over the Lot.

My way is to firmly drive four-foot stakes one rod apart and nail to each, 30 inches above the ground, a short piece of plank two feet in length and saw a notch close to each end of the upper edge. In these notches firmly stretch No. 16 wires and brace back the end posts. The accompanying illustration makes perfectly clear this simple and effective way of doing the work. The advantages of keeping raspberry and blackberry vines from sprawling all over the lot will be best appreciated by those who have tried this method.—Farm and Home.

TRAINING RASPBERRY VINES.

How to Test Paris Green.

Paris green is generally favored as an arsenical poison by entomologists in preference to London purple, because it is of more even composition and easily tested. Pure Paris green when dropped into common ammonia will entirely dissolve, leaving a clear, dark blue liquid, not green, like the color of the powder. If any sediment remains, this is some form of adulteration, and therefore represents an impurity. Chrome-green, which might be used to adulterate Paris green, will give the liquid a dirty green color, and will deposit a bright yellow sediment in the bottom of the vial. London purple is just as effective, provided it is of good quality, but its quality can only be determined by a chemical analysis.—Farm and Fireside.

Benefits of Good Roads.

The financial benefits of good roads are numerous and pretty well understood by those who have given the subject careful thought, but the questions of increased convenience and greater values must not be considered of any more importance than the civilizing effect that passable highways would bring to the community at large. Men are gregarious by nature, and the freer the intercourse between all parts of a country, the greater will be its development, commercially, intellectually and morally.—Outlook.

America's Greatest Medicine

The following is a characteristic Hood's Sarsaparilla testimonial. Facts like these have made Hood's Sarsaparilla America's Greatest Medicine and endeared it to thousands of homes scattered all over this broad land.

"We like to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for us. Our four children had diphtheria. From the very first our little boy Ralph, then seven years old, was very sick and for several days it seemed as if he would never be any better. After awhile he began to improve and in a few weeks was able to go out, although weak and miserable. Then, gradually gave out. The physicians told us it was paralysis, which sometimes follows an attack of diphtheria. We did everything for him, but he grew worse until he was in a pitiful condition. He suffered terribly at night and complained continually of his head, and in what little sleep he was able to get, moaned unceasingly. He lost all control of the muscles of his body and limbs. He had no appetite and complained of feeling sick at his stomach all the time. After we had tried many different remedies and had about given up all hope we commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In a short time he ceased to complain, his appetite improved and at the end of three months he was able to attend school a part of the time. Now he is well and quite a strong and rugged boy. You are at liberty to use this testimonial if you desire, as we feel we cannot say too much in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier and building up medicine." MRS. R. E. ANDERSON, Cumberland, Maine.

All Strength in His Limbs

Economy is also a characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every bottle contains 100 Doses, and hence there is a solid fact concisely stated in the familiar line, 100 Doses One Dollar.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine because it accomplishes wonderful cures when all other medicines fail. Sold by all druggists. $1, six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

$400 For New Names!

The Salzer Seed Co. want suitable names for their 17-inch long corn and White Oat prodigy. You can win this $400 easily. Catalogue tells all about it. Seed potatoes only $1.50 a barrel. $500 in prizes!

SEND THIS NOTICE AND 10 CTS. IN STAMPS to John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and get free their great seed catalogue and 11 new farm seeds, including above corn and oats, positively worth $10, to get a start. K 7

Harmless Pride.

There is no particular harm in an American boasting of his family tree as long as there is nothing shady about it.—Philadelphia Times.

We have not been without Piso's Cure for Consumption for 20 years.—Lizzie Ferrel, Camp St., Harrisburg, Pa., May 4, '94.

Very little fever is required to cause a sick man to say he is "burning up" with it. —Atchison Globe.

Hot and itchy—as a frost-bite. Cooled and Soothed—as a cure by St. Jacobs Oil.

A boy never smells anything baking without at once getting hungry.

In Winter Sciatica is worse. Any time St. Jacobs oil is the best cure.

A mother's praise of her children never interests any other woman.—Chicago News.

It is never too cold to cure Neuralgia With St. Jacobs Oil. Sure Cure.

Burnett's "Cocoaine" kills dandruff and promotes the vigorous and healthy growth of the hair. Send your address to Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., for their pamphlet on "The Hair, Its Care and Management."

Hicks—"I felt so queer last night after I went to bed. My head was spinning around awfully." Wicks—"You probably slept 'like a top.'"—Boston Transcript.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

The upper ten is composed of the winning nine and the umpire.—Chicago News.

Cold weather aggravates rheumatic pains But St. Jacobs Oil cures—any time.

One advantage about onions, they can't spoil.—Washington Democrat.

Rupture. Sure cure. Book free. Write for it to S. J. Sherman, Specialist, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Self-love is not so great a sin as self-forgetting.—N. Y. Weekly.

Never trifle with pain. It may fool you. St. Jacobs Oil never fools; it cures.

Swallow your trouble and bolt it down.—Rural New Yorker.

Isn't a scald a burn? Yes; and St. Jacobs Oil is a cure.

WORKING WOMEN WHO SUFFER.

Should Get Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—The Whole Truth can be Told to her Because she is a Woman.

The suffering and pain endured by some working women is almost past belief. Here is a letter from one of the multitude of women who have been restored to health and usefulness by Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel as though your advice had lifted me from the grave. I must have been very near it. I suffered terribly at time of menstruation, was constantly troubled with cold hands and feet, was extremely nervous, could not sleep well, was troubled with frightened dreams, had heart trouble and a feeling as though my breath was going to stop, also had leucorrhœa. I tried to get help but all remedies failed, until I wrote to you. I cannot thank you enough for your kind advice, and I wish to tell every one the great good your remedies have done me.—TAMMA C. HOOVER, Wolfsville, Md.

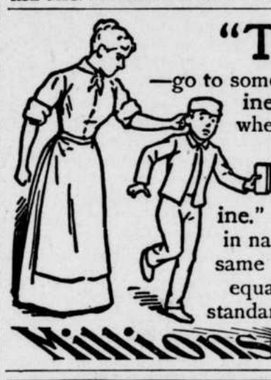
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a quarter of a century has been helping women to be strong and well.

The following statement from Miss H. PATTERSON, of 2531 Lawrence St., Philadelphia, Pa., should interest all working women who are troubled with female complaints:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I must write and tell what your medicine has done for me. I am a working girl and have to stay at my work all day. I suffered greatly with bearing-down pains and backache. I was advised by a friend to try your Vegetable Compound. I did so and can say positively I am cured. I have recommended your medicine to all my lady friends, and would advise any of my sex suffering from female weakness to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound a trial, for I know it will cure."

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women troubled about their health to write to her at Lynn, Mass., and secure her advice free of all charge. All such letters are seen and answered by women only.

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills



"Take it back

—go to some grocer who will give you Pearline." That's the only way to do when they send you an imitation. The popularity of Pearline begets the habit of calling anything that's washing-powder, "Pearline." Those who notice the difference in name, think perhaps "it's about the same thing." It isn't. Nothing else equals Pearline, the original and standard washing compound. 578

Millions NOW USE Pearline

CANDY CATHARTIC
Cascarets
CURE CONSTIPATION
REGULATE THE LIVER
10c 25c 50c
ALL DRUGGISTS
883.

"FOOL'S HASTE IS NAE SPEED."
DON'T HURRY THE WORK
UNLESS YOU USE
SAPOLIO

Excellence.
Five-Finger Exercise, No. 4.

In the purchase of an Organ the question of cost is modified by genuine musical qualities and durability. This is where the Estey Organ excels. If you buy one, it is for a lifetime, and a joy forever.

Our five-pointed discourse complete with catalogue sent free.

Estey Organ Co.,
Brattleboro, Vt.

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

Is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 35c; large, 65c. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND SLICKER
WILL KEEP YOU DRY.

Don't be fooled with a mackintosh or rubber coat. If you want a coat that will keep you dry in the hardest storm buy the Fish Brand Slicker. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

Excursions

To the FREE GRANT LANDS of WESTERN CANADA, where twenty-five and thirty bushels of wheat are grown to the acre, will be personally conducted by a Canadian Government representative on . . . .

March 23rd and 30th, and 6th April,

leaving St. Paul on these dates. For particulars as to specially low passenger and freight rates, apply to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 134 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

FOR 14 CENTS

We wish to gain 150,000 new customers, and hence offer

1 Pkg. 13 Day Radish,	10c
1 Pkg. Early Spring Turnip,	10c
1 " Earliest Red Beet,	10c
1 " Bismarck Cucumber,	10c
1 " Queen Victoria Lettuce,	15c
1 " Klondyke Melon,	15c
1 " Jumbo Giant Onion,	15c
5 " Brilliant Flower Seeds,	15c

Worth $1.00, for 14 cents.

Above 10 pkgs. worth $1.00, we will mail you free, together with our great Plant and Seed Catalogue upon receipt of this notice and 14c. postage. We invite your trade and know when you once try Salzer's seeds you will never get along without them. Potatoes at $1.50 a Bbl. Catalog alone 5c. No. 8 I

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE

SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

A STARTER.
5 PACKETS OF SWEET PEAS
5 CENTS.

All choice named varieties, each kind in separate packet of over 50 SEEDS EACH, mailed for 5 cents. Catalogue of bargains in Seeds and Plants, free. OLIVER H. DREW, Hibernia, N. Y.

SEND FOR A BICYCLE

High Grade '98 Models, $14 to $40.
GREAT CLEARING SALE of '97 and '98 models, best makes, $9.75 to $18. Sent on approval without a cent payment. Free use of wheel to our agents. Write for our new plan "How to Earn a Bicycle" and make money. SPECIAL THIS WEEK—40 high grade '97 models (slightly shopworn), $10.75 each. "Wanderings Awheel," a souvenir book of art, FREE for stamp while they last.

J. W. MEAD CYCLE CO., CHICAGO.

SEEDS Garden and Flower with a world-wide reputation. Catalog free to all.
JAMES J. H. GREGORY & SON, Marblehead, Mass.

A. N. K.—G 1700

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

25 CTS PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, MAR. 18, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

--Seeding has begun in earnest and farmers are endeavoring to keep up with the season.

—Hi Dyer was the first man in town to sing "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning" that we heard. He was at it early.

--We understand that William Dunn has sold his lots on Third street South to John Neisland, who is to build a residence on them soon.

—Neighbor Buckley intends resuming control of the editorial columns of the Eagle about May 1. Editor Wharton is to run the Willmar Argus.

—If you need trees, or other Nursery stock, read Charles Sell's add. Call on him and buy. He is an experienced nurseryman and will give you a good deal.

—Robin red breasts have arrived and spring surely must be coming soon. People who want early gardens and are prepared to protect them from late frosts can now begin to plant.

—The March wind on Monday night, got ahead of the new village council, by removing the covering from the "Mayor's monument" on R. R. Ave.

LATER. It has been put back on again.

--The Town of Franklin board of Supervisors held a meeting yesterday and passed a set of resolutions concerning diphtheria several cases of which have made their appearance in the west part of town. Read the resolutions in another column.

—Village people often criticise farmers for leaving reapers, rakes, and other costly machinery in the field, unhoused all winter. Before Delano citizens do so any more they should manage to get their valuable road grader and several other articles under cover.

--John Bukoski has rented his farm to Ole Nelson for three years. He reserves the house for himself to live in while his boy and girl will live with relatives in LeSueur county and attend school. John expects to repair and paint his residence and fix up his farm generally.

—Back yards, alleys, vacant lots, and other places where slops have been emptied, also cellars, should be cleaned up as soon as possible. Spring threatens to come early. Already the ground has thoughed out and the filth percolates with the water into wells and may create an epidemic of typhoid fever, diphtheria, or other contagious to infectious diseases.

—Rev. J. S. McCornack, of Howard Lake, who has been taking a rest after a short spell of severe sickness, filled his Tuesday evening appointment here, with his old time fire. He took for his text, Isaiah 6, 8 and Mark 1, 17. He had a fair sized audience, considering, but there was room for more. It would do many people good to attend preaching more regularly.

—The Delano creamery company have hired Mr. Syrup, a Dane, from Cokato, as butter maker. The Danes stand at the head for good butter, and the Delano farmers propose to keep right up with the procession. Fred Farber is to be assistant. Mr. Kaemmer, who has so satisfactorily run the creamery since it was started and his helper, Nels Sandburg, go to another creamery in the southern part of the state.

--Diphtheria has made its appearance in Franklin. Dr. Hawkins, of Montrose, having reported to the town Supervisors, two cases in the home of A. J. Hayes, near Fountain Lake. The Supervisors, in compliance with the law, quarantined the place on Wednesday. The very best preventative for an epidemic is a careful quarantine and thorough disinfection of the premises and exposed persons. The Supervisors will no doubt attend properly to this, as some of them have had experience in quarantining.

--The startling news that George Hoisington, of Independence, an old settler, living on a farm a couple of miles from Armstrong, had shot himself, Tuesday afternoon, reached town Wednesday morning. Mr. Hoisington was well and favorably known. His wife died a few years ago. His son Ben and wife lived with him. Financial affairs had been worrying him lately. He leaves two sons, the other one, Will, being a traveling man. He was a brother of Earl Hoisington who was a neighbor, but is now visiting in Washington.

—The prevention of cruelty to animals society would find quite a good deal to do if they would attend the Delano fair. Last Saturday a couple of men with a couple of small boys and a dog and a team of horses, started out of town in a plight to arouse the sympathies and indignation of most people. The rack on the wagon was filled with calves. About a score of cows were tied so closely as to be unable to walk upright. The cows pulled back and the horses had hard work to go through the mud. The men shouted and drove the cows up. On the other side of the track the outfit stopped and a number of the cows were turned loose, and things lightened up considerably.

There should be a more humane way of getting stock out of town than presented upon this occasion. If there is not, citizens of Delano will soon take the thing up and enforce the law on a few of those breaking it.

—A cigarette fiend, or a person who indulges too liberally in intoxicating liquors, or even at all, in this enlightened age is not a proper person to employ as a teacher in a public school. His educational ability is more than offset by his evil example.

—Oscar Brandser was seven years old Wednesday. After school he gave a birthday party to some of his young friends. They had music and lots of fun. His brother Joe says there was "bananas and taffy". Oscar says 'chocolate cake" and other good things. All wish Oscar many happy birthdays.

—It has been announced that Pro Hawker will attend the law school of Cornell, and his place in the Delano High School will be filled by another. Numerous applications have been filed. There seems to be plenty of good material, and it remains for our board to make a wise selection. Very much depends upon the principal in a High School. The board should take no backward step, but strive to keep the school on the advance. Five or ten dollars per month on a principal's salary may get good material where if the "penny wise and pound foolish" plan is pursued the school may deteriate until it will no longer be a High School. Some of the board favor a man teacher for the Grammar department. If the proper man can be had it might be all right.

--The Village Council met last Monday evening at their room. President Rader and trustee Johnson qualified and the old members were present. Several bonds were accepted, and committees and officers appointed. The president appointed as committee:

Light and water, Johnson, Maxfield.
City Hall, Borsch, Horsch.
Purchasing committee, Rader, Maxfield.
Streets and alleys, Horsch, Johnson.
Sidewalks, Rader, Borsch.
Appointed by the Board:
Night watch, Martin Nelson.
Street Commissioner, Darv. Welker.
Assessor, Valentine Eppel.
Fire Warden, Joe Merriman.
Member of Board of Health, Charles A. Bronkow.
Council adjourned to meet Monday, March 21.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Health of the Town of Franklin, Wright County, Minnesota, at their meeting held March 17th, 1898, at the Town Clerk's office resolved and passed the following rules and regulations for the prevention of contagious diseases in their Town, to wit:

1st. That it shall be the duty of every person in this town in whose family any sore throat trouble makes its appearance to at once report the same to the board of health of this town.

2nd. That, where there is a physician sent, by order of this board to examine into the cause of sickness of any person of this town, and such person refuses to allow such physician to examine the case, such person shall on conviction thereof, before any Justice of the Peace of this County, be fined not more than $100 nor less than $25 or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months.

3rd. All funerals of any deaths from contagious diseases shall be strictly private and between sundown and sunrise and within 24 hours after such death. Any person violating rules one and three of these regulations shall on conviction thereof before a Justice of the Peace of this county be fined not less than $5 nor more than $25 or imprisonment in the county jail not more than 20 days.

4th. Any person refusing an officer sent by this board to fumigate his premises shall, on conviction thereof be fined not more than $50 and not less than $5 or imprisonment in county jail nor more then 20 days.

All fines collected under these rules shall be applied in the same way as fines collected under Sec. 20 General Laws of 1883, Chap. 132.

JOHN O. TURNGREN, JOHN MARTH, GEO. SUTTON } Board of Health, Franklin Town.

Delano, Minn., March 17, 1898.

County Cullings.

The general merchants of this village have voluntarily decided to close their places of business on Sunday and every evening at 8 o'clock, except Saturdays.—Waverly Tribune.

The Swedish Babtist's Young People's Union, of Minnesota, met in Minneapolis last week. They decided to hold their next meeting in June, at Cokato, at which time a new church is to be dedicated there.

From the Waverly Tribune we learn that the Farmer's elevator of that place is to be a success; the members having met and elected officers and adopted articles of incorporation, constitution and by-laws.

Dr. C. B. Powell, of Hanover, is announced as the appointee of the Pension Board. He is to be, with Drs. Wakefield and Shannon, the Pension Board of Eexaminers at Buffalo. This place has long been vacant.

"Minnesota political matters and party leaders are in quite a muddle and there is no use denying the fact. Unless matters materially change for the better there will be such a defeat administered to the party this fall as will set the boys to thinking."—Eagle. Exactly.

Jefferson Day.

The Young Men's Democratic club of Minneapolis has issued a call for a state convention of Democratic clubs, to be held April 13 in Minneapolis. Democrats throughout the state are expected to organize and celebrate Jefferson's birth day. Delegates to the State meeting in Minneapolis are invited from organizations through the state. This is a move to organize Democratic forces and is in the right direction.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Personal.

Dr. Catlin made a visit to Minneapolis Sunday.

Mrs. Austin left for her home at St. Paul, Thursday evening.

Miss Sadie Van Eman, of Watertown, was a Delano visitor, Tuesday.

John Coolen Jr. came home from Smith Lake yesterday evening.

Mrs. John Walker and Miss Hattie Walker returned to Minneapolis Wednesday.

Peter Peterson spent a couple of days at Minneapolis the early part of the week.

J. H. Wendell and C. A. Pidgeon came over from Buffalo Friday, on professional business.

Rev. K. Zeyher came home from his work in the west part of the county, yesterday afternoon.

John H. McGary, of Hennepin County, dropped in Tuesday, to see how the political pot is boiling.

Tuesday morning's train carried Messrs. J. E. Borsch, A. L. Mealey and Al Kurtz to Minneapolis.

S. H. Wolf, of Faribault, visited Delano, Monday, to apply for the principalship of our High School.

T. S Kerr is in Minneapolis helping calk up some some boats. We haven't learned if they are to take Cuba or Hawaii.

Ed Freeman came home Tuesday morning from the "U" for a few days visit with his parents both of whom were sick.

Rev. J. R. Davies, of Hector, was in town a short time yesterday on his way home from near Mound City where he had been attending a funeral.

Dr. O. R. Fassett, of Rockford, who frequently visited Delano, has moved to Auburn, N. Y. No. 95 Franklin street, to which address the GAZETTE will now go.

Fred Haffner, of Moretown N. D., who has been stopping with his sister Mrs. L. P. Probst, and attending the Delano High School, returned home Tuesday evening.

James Murphy has returned home from Minneapolis.

C. M. Johnson and O. Roberts, of Rockford went this way to Minneapolis last evening. They said they had tickets to the hanging of Moshik.

Michael Jacobs, of Independence, was up to town yesterday laying in some blacksmith stock for spring trade.

A couple of Rockford's citizens went out of Delano Thursday afternoon furnishing a fine advertisement of what can be had so long as the money holds out, law or no law.

County Commissioner's Proceedings.

The full board met at Buffalo, in special session, March 9.

School petitions were heard and granted, Peter Franzen. Rejected, Nels Larson. Hearing set for April 12, John Holm; Ole Oleson et al; H. F. Moland; A. C. Davitt; James Mc Grath, Jr.

Surveyor, Guy A. Eaton reported receipts of office for year $654.75. Approved.

$300 was appropriated to town of Rockford for bridge across Crow river, at Rockford Station.

Henry Berning was authorized to protect piers on Wright county side of St. Michaels bridge.

$175 appropriated town of French Lake for stone culvert in Sec. 15.

Petitions for abatement of taxes, Herman Neiskins, Maple Lake, recommended; F. R. Brasie Monticello, rejected; Walter A. Wood Co., rejected; Simon Weldele and Casper Janikula, Delano, recommended; Gotlieb Schultz, Rockford, recommended; Gilbert and Patter, Buffalo, recommended; Annandale Creamery Association, recommended.

F. H. Brown was authorized to examine the plank to be furnished by Thomas Walker for Monticello bridge and see that they are according to contract.

It was resolved that the county will pay half for painting Crow river bridges between the two counties that may need painting.

Report of Dayton bridge work satisfactory. Accepted.

Claim of Frankman Bros. for repairing Dayton bridge laid over to next meeting.

A number of bills were allowed, the largest being Eagle Printing Co. goods books, etc. for Co., goods furnished $293 50. A. Hanaford, expense collecting taxes, postal cards and express, $233 35. Brown & Sproul, work at Albrecht's bridge, $217.

Board adjourned till April 12, in special session.

Nursery Stock.

If you wish for anything in the Nursery line call on me for prices. Trees, apples, plums, grapevines, currants, gooseberries, raspberries, flowers, anything in my line. Consult me at home near Delano, or write me at Delano, and I will surely please you. I sell the Hankins Bros. Rose Hill Nursery, Minnesota stock.

25. CHARLES SELL.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50. With Free Press Year Book $1.65.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and the Silver Knight Watchman, weekly, two papers for one year, for $1.65.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE,

Delano, Minn.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .89
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .86
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .83
Rye	" "	$ .39
Potatoes, per bu.,		.40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.08
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .07
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

DIED.

HOISINGTON.—In Independence, on Wednesday, March 16, George W. Hoisington, aged 68 years. He belonged to Gordon Granger Post, Maple Plain.

WILLIAM PAINTER, of Minnetrista township, Hennepin county, dropped dead yesterday. Deceased had been troubled with rhumatism. He was 60 years of age and leaves a family. He belonged to Gordon Granger G. A. R. post, Maple Plain.—Minneapolis Tribune.

FAIRBANKS.—In Friendship, Allegheny county N. Y., Mr. L. R. Fairbanks, age 70 years.

Deceased was an old resident of Watertown township and father of Rev. F. E. Fairbanks of Stewart, Minn.

DELANO FURNITURE CO.

GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING

PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING, REPAIRING AND GENERAL CARPENTERING, SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

MERCHANT TAILOR.

J. BRANDSER.

DELANO, MINN.

Spring Styles

Goods on Hand BIGGEST STOCK THAT EVER CAME To Wright County.

NOBBY SUITS, FIT GUARANTEED.

Call soon and get a choice of Patterns.

22 tf.

-Advertise- IN THE GAZETTE.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer

To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE and LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

GAZETTE. ONE YEAR $1.00

The Pioneer Press.

"OLDEST AND BEST"

With the SPECIAL CABLES OF THE NEW YORK HERALD

The Full Service of the ASSOCIATED PRESS and its PRIVATE N. Y. WIRES

PRINTS THE NEWS

12 to 24 Hours Ahead

of any Northwestern Newspaper.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman,

The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.

A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.

A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year. Send for sample; agents wanted.

Published weekly by the Silver Knight Publishing Co., WASHINGTON, D. C.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New. Abreast of the Times. A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged."

Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority.

Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the perfection of dictionaries. I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

Recommended by Every State Superintendent of Schools Now in Office.

A saving of three cents per day for a year will provide more than enough money to purchase a copy of the International. Can you afford to be without it?

Have your Bookseller show it to you.

G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE GAZETTE.

G. H. GREEN & CO., CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.

All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.

Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.

29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

FOR FINE JOB PRINTING,

IN THE LINE OF

Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line of Printing,

CALL AT THE Gazette Office.

D. W. FLANNIGAN, WAVERLY

Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexe furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County

D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine/although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc,—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely Illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

CHOICE GARDEN AND FLOWER SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, MARCH 25, 1898. NUMBER 26.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday.... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
WATERTOWN.—Preaching..... 3:00 "
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. F. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 7 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President, JOHN BORSCH.
Councilmen, NICK FRANK, HENRY BOCK, ADAM BORSCH.
Recorder, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, W. H. FRAZEE, R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, PHILIP MARTIN.
Board of Health, T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary. J. E. BORSCH.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables, JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. BORSCH.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLES L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

ROBERT G. EVANS, of Minneapolis has been appointed District Attorney

W. E. GLADSTONE is reported as being in poor health. He is England's grand old man of today.

THE Ohio and other eastern rivers are on their usual spring rise. Many people are obliged to leave their homes and transport their goods to safe quarters.

REPUBLICANS of the second district held a conference at Mankato, Tuesday, and effectually squelched the idea of Gov. Clough leaving his toga to Captain Van Sant.

The Eagle lately informed her readers that State Treasures Koerner has no backbone. This week She says: "We stand corrected." Has the Treasurer been heard from?

No wonder we have been having a cold wave. Lieutenant Peary has been lecturing in Minneapolis. Those city folks ought to know better than to bring lecturers on arctic regions here so early in the spring.

AFTER a week's trial the case of State Auditor Dunn against Ed Paradis, Editor of the Midway News, was given to the jury. The jury, after three hours deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty as charged, of criminal libel. Paradis' attorney gave notice of a motion for a new trial.

WHAT can Uncle Sam possibly want with an alliance with the British Lion? Can't he lick Spain without assistance? Is it necessary to bargain with England for aid, and in return, for the United States to help settle England's many difficulties in Africa, India, China, and most all over the globe.

THE sentiment against capital punishment seems to be on the gain. Since the late hanging of John Moshik in Minneapolis many have given expression to their feelings. If justice would be promptly dispensed, and guilty people properly punished perhaps it would be safe to abolish the present mode of murder.

IT has been given out that the report of the Maine investigating committee will be laid before Congress Tuesday. Then look out for peace, even if we have to fight for it. The average American citizen feels that way about it now. It is to be hoped that Congress will take the right steps in the matter at once. Suspense for so long is hard on the nerves.

A WASHINGTON special to the New York World claims that McKinley has been expecting financiers to so arrange matters that Spain could borrow no money to carry on war with, consequently would have to maintain peace with the United States. Maybe the financiers have been playing that game on McKinley, and have refused to loan Uncle Sam money to free Cuba with, until their claims against that island and against Spain are provided for. It has come to a pretty pass when a few financiers can plunge nations into war with each other, or keep them from war as best suits their individual interests.

Too Lively for the Globe.

Two weeks ago we published a short editorial as follows:

"So long as legislatures continue to be the electoral college for the U. S. Senators, so long may we expect to have politicians rather than practical law makers in our legislative bodies. And so long as this state of affairs exists so long may we expect the Supreme Court to frequently decide that a law is unconstitutional therefore null and void and of no use."

The St. Paul Globe quoted the article and commented as follows:

"We fail to catch the sequence or relativity of these two propositions. It may be there, but it is altogether to lively for us."

A legislature consisting of members elected regardless of qualifications, further than a willingness to vote for a certain man for U. S. Senator; and many of whom were nominated because of their ability to get votes rather than their ability to make laws, and who are political wire pullers rather than persons familiar with or who care for the wants of the people, is not apt to make laws that are constitutional, and the sequence is when the Supreme Court declares them null and void.

Legislatures are supposed to make laws and Supreme courts to decide on their legality; hence the "relativity".

Machine Politics.

There seems to be a growing disposition to sit down on machine politics in Minnesota. A brighter day for the people will dawn when this has been effected all along the line. The plan of being dictated to from headquarters as to just who shall be nominated for every petty office in the county is not relished by the voters any longer. They begin to see through some of the rings of politics. Things have cropped out here and there going to prove that party counts for nothing with those desiring certain measures enacted so they can get supporters for their plans. Just now, many of the best men in all parties are earnestly working to down ring rule. If they only have sand to continue the fight if defeated in party politics and vote for men who are independent they may accomplish their desires and reform politics.

The Democrats, Populists, Prohibitionists, and others opposed to the reign of monopoly are bound to join hands in the coming campaign. In order to do this effectively they have made some advance. They have learned that in order to obtain reformer's votes they must nominate reformers for office. They have learned that the voters do not propose to hoist into office the chronic office seekers who have managed to ring themselves into nominations, claiming that their influence is so great. It is not influence ordinarily so called, that is needed in this campaign. The lines are drawn. The principles are plain. The voters want now a chance to cast their ballots for candidates in whom they have confidence. They want an opportunity to vote their principles by electing to office men whom they can depend on to carry out their principles to the best of their ability and opportunity.

The leading issue is, just now, the Cuban question. People are tired of having Spain longer killing off Cuban's. The life time of a generation is long enough for war to be carried on as it has been in Cuba. It should be stopped. If Spain can't stop it the United States must.

Another and even greater issue is the question of money standard. More people are effected detrimentally by a wrong standard of wealth than by local wars. The entire commercial world trembles in the balance when money standards are changed. There should be a standard reliable, honest, and as abundant as necessary for business transactions. There must be enough of the standard so that people can occasionally get hold of the real genuine money. Contracting currency and limiting the standard until a clique of men, a syndicate, trust, or monopoly, can control the whole amount of money is wrong. It is strange people can't all see so plain a point. Why, if for instance, the money standard of the United States should be made diamonds, and the whole pile put in Tom Reed's back yard, and government bonds sold against them, how long would people stand it? And yet there are men who want to make gold the standard; to have all other so called money redeemable in gold; to have the standard so limited in amount that they can buy it all up and sell it at a premium whenever they see fit. They want to speculate on the money of the country; get rich on other people's property. And yet there are farmers here in Wrignt county that pretend to believe that they are doing right.

Suppose that a statute would be passed by our next legislature declaring that horses shall henceforth be fed only on yellow corn; that whenever a man wants horse feed he must pay for it in yellow corn, or its equivalent; if he has no yellow corn to feed or exchange for feed he must let his horses starve, perhaps people having horses could see that they were unjustly dealt with. Perhaps farmers with bins of white corn or of oats could learn that something was wrong. Look into this money business.

"Everybody Dance."

Last week's American Economist has a cartoon labeled "Everybody Dance!" It is intended to show the benefits of high protective tariff, but can easily be construed to represent the opposite. While the "music of protection is being laboriously sawed and blowed out by a lot of fellows who don't appear to be dancing at all. The "Business Man" and the gay Miss "Republican Party" are enjoying a fine dance. In their rear, intently watching the central figures are a "merchant" and a "mechanic" and another couple "laborer" and "farmer" with no fair lady, apparently vainly endeavoring to entertain each other by hopping around to help keep up appearances. Try again "Economist". That one don't help proection much, when everybody else must watch the "business man" enjoy all the fun.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

Josiah S. Andrews, Cloquet, folding crate. Eugene O. McGlauflin, Anoka, roll off lumber wagon. Charles Scott, Minneapolis, hat fastener.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18, 1898.

Spanish gall can go no further, now that Spain has made the charge that the presence of a fleet of U S. war vessels at Key West, and the active preparations for war which are being made by this government, are responsible for the failure of autonomy in Cuba. It is well understood in Washington that the only object Spain had in charging this country with causing the failure of autonomy, which was declared to be a failure by Senor de Lome as long ago as last January, was to attempt to make some of the European governments believe that the U. S. had schemed to make autonomy a failure in order to have an excuse for driving Spain out of Cuba. That it is a lie makes no difference to Spain, for the heathen Chinamen is a novice in lying, trickery, and general cussedness compared with the Spanish statesman who boasts of his pride. Our fleet will remain at Key West until it moves on Cuba, and our war preparations will go right ahead, regardless of Spain's charge, or its effect upon any European government, or governments.

When will Mr. McKinley make public the report of the Maine court? That is what everybody is asking everybody else in Washington. It is believed that Mr. McKinley has the official report, and certain that he knows what it is. Mystery now surrounds the War and Navy Departments, and news dealing with orders or movements of importance is no longer freely given out, but it is known that everything is already in a condition to put up a stiff and winning fight, and that every day is adding materially to our fighting strength.

It is highly creditable to the democrats and populists in Congress that they almost to a man refused to support the proposition to allow Congress to adjourn before the settlement of the Cuban question, although they knew that it would be a great advantage to them in the Congressional campaign for the republican majority to vote for adjournment without doing anything for Cuba. There are times when partisan advantage is a secondary consideration. Mr. McKinley quickly realized the damage that would be done to his personal reputation by connecting him with the early adjournment scheme, and had Gen. Grosvenor, deny that he had any connection with it.

Finding it impossible to control enough votes to ratify the treaty for the annexation of Hawaii, the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations this week reported a joint resolution providing for an exaction. A majority vote in both branches of Congress is all that is required to secure annexation under this resolution, and it is generally admitted that a majority of both the Senate and House favor annexation. Still there is a rocky road ahead of the resolution, and if it is to be put through at this session, the 4th of July may find Congress in session, regardless of the war with Spain. The Senate minority will make a long and hard fight, and Czar Reed is one of the opponents of annexation in the House who can make a lot of trouble for the resolution, if so disposed. But annexation being an administration measure the Czar may decide it the part of wisdom to confine his opposition to voting against the resolution.

Representative Stokes, of S. C., called on Mr. McKinley this week and handed him a letter from Gen. Joseph L. Stoppelbein, commander of the First Brigade S. C. cavalry, containing the following: "The people of S. C. stand ready and willing to shed their blood in defense of the Stars and Stripes, and if ever our people are united they are today. We know no factional or party lines when the honor of our country is at stake. As you know, I command the largest body of cavalry in the U. S. My command and I are at the service of the President, and, while I understand that militia cannot be pressed into service for a longer period than ninety days, I now, through you, formally tender my services to the President in the volunteers for ninety months if need be. The people of S. C. have implicit confidence in the wisdom of the President at this critical moment, and feel that he will do the proper thing."

Representative Alexander, of New York, while the House was considering the Post Office appropriation bill, made a little speech for home consumption, insisting that the House should go on record with an explicit declaration that the government was bound by law and good faith to maintain the gold standard. Nobody answered his speech, because it answered itself. If the country was bound by law to maintain the gold standard the goldbugs would not desire any further Congressional action. It is because it is not so bound by law that they would like to see Congress act. Thirty days from the time the first gun is fired, in the war with Spain, Mr. Alexander, in common with everybody else, will find that the gold standard cannot be maintained. It could not be maintained in war, even if its maintenance was explicitly provided for by law.

Advertise

SUBSCRIBE

Shannon Successful.

St. Cloud, Minn., March 23.—Congressman Morris has written a letter here in response to inquiries saying that he has just been advised by the war department that Cadet James N. Shannon, of Duluth, was successful in his physical and mental examinations at Fort Snelling, held recently. A report to the contrary had gained credence throughout the district, probably based on the fact that Iver Engebretson, the alternate, failed in the physical requirements.—Dispatch.

Minneapolis Tribune: The phenomenal popularity of William J. Bryan is a quantity that the politicians must make up their minds to wrestle with. He recently spoke in Atlanta, and the biggest hall in the city was packed with 10,000 people while as many more clustered around outside in the vain effort to hear and see the speaker. There is no election on in Georgia, and the presidential campaign is more than two years off. Bryan's speech, for most part, dealt with the silver issue, and was an exact reproduction of his arguments in the campaign of 1896. He introduced no new argument, and yet his remarks were listened to with breathless interest and produced unbounded enthusiasm. It is evident that the silver craze is not dead—in the South, at least.

FROM CALIFORIA.

Oil Industry Booms. Gold Mining Paying: Oranges and Lemons Profitable. An Old Long Lake Man Calls.

(BY HON. B. F. CHRISTLIEB.)

MR. EDITOR: Judging from recent events there is a boom in prospect for the Los Angeles oil industry. The Oil Producers Trustees have lately made contracts with San Francisco parties for the use of Los Angeles oil. That market stands prepared to take all the surplus oil that the Los Angeles field affords. As it is 30 cars have been forwarded quite recently and more will follow. Experiments are being made at Barstow, on the Santa Fe route, 141 miles east of Los Angeles to determine the value of crude oil for smelting purposes. An improved burner is under test for this purpose. Should it be proven that crude oil is as available as coke for such purposes, an additional outlet will be obtained which will extend to Arizona where great smelting plants are located; so what has seemed to be a nuisance in the past may become a valuable article of commerce to the city of Los Angeles. The glowing reports from Alaska, Klondike and Yukon region generally do not disturb the mining operations of Southern California, and in travelling through that part of the world, either by rail or private conveyance and taking observations in a casual way one does not become fully informed as to the extent of its mining operations, and, as I am informed, Southern California includes but a few, if any at all, of the famed gold mines of California. Southern California, so called, comprises perhaps a little more than the southerly third of the territory of the state. The following clipping from a California newspaper presents its mining operations:

"The mining districts of Southern California will probably show an increase of gold production of not far from $1,000,000 as compared with 1896. During the year a great amount of development has gone on, and many new mines will be producing this year. There is now more prospecting going on all over the deserts and in San Diego county than has ever been known. More capital is seeking investment than ever before. Sales of developed mines and promising claims are reported almost daily. Many of the investors are eastern men, but there, as elsewhere throughout the State, Californians are eagerly looking about them for gold properties. A number of mills and cyanide plants have been erected, or arranged for, during the past few months.

It is estimated that there is $14,000,000 invested in gold mines south of Tehachepi, with about fifteen hundred stamps dropping and about six thousand men employed. The number of mines located is about 3,800, and perhaps 2,500 are being actively worked or developed. Yet as truly as of any other part of the state can it be said that the development of the gold resources has hardly begun. During the year hundreds of valuable finds have been made, and in scores of claims on which development has proceeded "strikes" have been made. The greatest activity has been seen in the Randsburg district, which will now enjoy a second growth with the completion of its railroad; but the Virginia Dale, Perris, Panamint and other districts scattered over the great arid gold producing territory are likewise seeing the beginnings of greatness."

The pay roll of the Yellow Aster mine at Randsburg is $400 per day. That company has struck a 15 foot ledge of ore assaying $92 per ton. This is the biggest strike in that district. Some old mines in Kern county which were abandoned years ago by the Mexicans are again being operated by Americans who have so far met with fair success. The new Keysville district in the same county is attracting considerable attention. Last summer a large porphyry dyke was discovered. It had been run over by prospectors for many years. Several other valuable discoveries are reported to have taken place in the same county.

With all of the cold weather and frosts of this winter the California orange growers are shipping a great amount of sound fruit which will yield them satisfactory returns. By the time the harvest of the present crop is completed, there will have been upwards of 300 car loads of the fruit shipped from this locality, a district of about a half government township in extent. One party here claims to have raised two car loads of oranges from his four year old trees on five acres of ground. A car load consists of 336 boxes. Some growers are anticipating a net profit of one dollar per box on oranges. The probability is, however, that their profits will not be so ample. Lemons are cutting quite a figure. Nearly 50 car loads of that fruit have been shipped from the locality above referred to. Perhaps some frosted fruit may have been shipped from California but such a course has been discouraged by those who understand and have the fruit growers interest at heart.

George H. Smith, of Long Lake, paid me a visit a few weeks a go. He was taking in Texas on his route to this state and is now travelling in California. His journey seems to have agreed with him for he is apparently in very good health. The weather here now is magnificent. There was a considerable rain fall within the last few days and the people feel much encouraged over the fact.

Cuba.

The measures to be decided upon in our present session of Congress, directly or indirectly relative to Cuban Independence, are, undoubtedly, looked forth to by every patriotic and liberty-loving Cuban with great expectations and hope. In so far as these have in view, liberty and the common welfare of the nation, they are justifiable.

If all men in society have the same rights; the right to what they have acquired by honest labor or other honest means; the right to live; the right to be free, that is to do whatever may be thought necessary for safety and happiness, provided the rights of others are not trespassed upon, why should not the Cubans enjoy what is the common claim of all civilized beings?

Unless it can be satisfactorily proven that "they are beasts", and that "they carry their heads under their arms", and that they therefore ought to be exterminated "by the right of gun powder", or say by the right of Spanish barbarism, why should not their independence be acknowledged as well as that of the U. S. or any other country?

If that which is ours is theirs also, why not share fraternally with them? If that which by nature is theirs has been robbed or taken from them by bloodthirsty or merciless despots, who deserve life long chastisement for their infamous deeds, why not help to restore their lost treasure?

The Cuban issue, soon to be brought before the U. S. Congress, is of vast national as well as international importance. Therefore, its rightful and final settlement is hoped for even by our own people.

That the sugar producing West India Islands would be of great value to the U. S., is beyond all reasonable doubt. No one of any correct information as regards the natural resources of Cuba and of the sterling integrity of its freedom devoted inhabitants, would be willing to advance the argument that Cuba as a national property would be entirely useles to us. For not only would it open new resources of wealth and prosperity to this country, but it could even, if properly attended to, become a Gibraltic stronghold of the nation against European and foreign powers.

It was also affirmed that the issue relative to Cuba is of international consequence. As a matter of fact, disputed by no one, the United States is esteemed to be "the greatest nation of the world", however much the English despise to hear of it. As such it is rightly expected to be consistent with itself. If inconsistent, it will justly be considered a nation ignorant of the first law of "practical" logic by its European and Asiatic admirers.

Our nation is a nation of liberty. Liberty is the goal of all Cuban struggle. Liberty is their pass word. Give them liberty and they will sacrifice their gold and silver! In the name of liberty they will part with their homes, their friends, their dear and loved ones. In its precious name they will give up their lives. Give them what is theirs by nature and they will forever worship you as a nation worthy of the name it bears, as a nation united in this one respect, to suppress all libe-ty depriving absolutism!

Liberty, let us remember, was what our noble-hearted and patriotic colonists of old lived for, fought for, died for, and won. It is now ours. A nation of liberty should, and of right ought to be a promoter of liberty. Silence our nation should aid in securing liberty for the Cubans. If our greatmen of present hesitate in lending their heart and hand to the cause of Cuban independence; if our nation is wayward in its actions as regards Spanish tyranny, what opinion will be held among the nations of the earth as to the quality of the cerebral hemispheres of our American statesmen?

It was rumored, some time ago, that President McKinley, who primarily took very ardent measures to have the incidents connected with the Maine disaster brought to light, was a party to the proposed early adjournment of Congress. Happily, the rumor has been proven false.

It is remarkable how eager our "patriotic" democrats, who are generally thought to favor early adjournment, are to bring this congressional session to a termination. Is it because they realize that the Cuban issue belongs to the Republican administration?

AMICUS.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.
Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Latest News

Maine Report in Washington.

Came last night. It will be given to Congress next week.

It is claimed to say that the Maine was blown up from outside.

James H. Southall, once government clerk, in jail in St. Paul, charged with having issued bogus checks.

The body of Lieut. Friend W. Jenkins one of two officers blown up on the Maine was recovered from the wreck this week.

Dr. George E. Powell, a brother of "White Beaver" LaCrosse, has cabeled Baron el Cardo, the Spaniard, who wanted to fight a duel with Senator Mason, that he will accept the challenge.

Commodores Sampson and Schley are to command the Atlantic fleets.

JOHN B. BRISBIN, one of St. Paul's prominent citizens and an old settler died at his home March 22, aged 72 years.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

THE
New York World
Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
Mar. Edison Park, Ill.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET
The BUFFALO GAZETTE
—AND—
THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS
BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR
FOR ONLY $1.50.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE
The Free Press
YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPEDIA FOR 1898.
CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.
Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.
By sending 15 cents for postage any subscriber to the Free Press can have the book.
$1.65 gets the GAZETTE and the Free Press for One Year, and the Book.

GIVE US A CALL.
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., • MINN.

A FEW years ago our war ships were manned very largely by foreigners, but 233 of 250 men lost with the Maine were born in the United States, and all but 19 of the balance had taken out naturalization papers. These figures sustain the statement that the average of Americans in our navy is higher than it has been since the war.

AN ingenious stage waterfall devised by M. Gallhardt has attracted attention at the Paris opera halls. It is made of tulle stretched on frames imitating the curves of a fall. Behind it little streams of water are discharged through perforated pipes against a metal plate, so as to throw a spray upon the tulle. When the electric light is played on this the effect is magical.

THE princess of Montenegro, the beautiful mother of the crown princess of Italy, has been visiting Rome and startling the Romans by wearing her picturesque national costume. When driving she wears a bright scarlet silk cloak thickly embroidered with gold, and on her head a diadem of black velvet glistening with gold coins and gems. For the opera she dresses in cloth of gold.

THE countries where the long finger nails are most affected are Siam, Assam, Cochin China and China. The approved length varies from three or four to twenty-three inches. A Siamese exquisite permits the nails on his fingers to grow to such an extent that his hands are practically useless. The aristocrats who affect these nails can not write, dress themselves or even feed themselves.

ENCOURAGEMENT to home industry is the policy of the Austrian government, judging from the result of the embargo placed on American apples. Since the adoption of the restrictive measure, smuggling has grown and developed until it is a very profitable, though contraband pursuit, so great is the demand for American apples, the superior excellence of which even the Germans acknowledge.

AN island, it is announced in Paris, has suddenly appeared on the northwest coast of Borneo, opposite the town of Labaum. Its appearance appears to be due to the earthquake which happened in September, near Kudat, in British Borneo. The island is composed of clay and rock. It measures 200 yards in length by 50 in width, and it has gone on increasing since its first appearance.

The largest turkey ever shipped from New Florence, Pa., and probably the largest ever seen in that section of the country was sold to Johnstown parties the the other day by David Cunningham, a farmer living near that place. The bird weighed 44 pounds just before it was loaded into the train. The old residents of that place say it is the largest gobbler they ever saw. Mr. Cunningham received $10 for the turkey.

THERE are in the United States, roughly speaking, 350,000 schoolteachers, and of this number 120,000 are men and 230,000 are women. In other words, there are nearly twice as many female as male teachers, and the disparity is increasing year by year. There are 140,000 teachers in France, of whom 65,000 are men and 75,000 are women, the number of each being subject to about the same ratio of increase.

NOT including the higher institutions which are not sustained by the states, there are in the United States 240,968 public school houses, attended by 14,379,078 pupils. There are 400,325 teachers. The males number 130,369 and receive an average monthly salary of $47.37; the females number 296,956 and receive on an average about seven dollars less per month than do the males. The education of each pupil costs $18.92 annually. The value of all the public school property is $455,948,164.

ETIEVANT, the anarchist, who recently murdered a Paris policeman and wounded two others, has found out a use for lawyers. Having refused to defend himself or employ a lawyer, the court assigned one to take charge of the defense. Etievant would have nothing to do with him, declaring that he wished to be condemned to death, till the lawyer explained that no jury could bring in a verdict involving capital punishment unless a defense was made; whereupon Etievant accepted his services.

THE treasury department announces that five cent nickel and one cent bronze pieces will be furnished on application in sums of $20 free of transportation charges, at all points reached by the United States and connecting express companies, except in the following named cities: New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans and San Francisco. At points not reached by the express companies coins will be sent by registered mail at the applicant's risk, the register fee to be paid by the government.

Two men living in St. Helena who were born respectively in 1798 and 1802 are not the only persons now living who have seen Napoleon the Great. Thomas De Moleyns, who was for many years county court judge of Kilkenny, who was called to the Irish bar in 1831, and appointed a queen's counsel in 1855, served in his early boyhood in the royal navy. Mr. De Moleyns was a midshipman on board the Belleropohon when Napoleon, on July 15, 1815, after "the hundred days," placed himself under the flag of his country and received on board the Belleropohon.

MR. OTJEN of Wisconsin, introduced a bill in congress to establish a commission of public health. This commission is to be under the "control and management" of a commissioner of public health appointed by the president. The commissioner must be a physician and a member of some recognized sanitary or medical society. He is to appoint an assistant commissioner and an advisory council consisting of a representative from each state board of health, from the department of justice and from the medical corps of the United States army and navy.

AS SEEN BY PROCTOR

Vermont Senator Tells of the Terrible Situation in Cuba.

He Went to the Unhappy Island Thinking the Sad Picture Had Been Overdrawn, But Soon Undeceived Himself.

Washington, March 18. — Senator Proctor, of Vermont, who returned last Sunday from an extended trip to and through the island of Cuba, on Thursday afternoon made a statement to the senate of his observations on the island.

Senator Proctor was accorded the closest attention throughout his speech. He confined himself to his manuscript, and at the conclusion, while there was no demonstration, he was cordially congratulated by many of his colleagues. A synopsis follows:

He began by saying that more importance had been attached to his visit than necessary, but he thought a public statement would be beneficial. The only thing, he said, that he had said about the matter to the president was that he was going and asked if there was any objection to it, and was told that there was none. He had letters from Assistant Secretary of State Day and business men of the United States. He said that Gen. Lee and other United States representatives in Cuba afforded him opportunity to secure information.

He denied that he made the statement that the Maine was blown up from the outside, but might have said that was the opinion in Havana. The senator thought there was no definite information to be obtained upon this feature.

Outside of Havana there was desolation and misery. People were surrounded by trochas and controlled by forts or block houses. His observations, he said, were in the four western provinces. Outside of the trochas and forts there were no habitations or people living. The Spaniards, he said, held in the four provinces only what their army sits on.

Senator Proctor described at some length the condition of the reconcentrados, saying one-half of them had died owing to the manner in which they had been kept in the small houses and bad sanitation. It was no wonder that one-half had died, he added. He went to Cuba, he said, thinking the condition of the people had been overdrawn, but found their situation terrible. What he saw he could not tell so others could see. In one place in Havana, the senator said, he saw 400 people lying on stone floors with little clothing. The children had no clothing. "American people may be assured," he continued, "that their bounty will reach the destitute," and, he added: "The condition of the reconcentrados will not be changed until peace comes. Gen. Blanco's order of November 13 is of little practical use. No beneficial results have followed." For this he did not blame Gen. Blanco, as Blanco looked at the matter from a military point of view.

As to the military, he said there were about 60,000 Spanish troops. He thought they would fight well. There was no artillery. The troops live in barracks. The cavalry is mounted mostly on ponies. He said the Cubans had about 30,000 men in the field and were very active. The Cubans were well armed, but poorly supplied with ammunition. About one-third of the Cuban army are negroes. The cavalrymen furnish their own horses. The dividing line between the parties is sharp. It is Cubans against Spaniards. The autonomists he did not consider, as they were inconsiderable in number.

The Spaniards did not want perfect autonomy, as it meant government by the Cubans. He inquired as to autonomy of men of wealth, business and professional men. Without exception their reply was that it was too late for autonomy. It was, he said, too late for peace under Spanish rule. Some favored annexation by the United States.

Senator Proctor said he was not in favor of annexation. The conditions for self-government in Cuba were favorable and not much danger of revolutions. He would not make any recommendations as to what should be done. He thought the matter might safely be left to an American president and the American people. With these words he closed.

Big Exportations Help Trade.

New York, March 19. — R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say:

"Neither peace nor war reports have changed the onward current of business. Orders for $25,500,000 gold from Europe have blocked any drift toward stringency in rates for money, and treasury receipts of about $1,160,000 per day have kept in check any question about the currency, while exports of products have continued at a rate considerably increased, and the demand for products of the great industries shows steady expansion. The backbone of the situation is the excess of merchandise exports, more than $41,000,000 in February, with an increase of $2,200,000 in miscellaneous products, $2,160,000 in provisions, $4,500,000 in cotton and $7,600,000 in breadstuffs, compared with last year, and $15,100,000 in all products. In two weeks of March exports have been 16 per cent. larger than last year, and imports have gained but 8.7 per cent. Failures for the week have been 208 in the United States, against 216 last year, and 27 in Canada, against 50 last year."

Well-Known Woman Dead.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 21.—Dr. Elizabeth S. Dalbey-Norred died here Sunday. She was born in Wells county, Ind., October 14, 1843. November 16, 1865, she was married to Dr. Charles H. Norred, a surgeon in the Seventh Illinois cavalry. In 1881 she was graduated from the Woman's medical college, of Chicago. Her standing in the profession was represented by membership in the Illinois State Medical society, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky Trio-Medical societies, the American Medical society, the Society of Physicians and Surgeons, Minneapolis, Hennepin County Medical society, and the Minnesota Medical society. She was also connected with various hospitals and church work.

THE AMAZONAS IS OURS.

Old Glory Unfurled from Her Masthead—Interesting Ceremony in Port of Gravesend, Eng.

Gravesend, England, March 19.—The cruiser Amazonas, built by the Armstrongs for Brazil and purchased by the United States, was formally transferred from the Brazilian flag to the stars and stripes shortly after 11 o'clock in the morning.

Lieut. Commander Colwell, United States naval attache, accompanied by Ensign Roberts, Assistant Engineer Morris and Consul General Osborne, arrived on board shortly after 11 a. m. The chief officers of the coast guard and a number of customs officers all in uniform were already on board. Lieut. Commander Colwell and his party were received at the gangway by Lieut. Santos, and were escorted to the captain's cabin, where they were received by, Commander Corres. In reply to Lieut. Commander Colwell's inquiry, Commander Corres said he was ready to transfer the vessel forthwith, and Messrs. Colwell, Roberts and Morris donned their uniforms, and proceeding on deck gathered near the flagstaff from which the green flag of Brazil was flying.

Then Lieut. Commander Colwell, saluting Commander Corres, said:

"Captain, I have here a contract of sale to which you were a witness and whereby this vessel is to be transferred to me, in behalf of the United States."

Commander Corres replied, through an interpreter, saying:

"In handing over the ship I desire to say that it is done with the sincere friendship of Brazil."

Lieut. Commander Colwell, saluting, replied: "In behalf of the United States, I thank you for the sentiment."

A Brazilian sailor then brought down Brazil's blue-starred pennant from the top of the mainmast, carrying it in his teeth. In the center of the circle of officers of both nations, Lieut. Commander Colwell then faced the Brazilian flag flying from the cruiser's stern, and as the officers bared their heads the flag of Brazil was hauled down at 11:10 a. m., after which, facing about with their heads still uncovered, Old Glory was run up the main.

Great interest was taken in the ceremony, which is said to be unique in naval history, by which one power transferred a warship to another in the harbor of a third power.

New Trust Ready for Business.

Chicago, March 19.—John Lambert, of Joliet, president of the Consolidated Steel & Wire company, has been elected president of the new nail and wire combination. The new company will start in active business April 3, 1898. It will have a producing capacity from 700 to 1,000 tons of wire and wire rods, which will go into the various products now made by them, including wire nails, barbed wire, woven wire fencing, plain, galvanized, bright, "market" and other varieties of wire, together with sundry other products. The production mentioned is about 75 per cent. of the total production of the United States. The component companies have a foreign trade of about $3,000,000 per annum at the present time.

Niagara's Ice Bridge.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., March 21.—Masses of ice continue to come down stream, to be stopped by the gorge, adding strength to the ice bridge already solid enough to bear the weight of a person. Passenger trains running near slacken their speed that those aboard may have the opportunity of witnessing one of the most weirdly beautiful sights to be seen in the world.

B. K. BRUCE PASSES AWAY.

Was Register of the Treasury at Time of His Death—Had Served One Term in Senate.

Washington, March 18. — Blanche K. Bruce, register of the treasury, died Thursday morning.

Washington, March 22. — The funeral of Blanche K. Bruce, ex-slave, ex-senator, and twice register of the treasury, was held here Monday. The Metropolitan A. M. E. church was crowded with the representative colored population of the city. Among the floral tributes was a handsome wreath from the white house with the card of President McKinley.

[Blanche K. Bruce was born in Prince Edward county, Va., March 1, 1841, and therefore was 57 years old. He was of African descent, was born a slave, and received the rudiments of education from the tutor of his master's son. He taught school for a time in Hannibal, Mo., and later became a student at Oberlin. In 1859 he became a planter in Mississippi and was appointed a member of the Mississippi levee board. He was elected sheriff of his county, and subsequently superintendent of education. In 1875 he was elected United States senator as a republican, and served until March 3, 1881. He was a member of every republican national convention held since 1868. In 1881 he was appointed by President Garfield register of the treasury, and later was appointed recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia. About six months ago he was again appointed register of the treasury by President McKinley. Next after Fred Douglas Mr. Bruce has long been regarded as perhaps the most conspicuous man of his race.]

AID MUST BE SENT.

Urgent Needs of the 205,000 Starving Reconcentradoes in Unhappy Cuba.

New York, March 22. — Dr. Louis Klopsch, now in Cuba, in charge of the American relief work, cables from Havana under date of March 21 to the Christian Herald:

"The situation is simply this: Two hundred and five thousand reconcentrados in over 400 accessible towns are helplessly destitute. Unless we can get regularly, without a break, 200 tons of cornmeal and 50 tons of lard or bacon every week we cannot effectively relieve the suffering. Spasmodic and unsystematic efforts defeat all good intentions. Canned goods are useless and condensed milk should be substituted. Fifteen thousand dollars weekly will feed every starving man, woman and child in Cuba. Small, irregular shipments are only tantalizing."

Neighbors Didn't Like the Match.

Muskogee, I. T., March 21.—A dastardly outrage was committed Saturday night in the town of Wybark, five miles north of here, resulting in the death of two men and a woman. The house of Ed Chalmers, a negro who recently married a white woman, was attacked during the night by six white men, who had evidently determined to murder the negro and his wife, both of whom had been threatened by white men who disliked the union. A door of their cabin was broken in and the negro and his wife were shot down, but not before Chalmers had put up a good fight against his assailants. Sunday morning the body of one Matthew, an aged white man who lived at Gibson station, was found near the Chalmers cabin, pierced with a bullet. Matthew answers the description given by Chalmers before he died of one of his assailants.

Worst Snowstorm of the Season.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 21.—A special to the Tribune from Kalispel, Mont., says: The most severe snowstorm of the season is prevailing in this section. At one o'clock Sunday morning it began snowing, and at six o'clock Sunday evening 18 inches of snow had fallen, and at that hour the wind changed to the north and the snow was drifting badly.

IS INDESCRIBABLE.

Senator Gallinger Draws a Picture of Utter Wretchedness and Destitution in Cuba.

Washington, March 19.—Senator Gallinger was at the capitol Friday for the first time since his return from Cuba. When requested to make a statement as to his observations on the condition of affairs on that island he responded:

"You can sign my name to any picture you may draw of utter wretchedness, destitution and hellishness in that country. The condition of affairs, so far as I had opportunity to observe it, and I was only in Havana and Matanzas, is simply indescribable. I had not expected to find it half as bad as it is, and I do not believe that anyone who simply reads the accounts and does not see for himself can form an adequate idea of the situation. The reconcentrados are wedged into all available places in those cities and are perishing by the thousand for want of the commonest necessaries of life. The best information obtainable leads to the conclusion that there have been beyond a doubt 400,000 deaths as a result of Spain's brutal policy, and the tragedy goes on from day to day. The society of the Red Cross is furnishing some relief by its efforts, but the most of those people are beyond the reach of aid, whether through medicine or food. The mortality in Matanzas for the last four months previous to our visit has been equal to ten times the ordinary death rate.

"With reference to the military aspect of affairs in Cuba, I saw nothing that impressed me with the idea that Spain knows much about modern warfare. The soldiers I saw are not drilled as our soldiers are, indeed, they lack every element of soldierly bearing, whatever may be said of their merits as fighters. The drills that I witnessed were a travesty on modern military ideas. While they were undergoing their evolutions the soldiers were talking to each other and smoking as freely and unconcernedly as they would do in their messrooms. From my observation of them, I should not consider them very formidable antagonists on the field of battle.

"Naturally there was much talk about the Maine disaster, and so far as I could ascertain, from my conversation with Americans and with those not entirely under the influence of the Spaniards, the opinion was universal that the Maine had been destroyed by an external agency, and almost every person with whom I discussed the subject in Cuba expects that the finding of the American court of inquiry will substantiate this view.

"There is a divergence of opinion on the island as to the probabilities of war between Spain and the United States, and I am sure that I am within the bounds of the truth when I say that almost the entire native population would welcome any turn of events, however tragic, that would wrest Cuba from Spanish dominion. This is true, not only of those who are avowedly favorable to a war for independence, but of many of those who are ranked as Spanish sympathizers, but who are at heart advocates of Cuban independence. The fact is that even in Havana the allegiance to Spain is of a very weak and doubtful character, and if war should come it will be found that there will be an uprising in that city against the mother country which would be a most important factor in shortening the contest and deciding it against Spain."

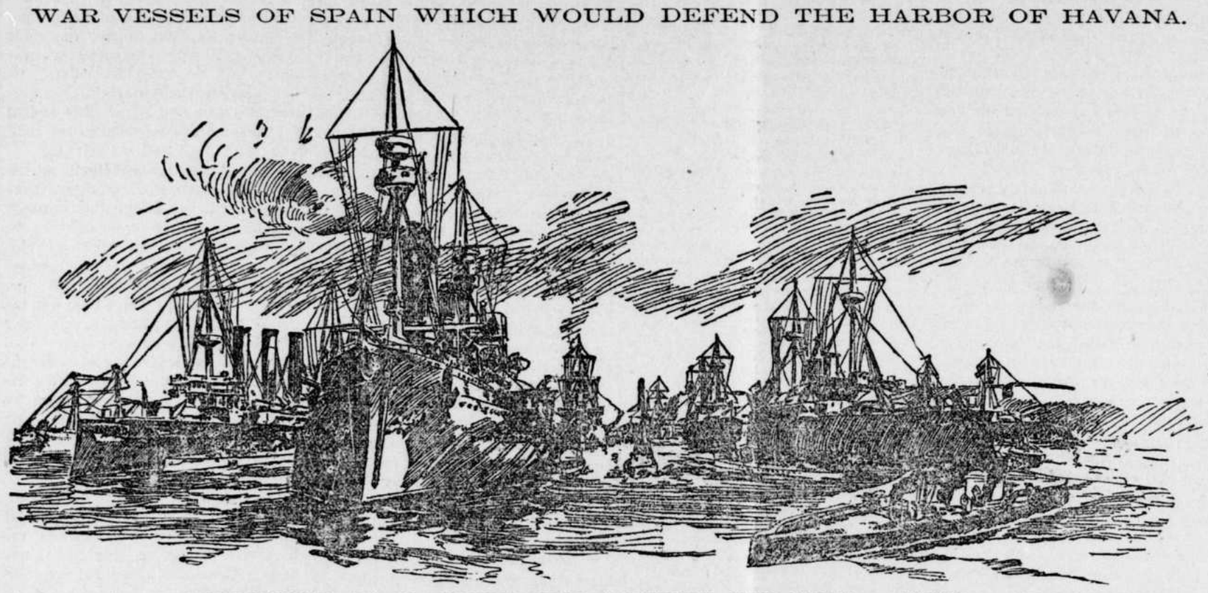
Our War Footing.

Washington, March 18.—In view of the possibility of a conflict with Spain, considerable interest centers just now in the strength of the militia forces of the United States, which would be liable to be called upon in case of necessity. The aggregate strength of the force in each state is yearly reported to the adjutant general of the army, who in turn transmits it to congress. The organized and unorganized strength of each state amounts in the aggregate to 10,301,399 men. An administration bill has been introduced in the house providing for a complete reorganization of the infantry branch of the army, increasing its strength in case of war to 104,384 men and 2,348 officers.

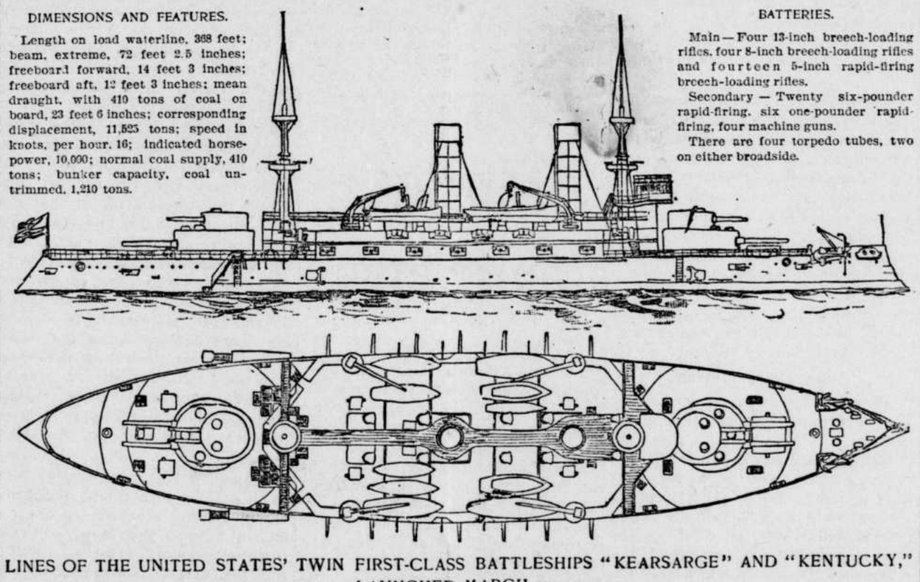
Fire in Chicago.

Chicago, March 22. — Flames broke out in the Shoeneman building in Dearborn street, near Van Buren, shortly after noon Monday and in an hour the seven-story structure had been completely gutted. Loss, $145,000.

WAR VESSELS OF SPAIN WHICH WOULD DEFEND THE HARBOR OF HAVANA.



ALFONSO XII. EMPERADOR CARLOS V. PELAYO. CRISTOBAL COLON. ALFONSO XIII. MARIA TERESA. VIZCAYA. ALMIRANTE OQUENDO.



LINES OF THE UNITED STATES' TWIN FIRST-CLASS BATTLESHIPS "KEARSARGE" AND "KENTUCKY," LAUNCHED MARCH 24.

A DOCTOR'S DIRECTIONS.

They save a daughter from blindness.

When a father writes that yours "is the best medicine in the world," you can allow something for seeming extravagance in the statement if you know that the medicine so praised, cured a loved daughter of disease and restored to her the eyesight nearly lost. The best medicine in the world for you is the medicine that cures you. There can't be anything better. No medicine can do more than cure. That is why John S. Goode, of Orrick, Mo., writes in these strong terms:

"Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine in the world. My daughter had a relapse after the measles, due to taking cold. She was nearly blind, and was obliged to remain in a dark room all the time. The doctors could give her no relief; one of them directed me to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Two bottles cured her completely."

The thousands of testimonials to the value of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla repeat over and over again, in one form or another the expression: "The doctors gave her no relief; one of them directed me to give her Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Two bottles completely cured her."

It is a common experience to try Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a last resort. It is a common experience to have Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla prescribed by a physician. It is a common experience to see a "complete cure" follow the use of a few bottles of this great blood purifying medicine.

Because, it is a specific for all forms of blood disease. If a disease has its origin in bad or impure blood, Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, acting directly on the blood, removing its impurities and giving to it vitalizing energy, will promptly eradicate the disease.

The great feature of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the radical cures that result from its use. Many medicines only suppress disease—they push the pimples down under the skin, they paint the complexion with subtle arsenical compounds, but the disease rages in the veins like a pent-up fire, and some day breaks out in a volcanic eruption that eats up the body. Ayer's Sarsaparilla goes to the root. It makes the fountain clean and the waters are clean. It makes the root good and the fruit is good. It gives Nature the elements she needs to build up the broken down constitution—not to brace it up with stimulants or patch it up on the surface. Send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook, and learn more about the cures effected by this remedy. It's sent free, on request, by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the city of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of One Hundred Dollars for each and every case of catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886. A. W. GLEASON, [Seal] Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

"Lemme un'stan'," said Mr. Erastus Pinkly. "Is er locksmif er man dat knows all 'bout how ter open all kin's er locks?"

"'Co's he is," replied Miss Miami Jones.

"Well I dunno how 'tis, but I sho'ly seen it."

"What did yoh done see?"

"Er locksmif down in de mahket a buyin' 'is chickens."—Washington Star.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, nervous, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it to-day. At all druggists and shoe stores, 25 cents. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

A Useful Bequest.

Cumso—I hear that Mr. Scadds left $100,000 to Yellyard university.

Cawker—Is it to be applied to any particular purpose, such as the endowment of a chair?

"The money is to be used for the endowment of a football hospital."—Puck.

Oh, What Splendid Coffee.

Mr. Goodman, Williams Co., Ill., writes: "From one package Salzer's German Coffee Berry costing 15c I grew 300 lbs. of better coffee than I can buy in stores at 30 cents a lb."

A package of this and big seed catalogue is sent you by John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., upon receipt of 15 cents stamps and this notice. Send for same to-day. K 7

In the Base Clef.

Every musician has the idea that if he would consent to lower himself to do it, he could write a successful popular song.—Somerville Journal.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

A hand separator—not letting your right hand know what your left is doing.—Rural New Yorker.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Very few nice girls have fool mothers.—Atchison Globe.

A Klondike Near Home.

Great movements of people from one section of the country to another are brought about by the very natural and laudable desire of mankind to better his condition.

When the news that gold in large quantities had been found in the interior of Alaska was flashed over the wires, men from all over the world were ready to risk their lives and brave all kinds of danger to reach the new Eldorado. A few will succeed, the balance will fail, while the average would have done better to have joined the big immigration movement into the St. Paul and Duluth Country in Minnesota. Over One Million Dollars was paid for the potato crop alone at half a dozen towns along the road, to say nothing of money realized for grain, cattle and other farm products. It is the coming country in the Northwest on account of its superb location between St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Superior. It is blessed with a healthful climate, pure water, good soil, enterprising citizens and all the benefits of a great country.

Land is increasing rapidly in value and every man who settles there may be assured that he will have a small Klondike of his own without the discomfort and danger attending a trip to far away Alaska.

Golf Legally Defined.

Just before the rising of the law courts a case involving the playing of golf was heard, and a queen's counsel engaged in it thus described for the instruction of the judge the ancient and royal game: "I believe, my lord, that the game of golf is played in irregular fields or waste grounds with a small ball which the player tries to hit with a stick. If he succeeds in hitting the ball he spends the remainder of the day in looking for it. That, as I am informed, my lord, is the game of golf."—London Telegraph.

All Things as Advertised.

By competing lines show a progressive spirit, but some of the things that are alleged to be now, have been in constant daily use for years past on the Steam-heated, Electric-lighted (with berth reading-lamp), Vestibuled trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway between St. Paul and Minneapolis and Chicago, as thousands upon thousands of its patrons will cheerfully testify. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway always maintains its supremacy with the traveling public by always being the first to utilize every mechanical device and improvement which can be of any value to those who ride on its magnificently equipped trains.

Willie's Query.

Willie—Say, pa?

Pa—Well, what is it, Willie?

"Is painting the town red a cardinal sin?"—Chicago Evening News.

Whenever we hear the women talk indignantly because another woman is spoiling her husband, we hunt him up to congratulate him.—Atchison Globe.

Humped and bent. Lame back did it. Straight and sound. St. Jacobs Oil did it.

Marrying for money is an expensive investment.—Ram's Horn.

No mistake. Thousands have been cured Promptly of neuralgia by St. Jacobs Oil.

OVER-WROUGHT NERVES OF WOMEN.

Extracts From Letters Received by Mrs. Pinkham.

"I am so nervous and wretched." "I feel as if I should fly." How familiar these expressions are. Little things annoy you and make you irritable. You can't sleep, you are unable to lift ordinary burdens, and are subject to dizziness.

That bearing-down sensation helps to make you feel miserable.

You have backache and pains low down in the side, pain in top of head, later on at base of the brain.

Such a condition points unerringly to serious uterine trouble.

If you had written to Mrs. Pinkham when you first experienced impaired vitality, you would have been spared these hours of awful suffering.

Happiness will be gone out of your life forever, my sister, unless you act promptly. Procure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and begin its use, then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., if there is anything about your case you do not understand.

You need not be afraid to tell her the things you could not explain to the doctor, your letter is seen only by women and is absolutely confidential. Mrs. Pinkham's vast experience with such troubles enables her to tell you just what is best for you, and she will charge you nothing for her advice.

MRS. JENNIE BIERLY, Youngdale, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Will you kindly allow me the pleasure of expressing my gratitude for the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking your Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite, a heavy bearing-down feeling, also burning pains in the groins. I could not sleep, was tired all the time, had no ambition. Life was a burden to me. The pains I suffered at times of menstruation were something dreadful. I thought there was no cure for it. I saw your advertisement in the paper, and my husband advised me to try your medicine. I took five bottles, and now I am well and happy. Your medicine saved my life."

A Million Women Have Been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine

RHEUMATISM

Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swelling, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 35c; large 65c. Book free. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

Oats 231 Bu. pr. A. Wheat 40c. a Bu.

How to grow wheat at 40c a bu. and 231 bus. oats, 173 bus. barley and 1600 bus. potatoes per acre. ☞SEE OUR GREAT CATALOGUE mailed you with 11 grass seed samples, upon receipt of THIS NOTICE and 10 cents in stamps. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K 7)

Excursions

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

To the FREE GRANT LANDS of WESTERN CANADA, where twenty-five and thirty bushels of wheat are grown to the acre, will be personally conducted by a Canadian Government representative on

March 23rd and 30th, and 6th April,

leaving St. Paul on these dates. For particulars as to specially low passenger and freight rates, apply to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 154 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

A WOLF AT THE DOOR.

"Please tell us a story, grandma, dear,
Something that happened when you were young.
Were you ever chased by a big, black bear?
Did you ever look at a wolf's red tongue?
Were the wildcats bad in the long ago?
And were you afraid? Oh, we want to know.

"Oh, dear! we forgot, you lived in town,
In an old brick house on a quiet street,
Where wildcats never went roaming round,
And the cabbage roses were fresh and sweet.
But out in the woods where the trees are high,
Did you never hear, grandma, a panther's cry?"

Then said grandma, nodding her wise old head:
"There once came a wolf to my very door;
My mother was ailing, my father was dead,
And, oh, my dearies, but we were poor.
Those were dreary days and nights of woe
While the wolf stood watching and wouldn't go.

"Then the Lord sent a laddie both brave and strong,
He grappled the beast and he drove it away;
It was years ago, but it seems not long
Since the dear lad came to my help that day."
Grandma looked at grandpa with shining eyes—
And they kissed each other to our surprise.
—A. Baker, in N. Y. Independent.

CHASED BY WOLVES.

A Thrilling Incident of Winter Travel on the Upper Mississippi River.

BEFORE any railroad had been built along the upper Mississippi, all traffic in the summer was by steamboat, which carried also the mail. In the winter everything was carried by stage. There was a line of mail-stages between St. Paul and Prairie du Chien—or the southern terminus may have been La Crosse at the time of which I write. These stages followed the river—how much of the distance on the ice I cannot say, but in my neighborhood, where the river expanded and became Lake Pepin, the route was all on the ice, and most of the way far from the shore. Lake Pepin is some three miles wide and 27 miles long, and although in reality only a widening of the river it is a true lake, in which the current of the river is almost lost. There is no other such body of water in the whole length of the Mississippi. The upper Mississippi is worn far below the level of the country; consequently Lake Pepin is surrounded by high bluffs, with bold, flat tops. Leading down to the lake, on both the Minnesota and Wisconsin sides, are many ravines or coulees, worn by the watercourses and wooded. Even now there is much wild land among the bluffs.

It was in the latter part of January years ago that I found myself at Hawk's Landing, on the Minnesota side of the river just below the foot of the lake, whither I had gone with an uncle. He found that his business would detain him longer than he expected, and he decided to send me back alone on the stage. It should have left the Landing at one o'clock, but it was delayed somewhere down the river, and did not arrive till nearly three. It was a full afternoon's drive to Lake City, but the driver said he had a good team, and promised to get through on time, notwithstanding the late start. He was a rough and dissipated man, but he had the reputation of always keeping sober till after the day's trip had been completed. But the delay may have upset him, and I think he began drinking before we started, although no one then noticed it. He certainly had provided himself with a large bottle of liquor, as I soon had occasion to know. I suppose I could not have been more than 12 or 13 years old, although life in a new country and on a farm had given me ability to take care of myself beyond my years.

When we departed from the War Eagle house on the levee, and swung along up the road under the shadow of Wabasha Bluff, with the horses at a gallop, I felt a sort of admiration for the driver, notwithstanding his roughness. We slackened somewhat when we got beyond the line of houses along the single street, and soon rounded the bluff and kept along the edge of a bank above the frozen river. It was here that the driver took his first drink from his big, flat bottle. This alarmed me, because I had already seen much of the effect of liquor on the class of men to which he belonged. He passed the bottle to the passenger, who took a very small sip. I thought more because he was afraid to refuse than because he wanted it.

We soon came to the lake, and turned down Fond du Lac point and out upon the ice, where the road was marked by little cedars. The driver had already taken several more drinks, and on the lake I found cause to be alarmed at something else. This was the state of the weather. The wind had freshened a great deal and the snow was drifting rapidly. It was not sufficient to shut out from our sight the row of evergreens, and we could see even the bluffs on either side of the lake; but the fine snow was sifting along over the crust like streaming hair, and rapidly filling the track. This made our progress slow, but the condition of the driver was soon a greater hindrance. He drove either with the horses on a run or a slow walk, although they walked more than they ran. He kept returning to his bottle with frequency.

We were not yet half way when the sun was only a little above the Minnesota bluffs, with big orange sun dogs standing on each side of it. Just as it disappeared below the bluffs the driver slid out of the seat into a drunken sleep in the bottom of the sleigh. I climbed over to the front seat and took the reins myself.

"You seem to know how to drive; do you think we can get there to-night?" asked the other passenger.

"I can drive four horses," I answered, very proudly. "We can get through, I guess, if it doesn't storm so that we can't follow the trees."

He drew a long breath at this and made himself comfortable under the buffalo robes, leaving me to the full management of the team, which I was glad enough to assume, even if my hands were pretty cold.

In half an hour it was dark. There was no moon, but the sky was clear and the stars bright. With the going down of the sun the wind had died away, leaving a calm, clear night; but before it had stopped it had filled the track with drifted snow and left the traveling heavy. We jogged along past the endless row of little trees at a pretty good rate. The only sounds were the creaking of the sleigh-runners in the snow, for the night was bitter cold, and the occasional deep rumblings of the ice, sounding, as it always seems to me, like distant thunder near at hand. There was a faint play of northern lights in the sky ahead of us.

I had for some time been looking anxiously for the lights of the town, although there was no hope of seeing them yet, when my attention was attracted by a dark object on the snow far to the right toward the Wisconsin shore. At first I took this thing to be one of the immense ridges in the ice where it had cracked and heaved up, several of which were on the lake, some of them almost as high as a house. Then I saw it was moving along like a shadow at right angles to our course.

The man saw it and said: "What's coming over there—some other teams?"

"They wouldn't be going so fast," I answered, picking up the whip from the bottom of the sleigh. The shadow was now directly to the right.

"It's some sort of animal," went on the man. He paused a moment and then added: "They look like big dogs."

At that moment there came the cry I had so often heard at home, only much deeper, harsher and louder.

"They're wolves!" I said, and I cracked the whip at the horses, although that was hardly necessary, as they heard the savage howl as well as we did and knew it meant danger.

They were indeed a pack of timber wolves, starved out of the Wisconsin coulees and crossing the lake in search of food on the Minnesota side. The howl which they set up showed they thought they had found it unexpectedly on the lake. The horses struck into a fast gallop and the sleigh began to sway and bound around in an uncomfortable manner. I looked back and saw that the wolves had struck the road and were coming behind. The horses were now running as fast as they could with so heavy a track. It seemed as if we should be thrown out the next moment, and it was certain that we should be overtaken in any case.

The second time I looked back I saw that the pack was much nearer—I could make out the leaders and see that there must be 20 or 30 of the animals, all told. My fellow passenger was clinging to the seat crying to me to drive faster, although the horses were fairly running away and I had practically no control over them one way or the other.

"Can't you throw out the trunk and back seat?" I shouted to him.

I will give him the credit for doing very well at this. He clambered over back and pitched out the other seat and a small trunk which stood behind it. It was a good thing to do, as it lightened the sleigh and delayed the wolves slightly. They all stopped and surged around the things a moment; then they came on.

I heard the man throwing out the mail sacks and some other parcels, but the wolves did not pause much for these. They were soon closer than ever, and, the man said afterwards, within a few rods of us. I kicked the buffalo robe, which was still over my lap, out at one side, and sank down on my knees in the bottom of the sleigh; the man wrenched loose the seat and dropped it out with two other robes. These were the last things which we had to throw out. The robes seemed to delay the wolves longer than anything else. They stopped and tore them to shreds. We got a quarter-mile start. All of this time the drunken driver was sleeping like a log in the bottom of the sleigh.

The horses were becoming exhausted, and I could feel that they were going slower. I now urged them on with whip and voice, but it seemed to make no difference. The howling behind us began to come plainer; the wolves had left the robes and were again gaining on us. Right ahead I could see a high ridge in the ice where it had cracked and shoved up. A notch had been cut in it just wide enough for a sleigh to pass through. I held the reins steady and tried to slow up a little in the hope of steering safely through the narrow crack. As we came up to it I saw a dark streak between the rough cones at either side; the crack had opened two or three feet during the day and new ice had formed. We struck the opening in the ridge squarely; the nigh horse reared up and jumped over the new ice, but the other stepped on it and broke through with one forward leg. He fell, but the other horse dragged him and the sleigh beyond the crack, where we stopped all in a heap.

I jumped over the dashboard and fell in the snow beside the horse. He was struggling to rise, but I guessed what had happened, and threw my body across his neck and felt of his leg. It was crushed and broken. I got out my knife, cut the breaststrap which held the neckyoke, and called to the man to unhook the traces, which he managed to do at last. I cut the injured horse's rein and ran around behind the other, who stood trembling and snorting. With the strap I tied back the end of the whiffletree to the sleigh-runner.

The wounded horse was again struggling to rise and had sprawled himself out of the way. I shouted at the other horse; he started with a bound and the man and I threw ourselves into the sleigh, half knocking out our brains as our heads struck together. We looked back and saw the whole hungry pack fall upon the abandoned horse and bear him down just as the poor animal had succeeded in getting upon his three sound legs.

The horse that was still attached to the sleigh plunged on bravely for some distance, with the sleigh tongue almost plowing in the snow, but he soon tired out, and dragged himself along in a startled sort of way. But it made no difference, as the wolves never pursued us again.

We got out and walked beside the sleigh to keep warm, and, as the crack was only two miles from town, it was not long before we reached our destination. A party of men went back to get a shot at the wolves, but, their hunger satisfied on the fallen horse, they made off before the hunters could reach them. The next morning the passenger took the down stage back to civilization, vowing that he had had enough of the northwest. The drunken driver was promptly discharged by the stage company.—Youth's Companion.

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

A Beet Sugar Factory.

Minneapolis is to have a beet sugar factory capable of taking care of 350 tons of beets daily. The total cost of the plant when opened for work next October will be fully half a million dollars.

It has been known for some time that negotiations were in progress between the owners of the old Esterly harvester works at St. Louis Park which might result in their purchase and transformation into a beet sugar factory, but it was not until within the last few days that the deal was consummated. Since then, however, progress has been rapid. Contracts have been let, and the company which is sponsor for the deal have been assured that the plant will be in running order by Oct. 1. Work on the reconstruction of the buildings will begin at once.

The new company is incorporated with a capital stock of $250,000. At its head are State Senators Keller and Theden, and to their efforts is due its organization.

No Place for a Saloon.

There seems to be no suitable location for a saloon in Winnebago City. The saloon has been voted out for 12 years in succession, but the vote was reversed at the recent election by a small majority. Now the all absorbing question seems to be where to locate the saloon. The law giving a freeholder the right to object to a saloon within a certain distance of his property has been taken advantage of even by those business men who voted for licensing a saloon, and the would-be saloonkeeper is still out in the cold. The new council fixed the license at $1,000.

Indians Carve Each Other.

In a drunken broil which recently took place at Twin Lakes, 18 miles from the White Earth agency, a father and son fought together in true Indian style; scalping knives flashed in the sunlight, copper-colored cuticle was slashed into whip cords and the snow for several yards around was dyed with red men's gore. The father seems to have got the worst of the scrap and he came within a hair's breadth of going to the happy hunting ground.

A Good Stop.

The bucking of an electric car and its escape from the control of its crew gave Policeman Skoog a chance to distinguish himself on Wabasha street, St. Paul, which he was not slow to avail himself of. Boarding the runaway car as it coursed madly through the crowded street, he seized the brake crank and by dint of hard work stopped the car just in time to avert a serious collision with another car at Seventh and Wabasha.

Burned to Death.

Mrs. Frank Storest, of Minneapolis, went to visit a neighbor for a few moments, leaving her 5-months-old baby in the baby carriage, while her 3-year-old son was playing around the house. Upon the mother's return she was rendered almost frantic by seeing the carriage wrapped in flames and the baby suffocating. Hastily she extinguished the fire, but the infant was so badly burned that it died the next day.

The Year's Iron Output.

A conservative estimate of the ore output of the Lake Superior iron mines is that the total shipments the coming season will be 14,000,000 tons, of which half will come from the Minnesota ranges. Fourteen hundred thousand will come from Vermilion range and fifty-six hundred thousand from Mesaba. The amount from Minnesota may be half a million more.

News in Brief.

Gunder Gunderson, living near Canby, accidentally shot himself while hunting. He died the following day.

Archie Chance, an 8-year-old boy of Little Falls, died from the effects of a fall from a toy wagon, causing rupture of a blood vessel in the brain.

Leroy Berrier was convicted at Minneapolis of sending obscene matter through the mails. The books sent were of a medical nature.

S. Ofstedal, a wealthy farmer of Garden, has gone crazy on religion. He was brought back from Minneapolis, whither he went, as he said, to be ordained to preach. It required the combined strength of four men to control his actions.

Sneak thieves stole $500 worth of jewelry from the residence of William Crambie in Minneapolis.

Mankato had seven fires in 48 hours. Three of them were of incendiary origin.

At the recent meeting of the state library commission, nearly 200 books were placed on the list from which school districts may select their school libraries.

While returning from Bay View to West Duluth, Mrs. Louise Reno was robbed of $38.

The Mankato city council has leased the city hospital to the Sisters of the Sorrowful Mother for a term of 10 years, and they will erect another hospital at a cost of $12,000 in connection with the old one.

A postoffice has been established at Mayhew, Benton county, with Lewis Esselman as postmaster.

Peter Barnum, near Crookston, a claim prospector, sprang a set gun near Crookston and received a bullet in his right thigh, severing an artery. He nearly bled to death before securing medical attendance.

A company has been organized to build a $15,000 woolen mill at Fosston.

Redwood county will spend $2,313 in the improvement of roads and bridges in the county this spring, and it is probable that in the neighborhood of $6,000 will be spent during the year.

John McGrann, residing about four miles north of Belle Plaine in Sibley county, lost his life while descending into an unused excavation for a well being suffocated by gasses generated therein.

Mrs. Fredericka Behr, of Winona, who, on Jan. 23, celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary, died of heart failure.

Gov. Clough has named George W. Morey, of Minneapolis, a member of the executive committee from this state to the National Homeseekers association.

Emil Polzer, whose wife was hurt in an accident on the street railway in St. Paul, secured a verdict for $950. He sued for $10,000.

Peter S. Nelson has been appointed postmaster at Argyle, Marshall county.

The Winona High School Athletic association has organized a track team.

The postoffice department has ordered six sub-stations of the St. Paul postoffice.

CURRENT TOPICS.

NEW brooms should be soaked in salt and hot water in order to prevent the bristles from breaking.

THERE are 1,750,000 volumes in the library of the British museum and more than 39 miles of shelving.

THE principal nations of the world have 2,291 warships, mounting 8,383 guns, mostly of very heavy caliber.

DURING the Mexican war the United States put 90,100 men in the field, of whom 7,780 died of wounds or disease.

THE city of Moscow, in Russia, is mentioned as being in possession of excellent wood paved streets 300 years ago.

GERMANY spends every year on the imperial army 413,000,000 marks; on the navy 42,000,000. A mark is about 25 cents.

THE number of suicides committed in this country last year was 4,912, or about seven in every 100,000 inhabitants.

THE prefix "O" before so many of the names of Irish families is an abbreviation of the word "ogha," meaning grandchild.

IT IS estimated that the total cost of the new union station of Boston, when completed, will be the enormous sum of $12,000,000.

A STRANGE item in the Bishop Burton church accounts for last year is: "To killing worms in the bust of John Wesley, 15 shillings."

LAST year there were 920 duels in Italy and one man was killed. It must be getting a serious matter to fight a duel in that country.

THE eagle first appeared on the seal of the United States in a design submitted to congress by Wm. Barton, of Philadelphia, in 1782.

GAINED 22 POUNDS IN 5 WEEKS

From the By-Stander, Macomb, Ill.

Alderman Louis W. Camp, of our city, has quite astonished his friends of late, by a remarkable gain in weight. He has gained 22 pounds in five weeks. Those of his friends who do not know the facts of his sickness will read with interest the following:

"I was broken down in health and utterly miserable," said Mr. Camp to our reporter. "I was unable to work much of the time and so badly afflicted with a form of stomach trouble that life was a veritable nightmare.

"I tried various remedies, but during the six months of my sickness I obtained no relief. I had always been a robust, healthy man and sickness bore heavily upon me.

"About two years ago I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I purchased one box and received so much benefit that I used five more and was entirely cured. I gained twenty-two pounds in five weeks. Since I stopped taking the pills I have scarcely had an ache or pain.

Interviewing the Alderman.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restored me to health, and I most heartily recommend them."

L. W. Camp on oath says that the foregoing statement is true.

W. W. MELOAN, Notary Public.

Following is the physician's certificate as to Mr. Camp's present condition:

I am a regularly licensed physician of Macomb, McDonough County, Ill. I have very recently examined Mr. L. W. Camp as to his general physical condition, and find the same to be all that could be desired, appetite and digestion good, sleeps well, and has all the evidences of being in a good physical condition.

SAM'L RUSSELL, M. D.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of September, 1897.

W. W. MELOAN, Notary Public.

A REALLY INTELLIGENT JURY.

The Verdict Was in Accordance with the Evidence.

"It was the funniest thing I ever saw in a courtroom," laughed the veteran of the bar, who was enjoying an informal smoker with his brethren. "I was in the new west then, trying to get a good start. One of the residents had mysteriously disappeared, and his wife was arrested under a suspicion that she might be responsible for the fact. I defended her.

"On the stand she was simply irrepressible. I only got to ask her one question. That was more than plenty. She talked precisely as though she were wound up and could not stop until the mainspring was completely relaxed. In the midst of her tirade she was interrupted by an inquiry by one of the jurors.

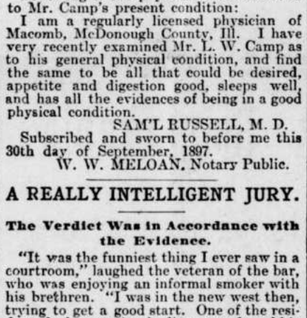
"'Who are you talkin' to, Bill Spriggins,' she shouted. 'I don't 'low no cattle like you to be quizzin' me. Ef you don't know how to treat your betters, I'll learn you, you pin-headed coyote. Ef my husband was here he'd perferate you mighty quick, and I know it. But I kin take care of myself ef I am a lone woman. I'm here to tell what I know, and I'm goin' to do it if it spills blood.'

"There was no staying her deluge of words and the judge was at last driven by sheer desperation to tell the jury to retire and do the best it could with the facts in its possession.

"When the jury came back Bill Spriggins, as foreman, stood up to give the verdict. 'We find,' he said, 'that this here man Meekham has diserpeared at the han's of some persing or persings unknown. We find further that we are unanermous in surspectin' as how he mighter been talked to death by his said wife.' It took the sheriff and all his deputies to hold her."—Detroit Free Press.

COL. HAMILTON,

Of Columbus, Ohio, Uses Pe-ru-na in His Family—The Colonel's Wife Restored to Health by Dr. Hartman's Famous Remedy for Catarrh.



Columbus, O., May 18, 1897.

"Besides having the merits of Pe-ru-na so fully demonstrated in my family, I have a number of friends who have taken it for catarrh and stomach trouble and all unite in praising it. As a remedy for catarrh I can fully recommend it."

Colonel Hamilton's residence is located at 300 West First Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.

That Pe-ru-na has become a household remedy in this elegant home is well attested by a letter from Mrs. Hamilton, which says: "I can bear testimony as to the merits of your remedy Pe-ru-na. I have been taking the same for some time, and am enjoying better health now than I have for some years. I attribute the change to Pe-ru-na, and recommend Pe-ru-na to every woman, believing it to be especially beneficial to them."

Address The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, of Columbus, Ohio, for a free copy of "The National Witness."

Spring Medicine

These two words emphasize a necessity and indicate a remedy.

SPRING—the season when the blood is most impure as a result of the winter's closer confinement, higher living, slower action of the kidneys and liver; when humors of all kinds, boils, pimples and eruptions are most liable to appear; when the weak, languid condition of the whole bodily structure demands and welcomes help.

MEDICINE—that to which the millions turn at this season—Hood's Sarsaparilla. The original and only preparation especially adapted to the present needs of the human family; that which makes the blood pure and clean, as shown by its thousands of wonderful cures of dreadful blood diseases; creates an appetite and cures dyspepsia, as shown by its "magic touch" in all stomach troubles; steadies and strengthens the nerves, as proved by people formerly nervous, now calm and self-possessed, thanks to

Only those who have been relieved of great suffering can fully appreciate the gratitude with which the testimonials overflow written in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Just read this:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—"My first experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla was when I used it as a tonic and spring medicine. It did me so much good my faith in its merits became very strong. About two years later I had a running sore on my foot. It developed into erysipelas and affected the entire limb. At that time I was Very Much Run Down,

as I had been troubled with dyspepsia. The drain on my system was so severe and my stomach was so weak I became a ready victim of malaria. I feared I could never regain my health. My stomach rebelled at the simplest food, and the medicines prescribed for me gave but little relief. I sent for a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I had taken this medicine but three days when I began to improve. Continuing with it, I am now better and stronger than I ever expected to be. It has purified my blood and given good circulation. I have had no return of my old troubles since." MRS. W. KANE, Media, Pa. Hood's Sarsaparilla is

The Medicine For You

Because of what it has done for others; because you ought this spring to take that which will do you the most good.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

America's Greatest Medicine, because it cures when all others fail. Be sure to get Hood's.

The Land of Christ.

Under this title, the Passenger Department of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern Railroad has issued a splendid series of views made by the half-tone process from photographs taken in the Holy Land. The subjects embrace people, scenery and cities, as they exist today in that famous country. The work is published in twelve parts, each containing from twelve to fifteen views. Each picture is fully explained by descriptive reading matter. A sample part will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in postage, and the complete set will be forwarded, postpaid, on receipt of ninety-five cents. Postage stamps will not be received for the full set, but remittance must be made to the undersigned by draft, postal order, express money order, or registered letter. This is a rare chance to secure more than two hundred views of the Land of Christ for less than one dollar. Address Geo. P. Lyman, G. P. A., C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

How many petitions have you signed without knowing what they were all about?—Rural New Yorker.

There is no reason why a calico dress should not look as well as a stuff dress if it be properly made. Get a piece of Simpson's Print and you can find nothing to equal it in quality, brilliancy of color or beauty of design. The name Wm. Simpson & Sons on the ticket is the best guarantee you can have.

There is room for everybody in this big world, but we can't all have front rooms.—Chicago Daily News.

If you are troubled with dandruff there is a remedy—"Cocoaine." Send your address to Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., for their pamphlet on "The Hair, Its Care and Management."

A fellow doesn't really enjoy a favor if he is immediately asked to return it.—Washington Democrat.

I can recommend Piso's Cure for Consumption to sufferers from Asthma.—E. D. Townsend, Ft. Howard, Wis., May 4, '94.

There is a remedy for everything except some of the remedies.—Chicago News.

Crippled for years? Pshaw! Why St. Jacobs Oil will cure sprains right off. Sure.

Almost anybody can own a horse and buggy.—Washington Democrat.

Explosions of Coughing are stopped by Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

The silver lining to a great many clouds is nothing but moonshine.

Surely. Often after 10, 15, 20 years' suffering, St. Jacobs Oil cures rheumatism.

We can't see the benefit in learning to work puzzles.—Washington Democrat.

Sore and stiff? Cold. St. Jacobs Oil the Cure. It warms and relaxes.

Empty wagons rattle most.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

Black, deep bruises cured by St. Jacobs Oil. It wipes them out.

THE RUSH TO THE KLONDIKE.

100,000 Prospectors this Year—Is there Room for Them?—The Best Routes to Dawson City, and what to take—The Methods of Mining, and all about the Alaskan Country.

THE FIRST AUTHENTIC AND THOROUGH ARTICLE. With Thirty Illustrations. By S. S. Bush, President of the Chilkoot Pass Transportation Co

THE PREVENTION OF LYNCHING.

The Problem in the Southern States. By Edward L. Pell, D. D.

THE BLOWING UP OF THE BATTLESHIP "MAINE."

Spain and the United States.

THE ZOLA-DREYFUS AFFAIR.

Interviews with Zola, Nordau and Drumont. Another St. Bartholomew's Day?

SILVER IN THE NEXT CAMPAIGN.

These articles, and fifty more, are in the

MARCH REVIEW OF REVIEWS.

No up-to-date American should miss it.

This magazine is invaluable for the country physician, lawyer, clergyman, merchant, and the intelligent farmer. It gives all the legitimate news, with nearly a hundred portraits and pictures, every month.

PRESIDENT GATES, OF IOWA COLLEGE, says: "There cannot be found in any other current literature in the English language so brilliant an interpretation of passing events in every part of the world."

BISHOP JOHN H. VINCENT: "I regard the Review of Reviews as the latest and best means of aid for the busy man who wants to be familiar with the language of the time."

THE LATE FRANCES E. WILLARD, PRESIDENT WORLD'S W. C. T. U.: "The brightest outlook window in Christendom for busy people who want to see what is going on the world."

CYRUS NORTHROP, L. L. D., PRESIDENT UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA: "The Review of Reviews is invaluable. More than any other publication, it brings the reader into communication with the whole thinking world at once."

SEND 25c IN STAMPS FOR THIS NUMBER CONTAINING THE KLONDIKE ARTICLE.

Special Offer to Readers of this Advertisement:

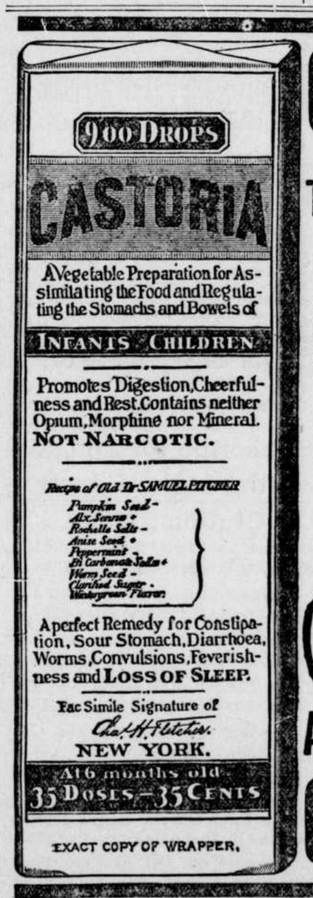
The regular price of the Review of Reviews is $2.50. We will send the magazine to readers of this paper on a trial subscription for six months for $1.00. Cut out this coupon.

Address

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS CO., 13 Astor Place, NEW YORK CITY.

"EAST, WEST, HOME IS BEST," IF KEPT CLEAN WITH

SAPOLIO



CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND

POMMEL SLICKER

The Best Saddle Coat.

Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

WINCHESTER GUN FREE

CATALOGUE

SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

A STARTER.

PACKETS OF

5 SWEET PEAS

5 CENTS.

All choice named varieties, each kind in separate packet of over 50 SEEDS EACH, mailed for 5 cents. Catalogue of bargains in Seeds and Plants, free. OLIVER H. DREW, Hibernia, N. Y.

CLOVER SEED

Largest growers of Grass and Clover Seeds in America. 2000 acres. Our Grass Mixtures last a lifetime. Meadows sown in April will give a rousing crop in July. Prices dirt cheap. Mammoth catalogue and 11 pkgs. Grass and Grains, FREE for but 10c. and this notice. Catalogue 5c. JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS. (K.T.)

SEND FOR A BICYCLE

High Grade '98 Models, $14 to $40.

GREAT CLEARING SALE of '97 and '96 models, best makes, $9.75 to $18. Sent on approval without a cent payment. Free use of wheel to our agents. Write for our new plan "How to Earn a Bicycle" and make money. SPECIAL THIS WEEK—$9 high grade '97 models (slightly shopworn), $10.75 each. "Wanderings Awheel," a souvenir book of art, FREE for stamp while they last.

J. W. MEAD CYCLE CO., CHICAGO.

Employment and Success assured, by learning YOUR talents. Send 25 cents and photo. with letter in own writing for Character Reading and Business Advice. Photo returned. National Bureau of Character, 1307 11th St., Washington, D. C.

$15 A WEEK and expenses for honest, active man or woman, as special representative in their vicinity. Responsible House; experience unnecessary. KEELER & KIRKPATRICK, Philadelphia, Pa.

7,000,000 ACRES—Farms, Timber, Mineral, Colony lands; South; cheap, easy terms. FREE CATALOGUE. W. H. CRAWFORD & CO., Nashville, Tenn.

WELL MACHINERY—Great Money Makers. LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

A. N. K.—G 1701

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, MAR. 25, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

—Haye you started your stamp photo collection yet.

—Good hay is now being marketed for $3.50 per ton in Delano.

—Mrs. Beckers has had her residence on North River street reshingled.

—C. M. Conzet is quite a hoss jockey. He now offers for sale a good work horse, cheap.

—Rev. J. S. McCornack, of Howard Lake, expects to fill his appointments on Tuesday evenings, at this place regularly again.

—The Delano High School spring vacation has arrived and for one week the teachers and scholars will take a rest from books.

—Our fine spring weather had a bad set back since last week: but the sun has once more appeared and is warming things up again.

—L. Bartlett is shipping potatoes from Delano now. There was quite a fair crop of tubers raised in this vicinity last year, good ones too.

—Mrs. Webber will talk in the interest of the Children's Aid Society, at the M. E. church, Sunday evening. She has the position formerly filled by Mrs. Russell.

—C. W. Kerrick has had a crew of men at work on the Foston branch of R. R. for some time. He expects to send out another crew to Montana, Monday. He is getting to business early this spring.

--Just watch all the people going to have stamp photos taken at Wolfendon's.

—The Village council has concluded that eleven o'clock is late enough for Delano people to be up, and has voted to have the electric lights turned off at that hour each night.

--Oranges are cheap now, and you can select from a large variety at C. A. Brunkow's. He also keeps fine lines in groceries, cigars, and tobacco, and a full line of farm and garden seeds.

--Lettuce, cucumbers, olives, mackerel, white fish, oysters, pork, beef, mutton, sausages, headcheese, lard, poultry, a fine lot of catsup and canned goods can be found at F. A. Cramer's City Meat Market.

--The Delano High School held their regular literary society last night at the school house. The programme was one of the best yet given. Several numbers were encored, the grammar room trio coming in for their share. All were well pleased with the meeting.

—A representative of a Minneapolis Mutual Collection Agency was doing business with some of our citizens who have a lot of poor debts to collect, last week. Those who have a lot of old debts to pay may save trouble and expense by paying before the agent gets after them.

—Early risers on Monday morning saw a fair sized wreck on the G. N. near the depot. It seems that the train stopped to water at the tank and when starting up the engine smashed into some cars that had become detatched from a train. Three empty box cars were off the track. One was turned on its side. All were more or less damaged.

—On Saturday evening a large number of men from Buffalo, Rockford, Minneapolis and other neighboring villages visited Delano and had an awful funny time, judging from the repeated loud peals of laughter that floated out from the City Hall, during the night. It was a meeting of the Oriental Order of Humility initiating about 30 candidates.

—Considerable sport is had at our neighboring village, Maple Plain, at the expense of the genial depot agent, S. A. Lantz, who takes it all in good part. A few weeks since, Simon came to Delano to become a member of the M. W. A. He thought to return by the early morning train, which happened to be late, so he started out via. Walker's express. The boys say he made connections by a hair's breadth, but, on appearing at home, looked as if he had been baptised. Maybe the Woodmen had him driving logs.

—Chemical Fire Extinguishers seem to be growing in favor. Among many who have lately mentioned the fact of the reliability of such we note the County Line, in speaking of the late elevator fire at Eden Valley it says: "President Nerlien arrived with a five gallon can of fire extinguisher. The application of this fluid really did more to extinguish the flames than anything else." It might be advisable for our village authorities and school board and others to invest something in extinguishers. Care should be taken, however, to see that the extinguishers do not produce deadly gasses where they are to be used in school rooms.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Nursery Stock.

If you wish for anything in the Nursery line call on me for prices. Trees, apples, plums, grapevines, currants, gooseberries, raspberries, flowers, anything in my line. Consult me at home near Delano, or write me at Delano, and I will surely please you. I sell the Hankins Bros. Rose Hill Nursery, Minnesota stock.

tf. CHARLES SELL.

--Subscribe for the GAZETTE.

—Bock Bros. are riprapping the river bank just below their mill. A good move.

—The Epworth League voted to have a sociable two weeks from tonight, April 8.

—C. M. Conzet has a new power clipper. He will clip your horse while you wait. Price $1.50 per head.

Personal.

Uncle Joe Bland, of Marysville, was in town yesterday.

Miss Bertha Johnson, of Minneapolis, is sick at Olaf Peterson's.

John Sutton is home from Glasgow, Mont., to recruit his health.

Dr. Catlin made a professional call at Maple Plain Friday evening.

Dr. Means, of Howard Lake, was in town a couple of days this week.

Vernon Wilder of the "U" came up Thursday evening for a visit at home.

Rev. Egan, of Watertown, preached at the Catholic church Sunday evening.

Capt. John Seibel and Hon. John Belden, of Montrose visited Delano Wednesday.

C. A. Thompson and wife, of New Brighton, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Elmer Babb.

Postmaster Cassel, of Lyndale, drove over Monday to replenish his stock of groceries.

F. H. Lindsley drove to Maple Plain Friday, returning in the snow storm in the evening.

I. Gutzwiller Jr. was among passengers home from the Twin Cities, Friday evening.

J. T. Hanna, of Herman, was a Delano visitor yesterday. He is on his way to Missouri.

Mrs. M. J. Stone received a visit from her brother, Robert Varien of Hastings, this week

Mrs. George Borrell, of Morris, visited Delano relatives last week, returning home Saturday.

Baron Von Kruger, who has been for some time at Howard Lake, has again returned to Delano.

Mrs. E. W. Russell, nee Miss Mealy Walter and son, of Wisconsin, is visiting her aunt Mrs. William Lewis.

Mrs. Harry Haines, of St. Paul came home with her mother Mrs. E. J. Swedeback last Friday evening for a visit.

Theodore Wenzel, who has been working in the Northern Wisconsin pineries during the winter, returned home last Monday.

Nick Frank visited relatives near Stillwater, the latter part of last week, and, while away, laid in a stock of buggies and wagons.

Sister Lenis, of the Parochial school, received a visit several days last week from her sister and little boy of Duluth. They returned Tuesday evening.

Albert G. Schutze, of the "U" was up interviewing the Board of Education, Saturday. He has applied for the position of teacher of the Grammar Department.

Fay Parslow, who returned from Minneapolis Monday, where he has been taking the Osteopathic treatment, left Wednesday for Hankinson, N. D. to learn telegraphy with his brother Henry.

County Cullings.

Minneota Mascot: A. J. Whitaker, who has been in charge of the Great Northern station at Marshall, has been promoted, having been appointed traveling freight agent.

CHATHAM.

Supervisors, H. C. Eldred, chairman, Caspar Zumbrosh, John Meara; clerk, Daniel Scanlon; treasurer, James Whalen; assessor, Daniel Sullivan; justice, W. W. Washburn, constable, Henry Nevenkamp.

CORINNA.

Supervisors, Frank Schneider chairman, Henry Scheyer, John Bullock, clerk, Wm. Ponsford; treasurer, O. Longworth; assessor, Andrew Kuhnley; justices, E. C Day, J. VanDyke.

OTSEGO.

Supervisors, A. P. Praught, chairman, K. Huring, H. McLeod; C. T. Snow, clerk; Henry Calkins, treasurer; Thos. McLeod, assessor.

MONTICELLO TOWN.

Supervisors, M. W. Kingsbury, S. Sykes. W. D. Hamlet; clerk, M. J. Kingsbury; treasurer, Orrin Wedgwood; assessor, Andrew McCornack, justice, F. A. Johnson; constables, W. H. Bertram, W. H. Nichols.

VICTOR.

W. B. Spray, chairman, Conrad Diers, David Persinger; clerk, H. C. Kuhlman; treasurer, Henry Horstman; assessor, Eward Franklin; justice, R. E. Franklin; constable, Wm. Kliche.

WAVERLY VILLAGE.

President, E. P. Kelly; trusteees, J. H. Barrett, Al. Schmidt, J. J. Nolan; recorder, J. F. McDonell; treasurer, E. H. Brabec; justices. F. W. Schmidt, J. H. Kennedy; street commissioner, Martin Murphy; constable, Chris Mueller.

MAPLE PLAIN.

Ye Editor visited Maple Plain last week for the first time for a long while. The place seems to be improving. We had not time to see it all, but S. A. Lantz still sells tickets to those desiring to travel by Jim Hill's cars.

Eugene Conover has fixed up the old stand of Mrs. Smith and is doing well in the merchantile business. His store is headquarters for the telephone company.

Ben Drake, further down street, runs a general store. Julius Hardt has a room adjoining in which he transacts post office business for Uncle Sam and the convenience of the people. He also keeps hotel.

John Hillstrom has purchased the Cleveland Hotel and is also catering to the wants of the traveling public.

The I. O. O. F's have built a nice new hall. They say that the lower story is not a barn for the goat, as people can readily see, as soon as they get the new glass front put in.

Dr. Wright attends sick calls.

Mr. Peterson blacksmiths.

There is a good school of two departments.

Mrs. H. Clay Budd was confined to the house by sickness.

We didn't see everything and as we hope to visit the burg again before long the rest of the population can take warning and be where they can't be missed next time. We would suggest that a subscription for one year to the GAZETTE would have a tendency to remind the editor that you get your mail at Maple Plain.

Aitkin Age: Whoever the Republican candidate for Governor may be, if he has John Lind for his opponent, he will be forced to admit that Dave Clough was a pretty good vote getter himself.

That settles it. There will be no war. The Rothschilds announce that they will not allow any European nation to go to war against the United States and thus damage their investments. The Rothschilds own most of the powers of Europe and exert a mighty influence over the rest. It really rests with the Rothschilds and Mark Hanna to say whether there shall be war anywhere on the globe. Mark's recent instructions to McKinley and the Rothschild declaration of peace disposes of the war question, at present at least.—Times.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 50

If your add was here somebody would read it, and might call on you.

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chonce with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Iguis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1895, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal And the Buffalo Gazette Both one year For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the Buffalo Gazette, Delano, Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.

A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.

A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year. Send for sample; agents wanted.

Published weekly by the Silver Knight Publishing Co., WASHINGTON, D. C.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50. With Free Press Year Book $1.65.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and the Silver Knight Watchman, weekly, two papers for one year, for $1.65.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE, Delano, Minn.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat, No. 1 per bu.,		$ .88
" " No. 2 " "		$ .85
" " No. 3 " "		$ .82
Rye " "		$ .39
Potatoes, per bu.,	80	.40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.08
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .07
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

DIED.

HOAR.—At Monticello, Thursday, March 17 Mr. Ira Hoar, aged 95 years.

BARRETT.—At Waverly, Saturday, March 19, Michael Barrett aged 55 years.

JOHNSON.—In Alaska, March 1, Mrs. Annie Johnson, (nee, Miss Annie Berneck) aged 24 years.

Miss Berneck was formerly a citizen of the township of Franklin living about a mile west of Delano. Her Father Casper Berneck being among early settlers here. Her remains were brought back to Seattle for burial.

O'MERA.—At his home in Greenwood, near Rockford, Tuesday, March 15, 1898, John O'Mera, aged 69 years.

Deceased was born in Burlington, Vt., Sept, 22, 1828. In 1854 he was married to Miss Francis Emery, of Thomaston, Me. To them was born thirteen children, six of whom, with his companion remain to mourn his loss. His suffering during the past two years from renal disease has been intense; but through it all he remained conscious till the last moment he lived. He was a kind husband a loving father and a true friend. He was among the early settlers in the big woods, and a man much respected by a large number of acquaintances whose sympathy the bereaved family has.

DELANO FURNITURE CO.

GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING

PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING, REPAIRING AND GENERAL CARPENTERING,

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Advertise in the GAZETTE for trade.

J. BRANDSER. MERCHANT TAILOR. DELANO, MINN.

Spring Styles

Goods on Hand BIGGEST STOCK THAT EVER CAME To Wright County.

NOBBY SUITS, FIT GUARANTEED.

Call soon and get a choice of Patterns.

22-tf.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New. Abreast of the Times. A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged."

Everybody should own the Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority. Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the perfection of dictionaries. I commend it as the one great standard authority."

Recommended by Every State Superintendent of Schools Now in Office.

A saving of three cents per day for a year will provide more than enough money to purchase a copy of the International. Can you afford to be without it?

Have your Bookseller show it to you.

G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

Do not buy cheap photographic reprints of ancient editions. Write for free prospectus containing specimen pages, prices, etc.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE GAZETTE.

-Advertis E- IN THE GAZETTE.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE and LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE, Delano, Minn.

GAZETTE. ONE YEAR $1.00

The Pioneer Press.

"OLDEST AND BEST"

With the SPECIAL CABLES OF THE NEW YORK HERALD

The Full Service of the ASSOCIATED PRESS and its PRIVATE N. Y. WIRES

PRINTS THE NEWS 12 to 24 Hours Ahead of any Northwestern Newspaper.

G. H. GREEN & CO., CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.

All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.

Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.

20. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

FOR FINE JOB PRINTING,

IN THE LINE OF

Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line of Printing,

CALL AT THE

Gazette Office.

D. W. FLANNIGAN, WAVERLY

Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County

D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month: this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

CHOICE GARDEN AND FLOWER SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until JanuaRy 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1898. NUMBER 27.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

CANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
ALBION.—Preaching..... "
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m
Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President, THOS. B. RADER.
Trustees, ADAM HORSCH, JOHN E. BORSCH, A. E. JOHNSON.
Recorder, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, W. H. FRAZEE., R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, DARV WELKER.
Board of Health, T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary, C. A. BRONKOW.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables JOSEPH MERRIMAN. GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $75.00 and expenses. Position steady. References. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

WHAT the American people want is peace, even though they have to fight to get it; and they want it right soon, too.

IT is a shame for politicians to fool around with such a question as that of war and to try to make political capital out of it. If Congress favored the Independence of Cuba and Mr. Bailey, the Democratic leader was recognized by the Republican Speaker Reed, to make the motion that it should be so recognized, it ought to have been passed at once, and not be dilly dallied along with until some republican could be found to suit the crowd to make the motion. A political war is not wanted on the subject of whether or not Cuba shall be independent at this time.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S message to Congress on the blowing up of the Maine is considered a very tame affair. He simply turned over the findings of the investigating committee, that the Maine was blown up from outside, but laying the blame on no one. He relied on the honor of Spain to make things right. It is customary for the President to express his views on questions of such importance and offer suggestions, at least, as to the best thing to be done. It seems to be the sense of Congress, and of the people that money can't make amends for the lives taken by the explosion that destroyed the great vessel.

"Hot Tamales."

It is rumored that Rev. David Morgan is negotiating with the United States Government for the sale of the Bethel "battleship" to be used in the war with Spain.—Hot Tamales, St. Paul Dispatch.

It would seem that David has not yet completed his work in the Saintly city, or such a paragraph making sport of his work would not appear in a leading daily of his home city. But this is the paper that tried to have people believe that John Lind was an infidel.

Terribly Particular.

The St. Paul Dispatch, not in "Hot Tamales" either, has the following:

Bailey, of Texas, should not flatter himself that the republicans will accept him as a leader simply because the democrats have been foolish enough to do so. When Cuban independence is resolved, it will not be on motion of Joseph Bailey.—Dispatch.

The Dispatch is terribly particular about its war leaders. Perhaps it would be willing for Mr. Bailey and his followers to go to war as private soldiers.

As the republicans are so at outs with each other, it may be there will be no war, as the proper person can't be found to make the motion. What a lack of sincerity! What a waste of sympathy! Sitting around quarreling over who shall have the honor of making the motion.

If Mr. Bailey has patriotism and human sympathy enough to be first in moving a resolution that Cuba be declared free and independent, why should not all patriots vote for the motion? If a republican should make the motion will it be expected of the democrats to vote it down? Such smallness! Such selfishness! Statesmen who will look after the interests of country and of suffering humanity, rather than cater to the interests of money owners and loaners is what is wanted at Washington.

Diphtheria Epidemic at Chaska.

CHASKA, Minn., March 27.—An epidemic of diphtheria has broken out in Chaska and the surrounding country. Twelve cases are reported. Mrs. John C. Hellriegel died yesterday. The public schools have been closed and the afflicted families quarantined. —Minneapolis Tribune.

What To Eat for April.

People with stomach trouble of any kind should read Dr. Hoy's articles in What To Eat. They are of much interest even to well people.

The publishers are now offering a bicycle for forty subscribers, and numerous other premiums for smaller numbers.

Single copies 10 cents, or $1 a year. Send for sample copy and particulars. Address.

What To Eat, Minneapolis.

Democrats to the Front.

The Democrats are right to the front this time. They have already opened up the campaign and intend keeping things warm until election. They hope to form an aliance with all reform workers and sweep their men into office on one of the highest waves of popular public sentiment that ever struck this state. Everybody is tired of ring rule; thoroughly disgusted with the rotten old wrecks that have so long stood in the way of a thorough cleaning of the troubled sea of politics.

A general reformation is called for. The time is ripe for a union of forces to down what has been becoming worse and worse for years until the very party in power has itself arrived at the turning point, and many of its old members will now aid the movement for a general cleansing of all parties.

Let Democrats themselves now take heart and stand firmly for their principles, and good representative men on the ticket, and the people of all parties will help them in their Herculean task and a better state of affairs will exist in Minnesota state business.

Democratic State Convention.

At a meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee held Wednesday at the Merchant's Hotel, St. Paul, it was decided to hold an early convention, and to have the county committees for the next year chosen at the first convention held. This makes the first primary election for delegates of even more than usual importance to the people.

The State Convention is to be held in Minneapolis on June 15 commencing at noon.

It is to consist of about 1563 delegates being one of the largest ever held in the state.

The convention is to be held on the same day as that of the Populists. It is proposed to work in harmony with the Populists without surrendering any party principles.

County conventions will be held on Thursday, June 9, to elect delegates to the State Convention.

The State Convention will nominate State officers to be voted for at the next election and transact what other business may come before it.

Let every democrat make it a point to attend the first caucus or primary election, one and the same thing, and vote for delegates to the county convention who will vote right and help elect proper delegates to the State convention.

If you want to vote this fall you must have your second papers, if you have not already got them, or are not a citizen of the United States.

Among Our Exchanges.

Pioneer Press: Patriotic youths who are longing to enlist should take note of the fact that in France eight well known bicyclists have just been rejected by the military authorities because they are physically disabled.

Waseca Herald: We reverence the words of Abraham Lincoln who said: "If a government creates a debt with a certain amount of money in circulation and then contracts the volume of money before the debt is paid, it is the most heinous crime a government can commit against the people."

The English Language as an aid to Insanity.

Imagine yourself a foreigner striving to master the construction of the English language. Perhaps you may be gazing at a number of vessels on the water, and exclaim, "See what a flock of ships!" You are at once told that a flock of ships is called a fleet, and that a fleet of sheep is called a flock. It might also be added for your future guidance that a flock of girls is called a bevy, while a bevy of wolves is called a pack; yet a pack of thieves is called a gang, and a gang of angels is called a host; but a host of porpoises is called a shoal, and a shoal of buffaloes is called a herd. Still a herd of children is called a troop, but a troop of patridges is called a covey; a covey of beauties is called a galaxy, while a galaxy of ruffians is called a horde; further, a horde of rubbish is called a heap, yet a heap of oxen is called a drove; a drove of blackguards is called a mob, but a mob of whales is called a school; a school of worshippers is called a congregation, while a congregation of engineers is called a corps; a corps of robbers is called a band, though a band of locusts is called a swarm, and a swarm of people is called a crowd; a crowd of pictures is called a collection, but a collection of money is called a hoard, a hoard of people is called a company; a company of ministers, however, is called an assembly, and an assembly of soldiers is called a muster. "Stop, stop!" methinks I hear you cry. "I cannot remember half of it."—From "The English Language," in Demorest's Family Magazine for April.

Advertise

SUBSCRIBE

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25, 1898.

Mr. McKinley now has the official report of the Naval Court of Inquiry on the Maine disaster—he had the substance of the report five days ago—and has promised that he would send it, together with a copy of his note to Spain on the report, to Congress early next week. He also has a correct idea of the overwhelming sentiment of Congress, which he has obtained by conferring during the week with leading democrats and republicans. He has been told that any step he takes towards driving Spain out of Cuba will be enthusiastically supported by Congress, and given to understand that if he fails to take such step, Congress would take the lead and force him to do so. It looks now as though free Cuba was assured. Even Boss Hanna has thrown up the sponge and ceased to advocate peace-at-any-price. He has done more, he has denied that he had any connection or interest in the syndicate that wants to buy Cuba from Spain and have the United States guarantee the payment of a trifle of $300,000,000 in Cuban bonds which they would issue to make the purchase. The jig seems to be up, and the influences that have operated to keep Mr. McKinley's hands tied have apparently accepted the inevitable, not because they wanted to, but because they realize that the people and Congress are overwhelmingly determined that the Saturnalia of Spanish rule in Cuba shall be wiped out.

The republicans were a little slow in getting in line with public sentiment, but the stampede began when Senator Proctor gave that awful picture of what he saw in Cuba, and it was accelerated by the vigorous speches along the same lines made this week by Senators Gallinger and Thurston, who also spoke from personal experience, and now they are nearly all fully abreast of the democrats in demanding action on the part of the administration, that will free Cuba, regardless of whether Spain pouts or fights. It is now in the power of Mr. McKinley to say what that action shall be, but if he he does not quickly exercise that power he will loose it.

The House Military Committee met the demands of the democrats by so amending the bill authorizing an increase of the regular army to 104,000 men that men can only be enlisted under the act in time of actual war. Another amendment provides that at the close of any war in which the U. S. shall become involved the army shall be at once reduced to the regular peace basis.

Senator Mason has declined the offer of Dr. George Powell, of La Crosse, Wisconsin, to take his place, and accept the challenge sent him by a Spanish editor; also a similar offer from Minneapolis. Senator Mason says he has accepted the challenge, and adds: "I have chosen submarine mines, for the weapons in this duel. The Spaniard is to be launched over my mine as long as the Maine was launched over the one in Havana harbor, and if I can't blow him up in the same length of time, then I agree to sit over his mine and let him have a chance. If this fellow accepts these conditions, I think I will rid the world of at least one Spaniard, and may get a chance at a few more."

It is no assertion to say that the industrial progress of America, which has long led the world, is shown in the records of the U. S. Patent Office, but that fact is emphasized anew by the valuable information for all who are interested in the continued maintenance of our greatness and progress in industrial lines, and who is not, contained in the report for 1897 of Hon. A. P. Greeley, acting Commissioner of Patents—information that is invaluable to those who desire to be up to date with the world of industrial and inventive progress. The report will be sent free to all who apply in writing for it to the Commissioner of Patents, Washington, D. C.

An informal conference of a number of the vice-presidents of the National Association of Democratic Clubs was held this week at the headquarters of the association, and very encouraging reports were made, as to club organization and the general outlook for democratic success in the campaign this fall and in 1900. Without exception every one present indicated their belief that the Chicago platform would be readopted by the next democratic National convention and that Mr. Bryan would be again nominated to head the ticket. The following attended the conference: Hon. L. J. Handy, of Ohio; Hon. Blair Lee, of Md.; Hon. T. C. McRae, of Ark.; Hon. J. J. Dentz, of Ohio; Hon. J. L. Mitchell, of Wis.; Hon. J. L. Rawlings, of Utah; Hon. J. L. Slayden, of Texas; Hon. J. F. Fitzgerald, of Mass.; Hon. J. G. Maguire, of Cal.; Hon. J. Wheeler, of Ala.; Hon. Benton McMillin, of Tenn.; and Lawrence Gardner, Secretary of the association.

It is not probable that either of the three battleships—one to be named Maine—or the six torpedo boats, and 6 torpedo boat destroyers provided for in the regular Naval Appropriation bill, now being considered by the House, will be ready to to take part in the war with Spain, but they indicate the spirit of congress. The five dry docks provided for in the same bill may be of service before we have whipped Spain to a satisfactory extent, and anyway they are needed all the time by our ships.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

Albert E. Albertson, Alexandria, stump extractor. Frank Chimgar, Ely, saw handle. Oscar A. Danielson, Owatonna, drop signal apparatus. Maurice Hanson, Swendola, automatic grain measurer. John P. Johnson, West brook, wrench. Charles H. King, Granite Falls, blowpipe. Carl W. Thies, Minneapolis, Geo. E. Wilson, Stillwater, rope drive mechanism.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Advertise in the GAZETTE.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

Spanish War.

A great many people wonder at the seeming audacity of Spain in not conceding to all the demands upon that monarchy by the United States, and the apparent courage of her statesmen and counsellors in the impending and now seemingly unavoidable conflict between that nation and our great union. They seem to consider this as a positive proof that Spain is to be aided by other European nations, in case of war. But this is not necessarily the case. What reason has Spain to fear us? She has everything to gain and nothing to loose. Cuba is virtually lost to her now. The war, if one should come, would be almost entirely on the seas. Neither country is able to carry an army, in transports, across the Atlantic and maintain it there in the face of the opposing fleet. The naval strength of the two countries is nearly equal. Spain has not so many first class battle ships, but more third class cruisers, capable of destroying our merchantmen and crippling our commerce. She has only one seventh the amount of commerce to defend. She has only a few hundred miles of Atlantic sea coast to watch, and, by guarding the passages into the Mediterranean, she could defend herself from attack on her eastern border, while the United States has thousands of miles of open sea coast to protect. This would leave Spain the larger unhampered fleet in action, and war might then not be as funny as a great many seem to think it would. In time the United States could destroy the entire Spanish navy, and lay the country open to attack; but this would be at an extremely great cost.

One of the chief reasons why Spain is so dallying with the United States is to cover up her loss of Cuba and attribute it to a war with the great American republic, thus to cover up her shame at not being able to subdue 25,000 or 30,000 half starved and poorly armed insurgents.

The belligerent rights of the Cuban Insurgents should have been recognized by our government long ago. Instead of doing police duty for Spain we should have aided the struggling patriots. Spain declared there was no war, but took 200,000 soldiers to the little island, possibly on a friendly visit with the yellow fever, and commenced to butcher and starve the inhabitants until now there is scarcely one half of them left. And then the Maine was blown to atoms and over 250 American sailors killed by a submarine mine in Hayanna harbor, where she was moored by a Spanish pilot according to the report of the Board of Inquirie's investigation. It is now time for Uncle Sam to take little Spain across his knee, and in a kind, fatherly way, compel him to drop Cuba and make proper amends for his insults and work of destruction. But it is well for him to look upon the question with deliberation, and make proper preparations before commencing hostilities, and perhaps a way may be found to take away the advantage of the Spanish navy, caused by the difference in the amount of sea coast and commerce to be defended by each nation. J.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET

The BUFFALO GAZETTE
—AND—
THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS

BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR

FOR ONLY $1.50.

THE SONG OF THE "No. 9."

My dress is of fine polished oak,
As rich as the finest fur cloak,
And for handsome design
You just should see mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I'm beloved by the poor and the rich,
For both I impartially stitch;
In the cabin I shine,
In the mansion I'm fine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I never get surly nor tired,
With zeal I always am fired;
To hard work I incline,
For rest I ne'er pine—
No. 9, No. 9.

I am easily purchased by all,
With instalments that monthly do fall;
And when I am thine,
Then life is benign—
No. 9, No. 9.

To the Paris Exposition I went,
Upon getting the Grand Prize intent:
I left all behind,
The Grand Prize was mine—
No. 9, No. 9.

At the Universal Exposition of 1889, at Paris France, the best sewing machines of the world, including those of America, were in competition. They were passed upon by a jury composed of the best foreign mechanical experts, two of whom were the leading sewing machine manufacturers of France. This jury, after exhaustive examination and tests, adjudged that the Wheeler & Wilson machines were the best of all, and awarded that company the highest prize offered—the GRAND PRIZE—giving other companies only gold, silver and bronze medals.

The French government, as a further recognition of superiority, decorated Mr. Nathaniel Wheeler, president of the company, with the Cross of the Legion of Honor—the most prized honor of France.

The No. 9, for family use, and the No. 12, for manufacturing uses, are the best in the world to-day.

And now, when you want a sewing machine, if you do not get the best it will be your own fault. Ask your sewing machine dealer for the No. 9 Wheeler & Wilson machine. If he doesn't keep them, write to us for descriptive catalogue and terms. Agents wanted in all unoccupied territory. WHEELER & WILSON MFG. CO. Chicago, Ill.

Politics and War.

INDEPENDENCE, Minn., March 1898.

MR. EDITOR: When Greek meets Greek then comes the tug of war. When Dutch meets Dutch then comes the lager beer.

This may not be a very inviting text to start out on, but as war has been the topic for sometime thought it might answer for a starter. If you can tell anything by some people's talk we have got a good many men who are anxious to fight.

When I was a small boy I sometimes went with my grandfather to break up hornets nests, but grandfather done The killing of the hornets.

It is easy to talk of war and what we could do, etc. but wars are destructive and demoralizing. They cause lots of loss of life and property and fill a nation with heart aches. Fight if needs be, but keep from it if by honorable means.

From the days of the Babylonian Empire, wars seemed to be fashionable, but it would seem that in these days of enlightenment and education, people ought to know better than to have a desire to butcher up their fellow men.

I know that just at this time the public mind is absorbed with the subject of war with Spain, and war always takes the precedent of every other issue. It is claimed the United States is the wealthiest nation of the world and yet we cannot or do not pay our debts. Then let us not, if it is a possible thing more than impoverish the rising generation by going to war. The sacrificing of innocent blood will not atone for our sins. People are already burdened with high taxes, and unless there is retrenchment and reform from some direction the people will be compelled to call a halt. Hennepin county, so called the banner county of the state, has the largest delinquent tax list for 1896 it ever had, and that of my own town is larger than ever before. The gold of the Klondike and the silver from Nevada can not come too soon. But they say silver is a spurious money worth only fifty cents on the dollar for the bondholders and the aristocrats of Wall street, but perhaps is good enough to pay the hod carrier. Equal rights and equality in law is what the constitution guarantees to the people of this country whether he be Jew or Gentile. Mr. Editor where is the blood of patriotism and the milk of human kindness, for never since the days of the rebellion was our country so depressed and so confused. The love of money and the germ in politics has taken such deep root in this country that it almost threatens the foundation of our government. What will be the clarion call? Will it be to arms or will it be a peace Congress of nations?

In olden times it was the law or custom every fifty years to declare a year of jubilee. All slaves were freed. All debts were canceled, and every body started on an equality in regard to wealth, and I have thought such might be a good thing in these days.

It is said there are 72,000,000 acres of land in Great Britain and Ireland, and more than one eighth are owned by forty-four persons. The Duke of Sutherland owns 1,358,425 acres of land. The Earl or Fife owns 257,662 acres of land and so it goes on. This land is owned mostly for a pleasure resort and a hunting park. Now did God intend this should be? No. If this state of things goes on where will the poor go to. No doubt God will prepare a place for them when the proper time comes, same as He did the children of Israel We read in Holy Write that God made this earth for mankind, did not make it for a few individuals but for the human race. Because one man is a little shrewder and smarter than another, it is no reason he should have the whole earth, and the other fellow go off beyond the bounds of time and space.

FARMER.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New. Abreast of the Times. A Grand Educator.

Successor of the "Unabridged."

Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority.

Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the perfection of dictionaries. I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

Recommended by Every State Superintendent of Schools Now in Office.

A saving of three cents per day for a year will provide more than enough money to purchase a copy of the International. Can you afford to be without it?

Ask your Bookseller show it to you.

G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

Send for free prospectus containing specimen pages, testimonials, etc.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Latest News

Dr. Rudolph Shiffman was nominated for Mayor of St. Paul, by the democratic convention yesterday.

W. J. Bryan declares the time has come when intervention in the Cuban warfare should be taken and the war brought to an end.

Spain keeps putting off the United States and preparing for war. Mc Kinley has given them another 24 hours in which to modify their reply to his offers to them. Oongress and the people are tired waiting.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

THE

New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
Edison Park, Ill.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE

The Free Press

YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

By sending 15 cents for postage any subscriber to the Free Press can have the book.

$1.65 gets the GAZETTE and the Free Press for One Year, and the Book.

GIVE US A CALL.
W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Years Experience.

Scientific American Agency for

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, DESIGN PATENTS COPYRIGHTS, etc.

For information and free Handbook write to MUNN & CO., 361 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. Oldest bureau for securing patents in America. Every patent taken out by us is brought before the public by a notice given free of charge in the

Scientific American

Largest circulation of any scientific paper in the world. Splendidly illustrated. No intelligent man should be without it. Weekly, $3.00 a year; $1.50 six months. Address MUNN & CO., PUBLISHERS, 361 Broadway, New York.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

As we have smokeless powder, so we may have, if Col. Humbert's gun proves to be a success, a noiseless firearm, and then the result will be in case of war a smokeless, noiseless battle. The new gun is so made as to prevent a flash and to exclude the air from abruptly entering the piece, such entrance being the chief cause of the detonation.

Bismarck, it is said authentically, has Hebrew blood, derived from his maternal grandfather, hence his friendship for the Jews and his making of Baron Borichroeder his financial adviser and confidant. A fact not generally known is that some of the captains of William the Conqueror were Hebrews, and transmitted their blood to many of the greatest of the old Norman families of England.

Russia is beginning to honor her Siberian explorers. A statue is to be erected at Chabarowsk, on the Amur, of Deshnew, the Cossack who went by sea in 1648 from the river Kolyma to the river Anadyr, thus sailing through Behring strait for the first time, and proving that Asia was separated from America. It is proposed, moreover, to change the name of the East Cape into Cape Deshnew, which will probably be objected to by geographers.

The inhabitants of the Marquesas Islands are among the most expert tattooers on earth, and not even the crown of the head, the fingers and the toes are exempt from the needle. The hands are ornamented with utmost care, all of the fingers having their own pattern, so the hand would look as though incased in a tight-fitting glove were it not for the finger nails of enormous length which complete the hand adornment of the wealthier natives.

Lent has closed all theaters in Russia since the beginning of Alexander III.'s reign. A recent ukas now permits plays to be performed during the penitential season, with the exception of the first and last weeks. A distinction is made, however, between grand opera and serious dramas on the one hand and comic opera on the other, the latter being strictly forbidden unless given in a foreign language. Local authorities may prohibit any performance if they see fit.

Bernardo O'Higgins, the Chilean hero after whom the battleship is named, led the Chilean forces during the years in which the country fought for and won independence from Spain. He was president and dictator from 1816 until 1823. O'Higgins was the son of Ambrosia O'Higgins, marquis de Osorno, a poor Irishman, who went to South America to become a priest, but, after a varied career, finally rose to be president of Chile under Spanish domination, and also became viceroy of Peru.

A phonographic apparatus is to be installed in the hall where the municipal council of Etampes, a little town in the forest of Fountainebleau, in France, meets to take down the official record of the proceedings. The man who advanced the scheme charges the city only for the register cylinders, which are kept in its archives. How the names of the various speakers are to be recorded by the machine is not stated, but the French official stenographers are looking forward to the experiment with some interest.

The Chinese have the best illustration of perseverance. One of their countrymen, who had been making strenuous efforts to acquire literary information, discouraged by difficulties, at last gave up his book in despair. As he returned to manual employment he saw a woman rubbing a crowbar on a stone. On inquiring the reason she replied she was in want of a needle and thought she would rub down the crowbar till she got it small enough. The patience of the aged woman provoked him to make another trial.

Accident insurance policies have taken many curious shapes, ranging from the penny in the slot to the coupon in the weekly newspaper, but the limit has been reached in London, where the purchaser of a book of cigarette paper is insured for $50 for a period of 70 days. The annual cost of this amount of insurance is about 75 cents a year, provided the holder of the novel policy is not a cigarette fiend. The amount of insurance is specifically set aside for the defraying of funeral expenses in the event of accidental death.

Twenty Whitehead torpedoes were received at the United States torpedo station at Newport, recently. This new torpedo is provided with a magnetic needle so applied to the steering apparatus that within the range of 300 feet the enemy's ship attracts to itself this terrible missile of destruction. Of great importance is the fact that should the torpedo miss the 300-foot circle of attraction, provision is made for its recall to the vessel firing it. This is accomplished by a pair of wires which run out after it as it proceeds on its errand.

A man has been found in Rome who once endured for several years the torture of imprisonment on the Ile du Diable. He is Gen. Paolo Tibaldi, who was condemned to deportation for life on the charge of conspiring against Napoleon III. He says that in his day the island was a bare rock, without a tree or a blade of grass, and each of the prisoners had no shelter from the sun until he made a hut of driftwood. Finally, however, the press and public opinion in France claimed his liberation, which he obtained at last, arriving in time to fight for the French republic.

An airship has been built of aluminal plates by Hiram S. Maxim. The dimensions given, according to the Inventive American, are as follows: "Cylinder, 38 feet 2 inches in diameter and 90 feet in length; length of forward cone, 50 feet; length of after cone, 45 feet; total length, 158 feet. It occupies 106,000 cubic feet of space. The propelling power is a 105-horse-power naphtha engine. The weight of the ship is 5,000 pounds. It will carry a ton in passengers and provisions. Enough naphtha will be carried to drive the vessel around the earth without replenishing the tanks.

IT WAS A MINE

The Maine Court of Inquiry So Reports to the President.

SPAIN IS NOT MENTIONED

Captain Sigsbee and the Vessel's Crew Are Completely Exonerated.

THE PLATES BENT UPWARDS

President's Message to Congress Does Not Mention Possibility of War.

Transmits the Report to Congress with No Startling Statement as to His Intention—Asks for Deliberate Consideration.

Washington, March 29.—The president Monday sent the following message to congress:

To the Congress of the United States:

For some time prior to the visit of the Maine in Havana harbor our consular representatives pointed out the advantages to flow from the visit of national ships to the Cuban waters, in accustoming the people to the presence of our flag as the symbol of good will and of our ships in the fulfillment of the mission of protection to American interests, even though no immediate need therefor might exist.

Accordingly, on the 24th of January last, after conference with the Spanish minister in which the renewal of visits of our war vessels to Spanish waters was discussed and accepted, the peninsular authorities at Madrid and Havana were advised of the purpose of this government to resume friendly naval visits at Cuban ports, and that in that view the Maine would forthwith call at the port of Havana.

The Maine at Havana.

This announcement was received by the Spanish government with appreciation of the friendly character of the visit of the Maine and with notification of intention to return the courtesy by sending Spanish ships to the principal ports of the United States. Meanwhile the Maine entered the port of Havana on the 25th of January, her arrival being marked with no special incident besides the exchange of customary salutes and ceremonial visits.

The Maine continued in the harbor of Havana during the three weeks following her arrival. No appreciable excitement attended her stay; on the contrary, a feeling of relief and confidence followed the resumption of the long interrupted friendly intercourse. So noticeable was this immediate effect of her visit that the consul-general strongly urged that the prseence of our ships in Cuban waters should be kept up by retaining the Maine at Havana, or in the event of her recall by sending there a vessel to take her place.

The Fatal Evening.

At 40 minutes past nine on the evening of the 15th of February the Maine was destroyed by an explosion, by which the entire forward part of the ship was utterly wrecked. In this catastrophe two officers and 260 of her crew perished, those who were not killed outright by her explosion being penned between decks by the tangle of wreckage and drowned by the immediate sinking of the hull. Prompt assistance was rendered by the neighboring vessels anchored in the harbor, aid being especially given by the boats of the Spanish cruiser Alphonso XII. and the Ward line steamer City of Washington, which lay not far distant. The wounded were generously cared for by the authorities of Havana, the hospitals being freely opened to them, while the earliest recovered bodies of the dead were interred by the municipality in a public cemetery in the city. Tributes of grief and sympathy were offered from all official quarters of the island.

Caused Intense Excitement.

The appalling calamity fell upon the people of our country with crushing force and for a brief time an intense excitement prevailed, which in a community less just and self-controlled than ours might have led to hasty acts of blind resentment. This spirit, however, soon gave way to the calmer processes of reason and to the resolve to investigate the facts and await the material proof before forming a judgment as to the cause, the responsibility and, if the facts warranted, the remedy due. This course necessarily recommended itself from the outset to the executive, for only in the light of a dispassionately ascertained certainty could it determine the nature and measure of its full duty in the matter.

The usual procedure was followed, as in all cases of casualty or disaster to national vessels of any maritime state. A naval court of inquiry was at once organized, composed of officers well qualified by rank and practical experience to discharge the onerous duty imposed upon them.

Aided by a strong force of wreckers and divers the court proceeded to make a thorough investigation on the spot, employing every available means for the impartial and exact determination of the causes of the explosion. Its operations have been conducted with the utmost deliberation and judgment, and while independently pursued no source of information was neglected and the fullest opportunity was allowed for a simultaneous investigation by the Spanish authorities.

The Finding of the Court.

The finding of the court of inquiry was reached, after 23 days of continuous labor, on the 21st of March inst., and having been approved on the 22d by the commander in chief of the United States naval force of the North Atlantic station, was transmitted to the executive.

It is herewith laid before congress, together with the voluminous testimony taken before the court. Its purport is, in brief, as follows:

When the Maine arrived at Havana she was conducted by the regular government pilot to buoy No. 4, to which she was moored in from 5½ to 6 fathoms of water.

The state of discipline on board, and the condition of her magazines, boilers, coal bunkers and storage compartments, are passed in review, with the conclusion that excellent order prevailed and that no indication of any cause for an internal explosion existed in any quarter.

At eight o'clock in the evening of February 15, everything had been reported secure and all was quiet.

At 40 minutes past nine o'clock the vessel was suddenly destroyed.

Two Explosions.

There were two distinct explosions, with a brief interval between them. The first lifted the forward part of the ship very perceptibly; the second, which was more prolonged, is attributed by the court to the partial explosion of two or more of the forward magazines.

The evidence of the divers establishes that the after part of the ship was practically intact and sank in that condition a very few minutes after the explosion. The forward part was completely demolished.

Upon the evidence of concurrent external cause the finding of the court is as follows:

"At frame 17 the outer shell of the ship, from a point 11½ feet from the middle line of the ship and six feet above the keel when in its normal position, has been forced up so as to be now about four feet above the surface of the water; therefore, about 34 feet above where it would be had the ship sunk uninjured.

Plates Bent Inward.

"The outside bottom plating is bent into a reversed V shape, the after wing of which, about 15 feet broad and 32 feet in length (from frame 17 to frame 25), is doubled back upon itself against the continuation of the same plating extending forward.

"At frame 18 the vertical keel is broken in two and the keel bent into an angle singular to the angle formed for the outside plates. This break is about six feet below the surface of the water and about 30 feet above its normal position.

"In the opinion of the court this effect could have been produced only by the explosion of a mine situated under the bottom of the ship, at about frame 18 and somewhat on the port side of the ship."

Conclusions of the Court.

The conclusions of the court are:

That the loss of the Maine was not in any respect due to fault or negligence on the part of any of the officers or members of her crew.

That the ship was destroyed by the explosion of a submarine mine, which caused the partial explosion of two or more of her forward magazines; and,

That no evidence has been obtainable fixing the responsibility for the destruction of the Maine upon any person or persons.

I have directed that the finding of the court of inquiry and the views of this government thereon be communicated to the government of her majesty, the queen, and I do not permit myself to doubt that the sense of justice of the Spanish nation will dictate a course of action suggested by honor and the friendly relations of the two governments.

It was the duty of the executive to advise the congress of the result, and in the meantime deliberate consideration is invoked.

(Signed) WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

Executive Mansion, March 28, 1898.

THE COURT'S REPORT.

Statements of Capt. Sampson and His Associates Based on Testimony Taken.

The following is the full text of the report of the court of inquiry:

United States Steamship Iowa, First Rate.—Key West, Fla., Monday, March 21, 1898.—After full and mature consideration of all the testimony before it, the court finds as follows:

1. That the United States battleship Maine arrived in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, on the 25th day of January, 1898, and was taken to buoy No. 4, in from five and a half to six fathoms of water by the regular government pilot. The United States consul general at Havana had notified the authorities at that place the previous evening of the intended arrival of the Maine.

Discipline Was Excellent.

2. The state of discipline on board the Maine was excellent, and all orders and regulations in regard to the care and safety of the ship were strictly carried out.

All ammunition was stowed away in accordance with instructions, and proper care was taken whenever ammunition was handled.

Nothing was stowed in any one of the magazines or shell rooms which was not permitted to be stowed there.

The magazines and shell rooms were always locked after having been opened; and after the destruction of the Maine the keys were found in their proper place in the captain's cabin, everything having been reported secure that evening at eight p. m.

Temperature Was Normal.

The temperatures of the magazines and shellrooms were taken daily and reported, and there had never been a case of spontaneous combustion of coal on board the Maine.

After Boilers Only in Use.

The two after boilers of the ship were in use at the time of the disaster, but for auxiliary purposes only with a comparatively low pressure of steam, and being tended by a reliable watch. These boilers could not have caused the explosion of the ship. The four forward boilers have since been found by the divers, and are in a fair condition.

On the night of the destruction of the Maine everything had been reported secure for the night at eight p. m. by reliable persons, through the proper authorities, to the commanding officer. At the time the Maine was destroyed the ship was quiet, and therefore least liable to accident caused by movements from those on board.

Were Two Explosions.

3. The destruction of the Maine occurred at 9:40 p. m. on the 15th day of February, 1898, in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, being at the time moored on the same buoy to which she had been taken upon her arrival.

There were two explosions of a distinctly different character with a very short but distinct interval between them, and the forward part of the ship was lifted to a marked degree at the time of the first explosion.

The first explosion was more in the nature of a report, like that of a gun, while the second explosion was more open, prolonged and of greater volume. This second explosion was, in the opinion of the court, caused by the partial explosion of two or more of the forward magazines of the Maine.

Condition of the Wreck.

4. The evidence bearing on this, being principally obtained from divers, did not enable the court to form a definite conclusion as to the condition of the wreck, although it was established that the after part of the ship was practically intact, and sank in that condition a very few minutes after the destruction of the forward part.

The following facts in regard to the forward part of the ship are, however, established by the testimony:

That portion of the port side of the protective deck which extends from about frame 30 to about frame 41 was blown up aft and over to port. The main deck from about frame 30 to about frame 41 was blown up aft and slightly over to starboard, folding the forward part of the middle superstructure over and on top of the after part.

This was, in the opinion of the court, caused by the partial explosion of two or more of the forward magazines of the Maine.

Plates Forced Up.

5. At frame 17, the outer shell of the ship, from a point 11½ feet from the middle line of the ship and six feet above the keel when in its normal position, has been forced up so as to be now about four feet above the surface of the water, therefore about 34 feet above where it would be had the ship sunk uninjured. The outside bottom plating is bent into a reversed V shape, the after wing of which, about 15 feet broad and 32 feet in length (from frame 17 to frame 25), is doubled back upon itself against the continuation of the same plating extending forward.

At frame 18 the vertical keel is broken in two, and the flat keel bent into an angle similar to the angle formed by the outside bottom plating. This break is now about six feet below the surface of the water, and about 30 feet above its normal position.

Caused by a Mine.

In the opinion of the court, this effect could have been produced only by the explosion of a mine situated under the bottom of the ship at about frame 18, and somewhat on the port side of the ship.

6. The court finds that the loss of the Maine, on the occasion named, was not in any respect due to fault or negligence on the part of any of the officers or members of the crew of said vessel.

7. In the opinion of the court the Maine was destroyed by the explosion of a submarine mine, which caused the partial explosion of two or more of her forward magazines.

8. The court has been unable to obtain evidence fixing the responsibility for the destruction of the Maine upon any person or persons.

W. T. SAMPSON,
Captain, U. S. N., President.
A. MARIX,
Lieutenant Commander, U. S. N., Judge Advocate.

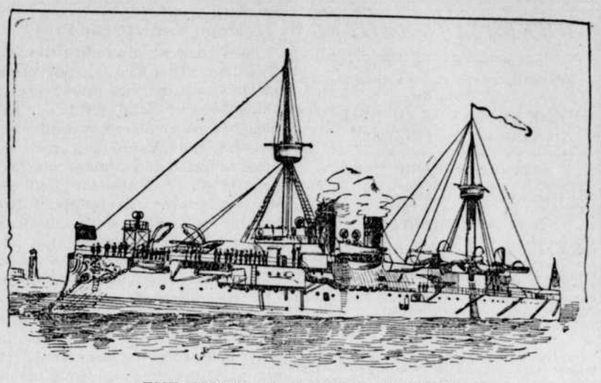
The Findings Approved.

The court, having finished the inquiry it was ordered to make, adjourned at 11 a. m. to await the action of the convening authority.

W. T. SAMPSON,
Captain, U. S. N., President.
A. MARIX,
Lieutenant Commander, U. S. N., Judge Advocate.

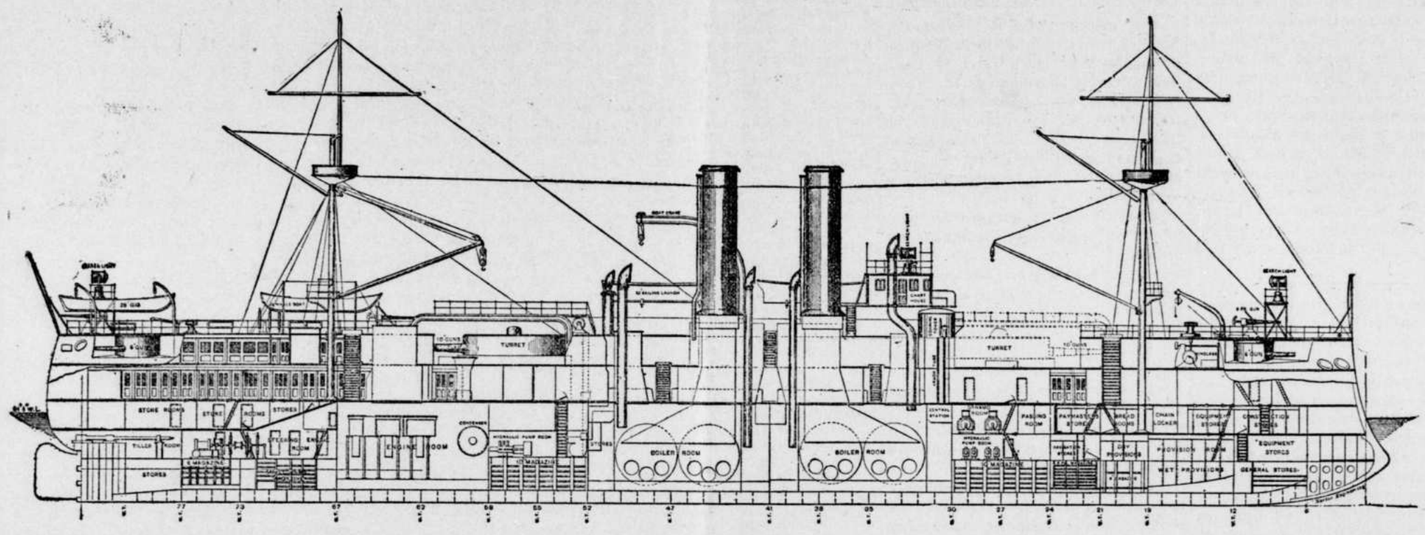
U. S. Flagship New York, March 22, 1898, Off Key West, Fla.—The proceedings and findings of the court of inquiry in the above case are approved.

A. SICARD,
Rear Admiral, Commander in Chief of the U. S. Naval Force on the North Atlantic Station.



THE MAINE IN HAVANA HARBOR.

THE LATE SECOND-CLASS BATTLESHIP MAINE.

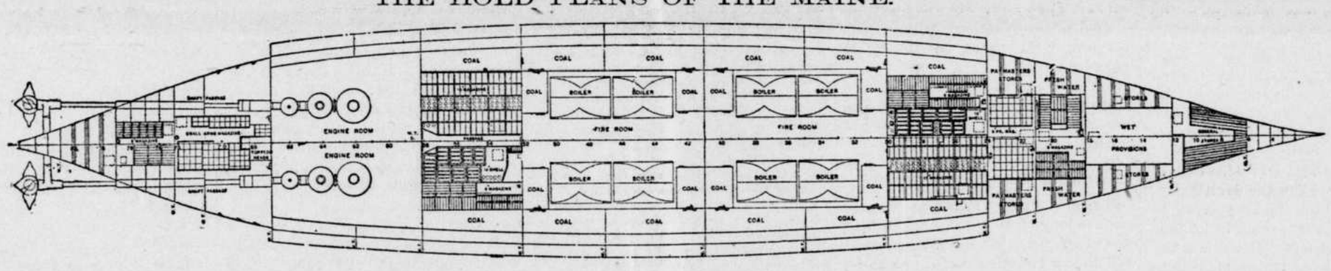


PROFILE VIEW.

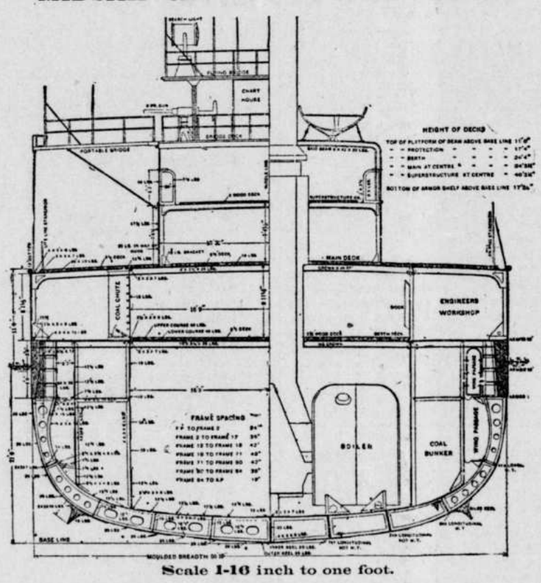
Scale 1-32 inch to one foot.

THE HOLD PLANS OF THE MAINE.

Scale 1-32 inch to one foot.



MIDSHIP SECTION OF THE MAINE.



Scale 1-16 inch to one foot.

CAPT. SIGSBEE.

America's Greatest Medicine

Greatest, Because in cases of Dyspepsia Hood's Sarsaparilla has a touch like magic, which just hits the spot, brings relief to the sufferer, and gives tone and strength to the stomach as no other medicine does.

Could Not Eat without Pain.

"For many years I have been a sufferer from a severe case of dyspepsia. I could not eat without great pain in my stomach and would be sick and vomit up what I did eat. One day I read of a case cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told my husband I believed this medicine would help me. He went right away and got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took four bottles and I was cured." Mrs. Allen Stivers, Makanda, Illinois.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5. Sold by all druggists. Get only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, aid digestion. 25c.

Delightfully Feminine.

Mother—I don't understand you at all. You are constantly praising Miss Whirly now, and you used to insist that you couldn't bear her.

Daughter—But I didn't know then, mamma, that she was jealous of me. It is just too sweet of her.—Detroit Free Press.

Estey Organ

Young Yet.

Five-Finger Exercise, No. 5.

Although the "Estey" name is fifty years old it is yet young. This is manifested in frequently added new styles.

The Estey Phonorium

is the latest development. A pipe organ tone at little more than cabinet organ prices.

Our five-pointed discourse complete with catalogue sent free.

Estey Organ Co., Brattleboro, Vt.

TOWER'S TRADE FISH BRAND MARK.

SLICKER

WILL KEEP YOU DRY.

Don't be fooled with a mackintosh or rubber coat. If you want a coat that will keep you dry in the hardest storm buy the Fish Brand Slicker. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

Excursions

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

To the FREE GRANT LANDS of WESTERN CANADA, where twenty-five and thirty bushels of wheat are grown to the acre, will be personally conducted by a Canadian Government representative on . . . .

March 23rd and 30th, and 6th April,

leaving St. Paul on these dates. For particulars as to specially low passenger and freight rates, apply to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 134 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

We delight to do an early friend a good turn. The working parts of ANY AERMOTOR EXCHANGED FOR A ROLLER BEARING, self-cyclining, ever-going, everlasting, power-doubling. UP-TO-DATE '98 MOTOR, 8 FT. FOR $6; 12-ft. for $12; 16-ft. for $20. They run like a bicycle, and are made like a watch, every movable part on rollers. Doubles geared mill power. The Aermotor ran when all other mills stood still, and made the steel windmill business. THE NEW BEATS THE OLD AS THE OLD BEAT THE WOODEN WHEEL. On receipt of amount, revised motor (but not wheel or vane) will be sent to replace old one then to be returned. Offer subject to cancellation at any time. If your old wheel is not an Aermotor, write for terms of swap—new for old—to go on old tower. You can put it on. Aermotor Co., Chicago.

NOW OR NEVER

ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

Is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poisons. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 50c; large, $1. Book free. J. F. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

ENTITLED TO FIRST PRIZE.

A Man in Vermont Who Was Easily the Champion in the Stingy Class.

"Stingiest man I ever met was in Vermont," declared a Detroiter who had been an industrious globe trotter for a great many years. "I had been up in the mountains one day and when I was making my way through the low hills to my stopping place, I heard a frightful yelling which appeared to me to come from the bowels of the earth. Had I been a superstitious man I should have taken to my heels. Fixing the direction of the noise, I ran toward it and soon came to the top of a well around which there was a pile of clay and broken stone. I called down and had a prompt answer.

"Pull me outen this tarnal quick, stranger. I put in a big blast an' lit the fuse. That thar critter what I had working fur me pulled half way up an' then scotched the win'lass. Haul away or I'll be shot outer this here well like it was a cannon.'

"I tugged away with such might and main that I broke the crank to the windlass and I heard the old fellow yelling like a wild man from the bottom of the well. Seizing the rope, I pulled him out hand over hand, and I'll give you my word that I never before had such a job. It seemed to me that I could never breathe right or be real strong again. Before I could stand up the old chap was dunning me for two shillings to replace the broken windlass. I ceased to wonder at the predicament in which the hired man had left him."—Detroit Free Press.

From Another's Point of View.

Dolly Swift—Miss Thirtysmith was beside herself last night.

Sally Gay—I hope she took the opportunity to stand off and see how ridiculous she looked.—Judge.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE

SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 136 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE

WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO. 180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

A STARTER. 5 PACKETS OF SWEET PEAS 5 CENTS.

All choice named varieties, each kind in separate packet of over 50 SEEDS EACH, mailed for 5 cents. Catalogue of bargains in Seeds and Plants free. OLIVER H. DREW, Hibernia, N. Y.

SEND FOR A BICYCLE

High Grade '98 Models, $14 to $40.

GREAT CLEARING SALE of '97 and '98 models, best makes, $9.75 to $18. Sent on approval without a cent payment. Free use of wheel to our agents. Write for our new plan "How to Earn a Bicycle" and make money. SPECIAL THIS WEEK—6 high grade '97 models (slightly shopworn), $10.75 each. "Wanderings Awheel," a souvenir book of art, FREE for stamp while they last.

J. W. MEAD CYCLE CO., CHICAGO.

OPIUM and Whiskey Habit cured at home without pain. Book of particulars sent FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M.D., Atlanta, Ga.

7,000,000 ACRES—Farms, Timber, Mineral, Colony lands; South: cheap, easy terms. FREE CATALOGUE. W. H. CRAWFORD & CO., Nashville, Tenn.

A. N. K.—G 1702

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

25 CTS PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

JUST MARRIED.

How "Hubby" Orders His Supplies Through the Telephone.

When a young man marries and opens up a home one of his chief anxieties is to appear master of the situation and as much like a veteran as possible. Blueton, who would be widely known by his real name, is a new beneedict and just settled. Here is a sample selected from his almost continuous conversation at the telephone:

"Send me up a pound of carpet tacks. Number? I don't know anything about the number of tacks in a pound. All you've got to do is to fill my order. And, say, send me half a peck of nails. Tenpennys? I'm not asking the price, am I? Yes, half a peck; that's what I said. Now I want a saw. Don't you know your business? This is a private residence—Mr. Blueton's residence. It's no lumber mill. I don't want any buzz saw or gang saw, just a regular house saw. Throw in a hammer and a hatchet and a stepladder. And say, I want a good strong stove leg. We broke one in moving. None of your business who made the stove. All you've got to do is to send up the leg."

After swearing for a few minutes Blueton was rattling away at the grocery:

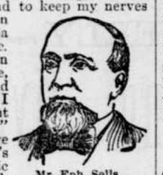
"Three pounds of steak. What kind? Beefsteak, of course. We're not eating horsesteak or sheep steak at our house. Three yards of sausage. Never mind, now, how other people buy it. I always buy by the yard. A gallon of coffee, two dozen frying onions, half a bushel of oranges—yes, half a bushel. Now, whose make of canned goods do you handle? All right, send us a couple of cases of selected, a quarter of a section of cheese, half a bale of lettuce, two of those cigar-shaped loaves of bread, a pail of butter and a sack of sugar. Yes, just a regulation sack, you know. And, hold on, put in a basket of eggs. Good-by."—Detroit Free Press.

CIRCUS KINGS.

The Sells Brothers' Combined Shows Coming Soon.

The circus will soon be here again. The robin, the street organ, the circus, are sure harbingers of spring. Everyone likes to see the street parade. But behind the glitter, the pomp, the confusion of paraphernalia, the gaudy trappings, the costly equipage, the princely display, is a wear and tear of nerve forces; a drain of vitality not generally considered. The managers of the Sells Brothers' immense shows take Pe-ru-na. They take it because it is nerve food, brain food, blood nutrition and strength-giver. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, Mr. Peter Sells says: "I would not be without Pe-ru-na in my travels. My business as advertising agent of our immense consolidated show keeps me constantly on the go, with change of climate and diet. I find Pe-ru-na an admirable remedy to correct these evils." Mr. Eph. Sells also writes the Doctor as follows: "Your Pe-ru-na is certainly one of the very best tonics that was ever brought to my attention. As the financial manager of the great combined Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' shows, I am necessarily subjected to constant strains of the nervous system and brain. This kind of wear and tear makes me feel frequently in need of a good tonic to assist digestion and to keep my nerves steady and my brain cool. I find in Pe-ru-na exactly such a tonic. It produces an even and natural appetite, aids in digestion and refreshing sleep. I would not be without it for any money." Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on chronic catarrh. This book consists of a series of lectures delivered at the Surgical Hotel. Sent free by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Peter Sells, Columbus, Ohio.



Mr. Eph. Sells, Columbus, Ohio.

Selfish.

Brown—You owe as much as that! I don't understand how you can get so far behind. Now as for me, it is always a pleasure to pay off a debt.

Black—Sort o' selfish in you to give way to such indulgence, isn't it? I can truly say that I never feel that way.—Boston Transcript.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, nervous, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

An Atchison boy has such a wonderful memory in relating every old joke that he ever heard that his family is thinking of making a public lecturer of him.—Atchison Globe.

You should know that for years the standard of quality, style, color and finish in black and white or mourning goods has been Simpson's Prints, and that their colored goods are all of the same high standard. Always ask for Simpson's and you will get the right thing.

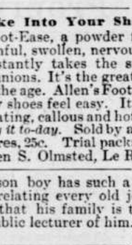
Talking of weather signs, it is fair to suppose that, when allspice is adulterated with cocoanut shells, the season will be mild.—Rural New Yorker.

A postal card addressed to Dr. Hayes, Buffalo, N. Y., bearing your name and address, will bring you the latest information as to the permanent cure of Asthma.

A woman with a wart on her neck looks better with high-necked gowns.—Washington Democrat.

Piso's Cure for Consumption has no equal as a Cough medicine.—F. M. Abbott, 383 Seneca St., Buffalo, N. Y., May 9, 1894.

A perfect type of the highest order of excellence.



TRADE-MARK

Walter Baker & Co.'s

Breakfast

Cocoa

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

Delicious--Nutritious.

COSTS LESS THAN ONE CENT A CUP.

Be sure you get the genuine article made at Dorchester, Mass., by

WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd.

ESTABLISHED 1780.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Will Serve Out an Old Term.

Early one morning in April, 1882, a convict at the state prison named Jas. J. Murray made his escape from that institution, and his mode of escaping and where he had gone remained a mystery until a few days ago, when Murray was found in the prison under the name of Daniel Morton. Morton was sent to prison Feb. 22 of this year from Hennepin county to serve three years and four months for grand larceny.

He first came to the prison from Freeborn county, under the name of James Collins, to serve two years for grand larceny, and a few months after his liberation came back from LeSueur county to serve five years for assault. He had been there only a few months when he conceived the idea of escaping, and early one morning he managed to get hold of a suit of citizens' clothes and an old dinner pail, and with the pail in hand walked to the main gate and asked that he be let out. The guard took him for a laborer who had forgotten something on the outside, and without further ceremony opened the gate and let him out. His absence was noticed a few minutes later, and although everything possible was done to locate him, he managed to make good his escape. Now, after 17 years of liberty, he has come back, and will not only have to serve his present sentence, but will also be required to serve four years of an unexpired term.

A Disaster Averted.

A one-armed man, while walking on the railway track between Carlton and Cloquet, noticed that the rails had spread, and at the same time heard a train coming. He walked on rapidly until near enough to signal, which he did in genuine railroad manner. The train was stopped and the trainmen descended to see what was the matter. Upon seeing that the track was in a dangerous condition they went to work to repair it, and it took an hour to get the track in shape so that they could proceed. A purse was made up by the passengers for the man who signalled the train and was given to him in gratitude for his thoughtful act. The man would not give his name, but said he was an old railroader bound for Deer River.

Burned to Death.

The house of Ed Hansman at Kent was burned and all the family perished in the flames, including Mr. Hansman, his wife and five children. The fire occurred about 3 o'clock in the morning, and when it was discovered by neighbors it was too late to render any assistance, as the family was suffocated and as soon as an entrance was made the whole house was in flames. The bodies were burned almost beyond recognition. Mr. Hansman was a saloonkeeper at Kent, and also had extensive land interests at Wyndmere, N. D.

Nearly Ready to Sell.

The United States land commissioners say that the reports received indicate that the work of the timber estimators on the Red Lake reservation will be completed about April 15. As soon as all the reports are received the lands will be ordered sold at once, both on account of the good prices to be obtained at this time and for the reason that it is best to dispose of this timber land, thus removing the danger of loss by fire and possible depredations.

Seed Grain Needed.

It is quite probable that the grain men of the Twin Cities will be asked to assist the Red River valley flood sufferers in obtaining seed wheat this spring. The matter has been brought to the attention of Gov. Clough, who decided to investigate the matter. In the absence of a seed grain appropriation this year, it will be impossible for them to secure aid from the state. The governor's fund is only $3,000, and not sufficiently large to assist the farmers who lost all their crops last year.

More Prizes.

At the convention of the Buttermakers' association, held lately at Topeka, Kan., William Burchard, manager of the New Germany creamery, and William Peterman, manager of the Peterman creamery, Waconia, scored 95 points and a fraction, thus allowing them to participate in the prize money and places them and their creameries in the first rank in the state. Minnesota took 60 per cent of the prize money.

Valuable Relics Stolen.

Some vandal broke into one of the treasured relic cases of the Minnesota Historical society in the capitol building and purloined from the archives some very valuable relics. One of the rarest of the articles taken was the pipe of the old Indian "Hole in the Day," whose name is linked with the history of the state, and a dozen or more valuable coins were taken. A year ago a similar robbery occurred.

News in Brief.

The residence of Jacob Nowatny at Little Falls, was destroyed by fire.

Miller & Dolan, general contractors, have made an assignment.

An epidemic of diphtheria has broken out at Chaska.

Walter Johnson, aged 11 years, and Herbert Norbeck, aged 10, while digging in a sand bank at St. Paul were buried by a cave-in. Prompt assistance saved their lives.

E. L. Fisher has been appointed postmaster at Duluth, and H. S. Wire at St. Cloud.

The St. Cloud board of education has been informed by State Auditor Dunn that it can have a loan of $25,000 from the state school fund at 4 per cent, payable in 20 years or at the option of the board. The money is to be used for building new ward schools.

Mrs. Wm. Windom, formerly of Winona, presented the United States steamer Wm. Windom with a fine portrait of the late deceased secretary of the treasury. The portrait has been acknowledged by the captain of the vessel.

Mrs. Bertha Svaleson, wife of a prominent farmer in eastern Polk county, was examined as to her sanity and committed to the Fergus Falls asylum. The case is peculiarly distressing, as Mrs. Svaleson is upwards of 50 years of age and the mother of ten children.

Truman B. Welch, superintendent of the Duluth Gas and Water company, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a revolver.

A. C. Dunn, a brakesman on the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad, fell between two cars at Montgomery and was killed.

ANOTHER SAD STORY.

Misery in Cuba as Seen by Senator Thurston, of Nebraska—Demands Immediate Action.

Washington, March 25.—A scene dramatic in the intensity of its interest was presented in the senate Thursday during the delivery by Senator Thurston (Neb.) of a speech on the Cuban situation. Not since the inauguration of President McKinley have so many people been on the senate side of the capitol as were there Thursday. Within a few minutes after the senate convened every member who could be present was in his seat, and by the time Senator Thurston had begun his speech dozens of members of the house were either standing or occupying chairs in the area without the semicircle of seats. His first sentence, in which he said he spoke by command of silent lips—a delicate and touching reference to the loss of his wife on his memorable trip to Cuba—commanded instant attention. A hush fell over the great audience which hung with almost breathless attention and interest upon every word.

Senator Thurston said that he had gone to Cuba firmly believing that the condition of affairs on the island had been greatly exaggerated, and that he had directed his efforts in the first instance to the exposure of the supposed exaggerations. He had concluded, however, that an overstatement of the horrors of the situation was impossible. He was prepared, he stated, not only to adopt every word of the careful, concise and specific statement of the senator from Vermont (Senator Proctor), but he was even convinced that he had understated the facts.

Senator Thurston then tersely summarized his observations and conclusions as follows:

"After three years of warfare and the use of 225,000 Spanish troops, Spain has lost control of every foot of Cuba not surrounded by an actual intrenchment and protected by a fortified picket line.

"She holds possession with her armies of the fortified seaboard towns, because they are under the virtual protection of Spanish warships, with which the revolutionists cannot cope.

"The revolutionists are in absolute and almost peaceful possession of nearly one-half of the island, including the eastern provinces of Santiago De Cuba and Puerto Principe.

"Under the inhuman policy of Weyler not less than 400,000 self-supporting, simple, peaceful, defenseless country people were driven from their homes in the agricultural portions of the Spanish provinces to the cities and imprisoned upon the barren waste outside the residence portions of these cities and within the lines of intrenchment established a little way beyond. Their humble homes were burned, their fields laid waste, their implements of husbandry destroyed, their live stock and food supplies for the most part confiscated. Most of these people were old men, women and children. Slow starvation was their inevitable fate. A conservative estimate indicates that 210,000 of these people have already perished from starvation.

"The pictures in the American newspapers of the starving reconcentrados are true. They can all be duplicated by the thousands. I never saw, and please God I may never again see, so deplorable a sight as the reconcentrados in the suburbs of Matanzas. I can never forget to my dying day the hopeless anguish in their despairing eyes. Huddled about their little bark huts, they raised no voice of appeal to us for alms as we went among them.

"Men, women and children stand silent, famishing. Their only appeal comes from their sad eyes, through which one looks as through an open window into their agonizing souls.

"I shall refer to these horrible things no further. They are there. God pity me; I have seen them; they will remain in mind for ever—and this is almost the twentieth century. Christ died 1900 years ago and Spain is a Christian nation; she has set up more crosses in mere lust, beneath more skies, and under them has butchered more people than all the nations of the earth combined.

"Europe may tolerate her existence as long as the people of the Old World wish. God grant that before another Christmas morning the last visage of Spanish tyranny and oppression will have vanished from the western hemisphere."

Discussing the remedy which should be applied to the evils he found, Senator Thurston said:

"I counseled silence and moderation from this floor when the passion of this nation seemed at white heat over the destruction of the Maine, but in me mind the time for action has now come. Not action in the Maine case. I hope and trust that this government will take action on the Cuban situation entirely outside of the Maine case. When the Maine report is received, if it be found that our ship and sailors were blown up by some outside explosion, we will have ample reparation without quibble or delay, and if the explosion can be traced to Spanish official sources, there will be such swift and terrible punishment administered as will remain a warning to the world forever.

"What shall the United States do, Mr. President?"

For answer Senator Thurston, as a republican, turned to the last national platform of his party, which declared that "the United States should actively use its influence and good offices to restore peace and give independence to the island."

In accepting the nomination tendered him by the convention, which had adopted the Cuban plank with a "mighty shout," William McKinley had said: "The platform adopted by the republican convention has received my careful consideration and has my unqualified approval."

Senator Thurston even recounted the steps which the president has taken upon the Cuban question during the past year and pronounced his course wise, statesmanlike and in accordance with the diplomatic uses of the world.

"It was the plain duty of the president of the United States to give to the liberal ministry of Spain a reasonable time in which to test its proposed autonomy. That time has been given. Autonomy is conceded the wide world over to be a conspicuous failure. The situation in Cuba has only changed for the worse. Sagasta is powerless, Blanco is powerless, to put an end to the conflict, to rehabilitate the island or to relieve the suffering, starvation and distress.

"The time for action has then come. No greater reason for it can be expected tomorrow than to-day. Every hour's delay only adds another chapter to the awful story of misery and death. Only one power can intervene—the United States of America.

"What shall our action be?"

Senator Thurston briefly referred to the propositions of recognizing the belligerency or the independence of the Cubans only to say that it was too late for either. As to annexation he said:

"God forbid. I would oppose annexation with my latest breath.

"Mr. President, there is only one action possible, if any is taken; that is, intervention for the independence of the island; intervention that means the landing of an American army on Cuban soil, the deploying of an American fleet off the harbor of Havana; intervention which says to Spain: 'Leave the island, withdraw your soldiers, leave the Cubans, these brothers of ours in the New World, to form and carry on government for themselves.' Such intervention on our part would not of itself be war. It would undoubtedly lead to war. But if war came it would come by act of Spain in resistance of the liberty and the independence of the Cuban people.

"Mr. President, in the cable that moored me to life and hope the strongest strands are broken. I have but little left to offer at the altar of freedom's sacrifice, but all I have I am glad to give. I am ready to serve my country as best I can in the senate or in the field. My dearest hope, my most earnest prayer to God is this: That when death comes to end all I may meet it calmly and fearlessly as did my beloved, in the cause of humanity, under the American flag."

Assigned.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29. — David M. Emmons, a heavy holder of the South-all time-check securities, on Monday assigned to Attorney J. C. Michael. Mr. Emmons is a real estate dealer and holds more than $100,000 worth of the South-all time checks. He places his assigned estate at $25,000, the greater part of which is in real estate.

Death of Anton Seidl.

New York, March 29.—Anton L. Seidl, the celebrated musical director, died suddenly in this city Monday night of poisoning, probably resulting from eating fish.

Furious Snowstorm.

Lincoln, Neb., March 28.—A severe storm, probably the worst of the winter, prevailed in central and southeast Nebraska Sunday afternoon. The snow, driven by a high wind, was blinding, and was followed by a drop in temperature in some localities of over 50 degrees.

Oxford Wins.

Putney, England, March 28.—The fifty-fifth annual boat race between crews representing Oxford and Cambridge was rowed over the usual course from Putney to Mort lake, 4¼ miles, and was won by Oxford by 12 lengths.

WOMEN AND THE WHEEL.

From the Gazette, Delaware, Ohio.

The healthfulness of bicycle riding for women is still a disputed question between eminent physicians and health reformers.

Used in moderation it surely creates for women a means of out-door exercise, the benefit of which all physicians concede. Used to excess, like any other pastime, its effect is likely to be dangerous.

The experience of Miss Bertha Reed, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Mr. J. R. Reed, 335 Lake St., Delaware, Ohio, may point a moral for parents who, like Mr. and Mrs. Reed, have experienced some concern for their daughters who are fond of wheeling. In the fall of '96 Miss Bertha, who had ridden a great deal, began to fail in an alarming manner. She grew steadily paler and thinner, and it appeared she was going into consumption. Rest and quiet did her absolutely no good. A physician found her pulse at 104—a very high rate. Thinking this may have been due to temporary nervousness when he examined her, he watched her closely, but her pulse continued at that rate for two weeks. He was satisfied then, from her high pulse and steadily wasting condition that she was suffering from anaemia or a bloodless condition of the body. She became extremely weak, and could not stand the least noise or excitement. In this condition of affairs they were recommended by an old friend to get some of that famous blood medicine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They did so, and almost from the first dose Bertha began to improve. She continued to take the pills and was by means of those pills made entirely well, and more grateful people than her parents cannot be found in the whole State of Ohio.

She Rides Well.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved a boon to womankind. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, they restore the requisite vitality to all parts of the body; creating functional regularity and perfect harmony throughout the nervous system. The pallor of the cheeks is changed to the delicate blush of health; the eyes brighten; the muscles grow elastic, ambition is created and good health returns.

THE INGENIOUS MAN.

His Invention Was Forgotten in Time of Need.

He was a very ingenious man. He had made an invention which was of great value. He thought so, at least, if the world did not, and he had his invention patented. It was a combination camp-stool, cane and umbrella. The cane was the usual form of the invention. At a big parade nothing could be more convenient, and for an ordinary, unexpected rainstorm, what could be better? A man is sure to have his walking stick with him.

It was not so very long after the invention had been perfected that the man was out walking with his wife, and a sudden shower came up. There were no cars accessible, and the only thing to do was to run, and the unlucky pair did this with a vengeance, reaching the house hot, uncomfortable, and pretty wet.

"Well, we are here at last," said the man, drawing a long breath of relief.

"Yes," said the wife, disconsolately, "but I think I have ruined my new bonnet. And, John Smith," she added, suddenly, with a little scream, "what do you think you have done? You had that old invention of yours—cane-camp-stool-umbrella affair—in your hand all the time ready for an emergency, and forgot to use it."

The man tells the story, and thinks it is a great joke.—N. Y. Times.

The Vow of a Boy Nemesis.

Bring to me my large revolver and my keen Damascus blade, and the rubber boots I'm used to when in gore I freely wade. Hither bring my trusty sandbag, bring the snickersnee, I say; for my day has come for murder and I'm going forth to slay. I shall go forth to the slaughter like a bridegroom to his joys, and I'll fill the nearest graveyard with a string of gifted boys. I shall brain the boy attorney with a spasm of delight; and the boy who preaches Sundays, he shall fall before my might. On the trail of boy physicians gayly, gladly shall I camp; let the boy pianists tremble when they hear my roaring tramp. When they strike the boyish statesman he must say his prayers and die, when the boy reporter meets me, mark ye how the fur shall fly. For I'm weary and disgusted and my mind has lost its poise; I have read such beastly twaddle treating of the gifted boys.—Atchison Globe.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is often ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Suggesting a Remedy.

Mrs. Jaggs—I'm at a loss to know what to do for my husband; he suffers almost continually from headaches.

Mrs. Naggs—Why don't you try to persuade him to resign?

"Resign from what?"

"Why, from the club, of course."—Chicago Evening News.

The Silver Lining.

Creditor—What, still no money? Do you think it is a pleasure for me in this winter weather, in snow and rain, to call here every day?

Debtor—O, don't be down-hearted. The spring will soon be here.—Fliegende Blaetter.

Quite Natural.

Mrs. McFeegan—Shure, Moike, yez black oye do be turnin' grane.

Mr. McFeegan—An' why wudn't it? Oi got it from an Oirishmon on Saint Patrick's day.—Judge.

Same Everywhere.

A man who has just returned from the Klondike says that up in that region zero is nothing at all. It always was nothing everywhere.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Distinction.

Stranger (to Highlander in full uniform)—Sandy, are you cold with the kilt?

Sandy—Na, mon, but I'm nigh kilt wi' the cauld.—Detroit Free Press.

Money Wasted.

Ethel—They say it costs Perry Van Noodle $10,000 a year to live.

Penelope—Dear me!—then what does he do it for?—Puck.

Evidence.

She—Wasn't John Calvin a married man?

He—He must have been. Didn't he reject the doctrine of free will?—Puck.

The Right Thing to Do.

Browne—My business is all run down."

Smyth—Why don't you wind up your affairs?—Up-to-Date.

A good many of us think frankness means to have others tell us how nice we are.—Washington Democrat.

An Ohio minister objects to skating on the ground that it has a tendency to promote backsliding.—Chicago Daily News.

There is a politeness of the heart, and it is allied to love. It produces the most agreeable politeness of demeanor.—Goethe.

Thirteen is an unlucky age for a girl. She is too old for dolls and too young for beaux.—Chicago Daily News.

Very few people care to be undertakers, yet a great many are willing to run funerals.—Washington Democrat.

Let a big fish shave off his mustache and all the little fish follow suit.—Washington Democrat.

Reports of Delegates Who Have Visited Western Canada.

The following letters have been selected from a large number of those sent by delegates to report on Western Canada to their friends in Michigan, and as a result of which hundreds of people expect to leave this spring for the Free Grant Lands of Western Canada.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 10, 1897.

Mr. M. V. McInnes, Chief Colonization Agent, Detroit, Mich.

Dear Sir: We are pleased to state to you that we have found the country in the vicinity of Alameda fully up to what you and Mr. Kelier had represented it to be. It is in fact an ideal location for mixed farming. The soil is the best we ever saw, and as the farmers were all busy at threshing, we had an excellent chance to see its productive quality, which cannot be surpassed anywhere. The cattle could not be in better condition. We saw two-year-old steers equal to three-year-olds raised in most places, and these, as all others are about Alameda, were fed on native hay in winter and herded in summer. As we had previous to this visited the Northwestern States in behalf of a large number of farmers, to locate suitable land for mixed farming, we are now in a position to say that the Alameda district of Western Canada surpasses them all. The country is equal to that about Thuringen in Germany. We were rather skeptic before starting, and our intention was to settle in spring, if we were suited, but we have now decided to move at once—that is, as early this fall as we possibly can. We left Mr. Riedel at Alameda, and take back his report, and we will take his family and effects with us when we go. Yours sincerely,

(Signed) ALBERT MAI,
FRED GOTTOWSKI.

Alameda, N. W. T., Aug. 31, 1897.

Dear Friends of Saginaw:

Those desiring to secure a good and sure home will do well to take our advice and examine the land in the neighborhood of Alameda, as we know that everyone who sees this land will be agreeably surprised. Before seeing this land we were partly in doubt as to moving here, but after looking it over we at once decided to make our home here, and we beg those of our friends who are desirous of securing farms not to let this chance slip by, as the soil is of the best and the water cannot be excelled. The finest wheat we ever saw is also raised here. We shall return home in haste, straighten out our affairs and move here at once. Yours truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM GOTTOWSKI,
ALBERT MAI,
WILLIAM RIEDEL,
(of Saginaw.)

Ludington, Mich., Nov. 1, 1897.

M. V. McInnes, Esq., Colonization Agent, Detroit, Mich.

Dear Sir: We have just returned from the West, and were exceedingly well pleased with the country. We are going back to take up our homesteads in early spring. We received $35.00 per month and board, working for farmers, and the board was the best we ever had—the beef and mutton especially were excellent. The fine flavor is owing to the fine grasses which the cattle and sheep feed upon. The people are very hospitable and treat their hired help with much kindness.

The grain is much heavier than here, wheat being 62 lbs. to the bushel, oats 48 lbs. and barley often 55 lbs.

Any man with a good team and money enough to buy provisions and seed for six months can become rich there in five years. Many people who arrived there five years ago with little or nothing are well off now. One man I met held his wheat from last year and was offered $16,000 for this year's crop and what he had held over from last year, and is holding it at $1.00 per bushel. We are going back in the spring to work for this same farmer until seeding, after which we will homestead between seeding and harvest. We think we will settle on the Manitoba & Northwestern R. R.

You can refer anyone to us for this part of the country while we are here and we will cheerfully answer any questions which anyone may wish to ask. Yours truly.

(Signed) CHAS. HAWLEY,
JOSEPH DOLA.

Their Easy Time.

"No wonder," said the Cornfed Philosopher, "that people lived so long in the old Biblical days. They didn't know anything about bacteria."—Indianapolis Journal.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

The further a country woman is compelled to bring eggs the more she wants for them when she arrives in town.—Atchison Globe.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Married women think every unmarried woman must have a history.—Washington Democrat.

Gentle treatment. St. Jacobs Oil soothes Neuralgia and cures it. It fades away.

A profitable religion never wanted prosetytes.—Ital.

Time counts, health gains. A quick, sure Cure—St. Jacobs Oil for sprains.

A mouthful of meat may be a townful of shame.

Better times come to all cured of aches And pains by St. Jacobs Oil.

A pebble and a diamond are alike to a blind man.

Crutches and cruel pains from Sciatica. From St. Jacobs Oil the cure of it.

SYRUP of FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

Bad Blood

is a good thing to be rid of, because bad blood is the breeding place of disfiguring and dangerous diseases. Is YOUR blood bad? You can have good blood, which is pure blood, if you want it. You can be rid of pimples, boils, blotches, sores and ulcers. How? By the use of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the radical remedy for all diseases originating in the blood.

"Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me by my physician as a blood purifier. When I began taking it I had boils all over my body. One bottle cured me."—BONNER CRAFT, Wesson, Miss.

Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla

All Things as Advertised.

By competing lines show a progressive spirit, but some of the things that are alleged to be new have been in constant daily use for years past on the Steam-heated, Electric-lighted (with berth reading-lamp), Vestibuled trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway between St. Paul and Minneapolis and Chicago, as thousands upon thousands of its patrons will cheerfully testify. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway always maintains its supremacy with the traveling public by always being the first to utilize every mechanical device and improvement which can be of any value to those who ride on its magnificently equipped trains.

Modern Science.

"Steam has rendered man inestimable service," remarked the observer of men and things, "and woman also, since it has enabled her to open her husband's letters without his ever knowing it."—Detroit Journal.

To see a nicely dressed man in a black coat the shoulders of which are powdered with dandruff is a most unpleasant sight. Dandruff exists to a greater or less extent in all heads not properly cared for. There is a way to kill dandruff effectually and permanently. There can be no dandruff where "Cocoaine" is used. The little book published by Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., entitled "The Hair, Its Care and Management," will be sent free to anyone interested who will send their address to that firm.

The Land of Christ.

Under this title, the Passenger Department of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern Railroad has issued a splendid series of views made by the half-tone process from photographs taken in the Holy Land. The subjects embrace people, scenery and cities, as they exist today in that famous country. The work is published in twelve parts, each containing from twelve to fifteen views. Each picture is fully explained by descriptive reading matter. A sample part will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in postage, and the complete set will be forwarded, postpaid, on receipt of ninety-five cents. Postage stamps will not be received for the full set, but remittance must be made to the undersigned by draft, postal order, express money order, or registered letter. This is a rare chance to secure more than two hundred views of the Land of Christ for less than one dollar. Address Geo. P. Lyman, G. P. A., C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Not Bigoted.

Jenkins—I thought you were a vegetarian, but I hear you eat mutton.

Gibbs—I am not a bigoted vegetarian. I only eat the meat of such animals as live on vegetable food.—Tit-Bits.

Don't snap in two. Limber up. St. Jacobs Oil will cure lumbago sure.

A man without money is a bow without an arrow.

How to cure Rheumatism? Use St. Jacobs Oil. It subdues. It cures.

Hopeful Words to Childless Women.

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and desolate old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some great lack of strength in the organs of generation. Such a condition is nearly always due to long continued neglect of the plainest warnings.

Frequent backache and distressing pains accompanied by offensive discharges and generally by irregular and scanty menstruation, indicate a nerve degeneration of the womb and surrounding organs, that unless speedily checked will result in barrenness.

Read Mrs. Wilson's letter:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Noone could have suffered from female troubles more than I. I had tumors on the womb, my ovaries were diseased, and for fifteen years I was a burden to myself. I was operated upon three different times, with only temporary relief; also tried many doctors. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me by a lady friend, and after taking four bottles I was like a new woman. I had been married nine years, and had no children. I now have a beautiful little girl, and we feel assured she is the result of my taking the Compound.—MAY B. WILSON, 323 Sassafras St., Millville, N. J.

Modern science and past experience have produced nothing so effective in treating diseases of the female organs as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash used according to special directions.

If you know any woman who is suffering and who is unable to secure relief, or who is sorrowful because she believes herself barren, tell her to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and ask her advice. The thousands of Mrs. Pinkham's cures are all recorded for quick reference, and a reply will be promptly sent wholly without charge, that will direct her what to do.

Mrs. B. BLUHM, 4940 San Francisco Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:—"It has been my great desire to have a babe. Since taking your medicine my wish is fulfil"

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; A Woman's Remedy for Wo[illegible]

Hard fact[illegible]

for women who wash. No wo[illegible] you do is so unhealthful as your work o[illegible]ub. This hard, perspiring work in the midst of soiled clothes and tainted st[illegible]ill make trouble for you. The less o[illegible] you do, the better. Wash with Pearline, and there's little or none of it. Nothing but rinsing the clothes, after soaking and boiling them. Consider your health. 582

Millions NOW USE Pearline

CANDY CATHARTIC

Cascarets

CURE CONSTIPATION

REGULATE THE LIVER

10c 25c 50c ALL DRUGGISTS

"GOOD WIVES GROW FAIR IN THE LIGHT OF THEIR WORKS," ESPECIALLY IF THEY USE

SAPOLIO

RHEUMATISM

Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

FREE! WANTED—All persons looking for a home to join one of the fifteen successful colonies and settlements now forming along the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad in Minnesota. Cheap lands, good soil, pure water, clear streams, beautiful lakes, a healthful climate, freedom from drought and malaria, excellent markets. The King of all countries for the DAIRY BUSINESS and Diversified Farming. Maps and Circulars free. Address HOPEWELL CLARKE, Land Commissioner, 908 Globe Building, St. Paul, Minn.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

--Subscribe for the GAZETTE.

—Delano High School will open up again Monday for the spring term.

—Ernest Stinson has moved his family into the rooms in the house in which he has his restaurant.

—Albert Rewaldt has remodeled his River street residence and now has a convenient and commodious home.

—John Sturman, of the G. N. R. R. is home for a week, putting some finishing touches onto his nice home on South River street.

—Professor Bohn says if he was only a few years younger he would be pleased to show some of the Spaniards how well he could go through the sword evercise.

—T. M. Shaw has had the Delano Furniture Company at work on his residence on South Third street and it looks more homelike already. When they get through with it there is no telling how fine it may be.

—Liveryman Cress' auction passed off pleasantly. Auctioneer Billings kept up his reputation by getting pretty good prices for most articles. People were in atttendance from far and near and bidding was often quite lively.

—Delanoites should organize a society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals at once. It is much needed. Some people abuse stock dreadfully on Fair days, and others leave horses hitched out too long without attention.

--Kelsey thought he had come to a spring vacation as he had just finished sawing the big pile of logs about his mill, but the snow of the past week has enabled belated loggers to haul in the left overs and the mill is still humming away.

—Mrs. Webber, the Assistant State Superintendent of the Homeless Children Society, of Minnesota, spoke to a small sized audience in the M. E. church, Sunday evening. She has the position formerly held by Mrs. Russel, who spoke here in behalf of the cause, a year ago.

—Al Hitsman was shipping more cattle and hogs this week. Al is one of the largest stock dealers in this section of country nowadays. He seems to give good satisfaction in the bushess and must be making something at it, or he wouldn't stick to it so faithfully.

—The large empty building, known as the Bruggeman building, on the corner of R. R. Ave. and River streets is a nuisance and should be replaced by a fine brick. It would be safer for neighbors if it was torn down than left in its present condition as it is a fine old fire trap now.

—Sap began to run last week and several sugar camps in this neighborhood have been turning out nice maple syrup, since, one manufacturer says, school children on the road home stop and fill up, not only themselves, but their dinner pails. This keeps down the output of his business materially.

--John Brandser has purchased the corner lot east of Olaf Peterson's shoe store and intends moving his building there soon. He will be centrally located and when the sidewalk is put up to grade from R. R. Ave. to Bridge street on the west side of Second street he will have as fine a business place as the town now affords.

—Rev. Murray, of Howard Lake, M. E. minister, came down Tuesday evening and filled Rev. McCornack's appointment at the Presbyterian church, the latter gentleman being detained by a funeral he was attending. Rev. Murray is a fine sermonizer, and entertained his audience well. Rev. McCornack is to be present next Tuesday evening.

—Hugh A. Fergusson, traveling agent for the Northwestern Traveling Library, sold a number of membership tickets here this week, and placed a set of 50 volumes at Wittman's drug store, for the use of our citizens. This may serve as a starter from which may be built up a library. Our citizens need a good public library, and with a good energetic person to work it up could have a fine one of their own. Books are cheap.

—The Great Northern has hit upon a plan to carry Delano freight right through town, on out west to Willmar and return next morning. Things get tumbled around and jammed up some, and merchants don't like it. Our depot agent has to be up in the morning very early to look after freight. It seems to be very inconvenient generally, but they do say the G. N. can get along with less help on this plan. But will the people get freight any cheaper?

—Last year the dog nuisance was not abated. Considerable misunderstanding was had concerning viscious dogs running at large. There is a village ordinance which makes it obligatory on dog owners to pay a license in the month of April, and of the Village Marshall or other authorized person to post a notice on the first day of May that the tax on dogs is delinquent. "If said tax is not paid within ten days after the posting of said notices it shall be the duty of the Marshall, or other person authorized to do so, to slay any dog or bitch running at large upon which the tax is not paid." If our village authorities will attend to this at the proper time they may save themselves and others much inconvenience.

—The new street commissioner and crew were initiated into the sidewalk cleaning business in fine style Monday morning.

—Mr. Pierce had two mules Tuesday night, but Wednesday morning he found one had got twisted around in the stall and broken his neck.

—Architects who held contracts to build robin nests, suspended operations several days the fore part of this week on account of the cold wave and heavy snow.

--Ic Murphy, of Carver county, was in Tuesday, with some cattle for the Delano market. Ic knows where to get good bargains, and is willing to sell a few cows to go to Cuba.

—Charley Sell says Joe Leudasher is to put in an orchard of half a hundred apple trees this spring. Good for Joe. If the winters are all like this one has has been he may have apples to supply the Delano market soon. Sell handles good nursery stock. Patronize home agents.

—Rev. Farber went to Montrose as usual for services last Sunday, but owing to the snow storm held none, and did not visit Watertown as he intended doing. Mrs. Webber was to have the church here that evening so Rev. Farber spent a Sunday without preaching.

--A. G. Jones has had a platform built in the rear of his barn for a place to wash buggies. It will be quite a convenience, and his horses will doubtless have less real estate to start out with in future, possibly though they may in time bring home enough to fill the river bank up to grade beneath the platform.

—The Delano Cricket base ball club held a meeting last Saturday night and elected officers and made arrangements for the ensuing year. Officers were chosen as follows:

Manager and property man, Robert Reichel.

Captain, John Catlin.

Secretary, Claus Johnson.

Treasurer, Leonard Deidrich.

The following committees were appointed by the captain, who acts as president of all meetings:

Committee on grounds: Harry Young, Oscar Skogsburg, John Eppel.

Committee on raising money; Robert Reichel, Leonard Deidrich, Harry Young.

Mr. Enos Eppel was chosen umpire and Charley Bentz scorer and mascot.

The club challenges any nine under 18 years of age within 25 miles of Delano.

Meeting adjourned to meet Saturday night April 9th.

—Mrs. Amanda Webber, Assistant State Superintendant of the Children's Home Society, of Minneapolis, visited Delano for a few days this week in the interests of the society. She was entertained at the home of Rev. J. L. Farber. She visited the Swedish Mission church, the German Evangelical church, and the Presbyterian Sunday school during the day, and in the evening the M. E. church where she was to make an address on her work. Owing to the storm but few were in attendance but they were highly entertained with a few remarks by her. She is a fine speaker and earnest worker. She says she recently brought in from country places on one trip five little homeless children, among them a pair of two month old twins, to the Home. That week, she says, ten children were brought to the home to have homes found for them. She says she was well pleased with Delano and its people. She reports the work of the home since its organization as being very extensive. homes having been found in the eight and a half years for 1220 little homeless children. Children are placed only in homes where they will have good christian influence surrounding them.

The work under Rev. Savage is a great work and deserves the help of christian people everywhere.

County Cullings.

The Standard says the GAZETTE is on hand promptly every Saturday at Buffalo. We are glad to know that, as some of our subscribers at other points had complained that they did not get it soon enough.

The suggestion offered some time since that Hon. A. Y. Eaton be successor to Judge Tarbox next fall seems to meet with the approval of many of the fusionists, while even the Eagle can't see but that Judge Eaton would sound as well as Judge Tarbox.

Several of the editors have been mentioned as candidatee for office next fall. Why don't our republican brethren place Editor Tanner on the ticket as successor to Ed Nagel, Register of Deeds? He could superintend things there quite well, and has labored hard and deserves his share of the honor and emoluments, and it is given out that Ed is not a candidate for re-election.

Cokato has raised the liquor license to $750 per year. Howard Lake has passed an ordinance that no curtains or other devices shall obstruct the view. Want Howard people be shocked to see some fellows in the saloon that they didn't expect patronized such places? Or will the fellows reform? Monticello voted no license; so did Montrose.

Cokato Enterprise: A most commendable action of the respective political parties of the county would be to put up as candidates, for the respective county offices, persons well qualified for the work to be done. Such persons character and general moral reputation should also be considered before the people. The people of the county are now aware that political loyalty is not the criterion in selecting county officers, and their votes will be cast for persons who in their opinion is the most competant and trustworthy regardless of politics.

The world do move! Brothers Tanner and French have at last found out that "Tariff is a Tax", and are quarreling over whether or not the Dingley tariff is furnishing a sufficency or a deficency.

Buffalo Standard: The republicans of Wright county have demonstrated in the past their ability to distinguish between political crookedness and political independence and they possess at the present time the same keen perception.

It beats all how the Republican editors of Wright county are after A. Y. Eaton. It has even been rumored that A. Y. is to sue Lamson for libel. It looks strange for papers to indulge in such warfare as the Journal and Standard have for weeks past and then to call upon the courts to decide their quarrel. Still if one has kept to the truth and the other has not the world should know it.

Editor Wharton says: "Eaton replies also by accusing us of trying to get the postoffice in Buffalo. Eaton knows he was lying when he made the assertion. There isn't a man, woman, or child, living or dead, who ever heard us say one word in reference to a desire to be appointed postmaster at Buffalo, or any place else at any time." J. H. Wendell says Eaton was right, that Wharton was after the post office.

Democrats throughout the county should get together and talk over matters and see where they are at. There seems to be a fighting chance for a reform movement this time sure. Voters interested in reform should see to it that good men are sent to conventions. The conventions are for expressing the county's choice of principles and men. The proper place for individual voters to do most good is at primary elections. Keep out the known tricksters. Send men who can be trusted to do what they believe is right. Honorable, honest fusion of forces, with respectaole candidates will most likely win.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $85.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 50

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chonce with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone. 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal
And the
Buffalo Gazette
Both one year
For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the
Buffalo Gazette,
Delano,
Minn.

Before Subsbribing for a Magazine

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Personal.

Rev. M. Savs returned har home from Winsted, where he had a pleasant visit.

Dan McCarter, of Hamline, was in town Monday, on his way to visit at Montrose.

Mrs. H. D. Cadwell, of Rockford, visited her daughter Mrs. Ernest Stinson, Wednesday.

Miss Flossie Davis visited this week with her sister Stella who is teaching near Buffalo.

T. S. Kerr who has been for several weeks helping calk the Mississippi fleet has returned home.

Prof. Pryor stopped a short time in Delano on his way home to Montrose from Otsego, on Friday last.

Jacob Horsch and family and John Pagenkopf, of Independence, were Delano visitors Wednesday.

S. R. Spates and son, of Markville, made us a pleasant call one day this week while in town visiting friends.

Mrs. M. Conzet celebrated her 77th birthday last Sunday. Among her guests were Mrs. Fred Conzet and daughter of Greenwood, Mrs. B. Bradley, of Rockford, and Miss Ethel Archibald, of Bay Lake. Mr. and Mrs. C. came into the big woods in 1856.

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .86
" "	No. 2 " "	$ .83
" "	No. 3 " "	$ .80
Rye	" "	$ .39
Potatoes, per bu.,		30 .40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.08
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens, dressed,		.05 .07
Turkeys, dressed,		.08 .10

DIED.

WALKER.—In North Rockford, on Sunday, March 27, of Pneumonia, William Walker, aged 65.

PEIKERT.—Near Hanover, on Wednesday, March 23, Mrs. Peikert, aged 62 years.

DELANO
FURNITURE CO.
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING,
REPAIRING AND GENERAL
CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R. Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50. With Free Press Year Book $1.65.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and the Silver Knight Watchman, weekly, two papers for one year, for $1.65.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

If your add was here somebody would read it, and might call on you.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $85.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer
To Our Subscribers.

By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE and

LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

GAZETTE.
ONE YEAR
$1.00

The Pioneer Press.

"OLDEST AND BEST"

With the SPECIAL CABLES
OF THE NEW YORK HERALD

The Full Service of the ASSOCIATED PRESS

and its PRIVATE N. Y. WIRES

PRINTS THE NEWS

12 to 24 Hours Ahead

of any Northwestern Newspaper.

MERCHANT TAILOR.
J. BRANDSER.
DELANO, MINN.
Spring Styles

Goods on Hand
BIGGEST STOCK
THAT EVER
CAME
To Wright County.

NOBBY SUITS,
FIT GUARANTEED.
Call soon and get a choice of
Patterns.
22-tf.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.

Money the Pricing Instrument.

Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.

The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.

The Silver Knight-Watchman.

The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.

U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.

A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.
A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.
A large circulation in every State and Territory.

Subscription Price, $1 Per Year.
Send for sample; agents wanted.

Published weekly by the
Silver Knight Publishing Co.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Advertise in
the GAZETTE
for trade.

SUBSCRIBE
FOR THE
GAZETTE.
-AdvertisE-
IN THE
GAZETTE.

C. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES

Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.

All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.

Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
20. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

FOR
FINE JOB PRINTING,
IN THE LINE OF
Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads
Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand
Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line
of Printing,
CALL AT THE
Gazette Office.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.

TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.

Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.

The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month; this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ONLY $1.75 FOR

THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.

Send your Subscriptions to this office.

CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS!

Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for

FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE

Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at

50 CENTS

From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.

Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer

The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Historical Society

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1898. NUMBER 28.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B. AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis, Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday..... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

SCANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

—Preaching every 3rd Sunday each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:40 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a. m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
ALBION.—Preaching..... .....
REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President, THOS. B. RADER.
Trustees, ADAM HORSCH. JOHN E. BORSCH. A. E. JOHNSON.
Recorder, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, W. H. FRAZEE. R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, DARV WELKER.
Board of Health, T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary. C. A. BRONKOW.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables JOSEPH MERRIMAN. GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY.
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET. and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive

—of—

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent, CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $55.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

THAT "good, sound American doctrine promulgated by the coming message" of President McKinley which the Carver County News announced to its readers, hasn't yet reached Congress.

A DYKE in front of Shawnetown, Illinois, broke on Sunday and the town was quickly submurged, drowning many people and ruining much property. The dyke was supposed to be safe but seems to haae suddenly given way with its disasterous results.

CLAIMS have been made that money schemes are at the bottom of the lack of patriotism of some of the leaders in public matters. If so the people are entitled to a message from the president to that effect. President Jackson would have enjoyed making one on that subject.

MCKINLEY must expect war even though he does shirk his duty by refraining from sending a message to Congress; as his latest excuse is given out to be because of a telegram from Gen Lee that he needs till Sunday to get the Americans away from Cuba. Otherwise he surely wouldn't permit 2,000 Americans to tear up house keeping and come to America expecting war. But then Congress and the country expected a message Wednesday and they were disappointed.

Peace or War.

The long and much talked of war between the United States and Spain is growing very tiresome to the people of this country. Nothing racks the American citizen like suspense. He wants to know what he is going to do then he is satisfied. Living in suspense from week to week wears on the system. It unstrings the nerves and brings on insomnia and other dsagreeable ailments. The policy adopted by the President appears to be that of a pettifogger in a justice court, that of postponment, adjournment from day to day until all opposition to prosecution of the case is worn out. The president, the servant of the people, should communicate with Congress, the representatives of the people, as often as anything new turns up. He should keep Congress posted as to all points in the controversy. Perhaps then they might agree with him. But to dilly dally along with the promise that a message will be forwarded to Congress Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and then next week, may do for one week but a repetition of that kind of tactics rasps awfully on the patriotism of the people. If he is delaying for the purpose of haying a solid country behind him, with the exception of the St. Paul Dispatch, which claims that no resolution to free Cuba will ever be passed on motion of Joseph Bailey, the man to make one of the very first motions to that effect, he comes very near having that backing now, if he will recommend the declaring of Cuba free and independent.

If President McKinley has any other information on which to hang his policy of playing a freeze out game he should present it to Congress and to the people. They have a right to know what their servant, the president, is doing, as well as have the partners in a store or stock company to know of any great bargain or trade or innovation in business to be made. If he is bound to have peace at any price let him communicate that determination to Congress. Let the people as well as the stock brokers know it. The people are the sovereigns of this country. They have a right to know what is going on without having things in a turmoil for weeks and months without a word of advice from their chosen executive officer.

If Spain has been having trouble with Cuba since before the present generation was born, and the imbred hatred between the citizens of Cuba and their imported officers has grown worse from year to year until culminating as our own representatives have lately reported in the systematic starving of thousands of Cuban inhabitants, and our own war vessels and citizens are not considered safe in the country within a few hours travel of our own shores it is about time we would declare Cuba free and independent, from such a government.

If our information in regard to the matter, which seems to accord with the very large majority of the American citizens today is not up to date, is not in accord with that which determines President McKinley's apparent hesitency to act, then we demand of him, that that he forthwith proceed to divulge the secrets, to enlighten the country as to why Cuba should not be declared free.

Why doesn't Senator Hanna or Senator Hale, reply to the speech of Senator Thurston?—Dispatch.

How could they? Who'd listen? This is no time for theories; the cold facts are what people are after now.

Ominous Signs.

It should be considered ominous signs for Spain that a man by name of Schley has been placed in command of the flying squadron, and Sampson in charge of the North Atlantic squadron. There will be many Spaniards Schleyn.—New York Dispatch.

At the going rate the regulation Sampson weapon seems to be doing most of the "Schleyn".

Source of Pride.

"It should be a source of pride to every Minnesotian that in these times of national trial, our senior senator, C. K. Davis, is one of the president's most valued councellors and advisers."—Buffalo Standard.

If that is correct, why don't some of the president's actions coincide more nearly with the published sentiments of the well known warlike Cushman K. Davis? If they did, possibly there might be some source of pride for the Minnesotian.

Behind the Times.

"Mr. Brann, of Texas, got just what he was hunting for. His fate is a shining moral for other noisy "reformers". "—Duluth News Tribune.

A great idea for the News Tribune to advance! Possibly Mr. Brann's reform will come about, and his name go thundering down the ages yet to come, while the person that penned the above severe thrust at "reformers" indiscriminately will never be known to the public even of his own time.

"His fate is a shining moral for other noisy reformers" says the News Tribune. Was the hanging of John Brown and his followers in the same line? And didn't their cause grow by their death? Didn't slavery cease to exist in America? And wasn't many a tired soldier helped over hard marches by the song:

"John Brown's body lies a molding in the grave:
But his soul is marching on."

Don't we have it from Galileo that "The world do move"? Isn't it in the history of the universe that carping, evil disposed, money grabbing people have fought against "reforms" all along? When the Saviour of mankind appeared, his own knew him not. The financier of the apostles betrayed the Master for money. Isn't that the history of the world? Don't reformers in all lines meet with thrusts like that little article the News editor probably thought was cute?

The Maine sailed into Havanna harbor to reform the Spaniard's actions toward citizens of this country. She was blown up. Was it what she "was hunting for"? Are "reformers" hunting for martyr's deaths? Was Rev. Haddock, of Sioux City, looking for a man to shoot him, or was he trying to have saloon keepers keep the laws of the land?

If the News Tribune finds fault with Mr. Brann's reforms let it point out the faults. But to hurl such squibbs at reformers generally in this age of reform is away behind the times.

The Union Pacific Railway Company, one of the few remaining railroad corporations centering at Omaha that deferred taking stock in the Trans-Mississippi Exposition has announced a subscription of $25,000. This brings the total amount subscribed by the railroads up to $125,000. George Gould has promised a subscription by the Missouri Pacific "when the road's earnings will warrant it." The road is expected to subscribe at least $10,000.

All His Sheep Were Hogs.

A Methodist minister once started a church in a western town, but for want of pecuniary support was soon obliged to abandon it. His farewell sermon to his lukewarm brethren was characterized by more heat than elegance. He ended thus: "At the last day the Lord will say to St. Peter, 'Here, Lord,' and so all the shepherds can answer. But when he asks me, 'Where are your sheep?' how will I feel when I am compelled to reply: 'Lord, I haven't any: mine are all hogs.' "—Aitkin Republican.

An Automatic Physician.

One of the most remarkable developments of the automatic machine is a "Doctor Cureall," in Holland. It is a wooden figure of a man, with compartments all over it, labelled with the names of various ailments. If you have a pain, find its corresponding location on the figure, drop a coin into the slot and the pill or powder will come out.—N. Y. Dispatch.

New York Dispatch: New York, first among the States, votes a million dollars for the national defence. New York city, of all American cities, has most to lose in case of war.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 1, 1898.

Haul down the blood stained yellow rag—
Spain's ever treacherous flag;
We are ready, and we're right;
And, by the eternal, we're going to fight.

The events of this week have inspired Congress with the spirit of '76, and this spirit compelled Mr. McKinley to beg Congress for a little more time in order that he might ascertain whether Spain would accept his last proposition—one that he should never have made—to sell Cuba to the insurgents and to recognize its independence, and humbled Czar Reed so far as to make him publicly promise that the house would be allowed to vote on the Cuban question—after he knew that about 75 republicans had decided to vote with the democrats to overrule him should he attempt to prevent action.

Resolutions galore for recognition of Cuban Independence, for forcible intervention, and for a straight-cut decitration of war against Spain—the best thing after all—have been offered in the House and Senate this week, and red hot speeches charging the peace-at-any-price crowd with loving the eagle upon their dollars more than the eagle upon their flag have been made, and any day Congress may declare war against Spain, or take action that will be be equivalent. Nothing but the begging of Mr. McKinley has prevented that action, and nothing, but the recognition of the independence of Cuba by Spain, which nobody but Mr. McKinley even pretends to expect, can prevent it much longer. Mr. McKinley has been given until the first of next week. The republicans want to make party capital out of what is done, and for that reason sustained Czar Reed when he declared Representative Bailey to be out of order when he offered a resolution declaring Cuba free, as a personal privilege.

It is not surprising that Congress should be in a warlike mood. The Maine report made it plain that our battleship was blown up by Spaniards; the stock speculation on inside information of so called peace negotiations with Spain, that speculators were informed in advance of Congress of what the administration was doing, and the starting of another fleet of Spanish war ships for Cuba, that Spain was merely playing for time to get in a position to strike us a disastrous blow.

The House by a vote of 132 to 91 decided that a claim of a loyal citizen of the U. S, against the government lost its validity when willed to a member of the family of a man who fought on the Southern side in the civil war. The particular claim upon which this vote was taken was contained in a bill that has about 850 claims of loyal citizens of the South for various things supplied to the Union troops during the war. It was made by the heirs of the widow of Gen. R. E. Lee, who had inherited the claim from Mrs. W. H. Fitzhugh, a notoriously loyal woman, from whose farm in Fairfax county, Va., the Union troops had taken 108,000 cords of timber.

The eulogy of Senator Tillman on his late colleague, Senator Earle, of S. C., was, owing to the relations of the two men during years of rivalry in State politics, one of the most remarkable ever delivered in Congress. It was a manly tribute on the part of Senator Tillman, who said he gave it because he felt that if he failed to do so the history of the fame and virtues of Gen. Earl would lack the important testimony that he alone could give and added that while his might not be the highest tribute that could be paid, none could be more sincere and heartfelt.

Mr. McKinley feels the need of a Secretary of State who knows more international law and diplomacy than does his friend Judge Day or himself. He tried to tempt Senator Davis, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, into accepting the place, but it wouldn't work, and he is now working on ex-Senator Edmunds, of Vt., who has been recently acting in an advisory capacity to him with the same object in view. Edmunds has ability of the highest order, but he has been a corporation lawyer for so long that his patriotism may be a little trust-tainted, like that of others who are recognized as advisers by Mr. McKinley. These things point to the early exit of poor old John Sherman from public life, in which he has since the advent of this administration been compelled to play a dummy part.

In the midst of the prevailing excitement the people of Washington have neither forgotten nor neglected to render deserved honor to their intrepid fellow-townsman, Capt. C. D. Sigsbee, late commander of the battleship Maine, whose name is now a world wide synonym for bravery and coolness. Capt. Sigsbee's home is in Washington, and his wife and children are not prouder of him than all other Washingtonians are. The National Geographic Society, of which he is a member, is arranging a public reception in his honor which promises to surpass anything of the kind held in Washington for a long time.

The resolution providing for the recognition of Cuban independence, forcible intervention by the U. S. to drive Spanish soldiers out of Cuba, and appropriating $500,000 for the relief of non-combatants, which was offered in the Senate by Allen, of Nebr., and in the House by Bell, of Colo., was the result of a joint conference of the populists in Congress, and represents their position.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

Thos. J. Casey, Detroit, sash fastener. John Edgar, Rochester, whiffletree center. Maznus P. Elgen, St. Paul, Hydrant. August A. D. Engstrand, Mora, stove or furnace. Lars Jorgenson, Brownsdale, detachable cork. Edward Manix, Caledonia, hog snout cutter. Isaac A. Milton, Bigelow, portable grain elevator. Wm. W. Rossman, Detroit, stove or furnace. Frank. H. Wheelock, St. Paul means for preventing slipping of car wheels upon grades.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

Advertise in the GAZETTE.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic state convention for the state of Minnesota is hereby called to meet in the city of Minneapolis, on Wednesday, June 15, 1898, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for all of the state offices in the state of Minnesota, to be voted for at the general state election, in November, 1898, and to transact such other business as may be properly brought before said convention.

All the counties in the state of Minnesota shall hold their respective county conventions for the election of delegates to said state convention on Thursday, June 9, 1898.

The basis of representation to which the several counties shall be entitled is hereby fixed at two delegates at large for each county and one delegate for each 100 voters and major fraction thereof, cast for Hon. William J. Bryan, for president, in the presidential election, in 1896.

The apportionment for the several counties being as follows:

Aitkin	5	Martin	15
Anoka	10	Meeker	12
Becker	12	Millie Lac	7
Beltrami	4	Morrison	19
Benton	11	Mower	16
Big Stone	9	Murray	13
Blue Earth	20	Nicollet	10
Brown	17	Nobels	14
Carlton	7	Norman	15
Carver	15	Olmstead	19
Cass	5	Otter Tail	47
Chippewa	12	Pine	11
Chisago	16	Pipestone	11
Clay	21	Polk	48
Cook	3	Pope	9
Cottonwood	10	Ramsey	122
Crow Wing	13	Redwood	18
Dakota	25	Renville	22
Dodge	11	Rice	22
Douglas	15	Rock	10
Faribault	13	Roseau	7
Fillmore	21	Red Lake	7
Freeborn	14	St. Louis	76
Goodhue	16	Scott	19
Grant	9	Sherburne	7
Hennepin	267	Sibley	15
Houston	12	Stearns	51
Hubbard	5	Steele	14
Isanti	9	Stevens	9
Itasca	9	Swift	14
Jackson	13	Todd	19
Kanabec	5	Traverse	12
Kandiyhoi	18	Wabasha	18
Kittson	10	Wadena	7
Lac qui Parle	11	Wascca	14
Lake	5	Washington	18
Le Sueur	22	Watonwan	8
Lincoln	9	Wilkin	11
Lyon	16	Winona	37
McLeod	19	Wright	24
Marshall	14	Yellow Medicine	12

The following candidates will be nominated at said convention: Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, three associate justices of supreme court and clerk of supreme court.

The Democratic county committees are hereby directed to call primary elections in due time, and publish and post the notices required by law for such primary elections in the respective counties and precincts within the time required by law.

All electors, who voted for Hon. William J. Bryan for president, in 1896, or who intend to support the principles enunciated in the platform adopted by the Democracy in national convention assembled, in Chicago, in 1896, are invited to participate in said primary elections.

By order of the Democratic state central committee.

—C. W. Stanton, Acting Secretary.
—L. A. Rosing, Chairman.

Willmar Trib.: For a score or more years, with one or two exceptions, the village of Willmar has received saloon revenue. Has the money so obtained proven a blessing? What have we to show for it? Water-works and electric light did you say? Oh, no. We still owe for these improvements. What we have got are paupers, and an endless train of poverty, misery, despair and tragedy in homes in the village as well as in the neighboring country.

THE BIGGEST OFFER YET

The BUFFALO GAZETTE

—AND—

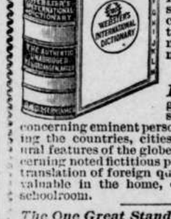
THE TWICE-A WEEK DETROIT FREE PRESS

BOTH PAPERS ONE YEAR

FOR ONLY $1.50.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Entirely New. Abreast of the Times. A Grand Educator.



Successor of the "Unabridged."

Everybody should own this Dictionary. It answers all questions concerning the history, spelling, pronunciation, and meaning of words.

A Library in Itself. It also gives the often desired information concerning eminent persons; facts concerning the countries, cities, towns, and natural features of the globe; particulars concerning noted fictitious persons and places; translation of foreign quotations. It is invaluable in the home, office, study, and schoolroom.

The One Great Standard Authority.

Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice of U. S. Supreme Court, writes: "The International Dictionary is the perfection of dictionaries. I commend it to all as the one great standard authority."

Recommended by Every State Superintendent of Schools Now in Office.

A saving of three cents per day for a year will provide more than enough money to purchase a copy of the International. Can you afford to be without it?

Ask your Bookseller show it to you.

G. & C. Merriam Co. Publishers, Springfield, Mass.

Do not buy cheap photo-reprints of ancient editions. Send for free prospectus containing sample pages, illustrations, etc.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

LATEST NEWS.

Looks Warlike.

PRESIDENT PEACABLE.

RESPONSIBILITY MUST REST ON CONGRESS.

Preparations Progressing in Both Countries.

Gen. Lee and the last of the Americans to Sail Saturday.

87 Recruits for the Navy Enlisted in St. Paul.

St. Paul Pioneer Extra, 4 A. M. Friday, April 8, says: J. P. Gibbins, of London, says over his own signature. "I have not the slightest hesitation in saying that the Maine was deliberately destroyed with a 500 pound ground mine, as invented and supplied by me."

WASHINGTON, Special, April 7.—After receiving the representatives of the powers this afternoon President Mc Kinley said to the New York Journal corespondent:

"If Congress still desires war after hearing my message it will have to take the responsibility on its own shoulders. I do most earnestly hope that war may be averted. My intention now is to send my message next Monday and make no recommendations. In my message every fact will be given and every circumstance will be detailed that has any bearing on the existing difficulty with Spain."

The Maine blow up will not down. There don't seem to be much talk about it at present. But when other things have been settled it will, doubtless, come to the front again.

This morning's papers read more like war than ever. It is a dreadful thing to go to war, and no one desires to shoulder the responsibility of precipitating the war.

The Spaniard Sagasta is quite a diplomat himself. He seems to be playing for time successfully.

The long looked for and oft promised patriotic message of President Mc Kinley to Congress on the Cuban question, has not yet been read.

The cannon in the hands of St. Paul and Minneapolis militia companies and one forom the State University have been ordered sent to the front. It is said some of them are wanted for coast defense.

Cubans don't want intervention by the United States unless Cuban independence is recognized. Why should they? What have they been fighting for all these years? Independence or death seems to be their motto. And under the circumstances it seems to be about all the motto they could honorably have now.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE

The Free Press

YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPOEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

By sending 15 cents for postage any subscriber to the Free Press can have the book.

$1.65 gets the GAZETTE and the Free Press for One Year, and the Book.

BALD,
BALD HEADS.
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

GIVE US A CALL.

W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,

Abstractors,

BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.

Fifteen Years Experience

SHORTHAND SELF-TAUGHT How? By the study of the Manual of Phonography, by Benn Pitman and Jerome B. Howard. A perfect self-instructor. Over 355,000 sold. Thousands have mastered it; so can you. Sold by all booksellers, or we will send it by mail, with the Phonographic Reader and Phonographic Copy Book for $1.25.

THE BENN PITMAN SYSTEM has for 44 years been the standard. Called by the U. S. Bureau of Education "The American System." First prize, World's Fair. Full information with hints and helps to self-instructed students, free.

THE PHONOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE CO., 222 W. 4th St., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

Advertise

SUBSCRIBE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO, Wright Co., - MINN.

APRIL—1898.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
....	....	....	....	....	1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30

Prohibition is to be tried in Alaska, and naturally enough the movement was first started at Fort Wrangel.

The coast line of the United States, according to the coast survey, embraces 5,715 miles, including 2,349 miles on the Atlantic, 1,556 on the Gulf of Mexico and 1,810 on the Pacific.

All the lumber in the world will soon have been utilized in constructing ships. In that glad day peace will be universal, because nowhere on earth will there be any kindling to split.

As the strawberry is more than 90 per cent. water, and the basket far outweighs the water, there is just enough of the strawberry left to form what chemists call a trace. And yet the strawberry is a pleasant vernal delusion.

The launch of the Kearsarge and Kentucky is notable from the fact that it is the first instance of two great battleships launched the same day from an American shipyard. They will be the two most powerful ships in the United States navy.

Some one has discovered that the color of sin is not scarlet, as the good book would have us believe, but pink. On the theory that the men who ages ago wrote the Bible knew what they were talking about, this "discovery" will doubtless be looked upon as proof positive that the world is growing better. If so, the more pink the better, even to pink teas.

There is a maxim: "It is sweet to die for one's country." It is still better to live for it, and bless it by good works in every field to which you are called. There are heroes in the home, as well as on the battle field, and they should always be in harmony. Heroes can never be expected upon the battle fields when there are not heroes and heroines in the homes of the land. The one creates the other.

Late news from the Klondike indicates that this winter's output of gold will amount to $9,000,000. Even this large sum will prove a disappointment to many, and it certainly shows that the large majority of the thousands who managed to get through to Dawson City last fall failed to find "pay dirt." Some of them will persevere, but in all probability the exodus from the gold fields will be very large.

Among the cigarmakers now working at West Tampa, Fla., is a man named Ricardo, who ten months ago was worth $4,000,000 or $5,000,000. At that time he was a resident of Cuba, owning a great deal of property in Havana, besides much tobacco land. Shortly after Weyler's arrival in the island he was accused of giving aid and comfort to the revolutionists. He was banished, his property confiscated and now he earns $40 per month.

Just as woman thinks she has demonstrated her fitness for a position in the front rank of human progress something always seems to interfere with her calculations. There is the case of the Indiana young woman who expioded a dynamite cartridge with a hairpin as an example. If accidents of this kind can happen, what is woman to do in case of war? Does anyone expect that she will consent to go into battle without hairpins?

There is a chimney 170 feet high running up from the separating department of the assay office on Wall street, New York. It was built in 1854. Its inner lining of fire brick was found last fall to be in bad condition. Some months ago the work of replacing the lining was begun, and a few days ago it was completed. From the old firebrick 52 standard ounces of gold and 860 standard ounces of silver, together worth $1,500, were extracted.

A very easy way to account for the first natives of the new world is to adopt the theory that the aborigines came from Asia to America. The American museum of natural history will in a short time send expeditions to visit and live for a time among the tribes of the northwest corner of America. This study of their modes of life and comparison of their implements and skeletons will be carried through at least ten tribes, and proofs of their descent from tribes that came over Behring sea to this continent may, or may not, be established.

"Lo, the poor Indian," does not apply to the Osage tribe. A report just issued by the government shows that the Osage Indians, numbering 1,729 men, women and children, own 1,500,000 acres of valuable land, have $9,000,000 in trust with the government, which brings them five per cent. interest, and have leases with cattlemen for the use of pasture lands, which bring them from $40,000 to $50,000 a year, without counting the rentals from agricultural lands. But with so much money they have become lazy and idle and are in a state of rapid degeneration.

A paper read before the London Statistical society, giving the eight principal causes of insanity and the percentage of cases occurring from each of them, declares that love affairs are responsible for only a trifle over one in a hundred cases. Of the other causes drink is set down for about a third of all the cases; a like proportion is ascribed to domestic troubles and mental anxiety; old age and adverse circumstances 13 in the 100; while only four in the 100 are set down as due to religious excitement. Thus religion and love are the feeblest in their operation.

A WEEK'S HISTORY

The Important Happenings of a Week Briefly Told.

IN ALL PARTS OF THE UNION

All the Latest News of Interest from Washington, From the East, the West and the South.

THE LATEST FOREIGN DISPATCHES

FIFTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Proceedings of First Regular Session.

A discussion on the Cuban question took place in the United States senate on the 31st ult., after which 35 pages of the sundry civil appropriation bill were disposed of. Senator Lodge (Mass.) introduced a bill for the acquisition of one or all of the Danish West India islands—St. Croix, St. Thomas and St. John—as a coaling station. In the house Mr. Wheeler (Ala.) introduced a bill appropriating $500,000 to feed the Cuban non-combatants who have been concentrated in cities, and Mr. Hull (Ia.) introduced a bill increasing the medical force of the army by the addition of 15 assistant surgeons.

Senator Quay (Pa.) offered a resolution in the United States senate on the 1st providing that the committee on foreign relations be and is hereby instructed to report on or before the 5th inst. a bill for the recognition of the republic of Cuba. The bill providing for the purchase of the Danish islands in the West Indies for coaling stations was indefinitely laid aside. Adjourned to the 4th. In the house the naval appropriation bill ($39,000,000) was passed with an amendment providing for three first-class battleships, 12 fast torpedo boats and 12 torpedo boat destroyers. Adjourned to the 4th.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Government receipts during March were $32,958,750, a loss of about $3,000,000 as compared with March, 1897. The expenditures aggregated $31,882,444, an increase of nearly $5,000,000 over March, 1897.

The statement of the public debt issued on the 1st shows that the debt decreased $1,387,865 during the month of March. The cash balance in the treasury was $853,798,468. The total debt, less the cash balance in the treasury, amounts to $1,008,716,351.

Gen. Schofield has taken charge of the national volunteer reserve, and plans for speedily obtaining an available standing army of 1,000,000 men were made at a meeting of the military committee.

It was announced at a cabinet meeting that Spain's answer to the ultimatum of this government was unsatisfactory, and a policy which seems certainly to involve hostilities was decided upon. President McKinley will send a message to congress explaining the status of affairs and asking the cooperation of the legislative body in dealing with Spain. One of the significant happenings of the day was an offer of mediation by France, but it was diplomatically declined by the president.

In Washington the opinion held by public men and diplomatists is that the crisis will reach its climax this week and that the question of war with Spain or peace will be determined within the next seven days. The disposition to hurry the president seems to have disappeared in congress since members realize that his message must be a document that is to justify congress in its action, whatever his recommendations.

Louise Brewer, wife of Justice Brewer, of the United States supreme court, died at her home in Washington, aged 60 years.

THE EAST.

In the United States there were 220 business failures in the seven days ended on the 1st, against 251 the week previous and 260 in the corresponding period of 1897.

At the leading clearing houses in the United States the exchanges during the week ended on the 1st aggregated $1,106,058,142, against $1,084,339,916 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of 1897 was 29.3.

An inmate of the almshouse near New Brunswick, N. J., Noah Raby, celebrated his one hundred and twenty-sixth birthday.

WEST AND SOUTH.

On June 15 Minnesota democrats will hold their convention in Minneapolis.

The death of Alice Mitchell occurred in the insane asylum at Bolivar, Tenn. She became notorious for murdering Frieda Ward on January 25, 1893, in a fit of jealousy growing out of a perverted affection.

Ex-Gov. John P. St. John, of Kansas, the prohibition nominee for president in 1884, has renounced the cold water party and joined the populists.

W. C. Brann, editor of the Iconoclast, and Capt. M. T. Davis killed each other in a duel at Waco, Tex.

The death of Eliza Spriggs, a negress, occurred in Hempstead, Tex., aged 115 years.

By the breaking of a levee Shawneetown, Ill., a place of 1,800 inhabitants, was practically wiped out of existence, and it was reported that 250 persons were caught in the sudden flood and drowned. Hundreds of others were swept into the Ohio, clinging to the roofs of houses or floating on pieces of board. The flood extends four miles inland, and people were fleeing for their lives from all lowland hamlets.

Missouri populists will hold their state convention in St. Louis on July 7.

By the upsetting of a boat M. Whrendorf, his three children and sister and brother-in-law were drowned in the river near St. Francis, Ark.

Near Campbellsville, Ky., a boiler explosion killed four men outright and fatally hurt another.

Near Spottsville, Ky., John Harris and his wife and child and two men named Hicks were drowned by the capsizing of a boat.

Mary Ann McBride (colored) died in Mount Carmel, Ill., aged 102 years.

In Chicago Robert Jones confessed that he was the murderer of Jennie Cramer, a young girl of New Haven, Conn., in 1881, for which James and Walter Malley, nephew and son respectively of a New Haven millionaire, were indicted, tried and acquitted.

The flying squadron at Hampton Roads is ready to sail at an hour's notice.

In South Dakota 600 Sioux Indians have tendered their services to Gov. Lee to reenforce the state militia.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

In Berlin Prince Bismarck celebrated his eighty-third birthday at his home.

In South Wales collieries 40,000 miners struck for higher wages.

The death of Arthur Orton, who became notorious through his fraudulent claim to the Tichborne estate and baronetcy, occurred in London, aged 69 years.

Mexico's government will prevent any raising of troops by Spaniards, as has been contemplated, along the frontier.

It is said the pope has sent an urgent message to the queen regent of Spain asking that the Cuban war be brought to an end in the interests of progress and Christianity.

All consuls in Cuba have been ordered to repair at once to Havana, there to be in readiness for instant departure.

A report that the Spanish torpedo flotilla had arrived at Porto Rico was untrue. The flotilla is at Cape Verde islands, where it will remain until further orders.

Ex-Congressman Amaza Norcross died in Paris, aged 74 years. He was a resident of Fitchburg, Mass.

While temporarily insane Mrs. Glover cut the throats of her six children at Hobart, B. C., and then drowned herself.

In Paris the court of cassation has quashed the sentence of one year's imprisonment and 3,000 francs fine imposed upon M. Emile Zola.

LATER NEWS.

The Italian government has sold three first class torpedo boats to the United States. Italy has refused to sell Spain ships for the reason that she defaulted payments on the Garibaldi.

The Spanish warships Vizcaya and Oquenda, which left Havana lately, have arrived at Porto Rico.

In direct opposition to the instructions of President Dolan, 4,500 miners in the Pittsburg district went on a strike. The trouble arose over the matter of screens.

Jack Carr, mail carrier, arrived at Nanaimo, B. C., from St. Michaels, Alaska. He claims to have a message from Andree, one of his carrier pigeons having been picked up. The message says Andree is all ve and on land.

The condition of the insane King Otto of Bavaria has suddenly become worse, and it is feared he is dying. Within the last three months he has relapsed into his old violent state, and his most dangerous illusion, that of being a stork and able to fly, has again possessed him. He smokes cigarettes immoderately and displays an inordinate appetite for candies.

Since the Maine disaster, Feb. 15, the New York banks have decreased their loan accounts $50,000,000 and increased their coin reserves $25,000,000.

Capt. Samson has been directed to dissolve the Maine court of inquiry, its work having been completed.

It was stated on undoubted authority that Atlanta, Ga., will be the point of concentration of United States troops.

The mining camp of Lower Town, Arizona, was wiped out by fire. Loss, $40,000.

Ellsworth Miller, at Adel, Io., put some dynamite in the stove to thaw out. The explosion wrecked the house and seriously injured his wife and two children.

In the altermanic election in Chicago the reform element won, electing 25 out of 35 candidates. These 25 have pledged themselves to demand for the city, conpensation for all public franchises. With 13 holdover the reform element will have 38 voters in the city council, or a majority of three. The politics of the aldermen elected are Democratic 17, Republican 17, Independents 1.

The movement of the powers of Europe for a joint offer of mediation between the United States and Spain has received a severe and probably fatal rebuff in the form of a definite refusal upon the part of Great Britain to participate in it.

John D. Host, a clerk in the general delivery division of the Chicago postoffice, was arrested for stealing letters. It is estimated by the department that Host has stolen at least fifty thousand letters addressed to the leading business houses in Chicago during the past few months.

The bishop of Havana has tendered to Gen. Blanco his entire personal fortune, as well as the church treasures in the island, to be used in defense of Spain.

Claims against Spain aggregating $16,000,000 for damages and losses incident to the war in Cuba, have been filed with the state department by citizens residing and interested in that country.

Fully 5,000 union carpenters in Chicago have struck, suspending all work except upon public buildings.

The Ohio senate committee, by a strict party vote, has found Senator Hanna guilty of using improper means to secure his election. There will be a minority report exonorating him.

The battleship Texas has been ordered to sea to meet the San Francisco and New Orleans, en route from England, so there may be no danger of interception from Spanish cruisers in case of war.

The municipal election at Cleveland, O., resulted in favor of the republicans by an increased majority.

Upon receiving an order from Washington to buy ten vessels, the naval auxiliary board at New York purchased the following for auxiliary cruisers: Caracas and Venezuela, of the Red D line: Kansas City, of the Savannah line; Yorktown, Jamestown and Princess Ann, of the Old Dominion line; Elsoland and three others from the Morgan line.

MARKETS.

Minneapolis, April 5.

Wheat—No. 1 northern, 97½ to 98c; No. 2 northern, 95½ to 96; May, 96⅝c.

Corn—No 3, 26½c.

Oats—No. 3, white, 25 to 25¼c.

Cattle—Steers, $3.50 to 3.75; cows, $3.00.

Hogs—$2.50 to 3.80.

Sheep—Muttons, $3.10 to 3.50; lambs, $4.25.

Poultry—Turkeys, 7 to 8c; spring chickens, 7 to 8c.

Butter—Creamery, extras, 17 to 18c; creamery, firsts, 15 to 16c; dairy, fancy, 15 to 16c; dairy, choice, 13 to 14c.

TORRENTS OF WATER.

Bring Death and Destruction to Shawneetown, Ill.

Ohio River Breaks Through a Gap in the North Levee—Neighboring Cities Are Prompt in Extending Aid.

Shawneetown, Ill., April 5.—The suffering throughout Shawneetown is most pitiable. The only direct communication is by telephone from a station first established two miles west of Shawneetown. So far 65 persons are known to be drowned. As yet no systematic attempt has been made to recover the dead bodies. Eight hundred people are being sheltered at the Riverside hotel. Two hundred are missing.

The north levee broke at 4:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the Ohio river flowed over the town many feet deep.

Many corpses have been taken from floating homes where families were sitting around their supper tables when the flood rushed upon them without warning. The disaster is the worst that has occurred since the famous Johnstown flood.

Two Hundred Houses Gone.

The flood swept 200 houses from their foundations. Noble rescue work was done with skiffs. People were found clinging to housetops, trees and other debris. Many families are being sheltered in small houses. Seventy-five negroes have passed the last 24 hours in a small schoolhouse two miles from Shawneetown. So far $3,000 worth of provisions have been sent in from Carmi, McLeansboro, Mount Vernon and Nashville. Three relief expeditions have arrived from Evansville, and the Louisville & Nashville and Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern roads have sent special trains carrying provisions.

The town presents an awful sight. Water stands over nearly every foot of the town, the business district being under from ten to twenty feet, and this varies to three and four feet. The entire business part of the city, it is believed, has been ruined, as in many of the stores the water reached the ceilings and is pouring into the upper floors.

Frank Robinson and Marshal Callicott, in a skiff, rescued 67 people from floating debris and saw many drowned. Cyrus Deveres rescued 13 people, among them three little children floating on a house roof. The father and mother had perished.

Had No Warning.

Ridgeway, Ill., April 5.—J. T. Hogan, of Omaha, Ill., left the scene of the flood half an hour before the dike broke. His brother-in-law, Sheriff Galloway, of Gallatin county, whose home was in Shawneetown, had the same good fortune. The sheriff's wife and two daughters were swept away, and their bodies have not yet been recovered. Hogan's story of the flood shows that the townspeople had absolutely no warning of the disaster. "About five o'clock Sunday evening," he said, "the levee on the north side of the town gave way at the north end of Market street, near the courthouse. An opening ten feet wide was at first made, but it quickly spread to 20 feet, and a wall of water ten or fifteen feet high poured through the main street, sweeping everything before it. About 50 small frame houses along the line of the levee to the south were crushed like toys, and none of the occupants, most of whom were poor colored folks, escaped. Those living in the more substantial houses managed to climb to second and third stories, where they clung for hours through the chilly night.

"Houses in the western part of the town did not at once feel the effect of the flood, and residents made hasty steps for safety, most of them fleeing to the top of the levee on the south side of the town. A large number also reached the little hills, which are a mile from the town, and from there saw their property crumble in the muddy waters. When daylight came the streets were full of water to the depth of ten or twelve feet. Only the most substantial buildings in the central business district remain standing. Water is everywhere and the relief work is being carried out under great difficulties.

Ridgeway, a town 12 miles from Shawneetown, was made the basis of relief work. All rail communication being cut off for miles out, boats were constructed and a committee started to the scene. They reached Cypress Junction, half way to Shawneetown, and found dry land extending toward the river. Following this, they arrived within two miles of the flooded town. More boats were started and the rescuers crossed to Shawneetown. They found a sad condition existing in the ill-fated town. Hundreds of those who escaped the rush of water were perched on roofs, trees and along the top of the levee. They were taken from their dangerous positions as rapidly as possible.

The Work of Rescue.

Owing to the scarcity of boats the work was very slow, but over 200 persons, including many women and children, were taken to the roadway, two miles from Shawneetown, to Cyprus Junction. Here the greater part of them are camped, with very little to eat and exposed to the driving rain and piercing wind. Cypress Junction is almost surrounded by water, which has overflowed the banks of the Wabash and is covering the entire country. The overflow from the broken dike at Shawneetown has backed up two miles inland, but is slowly receding. It will be impossible to recover any bodies until the waters recede very materially. In fact, the rescuers are making very little effort in that direction, but are working to save those who escaped alive. The Riverside hotel and courthouse and the Ridgeway bank are intact, and were found to have been used by the fleeing inhabitants for shelter. The upper stories were crowded.

Carmi Flooded.

The lower portion of Carmi, Ill., on the Wabash river, is entirely flooded. The water reaches half way to the second stories of the houses. The water is level with the floor of the iron road bridge, but the railroad bridge is still two feet above at one point on the Big Four. A mile north of Carmi the track is but one foot above water for a quarter of a mile.

The Stricken Town.

Shawneetown, Ill., has a population of about 2,000 inhabitants, and is situated on the west bank of the Ohio river. The streets were parallel with the river, the principal business street being but two blocks distant from the water. The level of the river is about 15 feet above the city, and the levee bank is about 20 feet thick. Situated on this bank and level with the river is the Riverside hotel, a large, four-story building built by Henry Docher. When the river is at its normal stage it is 1,000 feet wide at this point, and the citizens have long feared a catastrophe such as occurred Snuday night, as a tremendous pressure is brought to bear on the levee during freshets. Several years ago during a flood the water flowed over the levee and the streets were under two feet of water. The levee was strengthened and built up afterward, and the town has since considered there was no danger.

Uncle Sam's New Coaling Station.

Washington, April 4.—The United States has secured control of an island in the Bay of Samana, which will be used as a coaling station. Samana bay is the harbor of the town of Samana, which lies at the mouth of the Samana de la Mar. It is 35 miles from San Domingo to Samana bay, and only 230 miles west of San Juan, Porto Rico, Spain's eastern base in case of hostilities.

Boat Capsized.

St. Louis, April 4.—A special to the Republic from Piggott, Ark., says: M. Wehrendorf, his three children and sister and brother-in-law were drowned in St. Francis river near St. Francis Sunday afternoon. Their boat capsized. None of the bodies have been recovered.

AS TOLD BY A SURVIVOR.

An Eye-Witness of the Shawneetown Flood Tells of Horrors of the Situation.

Paducah, Ky., April 5.—When death swept down upon Shawneetown on the crest of a mighty flood there were a few who watched its progress and lived to tell the story. One of these eye-witnesses has reached Paducah. The scene he beheld and the sounds he heard will linger like a nightmare in his memory for many a day. Ed Walton left Shawneetown late Sunday night and reached here Monday, coming the latter part of his journey by rail. Possibly of all those in Shawneetown he had the clearest view of the disaster.

Walton says the wall of water, 20 feet high, came without warning. The first intimation he had was when he heard a roaring behind him to the north as he lounged along the bank of the main levee. Then he saw the yellow torrent of rushing waters coming. He declares that it looked like a low hill, the spreading waters forming the sloping sides and the crest of the flood the top. Walton was near a wharfboat. Realizing what had happened, he ran for that and reached its deck as the waters began to fill the streets and yards of the well-kept place. Before the citizens of the community could realize their doom, the yellow water was pouring into second-story windows. Whole families died together. Husbands went down to death with the cries of their wives and babies ringing in their ears. Children were swept from their mothers' arms into the whirlpool.

Walton saw one man slide off a floating roof to help a child which clung to some floating wreckage, and both perished before his eyes. A few strong swimmers saved themselves, but for the women and children and older persons there was no help. Some who gained pieces of drifting debris kept their heads above water for a little while, but most of them finally perished. Some of the folks seemed to grow crazy and drowned themselves when they might have escaped. When the flood stopped there was hardly a dry foot of land anywhere.

It was not long before the skiffs and rafts were out picking up those on roofs and on the high ground. Out on the edge of town, where most of the survivors went, there was nothing to eat and no shelter. The women and children were all crying and running around looking for their families. After it got dark it was worse than ever, because all the lights were out.

IT WILL NOT DOWN.

Senator Mitchell, of Wisconsin, Says the Maine Episode Was a Plain Case of Treachery.

Washington, April 5.—Senator Mitchell, of Wisconsin, who is one of the most conservative men in the senate and has never advocated intervention in any way until since the receipt of the report of the Maine disaster, received a letter from Paul D. Carpenter, of Milwaukee, Wis., a son of the late Senator Matt Carpenter, in which an argument for peace is made and in which the report of the Spanish court of inquiry is cited as grounds for not accepting as conclusive the finding of our own court that the Maine was destroyed by an external explosion. To this letter Senator Mitchell replied:

"I have never favored armed interference in Cuban affairs. I did not feel that we were bound to redress the wrongs of Cuba by resorting to war. But the Maine episode will not down. Over-refinement of argument is useless. It stands before the American people a plain case of treachery. Perfidy and cruelty run in the Spanish blood. There is little else in its history. Any nation that would permit such an outrage to go unpunished would not deserve to exist. There are some things worse than war. There are some things better than money."

Duelists Mortally Wounded.

Waco, Tex., April 2.—Friday evening W. C. Brann, editor of the Iconoclast, and Capt. M. T. Davis met and fought a revolver duel. The combatants met just at six o'clock Friday afternoon on South Fourth street, in front of the Cotton Belt ticket office, and after exchanging a few words both began emptying their revolvers into each other's body. When the battle was over Brann was found to be perforated in the left lung, the left leg and the right foot; Davis was shot through the right lung and through both of his arms. The surgeon says both men are likely to die.

Naval Reserves Ready to Fight.

New York, April 4.—Reports from all parts of the country show that the 4,500 men of the naval reserves are equipped and ready for duty. The only active work now going on is the enlisting in the battalions that are not up to their full complement. In every other respect the naval reserves are ready for an immediate start to the front. Kits have been overhauled and packed, arms and accoutrements tested and burnished, and examinations in tactics passed by the men. Every man is either at headquarters or within immediate call.

Heavy Claims Upon Spain.

Washington, April 5.—Claims against Spain aggregating $16,000,000 for injury and loss incident to the war in Cuba have been filed with the state department by citizens of the United States residing in that country. They cover claims for personal injury, imprisonment, loss of stock, burning of sugar plantations, etc. All are properly indexed at the state department and then sent to Minister Woodford at Madrid, where they are presented to the Spanish government for adjudication.

Progress at the Omaha Fair.

Omaha, Neb., April 4.—The announcement is made upon authority of the chief architect of the trans-Mississippi exposition that all construction work will be finished in ample time for the installation of exhibits and the perfection of concessions by the opening day, June 1. The large buildings are nearly ready for the artistic decorations save the Fine Arts building and the immense structure which the United States government is building.

Spain Bought Mines.

London, April 5.—Investigation here shows that Havana harbor was mined, and that Spain purchased the terrible engines of destruction in this city. The patentee says that it was one of his contrivances that wrecked the Maine; that an accidental explosion of the mine was impossible, and that the manipulation of three keys was necessary to fire the terrible destroyer.

A HEART PROBLEM.

It Was Easily Solved with the Right Method.

"I will not deny, Mr. Harkalong," the young woman said, with down-cast eyes, "that your attentions are agreeable to me. I—I am always glad to have you come."

Mr. Harkalong attempted to shorten the distance between them.

"And yet," she went on, restraining him by a gesture, "I hardly know my own mind. I—"

"Miss Gillenwaters — Bertie!" interrupted the young man. "Never mind your mind. Listen to your heart, dear girl. Listen to your heart!"

"That's what I am trying to do," she replied. "If I could only—"

"If you could only be sure I am worthy? Of course I'm not, dear! No man on earth is good enough—"

"No, it isn't that. I—"

"Your people object?"

"O no!"

"Neither do mine!" he exclaimed, rapturously.

Again he attempted to shorten the distance, and again she restrained him.

"Bertie Gillenwaters," hoarsely, he asked, "would you miss me if I never came here again?"

"That's it, Mr. Harkalong," murmured the agitated maiden, looking at him with tears in her eyes. "I don't want you to quit coming. Indeed, I don't. I should miss you. Indeed, I should! Mr. Harkalong"—and a tear rolled down her cheek—"you bring me the best chocolate creams I ever get!"—Chicago Tribune.

GOVERNOR ATKINSON.

Recommends Pe-ru-na as an Excellent Remedy for Catarrh—Spring-Time the Best Time to Begin Treatment.

G. W. Atkinson, Governor of West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., March 9, 1898.
Pe-ru-na Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen: I can recommend your preparation, Pe-ru-na, as a tonic. Its reputation as a cure for catarrh is excellent, it having been used by a number of people known to me with the very best results. Very truly,
G. W. ATKINSON.

Pe-ru-na enjoys a national reputation as a catarrh remedy. It is the only systematic catarrh remedy yet devised. A thorough course of Pe-ru-na eradicates catarrh from the system. Its cures are permanent. It thoroughly cures very old cases of chronic catarrh that have resisted all other treatment. It has cured cases of twenty-five years' standing. People afflicted with catarrh should begin a course of Pe-ru-na at once. The spring-time is the best season for this purpose. The rigors of winter have passed with its chilling blast and freezing gales. The blizzard is gone and in its place the balmy zephyrs of spring have come. A short course of treatment with Pe-ru-na now will work wonders. Now is the best time. No set-backs from fresh colds, no delays from unventilated rooms. People of high and low station recommend Pe-ru-na. North, South, East and West use it as the supreme catarrh remedy of this generation. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest books on chronic catarrh. Sent free by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Where the Danger Lies.

She—Don't you think it is dangerous to eat mushrooms?

He—Not a bit of danger in it. The danger is in eating toadstools.—Chicago Evening News.

"A word to the wise is sufficient!" Possibly—but the man must be mighty wise and the word mighty sharp.—Rural New Yorker.

The easiest kind of advice to follow is the kind we had intended to follow anyway.—Washington Democrat.

The most ludicrous being in the world is he who tries to be unhappy and can't.—Detroit Free Press.

There is no rhyme for silver, but it jingles with gold very nicely.—Chicago Daily News.

Spring Medicine

A Good Blood Purifier a Necessity Now

Hood's Sarsaparilla Unequalled for Making Rich, Red Blood.

The necessity for taking a good Spring Medicine to purify the blood and build up the system is based upon natural and unavoidable causes. In cold weather there has been less perspiration and impurities have not passed out of the system as they should. Food has consisted largely of rich, fatty substances, and there has been less opportunity for outdoor exercise. The result is, the blood is loaded with impurities and these must be promptly expelled or health will be endangered. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best Spring Medicine because it is the best blood purifier and tonic. It thoroughly purifies the blood and gives vigor and vitality.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.

Hood's Pills are the favorite cathartic. All druggists. 25c.

HE HAS BECOME WEALTHY.

Has a Splendid Farm, Lots of Stock, and Pays But Little Taxes.

Dominion City, Manitoba,
January 17th, 1898.

At the request of the Immigration Department of the Canadian Government, I give the following information:

I immigrated to Manitoba in October, 1892, from Luverne, Rock County, Minn., and took land in Dominion City, Manitoba, where I now reside. I have been very successful in Manitoba, and have more than doubled my capital since I went to Canada. I took about $2,500 worth of wheat, 200 bushels of flax and 600 bushels of oats: I do mixed farming. I milk as much as ten cows. Dairying and stock raising has paid me well; I have on the farm now 44 head of cattle and 18 head of horses, and sold during the past year (1897), $425 worth of fat cattle. I have good buildings and a comfortable house and good stable. My children have had better school advantages in Manitoba than they had in Minnesota. The district schools are very thorough and good. My son, now 16 years of age, is teaching the public school in our district, and receives a salary of $420 per year. All my children have done well at school. I have $1,700 insurance on my buildings and on the farm. I also own my personal warehouse and ship all my grain through it to the railway station at Dominion City. It is free of debt.

I have no prejudice against the State of Minnesota, as I made a living and a little more while in the state, but would not take a farm as a gift in Minnesota and leave Manitoba. The taxation in Minnesota was too great. I paid taxes on my stock and chattels. No such taxes have ever been exacted in Manitoba from me, and my land taxes are about one-half or less than it was in Minnesota. I am delighted with my new home, and expect in a few years to be in circumstances that will enable me to take life easy. Yours very truly,
S. G. MAYNES.

P. S. Any person that may take exception to the foregoing letter will kindly investigate, for I can back every word it contains. I am not an Immigration Agent, nor the agent of any corporation, but simply a farmer.
S. G. MAYNES.
Witness, C. W. SPEERS.

The above letter was written at the request of C. W. Speers in the State of Minnesota, where I am at present with my wife, visiting my friends in my old home. It is my intention to do what I can to have them remove to Canada, where I have done so well.

Having called upon Mr. Davies, of St. Paul, Minn., I was received with every courtesy and got some valuable information as well as literature pertaining to Western Canada. SAMUEL G. MAYNES.

Not His Fault.

"Fweddy, why don't you let your mustache grow?"

"Why don't I let it? Good heavens, deah boy, I do, but it won't!"—Chicago Tribune.

No woman likes to wear a faded dress and no woman need do so if she buys Simpson's Prints, because no matter how much they are washed the colors remain bright till the goods are worn out. Look for the name Wm. Simpson & Sons on the ticket.

Friends, They Say.

Amy—Isn't that a small shoe, dear?

Maud—Yes, dear—for the foot!—Boston Traveler.

OVERWORKED WOMEN.

Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Women Who Have Been Helped From Sickness or Health.

The ordinary every-day life of most of our women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the daily tasks become when some derangement of the female organs makes every movement painful and keeps the nervous system unstrung!

The following letter from Mrs. WALTER S. BANTA, Sparkill, N. Y., tells the story of many women, and shows them how to get relief:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot thank you enough for all Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to you I had suffered for years with falling, inflammation and ulceration of the womb; my back ached, and I was so much distressed I could scarcely walk. I was a burden to myself and did not care whether I lived or died.

"I have taken five bottles of your medicine and it has done wonders for me as all my friends can testify. I can now do my own work, and do not know how to express my gratitude to you for the good your medicine and advice have done me. I owe my life to Mrs. Pinkham."

Mrs. Pinkham's counsel is offered free to all women who need advice about their health. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Mrs. P. H. HUTCHCROFT, Kellerton, Iowa, tells here in her own words how Mrs. Pinkham helped her:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was in a very bad condition before I wrote to you and began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did not know what to do. I suffered terribly every month, when on my feet would have such a bearing-down feeling, was very weak, womb was swollen, back ached, appetite was very poor, also had trouble with my head. I have taken several bottles of your Compound and cannot say enough in its favor. It helped more than all the doctors."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; a Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills

SEND FOR A BICYCLE
High Grade '98 Models, $14 to $40.
GREAT CLEARING SALE of '97 and '96 models, best makes, $9.75 to $18. Send on approval without a cent payment. Free use of wheel to our agents. Write for our new plan "How to Earn a Bicycle" and make money. SPECIAL THIS WEEK—40 high grade '97 models (slightly shopworn), $10.75 each. "Wanderings Awheel," a souvenir book of art, FREE for stamp while they last.
J. W. MEAD CYCLE CO., CHICAGO.

FITS STOPPED FREE. PERMANENTLY CURED. Insanity Prevented by DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER
Positive cure for all Nervous Diseases, Fits, Epilepsy, Spasms and St. Vitus' Dance. No Fits or Nervousness after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges only when received. Send to DR. KLINE, Ltd., Bellevue Institute of Medicine, 931 Arch Street, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

WINCHESTER GUN CATALOGUE FREE
SEND YOUR NAME ON A POSTAL CARD AND WE WILL SEND YOU OUR 156 PAGE ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE
WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS CO.
180 WINCHESTER AVE., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

WELL MACHINERY—BEST EVER USED. LOOMIS & NYMAN, TIFFIN, OHIO.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Singular Explosion.

While W. H. Greer and assistant, of the Ceneograph company, were removing their ceneograph apparatus from Fairfax to Franklyn, where they were billed to show, the oxygen tank, which had been placed on the wagon crosswise, exploded while they were driving through the street. The wagon on which it was loaded was badly demolished. Mr. Greer and his assistant were thrown some 15 feet through the air, but escaped with slight injuries. The bottom of the tank blew one wheel entirely to pieces and partially destroyed the front of Altman's meat market, while the body of the tank took an upward course and was driven through the walls of the upper story of the Traynor building, on the opposite side of the street, tearing out the partition of the rooms and destroying nearly all the furniture.

Commission Wins.

Executive Agent Fullerton states that the decision of Judge Orr in the case of Harry Phelps, of Minneapolis, against the state was a victory for the commission.

Phelps sued the commission for the price of five deer seized by the commission, on the ground that the state had no right to confiscate his property. The case was brought before Justice Blackwood, who decided in favor of the Minneapolis man, and ordered that judgment be entered. The case was appealed to Judge Orr, who sustained the right of the commission in every particular, reversing the order of the lower court.

First Annual.

The first annual meeting of the Minnesota Beet Sugar Manufacturing company was held at Minneapolis and the old board of directors re-elected. This board consists of Henry Keller of Sauk Center, Senator G. Theden of Minneapolis, R. J. O'Connell of Sauk Center, F. Wessel and A. Hintzie of New York City. The board elected the following officers: President, G. Theden; vice president and general manager, Henry Keller; secretary and treasurer, R. J. O'Connell. It is announced that a bond of $250,000 has been taken from the Kilby Manufacturing company of Cleveland to guarantee the completion of the plant at St. Louis park in time for next season's operations.

A Narrow Escape.

G. O. Flom with his team had a narrow escape from drowning in the Minnesota river while attempting to cross Bell's ferry north of Delhi. After driving onto the ferry a cake of ice struck the boat and scared the team, which began to back up, and continued doing so until they got clear off. Before reaching the opposite bank the wagon box floated off down stream with Mr. Flom, who was rescued by Mr. Bell, the ferryman, some ways down the stream. The horses kept alongside the boat and landed safely.

A Surprise.

The statement that State Auditor Dunn intends to see that higher assessments are made on the iron properties of St. Louis county is a surprise to the county officials, as they have been working for several months on measures that will result in a proper taxation of iron properties. Not only will values be raised to a proper level, but the companies will be compelled to pay the difference between what they have been paying and what they should have paid.

Uncle Sam Has Need for Them.

Battery B will have to part with the new gun, of which it is so proud. Adjt. Gen. Muehlberg, of the state national guard, has received word from the war department that the gun held by Battery B of Minneapolis and that held by Battery A of St. Paul would have to be turned over to the war department. The communication stated that the guns would be used in coast defense. The Minneapolis gun is a rapid fire three-inch rifled cannon, and that of St. Paul is a modern Gatling gun.

Hay Sales.

State Auditor Dunn has turned over to State Treasurer Koerner $2,084.64, as the proceeds of the sale of hay on state lands during 1897. All but one county auditor made returns of the amount sold. In that county the value of the hay sold is estimated at $30. The hay grown on swamp lands, generally, belongs to the state and is sold to farmers who own land adjacent.

News in Brief.

The Selby avenue cable line in St. Paul will be changed to a trolly line by June 1.

Edward Regan, aged 16 years, was pardoned from the St. Paul workhouse. He had been wrongfully convicted.

The Merriam Park bank has been opened for business.

After an absence of several months, footpads have reappeared in Minneapolis.

W. W. Erwin, the well known criminal lawyer, was nominated for mayor of St. Paul by the populists.

A postoffice has been established at Jennie, Meeker county.

Mrs. A. S. Busse, of Lenora, stepped on a nail and it went entirely through her foot. Her husband pulled the nail out.

With a vigorous cheer and a shout for the flag, the first detachment of naval recruits enlisted in the West left St. Paul for New York. Forty-one of the 58 men enlisted went.

Robert Rawle committed suicide at Hastings by hanging himself from a beam in his barn.

A human foot was found by a dog in west end of Duluth. There is no clue as to how the foot happened to be in a place where the dog could find it, and it is feared that there has been foul play.

The Western Field Trial association is the title of a recently incorporated society of sportsmen of the northwest, organized to promote good fellowship, social intercourse and acquaintance among sportsmen, and to improve hunting dogs by holding field trials to test their qualities.

In the yards of the Minnesota Transfer one day last week stood 12 box cars loaded with cannons, carriages and outfits, the property of the government, being sent west with all possible haste. They were consigned from Sandy Hook, N. Y., for Seattle.

The Avoca Catholic church, with its contents, was burned. Loss, $6,000; insurance, $3,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Foul play is suspected in the case of Wm. Walling of Royalton, who was supposed to have been accidentally killed by logs rolling onto him on Pine river.

TRADE SITUATION.

Our Complicated Foreign Relations Fail to Have the Depreciating Effect Anticipated by Some.

New York, April 1.—R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say:

"In spite of foreign conditions since the destruction of the Maine, February 15, failures in three months are smaller than in the first quarter of any year since 1886; the ratio of defaulted liabilities to payments through clearing houses has been the smallest for that quarter since 1881; the average of liabilities per firm in business has been the smallest since 1880, and the average of liabilities per failure has been lower than ever before in any quarter. It is especially significant that the failures for less than $100,000 without material decrease in number, were 29 per cent. smaller than last year in manufacturing, and 24 per cent. smaller in trading. The war cloud, which many inferred must have greatly increased commercial disasters, does not appear to have any such effect as yet, and while there is some decline in the new orders for industries, nearly all live works are covered so far ahead that the difference is not felt.

"Rates for money have advanced, and the six per cent. which used to be the ruling rate in active times again prevails, which compels many speculators to liquidate. But the imports of gold go far to prevent any real anxiety. Moreover, although part of the hypothecated exchange on Europe has been sold and ordered against it, there is known to be about $30,000,000 more yet in the banks at New York, and $12,500,000 in other cities, against which gold is liable to be imported because there is small prospect of any better settlement.

"Wheat has declined slightly, but corn has advanced one-quarter cent for the week, and no one imagines that foreign troubles can check the outgo. Cotton has advanced an eighth because of the idea that production may be reduced, although receipts from plantations thus far have been greater by about 800,000 bales than in 1895, from the largest crop ever raised, and while the mills are now nearly all active the consumption does not exceed the maximum.

"The iron and steel market shows no decrease, with works fully employed, and some additional works put into operation for government purposes.

"Failures for the week have been 220 in the United States, against 260 last year, and 27 in Canada, against 42 last year."

Cubans Protest.

Washington, April 2.—The Cuban government (meaning thereby the present home rule authorities in Cuba and not the insurgents) have appealed to the president of the United States to respect the will of the majority of the people of Cuba. The appeal was placed in the hands of the president Friday morning, and the statement was made that it was the direct expression of the Cuban government itself, without the inspiration or knowledge of the Spanish government, either at Madrid, Havana or elsewhere.

Bismarck's Birthday.

Friedrichsruhe, April 2.—Prince Otto von Bismarck Friday celebrated the eighty-third anniversary of his birth, giving a banquet to 22 guests who had previously inspected his birthday gifts. The prince was in excellent spirits and walked with the aid of a gold-handled stick, the gift of Emperor William. At dinner he called for cheers for the emperor.

Railroad to Be Sold.

Toledo, O., April 5.—Judge Taft's decision in the Clover Leaf railway litigation finds $12,028,500 to be due on first mortgage bonds, and orders the sale of the road, the time of which is not fixed, at an upset price of $7,500,000. Hiram D. Peck and William A. Van Buren, of Indianapolis, are special masters to conduct the sale.

AN APPEAL FOR AID.

Gov. Tanner Calls on the People of the State to Relieve Flood Sufferers.

Springfield, Ill., April 5.—Gov. Tanner says the state is not in condition to take as much action as is necessary, therefore he has issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the state to come to the relief of the flood sufferers. It is as follows:

"State of Illinois, Executive Office—To the People of the State of Illinois: It is my painful duty to announce that a terrible disaster has overtaken the citizens of Shawneetown, in this state, which, owing to the condition of the public treasury, I am powerless to relieve without the voluntary aid of the charitably disposed.

"At 4:45 o'clock on the afternoon of Sunday, April 3, the levee which surrounds the city of Shawneetown broke and the city is under water and in the midst of a raging flood pouring down from the north. It is six miles to land and the current of the Ohio river is sweeping through the town. I am informed by Mayor Carney, of Shawneetown, that approximately one-fourth of the population has been drowned, all the property destroyed and that the people are collected on the tops of the houses and upon what remains above water of the levee, exposed to the rain and without shelter and without one meal of food.

"It would be of no use to call the legislature together in special session to meet this emergency, because it would have no power to raise any money from which to pay any appropriation that might be made. I have sent the secretary of the state board of public charities, as my official representative, to the scene of disaster to assist in the organization of the emergency relief work which requires to be done, with authority to draw upon me for what funds may be necessary, in anticipation of funds which will no doubt be contributed by the public at large for this purpose.

"I therefore make this urgent and instant appeal for contributions to enable me to do what the people will no doubt wish me to do under the existing circumstances. All contributions should be sent to Mr. W. S. Phillips, president of the Ridgeway bank, Ridgeway, Ill., which is the nearest point from which the relief work can be carried on. This disaster appears from what can be learned to be more appalling and immediate than the Johnstown flood.

"Done at the executive office, Springfield, Ill., this 4th day of April, A. D. 1898.

"(Signed) JOHN R. TANNER, "Governor.

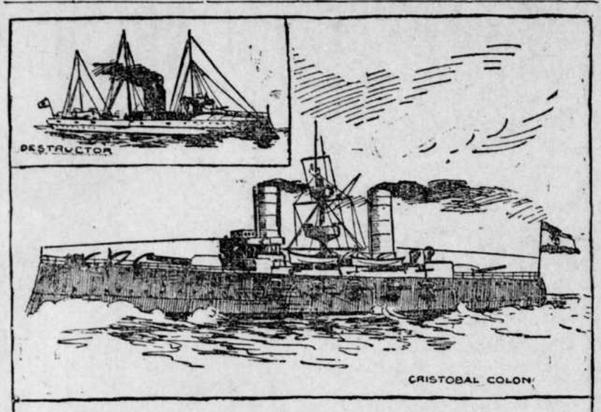
"(Signed) JAMES A. ROSE, "Secretary of State."

Municipal Elections in Ohio.

Columbus, O., April 5.—Municipal elections Monday in Ohio resulted in some startling democratic victories. In Cincinnati the democrats swept the city, Senator Foraker's candidate for judge of the superior court, John Galvin, being overwhelmingly defeated. Zanesville went democratic by a big majority. Newark has a democratic mayor, as has Upper Sandusky. The republicans of Springfield, advocating a liberal local government, carried the day by backing the democratic candidate of a year ago. The Woman's Political Equality club carried the day in the school election at Warren.

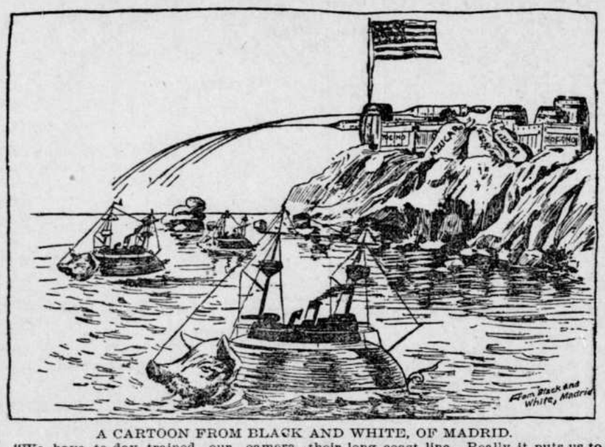
Forbids the Divorced to Wed.

New York, April 2.—After nearly six years of labor the joint commission appointed by the general convention of the Episcopal church in 1892 for the purpose of revising the constitution and canons of the church has completed its task. One of the subjects which is sure to stir up strife in the church at large is the revision of the canon on marriage so as to forbid the marriage of either of a divorced pair during the lifetime of the other.



NEW SPANISH WARSHIPS NOW STEAMING TO AMERICAN WATERS

THE SPANISH VIEW.



A CARTOON FROM BLACK AND WHITE, OF MADRID.

"We have to-day trained our camera across the Atlantic. We have had the good fortune to surprise in New York waters the interesting scene which is faithfully reproduced by our instantaneous machine. The Yankees, with remarkable military genius, have found a way to strengthen powerfully, and in the twinkling of an eye, their long coast line. Really it puts us to fright to look at the terrible defense which is portrayed by our photographic cut, as well as the mobilization of all the hogs of the great republic, which, being insubmergible animals, will constitute the more invincible element of their naval powerfulness."

AN AFFLICTED MOTHER.

From the Times, Paw Paw, Ill.

A resident of this town who has lost two children during the past six years by violent deaths has been utterly prostrated by the shock, and seriously sick as a result of it. One child (aged 9) was killed by a cyclone in '90 while at school; another, three years later was run over by a Burlington R. R. train. That griefs and misfortunes may so prey on the mind as to lead to serious physical disorders has been well demonstrated in this case. As a result of them, her health was shattered and she has been a constant sufferer since 1890. Her principal trouble has been neuralgia of the stomach which was very painful, and exhibited all the symptoms of ordinary neuralgia, nervousness and indigestion. Physicians did her no good whatever. She was discouraged and abandoned all hope of getting well. Finally, however, a certain well known pill was recommended (Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.)

She supplied herself with a quantity of them and had not taken them two weeks when she noticed a marked improvement in her condition. She continued taking the pills until seven or eight boxes had been consumed and she considered herself entirely cured. She can now eat all kinds of food, which is something she has not been able to do for years. She is not troubled in the least with nervousness as she was during the time of her stomach troubles.

A Constant Sufferer.

She is now well and all because of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People a complete cure has been made.

If any one would like to hear more of the details of her suffering and relief gained by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People they may be obtained probably, by writing the lady direct. She is one of our well known residents, Mrs. Ellen A. Oderkirk, Paw Paw, Ill.

NO RELIGION ABOUT FISH.

The Names of Several Are Used as Term of Opprobrium—Skates, for Instance.

"Didn't it ever strike you that it's highly inconsistent to associate fish with Lent, as the church does, Mrs. Grumpus?" said Mr. Grumpus at the breakfast table, as he picked dubiously into the suburbs of his fish cake with one tine of his fork. Mr. Grumpus' appetite had been sufficiently gratified at the club the previous night to make him a trifle critical.

"What put that ridiculous notion into your head?" inquired Mrs. Grumpus, with one eyebrow lifted in a suspicious and inquiring way.

"Take that popular expression: 'You're a lobster,'" continued Mr. Grumpus. "Not that you are a lobster—"

"Oh, let remain, 'You're a lobster,' said Mrs. Grumpus, cheerfully.

"Mariar, don't trifle. Lobster, now, is a term of reproach. That's one instance of the way the finny world is resorted to for an expression of censure. Another old phrase is 'as dumb as an oyster.' The very dumbest thing on earth or in the waters under the earth, Mariar, is an oyster. It's the very opposite of a woman, you know, ha, ha. That's one on you, eh, Mariar? Remember that other old term showing how a man looks to the scaly world when he wants a simile or a metaphor indicating contempt—I mean it is still common to call a bad lawyer a 'land shark.' Why, I could prove how low down fish are by a number of examples, and yet fish are associated with the most religious part of the year."

"John!"

"Yes."

"Is there such a fish as a skate?"

"Why—er—yes. I believe there is."

"Is it ever used by men as a simile or a metaphor in describing other men—sometimes?"

"You don't mean to be personal, Mrs. Grumpus?"

"Well, John, if I were a man I'd say: 'That's one on you'—and now we are even."

Mr. Grumpus grinned and ate his fish cake like a man, although it had grown cold.—N. Y. Sun.

HE HATED TO LIE.

A Negro Pioneer Who Rose Superior to His Prejudice.

William Thomas is a negro whose remarkable aim in life is to, under all circumstances, tell only the truth. William was indicted by the next to the last grand jury for grand larceny, and he was brought from jail this morning to be arraigned. Thomas has what is termed a "tough case," so he agreed with the prosecutor to plead guilty and receive the minimum sentence—two years in the penitentiary.

"Stand up, Thomas," said Judge Wofford. "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Judge," answered the man, with a sigh, "I do hate to tell a lie, but I guess I'll have to. I'm guilty."

"Oh, you hate to tell a lie, do you? I won't let any man plead guilty if he thinks he is innocent. You'll stand trial."

This was exactly what William's attorney did not want.

"Your honor," he said, "this man is not accustomed to court ways. He did not mean that."

"That's right, judge. I never was in court before, and I don't think I quite got you."

"You may not understand much law," retorted the court, "but you know whether you went into that store and stole those goods."

"Oh, yes, sir, I done that."

"Two years."—Kansas City Star.

He Didn't Want the Route.

"Senator Sulloway, of New Hampshire, tells a good one when he gets warmed on the civil service question," said one of the statesmen who came to help the Michigan club celebrate Washington's birthday. "Somewhere in the south a bright colored boy appeared before the commission to be examined for the position of letter carrier.

"'How far is it from the earth to the moon?' was the first question asked by those who were to determine the young man's fitness for the place he sought.

"'How fah am it from de earf to de moon?' echoed the applicant. 'My Lawd, boss, if you's gwine to put me on dat route I don't want de job.'

"With that the young man grabbed his hat and left as though he were chased."—Detroit Free Press.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, nervous, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

The Exception.

He—I had a scheme so the fellow could make $10,000 as easily as turning over his hand, but the fool wouldn't go into it.

She—Then a fool and his money are not always so easily parted after all.—Yonkers Statesman.

As Advertised.

The Lady—Can you match this piece of ribbon?

The Gent—No, lady. You may remember that it was one of the matchless bargains we ran last Monday.—Indianapolis Journal.

Our Language.

Tom—What a queer language ours is.

Dick—Why?

"We say a man is not game when he is chicken-hearted."—Up-to-Date.

No Room for Doubt.

Brown—Is he absent-minded?

Jones—Well, I should say so! Why, I've known him to lend his wheel!—Puck.

Man was made to mourn, but he always thinks he can get out of it by marrying again.—Chicago Record.

Some people's sole aim seems to be to have things to lock up.—Washington Democrat.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

None in Stock.

Lady (to dog fancier)—What kinds of dogs have you for sale?

D. F.—Scotch terriers, Chinese pugs, French poodles and English setters.

"Have you any of these ocean greyhounds that I have read about?"—Detroit Free Press.

As a general rule people devote less attention to the care of the hair than any other part of the person. It will pay to make every reasonable effort to keep the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. This is very easily done if one understands how to do it. One of the oldest and most reliable houses in Boston publish a pamphlet on this subject entitled "The Hair, Its Care and Management." All who are interested, and, indeed, every one with hair on their heads, should send to Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., and receive the pamphlet referred to free of charge.

A man who does not know how to learn from his mistakes turns the best schoolmaster out of his life.—Henry Ward Beecher.

Oh, What Splendid Coffee.

Mr. Goodman, Williams Co., Ill., writes: "From one package Salzer's German Coffee Berry costing 15c I grew 300 lbs. of better coffee than I can buy in stores at 30 cents a lb."

A package of this and big seed catalogue is sent you by John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., upon receipt of 15 cents stamps and this notice. Send for same to-day. K 7

Lots of men have college diplomas hanging in their parlors and weeds growing in their gardens.—Washington Democrat.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

Sacque religious—the young woman who uses the church to advertise her new clothes.—Rural New Yorker.

The Grip of Pneumonia may be warded off with Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar. Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in one minute.

The people who get the least mail are the worst kickers when the mail is late.—Washington Democrat.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an A No. 1 Asthma medicine.—W. R. Williams, Antioch, Ill., April 11, 1894.

A mother's praise of her children never interests any other woman.—Chicago News.

Sudden weather changes bring rheumatism. St. Jacobs Oil makes prompt cure.

A boy never smells anything baking without at once getting hungry.

Put a pain to sleep? St. Jacobs Oil does This with Sciatica. Torment cured.

When a man is trying to experiment he does not want to be asked about it.

While asleep, cured soreness, stiffness? All right. St. Jacobs Oil did it.

A man must plow with such oxen as he hath.

All kinds, little or big. St. Jacobs Oil Surely cures aches and pains.

BREAD, POTATOES and MILK.

He Lived on Lenten Fare.

A Dyspeptic's daily diet.

Dyspepsia is one of the most prevalent of diseases. Thousands of people suffer from it in a more or less aggravated form. Few diseases are more painful to the individual or more far reaching in their effects on human life and happiness. What the dyspeptic needs is not local treatment, not mere temporary stimulus. The real need is the toning up of the entire system. Fortify the system and it will do its own fighting, and promptly eject any intruding disease. The success of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla in curing indigestion and dyspepsia is due to just this quality which it possesses, of renewing the vital forces, repairing the waste and loss of the body. The ordinary treatment brings the food down to the level of the weak stomach. Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla puts strength into the stomach, and brings it up to the level of the strong food fit for men. It does this by strengthening the entire system. The stomach cannot stay weak when all the other organs are gaining strength. What Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla will do for dyspepsia is best illustrated in cases like that of M. S. Shields, Meridian, Miss. Mr. Shields had got down to the last level of dyspepsia. But let him tell his own story:—

"For years, I was afflicted with dyspepsia which gradually grew worse until I could eat nothing but bread and potatoes seasoned with a little salt, and drink only a little milk. I became so bad that a trifle too much of even these caused terrible suffering in the regions of the stomach, darting pains back of the eyes, attended with dizziness and partial loss of sight. The only way I could get relief was by vomiting. Finally I had such a severe attack that the entire left side of my body felt numb and partially paralyzed, and in this condition, I was taken to my room unconscious. The physicians failed to help me, and none of the many remedies I took did me any good. At last a friend presented me with a bottle of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla and before I had used half of it, I could see a decided change for the better. I used three bottles and was so completely cured that for four years I have not been troubled with the old complaint, but am rugged and hearty and able to eat anything that can be eaten. It would be impossible to say too much in praise of Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and I would not give one bottle of it for a dozen of any other kind."—M. S. SHIELDS, Meridian, Miss.

Try Dr. Ayer's Sarsaparilla if you are dyspeptic. If you want more testimony to the value of the medicine, get Dr. Ayer's Curebook. It is sent free on request by the J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell.

The Land of Christ.

Under this title, the Passenger Department of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern Railroad has issued a splendid series of views made by the half-tone process from photographs taken in the Holy Land. The subjects embrace people, scenery and cities, as they exist today in that famous country. The work is published in twelve parts, each containing from twelve to fifteen views. Each picture is fully explained by descriptive reading matter. A sample part will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in postage, and the complete set will be forwarded, postpaid, on receipt of ninety-five cents. Postage stamps will not be received for the full set, but remittance must be made to the undersigned by draft, postal order, express money order, or registered letter. This is a rare chance to secure more than two hundred views of the Land of Christ for less than one dollar. Address Geo. P. Lyman, G. P. A., C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

His Apprehension.

De Witte—I feel so sorry for those caddies!

Miss Askens—Why?

"I'm afraid some of them may grow up to become golf players."—Puck.

All Things as Advertised.

By competing lines show a progressive spirit, but some of the things that are alleged to be new have been in constant daily use for years past on the Steam-heated, Electric-lighted (with berth reading-lamp), Vestibuled trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway between St. Paul and Minneapolis and Chicago, as thousands upon thousands of its patrons will cheerfully testify. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway always maintains its supremacy with the traveling public by always being the first to utilize every mechanical device and improvement which can be of any value to those who ride on its magnificently equipped trains.

We never have a very good opinion of a man to whom making an apology comes as easy as crying comes to a woman.—Atchison Globe.

Be sure; neuralgia will cease. St. Jacobs Oil the cure. Get ease.

A man can never thrive who has a wasteful wife.

Blacker the spot surer the cure. Use St. Jacobs Oil for bruises.

WONDERFUL CANDY MEDICINE. PEPSIN MARSHMALLOWS. FOR THAT FULL FEELING AFTER MEALS. DELICIOUS MARSHMALLOWS—SOCIETY'S FAVORITE CANDY—WITH PEPSIN IN IT. GOOD TO THE TASTE AND GOOD FOR THE STOMACH. DON'T SUFFER; SWEETEN UP YOUR STOMACH AND YOUR DISPOSITION WITH THESE MEDICATED MALLOWS. BY MAIL ONLY 20 CENTS (TWO SILVER DIMES). ADDRESS THE PEPSO CANDY CO., 127 WEST 32nd STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

OLD SORES CURED

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, White Swelling, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Boils, Carbuncles, Piles, Salt Rheum, Burns, Cuts and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 25c; large, 50c. Book free. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND POMMEL SLICKER

The Best Saddle Coat.

Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

FOR 14 CENTS

We wish to gain 150,000 new customers, and hence offer

1	Pkg. 13 Day Radish,	10c
1	Pkg. Early Spring Turnip,	10c
1	" Earliest Red Beet,	10c
1	" Bismarck Cucumber,	10c
1	" Queen Victoria Lettuce,	15c
1	" Klondyke Melon,	15c
1	" Jumbo Giant Onion,	15c
3	" Brilliant Flower Seeds,	15c

Worth $1.00, for 14 cents.

Above 10 pkgs. worth $1.00, we will mail you free, together with our great Plant and Seed Catalogue upon receipt of this notice and 14c. postage. We invite your trade and know when you once try Salzer's seeds you will never get along without them. Potatoes at $1.50 a Bbl. Catalog alone 5c. No. K 7

JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS.

We delight to do an early friend a good turn. The working parts of ANY AERMOTOR EXCHANGED FOR A ROLLER BEARING, self-governing, ever-going, everlasting, power-doubling, UP-TO-DATE '98 MOTOR, 8 FT. FOR $6; 12-ft. for $12; 16-ft. for $30. They run like a bicycle, and are made like a watch, every movable part on rollers. Doubles geared mill power. The Aermotor ran when all other mills stood still, and made the steel windmill business. THE NEW BEATS THE OLD AS THE OLD BEAT THE WOODEN WHEEL. On receipt of amount, revised motor (but not wheel or vane) will be sent to replace old one then to be returned. Offer subject to cancellation at any time. If your old wheel is not an Aermotor, write for terms of swap—new for old—to go on old tower. You can put it on. Aermotor Co., Chicago.

NOW OR NEVER!

CASTORIA

900 DROPS

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed - Alx. Senna - Rochelle Salts - Anise Seed - Peppermint - Bi Carbonate Soda - Worm Seed - Clarified Sugar - Wintergreen Flavor

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. NEW YORK.

At 6 months old 35 DOSES - 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

IN 3 OR 4 YEARS

AN INDEPENDENCE IS ASSURED

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

if you take up your home in WESTERN CANADA, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experience of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat, reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates, can be had on application to Department Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to BEN. DAVIES, 134 East Third Street, Saint Paul, Minn.; W. RITCHIE, Grafton, N. D.; W. H. ROGERS, Watertown, S. D.; T. O. CURRIE, Stevens Point, Wis.

A STARTER. 5 PACKETS OF SWEET PEAS 5 CENTS.

All choice named varieties, each kind in separate packet of over 50 SEEDS EACH, mailed for 5 cents. Catalogue of bargains in Seeds and Plants free. OLIVER H. DREW, Hibernia, N. Y.

A GOOD OFFER! WANTED—Reliable party to introduce in this locality Dr. Titon's Sarsaparilla. Send one dollar postal order and get three bottles for trial. Address WM. H. BALL & CO., 914 E. Minnehaha street, St. Paul, Minn.

CANCER TUMORS, PILES and all forms of Malignant Growths cured at home without the use of the knife. Book free. Dr. J. D. LYON CO., Carlisle, Ill.

NOTHING PAYS BETTER than EGGS. Our formula keeps eggs perfectly sound for one year. Price $2.00. For further information address J. P. HAWLEY CO., Rooms 101-103, No. 60 Broadway, N. Y. City.

7,000,000 ACRES—Farms, Timber, Mineral. Colony lands South; cheap, easy terms. FREE CATALOGUE. W. H. CRAWFORD & CO., Nashville, Tenn.

GET RICH QUICKLY. Send for "300 Inventions Wanted." Edgar Tate & Co., 245 B'way, N. Y.

A Splendid Book for the Development of American Patriotism.

The Beautiful Life of Frances E. Willard

Written by Anna A. Gordon, for 21 years her private secretary and most intimate friend. Official memorial volume endorsed by the W. C. T. U.

The Most Popular Book of the Century.

Size 8x10 inches, nearly 500 pages, beautifully illustrated. Retail price, Cloth, $2; Half-Morocco, $2.75; De Luxe Edition, $3.75. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Solicitors Wanted Everywhere.

$5 to $8 per day easily made selling this book. Experience not necessary; most liberal terms; credit given; freight paid; circular and terms free. Write for outfit to-day.

MONARCH BOOK COMPANY, Dept. 30

General Agents for the United States, England, Canada, Australia, etc.

Chicago, Ill. Philadelphia, Pa. Oakland, Cal.

Address nearest office.

BEFORE THE DAY OF

SAPOLIO

THEY USED TO SAY "WOMAN'S WORK IS NEVER DONE."

RHEUMATISM

Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

A. N. K.—G 1703

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

—Subscribe for the GAZETTE.

—The E. L. sociable has been postponed for a week.

—To-morrow, Saturday, April 9 will be Delano Fair Day.

—Today is Good Friday and the schools are having a holiday.

—Mr. Baltiff is putting up a barn on his lot on South Third street.

—Go to Conzet's for International Stock Food: $100.00 worth on hand.

—Mrs. Billings has bought a new soda fountain and expects it here in time for warm weather.

—John Batdorf, of Independence, came to town Wednesday with a load of fine maple syrup. He readily sold out for $1 per gallon.

—Cal Stewart will have an auction on his farm, April 23. He has rented and intends running a hotel out in Dakota, we understand.

—Dr. Walter received a can of Kreosota on Saturday to be used about his barn and kennels. He claims it is the best disinfectant he has yet tried.

—A. W. Wittman's Easter window is commented on by many; especially do the children admire the life like rabbits and the beautiful colored eggs.

—Otto Marr, who joined the navy last week, has written home to his folks. They say he is on the Vermont training ship and likes soldiering splendidly.

—La Grippe is no respecter ot persons. It has had hold ot Editor Wharton for a week, and this week it tackled us. There are several other cases in town.

—Lovers of horseback exercise, of whom there are quite a number in Delano, have once more made their appearance on the streets; a pretty sure sign of spring.

—Sunday, April 10 will be Easter. Several churches in town will observe the day with appropriate services. Rev. Farber will preach an Easter sermon in the evening at the M. E. church.

—The Franklin Horse Company has decided to sell at public auction their only remaining horse. The sale is to take place in Delano, tomorrow, Fair Day, April 9, at 1 p. m. near the wagon bridge.

—Commissioner Welker has unveiled the Mayors monument, on R. R. Ave. for the summer, though bystanders importuned against it, as he would only have to replace the covering in a few months at most.

—People are anxiously waiting for J. J. Hill's helpers to dump some cinders or some other material into the mud hole on the North side of the depot at this place so it will not require so much polishing to keep the traveling public's shoes shiny.

—The death of Mrs. Barbara Bruggeman, aged 66 years, widow of the late Martin Bruggeman, of West St. Paul is reported by dailies as having occurred Wednesday last. The estate owns the R. R. Ave. and River street corner in Delano.

—Rev. Thayer is expected to hold Sunday services in the Presbyterian church here a few times in the near future. His old time friends will be glad to meet him again. The Tuesday evening services will commence at 8 o'clock hereafter.

—The rail road overseers stopped a few minutes in Delano, Saturday, to look after the bridge across Crow river. If Jim Hill would conclude to build an iron bridge and to lower the track several inches in each direction from Delano he would save money in the long run.

—Rev. J. S. McCornack, of Howard Lake, who preaches here each Tuesday evening, was chosen moderator at the annual meeting of the Minneapolis Presbytery. He also made a report on Young People's Societies of the church. Rev. McCornack is an earnest faithful worker in the profession he has chosen for life.

—Senator Theiden, president of the new beet sugar factory being built near Minneapolis, gave a talk to the farmers in this vicinity on Tuesday afternoon on the subject of raising beets to ship to the factory. Another gentleman who has had experience in Nebraska, also talked on the subject. Quite a few were favorably impressed with the undertaking and several think of raising small patches of beets this summer to give it a trial.

—Reports are current that a contract has been let to the N. P. and the G. N. Ry's to haul the 25th colored regiment from Montanna to St. Paul, whence they will continue on their way to Chicamagua, and that they will go as early as Sunday or Monday. It is possible some of them may go via Delano, but on the best advice obtainable, the Fergus Falls branch will carry the soldiers.

—Another meeting of farmers to talk about sugar beet raising will be held at the City Hall Saturday at 1 o'clock. If any one wishes to try that business it looks as if the present time is most favorable. Seed will be furnished at 15 cents a pound at Minneapolis. The beets will be bought at the price agreed on, according to the sugar they contain, unless some unforeseen event happens. It don't hurt the beets to freeze. The sugar is just as good, it is said.

—Conzet sells curry combs that are warranted to keep their handles on.

—Charles Zimmer met with a severe accident Wednesday while at work with others removing a wall of C. M. Conzet's kitchen, prepatory to enlarging the room. The wall fell and caught him underneath, and except for the pump which was bent by the weight, he must have been smashed. As it was we understand he is confined to his bed.

—Last Saturday evening the Board of Education held a midnight session, laboring over the hiring of teachers for the next school year. They have not finished their work, the assistant principal not yet having been hired. The latest revised list of teachers is: Principal, Miss Alice Arnold; grammar school. Miss Levina Rudberg from Dassel; 3rd, Miss Anna R. Quinn, 4th Miss Mabel Hobart; primary, Miss Catherine Kelly.

—Read Conzet's reading notice, "Make Your Horses Shine".

Personal.

John Coolen and family will soon move to Smith Lake.

E. W. Ferrell, of Montrose, was a Delano visitor yesterday.

Ed Kelsey has moved to town. He occupies the Sosnick house.

Mrs. M. W. Lawrence, of Minneapolis, is visiting Delano friends.

Peter Frank returned this a. m. from Kirkhoven where he visited friends.

Miss Gay Gent, of Rockford station, was transacting business in Delano Saturday.

Ed Kelsey has rented his farm to his brother Lawrence and he will become a Delanoite.

Earl Hoisington, wife and daughter Aurella arrived home from Washington, last Saturday.

Ed Freeman returned last night from Minneapolis. His parents are loosing their Grippe.

John Meyer Sen. and John Meyer Jr. of Watertown visited Delano on business Saturday.

John Sutton returned to Montana Wednesday, after a few weeks recuperation on the farm.

Ed Farnham, Cokato's Attorney passed through town the other day on his way to the twin cities.

Miss Stella Davis, of of school district number 4, made a short visit home the latter part of last week.

Miss Flossie Davis spent her week's vacation visiting with her sister Stella, and at Buffalo and Monticello.

Prof. Dewey, of the Litchfield High School, pased through town Wednesday evening, on his way to Minneapolis.

Mr. Unger, of St. Paul, was in town Saturday, looking after applying for principal of the Delano High school.

Friend Williams turned out his Smith Lake school for a couple of weeks while himself and the pupils wrestle with LaGrippe.

Rev. J. S. McCornack preached Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church. His little daughter accompanied him on his trip.

On Saturday R. H. Bowron, Supt. J. M. Gruber, asst. Supt. and J. A. Mayer, Division Road Boss on the G. N. looked over R. R. matters in Delano.

Dr. Harry Halgren, of Watertown, returned this morning from the cities where he ordered the latest Static electric apparatus. He proposes to see into his cases.

Mrs. Thomas and daughter, of Hastings, arrived this morning. They will make their home for the summer with Mrs. T's parents Rev. and Mrs. Farber.

Otto Marr, of Delano, appears in the published list Saturday morning of those who were enlisted in St. Paul, on Friday as firemen in the U. S. navy.

County Cullings.

Our County Seat appears to be going out of the saloon business and is setting a good example for other villages. The Standard says at a temperance meeting held there Sunday evening, eighty seven signatures were obtained to a pledge of total abstinence That is a good start in the right direction. How many of Buffalo's "moulders of thought" were among the signers?

There is some talk of incorporating the village of Smith Lake in the near future.

Our county papers of the republican persuasion seem to be climing onto the Judge Collins Gubinatorial vehicle. He would probably be as sure of what votes are not cast for John Lind as any of the G. O. P. candidates mentioned up to date.

An epidemic of appendicitis must be raging in the north west part of the county. Two surgical operations are reported at Annandale and one at Maple Lake this week for cases. All recovering.

Dr. E. Y. Chilton, of Howard Lake, while in town the other day seemed not adverse to the idea of running for State Senator on the Republican ticket. It would be a change for him, to leave his busy practice for a time. He would make a better man for the place than some who have been there.

Make Your Horses Shine.

If you want your horses to shine go to Conzets harness shop and buy a package of International Stock Food, three feeds for one cent. Now is the time to use it; it loosens up the old winter coat, and then with one of his curry combs that the handle don't pull off, and a good brush, rub your animals well and they will look fifty per cent better. If your horse has too long a coat and is so dirty you can't clean him, Charley is very accomodating and will, as soon as the weather is warm enough, for a reasonable fee, clip the old wool off in an hour or so, so clean that you won't hardly know your own driver. Conzet is interested in Cripple Creek gold mine, too.

What To Eat for April.

People with stomach trouble of any kind should read Dr. Hoy's articles in What To Eat. They are of much interest even to well people.

The publishers are now offering a bicycle for forty subscribers, and numerous other premiums for smaller numbers.

Single copies 10 cents, or $1 a year. Send for sample copy and particulars.

Address.

What To Eat, Minneapolis.

A Winter in the Woods.

Meeting a few friends and confidence men and the ike, decided to go to the woods. Securing a good opening for the same and having previously landed with a confidence man who had a couple of raizors to sell and so forth. At the employment office, meeting about 34 fellows bound my way, started Monday morning, arriving at destination in the middle of the afternoon, and was shipped over the D. S. W. logging road to a camp.

If I remember right, about 31 arrived at the camp. We lost some of the company for some reason or other, the rest I came with couldn't eat supper, also missed dinner.

Next morning we were assigned work; one swamping, that was me. When asked if I had been in the woods I said no. Then the "push" said: "You will find a man swamping over back of the barn some where. Go and help him". I went with a 4¾ pound axe. I met a teamster who gave me the required information about a man swamping, but said: "You must have forgot your cross haul". Not knowing what he meant I went to find my partner and asked him. He laughed and showed me one and of course we were very good friends at once. The rest went road monkeying. After dinner about 15 went off and never came back. At night several more went. After two or three days we were reduced to about a dozen; then another batch or car load came, most of whom stayed. When Sunday came I saw a large log in the lake, which was in front of the camp and mounted it. Of course I stayed with it awhile, then something happened and I have decided not to go driving, (the water was wet being in the middle of Oct).

After a while came a fiddle and we found a large number of fiddlers. Of course dancing was in order every night, all day Sunday, including Christmas, until a string broke.

The foreman is called a "push". I could tell a great many things about a "push" except for time and room. The cookee fairly yells "Roll out!" every morning when everybody is supposed to be asleep and wakes them up for breakfast. Soon after breakfast the "push" shoves the door open and you are supposed to go to work. Don't think for a minute that there is not a cook camp, two lodging camps, a little house for the "push", a couple of barns, a granary and blacksmith shop, because there is. The shanty boy tells you to "roll in" when it is bed time.

A crew is made up of an under cutter, two sawyers, two swampers, a chainer and a teamster, also a team and a few tools to work with. The The under cutter notches a tree; the sawyers saw it; the swampers trim it and make a road; the chainer helps the teamster handle the logs and rolls them onto the skidway. A skidway is a clearing beside the logging road with two large poles or small trees cut and laid about four or five feet apart to roll logs on. Next comes the loading which is done by a team and four men. A chain is used to roll the logs up a pair of skids which is easily handled. The logs next go to a place they call a landing, and are there rolled out into a lake. From there they are taken to the mill and turned into lumber.

I believe I will close my little article. Although very brief, I didn't state there are about eight crews in the camp besides the loaders, nearly a hundred men being at work all the time.

A. G. C

One Dollar for fifty-two papers.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago. 50

If It's Worth Printing the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal Will Print It.

And Every Democrat, Every Republican, Every Man, Woman or Child who can read will want to read it.

* * * * "Meantime we prefer to take our chonce with the conservative Democrats, fighting within the party, to reform it of its excesses, and to restore it to its better uses, than to pursue an Ignis Fatuus which, if it had been more real, would have resulted in the election, instead of the defeat, of the Free Silver Fusion in 1896, and which with singular unanimity, the voters have refused to follow. * * * * The Courier-Journal is a Democrat, not a Republican; and it will under no circumstances or conditions pursue a policy whose only effect is to continue the Republican party in power."

The Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal is a Democratic paper, of six or eight pages, issued Wednesday and Saturday of each week. The Wednesday issue prints all the Clean News, and the Saturday issue prints Stories, Miscellany, Poetry, all matters of special interest in the home. It is edited by Henry Watterson.

Price $1.00 a Year.

You get 104 good papers of six or eight pages each, for $1—less than one cent a paper.

USEFUL PREMIUMS.

Are given Club Raisers, and good-paying commissions are allowed agents.

Daily Courier-Journal, 1 year, $6.00
Daily and Sunday, 1 year, 8.00
Sunday alone. 1 year. 2.00

Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal
And the
Buffalo Gazette
Both one year
For Only $1.50.

We have made a special clubbing arrangement with the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal, and will send that paper and ours for the price named to all our subscribers who will renew and pay in advance, or to all new subscribers who will pay in advance. Sample copies of either paper sent free on application.

All Subscriptions under this offer must be sent to the
Buffalo Gazette,
Delano,
Minn.

Before Subscribing for a Magazine

DELANO MARKET REPORT.

Wheat,	No. 1 per bu.,	$ .89
" "	No. 2 " "	.86
" "	No. 3 " "	.83
Rye	" "	$ .40
Potatoes, per bu.,		30 .40
Butter		.10, .15
Eggs,		.08
Hay, per ton,		4.00 5.00
Pork		3.00 3.50
Chickens,		.05 .07
Turkeys,		.08 .10

DIED.

STURGIS.—At Buffalo, on Sunday, April 3, Mrs. wife of J. D. Sturgis.

ZIERSON.—In Franklin town on Monday, April 4, John Zierson, aged 80 years.

DELANO
FURNITURE Co.
GENERAL FURNITURE & UNDERTAKING
PICTURE FRAMING, GLAZING,
REPAIRING AND GENERAL
CARPENTERING,
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
R R Ave., Delano, Minn. 28tf

Clubbing Offer.

Demorests Family Magazine and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

Leslies Illustrated Weekly and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $3.00.

The Weekly Toledo Blade and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The Thrice-a week World and the BUFFALO GAZETTE, one year, $1.75.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Cosmopolitan, for one year. $1.80

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and Scientific American, for one year, $3.50

The Twice a-Week Courier-Journal and the BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 yr. $1.50.

Twice-a-Week Detroit Free Press and BUFFALO GAZETTE 1 year, $1.50. With Free Press Year Book $1.65.

Farm, Stock and Home and the BUFFALO GAZETTE one year for $1.25.

The BUFFALO GAZETTE and the Silver Knight Watchman, weekly, two papers for one year, for $1.65.

Subscribers of the GAZETTE who pay up and for one year in advance can have these rates.

Send your money and address plainly written to BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

If your add was here somebody would read it, and might call on you.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $65.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

J. BRANDSER.
MERCHANT TAILOR.
DELANO, MINN.
Spring Styles
Goods on Hand
BIGGEST STOCK
THAT EVER
CAME
To Wright County.
NOBBY SUITS,
FIT GUARANTEED.
Call soon and get a choice of
Patterns.
22-tf.

SILVER THE ISSUE IN 1900.
Money the Pricing Instrument.
Civilization and Progress Have Kept Step With Money Supply in All Ages.
The Money Question discussed in the light of experience and history.
The Silver Knight-Watchman.
The Leading Bimetallic Paper of America.
U. S. Senator W. M. STEWART, Editor.
A correct account of the doings of Congress given each week.
A family paper for the home and fireside. All the important happenings of the week, condensed, in news columns.
A large circulation in every State and Territory.
Subscription Price, $1 Per Year.
Send for sample; agents wanted.
Published weekly by the
Silver Knight Publishing Co.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Advertise in
the GAZETTE
for trade.

SUBSCRIBE
FOR THE
GAZETTE.
-AdvertisE-
IN THE
GAZETTE.

C. H. GREEN & CO.,
CITY GROCERIES
Flour, Feed, Fruits green and dried, Canned Goods, Fish, Teas and Coffees
Anything in the line of Heavy or Fancy Groceries constantly on hand.
All goods ordered before 10 a. m. delivered before noon. Those ordered before 4 p. m. delivered before 6 p. m. Highest market price for Produce.
Call and see our goods. Everything fresh and new. Leave your orders.
29. 1yr. Lower River Street, Delano, Minn.

FOR
FINE JOB PRINTING,
IN THE LINE OF
Bill Heads, Statements, Note Heads, Letter Heads
Circulars, Envelopes, Auction bills, Hand
Bills, Posters, Placards, Etc., or Anything in the Line
of Printing,
CALL AT THE
Gazette Office.

D. W. FLANNIGAN,
WAVERLY
Undertaker and liveryman.
TEAMS and first-class Rigs may be obtained at the office at all hours. Special attention given to Traveling Men and County Seat Visitors. Trips to any part of the County at liberal rates. UNDERTAKING supplies in large and elegant assortment. Our CASKETS are in good woods and metals, with neat and substantial linings, covers, handles and ornaments. Nothing but sound material and appropriate and beautiful Trimmings. Burial Robes for all ages and both sexes furnished on demand.
Our new Hearse is the Finest in the County
D. W. FLANNIGAN, Proprietor.

A Remarkable Clubbing Offer
To Our Subscribers.
By special arrangement with the publishers we will accept subscriptions for the BUFFALO GAZETTE
and
LESLIE'S ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY
for one year for $3.00.

When you consider that the regular price of Leslie's Weekly alone is $4.00 a year, you can readily see what a splendid offer it is we are making.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY is the oldest and best established of the great illustrated New York journals. It is the most popular and the most enterprising; its illustrations are all of the highest order and are superbly printed. There is no important event happening, either at home or abroad, but that a LESLIE representative is on hand to chronicle with pen and pencil. Subscribe now both for yourself and for some friend's Christmas Gift.

Remit $3.00 to this office and you will receive both papers for one year.

BUFFALO GAZETTE,
Delano, Minn.

GAZETTE.
ONE YEAR
$1.00

The Pioneer Press.
"OLDEST AND BEST"
With the SPECIAL CABLES
OF THE NEW YORK HERALD
The Full Service of the ASSOCIATED PRESS
and its PRIVATE N. Y. WIRES
PRINTS THE NEWS
12 to 24 Hours Ahead
of any Northwestern Newspaper.

$1.00 A YEAR FOR DEMOREST'S FAMILY MAGAZINE.
The Subscription price of DEMOREST'S is reduced to $1.00 a Year.

Demorest's Family Magazine is more than a Fashion Magazine, although it gives the very latest home and foreign fashions each month: this is only one of its many valuable features. It has something for each member of the family, for every department of the household, and its varied contents are of the highest grade, making it, pre-eminently, The Family Magazine of the World. It furnishes the best thoughts of the most interesting and most progressive writers of the day, and is abreast of the times in everything,—Art, Literature, Science, Society Affairs, Fiction, Household Matters, Sports, etc.—a single number frequently containing from 200 to 300 fine engravings, making it the Most complete and Most Profusely illustrated of the Great Monthlies.

Demorest's Magazine Fashion Department is in every way far ahead of that contained in any other publication.

Subscribers are entitled each month to patterns of the latest fashions in woman's attire, at no cost to them other than that necessary for postage and wrapping.

NO BETTER CHRISTMAS GIFT

than a year's subscription to Demorest's Magazine can be made. By subscribing At Once you can get the magazine at the reduced price, and will also receive the handsome 25-cent Xmas Number with its beautiful panel picture supplement.

Remit $1.00 by money order, registered letter or check to the

DEMOREST PUBLISHING CO., 110 Fifth Ave., New York City.

GREAT SPECIAL CLUBBING OFFER FOR PROMPT SUBSCRIPTIONS.
ONLY $1.75 FOR
THE BUFFALO GAZETTE AND DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE.
Send your Subscriptions to this office.

CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS!
Twenty full-sized packets, your selection from a large list, guaranteed fresh and the best varieties, given as a premium with each order for
FARM FIELD AND FIRESIDE
Chicago, price $1.00 per year But for a short time, balance of year orders will be taken at
50 CENTS
From the time order is received the paper will be sent weekly until January 1st, 1898, for only 50 cents. If seeds are wanted add 15 cents to pay postage.
Special TWO FOR THE PRICE OF ONE Offer
The BUFFALO GAZETTE one year, and the FARM, FIELD and FIRESIDE until January 1st, 1898, only $1.50.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

Minnesota Hist
MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

BUFFALO GAZETTE.

VOLUME X. DELANO, WRIGHT COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1898. NUMBER 29.

Business Directory.

PROFESSIONAL.

J. F. COLLINS, ATTORNEY AT LAW. MONEY TO LOAN. Smith Lake, - Minnesota.

W. H. CUTTING, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office in Journal Building. BUFFALO, MINNESOTA.

A. G. SEXTON, ATTORNEY AT LAW. 28 ANANDALE, WRIGHT Co., MINN.

T. J. CATLIN M. D., Physician and Surgeon Office opposite Round Elevator, Railroad Avenue, Delano, Minn.

DR. C. B AMES. Office at Delano, Minn. Business solicited day or night, for cash. Office in brick block, on River Street

E. A. SHANNON, M. D., Buffalo, Minn., Calls day or night promptly attended to. Office in the building between McKnight's store and residence. Residence on corner north of School House.

O. R. FASSETT, M. D., Homeopathic Physician and Surgeon. Rockford, Minn

Dr. C. H. KOHLER,

Dayton Building, Cor. 6th St. and Nicollet Ave Minneapolis. Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 17-tf.

CHURCH NOTICES

M. E. CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching on Sabbath at 7:45 p. m
Prayer meeting every Thursday.... 7:45 "
Sunday School every Sabbath..... 12:00 m.
Epworth League..... 6:30 p. m.
A cordial invitation to all is extended to attend these services.
REV. J. L. FARBER Pastor.

CANDINAVIAN EVANGELICAL MISSION CHURCH.

DELANO.—Preaching every 3rd Sunday in each month at..... 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School every Sunday..... 10:00 "
REV. FOSSBERG, Pastor.

GERMAN EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

Services are held at Delano and Watertown two consecutive Sundays, and at Albion on every third Sunday.
DELANO.—Sunday School..... 10:00 a.m.
Preaching..... 11:00 "
Choir meeting, Wednesdays..... 7:30 p. m.
ALBION.—Preaching..... REV. K. ZEYHER.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

DELANO. Preaching every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Sabbath School, 12 M. Y. P. S. C. E. 6:30 p. m. on Sunday.
REV. J. S. MCCORNACK, Pastor.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

Mass during the week every morning, 8 a. m
Sunday services every Sunday.
REV. M. SAVS.

DELANO VILLAGE OFFICERS.

President, THOS. B. RADER.
Trustees, ADAM HORSCH, JOHN E. BORSCH, A. E. JOHNSON.
Recorder, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Regular meetings held the third Monday of each month, at the Council Room, in the City Hall.
Justices of the Peace, W. H FRAZEE, R. M. WALTER
Street Commissioner, DARV WELKER.
Board of Health, T. J. CATLIN, M. D., H. O. HENRY BOCK, Secretary, C. A. BRONKOW.
Village Marshal, MARTIN NELSON.
Constables JOSEPH MERRIMAN, GEO. GOODRICK.

DELANO BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President, F. H. LINDSLEY,
Secretary, L. M. MAXFIELD.
Treasurer, JOHN E. Borsch.
W. H. FRAZEE, C. M. CONZET, and A. W. WITTMAN.

TEACHER'S EXAMINERS.

F. H. LINDSLEY and C. S. HAWKER.

WE SEND FREE

Printed Matter, descriptive of

-THE SOUTH-

and Southeast Colony Lands, together with maps, rates and such other information as will be of service to you. Write ....

THE CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD

The Short Line from Chicago to Atlanta and the South.

CITY Ticket Office 230 Clark St. CHICAGO

CHARLS L. STONE Gen'l Pass. Agent. CHICAGO, Ill.

N. B.—State what particular locality you are interested in, and we will send matter accordingly.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

WANTED-TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Minnesota. Monthly $55.00 and expenses. Position steady. Reference Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope. The Dominion Company, Dept. Y Chicago.

Advertise in the Gazette.

GAZETTE JOB PRINT, DELANO, MINN

"BUFFALO GAZETTE."

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING AT DELANO.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One copy, one year, in advance..... $1.00
One copy, six months, in advance..... .50
One copy, three months, in advance..... .25

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

One column, one year..... $100.00
One-half column, one year..... 50.00
One-fourth column, one year..... 25.00
One-eighth column, one year..... 13.00
Cards, 10 lines or less, one year..... 5.00
Cards, four lines or less, one year..... 3.00
Business notices, 5 cents per line.
Local notices 10 cents per line.

Our Job Department is well supplied with the latest styles of type and presses, and we are able to do all kinds of work promptly, at the lowest possible terms. Orders by mail carefully filled.

T. J. CATLIN, Publisher and Proprietor

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at the Post Office in Delano, Minn

CHARLES A. TOWNE seems sure to succeed Page Morris in Congress this fall, and John Lind is bound to be the people's choice for Governor.

THE silver Republicans held a meeting in Minneapolis Wednesday and in the evening the Young Men's Democratic Club and silver forces generally had a banquet at the Nicollet House. C. A. Towne, ex-Governor Peck and others addressed the meetings.

ST. PAUL is having a lively time for Mayor. To outsiders it looks as if they might have selected candidates more acceptable to the people, but as it is, Bill Erwin seems to be looming up among them, and in the race likely to come out about a neck ahead.

Medical Examiners Fees.

From financial statements for last year published recently, we learn there is quite a difference of opinion as to what the fee for medical examiners in case of insane or supposed insane persons should be. It appears that Nicollet county pays the M. D's. $7 80 apeace for each case examined. Meeker county does the same. Kandiyohi pays $5, while for the same work Wright county M. D's. have been getting $3 each. When laws made by lawyers are so mixed up that lawyers can't unravel them and the public must pay the taxes it looks as if it was about time some other people than lawyers were sent to the legislature to help look after such discrepencies. Why if it wasn't so serious a matter it is positively rediculous. The inmates of a well regulated insane asylum, themselves, could hardly be expected to make laws that could not be better harmonized than that. And then where is the public examiner? What is he drawing pay for?

A Wyckoff Experience.

(Published by Repuest.)

Wyckoff, the young American millionaire who discarded his wealth and his station, and wondered over the country for two years, earning his living as an unskilled laborer, and at times, from stress of circumstances, descending to the level of a common tramp or hobo, acquired a large fund of information concerning the condition of the poor of the country, and his articles in Scribner's Magazine describing his experiences are full of interest to the sociologist. In the last number he has an interesting chapter on saloons as places of refuge for men who are reduced to hard straits. He says that when he was unable to get a crust of bread for love or money at private houses, and could not afford to pay for a meal at the cheapest of restaurants, he seldom failed to find a saloon in a town of large or medium size that afforded the means of satisfying hunger. He adds: "There was warmth and shelter and companionship within the saloons, and having drunk at the bar and eaten of the free lunch counter, we were free to sit at ease about the fire. And how cheap it all was. For fifteen cents we could get three fair meals a day, and even ten cents would save us from the actual pain of hanger. There is no other chance that compares with this. The utmost that five cents will buy in the cheapest restaurant is a cup of coffee and two small rolls. There are ten cent meals to be had, but they are not the equals of a free lunch and a glass of beer. To get their equivalent in a restaurant you must spend fifteen cents at least."

This is not written to boom the saloon, but as a record of actual fact. Does not the recital contain a suggestion to the temperance reformers? Why would it not be practicable for them to set up temperance saloons, wherein a free lunch could be had by any one buying a cup of coffee or a "soft" (temperance) drink of some kind? If such a place could furnish a satisfying lunch and warmth and light and companionship for the expenditure of five cents in some harmless beverage, it might become the rival of the saloon. No doubt many respectable and sober workingmen, reduced to privation from failure to secure employment, are often tempted into the saloons, as Wyckoff was, and there acquire habits of intemperance which they never would have acquired had they remained prosperous. There are plenty of saloons in every city, but there are few places in any city where a temperance man reduced to his last nickel can secure such entertainment for that sum as he can in a saloon.—Minneapolis Tribune.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

(By Hon. B. F. Christlieb.)

Mr. Editor: California is reputed to be a country where there is a great uniformity of the same seasons of each year; and while California may come nearer to that idea than most sections of the world, it has its exceptions and notably so in the winter season which is now becoming a matter of the past. It was an unusually cold winter on the Pacific coast, extending south into Mexico. During the four winters I have spent in California I have found old settlers during each of those winters who claimed that each was the coldest in their experience, but now I am becoming much impressed that California has its climate liars. The records however show the winter now closing to have been an exceptional season resulting in much injury in the way of frost to the fruit crop, but in the end it will prove to have been a valuable experience to the people of Southern California in the matter of planting and producing fruits and other products; indicating quite definitely the localities suitable to the different varieties.

The part of the state known as the Orange Belt is not all adapted to raising oranges. Soil, locality, and atmospheric conditions have to be taken in account, and the unsually cold season just passed has demonstrated that injury from frost is not general throughout the orange belt, but is confined to certain localities. The Los Angeles Times recently sent out a civil engineer and a scientist to investigate a district of country in which the cities of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Riverside, San Bernardino, Redlands and smaller towns are situated, and the report of this investigation states that the localities struck by frost are sharply defined, designating them as frost channels, which he along the depressions where rivers and water courses are found, through which cold currents of air pass, connecting with the massive mountains and canyons nearby; and how the warmer currents of air pervade the more elevated tracts of country and protect the fruit from injury, explaining why fine oranges are raised at Redlands at an elevation of fifteen hundred feet above sea level, regarding this elevation as being the highest of the region investigated on which oranges can be raised successfully. The times accompanies this report with maps which show these frost channels to be but narrow strips of country, and further experimentation may even demonstrate them as being very suitable for other products, as some varieties of the deciduous kinds, and, if I am rightly informed, the orange trees are now being removed from some of those frost localities and replaced by other products suitable to them.

While California oranges appearing on the eastern markets may not always have been satisfactory it has been fully demonstrated that a fine quality of that variety of fruit can be produced in California and the prospect is, that from this time forward the quality of California oranges will improve as the producers are becoming awakened to the importance of placing nothing but good fruit on the market and from recent experiences are fast becoming informed as to the best methods of raising fruit, especially oranges.

Hon. T. G. Mealey, of Monticello, Minn., has been spending the winter in California and recently he made a visit to Monrovia where I had the pleasure of meeting him. I see amongst the published notices of arrivals of tourists the names of many Minnesotans, and sometime within the last two months there was a large social meeting held at one of the hotels in Los Angeles consisting of resident and visiting Minnesotian's.

The following is a clipping from the Los Angeles Times describing a fight between seals and a shark at the mouth of San Diego harbor:

"One of the most novel combats ever witnessed in these waters took place yesterday afternoon at the mouth of the harbor. It was a battle royal between three seals on one side and a big shark on the other. The shark was not of the man eating variety. He was forced to fight on his back, and his equipment was not sufficient to make him equal to the agile and vicious creatures that attacked him.

Nobody knows how the scrap began. Fishermen and others passing by in yachts noticed a terrific commotion in the water, accompanied by the barking of the seals. They tumbled over and over, snapping and barking, and the water was dashed into a foam by the frantic writhings of the shark. The seals were plainly on the offensive, and they seemed to signal each other by their barking. They jumped at the shark from all sides, keeping out of reach of his lance like teeth, and doing execution upon his tough hide with their own weapons of offense.

The water was covered with blood in a minute or two, and the uncanny creatures, with their brown eyes blazing with excitement and their jaws revealing long teeth, appeared to be no mean antagonists of the pirate of the seas. The shark, for his part, was as active as a cat, dodging here and there, but apparently not trying to make his escape. He did his best to dive and come up under the seals, with the intention, apparently, of getting their bodies in his jaws, but the seals were almost as active as he. They were not caught in the trap. Instead, when the shark emerged again, they ran at his body and snapped out pieces of flesh.

The war did not last long. Within a few minutes the shark gave up, and the seals divided his body among them. Sea gulls, which had hoyered around during the fight, screaming with excitement, alighted on the carcass and got pieces of the fin.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8, 1898.

Nothing but Fitz Lee's appeal for more time to get Americans out of Cuba would have reconciled Congress to the withholding of Mr. McKinley's Cuban message until next week, and the fact that such an appeal had to be made is an additional arraignment of Spanish treachery and another reason for putting a speedy end to Spanish rule in Cuba. Gen. Lee stated in his telegram that no American's life would be safe in Cuba after the President's message recommending intervention is made public.

Mr. McKinley is indulging the hope that Spain will agree to give up Cuba before next week, and that his message will consequently never be sent to Congress. His hope is based upon the influence of the Pope and several European nations with the Spanish government. Congress as a whole regards this hope as chimerical, but even if Spain should agree to retire from Cuba, congress would not consider our account with her closed. Congress has not forgotten, and will not forget, our battleship and the brave sailors who met their death by Spanish treachery. Peace between Spain and the U. S. cannot be certain until Spain has made reparation for the Maine-blood reparation.

Boss Hanna has aroused a lot of new animosity towards himself and towards Spain by his manipulation of the peace bureau he has established at the headquarters of the Republican National committee, for the purpose of getting moneyed men to send copies of a telegram furnished by him to their Senators and Representatives in congress, asking them to work for peace. A large number of the signers of these telegrams have received redhot replies from their Senators and Rrepresentatives, and it is certain the telegrams have not influenced a vote.

The old claim of the heirs of John Roach for alleged extra work on the gunboats Chicago, Boston, and Atlanta, which has been turned down by several Congresses, was passed by the House this week. The appropriation carried by the bill to pay this claim is $130,151.42.

Capt. Sigsbee's positive statement to the House committee on Foreign Affairs that he felt certain that the Maine was blown up by a submarine mine located by the Spanish authorities at Havana, and the acknowledgement of a London firm that they had sold Spain a number of just that kind of mines for use in Cuban waters, served to convince the most of those who were not already convinced that Spanish officers were responsible for the loss of the Maine and the treacherous and cowardly massacre of so many of her crew; also to add to the feeling that Spain must be driven off this hemisphere. When Captain Sigsbee was asked by a member of the committee whether he believed the mine was fired by order of the Spanish authorities, he replied that he preferred not to express an opinion on that just now, but his manner left no doubt in the minds of those present that he had an opinion on the subject. Like the careful officer that he has shown himself to be, he doesn't care to express an opinion that cannot be backed by absolute proof.

The currency bill prepared by the subcommittee of the committee on Banking and Currency, which was this week introduced in the House, follows largely the recommendations of the so-called "monetary conference", which met at Indianapolis, as to the establishment of an issue and redemption division in the Treasury Department, the substitutions for present legal tender notes of an issue to be known as reserve notes, and amendments to the National Banking Laws. This bill has just about as much chance to become a law during the life of the present Congress as Spain has to whip the United States. The redemption feature of the bill strikes the lay reader as being absurd. It provides that the legal tender notes and standard silver dollars shall be redeemed in gold, upon demand, and then expressly stipulates that silver certificates shall not be redeemed in gold. Just refer to the face of a silver certificate and you will see that they represent silver dollars, deposited with the U. S. Treasury and payable upon demand to the holder of the certificate. Therefore, should this wise bill become a law, all the holder of silver certificates who wished them redeemed in gold would have to do would be to first demand standard silver dollars for them and then get the gold for the silver dollars. A measure containing a clause so manifestly absurd is not calculated to inspire public confidence in other sections, where the absurdities could not be so readily discovered before they were put into practical operation; but come to think, the Indianapolis convention that fathered these ideas, did not inspire any confidence outside of the bondholders and bankers who footed its bills.

List of Patents

Granted to Minnesota Inventors this week Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents. Opp. U. S. Patent office Washington, D. C.

Gustaf A. Dahlberg, New Sweden, handcart. Patrick V. Dwyer, St. Paul, pipe thimble. Thos. Forstner, New Ulm, wrench. Martin Helgeson, Lake Crystal, combined reel carrier and feed cart. Peter F. Mauer, Staples, paper-bag cabinet. Geo. A. Wieland, Duluth, pocket book.

For copy of patent any send 10 cents in postage stamps with date of this paper to C A. Snow & Co., Washington, D C.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for Moderate Fees.

Our Office is Opposite U. S. Patent Office, and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.

A Pamphlet, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic state convention for the state of Minnesota is hereby called to meet in the city of Minneapolis, on Wednesday, June 15, 1898, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for all of the state offices in the state of Minnesota, to be voted for at the general state election, in November, 1898, and to transact such other business as may be properly brought before said convention.

All the counties in the state of Minnesota shall hold their respective county conventions for the election of delegates to said state convention on Thursday, June 9, 1898.

The basis of representation to which the several counties shall be entitled is hereby fixed at two delegates at large for each county and one delegate for each 100 voters and major fraction thereof, cast for Hon. William J. Bryan, for president, in the presidential election, in 1896.

The apportionment for the several counties being as follows:

Aitkin	5	Martin	15
Anoka	10	Meeker	17
Becker	12	Mille Lac	7
Beltrami	4	Morrison	19
Benton	11	Mower	16
Big Stone	9	Murray	13
Blue Earth	29	Nicollet	10
Brown	17	Nobels	14
Carlton	7	Norman	15
Carver	15	Olmstead	19
Cass	5	Otter Tail	47
Chippewa	12	Pine	11
Chisago	6	Pipestone	11
Clay	21	Polk	48
Cook	3	Pope	9
Cottonwood	10	Ramsey	122
Crow Wing	13	Redwood	18
Dakota	25	Renville	22
Dodge	11	Rice	22
Douglas	15	Rock	10
Faribault	13	Roseau	7
Fillmore	21	Red Lake	7
Freeborn	14	St. Louis	76
Goodhue	16	Scott	19
Grant	9	Sherburne	7
Hennepin	207	Sibley	15
Houston	12	Stearns	51
Hubbard	5	Steele	14
Isanti	9	Stevens	9
Itasca	9	Swift	14
Jackson	13	Todd	19
Kanabec	5	Traverse	12
Kandiyohi	18	Wabasha	18
Kittson	10	Wadena	7
Lac qui Parle	11	Waseca	14
Lake	5	Washington	18
Le Sueur	22	Watonwan	8
Lincoln	9	Wilkin	11
Lyon	16	Winona	37
McLeod	19	Wright	24
Marshall	14	Yellow Medicine	12

The following candidates will be nominated at said convention: Goyernor, lieutenant goyernor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, three associate justices of supreme court and clerk of supreme court.

The Democratic county committees are hereby directed to call primary elections in due time, and publish and post the notices required by law for such primaay elections in the respective counties and precincts within the time required by law.

All electors, who voted for Hon. William J. Bryan for president, in 1896, or who intend to support the principles enunciated in the platform adopted by the Democracy in national convention assembled, in Chicago, in 1896, are invited to participate in said primary elections.

By order of the Democratic state central committee.

—C. W. Stanton, Acting Secretary.
—L. A. Rosing, Chairman.

Affairs in General.

Mr. Editor: For a good many months past it has taken a good deal of our time to read the exciting news in regard to extensive gold fields in Alaska, and the war between Spain and Cuba and also the blowing up of the Maine. Most every paper we pick up has the picture of a battle ship or that of some destructive implement of war. It would seem somebody is anxious to fight. Just how well they would stand the smoke of powder would be proven later on.

King Saul fought the Philistines at Mount Gilboa and he and his three sons were slain, and he had no navy nor any appropriation from Congress.

The United States should have declared the Independence of Cuba two years ago, and there would have been a great saying of life and property. During the war of the revolution between England and the colonies, France acknowledged the independence of the United States, and so did Holland: and why could not the United States have done the same by Cuba, when she was making such a sacrifice of both life and property. Being so far away from the seat of war it is somewhat hard for a person to Judge these matters intelligently, but it looks to me as if there ought to be a lot of Spaniards hung, and the woods burned over. Some think our administration has been a little timid in this Cuban matter and lacking some courage but we are hardly ready to condemn the administration yet, but it would seem to a casual observer that there has been a ghost or a lion by the way, or might have been a calf with gold filling. There is an old proverb that says: "Knowledge is power", but it would seem that now days money is the lever and fulcrum that moves the world. Most everything is for sale. Thousands of men have publicly put themselves upon the market, and like the galley slave they go to the highest bidder. People are tax ridden; too much money going out and too little coming back. This brings want, distress, and lack of confidence in our leaders. When our country is in danger of being invaded by a foreign foe, everybody is willing to put the sword into the hands of the common people for to protect our nation and its free institutions. Then put in their hands plenty of money and the sunlight of Heaven will shine upon every threshold in the land. It is not necessary that every man should be rich, but it is necessary in a land like ours, having climate, resources, soil, and all the natural advantages unsurpassed by any other country in the world, that our people should at least have plenty and none of our children go in tatters and rags. And when the Fourth of July orator says we are a prosperous and happy nation and all of our homes are homes of plenty and there is no lack of anything, lets fix it so he will not be compelled to lie, and the American Eagle, that proud bird, hang her head in shame.

Only a short time ago there was held in New York City a Belshazzar feast or a millionair dinner, represented by sixty trusts or more, and also representing a combined capital of $9,000,000,000, of which the president was the principal guest. The holders to a seat were $100 each.

We read somewhere in Holy writ that Belshazzar in the days of Babylon, made a feast and callled in his thousand Lords. They drank wine and praised the Gods of gold; but while in the midst of their revelry, there appeared a hand writing on the wall. And this is the writing that was written: "MENE: MENE: TEKEL UPHARSIN". And this is the interpretation: MENE-God hath numbered thy kingdom and finished it; TEKEL-Thou art weighed in the balance and found wanting.

In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain. While they were playing the fool Darius turned the channel of the Euphrates; marched his army in and took the city.

Perhaps it is all right for those millionairs and New Yorkers to make a feast of that kind, but whose money was it? It is only by mere accident that a man in a short life time can become worth one or two million, unless by trickery, fraud, or favored legislation. Things may continue so for a while but by and by the end will come.

It has become an old saying among leading policians, we must stick by our party, yes, if the country goes to the devil; but they should keep one thing in mind, that when the country goes they will go along with it.

"God will not always strive with man".

"He who steals my purse steals trash but he who steals my good name steals all I have".

Now, Mr. Editor we are going too fast. The country can not bear us out in it. Taxes have become a burden. Our city of Minneapolis has almost taxed herself out of existence. Things must take a change and that soon.

A FARMER.

Subscribe for the Gazette. $1.

GIVE US A CALL.

W. H. COCHRANE, & CO.,
Abstractors,
BUFFALO, - MINNESOTA.

Appointed by Board of County Commissioners and Bond Filed.

Correct Abstracts of Titles to Lands and Lots in Wright County.
Fifteen Year Experience

LATEST NEWS.

Looks Warlike.

Preparations Progressing in Both Countries.

CONGRESS HAS PASSED AN INTERVENTION REsOLUTION.

The Senate Wrestling With the Question of Recognizing the Cuban Government.

Congress passed a resolution of intervention; only 19 dissenting votes.

The Senate is likely to adopt the C. K. Davis resolution for recognition of Cuban freedom.

This mornings Pioneer Press special claims an American, Charles A. Crandall, laid mines and torpedoes for Weyler in Havana harbor, in 1896 '97, and that the Spanish officials designedly blowed up the Maine and killed 266 American sailors and officers.

Spanish Cortes is to be invoked next Wednesday, five days before the time previously intended.

John Wanamaker is said to have offered to arm and command a regiment to fight Spain.

Senator Davis is to call for a continuous session until Senators are ready to vote.

THE New York World

Thrice-a-week Edition

18 PAGES A WEEK. 156 PAPERS A YEAR

A paper as useful to you as a great $6 daily for only $1 a year. Better than ever. All the News of All the World and All the Time. Accurate and fair to everybody. Democratic and for the people. Against trusts and all monopolies. Brilliant illustrations. Stories by great authors in every number. Splendid reading for women and other special departments of unusual interest.

It stands first among "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and freshness, variety and reliability of contents. It is practically a daily at the price of a weekly, and its vast list of subscribers, extending to every state and territory of the Union and foreign countries, will vouch for the accuracy and fairness of its news columns.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the BUFFALO GAZETTE together one year for $1.75

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

A 500 PAGE BOOK FREE

The Free Press

YEAR BOOK AND ENCYCLOPEDIA FOR 1898.

CORRECT, CONCISE, COMPLETE.

Over 20,000 copies of 1897 book were sold at 25 cents each.

By sending 15 cents for postage any subscriber to the Free Press can have the book.

$1.65 gets the GAZETTE and the Free Press for One Year, and the Book.

BALD,
BALD HEADS,
BALD HEADS CURED,
BALD HEADS CURED SURE.
—TOUKENITE—does the business.
2c stamp gets full particulars.
AMES & CO.,
22tf. Edison Park, Ill.

Subscribe for and advertise in the Gazette.

Advertise

SUBSCRIBE

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901
Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

The Gazette.

DELANO. Wright Co., - MINN.

PROF. JAMES E. KEELER, who has just been elected director of the Lick observatory, to succeed Prof. Edward S. Holden, was the discoverer of the fact that the rings of Saturn are composed of small satellites. He has made a specialty of spectroscope work and is one of the best known astronomers of the country.

A YELLOW light has been obtained with incandescent gas burners by a German inventor at Krefeld. He alters the burners so that the gas is supplied at a pressure of three and a half atmospheres. A single jet of ordinary size then emits a light of more than 1,000 candle power, by which fine print may be read at a distance of 150 feet from the light.

THE Austrians have discovered another American germ. Two shipments of American clover seed worth $3,900 were returned to New York from Hungary recently on the ground that they were infected with cuscuta epithynum, commonly called dodder. The leading agricultural journals of Austria and Hungary are urging the government to shut out American seeds altogether.

PETRIFIED human bones are made to order at Crookston, Me. Pheenie Finn, a colored woman of the place, serves as the model from which plaster casts are made for fraudulent museum exhibits, and she has earned a comfortable living in this way for many years. The average price of a petrified human body made of plaster of paris and clay, and so skillfully treated as to appear to be genuine, is $100.

LORD GEORGE HAMILTON, secretary for India, has reported the losses up to date for the Indian frontier to the house of commons. Forty-four British and six native officers, with 136 British and 320 native men have been killed. The wounded comprise 93 British and 36 native officers, with 400 British and 825 native men, while 10 British officers and 250 men, with 220 natives of all ranks, have died of disease.

PARIS cab fares are to be changed to a system regulated only by time, the course at 1½ francs being abolished. The first two minutes of a ride will cost 60 centimes, the second and third two 10 centimes each; then follow two three-minute spells at 10 centimes each, so that a 12 minute ride costs a franc; 23 minutes and over will cost 1 franc and 50 centimes. Clocks indicating the time and price will be placed in every cab.

IT is proposed by a company of capitalists of Rochester, N. Y., to make a practical demonstration of the feasibility of storing water at the high water period to release at the low water period for purposes of furnishing hydraulic power and for other purposes to which the waters of the Genesee river are applied. It is proposed to get possession of a large area near Portage and on this area store the waters when they are high.

IT requires four years and four months for a ray of light to reach us from the nearest star, and yet light travels at the rate of 186,330 miles in a second. At this rate a first-class express train, running at a speed of 37 miles an hour, would require a continuous run of 75,000,000 years to reach Alpha Centauri. It would take 250,000 years for a cannon ball, traveling at the usual speed of such projectiles, to reach this same point, which is our nearest star neighbor.

AT Peoria, Ill., Linn McNeil has been convicted of burglary. When the authorities raided his house they found three wagon loads of stolen property, including ten hives of bees, three cook stoves, five sets of harness, two grindstones, one granite grave-stone, a half barrel of pickled pigs' feet, 20 young trees, one rubber foot ball stamped "welcome," an assortment of bibles and autograph albums, children's toys, storm doors, one set of false teeth, chickens, hogs and pet cats.

THE state superintendent of public instruction in New York is urging the adoption of a curfew law by the legislature. He says that in 300 western cities that have adopted the measure there has been a decrease of from 50 to 75 per cent. of the arrests of children, and a decrease of from 50 to 100 per cent in commitments to the reform schools. He says that last year there were 179,000 arrests of children under 16 years of age. What he wants is a state law of uniform operation.

ON the banks of rivers in South America a curious insect is found, an insect that fights its enemies with a natural explosive resembling a charge of gunpowder sent from the muzzle of a gun. J. G. Wood, in his natural history, says that when this beetle is handled a sharpish explosion is heard, and on looking at the creature a tiny wreath of bluish vapor is seen to issue from the body. This vapor has a very pungent ordor, and when discharged against the skin leaves a yellow mark like that produced by nitric acid.

A SIMPLE and ingenius device has been patented for the automatic closing of elevator doors. The moment the car begins to ascend, the door on the ground floor commences to close, and by the time the floor of the car is three feet high, it is shut and tightly locked. The door of the first floor landing begins to open when the elevator is about three feet below it and is wide open at the exact moment when the occupants are prepared to step out. Further upward movement causes the door to shut again and the same sequence of operations again occurs, and so on.

AFTER creating a prodigious tumult in France, and bringing that country within measurable distance of a revolution through his intrepid espousal of the cause of Capt. Dreyfus, M. Zola, the well known writer, is finally to escape the imprisonment to which he was sentenced when recently adjudged guilty of libeling the French army. The penalty at first inflicted upon him by the trial court was a fine of 3,000 francs and the incarceration of 12 months' duration, but the court of appeals, after a review of the case, the other day, decided to remit the imprisonment.

M'KINLEY'S MESSAGE

The President Places the Cuban Matter Before Congress.

WANTS TO STOP THE WAR IN CUBA.

But Advises Against Recognizing Insurgent Government—Refers to Maine Explosion as Sign of Spanish Weakness.

Washington, April 12.—The president Monday sent the following message to the congress of the United States:

Obedient to that precept of the constitution which commands the president to give from time to time to congress information of the state of the union, and to recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient, it becomes my duty now to address your body with regard to the grave crisis that has arisen in the relations of the United States to Spain by reason of the warfare that for more than three years has raged in the neighboring island of Cuba. I do so because of the intimate connection of the Cuban question with the state of our own union and the grave relation the course which it is now incumbent upon the nation to adopt must needs bear to the traditional policy of our government if it is to accord with the precepts laid down by the founders of the republic and religiously observed by succeeding administrations to the present day.

Uncivilized Warfare.

The present revolution is but the successor of other similar insurrections which have occurred in Cuba against the dominion of Spain, extending over a period of nearly half a century, each of which during its progress has subjected the United States to great effort and expense in enforcing its neutrality laws, caused enormous losses to the American trade and commerce, caused irritation, annoyance and disturbance among our citizens, and by the exercise of cruel, barbarous and uncivilized practices of warfare shocked the sensibilities and offended the humane sympathies of our people.

Ravaged by Fire and Sword.

Since the present revolution began in February, 1895, this country has seen the fertile domain at our threshold ravaged by fire and sword in the course of a struggle unequaled in the history of the islands, and rarely paralleled as to the number of the combatants and the bitterness of the contest by any revolution of modern times, where a dependent people, striving to be free, have been opposed by the power of the sovereign state. Our people have beheld a once prosperous community reduced to comparative want, its commerce virtually paralyzed, its exceptional productiveness diminished, its fields laid waste, its mills in ruins, and its people perishing by tens of thousands from hunger and destitution. We have found ourselves constrained, in the observance of that strict neutrality which our laws enjoin, and which the law of nations commands, to police our waters and watch our own seaports in prevention of any unlawful act in aid of the Cubans. Our trade has suffered; the capital invested by our citizens in Cuba has been largely lost, and the temper and forbearance of our people has been so sorely tried as to beget a perilous unrest among our own citizens, which has inevitably found its expression from time to time in the national legislature, so that issues wholly external to our own body politic engross attention and stand in the way of that close devotion to domestic advancement that becomes a self-contented commonwealth whose primal maxim has been the avoidance of all foreign entanglements. All this must needs awaken, and has indeed aroused the utmost concern on the part of this government as well during my predecessor's administration as my own.

Efforts for Peace.

In April, 1896, the evils from which our country suffered through the Cuban war became so onerous that my predecessor made an effort to bring about a peace through the mediation of this government in any way that might tend to an honorable adjustment of the contest between Spain and her revolted colony, on the basis of some effective scheme of self-government for Cuba under the flag and sovereignty of Spain. It failed, through the refusal of the Spanish government then in power to consider any form of mediation or indeed any plan of settlement which did not begin with the actual submission of the insurgents to the mother country, and then only on such terms as Spain herself might see fit to grant. The war continued unabated. The resistance of the insurgents was in no wise diminished.

New Horrors Added.

The efforts of Spain were increased, both by the dispatch of fresh levies to Cuba and by the addition to the horrors of the strife of a new and inhuman phase happily unprecedented in the modern history of civilized Christian peoples. The policy of devastation and concentration, inaugurated by the captain-general's bando of October 21, 1896, in the province of Pinar del Rio, was thence extended to embrace all of the island to which the power of the Spanish arms was able to reach by occupation or by military operations. The peasantry, including all dwellings in the open agricultural interior, were driven into the garrison towns or isolated places held by the troops. The raising and movement of provisions of all kinds were interdicted. The fields were laid waste, dwellings unroofed and fired, mills destroyed and, in short, everything that could desolate the land and render it unfit for human habitation or support was commanded by one or the other of the contending parties, and executed by all the powers at their disposal.

Conditions a Year Ago.

By the time the present administration took office a year ago, reconcentration—so-called—had been made effective over the better part of the four central and western provinces, Santa Clara, Matanzas, Havana and Pinar del Rio. The agricultural population, to the estimated number of 200,000 or more, was herded within the towns and their immediate vicinage, deprived of the means of support, rendered destitute of shelter, left poorly clad and exposed to the most unsanitary conditions.

As the scarcity of food increased with the devastation of the depopulated areas of production, destitution and want became misery and starvation. Month by month the death rate increased in an alarming ratio. By March, 1897, according to conservative estimates from official Spanish sources, the mortality among the reconcentrados from starvation and the diseases thereto incident, exceeded 50 per centum of their total number. No practical relief was accorded to the destitute. The overburdened towns, already suffering from the general dearth, could give none. So-called zones of cultivation, established within the immediate area of effective military control about the cities and fortified camps, proved illusory as a remedy for the suffering. The unfortunates, being for the most part women and children with aged and helpless men, enfeebled by disease and hunger, could not have tilled the soil, without tools, seed or shelter, for their own support or for the supply of the cities. Reconcentration, adopted avowedly as a war measure in order to cut off the resources of the insurgents, worked its predestined result. As I said in my message of last December, it was not civilized warfare; it was extermination. The only peace it could beget was that of the wilderness and the grave.

A Noticeable Change.

Meanwhile the military situation in the island had undergone a noticeable change. The extraordinary activity that characterized the second year of the war, when the insurgents invaded even the hitherto unharmed fields of Pinar del Rio and carried havoc and destitution up to the walls of the city of Havana itself, had relapsed into a dogged struggle in the central and eastern provinces. The Spanish arms regained a measure of control in Pinar del Rio and parts of Havana, but, under the existing conditions of the rural country, without immediate improvement of their productive situation. Even thus partially restricted the revolutionists held their own, and their submission, put forward by Spain as the essential and sole basis of peace, seemed as far distant as at the outset.

Steps Taken for Relief.

In this state of affairs my administration found itself confronted with the grave problem of its duty. My message of last December reviewed the situation and detailed the steps taken with a view of relieving its acuteness and opening the way to some form of honorable settlement. The assassination of the prime minister, Canovas, led to a change of government in Spain. The former administration pledged to subjugation without concession gave place to that of a more liberal party, committed long in advance to a policy of reform, involving the wider principle of home rule for Cuba and Puerto Rico. The overtures of this government, made through its new envoy, Gen. Woodford, and looking to an immediate and effective amelioration of the condition of the island, although not accepted to the extent of admitted mediation in any shape, were met by assurances that home rule, in an advanced phase, would be forthwith offered to Cuba, without waiting for the war to end, and that more humane methods should thenceforth prevail in the conduct of hostilities. Incidentally with these declarations the new government of Spain continued and completed the policy already begun by its predecessor of testifying friendly regard for this nation by releasing American citizens held under one charge or another connected with the insurrection, so that by the end of November not a single person entitled in any way to our national protection remained in a Spanish prison.

An Appeal for Help.

While these negotiations were in progress, the increasing destitution of the unfortunate reconcentrados and the alarming mortality among them claimed earnest attention. The success which had attended the limited measure of relief extended to the suffering American citizens among them by the judicious expenditure through the consular agencies of the money appropriated expressly for their succor by the joint resolution approved May 24, 1897, prompted the humane extension of a similar scheme of aid to the great body of sufferers. A suggestion to this end was acquiesced in by the Spanish authorities. On the 24th of December last I caused to be issued an appeal to the American people inviting contributions in money or in kind for the succor of the starving sufferers in Cuba, following this on the 8th of January by a similar public announcement of the formation of a central Cuban relief committee, with headquarters in New York city, composed of three members representing the American National Red Cross and the religious and business elements of the community. The efforts of that committee have been untiring and accomplished much. Arrangements for free transportation to Cuba have greatly aided the charitable work. The president of the American Red Cross and representatives of other contributory organizations have generously visited Cuba and co-operated with the consul-general and the local authorities to make effective distribution of the relief collected through the efforts of the central committee. Nearly $200,000 in money and supplies has already reached the sufferers, and more is forthcoming. The supplies are admitted duty free, and transportation to the interior has been arranged, so that the relief, at first necessarily confined to Havana and the larger cities, is now extended through most, if not all, of the towns where suffering exists. Thousands of lives have already been saved. The necessity for a change in the condition of the reconcentrados is recognized by the Spanish government. Within a few days past the orders of General Weyler have been revoked, the reconcentrados are, it is said, to be permitted to return to their homes and aided to resume the self-supporting pursuits of peace; public works have been ordered to give them employment, and a sum of $600,000 has been appropriated for their relief.

Can See No End.

The war in Cuba is of such a nature that short of subjugation or extermination a final military victory for either side seems impracticable. The alternative lies in the physical exhaustion of the one or the other party, or perhaps of both—a condition which in effect ended the ten years' war by the truce of Zenjon. The prospect of such a prolongation and extension of the present strife is a contingency sadly to be contemplated with equanimity by the civilized world, and least of all by the United States, affected and injured as we are, deeply and intimately, by its very existence.

Asked for an Armistice.

Realizing this, it appeared to be my duty, in a spirit of true friendliness, no less to Spain than to the Cubans who have so much to lose by the prolongation of the struggle, to seek to bring about an immediate termination of the war. To this end, I submitted, on the 27th ultimo, as a result of much representation and correspondence, through the United States minister at Madrid, propositions to the Spanish government looking to an armistice until October 1 for the negotiation of peace with the good offices of the president.

In addition I asked the immediate revocation of the order of reconcentration, so as to permit the people to return to their farms and the needy to be relieved with provisions and supplies from the United States, cooperating with the Spanish authorities so as to afford full relief.

The Reply of Spain.

The reply of the Spanish cabinet was received on the night of the 31st ult. Efforts, as it was stated, to bring about peace in Cuba, to confide the preparation thereof to the insular department, inasmuch as the concurrence of that body would be necessary to reach a final result, it being, however, understood that the powers reserved the 4th of May next, the Spanish government are not lessened or diminished. As the Cuban parliament does not meet until the 4th of May next, the Spanish government would not object, for its part, to accept at once a suspension of hostilities, if asked for by the insurgents from the general in chief, to whom it would pertain, in such case, to determine the duration and conditions of the armistice.

The propositions submitted by Gen. Woodford and the reply of the Spanish government were both in the form of brief memoranda, the texts of which are before me—and so accepted in the language above given. The function of the Cuban parliament in the matter of "preparing" peace and the manner of its doing so are not expressed in the Spanish memorandum; but from Gen. Woodford's explanatory reports of preliminary discussions preceding the final conference it is understood that the Spanish government stands ready to give the insular congress full powers to settle the terms of peace with the insurgents, whether by direct negotiations or indirectly by means of legislation, does not appear.

End of Diplomacy.

With this last overture in the direction of immediate peace and its disappointing reception by Spain, the executive was brought to the end of his effort.

In my annual message of December last I said:

"Of the untried measures there remain: Recognition of the insurgents as belligerents, recognition of the independence of Cuba, neutral intervention to end the war by imposing a rational compromise between the contestants and the intervention in favor of one or the other party. I speak not of forcible annexation, for that cannot be thought of. That, by our code of morality, would be criminal aggression."

Thereupon I reviewed these alternatives, in the light of President Grant's measured words, uttered in 1875, when after seven years of sanguinary, destructive and cruel barbarities in Cuba he reached the conclusion that the recognition of the independence of Cuba was impracticable and indefensible; and that the recognition of belligerence was unwarranted by the facts according to the tests of public law. I commented especially upon the latter aspect of the question, pointing out the inconveniences and positive dangers of a recognition of belligerency which, while adding to the already onerous burdens of neutrality within our own jurisdiction, could not in any way extend our influence or effective offices in the territory of hostilities. Nothing has since occurred to change my view in this regard, and I recognize as fully now as then that the issuance of a proclamation of neutrality, by which process the so-called recognition of belligerence is published, could, of itself and unattended by other action, accomplish nothing toward the one end for which we labor, the instant pacification of Cuba and the cessation of the misery that afflicts the island.

Precedents from History.

Turning to the question of recognizing at this time the independence of the present insurgent government in Cuba, we find safe precedents in our history from an early day. They are well summed up in President Jackson's message to congress December 21, 1836, on the subject of the recognition of the independence of Texas. He said: "In all the contests that have arisen out of the revolutions of France, out of the disputes relating to the crews of Portugal and Spain, out of the separation of the American possessions of both from the European governments, and out of the numerous and constantly occurring struggles for dominion in Spanish America, so wisely consistent with our just principles has been the action of our government that we have, under the most critical circumstances, avoided all censure, and encountered no other evil than that produced by a transient estrangement of good will in those against whom we have been by force of evidence compelled to decide.

Our Established Policy.

"It was thus made known to the world that the uniform policy and practice of the United States is to avoid all interference in disputes which merely relate to the internal government of other nations, and eventually to recognize the authority of the prevailing party without reference to our particular interests and views or to the merits of the original controversy.

"But on this, as on every other trying occasion, safety is to be found in a rigid adherence to principle.

"In the contest between Spain and the revolted colonies we stood aloof and waited, not only until the ability of the new states to protect themselves was fully established, but until the danger of their being again subjugated had entirely passed away. Then, and not until then, were they recognized. Such was our course in regard to Mexico herself.

The Texas Case.

"It is true that with regard to Texas the civil authority of Mexico has been expelled, its invading army defeated, the chief of the republic himself captured, and all presence power to control the newly-organized government of to-day annihilated within its confines. But on the other hand, there is, in appearance at least, an immense disparity of physical force on the side of Texas. The Mexican republic under another executive is rallying its forces under a new leader, and menacing a fresh invasion to recover its lost dominion.

"Upon the issue of this threatened invasion, the independence of Texas may be considered as suspended; and were there nothing peculiar in the situation of the United States and Texas, our acknowledgment of its independence at such a crisis could scarcely be regarded as consistent with that prudent reserve with which we have hitherto held ourselves bound to treat all similar questions."

Thereupon Andrew Jackson proceeded to consider the risk that there might be imputed to the United States of motives of selfish interests in view of the former claim on our part to the territory of Texas and of the avowed purpose of the Texans in seeking recognition of independence as an incident to the incorporation of Texas in the union, concluding thus:

Words of Jackson.

"Prudence, therefore, seems to dictate that we should still stand aloof and maintain our present attitude, if not until Mexico itself, or one of the great foreign powers, shall recognize the independence of the new government, at least until the lapse of time or the course of events shall have proved beyond cavil or dispute the ability of the people of that country to maintain their separate sovereignty and to uphold the government constituted by them. Neither of the contending parties can justly complain of this course. By pursuing it, we are but carrying out the long established policy of our government, a policy which has secured to us respect and influence abroad and inspired confidence at home."

Conditions for Recognition.

These are the words of the resolute and patriotic Jackson. They are evidence that the United States, in addition to the test imposed by public law as the condition of the recognition of independence by a neutral state (to wit, that the revolted states shall "constitute in fact a body politic, having a government in substance as well as in name, possessed of the elements of stability," and forming de facto, "if left to itself, a state among the nations, reasonably capable of discharging the duties of a state"), has imposed for its own government in dealing with cases like these the further condition that recognition of independent statehood is not due to a revolting dependency until the danger of its being subjugated by the parent state has entirely passed away. This extreme test was in fact applied in the case of Texas. The congress to whom President Jackson referred the question as one "probably leading to war" and therefore a proper subject for "a previous understanding with that body by whom war can alone be declared, and by whom all the provisions for sustaining its perils must be furnished," left the matter of the recognition of Texas to the discretion of the executive, providing merely for the sending of a diplomatic agent when the president should be satisfied that the republic of Texas had become "an independent state." It was so recognized by President Van Buren, who commissioned a charge d'affaires March 7, 1837, after Mexico had abandoned an attempt to reconquer the Texan territory and when there was at the time no bona fide contest going on between the insurgent province and its former sovereign.

Should Not Recognize Cuba.

I said in my message of December last: "It is to be seriously considered whether the Cuban insurrection possesses beyond dispute the attributes of statehood which alone can demand the recognition of belligerency in its favor." The same requirement must certainly be no less seriously considered when the graver issue of recognizing independence is in question, for no less positive test can be applied to the greater act than to the lesser, while on the other hand the influences and consequences of the struggle upon the internal policy of the recognizing state, which form important factors when the recognition of belligerency is considered, are secondary, if not rightly eliminable factors, when the real question is whether the community claiming recognition is or is not independent beyond peradventure.

Nor from the standpoint of expedience do I think it would be wise or prudent for this government to recognize at the present time the independence of the so-called Cuban republic. Such recognition is not necessary in order to enable the United States to intervene and pacify the island. To commit this country now to the recognition of any particular government in Cuba might subject us to embarrassing conditions of international obligation towards the organization so recognized. In case of intervention our conduct would be subject to the approval or disapproval of such government; we would be required to submit to its direction and to assume to it the mere relations of a friendly ally. When it shall appear hereafter that there is within the island a government capable of performing the duties and discharging the functions of a separate nation, and having as a matter of fact the proper forms and attributes of nationality, such government can be promptly and readily recognized, and the relations and interests of the United States with such nation adjusted.

Our Alternatives.

There remain the alternative forms of intervention to end the war, either as an impartial neutral by imposing a rational compromise between the contestants, or as the active ally of the one party or the other.

As to the first, it is not to be forgotten that during the last few months the relation of the United States has virtually been one of friendly intervention in many ways, each not of itself conclusive, but all tending to the exertion of a potential influence toward an ultimate pacific result just and honorable to all interests concerned. The spirit of all our acts hitherto has been an earnest, unselfish desire for peace and prosperity in Cuba, untarnished by differences between us and Spain and unstained by the blood of American citizens.

Intervention Justifiable.

The forcible intervention of the United States, as a neutral, to stop the war, according to the large dictates of humanity, and following many historical precedents where neighboring states have interfered to check the hopeless sacrifice of life by internecine conflicts beyond their borders, is justifiable on rational grounds. It involves, however, hostile constraint upon both the parties to the contest as well to enforce a truce as to guide the eventual settlement.

Grounds for Intervention.

The grounds for such intervention may be briefly summarized as follows:

First—In the cause of humanity and to put an end to the barbarities, bloodshed, starvation and horrible miseries now existing there, and which the parties to the conflict are either unable or unwilling to stop or mitigate. It is no answer to say this is all in another country, belonging to another nation, and is therefore none of our business. It is specially our duty, for it is right at our door.

Second—We owe it to our citizens in Cuba to afford them that protection and indemnity for life and property which no government there can or will afford, and to that end to terminate the conditions that deprive them of legal protection.

Third—The right to intervene may be justified by the very serious injury to the commerce, trade and business of our people and by the wanton destruction of property and devastation of the island.

Fourth—And which is of the utmost importance. The present condition of affairs in Cuba is a constant menace to our peace and entails upon this government an enormous expense. With such a conflict waged for years in an island so near us and with which our people have such trade and business relations—when the lives and liberty of our citizens are in constant danger and their property destroyed and themselves ruined—where our trading vessels are liable to seizure and are seized at our very door, by warships of a foreign nation, the expeditions of filibustering that we are powerless to prevent altogether, and the irritating questions and entanglements thus arising—all these and others that I need not mention, with the resulting strained relations, are a constant menace to our peace and compel us to keep on a war-like footing with a nation with which we are at peace.

Destruction of the Maine.

These elements of danger and disorder already pointed out have been strikingly illustrated by a tragic event which has deeply and justly moved the American people. I have already transmitted to congress the report of the naval court of inquiry on the destruction of the battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana during the night of the 15th of February. The destruction of that noble vessel has filled the national heart with inexpressible horror. Two hundred and fifty-eight brave sailors and marines and two officers of our navy, reposing in the fancied security of a friendly harbor, have been hurled to death—grief and want brought to their homes and sorrow to the nation.

The naval court of inquiry, which, it is needless to say, commands the unqualified confidence of the government, was unanimous in its conclusion that the destruction of the Maine was caused by an exterior explosion, that of a submarine mine. It did not assume to place the responsibility. That remains to be fixed.

Proof of Spain's Weakness.

In any event the destruction of the Maine, by whatever exterior cause, is a patent and impressive proof of a state of things in Cuba that is intolerable. That condition is thus shown to be such that the Spanish government cannot assure safety and security to a vessel of the American navy in the harbor of Havana on a mission of peace and rightfully there.

Further referring in this connection to recent diplomatic correspondence, a dispatch from our minister to Spain, of the 26th ult., contained the statement that the Spanish minister for foreign affairs assured him positively that Spain will do all that the highest honor and justice require in the matter of the Maine. The reply above referred to of the 31st ult. also contained an expression of the readiness of Spain to submit to an arbitration all the differences which can arise in this matter which is subsequently explained by the note of the Spanish minister at Washington of the 10th inst., as follows:

A Note from Spain.

"As to the question of fact which springs from the diversity of views between the report of the American and Spanish boards, Spain proposes that the fact be ascertained by an impartial investigation by experts, which decision Spain accepts in advance."

To this I have made no reply.

Grant Is Quoted.

President Grant in 1875, after discussing the phases of the contest as it then appeared, and its hopeless and apparently indefinite prolongation, said:

"In such event, I am of opinion that other nations will be compelled to assume the responsibility which devolves upon them, and to seriously consider the only remaining measures possible—mediation and intervention. Owing perhaps to the large expanse of water separating the island from the peninsula, the contending parties appear to have within themselves no depository of common confidence, to suggest wisdom when passion and excitement have their sway and assume the part of peacemaker. In this view, in the earlier days of the contest the good offices of the United States as a mediator were tendered in good faith, without any selfish purpose, in the interest of humanity and in sincere friendship for both parties, but were at the time declined by Spain with the declaration nevertheless that at a future time they would be indispensable.

"No intimation has been received that in the opinion of Spain that time has been reached. And yet the strife continues with all its dread horrors and all its injuries to the interests of the United States and of other nations. Each party seems quite capable of working great injury and damage to the other, as well as to all the relations and interests dependent on the existence of peace in the island; but they seem incapable of reaching any adjustment, and both have thus far failed of achieving any success whereby one party shall possess and control the island to the exclusion of the other. Under the circumstances, the agency of others, either by mediation or by intervention, seems to be the only alternative which must, sooner or later, be invoked for the termination of the strife."

Cleveland Is Quoted.

In the last annual message of my immediate predecessor during the pending struggle, it was said:

"When the inability of Spain to deal successfully with the insurrection has become manifest, and it is demonstrated that her sovereignty is extinct in Cuba for all purposes of its rightful existence, and when a hopeless struggle for its reestablishment has degenerated into a strife which means nothing more than the useless sacrifice of human life and the utter destruction of the very subject matter of the conflict, a situation will be presented in which our obligations to the sovereignty of Spain will be superseded by higher obligations, which we can hardly hesitate to recognize and discharge."

In the Near Future.

In my annual message to congress, December last, speaking to this question, I said:

"The near future will demonstrate whether the indispensable condition of a righteous peace, just alike to the Cubans and to Spain, as well as equitable to all our interests so intimately involved in the welfare of Cuba, is likely to be attained. If not, the exigency of further and other action by the United States will remain to be taken. When that time comes that action will be determined in the line of indisputable right and duty. It will be faced, without misgiving or hesitancy, in the light of the obligation this government owes to itself, to the people who have confided to it the protection of their interests and honor, and to humanity.

Will Act When the Time Comes.

"Sure of the right, keeping free from all offense ourselves, actuated only by upright and patriotic considerations, moved neither by passion nor selfishness, the government will continue its watchful care over the rights and property of American citizens and will abate none of its efforts to bring about by peaceful agencies a peace which shall be honorable and enduring. If it shall hereafter appear to be a duty imposed by our obligations to ourselves, to civilization and humanity to intervene with force, it shall be without fault on our part and only because the necessity for such action will be so clear as to command the support and approval of the civilized world."

War Must Stop.

The long trial has proved that the object for which Spain has waged the war cannot be attained. The fire of insurrection may inflame or may smoulder with varying seasons, but it has not been and it is plain that it cannot be extinguished by present methods. The only hope of relief and repose from a condition which cannot longer be endured is the enforced pacification of Cuba. In the name of humanity, in the name of civilization, in behalf of endangered American interests, which give us the right and the duty to speak and to act, the war in Cuba must stop.

Asks Authority to Act.

In view of these facts and these considerations, I ask the congress to authorize and empower the president to take measures to secure a full termination of hostilities between the government of Spain and the people of Cuba, and to secure in the island the establishment of a stable government capable of maintaining order and observing its international obligations, insuring peace and tranquility and the security of its citizens as well as our own, and to use the military and naval forces of the United States as may be necessary for these purposes.

And in the interest of humanity and to aid in preserving the lives of the starving people of the island, I recommend that the distribution of food and supplies be continued, and that an appropriation be made out of the public treasury to supplement the charity of our citizens.

Now with Congress.

The issue is now with the congress. It is a solemn responsibility. I have exhausted every effort to perform the intolerable condition of affairs which is at our doors. Prepared to execute every obligation imposed upon me by the constitution and the law, I await your action.

Spain's Last Note.

Yesterday, and since the preparation of the foregoing message, official information has been received by me that the latest decree of the queen regent of Spain directs Gen. Blanco, in order to prepare and facilitate peace, to proclaim a suspension of hostilities, the duration and details of which have not yet been communicated to me. This fact, with every other pertinent consideration, will, I am sure, have your just and careful attention in the solemn deliberations upon which you are about to enter. If this measure attains a successful result, then our aspirations as a Christian, peace-loving people will be realized. If it fails it will be only another justification for our contemplated action.

WILLLIAM M'KINLEY.

Executive Mansion, April 11, 1898.

NOT AN ARMISTICE.

Gen. Blanco Issues a Proclamation Ordering Cessation of Hostilities in Cuba.

Washington, April 12.—The state department Monday received Gen. Blanco's proclamation ordering a cessation of hostilities in Cuba. It was cabled to the Spanish minister here, and by him delivered to the department. The proclamation is as follows:

"His majesty's government, yielding to the reiterated wish expressed by his holiness, the pope, has been pleased to decree a suspension of hostilities with the object of preparing and facilitating the restoration of peace on this island, in virtue whereof I believe it convenient to order:

"Article 1. From the day following the receipt in each locality of the present proclamation, hostilities are ordered to be suspended in all the territory of the island of Cuba.

"The details for the execution of the above article will be the object of special instructions that will be communicated to the several commanders-in-chief of the army corps for the easy and prompt execution according to the situation and circumstances of the case.

"(Signed) BLANCO."

GAS COMPANY KNOCKED OUT.

Supreme Court Decision Sustains Ruling Against a St. Louis Company.

Washington, April 12.—A decision was rendered Monday in the United States supreme court in the Laclede Gas Light company case. The company practically claimed a perpetual and exclusive right to light the city of St. Louis, Mo., and to make excavations in the streets of the city without permission from the board of public works. The supreme court of the state decided against the company and Monday's opinion affirmed the state court's verdict.

Cotton Mills Start Up.

New Bedford, Mass., April 12.—The 22 cotton cloth mills of this city, which have been closed since January 17, when the 9,000 operatives struck as the result of the ten per cent. reduction in wages, were opened Monday to give the strikers an opportunity to return. Not many reported for work and it is claimed that unless many others go in during the day, a continued shutdown is inevitable.

Rev. Frederick William Conrad Dead

Philadelphia, April 12.—Rev. Frederick William Conrad, D. D., LL. D., for many years editor of the Lutheran Observer, died last night, aged 82 years. He had been ill for a long time.

Provisions at Havana Double in Price.

Havana, April 12.—Fine summer weather prevailed here and about the usual business movement was noticed. Provisions, however, have been doubled in price.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Low Rates to the Pacific Coast.

The low rates in effect on the transcontinental lines while not increasing the Alaska traffic which is now beginning to drop off until the opening of the Yukon route, has now assumed another aspect in the increased movement of settlers and prospectors to Montana and Washington. The Great Northern last week took over 2,000 settlers to North Dakota, the largest number of actual settlers ever moved at one time in the history of railroading, while all the lines have carried an unusual number of homeseekers to various parts of the Northwest. It is not known how long a half cent per mile rate will continue to the Pacific Coast—$10 from St. Paul to Seattle, but the outlook is favorable to a prolonged struggle which will enable homeseekers to go west and look the country over.

Minnesota Means Minnesota.

In the case of the Minneapolis millers against H. R. Eagle, the circuit court of appeals in Chicago has reversed the findings of Judge Showalter, and grants the injunction asked, restraining the use of the words "Minneapolis" and "Minnesota" on all brands of flour not made in Minneapolis or Minnesota. The court holds that the use of the words quoted by millers in Chicago, Milwaukee, or elsewhere outside of Minnesota, is an unfair means of taking advantage of the reputation of the Minneapolis and Minnesota millers. It is still further held that it is a fraud and an imposition on the public, and that the court of equity has full right to intervene and stop it.

Board of Pardons' Acts.

The board of pardons, at its last meeting, considered 40 applications for freedom, of which the following were granted: Patrick Hill, serving two years for grand larceny; Frederick Douglass, the Minneapolis bank robber; Albert Zeim, grand larceny, from Dakota county; Albert Schaffman, sent up for selling diseased meat at New Brighton, was given commutation of one month in the workhouse; Nicholas Kauth of Anoka county was pardoned on condition that he leave the state; John Cochran, John Walsh and Thos. Duffy, the three Belle Plaine men convicted of illegally selling liquor, were let of with a fine of $100 each.

Killed by a Policeman.

A man giving his name as Harry Stafford was shot and killed in Minneapolis by Policeman Zimmerman. Stafford tried to sell a cheap ring to an old man in a saloon for $1.50; failing he left the place. Zimmerman was notified of the transaction, and locating Stafford started to arrest him. Stafford started to run as soon as he saw the officer approaching him, and had gone but a short distance before he received a bullet in the back that passed through his body, causing death. The officer claims he fired a warning shot, and then attempted to shoot Stafford in the legs. Bystanders contradict this statement.

The State Fair.

The board of managers of the Minnesota State Agricultural society announce that the annual state fair and exposition will occur upon the grounds at Hamline, midway between the cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, commencing Monday, Sept. 5, and closing on Saturday, Sept. 10, thus embracing one full week and affording ample opportunity for exhibitors to display and visitors to inspect the various products.

They Receive Commissions.

Gov. Clough has issued commissions to the following officers of the National guard: Dr. Franklin Wright, assistant surgeon of the medical corps, with rank of first lieutenant; C. H. Blake, first lieutenant Company B, Second infantry, located at Faribault; J. O. Yotter, second lieutenant Company B, Second infantry, located at Faribault.

Good Showing.

The records of the United States land office at Crookston for the month of March show that 117 filings were made, 40 of which were on ceded lands of the Red Lake reservation; 23 final proofs were made and three cash entries were made. This shows that actual settlers took land during the quietest month in the year to the extent of nearly 2,000 acres.

News in Brief.

C. J. Anderson, for many years postmaster at Cokato, has been committed to the Fergus Falls insane asylum.

A postoffice has been established at Glendorado, Benton county, with Sven Kittleson as postmaster.

Gov. Clough has designated April 29 as Arbor Day.

The store of Bacon & Erickson, at Mabel, was burglarized and a small amount of cash stolen.

The farm residence of Mrs. Elsie Trovaten, near Crookston, was destroyed by fire.

Miss Florence Pannell, of St. Paul, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid.

The safe in the office of the Fred Miller Brewing company at Duluth was robbed of $800 worth of checks and cash.

The body of Charles J. G. D'Albani, who committed suicide by jumping from the high bridge in St. Paul, November 22 last, was discovered in the Mississippi river at the foot of Jackson street.

Edmund Starke, of Grand Island, Neb., one of the largest growers of sugar beets in the country, has leased several tracts of land in the vicinity of Hastings, to be planted in beets, the same to be marketed at the new factory in St. Louis Park.

John W. Thomas & Co., of Minneapolis, have authorized the management of the state fair to offer in their name a special purse of $100 for the collection of Minnesota apples to be exhibited at the next state fair. The amount is to be pro-rated among all competitors according to the merit of their respective exhibits.

Fire in the Economy department store in Minneapolis caused $10,000 damage.

The body of Mrs. C. E. Churchill was found floating in the river at St. Paul. She disappeared Jan. 21 and was of unsound mind.

Matz Ertz, committed suicide in a St. Paul hotel by taking carbolic acid.

Ex-Congressman A. R. Kiefer was nominated for mayor of St. Paul by the republicans.

Steps have been taken looking to the establishment of a Catholic business college in Minneapolis under the auspices of the Paulist Brothers.

Blood
Is Life
Pure Blood
Is Health.

Without blood circulating through your veins you could not live. Without pure blood you cannot be well. The healthy action of every organ depends upon the purity and richness of the blood by which it is nourished and sustained. If you have salt rheum, scrofula sores, pimples, boils or any kind of humor, your blood is not pure. If you take Hood's Sarsaparilla it will make your blood pure and promptly relieve all these troubles. In the spring the blood is loaded with impurities. Hence, all those unsightly eruptions, that languor and depression, and the danger of serious illness. Hood's Sarsaparilla is needed to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood and protect and fortify the system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Is America's Greatest Medicine. Sold by all druggists. $1, six for $5. Get only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

BAKER'S CHOCOLATE

Celebrated for more than a century as a delicious, nutritious, and flesh-forming beverage. Has our well-known

THEN HE FAINTED.

The Young Man Found Miss Gertrude In, But She Was Not His Fair Gertie.

One evening not long ago a St. Joseph young man, who is quite well known in society, started out to call on a young lady who lives in the eastern part of the city. The young man had but recently met the charmer and had never been to see her. He did not anticipate any difficulty, however, in finding the young lady's home, as he had received careful directions from those who had been there. In due time he arrived in the neighborhood in which the young lady lived. He was undecided as to the exact house he was seeking, but after some hesitation he selected that which he felt positive was the young lady's place of abode. A ring of the bell brought a big darky mammy to the door.

"Is Miss Gertrude in?" queried the caller.

"Yes, sir; step in;" was the answer, and the young man was ushered into the parlor. It seems that he was too deeply engrossed with anticipations of pleasure to follow to make close scrutiny, else he would have observed that surroundings were not just what he had reason to expect. After a few moments the young man was aroused by a deep and powerful voice, unmistakably that of the negro mammy, and its tone left no question of the relationship between the speaker and the person called.

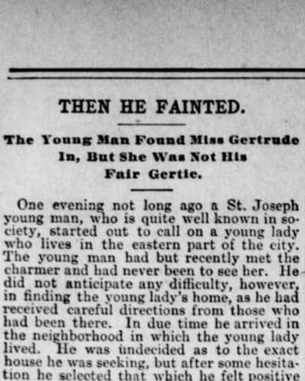
"Gertie, dar's a man in here what wants to see yo'."

In a moment "Gertie," who resembled the ace of spades in color, came into the room and the young man fainted.—St. Joseph (Mo.) News.

A FAMILY MEDICINE.

A Specific for All Cartarrhal Affections and Climatic Diseases.

An Ideal Spring Remedy—It Cleanses, It Invigorates, It Expurgates from the System All Impurities.



MRS. F. A. DIXON.

Mrs. F. A. Dixon, assistant editress of the Kansas City, Mo., Sprig of Myrtle, had catarrh. Being a woman actively engaged in business it was very annoying. However, her family remedy was Pe-ru-na, and from its use she experienced great relief. Her husband praises Pe-ru-na very highly and says he considers it a good investment to keep it in his home.

Pe-ru-na enjoys a national reputation as a catarrh remedy. It is the only systemic catarrh remedy yet devised. A thorough course of Pe-ru-na eradicates catarrh from the system. Its cures are permanent. It thoroughly cures very old cases of chronic catarrh that have resisted all other treatment. It has cured cases of twenty-five years' standing. People afflicted with catarrh should begin a course of Pe-ru-na at once. The spring-time is the best season for this purpose. The rigors of winter have passed, with its chilling blast and freezing gales. The blizzard is gone and in its place the balmy zephyrs of spring have come. A short course of treatment with Pe-ru-na now will work wonders. Now is the best time. No set-backs from fresh colds, no delays from unventilated rooms. People of high and low station recommend Pe-ru-na. North, South, East and West use it as the supreme catarrh remedy of this generation. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest books on chronic catarrh. Sent free by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Wonders of Science.

Lady—Do you take instantaneous photographs?

Photographer—Yes, madam; I can photograph a humming bird on the wing, or a swallow in its flight.

"I want my baby's picture taken."

"Yes, madam. Get the little fellow ready, and I will prepare the chloroform."—N. Y. Weekly.

A man who wears a pair of overshoes till the cloth is faded, knows where every penny is that he ever had.—Washington Democrat.

A woman's idea of the best plastering is the kind you can drive a nail into any where.—Washington Democrat.

Fits stopped free and permanently cured. No fits after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Free $2 trial bottle & treatise. Dr. Kline, 933 Arch st., Phila., Pa.

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50 cent bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

7000 BICYCLES carried over from 1897 must be sacrificed now. New High Grade, all styles, best equipment, guaranteed, $9.75 to $17.00. Used wheels, late models, all makes, $3 to $12. We ship on approval without a cent payment. Write for bargain list and art catalogue of 1898 models. BICYCLE FREE for season to advertise them. Send for one. Rider agents wanted. Learn how to Earn a Bicycle and make money.
J. W. MEAD CYCLE CO., CHICAGO.

7,000,000 ACRES—Farms, Timber, Mineral. Colony lands; South; cheap, easy terms. FREE CATALOGUE. W. H. CRAWFORD & CO., Nashville, Tenn.

GOLD HUNTERS LOST.

Overwhelmed by an Avalanche on the Chilkat Pass.

Nearly a Hundred Men Caught in Mass of Snow and Ice—Some of the Details of the Awful Horror.

Seattle, Wash., April 9.—A dispatch from Skaguay, Alaska, dated April 3, brings news of an awful loss to human life from a snowslide on the Chilkat trail. The dead were crushed under an avalanche of snow and ice, which came down the mountain side upon the left hand side of the trail midway between the Scales and Stonehouse.

A blinding snowstorm was raging all day, upon the summit, and as a consequence many of those in the vicinity were making no attempt to travel. Sobarth, Sprague and Stevenson, of Seattle, were traveling together as partners, and were found side by side in bed. Thousands of people were encamped in the vicinity of the accident, and were soon upon the scene, rendering such assistance as possible.

May Number 100 Victims.

Seattle, Wash., April 11.—Later details received here Sunday from Alaska increase the horror of the avalanche in the Chilkat pass instead of lessening it. Sixty-nine dead bodies have thus far been recovered and the names of 150 missing have been reported as unaccounted for. It is barely possible that some of these had succeeded in crossing the pass before the avalanche occurred. A conservative estimate is that between 75 and 100 persons were killed.

The work of rescue has continued night and day ever since Sunday week, being gradually more systematized, and consequently meeting with better results. Thus far work has been confined to the outskirts of the slide in the hope of rescuing those who are injured but not yet dead. The main body of the avalanche, which is estimated to be 50 feet deep and 150 yards long, has not yet been touched. If there are any bodies underneath they cannot be rescued in time to save life. Four men were taken out alive after they had been buried for 19 hours.

SUMMIT OF CHILKOOT PASS.

Eye-witnesses say that the great mountain of snow, ice, earth and rocks rolled down the dizzy Taiya heights with the speed and rumble of a mighty train, burying beneath its weight scores of human beings. To those who were in the path of the destroyer escape was impossible. They were overwhelmed in an instant by the great weight of this mass of matter. In places the snow was stacked up from 30 to 50 feet in height. In nearly every case death appears to have resulted from suffocation. The bodies of 14 were brought to this city on the returning vessels. There were two distinct avalanches, the main one about midway between Stonehouse and the Scales. The first, while resulting in three deaths, was a miniature affair as compared with the second.

WHEN LEE QUIT HAVANA.

Scenes on the Departure of Our Consul-General from Cuba—Was Snubbed by Blanco.

Havana, April 11.—United States Consul-General Lee and his staff, with Vice Consul Springer and Consul Barker, left Havana at six o'clock Saturday night on the lighthouse tender Fern. The wharf was crowded, but no discourtesy was shown. At ten o'clock Saturday morning Consul-General Lee, accompanied by British Consul Gollan, called on Gen. Blanco to bid him good-by. The governor-general was very busy and could not receive Gen. Lee. The American flag upon the consulate building has been taken down by consular employes.

Alexander Gollan, the British consul here, is ready to take charge of American interests so far as allowed. At one o'clock Saturday afternoon Consul-General Lee, accompanied by his staff, boarded the dispatch boat Fern, and Vice Consul Springer and Consul Barker went on board at five o'clock. The Machina wharf, where they embarked, was crowded with curious persons, but no discourtesy was shown the officials. At 5:30 o'clock the American vessels began leaving port. The steamer Evelyn left with 50 passengers, and after her came the Olivette, with 247 passengers, among whom were Miss Clara Barton and the other representatives of the Red Cross society, who have been engaged in relief work in the island.

She was followed by the Bache, with ten passengers, and last of all came the Fern, which left at six o'clock, having on board Consul-General Lee, Vice Consul Springer and Consul Barker, Consular Clerks Fosca, Dolse and Drain, Correspondents Johnston, Pepper, Redding, Akers, Franke, Dunning, Nichols and Scovel, G. Lawson Childs and William Lawton and Dr. Brunner.

"You may tell Gen. Blanco for me that the Fern is the last ship of the navy that will ever go out of Havana harbor while the Spanish flag flies over Morro." This was the message that Gen. Lee sent back to Gen. Blanco as he steamed out of Havana harbor. Gen. Lee was indignant at the insults heaped upon his head by the Spanish officials and the populace. He had been snubbed at the palace by Gen. Blanco.

Damage by Prairie Fires.

Miller, S. D., April 11.—Men in from 20 miles northwest of here say fully a dozen farmers lost buildings, grain and considerable live stock in the big prairie fire of a few days ago.

IN THE INTEREST OF PEACE.

Representatives of Six Great European Powers Confer with President McKinley.

Washington, April 8.—The representatives of the six great powers of Europe, Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, Austria and Italy, gave official form at noon Thursday to their recent conferences in the interest of a peaceful solution of the Cuban problem. Their procedure was unique in the United States, though doubtless a familiar one in European courts.

The diplomatic officials congregated at the British embassy shortly before noon and then proceeded with their secretaries to the white house and state department.

Arriving at the white house they were ushered into the blue room and there were received by President McKinley. After a social exchange and mutual well wishes, the ambassadors, ministers and charges, speaking through Sir Julian Pauncefote, delivered to the president an address, to which he responded. Sir Julian Pauncefote said:

"Mr. President: We have been commissioned by the great powers of Europe whom we represent here to-day to approach your excellency with a message of friendship and peace at the present critical juncture in the relations between the United States and Spain, and to convey to you the sentiments expressed in the collective note which I have the honor to place in your hands."

Sir Julian Pauncefote, as representative of the powers, presented the following:

"The undersigned representatives of Germany, Austria-Hungary, France, Great Britain, Italy and Russia, duly authorized in that behalf, address in the name of their respective governments a pressing appeal to the feelings of humanity and moderation of the president and of the American people in their existing differences with Spain. They earnestly hope that further negotiations will lead to an agreement which, while securing the maintenance of peace, will afford all necessary guarantees for the reestablishment of order in Cuba.

"The powers do not doubt that the humanitarian and purely disinterested character of this representation will be fully recognized and appreciated by the American nation."

President McKinley replied as follows:

"The government of the United States recognizes the good will which has prompted the friendly communications of the representatives of Germany, Austria-Hungary, France, Great Britain, Italy and Russia, as set forth in the address of your excellencies, and shares the hope therein expressed that the outcome of the situation in Cuba may be the maintenance of peace between the United States and Spain by affording the necessary guarantees for the reestablishment of order in the island, so terminating the chronic condition of disturbance there, which so deeply injures the interests and menaces the tranquillity of the American nation by the character and consequences of the struggle thus kept up at our doors, besides shocking its sentiment of humanity.

"The government of the United States appreciates the humanitarian and disinterested character of the communication now made on behalf of the powers named, and for its part is confident that equal appreciation will be shown for its own earnest and unselfish endeavors to fulfill a duty to humanity by ending a situation the indefinite prolongation of which has become insufferable."

The party then withdrew to the state department and repaired in a body to the diplomatic room, where they held a conference with Judge Day, assistant secretary of state, Secretary Sherman having gone home to lunch before their arrival. This conference took a wider range and went considerably outside of the address delivered to the president.

Madrid, Thursday night, by way of Bayonne, France, April 9.—The ambassadors of five great European powers—France, Russia, Italy, Germany and Austria—have diplomatically informed the government of Spain that a war with the United States can only be avoided, in their judgment, by Spain yielding. They advised extreme concessions to the United States. They appealed to Spain's pride, noble self-sacrifice and self-interest. They meant that she must abandon Cuba.

DECLARE FOR FREE COINAGE.

Big Meeting of the League of Bimetallic Clubs of Ohio Valley at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 8. — About 500 persons were present when President Reemlin called the convention of the League of Bimetallic Clubs of the Ohio Valley to order Thursday. New officers were elected as follows:

President, J. P. Tarvin, of Kentucky; vice presidents, N. R. Tucker, of Ohio; F. J. Van Voorhis, Indiana; A. C. Bently, of Illinois. Allen W. Clark, of Indiana, was elected secretary by acclamation, and Colon Scott, of Ohio, treasurer. The new executive committee is made up as follows: Indiana, John Overmeyer and Silas A. Shepard; Ohio, H. L. Dunbar and H. C. Cordrey; Illinois, D. E. Gear and A. R. Williams; Kentucky, Ramsey Washington and Joseph L. Rhinock.

The resolutions presented by Chairman S. E. Morse were adopted. They regard the financial question "as the paramount issue and pledge the support of the league to the securing of bimetallism and free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of sixteen to one; unalterably oppose the single gold standard; believe that congress alone has the power to coin and issue money, and that this power should not be delegated to individuals or corporations;" expresses continued confidence in William J. Bryan. A resolution of sympathy for Cuban patriots and in favor of immediate intervention by the United States was also adopted.

At five o'clock Mr. Bryan and other prominent visitors were given a reception by the Commercial club and board of trade, when Mr. Bryan, Chairman Towne and George Fred Williams spoke to the business men.

An audience of between 5,000 and 6,000 people greeted William J. Bryan at Tomlinson hall at night, when the convention ended. Samuel E. Morse, of this city, presided. Ex-Congressman Towne spoke and H. S. Taylor, of Chicago, read an original poem. Mr. Bryan was tendered an ovation. He spoke for an hour and a half mainly on the currency question. He touched upon the Cuban question casually. He commended the course of Consul Gen. Lee in the highest terms. "While we are talking about freeing Cuba," said he, "let us not forget that we have a work to do in freeing America."

Clothing for Our Soldiers.

Cincinnati, April 9.—A special to the Commercial Tribune from Jeffersonville, Ind., says: An order for 60,000 blouses besides a number of shirts, drawers, etc., has been received at the quartermaster's depot in this city. One hundred and fifty extra seamstresses have been employed.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

Lady—"Now that you have partaken of a good dinner, are you equal to the task of sawing some wood?" Tramp—"Madam, equal is not the proper word; I'm superior to it."—Chicago News.

Beginning of Hostilities.—Mr. Perkley—"Oh, if you could only learn to cook as my first wife did!" Mrs. Perkley—"If you were as smart as my dear first husband was you'd be rich enough to hire the best cook in the land."—Cleveland Leader.

Horrors of Music.—"Why, yes, the boy was eternally playing the violin about the house, and in self-defense I had to hire teachers, and let him develop himself into an artist or it would have been unendurable." "That's what might be called making a virtuoso out of necessity."—Chicago Tribune.

A Probable Freak.—Maud—"Young Dashing is simply awful. Clare—"Why, what did he do?" Maud—"The very first time I met him he had the audacity to put his arm around my waist twice." Clare—"Is it possible! Why, I had no idea his arm was long enough for that."—Chicago News.

One day an Irishman was taking a walk in a small town near Glasgow when he met an old friend. After walking along the road together, Pat's friend said to him: "Have you heard the latest news?" Pat — "No; what is it?" "There's a penny off the loaf." Pat—"Bedad, and I hope it is off the penny ones."—Tit-Bits.

"I'm afeard," remarked Farmer Corntossel, "thet the period of usefulness fur that politician is about to be drawed to a close." "What's the matter?" inquired his wife. "Is it a case of overwork?" "No," was the answer; "'tain't nothin' so onusual as overwork. It's a plain, old-fashioned case of overtalk."—Washington Star.

"Say," asked the man with the thin whiskers and the worried look, "didn't Shakespeare marry a widow with a ten-year-old boy?" "I don't remember ever hearing of anything of that kind," said the fat man. "But I never was well acquainted with Bill." "I wish I had your funny disposition. But what got me to thinkin' about it was that saying of his about the evil that men do lives after them."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SALE OF EGYPTIAN MUMMIES.

Londoners Not Very Anxious to Possess These Dessicated Members of a Decayed Race.

The market price of royal Egyptian mummies is 25 guineas per monarch. This latest quotation on the mummy exchange was determined by an auction sale recently. J. C. Stevens offered for sale at King street, Covent Garden, seven full-grown mummies, sound in wind and limb, and with all and singular the wraps, bandages and coffins thereto pertaining. Three were of the royal blood—one Ptolemy II., of Egypt, otherwise known as Philadelphus; Antiochus I. of Syria, known to his intimates as Soter, and a certain Alpina, reputed wife of Seleucus, goodness knows which king of Babylon.

Their identity was established by two letters, one from Dr. Birch, of the British museum, and one from Prof. Bonomi, of Sir John Soane's museum. The professor said the mummies ought not to be allowed to leave the country. Mr. Chandler deposed the hieroglyphics on the tombs of the withered potentates, giving the royal names and titles. Sketches of them came to England with the mummies, but were lost. Could anything be more conclusive?

According to modern views Ptolemy and Antiochus do not appear to have been proper persons. One married his sister and the other his stepmother, and Ptolemy exercised royal authority over two of his brothers by putting them to death. That is a long time ago. Philadelphus has now acquired a fine nutmeg tint, and his leathery skin is perforated like the borings in a cork. He has lost his nose and some of his fingers, and every bone shows through his skin. He died possessed of legions and elephants and ships, and 740,000 talents of money. He does not look at all perturbed as to the succession of his estates.

Antiochus, for so valiant warrior, is a surprisingly small monarch. He is of the color of an old boot, with the mold growing on it. His mouth and eyes are represented by jagged slits. His right arm has gone, and the edges of his hollow armpit are like the torn binding of a book. His regal trappings have dwindled to a piece of velvet around the loins and a width of swathing on the arm. Alpina is proclaimed a woman by her narrow chest, and the matted curls of her dusty hair. She is swathed to the feet.

How much for the preserved royalty? The auctioneer said he had never seen such an imperial lot. An enterprising young man with a caravan could make a fortune out of it. Some years ago an offer of £1,000 was refused for the royal party. What offers? The enterprising young man hesitated. At last somebody said ten guineas. The auctioneer was quite willing, and the price went up by guineas until it reached 20. Then the real bidding began. Mr. Cross, of Liverpool, and Mr. Tregaskis, of Regent street, were both in the lookout for mummies. They fought each other by five-guinea bids, and the dead rulers of Egypt went to Mr. Cross at 75 guineas for the three.

Horniman's museum bought two rolled mummies from Egypt and an ancient beauty of Peru. The rolled mummies produced 18 guineas and 16. There was an element of speculation in it, inasmuch as personal ornaments are sometimes found beneath the swathings. The auctioneer had two gold earrings to prove it. The Peruvian lady, who was in a crouching position, had braided hair, beat the royal average by two guineas. But the pearl of price was an Egyptian mystery in a decorated case—pedigree not given. For that Mr. Tregaskis paid 34 guineas.

Three elephants' tails, dried, and with bristles complete, sold for two shillings per tail.—London Mail.

Births Among Rich and Poor.

The birth-rate among the very poor of Paris is three times greater than among the very rich, according to statistics compiled by Bertillon. As the social scale declines there is a corresponding increase.—N. Y. World.

Missing Data.

Ethel—I just left Miss Elderly. She says she can't see any difference between waltzing with a man and letting a man hug you.

Bessie—She would if she had ever been hugged.—Puck.

NOT AN ART ELEVATOR.

One Girl Who Was Satisfied to Paint Pictures.

The art student shook her head in whimsical protest. She has just come back from six years' study in the Paris studios, where she had the reputation of being a talented, conscientious and ambitious worker.

"I am glad to be at home again," she said; "but everybody takes things so seriously over here. At least the girl art students do. They haven't the pluck to get down at the bottom and dig away on first principles in a way that every Frenchman thinks perfectly natural; but they are awfully busy with ideals. They belong to clubs for elevating all sorts of things. I've been buttonholed on every corner by people who want me to join clubs. The day I got into my studio some of my old friends came to see me, girls I had worked with before I went abroad. They all looked deadly serious, and of them struck a Curtius-dedicating-his-life-to-his-country pose and said solemnly:

"'Margaret, we need you. You must help us elevate American art.'

"I just tucked a pillow behind my head and said: 'I'll be hanged if I do. I'm going to paint pictures.'

"They are terribly disappointed in me. I don't breakfast until ten. I can't do honest hard work, with my best force, on less than ten hours' sleep, and so I take it; but it seems nobody can elevate art and sleep in the mornings. I'm willing to give up my swell studio and go over on Tenth avenue to live in one room and work as I please rather than paint things I don't believe in because they would sell; but I'm using what nerve force I have on my work, and so the girls think I am unregenerate. Club me no clubs. My club is a maul stick."—N. Y. Sun.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

From St. Lawrence Plaindealer, Canton, N. Y.

To suffer for years with a prevailing painful ailment, which baffled skillful medical treatment, yet which was cured by a simple household remedy, is the lot which befell Mrs. George L. Rogers, of West Main Street, Canton, N. Y.

"Thirteen years ago," said Mrs. Rogers to a reporter, "I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism and a complication of diseases. You can judge somewhat of what I endured, when you look at these hands. They were distorted, twisted and swollen. My foot, too, is so much out of shape that the big toe lays across the others, the end

Goes to Church.

"Notwithstanding I am sixty-five years old, have a pleasant home and other comforts, life to me was far from enjoyable, for all other things pale into insignificance when you are without good health. I tried different doctors and many proprietary remedies, but was not benefited.

"Last March I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and before I had finished the first box I began to feel that they were doing me good. I continued using them and steadily grew better.

"I have used thirteen boxes of the pills and to-day feel better than for the past fifteen years. My appetite is good, I feel bright, cheerful and have a desire to live and enjoy society.

"I have been a member of the Methodist church for many years, but for six years was unable to attend. I am able now to attend the church services regularly and certainly appreciate that privilege. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People a wonderful medicine and am confident no other medicine could have effected the wonderful cure they have in my case." Dr. Wliliams' Pink Pills for Pale People are composed of vegetable remedies that exert a powerful influence in purifying and enriching the blood, thus curing many diseases.

Made Him Sick.

Doctor (on ocean steamer)—Your turn has come, I see, sir. Allow me to—

Sea-Sick Passenger (an old bachelor)—N-o, n-o, doctor. It—it will soon pass off. It isn't sea—seasickness. I looked too long at those—those bridal couples.—N. Y. Weekly.

Years ago when our fathers were little boys it was the custom of people to apply grease of one kind or another to the head, as evidenced by the spots against the wall paper which used to indicate where the heads of the members of the family or their visitors had come into contact with it. It was supposed in those days that grease eradicated dandruff and would keep the average swain's coat collar free from the disgusting stuff, but that was a mistake. In recent years the practice of using grease has almost entirely disappeared, but the heads of the people are still uncared for to a very great extent. Nothing could be more unwise, for unless the hair is properly treated it will not grow with luxuriance, and the presence of dandruff is always an indication of disorder. If people would but study the little pamphlet of Joseph Burnett Co., 37 India St., Boston, Mass., which they send free, entitled "The Hair, Its Care and Management," they would gain some very valuable information on the subject. They would learn that the hair can be made to grow, the scalp kept clean and free from dandruff, by the most delightfully pleasant application possible, which is nothing less than a preparation called "Cocoaine."

Those who have any hair left which they desire to preserve should send for this pamphlet. It will be mailed free of charge.

Her Position.

Jack—Is it true that she is a countess?

Tom—Yes; I saw her myself at the cashier's desk in an up-town establishment.—Up to Date.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, nervous, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it to-day. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

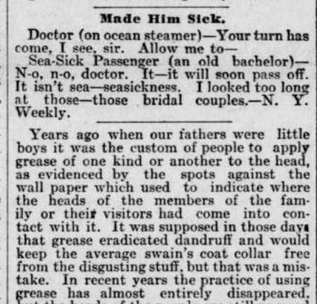
A good many members of the "rising generation" would serve their country well by sitting down.—Rural New Yorker.

A package of Salzer's German Coffee Berry and big seed catalogue is sent you by John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., upon receipt of 15 cents stamps and this notice. Send for same to-day. K7

Procrastination is the thief of time, and industry is the only policeman that can catch up with him.—Chicago Record.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.



ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE

Is the only sure cure in the world for Chronic Ulcers, Bone Ulcers, Scrofulous Ulcers, Varicose Ulcers, Gangrene, Fever Sores, and all Old Sores. It never fails. Draws out all poison. Saves expense and suffering. Cures permanent. Best salve for Abscesses, Piles, Burns, Cuts, and all Fresh Wounds. By mail, small, 33c; large, 65c. Book free. J. P. ALLEN MEDICINE CO., St. Paul, Minn. Sold by Druggists.

A. N. K.—G 1704

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS please state that you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

"MY WIFE'S LIFE."

How I was the means of saving it.

When the lungs are attacked and the symptoms of consumption appear, then begins the struggle between affection and that destroying disease which slays its thousands annually. It is a happy issue to the struggle when disease is conquered and health restored. Such an issue does not always end the struggle, but it did in the case of Mr. K. Morris, Memphis, Tenn., who saw his wife wasting and weakening and physicians helpless, and then suggested the simple remedy that wrought the cure. He tells the story thus:

"Seven years ago, my wife had a severe attack of lung trouble which the physicians pronounced consumption. The cough was extremely distressing, especially at night, and was frequently attended with the spitting of blood. The doctors being unable to help her, I induced her to try Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and was surprised at the great relief it gave. Before using one whole bottle she was cured, so that now she is strong and quite healthy. That this medicine saved my wife's life I have not the least doubt. I always keep Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Whenever any of my family have a cold or cough we use it, and are promptly cured."—K. Morris, Memphis, Tenn.

The question: "Is consumption curable?" is still debated, and still debatable. It is easy to say that this was not a case of consumption. Yet the physicians said it was. They should know. As a matter of fact, Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has wrought so many similar cures that it seems to argue the curableness of consumption, in its earlier stages, by the use of this remedy. There is no better medicine for pulmonary troubles than Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It gives relief in cases of Asthma, and Bronchitis, where relief has been heretofore unattainable. It promptly cures Coughs and Colds, La Grippe, and all affections of the throat and lungs. Heretofore, Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been put up in full size bottles only, at $1.00 per bottle. To meet a world-wide demand for a smaller package, the remedy is now put up in half size bottles, at half price—50 cents. Write for Dr. Ayer's Curebook (free) and learn more of the cures effected by Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Twenty years ago, after years of investigation and study, Dr. P. Harold Hayes announced that he had discovered and perfected a treatment which would cure Asthma so that the patient should stay cured. Up to this time the best that could be done by the most eminent physicians was to give mere temporary relief, and they frankly acknowledged their inability to do more. Dr. Hayes' treatment has been advancing steadily ever since and now more than forty thousand sufferers have been under care, giving to him and his associates a vast experience and the highest attainable skill in dealing with this most distressing disease. Dr. Hayes' system is such that patients are treated at their own homes, and through a perfected plan of giving advice and directions by mail and sending medicines prepared in his own laboratory to suit each individual patient's needs, anyone anywhere can be successfully treated. Dr. Hayes will mail his Thesis with Reports of Cases and blanks for free Examination on application to him at Buffalo, N. Y.

Comparing Notes.

"I've been married five years," said the proud little matron from Detroit.

"That's nothing," laughed the Chicago woman who occupied the same seat on the train. "I've been married five times."—Detroit Free Press.

"Mother, come here quick, there goes Jane Albright in that everlasting calico dress of hers. I declare, I should think she'd be tired of wearing it. This is the fifth year if it's a day. I never did see such a careful woman with her clothes."

"It ain't the care she takes of it, Mandy, child, it's the goods. Them's 'William Simpson & Son's' prints, the same as my old black and white which is almost as good now as the day I bought it, nigh four year ago come Easter. I was at the store with Jane when she bought that dress, Mandy, and so far as I can see the colors is just as bright to-day as they was then, tho' she's wore it constant ever since. It proves old Jones, what keeps the store, was tellin' truth when he says that the name of 'William Simpson & Sons' on the ticket to a package of caliker or prints was a certain sure guarantee of gettin' your money's worth, for I never seen such colors keep bright and last so long."

Ignorance and superstition got married before the flood.—Ram's Horn.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Family Secret.

"That's papa's picture," explained the little girl to the caller who was looking at a framed photograph on the piano. "You wouldn't know it unless I told you, 'cause it's got a smile on the face."—Chicago Tribune.

A Remarkable Book.

A Comic History of Greece, from the Earliest Times to the Death of Alexander the Great. By Charles M. Snyder. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott Company.

The author of this work has set himself the task of making a truly serious set of circumstances, exceedingly funny. He has unquestionably succeeded, as he expresses it. He wrote the book for the purpose of getting even with the myths and heroes of antiquity who caused him such anguish in school days. The Comic History of Greece is witty and humorous, without being vulgar. About 150 illustrations illuminate the lines from the pencils of a half dozen artists. The book is a truly tickle tonic for the melancholy.

Something to Remember.

If you lend a man grass seed, he'll come around later to borrow a lawn-mower.—Christian Work.

I have found Piso's Cure for Consumption an unfailing medicine.—F. R. Lotz, 1305 Scott St., Covington, Ky., Oct. 1, 1894.

THE SECRET OF A GOOD DISPOSITION.

Mrs. Pinkham Says a Careful Regard for Bodily Health Makes Women Sweet and Attractive to All.

The world is filled with sweet women who are held back from usefulness by some trouble of the female organs.

Fretfulness and nervousness rapidly destroy sweet dispositions.

Sickly all-worn-out women cannot live happy lives. Nearly every woman may be well and happy if she will follow Mrs. Pinkham's advice. See what Mrs. Craig says:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and think it is the best medicine for women in the world. I was so weak and nervous that I thought I could not live from one day to the next. I had prolapsus uteri and leucorrhœa, and thought that I would die. I had dragging pains in my back, burning sensation down to my feet, and so many miserable feelings. People said that I looked like a dead woman. Doctors tried to cure me, but failed. I had given up when I heard of the Pinkham medicine. I got a bottle. I did not have much faith in it, but thought I would try it, and it made a new woman of me. I wish I could get every lady in the land to try it, for it did for me what doctors could not do."

—Mrs. Sallie Craig, Baker's Landing, Pa.

That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safeguard of woman's health is clearly proven by the thousands of letters constantly being received. Here is one from Mrs. W. P. Valentine, 566 Ferry Ave., Camden, N. J.:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Before writing to you I felt very bad, had terrible sick headaches, no appetite, gnawing pain in stomach, pain in my back and right side; was tired and nervous, and so weak I could scarcely stand. I was not able to do anything, had sharp pains all through my body. Before I had taken half a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I found myself improving. I continued its use until I had taken four bottles, and felt so well that I did not need to take any more. I am like a new person."

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best understands a Woman's Ills

Soap-heredity.

Women who use soap don't do so because they know it's the best. Probably they haven't given a thought to the matter. They inherit the soap-habit—their mothers and grandmothers did, before them.

Women who use Pearline do so, because they have used soap and Pearline, and have found Pearline to be better—more effective, saving time and rubbing; just as harmless, and more economical. 587

Millions NOW USE Pearline

"THE MORE YOU SAY THE LESS PEOPLE REMEMBER." ONE WORD WITH YOU,

SAPOLIO

RHEUMATISM

Permanently cured by using DR. WHITEHALL'S RHEUMATIC CURE. The surest and the best. Sample sent FREE on mention of this publication. THE DR. WHITEHALL MEGRIMINE CO., South Bend, Indiana.

FREE! WANTED—All persons looking for a home to join one of the fifteen successful colonies and settlements now forming along the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad in Minnesota. Cheap lands, good soil, pure water, clear streams, beautiful lakes, a healthful climate, freedom from drought and malaria, excellent markets. The King of all countries for the Dairy Business and Diversified Farming. Maps and Circulars free. Address HOPEWELL CLARKE, Land Commissioner, 903 Globe Building, St. Paul, Minn.

Buffalo gazette., Collection:Buffalo gazette (Delano, Minn.) 1889-1901

Minnesota Historical Society 345 Kellogg Blvd. W. St. Paul, MN 55102 - This material may be protected by copyright law (U.S. Code Title 17)

BUFFALO GAZETTE

DELANO, FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1898.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE VILLAGE OF DELANO.

DELANO DIARY

—Subscribe for the GAZETTE.

—A. L. Mealey now has a fine jewelers safe in his place of business.

—The Delano firemen gave an Easter ball at the City Hall, Monday night.

BUFFALO GAZETTE and Minneapolis Free Press, twice a week, for $1.75 per year.

—Frank Kuchenmeister bought the Franklin Horse Companie's horse for $90, at auction last Saturday.

—Cal Stewart's auction occurs April 23, on his farm. Horses, cows, and household and farm articles to be sold.

—Ed Ziebarth intends to have some brick for sale this season. He is starting up the old brick yard on his farm.

—A number of young men drove to Buffalo, Saturday evening to attend the meeting of the Oriental Order of Humility.

—Through the courtesy of Sheriff Nugent we present our readers this week, in another column, a list of jurors for June.

—Farmers in this vicinity have about finished seeding. The ground appears to be in fine condition and a bountiful harvest is hoped for.

—Quite a number of fine horses were exhibited at the Delano Fair Saturday. A finer stock of horses seems to be taking possession of this part of the country.

—While in Minneapolis this week Charley Cunningham, who works in the Pillsbury mills presented us with a package of their new breakfast food, "Vitos". It is the most palatable of all the articles of the kind we have yet tried.

—The Delano post office has been made an international money order office. People will not now have to go to Howard Lake to send money or receive it from the old countries. P. M. Lindsley says it still takes "cash" to do business.

—Anthony Williams who lives near the Tiff Hittsman farm in Independence, had the misfortune to get his right hand under the blade of a feed cutter, Saturday. He was brought to town where Drs. Shrader and Catlin dressed his hand. He lost the ends of three fingers.

—On Monday Mrs. J. D. Young was adjudged insane and consigned to the Fergus Falls asylum. She has been at home for a couple of years but for some time past has been growing worse until on Sunday her symptoms became so violent it was thought best to send her to the asylum.

—Read the President's message, on the inside of this paper, carefully through and save it up for reference, and be prepared to tell your neighbor, if you can, what the president wants to do with the Cuban question. Nothing like the original document to fall back on for argument.

—Independence must be the boss town for paying in advance for newspapers. The Eagle claims "Mr. Baker has paid his subscription further in advance than any other reader." C. R. Carlton, a neighbor of Mr. Baker, has paid his subscription to the GAZETTE into the next century.

—J. D. Young returned Wednesday from Fergus Falls where he had accompanied his wife. He says Fergus is a fine town of about 5,000 inhabitants. He thinks the hospital there is much finer and more homelike than the one at St. Peter. Everything is new. There is now about 1,100 people there and they are still coming.

—Creameries have, through seeding time, to accomodate patrons, been running on the every other day plan. The Lyndale creamery, one of the most prosperous in the country has been taking in about 9,000 pounds of milk and making 450 lbs of butter every other day. The Delano creamery takes in about 1,400 lbs of milk and turned out Thursday 660 lbs of butter. They intend to receive milk daily soon.

—Carl Luhman, who is traveling for a St. Paul firm, selling creameries, stopped off the Monday afternoon train from Howard Lake where he had been for a short time. He pointed out to us a smooth faced man who he said was a sample of Howard Lake men ot today. His moustache and whiskers were gone as clean as if Carl had smeared cream on and the cat had licked it off. Carl says the whole lot at Howard are so changed he could scarcely tell them; as smooth as peeled onions. He said it was hard to distinguish one from another, but that the sample he had with him was wished-to be Sheriff Graves. Carl seemed to think there is some joke about Howard Lake moustaches but he wouldn't give it away; not he; not for anything.

One Dollar for fifty-two papers.

What To Eat for April.

People with stomach trouble of any kind should read Dr. Hoy's articles in What To Eat. They are of much interest even to well people.

The publishers are now offering a bicycle for forty subscribers, and numerous other premiums for smaller numbers.

Single copies 10 cents, or $1 a year. Send for sample copy and particulars.

Address.

What To Eat, Minneapolis.

—Street Commissioner Weiker will occupy the Lucas house on South Third street near the track. Some one from Minneapolis is to move into the house vacated by him. Mrs. Chance is to occupy her S. 3rd. St. residence.

Personal.

E. J. Swedeback, of Bermidji, is in town today.

Dr. Catlin and Prof. Wharton visited Buffalo Tuesday.

Miss Sadie Van Eman was a Delano visitor on Wednesday.

Rev. Murray, of Howard Lake, visited in Delano Tuesday.

Victor Jacobs and Paul Reichel left for Montana Tuesday evening.

W. C. Hawk, one of Rockford's merchants, was a GAZETTE caller, Saturday.

Dan Mccarter, of Hamline, and O. Roberts, of Rockford, drove over Monday.

Mrs. William Gent and daughter, of Rockford station were Delano visitors Saturday.

Earnest Stinson entertained his brother and family from Independence, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Carrie Brenner is home from St. Paul for a couple of week's visit with relatives and friends.

John H. McGary, of Independence, made his periodical appearance in town Tuesday for a few hours.

A load of young people came down from Watertown Monday evening to attend the fireman's dance.

Sheriff Nugent, County Attorney Pidgeon and Judge Woolley, of Buffalo, were all in Delano at once Monday.

Allen Jenkins and son, of Greenwood, and Enoch Algers and son, of Independence, attended Delano fair, Saturday.

Mr. Howard, of Minneapolis, has moved into town. We understand he will help Mr. Borrell hang paper, paint, etc.

Earl Hoisington, lately returned from Washington was a GAZETTE caller Saturday. He says he had a splendid visit in the West.

Jonas Johnson, of Wisconsin, returned to Delano Monday evening to be with his daughter Miss Bertha, who is sick at O. Peterson's.

Henry and Miss Anna Reichel, of Waverly, spent Sunday and Monday with Mrs. Thomas Reichel and family. They returned Monday evening.

Mrs. John Morris, of Wadena, passed through Delano Saturday evening on her way to Watertown to visit her brother John Maltsed who is on the sick list.

Gus Bosel is entertaining a couple of brothers-in-law, Messrs J. G. Blonquist and E. Johnson, of Minneapolis, this week. Mr. J. has purchased a farm near Lyndale.

Dr. and Mrs. Knight and Dell Young, of Minneapolis, Mrs. Mary LaClair, of Brown's Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. John Sleight, of Rockford, visited at J. D. Young's Monday.

Mrs. George Goetzman, of Lester Prairie, visited Delano on business and pleasure this week. Mrs. G. appears to be growing younger and gets about as spry as many young girls.

Mrs. John Haverty, of Woodland, passed through town Monday on her way to Long Lake where her Uncle lately died quite suddenly. She was the guest, while in town, of Mrs. George P. Schaffer.

County Cullings.

Buffalo Journal: Honest John Lind will be our next Governor.

Judge Eaton seems to be filling the bill as nominee against Judge Tarbox. Even at the County seat the change is talked of as being "just the thing". It is claimed there would be no trouble in Eaton overturning Tarbox.

Billy Cochrane and ex-Commissioner Bugbee were fixing up the political machine in great shape at Buffalo, Tuesday. It is said Billy is for gold standard and for Cuban independence, at once. Charley claims to be for free silver. The new deal then must have a double standard.

Bub, bob, bobber. must be the new nomenclature by which the Standard appelation of Editor Tanner is arrived at. The Eagle, we believe, called the Howard editor Bub Tanner; now the Standard sets him down as Eaton's bobber. Is this evolution of the Herald or the Standard; of the editorial writer, or subject?

Sherburne County Star News: "Deputy Examiner West was here last Friday and went over the records in the offices of the County Auditor and Treasurer. It goes without saying that he found everything correct."

We would like to know what fees for medical examinations in cases of commitment to asylum were allowed as correct. There is a great diversity of opinion as to what the legal fee is, and from $3 to $5 and even $7.80 has been allowed for each medical examiner in some counties; each county having its own price. Surely the law should be uniform throughout the state.

There seems to be a general feeling throughout the county that men as well as principles are wanted in politics. Good principles are all right, but if tricky men are elected to office on a good platform things don't always come out as well as was expected while if good men are put into office they are apt to do the right thing. Old party men are crying out for reform in their own parties. Democrats, Republicans, and Populists alike, ask that only good men be placed on the fusion ticket. They do not want to vote for any man who is unfit for the office. Notice is being served by individuals all along the lines that no "stick" or "trading stock" is needed, and not only the "stick" but the "sticker" must walk the plank. Machine politics has too long ruled in our county and it is high time it was shelved, and present prospects indicate that it may be.

Medal of Honor.

Special to the Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Capt. A. H. Reed, of Glencoe, Minn., has been awarded a medal of honor by congress for distinguished gallantry in action at Chickamaugua in 1863. He was not in the ranks when the battle began, being under arrest for breach of discipline, but he voluntarily went unarmed to the line and possessing himself of a musket fought bravely throughout the engagement. Subsequently at Mission Ridge he lost his right arm, but, refusing a discharge for disability he served until the close of the war. The medal is a meritorious if tardy recognition of his bravery throughout the long conflict.

Jurors for June Term.

Sheriff Nugent was looking out for Jurors for the June term of District court to be held in Buffalo, while in town Monday. Following is the list:

GRAND JURY.

Frank Kolittinek, Maple Lake.
John Scheyer, Corinna.
George Leerson, Rockford.
Gustav A. Koenig, Howard Lake.
Lewis Askim, French Lake.
C. A. Davis, Stockholm.
Owen Gratton, Woodland.
James Stoddart, Rockford.
J. W. Pattison, Woodland.
Wm. H. LaPlant, Otsego.
Alfred Peterson, French Lake.
Frank J. Dahn, Marysville.
John A. Peterson, Stockholm.
Thomas Scanlon, Chatham.
Lars Berg, Cokato.
Fred Oberlee, Sr., Maple Lake.
D. R. Farnham, Rockford.
J. L. Harwick, Monticello.
Edward Vogel, Albion.
Robert Gerard, French Lake.
Herman Vollbrecht, Frankfort.
Conrad Heaton, Albion.
John A. Rackliff, Albion.

PETIT JURY.

Georg Sutton, Franklin.
Peter M. Peterson, Stockholm.
Edward Moody, Jr., Silver Creek.
August Holmberg, Chatham.
John Walker, Rockford.
Joseph Lydon, Woodland.
Fred Swanberg, Cokato.
Gordon Ewing, Rockford.
John Rahier, Albion.
Fred Adickes, Jr., Franklin.
A. P. Miller, Cokato.
E. M. Wood, Franklin.
Peter Larson, Woodland.
William Lorentz, Albion.
Geo. R. Perkins, Rockford.
Lewis Hamlet, Otsego.
John Welton, Maple Lake.
J. H. Dugan, Woodland.
Albert Wolff, Albion.
Charles T. McDonald, Annandale.
Hans Hanson, Cokato.
Hubert Berthaume, Marysville.
Wolford Westlund, Stockholm.
Richard Hoffman, Albion.

He Was in the Insurgent Army.

Eld. Mutchler of this city handed us the following letter, written by William Straucer, an intimate acquaintance of his, who recently returned to Louisville, Ky., from Cuba. He is a reliable man, and his statements can be given full credit. He says:

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Mar. 30, '98.

